a. It perteyneth to a good prince, to purge the Church of god Num.21.c. b. That is to say, a peece of brasse, so called by contempt, bycause it was abused to idolatrie, although it was set vp at Gods cōmandement.

4 He (a) put away the high places, and brake the images, and cut downe the groaues, and all to brake the brasen serpente that Moses had made: For vnto those dayes the children of Israel did burne sacrifice to it: and he called it (b) Nehustan.

5 He trusted in the Lorde God of Israell, so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Juda, neyther were there anye such before him.

6 For he claue to the Lord, and departed not from him: but kept his commaundementes, which the Lord commaunded Moses.

B 7 And the Lorde was with him, so that hee prospered in all thinges whiche hee toke in hande: And he rebelled againste the kyng of Assyria, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistines euen vnto Azza, and the coastes therof, both castels wher they kept watches, and strong cities.

9 And in the fourth yeare of king Hezekia, (which was the seuenth yeere of Hosea sonne of Ela king of Israell) it fortuned that Salmanazar king of Assyria came vp againste Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three yeeres they toke it: euen in the sixth yeere of Hezekia (that is to saye, the ninth yeere of Hosea king of Israell) Samaria was wonne.

11 And the king of Assyria did carrie away Israel vnto Assyria, and put them in Halah, and in Habor, by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Bycause they would not hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord their God, but transgressed his appoyntment, and all that Moses the seruaunte of the Lorde commaunded: and would neyther heare them, nor do them.

13 Therefore in the fourtenth yeere of kyng Hezekia, dyd Sennacherib king of Assyria come vp against all the strong cities of Juda, and toke them.

14 And Hezekia king of Juda, sente to the king of Assyria to Lachis, saying, I haue offended: departe from mee, and all that thou puttest on me, that will I beare. And ý king of Assyria appoynted vnto Hezekia kyng of Juda, three hundred talentes of syluer, and thirtie talents of golde.

15 And Hezekia gaue him all the syluer that was found in the house of the Lorde, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezekia rent of the dores of the temple of the Lord, and the pillers (whiche the saide Hezekia king of Juda had couered ouer) and gaue them to ý kyng of Assyria.

17 And the king of Assyria sente (c) Thartan, and Rabsaris, and Rabsakeh, frō Lachis, to king Hezekia, with a greate hoste against Hierusalem: and they went vp, and came to Hierusalem, and gate them vp, and stood by the conduite of the vpper poole which is in the way of the fullers fielde.

18 And when they had called to the kyng, there came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Elkia, which was steward of the houshold, and Sobna the scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabsakeh sayd vnto them, Tell yee Hezekia, I pray you, thus sayeth the great king, euen the king of Assyria, What confidence is this that thou hast?

20 Thou thinkest surely, I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Doest thou trust to the staffe of thys broken reede Egypt, on whiche if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, and pearce it: Euen so is Pharao king of Egipt vnto all that trust on him.

22 If ye say vnto me, We trust in the Lord oure GOD: Is not that hee, whose hygh places, and whose aulters Hezekia hath hath (d) put downe? and hath sayde to Juda and Hierusalem, Ye shal worship before this aulterhere in Hierusalem.

d. 4. Reg. 18.

23 Nowe therefore, I pray thee, gyue hostages to my Lord the kyng of Assyria, and I will deliuer thee two thousande horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them:

24 Why thinkest thou scorne at the presence of one of the least dukes of my maisters seruauntes, and trustest to Egipt for charettes and horsemen?

25 Moreouer, am I come nowe without the bidding of the Lord to this place, to destroy it? The Lorde sayde to me, Goe vp to this land, and destroy it.

26 And Eliakim the sonne of Helkia, and Sobna, and Joah, sayde vnto Rabsakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruauntes in the Syrians language (for we vnderstande it) and talke not with vs in the Jewes toung, in the eares of this people that are on the wall.

27 And Rabsakeh sayd vnto them: Hath my maister sente me to thy maister and thee, to speake these wordes? Hath he not sent me because of the men which sitte on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne pisse with you?

28 And so Rabsakeh stoode, and cryed with a lowde voyce in the Jewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the greate king, euen of the king of Assyria.

29 Thus sayeth the king, Let not Hezekia beguile you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you out of my hand:

30 Neyther let Hezekia make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord shall surely deliuer vs, and this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Assyria.

31 Harken not vnto Hezekia: for thus sayeth the king of Assyria, Deale kindly with me, and come out to me, and then eate euery mā of hys owne vine, and of hys owne figge tree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well, 32 Till I come and fetche you to as good a land as yours is, a land of corne and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oyle, of Olive trees, and of hony, that yee maye liue, and not dye: And hearken not vnto Hezekia, for he beguileth you, saying, The Lord shall deliuer vs.

33 Hath euery one of the goddes of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

34 Where is the God of Hamath, and of Arphad? and where is the God of Sepharuaim? Hena, and Iua? Dyd they deliuer Samaria out of mine hande?

35 And what God is among all the Goddes of the nations, that hath deliuered hys lande out of mine hand? (e) Shall the Lord deliuer Hierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people helde their peace, and answered not him a worde: for the king had commaunded, saying, Answeare him not.

37 Then Eliakim the sonne of Helkia which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, came to Hezekia with their clothes rente, and tolde hym the wordes of Rabsakeh.

2 And sent Eliakim, which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the scribe, and the elders of the priestes clothed in sacke, to Isai the prophet, the sonne of Amos.

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth Hezekia, This day is a daye of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: For the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to be deliuered.

4 Peraduenture the Lorde thy God wyll heare all the wordes of Rabsakeh, whome the king of Assyria his maister hathe sente to rayle on the liuing God, and to rebuke hym with wordes whiche the Lord thy God hath heard: and lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnaunt that are left.

5 So the seruauntes of king Hezekia came to Isai.

6 And Isai sayd vnto them, So shall ye say to your maister, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afraide of the wordes whiche thou hast heard, with which the yong men of the king of Assyria haue rayled on me.

7 Behold, I will put him in another minde, and he shall heare tidings, and so returne to his owne lande, and I will bring to passe, that he shall fall vpon the sword, euen in hys owne lande.

B Esay. 37. d. 2. Par. 32. d

8 And Rabsakeh went backe againe, & found the king of Assyria fighting against Libna, for he had heard howe that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And when he heard men saye of Thirhaka kyng of the blacke Moores, Beholde, he is come out to fight againste thee: hee departed, and sent messengers vnto Hezekia, saying,

10 Thus speake to Hezekia king of Juda, saying, Let not thy God deceyue thee in whome thou trustest, saying, Hierusalem shal not be deliuered into the hand of ỹ king of Assyria.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the kinges of Assyria haue done to all lands, howe they haue vtterly destroyed them: And shalt thou escape?

12 Haue the goddes of the heathen deliuered them, which mine auncestours haue destroyed? As Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden whiche were in Thelassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and ỹ king of Arphad, the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, and of Hena, and Iua?

14 And Hezekia receyued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekia went vp into the house of the Lord, and layd it abrode before the Lorde.

15 And Hezekia (a) prayed before the Lorde, and sayd, O Lorde God of Israell, whyche dwellest betweene the Cherubs, thou art God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earthe, thou hast made heauen and earth.

16 Lord bowe downe thine eare, and heare: Open Lorde thyne eyes, (I beseeche thee,) and see: and heare the wordes of Sennacherib whiche hath sente (this man) to raile on the liuing God.

17 Of a trueth Lorde, the kinges of Assyria haue destroyed nations, and their landes, 18 And haue set fyre on their goddes: for they were no goddes, but the worke of the handes of man, euen of wood and stone: and they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseech thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth maye knowe, that thou only art the Lord God.

20 And Isai the sonne of Amoz sent to Hezekia, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, That whiche thou hast prayed mee concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, I haue heard it.

21 This is therefore the word that the Lorde hath sayde of hym, (b) The virgin euen the daughter of Sion hathe despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne (O thou kyng of Assyria) the daughter of Hierusalem hath shaken hir head at thee.

22 Whome hast thou rayled on? and whome hast thou blasphemed? Against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, & lifted vp thine eyes so high? Euen against ỹ holy one of Israel.

23 By the hande of thy messengers thou hast rayled on the Lorde, and sayde, With the multitude of my charets, I am come vp to the toppes of the mountaynes, euen along by the sydes of Libanon, and I will cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the like Fyrre trees thereof: and I will goe into the lodging of his borders, and into ỹ wood of his Carmel.

24 I haue digged, and dronke strange waters: and with the step of my going, will I drie all the waterpooles that are belieged.

25 Hast thou not heard howe I haue ordayned suche a thing a great while agoe, and haue prepared it from the beginning? And shall I not now bring it to pas, that it maye destroy, and bring strong cities into waste heapes of stones?

26 And the inhabitours of them shall be of little power, and faynt harted, and confounded, and shall be like the grasse of the fielde, or greene hearbe, or as the hay on the toppes of the houses, or as the corne that is smytte and smitten with blasting.

27 I knowe thy dwellyng, thy comming out, and thy going in, and thy furie against me.

28 And because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp to myne eares, I will put my hooke in thy nostrels, and my bitte in thy lippes, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekia: Ye shall eate this yeare of such thynges as growe of themselues, and the next yeare suche as come vp of those that did growe of their owne accord, and the third yeare sowe and reape, plante vineyardes, and eate the fruites thereof.

30 And it that is escaped & left of ỹ daughter of Juda, shall yet again take roting downward, and beare fruite vpward.

31 For out of Hierusalem shall goe a remnant, and a number that shall escape out of mount Sion: The zeale of the Lorde of hostes shall bring this thing to passe.

32 Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde concerning the king of Assyria: he shall not come to this citie, nor shoote an arrowe into it, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a bulwarke against it.

33 But shall goe backe agayne the waye he came, and shall not come into this citie, sayth the Lorde.

34 For I will defend thys citie to saue it for myne owne sake, and for Dauid my seruauntes sake.

2 He did that whiche is righte in the sight of the Lorde, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neyther to the ryght hande, or to the left.

3 And it came to passe, that in the eyghtienth yeere of the raygne of kyng Iosia, the kyng sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, the sonne of Mesullam the scribe, to the house of the Lorde, saying,

4 Goe vp to Helkia the hygh priest, that he may summe the siluer which is brought into the house of the Lord, whiche the keepers of the porche haue gathered of the people:

5 And lette them deliuer it into the hande of them that do the worke, and that haue the ouersight of the house of the Lorde: and let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lorde, to repayre the decayed places of the temple,

13 Go yee, and enquyre of the Lorde for mee, and for the people, and for all Iuda, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for greate is the wrath of the Lorde that is kindled agaynst vs, bicause our fathers haue not harkened vnto the wordes of this booke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

18 But to the king of Iuda, whiche sent you to aske counsel of the Lorde, so shall ye say, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, as touching the wordes whiche he hath heard:

19 Bicause thyne heart dyd (c) melte, and bicause thou hast humbled thy selfe before mee the Lorde, when thou heardest what I spake agaynst this place, and agaynst the inhabiters of the same, how that they should be destroyed & accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wepte before mee, of that also haue I heard, sayeth the Lorde:

Josu. 24. k.

3 And the kyng stode by a piller, and made a couenaunt before the Lorde, that they should walke after the Lorde, and keepe his commaundements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all theyr harte, and all theyr soule, and make good the wordes of the sayd appoyntment, that were written in the forsayde booke: and all the people consented to the appoyntment.

a. Kyng Iosias zelously purgeth the tẽple of God, & destroyeth al the monuments of idolatrie and superstition.

4 (a) And the kyng commaunded Helkia the high priest, and the inferior priestes, and the keepers of the "or, doore keepers. ornaments, to bryng out of the temple of the Lorde, all the vessels that were made for Baal, for the idoll groaues, and for all the host of heauen: and he burnt them without Hierusalem in the fieldes of Cedron, and caried the asshes of them into Bethel.

5 And he put downe the ministers (of Baal) whom the kyngs of Juda had founded to burne incense in the high places, and cities of Juda, that were rounde about Hierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne, to the moone, to the planets, and to al the host of heauen.

6 And he brought out the groue from the temple of the Lorde without Hierusalem, vnto the brooke Cedron, and burnte it there at the brooke Cedron, and stampt it to powder, and cast the dust thereof vpon the graues of the chyldren of the people.

B 7 And he brake downe the celles of the male stewes that were by the house of the Lorde, where the women woue hangyngs for the idol groue.

8 And he brought all the priestes out of the cities of Juda, and defiled the high places where the priests had burnt incense, euen frõ Geba to Beerleba, and destroyed the high places of the gates that were in the entryng in of the gate of Josua the gouernour of the citie, whiche were (as a man goeth in) on the left hande of the gate of the citie.

b. Iosias thought not meete that those priestes which had serued idols, should be ministers in the tẽple of God. Jere. 7. d.

9 (b) Neuertheless, the priestes of the high places came not vp to the aulter of the Lord in Hierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the swete bread among theyr brethren.

10 And he defiled Thopheth, whiche is in the valley of the chyldren of Hinnom, bycause no man should offer his sonne or his daughter in fyre to Moloch.

11 He put downe the horses that the kyngs of Juda had gyuen to the sunne, at the entryng in of the house of the Lorde, by the chamber of Nathanmelech the chamberlayne, whiche was ruler of the suburbes, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fire.

12 And the aulters that were on the top of the parlour of Ahaz, whiche the kings of Juda had made, and the aulters whiche Manasse had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lorde, did the kyng breake downe, and ranne thence, and cast the dusse of them into the broke Cedron.

13 And the high places that were before Hierusalem, on the right hande of the mount (c) Oliuet, whiche Solomon the kyng of Israell had buylded for Astaroth the idol of the Zidons, and for Chamos the idol of the Moabites, and for Milchon, ỹ abhominable idol of the children of Ammon, those the king defiled:

14 And brake the images, and cut downe the idol groues, and filled theyr places with the bones of men.

15 Moreouer, the aulter that was at Bethel, the high places made by Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, whiche made Israel sinne, both the aulter and also the highe places, he brake downe, and burnt the high places, & stampt it to powder, and burnt the idol grou.

16 And as Josia turned himselfe, he spied the graues that were in the mount, and sent and fette the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the aulter, to pollute it, according to the word of the Lord that the mã of God proclaymed, whiche tolde the same wordes.

17 Then he sayde, What title is that that I see? And the men of the citie tolde him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, whiche came from Juda, and tolde the selfe same thyngs that thou hast done to the aulter of Bethel.

18 And he saide, Let him be: see that no man moue his bones. And so his bones were saued, with the bones of a prophete that came out of Samaria.

19 And all the houses of the hyghe places in the cities of Samaria, whiche the kyng of Israell had made to anger (the Lorde with al) those Josia put out of the way, and did to them according to all the actes that he had done in Bethel.

20 And he sacrifised all the priests of the high places that were there, euen vpõ the aulters, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Hierusalem.

21 And the kyng commaunded all the people, saying, Keepe the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde your God, as it is written in the booke of this couenant.

22 There was no Passeouer holden like that, frõ the dayes of the iudges that iudged Israell, and in all the dayes of the kyngs of Israel, and of the kings of Juda.

23 In the eyghtienth yeare of king Josia, was this Passeouer holden to the Lorde in Hierusalem.

24 Also

24 And thereto wo᷑kers with ſpirites, and ſothſayers, images, idols, and all the abhominations that were ſpyed in the lande of Juda, and in Hieruſalem, thoſe did Joſia put out of the way, to perfourme the wo᷑des of the lawe, whiche were wr̃itten in the booke that Helkia the p᷑ieſte founde in the houſe of the Lo᷑de.

25 Like vnto him was there no kyng before him, that turned to the Lo᷑de with all hys hart, with all his ſoule, and al his myght, according to all the lawe of Moſes, neither after him aroſe there any ſuche as he.

26 Notwithſtanding, the Lo᷑de turned not from the fiercenelle of his great wr̃ath wherwith he was angry agaynſte Juda, bicauſe of all the p᷑ouocations that Manaſſe had p᷑ouoked him withall.

E 27 And the Lo᷑d ſayde, I wil put Juda alſo

25.d. in the booke of the Chr̃onicles of the kynges of Juda?

29 In his dayes Pharao Necho king of Egypt. went vp againſt the king of Aſſyria to the riuer of Euphrates: and king Joſia went againſt him, and was ſlayne of him at Megiddo, when he had ſeene him.

30 And his ſeruauntes carryed hym deade from Megiddo, and b᷑ought hym to Hieruſalem, and buryed hym in hys owne ſepulchre: and the people of the lande toke Jehoahaz the ſonne of Joſia, and annoynted him, and made him kyng in his fathers ſteede.

31 Jehoahaz was twentie and three yeeres olde when he began to raygne, and raygned three moneths in Hieruſalem: his mothers name alſo was Hamiel, the daughter of Jeremia of Libna.

32 And he dyd euyll in the ſight of the Lo᷑d, according to all things as his (d) fathers had done.

33 And Pharao Necho put him in bondes at Ribla, in the lande of Hemath, whyle hee raygned in Hieruſalem, and put the lande to a tribute of an hundred talents of ſiluer, and a talent of golde.

34 And Pharao Necho made Eliakim the ſonne of Joſia kyng, in the roome of Joſia his father, & turned his name to Jehoakim, and toke Jehoahaz away: whiche when he came to Egypt, dyed there.

35 And Jehoakim gaue the ſiluer and the gold to Pharao, and tared the lande, to giue the money according to the commaundement of Pharao: requyring of euery man according to their abilitie ſiluer and golde, euen of the people of the lande, to giue vnto Pharao Necho.

36 Jehoakim was twentie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to raygne, and he raygned eleuen yeeres in Hieruſalem: hys mothers name alſo was Zebuda, the daughter of Pedaia of Ruma.

kyng of Babylon vp, and Jehoakim became his ſeruaunte three yeeres: and then turned and rebelled againſt him.

"or, Nabuchadnezer.

2 And the Lo᷑de ſent againſt hym bandes of the Chaldees, and bandes of the Syrians, and bandes of the Moabites, and bandes of the Ammonites: and ſent them againſt Juda to deſtroy it, according to the ſaying of the Lo᷑de, whiche he ſpake by his ſeruantes the p᷑ophetes.

3 Only at the bydding of the Lo᷑d happened it ſo to Juda, to put them out of his ſight, for the ſinnes of Manaſſe, according to all that he dyd,

4 And for the innocent blood that he ſhed, and filled Hieruſalem with innocent blood: and the Lo᷑de would not be reconciled.

5 The reſte of the wo᷑des that concerne Jehoakim, and all that hee dyd, are they not wr̃itten in the booke of the Chr̃onicles of the kings of Juda?

6 And ſo Jehoakim (a) ſlepte with hys fathers: and Jehoachin his ſonne raygned in his ſteede.

a. Not that he was buryed with his fathers, for he dyed in the way as they caryed him priſoner toward Babylon. Ierem. 22.

7 And the king of Egypt came no more out of his lande: for the kyng of Babylon had taken, from the ryuer of Egypt vnto the ryuer of Euphrates, all that pertayned to the king of Egypt.

2 And the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedekia.

The. xiij. Chapter.

7. The arke is brought agayne from Kiriathiarim to Hierusalem. 9. Vzza dyeth bicause he toucheth it.

1 AND Dauid counsayled with the captaynes of thousands and hundreds, and with all the lordes:

2 And sayde vnto all the congregation of Israel, If it seeme you good, & to be of the Lord our God, we will sende abrode vnto our brethren that are left in all the lande of Israell, and with them also to the Priestes and Leuites which are in their suburbes, to gather them together vnto vs:

3 And we will bryng agayne the (a) arke of our God to vs: for we regarded it not in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the congregation was content that he shoulde do so: for the thyng seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Dauid gathered all Israel together from (b) Sihor in Egypt, vnto the entring of Hemath, to bryng the arke of the Lorde from Kiriathiarim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel, to an hygh place toward Kiriathiarim, that was in Iuda, to fet thence the arke of the Lorde God that dwelleth betweene the Cherubs, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Aminadab: and Uzza and his brother guyded the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before the arke of God with all their might, with singyng, and harpes, psalteries, and tymbrels, and cymbales, and trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the threshing flowre

10 And the Lorde was wroth with Uzza, and (c) smote him, because he put his hande to the arke: and there he dyed before God.

c. Vzza punished, bycause he tooke vpon him an office whereunto he was not called.

11 And Dauid was out of quiet bycause the Lorde had rent a rent in Uzza, and he called the name of that place, the renting of Uzza, vnto this day.

12 And Dauid was afrayde of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the arke of God home to me?

13 And so Dauid brought not the arke home to him to the citie of Dauid: but caryed it into the house of Obed Edom a Gethite.

¶ 14 And the arke of God remained with Obed Edom, euē in his house, three moneths: and the Lorde blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

The.xiiij.Chapter.

2. Hiram sendeth wood and woorkemen to Dauid. 4. The names of his chyldren. 8. 14. By the counsayle of God he goeth agaynst the Philistines, and ouercommeth them. 15. God fighteth for hym.

A 1 SO Hiram the king of Tyre sent messengers to Dauid, and timber of Cedar trees, with Masons and Carpenters, to buylde hym an house.

2 And Dauid perceyued that the Lord had confirmed hym kyng vpon Israel, and that his kyngdome was lift vp on high bycause of his (a) people Israel:

a. Bicause of Gods promise made to the people of Israel.

3 And Dauid toke yet mo wyues at Hierusalem, and begate mo sonnes and daughters.

4 These are the names of hys chyldren, whiche were borne vnto him at Hierusalem: Samua, Sobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 Jibhar, Elisua, and Elipha1et,

6 Noga, Nepheg, and Japhia,

B 7 Elisama, Berliada, and Eliphalet.

8 And when the Philistines hearde that Dauid was annoynted kyng vpon all Israel, all the Philistines went vp to seeke Dauid: and Dauid heard of it, and went out agaynst them.

9 And the Philistines came in, and spread themselues through the valley of Rephaim.

b. Dauid asketh counsell at God, before he enterpryseth warre.

10 And Dauid (b) asked counsayle at God, saying, Shall I goe agaynste the Philistines? and wilt thou delyuer them into myne hande?

11 And the Lorde sayde vnto hym, Goe vp, for I wyll delyuer them into thyne hande. And so they came vp to Baal Perazim, and Dauid smote them there, and Dauid sayd, God hath diuided myne enimies with mine hande, as a man woulde diuide water, & therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.

12 And when they had lefte theyr goddes there, Dauid gaue a commaundement, and they were burnt with fyre.

13 And the Philistines came together again, and rushed into the valley.

14 And Dauid asked agayne at God: and God sayde to hym, Goe not vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer agaynst the (c) peare trees.

c. Or Mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest a sounde goe in the toppes of the peare trees, then go out to battayle: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

16 Dauid therefore dyd as God commaunded him, & they smote the host of the Philistines, from Gibeon to Gazer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all landes, and the Lorde made all nations feare hym.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. Dauid prepareth an hoste for the arke. 4. The number and order of the Leuites. 16. The singers are chosen out among them. 25. They bring agayne the arke with ioy. 29. Dauid dauncing before it, is despised of his wyfe Michol.

1 AND Dauid made hym houses in the citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid sayde, The arke of God ought not to be caried but of the Leuites: for them hath the Lorde chosen to beare the arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Hierusalem, to fetch the arke of the Lord vnto his place whiche he hadde ordeyned for it.

4 And Dauid brought together the chyldren of Aaron and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Caath, was Uriel the chiefe, and of hys brethren there were an hundred and twentie.

6 Of the chyldren of Merari, Asaia the chief, and of his brethren two hundred & twentie.

8 Of the chyldren of Elizaphan, Semeia the chiefe, and of his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebron, Eliel the chief, and and of his brethren fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Uzziel, Aminadab the chiefe, and of his brethren an hundred and twelue.

11 And Dauid called Zadoc and Abiathar the priests, and the Leuites, Uzziel, Asaia, Joel, Semaia, Eliel, and Aminadab, 12 And sayd vnto them, Ye that are the principall fathers of the Leuites, see that ye be holy with your brethren, that ye may bring in the arke of the Lorde God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For bycause ye were not there at the first, the Lorde our God made a rent among vs, for that we sought hym not as the fashion ought to be.

¶ 14 So the priests and the Leuites sanctified themselues, to fetche the arke of the Lorde God of Israel.

15 And the chyldren of the Leuites bare the arke of God vppon theyr shoulders with staues thereon, as Moses commaunded, according to the worde of the Lorde.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe heades of the Leuites, that they shoulde appoynt certayne of theyr brethren to sing with instruments of musicke, psalteries, harpes, and Cymbales, that they might make a sounde, and to sing on hygh with ioyfulnesse.

17 And the Leuites appoynted Heman the sonne of Joel, and of hys brethren, Asaph the sonne of Berechia, and of the sonnes of Merari and of theyr brethren, Ethan the sonne of Cusaiahu.

18 And with them theyr brethren of the seconde degree, Zacharia, Ben, Jaziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiahu, Maasiah, Mathathiahu, Eliphalehu, Mikniahu, Obed Edom, & Jeiel, porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan the singers, made a sounde with Cymbales of brasse.

20 And Zacharia, Aziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maasiahu, and Benaiahu, played with psalteries on an (a) Alamoth.

22 And Chenaniahu the chiefe of the Leuites was mayster of the song: for hee taught other to sing, bycause he was a man of vnderstandyng.

23 Berechia and Elcana kepte the dore of the arke.

24 And Sebaniahu, Jehosaphat, Nathanael, Amasai, Zachariahu, Benaiahu, and Eliezer the priestes, dyd blowe with trumpets before the arke of God: and Obed Edom and Jehia were keepers of the dore of the arke.

25 And Dauid and the elders of Israell, and the captaynes ouer thousands, went to fetche the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde, out of the house of Obed Edom with gladnesse. 2. Reg. 6. c.

26 And when God helped the Leuites that bare the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde, they offered seuen oxen, and seuen rammes.

27 And Dauid had on hym a linnen garment, lyke as had also all the Leuites that bare the arke, and so had the singers, and Chenaniahu the ruler of the song, with the singers: and Dauid had vpon him an Ephod of linnen. E

28 And all they of Israel brought the arke of the Lordes couenant with showtyng, and blowyng of the shawme, and trumpettes, making a noise with cymbales, psalteries, and harpes.

29 And as the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde came into the citie of Dauid, Michol the daughter of Saul lokyng out at a wyndowe, sawe kyng Dauid daunsing and playing, and she despyled hym in hyr hart.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. The arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4. Dauid ordeyneth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lorde. 8. He appoynteth a notable Psalme to be song in the prayse of the Lorde.

1 SO they brought in the arke of God, & A set it in the midst of the tent that Dauid pitched for it: & they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerynges before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an ende of offeryng the burnt offerynges and peace offerynges, he blessed the people in the name of the Lorde.

3 And he dealt to all Israel bothe man and woman, a cracknel of bread, & a good peece of flesshe, and a flacket of wyne.

4 And he appoynted certayne of the Leuites to minister before ỹ arke of the Lord, and to repeate, and to thanke and praise the Lorde God of Israel.

5 And Asaph was the chiefe, and nexte to hym Zacharia, Jeiel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Mathathia, Eliab, Benaia, Obed Edom, and Jeiel, with instruments, psalteries, and harpes: but Asaph made a sounde with cymbales. 2. Reg. 6. b.

Pſalm. 96. 23 Syng vnto the Lorde all the earth: and ſhewe from day to day his ſaluation.

24 Tell of hys glory among the heathen: his wonderfull deedes among all nations.

25 For great is the Lorde, and worthie to be prayſed exceedingly: he is to be feared aboue all goddes.

26 For all the goddes of the people are "but idols: but the Lorde made heauen.

E 27 Prayſe and honour are in his preſence: ſtrength and gladneſſe are in his place.

28 Aſcribe vnto the Lorde yee kynredes of people: aſcribe to the Lord glory and dominion.

30 Let all the earth feare hym: ſurely the Lorde ſhal be ſtable, and not moue.

31 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let men tell among the nations that the Lorde is kyng.

32 Let the ſea rore, and the fulneſſe therof: let the fieldes reioyce, and al that is therein.

33 Then ſhal the trees of the wood reioyce at the preſence of the Lorde, bycauſe he commeth to iudge the earth.

34 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And ſay ye, Saue vs, O God our ſaluation, gather vs together, and deliuer vs fro among the heathen, that wee may giue thankes to thy holy name, and triumphe in the prayſe of thee.

36 Bleſſed be the Lorde God of Iſrael for euer and euer: and let al people ſay, Amen, and prayſe the Lorde.

37 And ſo he left there before the arke of the Lordes couenant Aſaph and hys brethren, to miniſter before the arke continually (in ſuch things as were to be done) day by day.

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren, threeſcore and eight, and Obed Edom the ſonne of Jeduthun, and Hoſa, were appoynted to be porters.

39 And Zadoc the prieſte and his brethren the prieſtes, were before the tabernacle of the Lorde, in the hygh place that was at Gibeon, 41 And with them were Heman and Jeduthun, and other that were choſen, whoſe names were expreſſed to giue thankes to the Lorde, That his mercie laſteth euer.

42 And with them dyd Heman and Jeduthun ſing with the trumpets and cymbals, makyng a ſweete melody with inſtrumẽts of muſicke & godly ſongs: and the ſonnes of Jeduthun were porters.

2 And Nathan sayde vnto Dauid, Doe all that is in thyne hart, for God is with thee.
3 And the same night, it fortuned that the worde of God came to Nathan, saying,
4 Goe and tell Dauid my seruaunt, Thus sayth the Lorde, Thou shalt not buylde me an house to dwell in:
5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the childre of Israel, vnto this day: but haue gone from tent to tent, & from one habitation to another.
6 And where so euer I haue walked with al Israel, spake I euer one worde to any of the iudges of Israel, whom I commaunded to feede my people, saying, Why haue ye not buylt me an house of Cedar tree?
B 7 Nowe therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, I toke thee from the sheepe coate, & frō folowyng the sheepe, that thou shouldest be captayne ouer my people Israel:
8 And I haue bene with thee whyther so euer thou hast walked, and haue wasted out all thyne enimies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name lyke the name of the greatest men that are in the earth.
9 And I haue ordeined a place for my people Israel, & made it fast, so that nowe they may dwel in theyr place, & moue no more: neyther shall the chyldren of wickednesse vexe them any more as at the beginnyng.
10 And since the tyme that I commaunded iudges to be ouer my people Israel, I haue subdued all thyne enimies: and I tolde thee that the Lorde woulde buylde thee an house.
11 This also shall come to passe: when thy dayes be expired that thou muste goe vnto thy fathers, I wyll rayse vp thy seede after thee, whiche shall be of thy sonnes, and I wyll stablishe his kyngdome.
12 He shall buylde me an house, and I will stablishe hys seate for euer.
13 I wyll be his father, and he shal be my sonne, and I wil not take my mercie away from him, as I toke it from him that was before thee.
C 14 But I will stablishe hym in mine house and my kyngdome for euer, and hys seate shal be sure for euermore.
15 Accordyng to all these wordes, and accordyng to all this vision dyd Nathan tell kyng Dauid.
16 And Dauid the kyng came and sate before the Lorde, and sayde, What am I, O Lorde God, and what is myne household, that thou hast promoted me thus farre?
17 And yet this seemed little in thyne eyes, O God: But thou hast also spoken of thy seruants house for a greate whyle to come, and hast loked vpon me, as vpon a man of hygh degree, O Lorde God.
18 What shal Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruaunt? for thou hast knowen thy seruant.
19 O Lorde, for thy seruants sake, euen accordyng to thyne owne hart, hast thou done all this magnificence, to shewe all greate things.
20 Lorde, there is none lyke thee, neyther is there any God saue thou, accordyng to all that we haue heard with our eares.
21 Moreouer, what nation on the earth is D lyke thy people Israel, to whom God hath vouchsafed to come and redeeme them to be his owne people, & to make thee a name of excellencie and terriblenesse, with casting out nations from before the people, whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?
22 Thy people of Israel dyddest thou make thyne owne people for euer, and thou becamest theyr God.
23 Therefore now Lorde, let the thing that thou hast spoken concernyng thy seruaunt and hys house, be true for euer, that thou Lorde do as thou hast sayde:
24 Let it come to passe, that thy name may be magnified for euer, that it may be sayde, The Lord of hostes is the God of Israel, euen the God of Israel, & the house of Dauid thy seruant endureth stable before thee.
25 For thou O my God, hast tolde thy seruant that thou wilt buylde him a house, and therfore thy seruant hath found in hys hart, to pray before thee.
26 And now Lorde, thou art God, and hast promised this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.
27 Nowe therefore let it be thy pleasure to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue before thee for euer: For whom thou blessest, O Lorde, the same is blessed for euer.

15 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia was ouer the host, and Jehosaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder:

4. Hanon kyng of the chyldren of Ammon doth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid, 6. He prepareth an armie agaynst Dauid, 15. and is ouercome.

1 AFter thys, it chaunced, that Nahas the kyng of the chyldren of Ammon died, and hys sonne raygned in his steede.

2 And Dauid sayde, I wyll shewe kyndnesse vnto Hanon the sonne of Nahas, bycause his (a) father dealt kindly with me. And Dauid sent messengers to cõfort him ouer the death of his father: & the seruants of Dauid came into the lande of the childre of Ammon, to Hanon, to comfort him.

3 But the lords of the chyldren of Ammon sayde to Hanon, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father in thy sight, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not hys seruants come to (b) searche, to loke, and espie out the lande?

4 Wherefore Hanon toke Dauids seruaunts, and (c) shaued them, and cut off their coates harde by their buttockes, and sent them away.

6 And when the chyldren of Ammon sawe that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, Hanon & the chyldren of Ammon, sent a thousand talents of siluer, to hyre them charets and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maacha, and out of Zoba.

7 And they hyred thirtie and two thousand charettes, and the kyng of Maacha and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: And the chyldren of Ammon gathered themselues together from theyr cities, and came to battell.

I will helpe thee.

13 Plucke vp thyne hart, and let vs play the men for our peoples sake, and for the cities of our God: and the Lorde shall do that whiche is good in his owne sight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with the battel: and they fled before him.

15 And when the childzen of Ammon sawe

6 And there chaunced yet agayne warre at Geth, where as was a man of great stature, with foure and twentie fingers and toes, sixe on euery hande, and sixe on euery foote, and was the sonne of Raphah.

7 But when he defied Israel, Jehonathan B the sonne of Simea, Dauids brother, slue hym.

8 These were borne vnto Raphah at Geth, and were ouerthrowen in the hand of Da-uid, and in the hande of hys seruantes.

The.xxi. Chapter.

1. Dauid causeth the people to be numbred.
14. And there dye seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

1 AND Satan stode vp against Israel, & I prouoked Dauid to number Israel.

2 And Dauid sayde to Joab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe ye, and number Israel, from Beersheba vnto Dan: and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Joab answeared, The Lorde make his people an hundred tymes so many moe as they be: But my lorde, O kyng, are they not al my lordes seruants? why then doth my lorde require this thyng? why wil my lorde be a cause of (a) trespasse to Israel?

4 Neuertheless, the kyngs worde preuayled against Joab: And Joab departed, and walked throughout all them of Israel,
and came to Hierusalem agayne,

5 And gaue the summe of the number of the people vnto Dauid: and all they of Israel were a thousande thousande, and an hundred thousand men that drew sworde:
and Juda was foure hundred threescore and enne thousand men that drew sworde.
But the Leuites and Beniamin counted

a. Dauid offended in nũbring the people, partely bycause he did it o ambition, but chiefly for that he payed not to the vse of the temple: for euery one numbred halfe a sicle, accordyng to the lawe. Exod. 30.

be not among them: For the kings worde was abominable to Joab.

7 And the Lorde was displeased with this thyng, and smote Israel.

8 And Dauid sayde vnto God, I haue sinned exceedingly in doyng this thyng: And nowe, I beseeche thee, do away the wickednesse of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lorde spake vnto Gad Dauids seer, saying,

10 Goe, and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lorde, I gyue thee the choyse of three things: chose thee one of them, that I may do vnto thee.

11 And Gad came to Dauid, and sayde vnto hym, Thus sayth the Lorde, Chose thee, 12 Either three yeeres famishment, or three moneths to be destroyed before thyne aduersaries, and that the sworde of thyne enimies may ouertake thee: or els the sworde of the Lord, and pestilence in the land three dayes, and the angel of the Lorde destroying throughout all the coastes of Israel: & nowe aduise thy selfe, what worde I shall bryng agayne to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid sayde vnto Gad, I am in an exceedyng strayte: Let me fall nowe into the hande of the Lorde (for passyng great are his mercies) but let me not fall into the hande of men.

14 So the Lorde sent pestilence vpon Israel: and there were ouerthrowen of Israel threescore and ten thousande men.

15 And God sent the angel into Hierusalem to destroy it: & as he was about to destroy, the Lorde beheld, and had compassion on the euil, & sayde to the angel that destroyed, It is ynough, let nowe thine hande ceasse. And the angel of the Lorde stode by the threshyng floore of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 And Dauid lifte vp hys eyes, and sawe the angel of the Lorde stande betweene the earthe and heauen, hauyng a drawen sworde in hys hande, stretched out toward Hierusalem: then Dauid and the elders of Israel which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon theyr faces.

17 And Dauid sayde vnto God, Is it not I that cõmaunded the people to be numbred? It is I that haue sinned and done euyll in deede: and what haue these sheepe done? Let thyne hande, O Lorde my God, be on me, and on my fathers house: but not on thy people, that they should be punished.

18 And the angel of the Lorde commaunded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid shoulde goe vp, and set vp an aulter vnto the Lorde in the threshyng floore of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 And Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the Lorde.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the angel, and his foure sonnes were with him, and hidde themselues: But Ornan was threshyng wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan loked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshyng floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with hys face to the grounde.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue me the place of the threshyng floore, that I may buylde an aulter therein vnto the Lorde: thou shalt giue it me for as much money as it is worth, that the plague may ceasse fro the people.

23 And Ornan sayde vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lorde the kyng do that whiche seemeth good in his eyes: Lo, I giue thee oxen also for burnt sacrifices, and threshyng instruments for wood, & wheate for meate offeryng, I gyue it all.

24 And kyng Dauid sayde to Ornan, Not so, but I wyll buye it for as much money as it is worth: for I wyll not take that whiche is thyne for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerynges without cost.

25 And so Dauid gaue to Ornan for the place sixe hundred sicles of gold, sixe hundred by weight.

26 And Dauid buylte there an aulter vnto the Lorde, and offered burnt offerynges, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lorde, and he heard hym from heauen in fire, vpon the aulter of burnt offeryng.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the angel, he put vp hys sworde agayne into the sheath of it.

28 At that tyme when Dauid sawe that the Lorde had hearde hym in the threshyng floore of Ornan the Jebusite, he vsed to offer there:

29 For the tabernacle of the Lorde whiche Moses made in the wildernesse, & the aulter of burnt offeryng, were at that season in the hill of Gibeon:

30 And Dauid coulde not goe before it, to aske counsell at God, for he was afrayde of the sworde of the angel of the Lorde.

The.xxij. Chapter.

2. Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the buylding of the temple. 6. He commaundeth his sonne Solomon to buyld the temple of the Lorde, whiche thyng he himselfe was forbidden to do. 9. Vnder the figure of Solomon, Christ is promised.

1 And

1 AND Dauid sayde, This is the house of the Lorde God, and this is the aulter for the burnt offeryng of Israel.

2 And Dauid cõmaunded to gather together the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, & he set Masons to hewe and pullish stones for the building of the house of God.

3 And Dauid prepared plentie of iron, for nayles, and dores of the gates, and to ioyne withall, and abundance of brasse without weyght.

4 And Cedar trees without number: For the Sidons, & they of Tyre brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayd, Solomon my sonne is yong and tender, and the house that is to be buylded for the Lorde must be magnifical, excellent, and of greate fame and dignitie throughout all countreys: I wyll therfore make ordinances for it. And so Dauid prepared many thyngs before his death.

6 And he called Solomon his sonne, and charged hym to buylde an house for the Lorde God of Israel.

B 7 And Dauid sayde to Solomon, My sonne, I thought (as it was) in myne hart to buylde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God:

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shedde muche bloud, and hast made great battelles: thou shalt therfore not buylde an house vnto my name, for thou hast shedde muche bloud vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, and he shal be a man of reast, for I wyll give hint rest from all his enimies rounde about: for his name is Solomon, and I wyll sende reast and peace vpon Israel in hys dayes.

10 He shall buylde an house for my name, and he shall be my sonne, and I wyl be hys father, and I will establishe the seate of hys kyngdome vpon Israell for euer.

11 Nowe therefore my sonne, the Lorde be with thee, and prosper thee, and thou shalte buylde an house to the Lorde thy God, as he hath sayde of thee.

12 And the Lorde shal give thee wisedome and vnderstandyng, and shal give thee cõmaunderments for Israel, that thou mayest keepe the lawe of the Lorde thy God.

13 For then thou shalte prosper, euen when thou takest heede, and fulfillest the statutes, and lawes whiche the Lorde charged Moses with for Israel: Plucke vp thyne harte therefore, and be strong, dreade not, nor be discouraged.

C 14 Beholde, accordyng to my power I haue I also prepared for the house of the Lorde, an hundred thousand talents of golde, and a thousande thousand talents of siluer: and as for brasse and iron, it can not be numbred, (for it is very muche) and I haue prepared tymber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer, thou hast workemen with thee nowe, and Masons, and Carpenters (to woorke in stone and tymber) and many men that be actiue for euery worke.

16 And of golde, siluer, brasse and iron, there is no number: Up therfore, and be doing, and the Lorde shal be with thee.

17 And Dauid commaunded all the lordes of Israell to helpe Solomon hys sonne, saying, 18 Is not the Lorde your God with you? & hath he not given you rest on euery side? for he hath given the inhabitours of the lande into my hande, and the lande is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now therefore set your hartes and your soules to seeke the Lorde your God: Up, and builde ye the temple of the Lorde God, to bring the arke of the couenaunt of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God, into the house so buylt for the name of the Lorde.

26 That the Leuites also shoulde nowe no more beare the tabernacle, and all the veſſels for the seruice thereof.
27 For according to the laſt wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were nũbred from twentie yeeres and aboue.
28 And theyr office was vnder the hande of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courtes and celles, and in the purifying of all holy thyngs, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God:

The. xxviij. Chapter.

5. Bycauſe Dauid was forbydden to buyld the temple, he willeth Solomon and the people to perfourme it. 8. Exhorting him to feare the Lorde.

1 AND Dauid gathered all the Lordes of Iſrael, the Lordes of the tribes, the Lordes of the companies, that miniſtred to the king by courſe, the captaynes ouer the thouſandes, and ouer the hundreds, and the Lordes that had the ouerſight ouer all the ſubſtance and poſſeſſion of Dauid, and of his ſonnes, with the Chamberlaynes, and all the mightie and valiant, and all active men, vnto Hieruſalem.
2 And king Dauid ſtoode vp vpon his feete, and ſayde, Heare me my brethren and my people, I had in mine heart to buylde an houſe of reſt for the arke of the couenant of the Lord, and for the footeſtoole of our God, and had made readie for the buylding:
3 But God ſayde vnto me, Thou ſhalt not buylde an houſe for my name, bycauſe thou haſt bene a man of warre, and haſt ſhedde bloud.
4 Moreouer the Lorde God of Iſrael chooſe me before all the houſe of my father, to be king ouer Iſraell for euer: for in Juda would he chooſe a captayne, and of the houſholde of Juda, is the houſe of my father, and among the ſonnes of my father, he had a luſt to me, to make me king ouer all Iſrael.
5 And of all my ſonnes (for the Lorde hath giuen me many ſonnes) he hath choſen Solomon my ſonne, to ſit vpon the ſeate of the kingdome of the Lorde in Iſrael.
6 And he ſayd vnto me, Solomon thy ſonne he ſhall buylde me an houſe and courtes: I haue choſen him to be my ſonne, and I will be his father.
7 I will ſtablith his kingdome for euer, if he wil be ſtrong to do my commaundements and my lawes, as it goeth this day.
8 Nowe therefore in the ſight of all Iſrael the congregation of the Lorde, and in the audience of our God, keepe and ſeeke for all the commaundementes of the Lorde your God, that ye may enioy a good lande, and leaue inheritance for your children after you for euer.
9 And thou Solomon my ſonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and ſerue hym with a pure hart, and with a willing mind: for the Lorde ſearcheth all hearts, and vnderſtādeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou ſeeke him, hee will bee founde of thee: but if thou forſake him, hee will 10 Take heede nowe, foꝛ the Lorde hathe chosen thee to buylde hym an house of a sanctuarie: bee strong therefoꝛe and playe the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his sonne the patterne of the poꝛch, and of the houses that longed thereto, of the stoꝛehouses, vpper chambers, inner parlours, and of the house of the mercie seate,

12 And the example of all that he had in his minde foꝛ the courtes of the house of the Lord, and foꝛ all the celles round about, foꝛ the treasures of the house of God, and foꝛ the treasures of the dedicate things:

13 Foꝛ the diuisions of the priestes and Leuites that wayted by course, and foꝛ all the workmanship that should serue foꝛ the house of the lord, and foꝛ al the vessels that should serue in the house of the Lorde:

14 Foꝛ golde, and foꝛ the wayght of golde, foꝛ all vessels of sundꝛie ministrations, foꝛ all maner of vessels of siluer in wayght, and foꝛ all vessels whatsoeuer purpose they serued vnto:

15 The waight of gold foꝛ the candelsticks, and the golde foꝛ theyꝛ lampes, with the waight foꝛ euerye candelsticke; and foꝛ the lampes thereof: and foꝛ the candelsticks of siluer by waight, both foꝛ the candelsticke and also foꝛ hir lampes, according to the diuersitie of the vse of euery candelsticke.

16 And by waight (he gaue) golde foꝛ the tables of shew bread, euen foꝛ euery table, and likewise siluer foꝛ the tables of siluer.

18 And foꝛ the aulter of incense, pure golde by waight, and golde foꝛ the patterne of the charet of the Cherubs that stretched oute their wings and couered the arke of the couenant of the Lorde.

19 All (he sayde) was gyuen mee by wryting of the hande of the Lorde, which made me vnderstande al the workemanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayd to Solomon his sonne, Be strong & of good courage, and doe manfully, feare not, noꝛ be faint hearted, foꝛ the Lorde God, euen my God is with thee, and he shal not faile thee, noꝛ foꝛsake thee, vntill thou hast finished all the worke that muste serue foꝛ the house of the Lorde.

21 Beholde, the Priestes and Leuites are diuided in companies foꝛ all maner of seruice that perteyneth to the house of God, they are wyth thee foꝛ all maner of workemanship, and so are all that excell in wisedome foꝛ any maner of seruice: thou hast also the princes and all the people, who lie at thy commaundement.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1 AND Dauid the king sayde vnto all the congregation, God hath specially chosen Solomon my sonne, which is yet yong and tender, and the worke is great: foꝛ the house shall not be foꝛ man, but foꝛ the Lord God.

A 2. Reg. 5. 8. "Others read my onely son.

2 Moreouer, I haue prepared with all my might foꝛ the house of my God, golde foꝛ thinges of golde, siluer foꝛ them of siluer, braſſe foꝛ things of braſſe, iron foꝛ things of iron, and wood foꝛ things of wood, and Onix stones, and stones to bee set, "glistering stones, and of dyuers colours, and all maner of precious stones, and marble stones in great abundance.

"Some reade carbuncle stones.

3 And bycause I haue lust to the house of my God, I haue of mine owne proper good, of golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared foꝛ the holy house,

4 Euen three thousande talentes of golde of Ophir, and seuen thousande talentes of tryed syluer, to ouerlay the walles of the house withall.

5 The golde foꝛ things of golde, syluer foꝛ them of syluer, and foꝛ all maner of woꝛke by the handes of artificers: and whosoeuer is (a) willing, maye this day (b) consecrate his hand vnto the Lorde.

a. He was not onely liberall himselfe towarde the building of Gods house, but also procured others. b. That is, may offer to the building of the house of the Lorde.

6 And so the auncient fathers and the lordes of the trybes of Israel, the Captaynes of thousandes and hundꝛeds, with the Lordes that were rulers ouer the kings woꝛk, were willing,

7 And gaue foꝛ the seruice of the house of God, fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousande peeces (of golde) and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousande talents of braſſe, and one hundꝛed thousande talents of yron.

8 And they wyth whome precious stones were founde, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde by the hande of Iehiel the Gerſonite.

9 And

9 And the people reioyced when they were so willing to giue their goodes, and with a perfect heart they offered willingly to the Lorde: and Dauid the king reioyced with great gladnesse.

10 And Dauid blessed the Lorde before all the congregation, and sayde, Blessed bee thou Lorde God of Israel, our father from euer and for euer.

11 Thine, O Lorde, is greatnesse, and power, glorie, victorie, and prayse: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine, and thine is the kingdome, O Lorde, and thou excellest aboue all, euen as the head of all.

12 And richesse and honour come of thee, and thou raignest ouer all, and in thyne hande is power and strength, and in thyne hande it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 And nowe our God we thanke thee, and prayse thy glorious name.

¶ 14 But who am I? and what is my people? that we shoulde enforce our selues to giue these things so willingly? But all things come of thee, and of that which we receyued at thy hande, we haue giuen thee.

Gen.47.b. 15 For we be but straungers before thee, and soiourners, as were all our fathers: oure dayes on the earth also are but as a shadow, Sap.2.b. and there is none abiding.

16 O Lorde our God, all this stuffe that we haue prepared, to builde thee an house for thy holy name, commeth of thine hand, and is all thine.

17 I wote also my God, that thou tryest the hearts, and hast pleasure in vnfeynednesse, and in the vnfeynednesse of my heart, I haue willingly offered all these things: and nowe haue I seene thy people whiche are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly, and with gladnesse.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and of Israel our fathers, (c) keepe this for euer in the desire of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heartes vnto thee.

c. Continue them in this good minde, that they may serue thee willingly.

19 And giue vnto Solomon my sonne a perfect heart, to keepe thy commaundements, thy testimonies and thy statutes, and to doe all, and builde the house, for the which I haue made prouision.

20 And Dauid sayde to all the congregation, Nowe blesse the Lorde your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lorde God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, and worshipped the Lorde and the king.

21 And they offered offerings vnto the Lorde, and on the morow after the sayde day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lorde, euen a thousande yong oxen, a thousande rammes, and a thousande sheepe, with their drinke offerings: many sacrifices offered they for all Israel, 22 And did eate and drinke before the Lorde the same daye with great gladnesse: and they made Solomon the sonne of Dauid king the seconde tyme, and annoynted him prince before the Lorde, and Zadoch for the high priest.

23 And Solomon sate on the seate of the Lorde, and was king in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all they of Israel obeyed him.

24 And al the Lords and men of power, and al the sonnes of king Dauid, submitted themselues, and were vnder king Solomon.

25 And the Lorde magnified Solomon in dignitie, in the sight of all them of Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 And so Dauid the sonne of Isai raigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that hee raigned ouer Israel, was fortie yeares: Seuen yeares raigned he in Hebron, & thirtie and three yeares raigned he in Hierusalem.

28 And he dyed in a good age, full of dayes, ryches, and honour: and Solomon his sonne raigned in his steade.

29 The actes of Dauid the king first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of (d) Nathan the prophete, and in the booke of Gad the Seer:

20 With all his kingdome, and power, and tymes, that went ouer him, and ouer all Israel, and ouer all the kingdomes of the earth.

¶ The seconde booke of the Chronicles, which in the Hebrue is one with the first.

¶ The first Chapter.

6. The offering of Solomon at Gibeon. 8. He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisedome, 11. which he giueth him, and more. 14. The number of his charets and horses, 15. and of his riches.

1 AND Solomon the sonne of Dauid warred strong in hys kingdome, and the Lorde hys god was with him, and magnified him in dignitie.

2 And Solomon spake vnto al Israel, to the captaynes ouer thousands, to the captaynes ouer hundreds, to the Iudges, and to euery officer in al Israel, & to the auncient fathers.

3 And so Solomon and all the congregation with him went to the highe place that was at Gibeon: for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde made in the wildernesse.

4 But the arke of God had Dauid brought from Kiriathiarim, into the place whiche Dauid had prepared therefore: for he had pitched a tent for it at Hierusalem.

5 Moreouer, the brasen aulter that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lorde: and Solomon and the congregation went to visite it.

6 And Solomon gate vp there before the Lorde, to the brasen aulter that was before the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thousande burnt sacrifices vpon it.

7 And the same night did God appeare vnto Solomon, and said vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Solomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to raigne in his steade.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lorde God, let thy promise which thou madest vnto Dauid my father, be true: for thou hast made me king ouer a people whiche is like the dust of the earth in multitude:

10 Wherefore giue me now wisedome and knowledge, that I may be able to (a) goe in and out before this people: for who els can iudge this people that is so great?

11 And God sayde to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and because thou hast not asked treasure and riches, and honour, and the (b) lyues of thine enimies, neyther yet long life, but hast asked wisedome and knowledge for thy selfe, to iudge my people ouer which I haue made thee king: 3.Reg.3.b.

12 Wisedome and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee treasure, and riches, and glorie: so that among the kings that haue bene before thee, or after thee, none was, or shall be like thee.

13 And so Solomon came from the highe place that was at Gibeon, to Hierusalem, from the tabernacle of the congregation, and raigned ouer Israel.

14 And Solomon gathered charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen whom he bestowed in the caret cities, and with the king at Hierusalem. 3.Reg.10.b.

15 And the king made siluer and golde at Hierusalem as plentious as stones, and Cedar trees made he as plentie as the Muberie trees that grow in the valleyes. 3.Reg.10.b.

16 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine lynnen: The kings marchants receyued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came also and brought oute of Egypt a caret for sixe hundred peeces of siluer, euen an horse for an hundred and fiftie: and so brought they (horses) for al the kings of the Hethites, & for the kings of Syria, by theyr owne handes.

b. That is, to be reuenged on thine enimies.

The. ij. Chapter.

2. The number of Solomons workemen to buylde the temple. 3. Solomon sendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for woodde and workemen.

1 AND Solomon determined to buylde an house for the name of the Lorde, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon tolde out threescore and tenne thousande men to beare burdens, and foure-fourescore thousande men to hewe stones in the mountayne, and (a) three thousande and fyue hundred to ouersee them.

a. It is to be vnderstand of all sortes of officers and ouerseers.

3 And Solomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyre, saying, as thou diddest deale with Dauid my father, and diddest sende hym Cedar wood to buyld him an house to dwel in (euen so deale with me:)

3. Reg. 5. a.

2. Reg. 5. b.

4 Beholde, I buylde an house for the name of the Lorde my God, to offer vnto hym holy things, and to burne sweete incense, and to set shew bread before him continually, to offer burnt sacrifices of the morning and euening, on the Sabboth dayes, in the hyll daye of every newe Mone, and in the solemne feasts of the Lorde our God: for it is an ordinance to bee continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I buylde shall bee great: for great is our God aboue al Gods.

6 But who is able to buyld him an house? when that heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receyue him: what am I then that shoulde buylde hym an house? nay, but euen to burne sacrifices before him (shall this building be.)

7 Sende me now therefore a cunning man, that can worke in golde and siluer, in braſſe and iron, in purple, crymosin, (b) yelow silk, and that can skil to graue with the cunning men that are with mee in Iuda and Hierusalem, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

b. Others read silke of a violet colour.

8 Sende me also Cedar trees, pine trees, and (c) algume trees, out of Libanon: for I woote that thy seruants can skill to hewe tymber in Libanon: and beholde, my men shall be with thine,

c. Some take it For Brasell.

9 That they may prepare mee tymber ynough: for the house which I am determined to buylde, shall be wonderfull great.

10 And beholde, for the vse of thy seruants, the cutters and hewers of tymber, I haue giuen twentie thousand quarters of beaten wheate, and twentie thousande quarters of barley, and twentie thousande battes of wine and twentie thousande battes of Oyle.

11 And Hiram the king of Tire answered in wryting, which he sent to Solomon: Because the Lorde hath loued his people, therefore hath he made thee king ouer them.

12 And Hiram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, and that hath giuen Dauid the king a wise sonne, and one that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding, to buylde an house for the Lorde, and a palace for hys kingdome.

13 And now I haue sent a wise man, and a man of vnderstanding, whom my father Hiram did vse:

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tire, and he can skill to worke in golde and siluer, in braſſe and yron, in stone and tymber, in purple and yelow silke, in fine white and crimosin, and can graue sundrie maner of grauings, and to finde out diuerse maner of subtill worke that shall be set before him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my Lorde Dauid thy father.

15 Nowe therefore, the wheate and barley, oyle and wine, which my Lord hath spoken of, let him sende vnto his seruants:

16 And wee will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Japho, from whence thou mayst carie them to Hierusalem.

17 And Solomon numbred all the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, after the number of them whom his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred fiftie and three thousande, and six hundred.

18 And he set threescore and ten thousande to beare burdens, and fourescore thousande to hewe stones in the mountayne, and three thousand and fyue hundred officers to set the people a worke.

The. iij. Chapter.

The temple of the Lorde, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 THEN Solomon beganne to buylde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem in mount (a) Moria, where the Lorde appeared vnto Dauid his father, euen in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And he beganne to buylde in the seconde day of the seconde moneth, the fourth yeare of his raigne.

3 And these are the paterns whereby Solomon was instructed to buylde the house of God: the length was threescore cubites after the olde measure, and the breadth twentie cubites.

4 And the porche that was before the length in the front, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie cubites: and he ouerlayde it on the inner side with pure golde.

6 And

6 And he ouerlayde the house with precious stone beautifully: and the golde was golde of Paruaim.

7 The house (I say) the beames, posts, walles, and doores therof, ouerlayde he with golde, and graued Cherubs on the walles.

8 And hee made the house most holy, whose length was twentie cubites, lyke to the breadth of the house, and the breadth therof was also twentie cubites: and he ouerlayd it with good golde, euen with fiue hundred talents.

9 And the waight of the nayles of gold was fiftie sicles, and he ouerlayd the vpper chambers with golde.

10 And in the house most holy he made two Cherubims of Image worke, like children, and ouerlayd them with golde.

11 And the wings of ỹ Cherubs were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 And euen so the one wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was fiue cubites also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 So that the wings of the sayde Cherubs were stretched out twentie cubites: and they stode on their feete, and loked inwardes.

14 And hee made a forehanging of " yelowe silke, purple, crymosin, and fine white, and caused the pictures of Cherubs to be broydered thereon.

15 And hee made before the house two pyllers of thirtie and fiue cubites high, and the head that was aboue on the toppe of euerie one of them was fiue cubites.

16 And he made chaynes of wreathen worke for the quier, and put them on the heades of the pillers: and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaynes.

17 And hee reared vp the pyllers before the temple, one on the right hande, and the other on the left: and called the right Jachin, and the left Boaz.

3 And vnder it was the fashiō of oxen which did compasse it rounde about: with ten cubites did they compasse the lauatorie rounde about, and there were two rowes of oxen, which were cast like molten worke.

4 And it stode also vpon twelue oxen: three loked towarde the North, three towarde the West, three toward the South, and three towarde the East: and the lauatorie was set vpon them, and all their backes were towarde the lauatorie.

5 And the thickest of it was an hand bredth, and the brym lyke the brym of a cup, with floures of lillies: and it receyued and helde three thousande bates.

6 And he made ten lauers, and put fiue on the right hande, and fiue on the left, to washe and clense in them such things as they offered for a burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the priestes to wash in. 3. Reg. 7. a.

7 And he made ten candelsticke of golde, according to the patterne that was giuen of them, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right hande, and fiue on the left.

8 And he made also tenne tables, and put them in the temple, fiue on the right side, and on the left: and he made an hundred basons of golde.

9 And he made the court of the priestes, and the great court, and doores to it, and ouerlayde the doores of them with brasse.

10 And hee sette the great lauatorie on the right side of the East ende, ouer agaynst the South.

11 And Hiram made pottes, shouels, and basons, and finished the worke that he was appoynted to make for king Solomon in the house of God.

12 The two pyllers, and the bowles, and the pommelles on the toppe of the two pyllers, and the two wreathes to couer the two bowles of the pommels, which were on the top of the pyllers.

13 And foure hundred pomegranates on the two wreathes: two rowes of pomegranats on one wreath to couer the two bowles of the pommels.

14 And he made two bottomes, and lauers made he vpon the bottomes.

15 The great lauatorie, and twelue Oxen vnder it.

16 Pottes also, shouels, and fleshhookes: and al these vessels did (a) Hiram his father make to king Solomon for the house of the lord, of bright brasse.

a. Hiram is called Solomons father, bycause Solomon reuerenced him, and fauored him, as his father.

17 In the plaine of Jordan did the king cast them, euen in the clay grounde that is betwene Socoth and Zaredatha.

18 And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the waight of brasse could not be reckened.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God, the golden aulter also, and the tables to set the shewe bread vpon.

D 20 Moreouer, the candelsticks with theyr lampes, to burne after the maner, before the quier, and that of precious golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers made he of golde, and that perfect golde.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the temple. 2. The arke is brought into the temple. 10. What was within it. 12. They sing prayse vnto the Lorde.

A 1 AND so all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lorde was finished: and Solomon brought in all the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer & golde, and all the Iewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

3. Reg. 7. g.

3. Reg. 8. a. 2 Then Solomon gathered the elders of Israel togither, and all the heades of the trybes, and auncient fathers of the children of Israel, vnto Hierusalem, to bring the arke of the couenant of the Lorde out of the citie of Dauid, which is (in) Sion.

3 Wherefore all the men of Israel resorted vnto the king in the feast, euen in the (a) seuenth moneth.

a. September

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites toke vp the arke.

5 And the priestes and the Leuites brought away the arke of the tabernacle of the congregation, and al the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And king Solomon and all the congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him before the arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they could not be tolde, nor numbred for multitude.

B 7 And the priestes brought the arke of the appoyntment of the Lorde vnto his place, euen into the quier of the temple within the place most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubs.

8 So that the Cherubs stretched out theyr wings ouer the place of the arke, and the Cherubs couered both the arke and the barres aboue on high.

9 And the barres of the arke were so long, that the heades of the barres were seene without the arke within the quier, but not without: and there the arke remayned vnto this day.

10 But there was nothing in the arke, saue the two tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lorde made a couenant with the children of Israel after they were come out of Egypt.

11 And it fortuned, that when the priestes were come out of the holy place (for all the priestes that were present, were sanctified, and did not then wayte by course,)

12 That both the Leuites and the singers, C vnder Asaph, Heman, and Iedithum, were appoynted to sundrie offices, with their children and brethren, and were arayed in fine white, hauing cymbales, psalteries, & harpes, and stode at the east ende of the aulter, and by them an hundred and twentie priestes blowing with trumpets.

13 And the trumpet blowers, and the singers so agreed, that it seemed but one voice in praysing and thanking the Lorde: and when they lift vp their voice with the trumpets, cymbales, and other instruments of Musicke, and when they praysed the Lorde, howe that hee is good, and that his mercye lasteth euer: the house of God was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the priestes coulde not endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Maiestie of the Lorde had fylled the house of God.

The.vi. Chapter.

3. Solomon blesseth the people. 4. He prayseth the Lorde. 14. He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the temple.

1 THen Solomon sayde, The Lorde hath spoken, howe that hee will dwell in the darke cloude.

2 And I haue buylt thee an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Israel, and all the congregation of Israel stode.

4 And he sayde, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, which hath with his handes fulfilled it that he spake with his mouth to my father Dauid, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the lande of Egypt, I chose no citie among all the trybes of Israel to buylde an house house in, that my name might bee there, neyther chose I any man to bee ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 Sauing that I haue chosen Hierusalem, that my name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And when it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to buylde an house for the name of the Lorde God of Israel,

8 The Lorde sayde to Dauid my father, Forasmuch as it was in thine heart to build an house for my name, thou diddest wel that thou thoughtest in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not buylde the house: but thy sonne, which is proceeded out of thy loynes, hee shall buylde an house for my name.

10 The Lorde therefore hath made good hys saying that he hath spoken: and I am risen vp in the rome of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lorde promised, and haue buylt an house for the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

11 And in it haue I put the arke, wherein is the (b) couenant of the Lorde that hee made with the children of Israel.

12 And the king stoode before the aulter of the Lorde, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes,

13 (For now Solomon had made a brasen scaffolde of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites brode, and three of heigth, and had set it in the middes of the great court, and vpon it he stoode, and kneeled downe vpon hys knees before all the congregation of Israell, and stretched out his handes towarde heauen,)

14 And sayde, O Lorde God of Israel, there is no God lyke thee in heauen and earth, which keepest couenant, and shewest mercie vnto thy seruantes that walke before thee with all their heartes.

15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him, thou saidest it with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is to see this day.

16 And nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruaunt Dauid my father the things that thou promisedst hym, saying, Thou shalt in my sight not bee without a man that shall sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heed to their wayes, to walke in my lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And nowe Lorde God of Israel, let thy saying be true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (And will God in very deede dwel with men on earth? Beholde, heauen and heauen aboue all heauens do not conteyne thee, Esay.66.a. Actes.7.f. howe much lesse, the house whiche I haue buylded?)

19 Let it be thy pleasure therefore, to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to hearken vnto the voyce and prayer which thy seruaunt prayeth before thee,

20 And let thine eyes be open towarde this house day and night, ouer this place wherof thou hast sayde, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruaunt, D and of thy people Israel, which they praye in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, and be mercifull.

22 If a man sinne agaynst his neighbour, and take an othe agaynst him, and make 3. Reg. 8. d. hym to sweare, and they both come before thine aulter in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruauntes, that thou rewarde the vngodly, and recompence hym his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 And if thy people Israel be put to ỹ worse before the enimie, bycause they haue sinned agaynst thee: Yet if they turne and giue thankes vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from Heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them agayne vnto the lande which thou gauest to them, and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no Deut. 10. d. raine, bycause they haue sinned against thee: 3. Reg. 17. a. yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and repent from their sinne for the which thou chastenest them:

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy E people Israel, and guide thou them into the good way to walke in, and sende raine vpon thy lande whiche thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 And if there be dearth in the land, or pestilence, corruption, or blasting of corne, Grashoppers, or caterpillers, or that their enimies besiege them in the "Cities of their land, or whatsoeuer plague or sickenesse it be:

29 Then what supplycations and prayers soeuer shall bee made of any man, and of all thy people Israell, which shall knowe euerie man his owne sore and his owne griefe, and shall stretche out their handes towarde this house:

30 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt bee merciful, and giue euery man accozding vnto all his wayes, euen as thou doest knowe euery mans heart: (foz thou[d] onely knowest the heartes of the childzen of men,)

d. God onely knoweth the hart of men.

31 That they maye feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue, in the lande which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 Mozeouer, the straunger whiche is not of thy people Israel, if he come from a farre lande foz thy great names sake, & thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: If they come, I say, and pray in this house:

3. Reg. 8. c. Iohn. 12. c. Acts, 8, f.

33 Thou shalt heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and shalt doe accozding to all that the straunger calleth to thee foz: that all the people of the earth may knowe thy name, and feare thee as doth thy people Israel, and that they may knowe howe that in this house which I haue buylt, thy name is called vpon.

F Deut. 6. d.

34 If thy people goe out to warre agaynste their enimies by the waye that thou shalt sende them, and they pray to thee in the way towarde the citie whiche thou hast chosen, euen towarde the house which I haue built foz thy name:

35 Then heare thou from heauen their supplication and prayer, and helpe them in their right.

3. Reg. 8. c. 1. Iohn. 1. d.

36 If they sinne agaynst thee (as there is no man but hee doth sinne) and thou be angrie with them, and deliuer them ouer before their enimies, and they take them, and carie them away captiues vnto a lande farre oz neare:

37 Yet if they repent in their heart in the land where they be in captiuitie, and turne, and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, we haue done euill and wickedly:

38 And turne againe to thee with all theyr heart, and all their soule, in the lande of theyr captiuitie where they keepe them in bondage, and so pray towarde their lande, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, euen towarde the citie which thou hast chosen, and towarde the house whiche I haue built foz thy name:

G 39 Then heare thou from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, their supplication and their prayer, and iudge their cause, and bee mercifull vnto thy people which haue sinned agaynst thee.

40 Nowe my God, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 Nowe vp, O Lord God, into thy (e) resting place, thou and the ark of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy priests be clothed with health, & let thy saints reioice in thy goodnes.

42 O Lorde God, turne not away the face of thine (f) annoynted, remember the mercies which thou hast promised to Dauid thy seruant.

The. vij. Chapter.

1. The fyre consumeth the sacrifice. 2. The glorie of the Lorde fylleth the Temple. 12. He heareth his prayer. 17. And promiseth to exalt him and his throne.

1 NOw when Solomon had made an end of praying, there came downe fire from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices: and the house was filled with the glozie of the Lozde.

2 And the Priestes coulde not goe into the house of the Lozde, bycause the glozie of the Lozde had filled the Lozdes house.

3 And when all the childzen of Israel sawe how the fire and the glozie of the Lozd came downe vpon the house, they fel downe flat vpon their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and wozshipped and confessed vnto the Lozde, that he is gracious, and that his mercie lasteth euer.

4 And the king and al the people offered sacrifices before the Lozde.

5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousande oxen, and an hundzed and twentie thousande sheepe, and so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priestes wayted on their offices, And the Leuits had the instruments of musicke of the Lozde, which king Dauid had made to confesse vnto the Lozde, that his mercy lasteth euer, Dauid praysing God by them: and the priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stode.

7 Mozeouer, Solomon halowed the middle of the Court that was before the house of the Lozde, foz there hee offered burnt offerings: and the fatte of the peace offrings, bycause the brasen aulter whiche Solomon had made, was not able to receyue the burnt offerings, and the meate offering, and the fatte.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept (g) a feast of seuen dayes, and all they of Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the ryuer of Egypt.

9 And in the eyght day they made an assembly:

ſembly: for they kept the dedication of the aulter ſeuen dayes, and the feaſt ſeuē dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth daye of the ſeuenth moneth, hee let the people depart into their tentes glad and merrie in heart, for the goodneſſe that the Lorde had ſhewed to Dauid and to Solomon, and to Iſrael his people.

9. a. 11 And ſo Solomon finiſhed the houſe of the Lorde, and the kings houſe: and all that came in his heart to make in the houſe of the Lord, and in his owne houſe, went proſperouſly forwarde.

15 And from henceforth mine eyes ſhall be open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

6. a. 16 And therefore nowe I haue choſen and ſanctified this houſe, that my name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and my heart ſhall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe al that I haue commaunded thee, and ſhalt obſerue my ſtatutes and my lawes:

6 And Baalah, and all the ſtore Cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horſemen, and euery pleaſant place that Solomon had luſt to buylde in Hieruſalem and Libanon, and throughout all the lande of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the B Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Iebuſites, whiche were not of the children of Iſrael, 8 But were the children of them whiche were left after them in the lande, and were not conſumed of the children of Iſrael, them did Solomon make to paye tribute, vnto this day.

9 But of the children of Iſrael did Solomon make no bondmen for his worke: but they were men of warre, and rulers, and great Lords with him, and captaynes ouer his charets and horſemen.

10 And king Solomons officers that ouerſaw and ruled the people, were two hundred and fiftie.

11 And Solomon brought the daughter of Pharao out of the citie of Dauid, into the houſe that he had buylded for hir: for he ſaid, My wife ſhal not dwel in the houſe of Dauid king of Iſrael, for it is holy, bicauſe that the arke of the Lorde is come vnto it.

12 Then Solomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lorde on the aulter of the Lorde, which he had built before the porche:

17 Then went King Solomon to Ezion Gaber, & to Eloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruantes, shippes, and seruantes that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruauntes of Solomon to Ophir, and caryed thence foure hundꝛed and fiftie talentes of Golde, and bꝛought it to King Solomon.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. 9. The Queene of Saba commeth to see Solomon, and bringeth giftes. 12. His yearely reuenues. 30. The tyme of hys raigne. 31. His death.

A 1 AND when the Queene of Saba heard 3. Reg. 10. a. of the fame of Solomon, shee came to Math. 14. d. pꝛoue him in hard questions at Hieꝛusalem, Luke. 10. b. with a veꝛie great companie, with Camels that bare spices, and plentie of gold, and pꝛecious stones: And when shee was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that she had in hiꝛ heart.

2 And Solomon soyled hiꝛ all hiꝛ questions: and there was not one woꝛde hid from Solomon which he tolde hiꝛ not.

3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisedome of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruantes, and the standing of his wayters, theiꝛ apparel, his butlers, theyꝛ apparell, "his going vp, by the which he went into the house of the Loꝛde: there was no moꝛe spiꝛite in hiꝛ.

"or, his sacrifices which he offered in the house of the Loꝛde.

5 And shee sayde to the king, The saying which I heard in mine owne lande of thine actes, and of thy wisedome, is true.

6 I beleeued not the woꝛdes of them, vntill I came; and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy wisedome was not tolde me: foꝛ thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are theꝛe thy seruants which stand befoꝛe thee alway, and heare thy wisdome.

8 Blessed be the Loꝛde thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee (king) on his seate, that thou mightest be king foꝛ the Loꝛd thy God: bycause thy God loueth Israel (and hath delite) to make them continue eue, theꝛefoꝛe made hee thee king ouer them, to do right and equitie.

9 And shee gaue the king an hundꝛed and twentie talents of golde, and of spices exceeding great abundance, and pꝛecious stones: neither was there any moꝛe such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.

10 And the seruantes of Hiram, and the seruantes of Solomon, which bꝛought golde from Ophir, bꝛought also Algume wood, and pꝛecious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algume wood stayꝛes in the house of the Loꝛde, and in the kings palace, and Harpes, and Psalteries foꝛ singers: and there was none such wood seene befoꝛe in the lande of Juda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to the Queene of Saba euery pleasant thing that she asked, (a) besides that which shee had bꝛought vnto the king, and so she turned, and went away to hiꝛ owne lande with hiꝛ seruants.

13 The waight of golde that came to Solomon in one yeare, was sixe hundꝛed thꝛeescoꝛe and sixe talentes of golde.

14 Besides that whiche chapmen and ℣ chants bꝛought: and al the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that countrey, bꝛought golde and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundꝛed targets of beaten golde: and sixe hundꝛed sicles of beaten golde were spent vpon one target.

16 And thꝛee hundꝛed shieldes made he of beaten golde, and one shield cost thꝛee hundꝛed peeces of golde: and the king put them in the house that was in the foꝛrest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great state of iuoꝛy, and ouerlayde it with pure golde.

18 And there were sixe steppes to the seate, with a foteestoole of golde fastened to the seate: and pommelles on eche syde of the sitting sitting place, and two Lions standing by the pommels.

19 And twelue Lions stode on the one side and on the other vpon the fire steppes: so that there was no such worke made in any kingdome.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forrest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings shippes went to Tharsis with the seruaunts of Hiram, euerie three yeares once came the shippes to Tharsis and brought golde, siluer, yuorie, and Apes, and Peacocks.

D 22 And king Solomon passed all the kings of the earth, in ryches and wisedome. 3.10.D.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, & vessels of golde, rayment, harnesse, spices, horses, and mules, and what soeuer might be gotten yeare by yeare.

25 And Solomon had foure thousand stalles for horses and charettes, and twelue thousande horsemen, whom he bestowed in the charet cities, and (some were) with the king at Hierusalem. 3.4.D.

26 And hee raigned ouer all the kings that were from Euphrates, vnto the lande of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as stones, and Cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberie trees that grow in the valleyes: 3.10.D.

E 28 And they brought vnto Solomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all landes.

29 The rest of the actes of king Solomon first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecie of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the visions of Iddo, the sear of visions agaynst Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat? 3.11.g.

30 And Solomon raigned in Hierusalem vpon all Israel fortie yeares.

31 And Solomon slept with his fathers: and they buryed him in the citie of Dauid his father, and Rehoboam his sonne raigned in his steade.

The.x.Chapter.

4. The rigor of Rehoboam. 13. He foloweth lewed counsel. 16. The people rebel.

I 1 AND Rehoboam went to Sichem: for to Sichem were all Israel come togither to make him king. 3.12.a.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat (which was fled into Egypt from the presence of Solomon the king) heard it, he returned out of Egypt. 3.Reg.11.g.

3 And they sent, and called him: and so Ieroboam, and all they of Israel, came and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father layde a grieuous yoke vpon vs: nowe therefore remit thou somewhat of the grieuous seruice of thy father, and of his heauie yoke that he put vpon vs, and we wil serue thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Come agayne vnto me after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam counsayled wyth the elders that had stande before Solomon his father whyle he yet lyued, and he sayde, What counsayle giue ye mee, to answere this people againe?

7 And they tolde him, saying, If thou bee kinde to this people, and shew thy self lowly to them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer. B a. Whiche were of his counsel and secrete.

8 But he left the counsaile which the elders gaue him, and toke counsaile with the yong men that were growen vp with him, and (a) that stode in his presence.

9 And he sayde vnto them, What aduice giue ye, that we may answere this people, which haue communed with me, saying, Abate somewhat of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the yong men that were growne vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that speake to thee, saying, Thy father made oure yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lighter for vs: Thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall be heauier than my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauie yoke vpon you, I will put more to your yoke: My father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with scourges. 3.Reg.12.c.

12 And so Ieroboam and al the people came to Rehoboam ý third day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to me the thirde day.

13 And the king answered them cruelly: and king Rehoboam left the counsayle of the aged men.

14 And answered them after the aduice of the yong men, saying, My father made youre yoke greeuous, and I wil adde thereto: my father chastised you with whippes, but I will chastise you with scourges. C

15 And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that 3.Reg.11.f.

the lord might make good his saying which he spake by the hande of Ahia the Silonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all they of Israel sawe that the king would not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? For wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Isai: Euery man to his tent oh Israel, and nowe Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate them to their tentes:

3. Reg. 12. d.

17 So that Rehoboam raigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel, than dwelt in the cities of Iuda.

18 Then king Rehoboam also sent Haduram, that was ruler ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he dyed: but king Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And they of Israel rebelled agaynst the house of Dauid vnto this day.

The. xi. Chapter.

4. Rehoboam is forbidden to fight agaynst Ieroboam. 5. Cities which he buylt. 21. He hath eightene wiues, and threescore concubines, and by them eight and twenty sonnes, and threescore daughters.

A 1 AND when Rehoboam was come to Hierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iuda and Beniamin, nine score thousande chosen men of warre, to fight agaynst Israel, and to bring the kingdome agayne to Rehoboam.

3. Reg. 12. c.

2 And the worde of the Lorde came to Semaiahu the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon king of Iuda, and to all them of Israel that are in Iuda and Beniamin, and say,

4 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye shall not goe vp nor fight agaynst your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of mee. And they obeyed the wordes of the Lorde, and returned from goyng agaynst Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Hierusalem, and buylt strong cities in Iuda.

6 He buylt vp Bethlehem, and Etam, and Thekoa,

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

B 8 Gath, and Mareia, and Ziph,

9 Adurahim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Zorah, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Iuda and Beniamin, strong cities.

11 And hee repayred the strong holdes, and put captaynes in them, and store of vitaile, and wine, and Oyle:

12 And in al cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Iuda and Beniamin on his side.

13 And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of all theyr coastes.

14 For the Leuites left theyr suburbes, and their possession, and came to Iuda and Hierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring vnto the Lorde.

15 And he ordeyned him priestes for the high places, for the (a) diuils, and for the calues which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites, there went out all the trybes of Israel, such as submitted theyr heartes to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, and came to Hierusalem to offer vnto the Lorde God of theyr fathers.

17 And so they strengthed the kingdome of Iuda, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon mightie three yeares long: for three (b) yeares they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

18 And Rehoboam toke him Mahalath, the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid, to wyfe, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Isai:

19 Which bare him children, Ieus Samarie, and Zaham.

20 And after hir he toke Maacha the daughter of Absolon, whiche bare him Abia, Athai, Ziza, and Selomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom, aboue all his wyues and concubines: for he toke eightene wyues, and three score concubines, and begate twentie and eight sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abia the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 (c) And he played wisely, and scattered all his children throughout all the countreyes of Iuda and Beniamin vnto euery strong citie, and hee gaue them abundaunce of vitaile, and obteyned many wiues.

The. xij. Chapter.

1. Rehoboam forsaketh the Lorde, and is punished by Sesac. 5. Semeia reproueth him. 6. He humbleth himselfe. 7. God sendeth him succour. 9. Sesac taketh his treasures. 13. Hys raigne and death. 16. Abia hys sonne succeedeth him.

1 AND it came to passe, that when Rehoboam had stablished the kingdome, and and became mightie, hee forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, and (a) all Israell wyth him.

2 And it fortuned that in the fifth yeare of king Rehoboam, Sesac the king of Egypt came vp agaynst Hierusalem, because they had transgressed agaynst the Lorde.

3 With twelue hundred charets, and three score thousande horsemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt, Lubim, (b) Suckim, and the blacke Moores.

4 And he toke the strong Cities in Juda, and came to Hierusalem.

5 Then came Semeia the prophete to Rehoboam, and to the Lordes of Juda that were gathered togither within Hierusalem for Sesac, and sayde vnto them, thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye haue left mee, and therfore haue I also (c) left you in the handes of Sesac.

6 Wherevpon the Lordes of Israel and the king humbled themselues and sayde, The Lorde is righteous.

B 7 And when the Lorde sawe that they submitted themselues, the worde of the Lorde came to Semeia, saying, They submit themselues, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will deliuer them somewhat, and my wrath shall not be powred out vpon Hierusalem by the hande of Sesac.

8 Nevertheless, they shall be his seruants: to knowe what difference is betweene (d) my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the worlde.

9 And so Sesac king of Egypt came to Hierusalem, and toke away the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the kings house, he toke euen all: and hee caried away the shieldes of golde which Solomon made.

10 In stead of which, king Rehoboam made shieldes of brasse, and committed them to the handes of the chiefe of the garde, and that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And it came to passe, that when the king entred into the house of the Lorde, the garde came, and fet them, and brought them again vnto the garde chamber.

12 And when hee humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lorde turned from him, that hee would not destroy altogither: and in Juda all was well.

13 And so king Rehoboam wared mightie, and raigned in Hierusalem: and Rehoboam was one and fortie yeares olde when he began to raigne, and hee raigned seuentene yeares in Hierusalem, the citie whiche the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonitesse.

14 And hee did euil, because hee prepared not t C his heart to seeke the Lorde. 3. Reg. 14. f.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Semeia the Prophete, and of Iddo the seer, which noted the genealogie? And there was warre alway betweene Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

16 And Rehoboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his sonne raigned in his stead.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1. Abia maketh warre agaynste Ieroboam. 4. He sheweth the occasion. 12. He trusteth in the Lorde, and ouercommeth Ieroboam. 21. Of his wyues and children.

1 The eighteenth yere of king Jeroboam, A began Abia to raigne ouer Juda. 4. Re. 15. a.

2 And he raigned three yeares in Hierusalem: His mothers name also was Michaiahu, the daughter (a) of Uriel of Gibea:) And there was warre betweene Abia and Jeroboam.

a. Called otherwise Absalon.

3 And Abia set the battel in aray, with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousande chosen men: And Jeroboam set himselfe in aray, to fyght agaynst him, wyth eyght hundred thousande picke men, whiche were strong, and men of armes.

4 And Abia stode vp vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, and sayd, Heare mee thou Jeroboam, and all Israel.

5 Do not you know how that the Lord god of Israel gaue the kingdome ouer them of Israel to Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes, with a (b) salted couenant?

b. With a firm and perpetual.

6 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, the seruant of Solomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath rebelled against his Lord.

7 And there gathered to him lewd men, the children of Belial, and preuayled agaynst Rehoboam the sonne of Solomon, when Rehoboam was (c) yong and tender harted, and could not stande before them.

c. In hart and courage.

8 And nowe ye say, that ye bee able to preuayle agaynst the kingdome of the Lorde, whiche is in the hande of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues whiche Jeroboam made you for goddes. 3. Reg. 12. f.

9 And haue yee not cast out the Priestes of the Lorde, the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites, and haue made you priestes, after the maner of the Nations of other landes? 2. Par. 11. c.

so that whosoeuer commeth and consecrateth his hande with a yong oxe, and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no goddes.

10 But we belong vnto the Lorde our God, whom we haue not forsaken, and the priests are the sonnes of Aaron, which minister vnto the Lorde, and the Leuites wayte vpon their office.

11 They burne vnto the Lorde euery morning and euening burnt sacrifyces, and sweete incense: the shewe breade set they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candelsticke of golde, with the lampes of the same to burne euer at euen: And truly wee kept the watch of the Lord our God, but ye haue forsaken him.

Leuit. 10. a. 12 And beholde, God him selfe is our captayne, and his priestes blow with the trumpettes, and crie alarum agaynst you. O ye children of Israel, fight not agaynst the Lorde God of your fathers: for it wil not prosper with you.

13 But for all that, Ieroboam conueyed men priuily about, to come behinde them: and so they were before Juda, and the layers in wayte were behinde them.

¶ 14 And when they of Juda loked about, beholde, the battel was before and behind, and they cryed vnto the Lorde, and the priestes blew with the trumpettes, 15 And the men of Juda gaue a showte: and as the men of Juda showted, it came to passe, that God smote Ieroboam and al Israel before Abia and Juda.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Juda, & God deliuered them into their hande.

17 And Abia and his people slue a great slaughter of them: There fell downe wounded of Israel, fiue hundred thousande chosen men.

18 And so the children of Israel were brought vnder at that tyme, and the children of Juda preuayled, (b) bycause they leaned vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

b. The cause of victorie.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and toke cities from hym, Bethel wyth the townes belonging thereto, Jesana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephron with their townes.

20 And Jeroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lorde plagued him, and he dyed.

D 21 And Abia waxed mightie, and maryed fourtene wiues, and begat twentie and two sonnes, and sixtene daughters.

22 The rest of the actes of Abia, his maners, and his sayings, are written in the storie of the prophet Iddo.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

3. Asa destroyeth Idolatrie, and commaundeth his people to serue the true God. 11. Hee prayeth vnto God, when he shoulde goe to fight. 12. He obteyneth the victorie.

1 SO Abia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of David, and Asa his sonne raigned in his steade, in whose dayes the lande was in quietnesse tenne yeares.

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lorde his God.

3 For he toke away straunge aultars, and the high places, and brake downe the Images, and cut downe the groues:

4 And commaunded Juda to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to do according to the law and commaundement.

5 And he put away out of all the Cities of Juda the high places and the Images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And he buylt strong cities in Juda, bycause the lande was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeares: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he sayde vnto Juda, Let vs buylde these Cities, and make about them walles, towres, gates, and barres, for the lande is yet in rest before vs: bycause we haue sought the Lorde oure God, we haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euerie syde. And so they built, and it prospered with them.

8 And Asa had an armie of men that bare shieldes and speares out of Juda three hundred thousande, and out of Beniamin that bare shieldes and drewe bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: al these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Zarah, the blacke Mozian, with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charettes, and came as farre as Maresa.

10 And Asa went out before him, and they ioyned the battel in the valley of Zephata, beside Maresa.

11 And Asa cryed vnto the Lorde his God, and sayde, Lorde it is no hard thing wyth thee to helpe with many, or them that haue no power: Helpe vs therefore, O Lorde our God, for we trust to thee, and in thy name we goe against this multitude: thou art the Lorde our God, and no man shall preuayle against thee.

12 So the Lord smote the blacke Mozes before Asa and Juda, and the blacke Mozes fledde.

13 And

13 And Asa and the people that was with hym, folowed after them vnto Gerar: And the blacke Moores host was ouerthrowen, that there was none of them left, but were destroyed before the Lorde, and before hys hoste: and they caried away a mighty great pray.

14 And they smote al the cities round about Gerar, for the feare of the Lord came vpon them: and they spoyled all the cities, and there was exceedyng much spoyle in them.

15 They smote also the tentes of cattel, and caryed awaye plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Hierusalem.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. The exhortation of Azaria. 8. Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11. He sacrificeth with the people. 14. They sweare together to serue the Lorde. 16. He deposeth his mother for hir idolatrie.

1 AND the spirite of God came on Azaria the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and sayde vnto hym, Heare me Asa, and all Juda and Beniamin, the Lorde is with you, whyle ye be with hym: and when ye seeke hym, he will be founde of you: and agayne when ye forsake hym, he also will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season, Israel hath bene without the true God, and without priestes to teache, and without lawe.

4 And when any man in hys trouble, dyd turne vnto the Lorde God of Israel, and sought hym, he was founde of them.

5 And in that tyme there was no peace to hym that dyd goe out and in, but great sedition was there among all the inhabiters of the earth,

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God dyd moue al aduersitie among them.

7 Play ye therefore the men, and lette not your handes slacke: for your worke shal be rewarded.

8 And when Asa hearde those woordes, and the prophesie (a) of Azaria the sonne of Obed the prophete, he toke courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the lande of Juda and Beniamin, and out of the cities whiche he wanne in mount Ephraim, and renued the aulter of the Lorde, that was before the porche of the Lorde.

9 And he gathered all Juda & Beniamin, and the strangers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lorde his God was with hym.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem, the (b) thirde moneth, the fiftenth yeere of the raygne of Asa.

b. May.

11 And they offered vnto the Lorde the same tyme of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oxen, and seuen thousande sheepe, 12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lorde God of theyr fathers, with all theyr hart, and al theyr soule.

13 And who so euer woulde not seeke the Lorde God of Israell, (c) shoulde dye for it, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

c. A lawe of death for all idolaters. Deut. 13.

14 And they sware vnto the Lorde with a loude voyce, showting and blowyng with trumpets and shawmes. ℂ

15 And al they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lorde with al theyr hart, and sought hym with all theyr lust, and he was founde of them: and the Lorde gaue them rest rounde about on euery side.

16 And kyng Asa put (d) Maacha his mother out of authoritie, bicause she had made an abominable idol in a groue: and Asa brake downe hyr idol, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

d. His grandmother.

17 But all the hygh places were not taken away out of Israel, though the hart of Asa was perfect al his dayes.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he hymselfe had dedicate: euen siluer, and golde, and iewels.

19 And there was no more warre vnto the thirtie and fiue yeere of the raygne of Asa.

A 3. Reg. 15. c.

2 And Asa fet out golde and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and (out) of the kyngs house, and sent to Benhadad kyng of Syria, that dwelt at Darmesec, and sayde,

3 There is a confederation betweene mee and thee, betweene my father and thyne: beholde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde, that thou wilt come and breake thyne ap-poynt̃ment with Baaſa kyng of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto kyng Aſa, and ſent the captaynes of his armies to the cities of Iſrael: and they ſmote Ion, Dan, and Abelmaim, and all the ſtrong cities of Nephthali.

5 And when Baaſa heard this, he left buildyng of Rama, and let his worke ceaſe.

6 And then Aſa the kyng toke all Iuda, and caryed away the ſtones and tymber of Rama, wherwith Baaſa was a buylding, and he buylt therewith Geba, and Miſpah.

B 7 At that tyme Hanani the Sear came to Aſa kyng of Iuda, and ſayde vnto him, (a) Becauſe thou haſt truſted in the kyng of Syria, and not rather put thy truſt in the Lorde thy God, therefore is the hoſt of the kyng of Syria eſcaped out of thine hande.

a. God reproueth ſuche leagues as are made with infidels.

2. Par. 14. c.

8 Had not the blacke Mores and Lubim an exceedyng great hoſte, with many charets and horſemen? And yet becauſe thou truſteddeſt in the Lord, he deliuered them into thyne hande.

9 For the eyes of the Lorde beholde all the earth, to ſtrengthen them that are of perfect hart towarde hym: herein thou haſte done foliſhly, and therefore from henceforth, thou ſhalt haue warre.

Gen. 31. d.

10 And Aſa was wroth with the Sear, and put hym into a (b) priſon houſe, for he was diſpleaſed with hym becauſe of this thyng: and Aſa deſtroyed (certayne) of the people the ſame ſeaſon.

b. The prophete of God puniſhed, for ſpeakyng his meſſage.

11 And beholde, theſe deedes of Aſa firſte and laſt, are written in the booke of the kyngs of Iuda and Iſrael.

12 And Aſa in the thirtie and nienth yeare of his raygne, fell ſicke in his feete, and that his diſeaſe continued very long: and in his ſickneſſe he ſought not the Lord, but phiſitions.

Eccle. 38. a.

13 And Aſa ſlept with his fathers, & dyed in the fourtie and one yeare of his raygne.

C 14 And they buryed hym in hys owne ſepulchre, whiche he had made for hymſelfe in the citie of Dauid, and layde hym in the bed whiche he had filled with diuers kindes of ſpices, and ſweete odours made by the craft of the Apothecaries: and burnt very much ſpice about hym.

2 And he put ſouldiers in all the ſtrong cities of Iuda, and ſet rulers in the lande of Iuda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Aſa his father had wonne.

3 And the Lorde was with Iehoſaphat, becauſe he walked in the olde wayes of hys father Dauid, and ſought not Baalim, 4 But ſought the Lord God of hys father, and walked in his commaundements, and not after the doyngs of Iſrael.

5 And the Lorde ſtabliſhed the kyngdome in his hande, and all they that were in Iuda, brought hym preſents, ſo that he had abundance of rycheſſe and honour.

6 And he lift vp his hart vnto the wayes of the Lorde, and he put downe yet more of the hygh places and groues out of Iuda.

7 In the thirde yeere of his raygne he ſent to hys lordes, euen to Benhail, Obdia, Zacharia, Nathanel, and to Michaiah, that they ſhoulde (a) teache in the cities of Iuda:

a. Leui. 10. Deu. 17. 2. Par. 15. 2. Par. 35. a.

8 And with them he ſent Leuites, euen Semeiahu, Nethaniahu, Zebadiahu, Aſael, Semiramoth, Ionathan, Adoniahu, Tobiahu, and Tob-adoniahu, and with them Eliſama, and Iehoram prieſts.

9 And they taught in Iuda, and had the booke of the lawe of God with them, and went about throughout al the cities of Iuda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lorde fell vpon all the kyngdomes of the landes, that were rounde about Iuda, and they fought not agaynſt Iehoſaphat.

11 And ſome of the Philiſtines brought Iehoſaphat gifts, and tribute ſiluer, and therto the Arabians brought hym cattell, men ſeuen thouſand and ſeuen hundred rammes, and ſeuen thouſande and ſeuen hundred goates.

13 And he had great "ſubſtance in the cities of Iuda: but the men of armes and ſtrongeſt ſouldiers were in Hieruſalem.

14 And theſe are the "offices of them in the houſe of theyr fathers: the captaynes ouer thouſands in Iuda, Iona the captayne, and with him of fightyng men, three hundred thouſande.

15 And next to his hand was Iehohanan a captayne, and with hym two hundred and foureſcore thouſande.

16 And next hym was Amazia the ſonne of Zichri.

Zichri, which of his owne good wil offered himself vnto the Lorde, and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of warre.

17 And of the children of Beniamin, Eliada a man of might, and with hym armed men, with bowe and shielde, two hundred thousande.

18 And next hym was Iehosabad, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousande, that were prepared for the warre.

3 And Ahab king of Israel sayde vnto Iehosaphat kyng of Iuda, Wylt thou goe with me to Ramoth (in) Gilead? And he answeared hym, I wil be as thou, and my people shal be as thyne (and we will goe) with thee to the warre.

4 And Iehosaphat sayde vnto the kyng of Israel, Seeke counsell I pray thee at the worde of the Lorde this same day.

5 Therefore the kyng of Israell gathered together of prophetes foure hundred men, and sayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth (in) Gilead to fight, or should I cease? And they sayde, Goe vp, and God shal deliuer it into the kings hande.

6 But Iehosaphat sayde, Is there yet here neuer a prophete more of the Lordes, that we might aske of hym?

B 7 And the kyng of Israel sayd vnto Iehosaphat, There is yet one man by whom we may aske the Lorde: but I hate hym, for he neuer prophesieth me good, but alway euyll, and the same is Michea the sonne of Iemla. And Iehosaphat sayde, Let not the kyng say so.

8 And the kyng of Israell called one of his chamberlaynes, and sayde, Fetche hyther quickly Michea the sonne of Iemla.

9 And the kyng of Israel, and Iehosaphat kyng of Iuda, sate eyther of them on his seate in theyr apparel, in a threshyng floore beside the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And one Zedekia, the sonne of Chanaana, had made hym hornes of iron, and sayd, thus sayth the Lorde, With these thou shalt pushe Syria, vntill they be brought to nought. 3.Reg.22.

11 And all the prophetes prophesied euen so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth (in) Gilead, and it shall prosper with thee: for the Lord shal deliuer it into the hande of the kyng.

12 And the messenger that went to cal Michea, spake to hym, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophetes speake good to the kyng with one assent, let thy wordes therfore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theyrs, that thou speake that whiche is pleasant.

13 And Michea sayd, As the Lord liueth, euē what my God sayeth, that will I speake.

14 And when he was come to the kyng, the kyng sayde vnto hym, Michea, shoulde we go to Ramoth (in) Gilead to fight, or leaue off? And he sayd, Goe vp, & al shal be well, and they shal be deliuered into your hande. C

15 And the kyng sayde to hym, So and so many times dō I charge thee, that thou say nothing but the trueth to me in the name of the Lorde.

16 Then he sayd, I did see al them of Israel scattered in the mountaynes, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lorde sayde, (a) These haue no mayster, let them returne euery man therefore to his house in peace.

a. He prophesieth how the people should be dispersed, and Ahab slayne.

17 And the kyng of Israel sayd vnto Iehosaphat, Dyd I not tell thee, that he woulde not prophecie good vnto me, but euyll?

18 But he sayde agayne, Therefore heare yee the worde of the Lorde: I sawe the Lorde sit vpon his seate, and all the companie of heauen stode on his right hande, and on hys left. 3.Reg.22.b. Esai.6.a.

19 And the Lorde sayde, Who shal deceyue Ahab kyng of Israel, that he may goe vp and be ouerthrowen at Ramoth (in) Gilead? And one sayde this, another that.

20 And there came out a spirite, & stode before the Lorde, & sayde, I wil deceyue him. And the Lorde sayde vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he sayde, I wil goe out, and be a (b) lying spirite in ỹ mouth of al his prophets. And the Lorde sayde, Thou shalt deceyue him, and shalt preuayle: goe out, and dō euen so. D

b. They that wil not beleue the truth, God sendeth strong delusions, that they shoulde beleeue lies. 2.Thess.2.

22 And nowe therefore beholde, the Lorde hath put a lying spirite in the mouths of (al) these thy prophetes, and the Lord hath spoken euill agaynst thee. 2.Reg.22.b Iob.12.d. Ezec.14.c.

23 And

23 And Zedekia the ſonne of Chanaana went to, and ſmote Michea vpon the cheke, and ſayde, By what way went the ſpirite of the Lorde from me, to ſpeake with thee?

24 And Michea ſayde, Beholde, thou ſhalt ſee the day when thou ſhalt goe frō chamber to chamber, for to hyde thy ſelfe.

25 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayde, Take ye Michea, and bryng him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kyngs ſonne.

26 And ye ſhall ſay, Thus ſayth the kyng, Put this felow in the pryſon houſe, & feede hym with bread of affliction, and water of trouble, vntill I come agayne in peace.

27 And Michea ſayde, If thou come againe in peace, then hath not the Lorde ſpoken by me. And he ſayde, Hearken to ye people euery one of you.

28 And ſo the kyng of Iſrael, and Iehoſaphat the king of Juda, went vp to Ramoth (in) Gilead.

29 And the kyng of Iſrael ſayde vnto Iehoſaphat, I muſt change me when I goe to the battayle: but ſee that thou haue thyne owne apparel vpon thee. And the kyng of Iſrael changed himſelfe, and they came to the battayle.

30 But the kyng of Syria had commaunded the captaynes of the charettes that were with hym, ſaying, See that ye fight not agaynſt ſmal or great, ſaue againſt the kyng of Iſrael onely.

31 And when the captaynes of the charettes ſawe Iehoſaphat, they ſayde, It is the kyng of Iſrael: and therefore they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehoſaphat cried out, and the Lorde helped him, and God "chaſed them away from him "or, moued the to depart from him.

32 For it came to paſſe, that when the captaynes of the charets perceyued that it was not the kyng of Iſrael, they turned backe agayne from hym.

"or, ignorātly

33 And a certayne man drewe a bowe "with al his might, and ſmote the kyng of Iſrael betweene the ioyntes of hys habergin, and he ſayde to his charetman, Turne thyne hande, that thou mayeſt carie me out of the hoſt, for I am wounded.

34 And the battayle increaſed that day: Howbeit the king of Iſrael cauſed his charet (c) to ſtande ſtyll agaynſt the Syrians vntill euen: and about the time of the ſunne goyng downe, he dyed.

c. He diſſembled his hurt, that his ſouldiers myght fight the more couragiouſly.

The.xix.Chapter.

1. After Iehoſaphat was rebuked by the prophet, he calleth agayne the people to the honouring of the Lorde. 5. He appoynteth iudges and miniſters, 9. and exhorteth them to feare God.

1 AND Iehoſaphat the kyng of Juda, came home agayne in peace to Hieruſalem.

2 And Jehu the ſonne of Hanani the Sear went out to meete hym, and ſayde to kyng Iehoſaphat, Wouldeſt thou helpe the vngodly, and loue them that hate the Lorde? Therefore is wrath come downe vpon thee from before the Lorde:

3 Neuertheleſſe, there are ſome good workes founde in thee, in that thou haſt hewen downe the groues out of the land, and haſt prepared thyne hart to ſeeke God.

4 And Iehoſaphat dwelt at Hieruſalem, and turned, (a) and went out to the people from Beerſeba to mount Ephraim, and brought them agayne vnto the Lorde God of theyr fathers.

5 And he ſet iudges in the land throughout all the ſtrong cities of Juda, citie by citie.

6 And ſayde to the iudges, Take heede what ye dow: for ye execute not the iudgementes of man, but of God, whiche is (b) with you in the iudgement.

7 Wherefore now, let the feare of the Lord be vpon you, and take heede, and be doyng (the thyng that pleaſeth him) for there is no vnrighteouſneſſe with the Lorde our God, that he ſhoulde haue any reſpect of perſons, or take rewardes.

8 Moreouer, in Hieruſalem dyd Iehoſaphat ſet of the Leuites, and of the prieſtes, and of the auncient fathers, ouer Iſrael, in the iudgement and cauſe of the Lorde: and they returned agayne to Hieruſalem.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhall ye dow in the feare of the Lorde faythfully, and with a pure hart:

10 What cauſe ſo euer come to you of your brethren that dwell in theyr cities, betweene bloud and bloud, betweene lawe and commaundement, betweene ſtatutes and ordinances: ye ſhall warne them that they treſpaſſe not againſt the Lorde, and ſo wrath come vpō you and your brethren: thus dow, and ye ſhall not offende.

11 And beholde, Amaria the hygh prieſte is among you in all matters of the Lord, and Zebadia the ſonne of Iſmael, a ruler of the houſe of Juda, for all the kyngs matters: there be officers of the Leuites alſo before you. Take courage to you therefore, and be doyng (manfully) and the Lorde ſhal be with ſuche as be good.

The.xx. Chapter.

3. Iehoſaphat and the people pray vnto the Lorde. 22. The marueylous victorie that the Lorde gaue him agaynſt his enimies. 30. His raigne and actes.

1 AFter this alſo, it fortuned that the children of Moab and the chyldren of Ammon, & with thē other of the Ammonites, came agaynſt Iehoſaphat to battayle.

2 And there came ſome that tolde Iehoſaphat, ſaying, There cōmeth a great multitude againſt thee from the other ſide of the ſea, and out of Syria, and behold, they be in Haſaſon Thamar, which is Engadi.

3 And Iehoſaphat feared, and ſet himſelf to ſeke the Lorde, and proclaymed faſtyng throughout all Juda.

4 And they that were in Juda, gathered themſelues together, to aſke counſell of the Lorde: and they came out of all the cities of Juda, to make interceſſion to the Lorde.

5 And Iehoſaphat ſtode betweene the congregation of Juda and Hieruſalem in the houſe of the Lorde before the newe court,

6 And ſayd, O Lorde God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen, and raygneſt not thou on all the kyngdomes of the heathen, and in thyne hande is power and might, and there is no man that is able to withſtande thee?

7 Art not thou our God, which diddeſt caſt out the inhabiters of this lande, before thy people Iſrael, and gaueſt it to the ſeede of Abraham thy louer for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue buylt thee a temple therein for thy name, ſaying,

9 If euill come vpon vs, as the ſwoorde of iudgement, peſtilence, or hunger: then, if we ſtande before this houſe in thy preſence (for thy name is in this houſe) & crye vnto thee in our tribulation, heare thou, and helpe.

10 And now behold, the chyldē of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldeſt not let them of Iſrael goe, when they came out of the lande of Egypt, but they departed from them, and deſtroyed them not:

11 See how they rewarde vs, to come for to caſt vs out of thy poſſeſſion, which thou haſt gyuen vs to inherite.

12 O our God, wylt thou not iudge them?
for we haue no might agaynſt this great companie that commeth agaynſt vs: neyther wote we what to do, but our eyes (a) be vnto thee.

13 And all Juda ſtode before the Lorde, with theyr yong ones, theyr wiues, and theyr chyldren.

14 And there was Jahaziel the ſonne of C
Zacharia, the ſonne of Banaia, the ſonne of Jehiel, the ſonne of Matthania, a Leuite, of the ſonnes of Aſaph, and vpon hym came the ſpirite of the Lorde, euen in the middes of the congregation:

15 And he ſayde, Hearken all Juda, and ye inhabiters of Hieruſalem, and thou kyng
Iehoſaphat, thus ſayeth the Lord vnto you,
Be not afrayde nor fayntharted, by reaſon of this great multitude: for the battayle is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morow goe ye downe againſt them:
beholde, they come vp by the cliff of Ziz, & ye ſhall finde them at the ende of the brooke, before the wildernelle of Jeruel.

17 Ye ſhall not neede to fight in thys bat-tayle: but ſteppe forth and ſtande, and be-holde, the helpe of the Lorde whiche is with you: feare not, nor let your harts fayle you, O ye of Juda and of Hieruſalem, to morrow goe out againſt them, for the Lorde wil be with you.

18 And Iehoſaphat (b) bowed his face to the b. Declaryng his fayth and obedience, to the worde of the Lorde.
earth, and all Juda, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem fell before the Lorde, worſhip-ping the Lorde.

19 And the Leuites of the chyldren of the Caathites, and of the chyldren of the Core-bites, ſtode vp to praiſe the Lorde God of Iſrael with a loude voyce on high.

20 And when they aroſe early in the mornyng, they gate them out vnto the wyldernelle of Thekoa, and as they went out, Iehoſaphat ſtode, and ſayd, Heare me, O Juda, and ye inhabiters of Hieruſalem: put your truſt in the Lorde your God, that ye may be founde faythfull: gyue credence to his prophetes, and ſo ſhall ye proſper.

21 When he had conſulted with the people, D and ſet ſome to ſing vnto the Lorde, and to praiſe him in the beautie of holineſſe, and to goe out before the armie, and to ſay, Praiſe the Lorde, for his mercie laſteth euer:

22 And when they began to ſhowte and to praiſe, the Lorde layde ambuſhments agaynſt the chyldren of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, whiche were come agaynſt Juda: and they were ouerthrowen with ſtrokes among themſelues.

23 For the chyldren of Ammon and Moab, roſe agaynſt the inhabiters of mount Seir, and they ſlue and deſtroyed them: and whē they had made an ende of the inhabiters of Seir, euery one helped to deſtroy another among themſelues.

24 And when Juda came towarde Miſpah in the wildernelle, they loked vnto the multitude: and behold, they were dead car-kaſſes

kaſſes fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Iehoſaphat and his people came to take away the ſpoyle of them, they founde among them abundance of goods, rayment, and pleaſant iewels, whiche they toke for themſelues, more than they coulde carie away: ſo that they were three dayes in gatherynge of the ſpoyle, it was ſo muche.

c. Gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for that victorie.

26 And the fourth day they aſſembled in the valley of bleſſing, for there they (c) bleſſed the Lord: and therfore they called the name of the ſame place, The valley of bleſſyng, vnto this day.

E

27 And ſo all the men of Juda and Hieruſalem, returned with Iehoſaphat their head, for to goe agayne to Hieruſalē with gladneſſe: for the Lorde had made them to reioyce ouer theyr enimies.

28 And they came to Hieruſalem with pſalteries, and harpes, and ſhawmes, euen to the houſe of the Lorde.

29 And the feare of God fell on the kyngdomes of all landes, when they had hearde that the Lorde fought agaynſt the enimies of Iſrael.

30 And ſo the Realme of Iehoſaphat was in tranquilitie, and his God gaue hym reſt on euery ſide.

4. Reg. 22. f

31 And Iehoſaphat raygned vpō Juda, and was thirtie and fiue yeares old when he began to raygne, and he raigned twentie and fiue yeares in Hieruſalem: and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Aſa his father, and bowed not therefrom, doyng that whiche was righte in the ſighte of the Lorde.

33 Howbeit the highe places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared theyr hartes vnto the God of their fathers.

34 The reſt of the actes of Iehoſaphat firſte and laſt, beholde they are written among the ſayings of Jehu the ſonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kyngs of Iſrael.

F

35 After this dyd Iehoſaphat king of Juda ioyne himſelfe with Ahaziahu kyng of Iſrael, whoſe mynde was to do wickedly.

36 He coupled hymſelfe with hym, to make ſhyppes to goe to Tharſis: and they made the ſhyppes in Ezion Gaber.

d. God would not haue his to ioyne in ſocietie with idolaters and wicked men.

37 And Eliezer the ſonne of Dodanah of Mareſa prophecied againſt Iehoſaphat, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſte (d) ioyned thy ſelfe with Ahaziahu, the Lorde hath broken thy workes. And the ſhippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tharſis.

The. xxi. Chapter.

1. Iehoſaphat dyeth. 2. Iehoram ſucceedeth hym. 4. Which killeth his brethren. 6. He was brought to idolatrie, 11. and ſeduceth the people. 16. He is oppreſſed of the Philiſtines. 18. His miſerable ende.

1 IEhoſaphat alſo ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehoram his ſonne raygned in his ſtede.

2 And he had brethren, whiche were the ſonnes of Iehoſaphat, Azaria, Jehiel, Zacharia, Azariahu, Michael, and Sephatiah: all theſe are the ſonnes of Iehoſaphat kyng of Juda.

3 And theyr father gaue them many great gifts of golde and ſiluer, and other ſpecial ſubſtance, with ſtrong cities in Juda: but the kyngdome gaue he to Iehoram, for he was the eldeſt.

4 And Iehoram roſe vp agaynſt the kyngdome of hys father, and preuayled, and ſlue all his brethren with the ſworde, and diuers of the lordes of Iſrael.

5 Iehoram was thirtie and two yeares old when he began to raygne, and he raygned eyght yeares in Hieruſalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Iſrael, lyke as dyd the houſe of Ahab, for he had the daughter of Ahab to (a) wife: he wrought euyll in the eyes of the Lorde.

7 Howbeit, the Lorde woulde not deſtroy the houſe of Dauid, becauſe of the couenant that he had made with Dauid, as he promiſed, to giue a light to him and to his ſonnes for euer.

8 In his dayes the Edomites rebelled, when they were vnder the dominiō of Juda, and made themſelues a kyng.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his lords, and all his charets were with him: and he roſe vp by night, and ſmote the Edomites, whiche compaſſed him in, and the captaynes of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled ſtill, ſo that they would not be vnder the hande of Juda vnto this day: that ſame tyme alſo dyd Libna depart from beyng vnder hys hande, becauſe he had forſaken the Lorde God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer, he made byghe places in the mountaynes of Juda, and cauſed the inhabiters of Hieruſalem to commit fornicatiō, and prouoked Juda (to Idolatrie.)

12 And there came a writing vnto him from Elia the prophete, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lorde God of Dauid thy father: Becauſe thou thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehosaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Asa king of Iuda:

12 But walkest in the wayes of the kinges of Israel, & hast made Iuda and the dwellers of Hierusalem to goe a whoring, lyke to the whoredome of the house of Ahab, and hast slayne thy brethren, euen thy fathers house, whiche were better than thou,

C 14 Beholde, with a greate plague wyll the Lord smite thy folke, thy children, thy wiues and all thy goodes:

15 And thou shalt suffer greate payne, euen a disease of thy bowels, vntyll thy guttes fall out, by reason of thy sickenesse, day by day.

16 And so the Lord stirred vp agaynst Iehoram the spirite of the Philistines, & the Arabians that were beside the blacke Mores.

17 And they came vp into Iuda, and walled it, and caryed away al the substãce that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes, and his wyues: so that there was neuer a sonne left him, saue "Iehoahaz, whiche was the yongest among his sonnes.

18 And after all these things, the Lord smote him in hys bowelles with an incurable disease.

19 And it came to passe, that in processe of tyme, euen after the ende of two yeeres, hys guttes fell out in hys sickenesse, and so hee dyed of very euyll diseases: and they made no burning for him, lyke the burning of hys fathers.

D 20 When he beganne to raigne, he was thirtie and two yeeres old, and raigned in Hierusalem eyght yeeres, and lyued wretchedly: howbeeit they buryed him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

The.xxij. Chapter.

1. Ahaziahu raygneth after Iehoram. 8. Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziahu. 10. Athalia putteth to death all the kings lynage. 11. Ioas escapeth.

1 AND the inhabiters of Hierusalem made Ahaziahu hys young sonne kyng in hys stede: for the men of warre that (a) came with the host of the Arabians, hadde slayne all hys eldest sonnes: and so Ahaziahu the sonne of Iehoram kyng of Iuda was made king.

2 (b) Two and fourtie yeeres olde was hee when he began to raygne, & he raygned one yeere in Hierusalem: hys mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of (c) Amri.

3 And hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother by hir counsell entised him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he dyd that whiche was euyll in the syghte of the Lorde, as dyd they that were of the house of Ahab: for they were his (d) counselours after the death of his father, to his destruction.

d. Euil counsellers make an euil king.

5 And hee walked after theyr counsell, and went with Iehoram sonne of Ahab king of Israel, to fight against Hazael king of Syria, at Ramoth (in) Gilead, and the Syrians smote Iehoram.

6 And he returned to bee healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes whiche were gyuen hym at Rama, when he fought with Hazael kyng of Syria: and Ahaziahu the sonne of Iehoram kyng of Iuda, went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Iezrael, because he was diseased.

7 And it came of God that Ahaziahu should bee despysed for his comming to Iehoram: for when he was come, hee went out with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimsi, whome the Lorde had annoynted to destroy the house of Ahab. B 4.Re.9.b.

8 And so it came to passe, that when Iehu was executing iustice vpon the house of Ahab, and had founde the lordes of Iuda, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziahu that wayted on Ahaziahu, he slue them.

9 And hee sought Ahaziahu: and they caught him where hee was hyd in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, & when they had slayne him, they buryed him: because, sayde they, hee is the sonne of Iehosaphat, whiche sought the Lorde with all his hart: and the house of Ahaziahu had no power to keepe styll the kingdome. 4.Reg.9.k.

10 But when Athalia the mother of Ahaziahu sawe that hir sonne was dead, she arose, and (e) destroyed all the kings seede in the kynrede of the house of Iuda. 4.Reg.9.k.

e. To the intent that there shold be none to make title to the crowne: and so she might vsurpe the gouernment.

11 And Iehosabeth the daughter of ỳ kyng, toke Ioas the sonne of Ahaziahu, and stale him from among the kynges sonnes that were slayne, and put him and his nurse in a priuie chamber, & so Iehosabeth the daughter of king Iehoram, the wyfe of Iehoiada the priest, and the syster of Ahaziahu, hydde hym from Athalia, that he was not slayne.

12 And so he was with them hyd in the house of God fiue yeeres: and Athalia raigned ouer the lande.

The.xxiij. Chapter.

a. Meanyng of Iuda and Beniamin.

3 And all the congregation made a bonde with the kyng in the house of God, and he sayde vnto them, Beholde, the kyngs sonne must raygne, as the Lorde hath sayde of the chyldren of Dauid.

3. Reg. 2. a. and. 9. b. 2. Par. 6. c. 7. d. and. 21. b

4 This is it therefore that ye shall do: the thyrde parte of you shall on the Sabboth come to the priests, Leuites, and keepers of the porches,

5 And another thyrde parte shal be by the kyngs house, and another thyrde part shall be at the gate of the fundation: and all the people shal be in the courtes of the house of the Lorde.

Exod. 27. b.

6 But there shall none come into the house of the Lorde, saue the priests, and they that minister vnto the Leuites, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but al the people shall keepe the watche of the Lorde.

B 7 And the Leuites shall compasse the kyng rounde about, and euery man shal haue his weapon in his hand: and what other man soeuer dothe come into the house (of the Lorde) he shall be slayne: and let them be with the kyng when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 And the Leuites and al Iuda did accordyng to all things that Iehoiada the priest had commaunded, and toke euery man his men that came in on the Sabboth, with the that went out on the Sabboth day: neyther dyd Iehoiada the priest let the companies depart.

9 And Iehoiada the priest deliuered to the captaynes of hundreds, speares, shieldes, and bucklers, that had parteyned to kyng Dauid, and were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (euery man hauyng his weapon in his hande) from the ryght side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, along by the aulter and the temple, rounde about the kyng.

Deut. 7. d.

11 And they brought out the kyngs sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and the testimonie, and made hym kyng: and Iehoiada and his sonnes annoynted hym: and sayde, God saue the kyng.

12 When Athalia heard the noyse of the people runnyng, and praysing the kyng, she came to the people into the house of the Lorde.

13 And she loked, and behold the kyng stod "in his place at the entryng in, & the lordes and the trumpets were by the kyng, and al the people of the lande reioyced, blowyng with trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musicke, and suche as could sing prayse: but Athalia rent hyr clothes, and sayde, Treason, treason.

14 And Iehoiada the priest went out to the captaynes of hundredes, that were gouernours of the hoste, & sayde vnto them, Haue hyr forth of the ranges: and (b) who so foloweth hyr, lette hym be slayne with the swoorde. For the priest sayd, that they should not slay hir in the house of the Lorde.

15 And they layde handes on hyr, tyll she was come to the entryng of the horse gate beside the kyngs house, and there they slue hyr.

16 And Iehoiada made a bonde betweene hym, and all the people and the kyng, that they should be the Lordes people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and (c) destroyed it, and brake hys aulters and his images, and slue Mathan the priest of Baal before the aulters.

18 And Iehoiada put the officers for the house of the Lorde, vnder the handes of the priestes and Leuites, as Dauid had distributed them in the house of the Lorde, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lorde, as it is written in the lawe of Moses, with reioycyng and singyng, as it was ordeyned by Dauid.

19 And he set porters by ỹ gates of the house of the Lord, that none which was vncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he toke the captaynes of hundredes, and al the nobles, and the gouernours of the people, and al the folke of the land, and caused the kyng to come downe out of the house of the Lorde, and they came thorow the high gate into the kyngs house, and set the kyng vpon the seate of the kyngdome.

21 And all the people of the lande reioyced, & the citie was in tranquilitie, after that they had slayne Athalia with the swoorde.

The. xxiiij. Chapter.

1. Ioas repayreth the house of the Lorde. 17. After the death of Iehoiada he falleth to Idolatrie. 21. He stoneth to death Zacharia the prophete. 25. Ioas is killed of his owne seruaunts. 27. After hym raigneth Amaziahu.

1 Ioas

1 IOas was seuen yeeres olde when hee began to raygne, and he raigned fourtie yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Zibia of Beersleba.

2 And Ioas did that whiche was right in the sight of the Lord, al the dayes of (a) Iehoiada the priest.

3 And Iehoiada toke hym two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And it chaunced after this, that Ioas was mynded to renue the house of the Lorde.

5 And he gathered together the priests and the Leuites, and sayd to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iuda, and gather of all Israel money to repayre ẏ house of your God from yeere to yeere, and see that ye hast the thyng: howbeit the Leuites were slacke,

6 And the kyng called Iehoiada that was the (b) chiefest, and sayde vnto hym, Why requyrest thou not of the Leuites to bryng in out of Iuda and Hierusalem the collection of money, according to the commaundement of Moses the seruant of the Lorde, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witnesse?

7 For wicked Athalia, and hyr chyldren, brake vp the house of God, and al the things that were dedicate for the house of ẏ Lord, did they bestowe for Baalim.

8 And at the kings commaundement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lorde, 9 And made a proclamation through Iuda and Hierusalem, to bryng in to the Lorde, the taxation of money that Moses the seruaunt of God set vpon Israel in the wildernesse.

10 And the lordes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, "vntill it was full.

11 And it fortuned, that at the same time, they brought in the chest vnto them whiche were in the kyngs businesse, by the hande of the Leuites, and when they saw that there was muche money, the kings scribe, and one appoynted by the hygh priest, came, and emptied the chest, and toke it, and caryed it to his place agayne. Thus they did day by day, and gathered muche money.

12 And the kyng and Iehoiada gaue it to suche as dyd the labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hyred Masons and Carpẽters to repayre the house of the Lord, and so dyd the artificers in iron and braise, to mende the house of the Lorde.

13 And so the workemen wrought, and the worke mended through theyr hands: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and strengthed it.

14 And when they hadde finished it, they brought the resse of the money before the king and Iehoiada, ℣ therewith were made vessels for the house of the Lorde, euen vessels to ministser withall, (and to serue for burnt offerings,) "chargers and spones, vessels of golde and siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lorde continually, all the dayes of Iehoiada. ℭ "or, mozters oz bowles.

15 But Iehoiada waxed olde, and dyed full of dayes: for an hundred and thirtie yeeres olde was he when he dyed.

16 And they buryed hym in the citie of Dauid among the kyngs, bycause he dealt wel with Israel, and with God, and with hys house.

17 And after the death of Iehoiada, came the (c) lordes of Iuda, and made obeysance to the kyng: and the kyng hearkened vnto them. c. Whiche were flatterers, and idolaters.

18 And so they left the house of the Lorde God of their fathers, and serued groues and idols, and then came the wrath of God vpon Iuda, and Hierusalem, for this their trespasses sake.

19 And he sent prophetes to them, to bryng them agayne vnto the Lord, and they testified vnto them: but they would not heare.

20 And the spirite of God came vpon Zacharia the son of Iehoiada the priest, which stode by the people, and sayde vnto them, thus sayth God, Why transgresse you the commaundements of the Lord, that ye can not prosper? For bycause ye haue forsaken the Lorde, he also hath forsaken you.

21 And they conspyred agaynst hym, (d) and stoned hym with stones, at the commaundement of the kyng, euen in the court of the house of the Lorde. Matth. 23. b d. Idolaters are euer cruel. ℘

22 And so Ioas the kyng remembred not the kyndnesse whiche Iehoiada his father had done to hym, but slue hys sonne: and when he died, he sayde, The Lorde loke vpon it, and requyre it.

23 And when the yeere was out, it fortuned that the hoste of Syria came vp agaynst hym, and they came agaynst Iuda and Hierusalem, and destroyed all the lordes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king to Damascon.

24 For the Syrians came with a smal companie of men, and the Lord deliuered a very great host into theyr hande, bycause they had forsaken the lord God of theyr fathers: and they gaue sentence agaynst Ioas.

25 And when they were departed from him, they left him in great diseases: and hys

5 And Amaziahu gathered Iuda together, and made them captaynes ouer thouſands, and ouer hundredes, accordyng to the houſes of theyr fathers throughout al Iuda and Beniamin: and hee numbred them from twentie yeeres olde and aboue, and founde among them three hundred thouſande choſen men, able to goe to battayle, and that coulde handle ſpeare and ſhielde.

6 He hyred alſo an hundred thouſand ſtrōg fightyng men out of Iſrael, for an hundred talentes of ſiluer.

7 And there came a man of God to hym, and ſayde, O kyng, let not the armie of Iſrael come with thee: for the Lorde is not with Iſrael, (to wit) with al the chyldren of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes (be faythleſſe:) come on, and take the battayle in hande, and God ſhal make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to caſt downe.

9 And Amaziahu ſayd to the man of God, What ſhall wee doo then for the hundred talents whiche I haue guyen for the hoſt of Iſrael? The man of God anſwered, The Lorde is able to giue thee much more than they be.

10 And Amaziahu ſeparated them, (to wit) the armie that was come to hym out of Ephraim, to goe home agayne: wherefore they were exceeding wroth with Iuda, and returned home in great anger.

11 And Amaziahu toke harte, and raged out hys people, and went to the ſalt valley, and ſmote of the chyldren of Seir tenne thouſande.

12 And other tenne thouſande dyd the chyldren of Iuda take alyue, and caryed them vnto the toppe of a rocke, and caſt them downe from the top of the rocke, that they all to burſt.

13 But the ſouldiers of the (b) armie whiche Amaziahu ſent away, that they ſhould not goe with his people to battayle, fell vppon the cities of Iuda frō Samaria vnto Bethzon, & ſmote three thouſande of them, and tooke much ſpoyle.

b. Meanyng the ſouldiers of Ephraim.

14 And it chaūced, after that Amaziahu was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, he brought the goddes of the chyldren of Seir, and ſet them vp to be hys goddes, and bowed hymſelfe before them, and burned incenſe vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lorde was wroth with Amaziahu, and ſent vnto hym a prophete, whiche ſayde vnto hym, Why haſt thou ſought the goddes of the people which were not able to (c) deliuer theyr owne people out of thyne hande?

c. Meanyng in reſpect of their ſinne.

16 And it chaunced, that as the prophete talked with hym, the kyng ſayde vnto hym, Haue men made thee of the kyngs counſell? Ceaſe, why, wilt thou be beaten? And the prophete ceaſed, and ſayde, I am ſure that God is mynded to deſtroy thee, bycauſe thou haſte done this, and agreeſt not vnto my counſel.

17 Then Amaziahu kyng of Iuda toke aduiſe, and ſent to Ioas the ſonne of Iehoahaz, the ſonne of Iehu kyng of Iſrael, and ſayde, Come, that we may ſee eyther other.

18 And Ioas kyng of Iſrael ſent to Amaziahu kyng of Iuda, ſaying, A thiſtle that is in Libanon, ſent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, ſaying, Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and there came a wylde beaſte of Libanon, and trode downe the thistle.

Libanon,

19 Thou sayest, Loe thou hast smitten the Edomites, & thyne hart maketh thee proude to glorifie thy selfe: now therefore byde at home, why doest thou prouoke vnto euyll, that thou mayest perish, both thou, and Juda with thee?

20 But Amaziahu would not hearken vnto hym: for it came of God, euen to delyuer them into the hande of their enimies, bicause they sought counsell at the goddes of Edom.

D 21 And so Joas the king of Israel came vp, and they sawe eyther other, bothe he and Amaziahu kyng of Juda, at Bethsames whiche is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the woorse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel, toke Amaziahu kyng of Juda, the sonne of Joas the sonne of Jehoahaz, at Bethsames, & brought him to Hierusalem, & tare the wal of Hierusalem (from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the gate that was ouer against it) foure hundred cubites.

24 And he toke away also al the golde and siluer, and al the iewels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, the treasures of the kings house, and the yong wardes, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziahu, the sonne of Joas kyng of Juda, lined after ỳ death of Joas sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel fiftene yeeres.

26 The reste of the actes of Amaziahu firste and last, are they not written in the booke of the kyngs of Juda and Israel?

E 27 And after the tyme that Amaziahu dyd turne away from the Lorde, they conspired treason against him in Hierusalem: & when he was fled to Lachis, they sent to Lachis after hym, and slue hym there:

28 And brought hym vp with horses, and buried hym with his fathers in the citie of Juda.

A 1 Then all the people of Juda toke Vzzia, which was sixtene yeeres olde, and made hym kyng in the rowme of his father Amaziahu.

2 And he built Eloth, and brought it again to Juda, after that the kyng was layde to sleepe with his fathers.

3 Sixtene yeeres olde was Vzzia when he beganne to raygne, and he raygned fiftie & two yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Jecholia, of Hierusalem.

4 And he dyd that whiche was right in the sight of the Lorde, accordyng to all as dyd his father Amaziahu.

5 And (it came to passe that) he sought God in the dayes of Zachariahu, who had vnderstandyng in the visions of God: and as long as he sought the Lorde, God made him to prosper. 4. Reg. 12. b

6 And he went to battel against the Philistines, and brake downe the wal of Geth, and the wal of Jabne, and the wal of Asdod, and buylt cities aboute Asdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God holpe hym agaynst the Philistines, and agaynst the Arabians that dwelt in Gur baal, and Hamehunim. B

8 And the Ammonites gaue tribute to Vzzia, and his name spread abrode euen to the entring in of Egypt: for he played the man exceedingly.

9 Moreouer, Vzzia buylt towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, and by the valley gate, and at the turnyng of the wall, and made them strong.

10 And he buylt towres in the wildernesse, and digged many wels: for he had muche cattel in the valleys and playnes, plowmen, and vine dressers in the mountaynes, and in Charmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Vzzia had an host of fightyng men, that went out to warre in the armie, accordyng to the number of their office, vnder the hande of Jeiel the scribe, and Maallahu the ruler, and vnder the hande of Hananiahu, which was one of the kyngs lordes.

12 And the whole number of the auncient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousande and fyre hundred.

13 And vnder the hande of them was the armie of the menne of warre, euen three hundred and seuen thousande, and fyue hundred that made warre with the power of an armie, helpyng the kyng against the enimies.

14 And Vzzia prouided them throughout C all the hoste, shieldes, speares, helmettes, haberginnes, bowes, and slings for to cast stones.

15 And he made subtill engins in Hierusalem, whiche he inuented, and layde on the towres and corners, to shote arrowes and greate stones withall: and his name spreade farre abroade, bycause he had prepared to himselfe marueylous strength.

a. Prosperitie puffeth vp the hart of man, and maketh him often to forget God.

16 But in his strength (a) his harte arose to his destruction: for he transgressed agaynst the Lorde his God, and went into the temple of the Lorde to burne incense vpon the aulter of incense.

17 And Azariahu the priest went in after hym, and with him fourescore priests of the Lorde, that were valiant men:

18 And they stode by Uzzia the kyng, and sayde vnto hym, It partayneth not to thee Uzzia to burne incense vnto the lorde, but to the priests the chyldren of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: (b) Come therefore out of the sanctuarie, for thou hast trespassed, and it is no worshyp to thee before the Lorde God.

b. Though his zeale and intention seemed good, yet bicause they were not ruled by gods word, his fact was wicked, and iustly punished. 3. Reg. 15. a.

19 And Uzzia was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it, and so whyle he had indignation agaynst the priests, the leprosie sprang in his forehead before the priestes in the house of the Lorde, euen beside the incense aulter.

20 And Azariahu the chiefe priest, with all the other priestes, loked vpon hym, and beholde, he was become a lepre in his forehead, and they vexed him thence: and he was fayne to goe out, bycause the Lord had smitten hym.

D 21 And Uzzia the king cõtinued a lepre vnto the day of his death, and dwelt seuerall in an house, beyng a lepre, and shut out of the house of the Lord: & Iotham his sonne had the gouernance of the kyngs house, and iudged the people of the lande.

22 The reste of the actes of Uzzia firste and last, dyd Isai the prophete, the sonne of Amos, wryte.

23 And so Uzzia slept with hys fathers, and they buryed hym with his fathers in the fielde of the buriall whiche was beside the sepulchres of the kyngs: for they sayde, He is a leper: and Iotham hys sonne raygned in hys steede.

2 And he dyd that whiche was right in the sight of the Lorde, in all poyntes as dyd his father Uzzia, saue that he came not into the (a) temple of the Lorde: and the people dio yet wickedly. a. To wit, to offer incense agaynst Gods worde.

3 He buylt the hyghe gate of the temple of the Lorde, and on the wal (where the house of ordinance was) he buylt muche.

4 Moreouer, he buylt cities in the mountaynes of Iuda, and in the wood country he buylt castels and towres.

5 He fought with the kyng of the chyldren of Ammon, and preuayled agaynst them: and the chyldren of Ammon gaue hym the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and tenne thousande quarters of wheate, and tenne thousande of barlye: so much dyd the children of Ammon giue him the seconde yeere, and the thirde also.

6 So Iotham became mighty (b) bycause he directed his way before the Lorde his God. b. Or, made his wayes right.

7 The rest of the actes of Iotham, and all his warres, and his conuersation, lo they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iuda.

8 He was fiue and twentie yeeres old whe he beganne to raygne, and raygned sixtene yeeres in Hierusalem.

9 And Iotham slept with hys fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: and Ahaz his sonne raygned in his steede.

1 AHaz was twentie yeeres olde when he beganne to raigne, and raigned sixtene yeeres in Hierusalem, and he dyd not that whiche is right in the sight of the Lorde, as dyd his father Dauid: 4. Reg. 16. a

2 For he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and made moulten images for Baalim.

3 He offered incense in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, and burnt hys chyldren in fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the chyldren of Israel.

4 He offered also and burnt incense in the hygh places, and on mountaynes, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lorde hys God deliuered hym into the hande of the kyng of the Syrians, whiche beate hym, and caryed away a greate multitude of hys, captiue, and brought them to Damascon: and he was deliuered into the hande of the kyng

8 And the chyldren of Iſraell toke pryſoners of theyr brethren two hundred thouſand women, ſonnes, and daughters, and caryed away muche ſpoyle of them, and brought the ſpoyle to Samaria.

9 But there was a prophete of the Lorde, whoſe name was Obed: and he went out before the hoſte that came to Samaria, and ſayde vnto them, Behold, becauſe the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Juda, (a) he hath deliuered them into your hande, and yee haue ſlayne them with cruelneſſe, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And nowe ye purpoſe to keepe vnder the chyldren of Juda and Hieruſalem, and to make them bondmen and bondwomen: and dow ye not lade your ſelues with ſinne in the ſight of the Lorde your God?

11 Now heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues agayne whiche ye haue taken of your brethren: or els ſhall the great wrath of God be vpon you.

12 Wherefore certayne of the heades of the children of Ephraim, as Azariahu the ſonne of Iehohanan, Berechiahu the ſonne of Meſillemoth, and Iehezkiahu the ſonne of Sallum, and Amaſa the ſonne of Hadlai, ſtode vp agaynſt them that came from the warre, 13 And ſayde vnto them, Bryng not in the captiues hyther: for where as we haue offended towarde God already, ye entende to adde more to our ſinnes and treſpaſſe: for our treſpaſſe is great already, and there is a fierce wrath agaynſt Iſrael.

C 14 And vpon that, the men of armes left the captiues and the ſpoile before the lordes, and all the congregation:

15 And the men that were now rehearſed by name, roſe vp, and toke the pryſoners, and with the ſpoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and ſhoed them, and gaue them to eate and to drynke, and annoynted them, and carried all that were feeble of them vpō aſſes, and brought them to Jericho the citie of Paulme trees, to theyr brethren: and then they returned to Samaria agayne.

16 At that ſame tyme dyd kyng Ahaz ſende vnto the kyngs of the Aſſyrians, to haue helpe of them. 4. Reg. 16. b

17 And the Edomites came againe, and ſlue ſome of Juda, and carried away captiues.

18 And the Philiſtines inuaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and towarde the South of Juda: and toke Bethſames, and Aialon, and Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes belongyng thereto, and Thimna with the townes of the ſame, Gimſo and the townes thereof, and dwelt there.

19 For the Lorde brought Juda lowe, becauſe of Ahaz kyng of Juda, whiche made Juda naked, and tranſgreſſed ſore agaynſt the Lorde.

20 And Thiglath Pilneſer kyng of the Aſſyrians came vpon him, and troubled hym rather than ſtrengthed him.

21 For Ahaz toke away a portion out of the houſe of the Lorde, and out of the kyngs houſe, and out of the Lordes houſes, & gaue vnto the kyng of the Aſſyrians: and yet it helped hym not. D

22 And in the very tyme of his tribulation, dyd kyng Ahaz treſpaſſe yet more agaynſt the Lorde.

23 For he offered vnto the goddes of them of Damaſcon, which (b) beate hym: and he ſayde, Becauſe the goddes, of the kyngs of Syria helpe them, therefore wyll I offer to them, that they may helpe me alſo: but they were his deſtruction, and the deſtruction of al Iſrael. b. As he falſly ſuppoſed.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Hieruſalem: but brought him not vnto the ſepulchres of the kings of Iſrael: and Hezekia his ſonne raygned in his ſtede.

a. Whiche Ahaz had shut vp.
b. An example for al princes, that first of al they stablish the true religion of God.

3 He opened the (a) dores of the house of the Lorde, in the first yeere and (b) first moneth of his raygne, and repayred them,

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East streete,

5 And sayde vnto them, Heare me ye Leuites, and now be sanctified, and halow the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, tryng filthinesse out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lorde our God, and haue forsaken hym, and turned away theyr faces from the habitation of the Lorde, and turned their backes on it.

B 7 And beside that, they haue shutte vp the dores of the porche, and quenched the lāpes, and haue neyther burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerynges in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.

c. The contempt of religiō, is the cause of Gods plagues.

8 (c) Wherefore the wrath of the Lorde fel on Juda and Hierusalem, and hee hath brought them to trouble, to be wondred on, and to be hissed at, euen as ye see with your eyes.

9 For loe, our fathers were ouerthrowen with the swoorde, & our sonnes, our daughters, and our wiues were caried away captiue for the same cause.

10 And nowe it is in myne hart to make a couenant with the Lorde God of Israell, that he may turne away hys heauie indignation from vs.

Num.18.a. 11 Now therefore my sonnes, be not negligent: for the Lorde hath chosen you to stand before hym, and for to minister and serue him, and to burne incense.

12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariahu, of the chyldren of the Caathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Cis the sonne of Abdi, and Azariahu the sonne of Jahaleel: And of the sonnes of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Simma, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Simri and Jehiel: And of the sonnes of Asaph, Zechariahu, and Mathaniahu:

C 14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Semei: And of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Semaia and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered theyr brethren, and purified themselues, and came accordyng to the commaundement of the kyng, and the woordes of the Lorde, for to clense the house of the Lorde:

16 And the priests went into the inner parte of the house of the Lorde, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they founde in the temple of the Lorde, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to cary it out into the brooke Cedron.

17 They began the first day of the first moneth to purifie, and the eyght day of the moneth, came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in eyght dayes, and in the sixtenth day of the first moneth they made an ende.

18 And they went in to Hezekia the kyng, and sayde, We haue cleansed al the house of the Lord, the aulter of burnt offering, with all his vessels, and the shewe bread table, with all his apparel:

19 And all the vessels which kyng Ahaz dyd caste aside, when he raigned, and transgressed, them we haue prepared, and sanctified, and behold, they are before the aulter of the Lorde.

20 And Hezekia the king rose early, and gathered the lordes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lorde.

21 And they brought seuen Oxen, seuen Rammes, seuen Sheepe, and seuen hee Goates, to be a sinne offeryng for the kingdome, for the sanctuarie, and for Juda: And he commaunded the priestes the sonnes of Aaron, to offer thē on the aulter of the lord.

22 And they slue the oxen, and the priests receyued the bloud, and (d) sprynckled it on the aulter: lykewise when they had slayne the Rammes, they sprynckled the bloud vpon the aulter: they slue also the sheepe, & they sprinckled the bloud vpon the aulter.

23 And then they brought forth the hee Goates for the sinne offeryng, before the king and the congregation, and put theyr handes vpon them.

24 And the priestes slue them, and with the bloud of them they cleansed the aulter, to make satisfaction for all Israel: for the king commaunded, that the burnt offeryng, and the sinne offeryng, shoulde be made for all Israel.

25 And set the Leuites in the house of the Lorde, with Cymbales, Psalteries, and Harpes, accordyng to the commaundement of Dauid and Gad the kyngs seer, and Nathan the prophete: for so was the commaundement of the Lord, throughe the

hande of his prophetes.
26 And the Leuites ſtode, hauyng the inſtruments of Dauid: and the prieſts helde the trumpets.
27 And Hezekia commaunded to offer the burnt offering vpon the aulter: And when the burnt offeryng beganne, the ſong of the Lord beganne alſo, and the trumpets, with the inſtruments that were ordeyned by the hande of Dauid kyng of Iſrael.
28 And all the congregation worſhipped, ſingyng a ſong, and blowyng with the trumpets, and all this (continued) vntill the burnt offeryng was finiſhed.
29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king, and al that were preſent with him, bowed themſelues, and worſhipped.
30 And Hezekia the kyng and the lordes, ſpake to the Leuites to prayſe the Lorde, with the wordes of Dauid, and of Aſaph the Sear: and they ſang prayſes with gladneſſe, and the other bowed themſelues, and worſhipped.
31 And Hezekia anſwered, and ſayd, Now ye haue conſecrated your handes to the Lorde: goe to therefore, and bryng the ſacrifices and thanke offerings into the houſe of the Lord. And the cõgregation brought in the ſacrifices and thanke offerynges, and burnt offerynges, as many as were of a free liberal hart.
32 And the number of the burnt offerynges which the congregation brought, was three ſcore and tenne Oxen, an hundred rammes, and two hundred ſheepe, whiche were all for the burnt offeryng of the Lorde.
33 And there were dedicated ſixe hundred Oxen, and three thouſande ſheepe.
34 And the prieſtes were to fewe to ſlay all the burnt offerings: but their brethren the Leuites dyd helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill the prieſtes were ſanctified: for the Leuites were purer harted to be ſanctified, than the prieſts.
35 And thereto the burnt offerynges were many, with the fat of the peace offerynges, & the drynke offerynges, that belong to the burnt offeryng: and ſo the ſeruice parteyning to the houſe of the Lord, was finiſhed.
36 And Hezekia reioyced, and all the people, that God had made the folke ſo ready, and that the thyng was ſo ſone done.

The. xxx. Chapter.

1. The keepyng of the Paſſeouer by the kinges commaundement. 6. He exhorteth Iſrael to turne to the Lorde. 18. He prayeth for the people. 24. His oblation, and the prynces. 27. The Leuites bleſſe the people.

1 AND Hezekia ſent to all Iſrael and Iuda, & wrote letters to Ephraim & Manaſſes, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem, and offer Paſſeouer vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael. A 2 And the kyng helde a counſell with hys lordes, and all the congregation of Hieruſalem, to keepe the feaſt of Paſſeouer in the (a) ſeconde moneth: Num. 9. b.
3 For they coulde not keepe it at that tyme, becauſe the prieſts were not ſanctified ſufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hieruſalem. a. Though they ought to haue done it in the firſt moneth. Exod. 12.
4 And the thyng pleaſed the kyng and all the congregation.
5 And they decreed, that it ſhoulde be proclaymed throughout all Iſrael, frõ Beerſeba to Dan, that they ſhould come and hold the feaſt of Paſſeouer vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael at Hieruſalem: for they had not done it of a great ſeaſon, as it was written.
6 So the poſtes went with letters of the kyng and of hys lordes throughout all Iſrael and Iuda, and at the commaundement of the kyng, they ſayde, Yee children of Iſrael, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Iſahac, and Iſrael, and he wyl returne to the remnant that are eſcaped of you, out of the hande of the kings of the Aſſyrians.
7 And be not ye like your fathers and your brethren, which treſpaſſed againſt the Lord God of their fathers, whiche gaue them vp to be deſtroyed, as ye ſee. B
8 And nowe be not ye ſtiffe necked, lyke as were your fathers: but yeeld your ſelues vnto the Lorde, and enter into his holy place which he hath ſanctified for euer, and ſerue the Lorde your God, and the fiercenes of his wrath ſhall turne away from you.
9 For if yee turne againe vnto the Lorde, then ſhall your brethren and your children finde compaſſion in the preſence of them that toke them captiue, and they ſhal come againe vnto this lande: for the Lord your God is gratious and mercifull, and wyll not turne away hys face from you, if ye cõuert vnto him. Exod. 34. a.
10 And ſo the poſtes went from citie to citie, in the lande of Ephraim and Manaſſes, euen vnto Zabulon: but they laughed them to ſcorne, and mocked them.
11 Neuertheleſſe, yet diuers of Aſer, Manaſſes, and of Zabulon, ſubmitted themſelues, and came to Hieruſalem.
12 And the hand of God was in Iuda, and he gaue them one hart to do the commaundement of the king and of the rulers, accordyng to the worde of the Lorde.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, & there was present a mighty great congregation, to holde the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and removed the aulters that were in Hierusalem: and all the aulters for incense did they away, and cast the into the broke Cedron.

2.Par.28.d.

15 And they slue Passeouer the fourtéth day of the seconde moneth: and the priestes and Leuites which were (b) ashamed, sanctified themselues, and brought in the burnt offerynge into the house of the Lorde.

b. Seeing theyr owne negligence, & the readinesse of the people.

16 And they stode in their office after theyr manner, and accordyng to the law of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinckled the bloud, (whiche they receyued) of the hande of the Leuites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killyng of the Passeouer, for euery one that was not cleane, to sanctifie hym vnto the Lorde.

18 For many of the people, and very many out of Ephraim, Manasses, Issachar, & Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet dyd eate Passeouer, against the lawe appoynted: but Hezekia prayed for them, saying, The good Lorde be mercyful toward euery one,

19 That prepareth his hart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not (cleansed) accordyng to the purification of the sanctuarie.

20 And the Lorde hearde Hezekia, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, helde the feast of sweete breade seuen dayes, with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priests praysed the Lorde day by day, singyng with loude instruments vnto the Lorde.

22 And Hezekia spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge (to sing) vnto the Lorde: and they dyd eate throughout that feast seuen dayes long, and offered peace offerynges, & thanked the Lord God of theyr fathers.

23 And the whole assemblie toke counsel to do so other seuen dayes: and they held those seuen dayes with gladnesse:

24 For Hezekia kyng of Juda, did giue to the congregation (c) a thousand yong oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe: And the lordes gaue out to the congregation a thousande Oxen, and tenne thousand sheepe, & a great number of the priests were sanctified.

c. Hezekia bestoweth his goodes liberally, for the setting forth of Gods glory.

25 And all the congregation of Juda, with the priests and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the lande of Israel, and that dwelt in Juda, reioyced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon, the sonne of Dauid kyng of Israel, there was no suche (ioye) in Hierusalem.

27 And the priestes and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: and theyr voyce was hearde (of the Lorde) and theyr prayer came vp vnto heauen his holy dwellyng place.

The.xxxi.Chapter.

1. The people destroy idolatrie. 2. Hezekia appoynteth priestes and Leuites, 4. and prouideth for their liuing. 11. He ordeyneth ouerseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

1 AND when all these thyngs were finished, all they of Israel, that were present in the cities of Juda, went out & brake the images, and cut downe the idol groues, and all to brake the high places and aulters throughout all Juda and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasses, vntill they had vtterly destroyed them all: and all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possessions, and to their owne cities.

2.Par.33.c.

2 And Hezekia appoynted sundry companies of the priests and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man accordyng to hys office bothe priestes and Leuites, for the burnt offerynge and peace offerynges, to minister and to gyue thankes and prayse in the gates of the (a) hoste of the Lorde.

a. The tabernacle where God dwelled.

3 And the kyngs portion of hys substance that he gaue, were dayly burnt offerings in the mornyng and euenyng, and burnt offerynges for the Sabboth dayes, new mones, and solemne feasts, accordyng as it is written in the lawe of the Lorde.

Num.28.

4 And he bade the people that dwelt in Hierusalem, to gyue a (b) part to the priestes and Leuites, that they might substancially apply themselues to the lawe of the Lord.

b. That they & their wiues might liue vprightly.

5 And as sone as the kyngs commaundement came abrode, the children of Israel brought abundance of firste fruytes of corne, wyne, oyle, hony, and of all manner of fruytes of the fielde, and the tithes of all manner of thyngs brought they in plenteously.

6 And the children of Israel and Juda that dwelt in the cities of Juda, they also brought brought in the tithes of oxen and sheepe, and other holy tithes which were consecrate vnto the Lorde their God, they did offer, and brought them all by heapes.

B 7 In the thirde moneth, they beganne to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezekia and the Lordes came and sawe the heapes, they blessed the Lorde, and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekia questioned with the priestes and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadoc, answered him, and sayde, Since the people beganne to bring the heaue offerings into the house of the Lorde, (c) we also haue had ynough to eate, there remayned so much: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

11 And Hezekia bade prepare" the chambers in the house of the Lorde: and they did prepare them,

12 And caryed in the first fruites, the tythes, and the dedicate things faythfully: ouer which Chonaniahu the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:

13 And Iehiel, Azariahu, Nahath, Asael, Jerimoth, Iosabad, Eliel, Ismachiahu, Mahath, and Banaiahu, were ouerseers ordeyned by Chonaniahu, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezekia the king, and Azariahu was the ruler of the house of God.

C 14 And Core the sonne of Imna the Leuite, and porter of the East dore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, and were giuen in maner seuerally vnto the Lord, and ouer the things most holy.

15 And vnder his hande were Eden, Miniamin, Iesua, Semeiahu, Amariahu, and Sechaniahu, in the cities of the priestes (appoynted) of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their portions, as well to the small, as to the great.

16 Beside their generation, beeing males, from three years olde and vpward, euen vnto euerie one that entreth into the house of the Lorde, they should giue day by day, for their ministration, and for their giuing attendance, and for their diuerse waytings by course,

17 Both to the generation of the priestes and Leuites throughout the housholde of their fathers, from twentie yeares and aboue, to wayte when their courses came:

18 And to the families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters throwe all the congregation: for vpon the fidelitie of them were the holy things bestowed.

19 And to the children of Aaron the priestes, whiche were in the fieldes and suburbes of their Cityes, Citie by Citie, the men whose names were expressed afore, should giue portions, euen to all the males among the priestes, and to all the Leuites according to their number.

20 And of this maner did Hezekia throwout al Juda: and wrought it that was good, and right and true before the lord his God. D

21 And in all the workes that hee began, for seruice of the house of God, for the lawe, and for the commaundements, hee sought hys God: and that did he with al his heart, and prospered.

The.xxxij.Chapter.

1. Sennacherib inuadeth Iuda. 3. Hezekia prepareth for the warre. 7. He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lorde. 9. Sennacherib blasphemeth God. 20. Hezekia prayeth. 21. The Angell destroyeth the Assyrians, and the king is slaine. 25. Hezekia is not thankefull towarde the Lorde. 33. His death.

1 AFter that these deedes were faythfully A done, Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came, and entred into Juda, and compassed the strong cities, and thought to win them for himselfe. 4.Re.18.c. Esay.36.a. Eccle.48.c.

2 And so when Hezekia sawe that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purposed to fight agaynst Hierusalem,

3 Hee toke counsaile wyth his Lordes and men of might, to stop the water of the fountaynes without the Citie: and they did helpe hym.

4 For there gathered many of the people together, and stopped all the welles, and the broke that ranne through the middest of the land, saying, Why shall the kings of the Assyrians come and finde much water?

5 And Hezekia went to lustily, and built vp the wal where it was broken, and made ordinance vpon the towers, and to the other wall without, and repayred Millo in the Citie of Dauid, and made many dartes and shieldes.

6 And hee set Captaynes of warre ouer the people, and gathered them togither to him in the large streete of the gate of the Citie, and spake gently to them, saying,

7 Plucke vp your heartes, and be strong: be not afrayde nor discouraged for the king of B the Assyrians, and for all the multitude that he hath with him: for there bee mo with vs 4.Re.16.c.
than with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh: but wyth Iere.17.a.

vs is the Lorde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battayles. And the people toke a courage through the wordes of Hezekia king of Juda.

4. Re. 18. c. 9 After this, did Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, sende of his seruants to Hierusalem (but he himselfe remayned beside Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezekia king of Juda, and vnto all Juda that were at Hierusalem, saying,

4. Re. 18. c. 10 Thus sayth Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, Wherein doe ye trust, Ye that dwel in Hierusalem which is besieged?

11 Doth not Hezekia entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death, hunger, and thyrst, saying, The Lorde our God shal rid vs out of the hande of the king of the Assyrians?

12 Hath not the same Hezekia put downe his highe places, and his (a) aulters, and commaunded Juda and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one aulter, and burne incense vpon the same?

a. The wicked make no difference betwene true religion and false.

13 Knowe yee not what I and my fathers haue done vnto the people of all landes? Were the goddes of the people of other landes able or mighty to saue their landes out of my hande?

℣ 14 Which of all the goddes of those nations that my fathers destroyed, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And shal your God be able to deliuer you out of my hande.

15 Wherefore nowe let not Hezekia deceyue you, nor perswade you of this fashion, nor yet beleeue him: for as no God, among all nations and kingdomes, was able to rid his people out of my hand, and out of the hande of my fathers: howe much lesse shall your goddes be able to kepe you out of my hand?

16 And yet moe things did his seruantes speake against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezekia.

17 And Sennacherib also wrote a letter to raile on the Lord God of Israel, and spake agaynst him, saying, As the goddes of the nations of (other) landes haue not beene able to deliuer theyr people out of my hande: euen so shall not the God of Hezekia deliuer his people out of my hande.

18 And they cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes speache vnto the people of Hierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, And to make them faynt harted, and that they might so take the citie.

19 And they spake agaynst the God of Hierusalem, as agaynst the goddes of the nations of the earth, (which were) the workes of the handes of men.

℣ 20 But Hezekia the king, and the prophete Esay the sonne of Amos, (b) prayed agaynst that (blasphemie) and cried vp to heauen.

21 And the Lorde sent an Angel, which destroyed all the men of warre, and the Lords and captaynes of the host of the king of the Assyrians, that he turned his face again with shame towarde his owne lande: and when he was come into the house of his God, they that came of his owne bodie, slue him there with the sworde.

22 And so the Lorde saued Hezekia, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians, and from the hande of all other, and maintayned them on euerie side.

23 And manye brought offerings vnto the Lorde to Hierusalem, and presents to Hezekia king of Juda: so that he was magnified in the sight of al nations from thencforth.

24 In those dayes Hezekia was sicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lorde: which answered him, and shewed him a wonderfull myracle.

25 But Hezekia did not againe vnto God according to it that he had shewed him: for his heart arose, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Juda and Hierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding, Hezekia submitted himselfe after that his hart was rysen vp, he and the inhabiters of Hierusalem: and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekia.

27 And Hezekia had exceeding muche riches and honour: and he gate him treasures of siluer and golde, precious stones, and shieldes, shields, and of al maner pleasant iewels:

28 And made store houses for the fruites of corne, for wine, and oyle, and stalles for all maner of beastes, and foldes for sheepe.

29 And he made him cities, and had of sheepe and oxen great abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekia stopped the vpper water springs of (c) Gihon, and brought them down to the west side of the citie of Dauid: and Hezekia prospered in all his workes.

31 And when the princes of Babilon sent vnto him Ambassadours, to enquire of the wonder that chaunced in the land, God left him, to (d) trie him, and that all that was in his heart might be knowne.

32 The rest of the deedes of Hezekia, and his goodnesse, beholde, they are written in the vision of Esay the prophete the sonne of Amos in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

33 And Hezekia slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the most worthie place of the sepulchres of the sonnes of Dauid, and all all Juda and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did him worshipe at his death: and Manasse his sonne raigned in his stead.

The. xxxiij. Chapter.

1. Manasse an idolater. 9. Hee causeth Iuda to erre. 11. He is ledde away prisoner into Babylon. 12. Hee prayeth to the Lorde, and is deliuered. 15. He aboliſheth Idolatrie, 16. and setteth vp true religion. 20. He dyeth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 24. whom his owne seruants slue.

1 MAnasse was twelue yeares olde when he began to raigne, and he raigned fiftie and fiue yeares in Hierusalem:

2 But did euill in the sight of the Lord, like vnto the abhominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went to, and buylt the high places which Hezekia his father had broken down: and he reared vp aulters for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the host of heauen, and serued them.

4 And hee buylt aulters in the house of the Lord, where as the Lorde yet had sayde. In Hierusalem shall my name be for euer.

5 And he buylded aulters for all the host of heauen, in the two Courtes of the house of the Lorde.

6 And hee burnt his children in fire, in the valley of ỹ sonne of Hinnom: he was a soothsayer, he regarded the crying of byrdes, vsed enchauntmentes, and mainteyned workers with spirites, and seares of fortunes, and wrought much euil in the sight of the Lord, to anger him withall.

7 And hee put the carued Image, and an Idol whiche hee had made in the house of God: of which house, God had sayd to Dauid, and to Solomon his sonne, In thys house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the trybes of Israel, will I put my name for euer.

8 Neither wil I make the foote of Israel to remoue anye more out of the lande, whiche I haue ordeyned for your fathers, if so bee that they will bee diligent, and doe all that I haue commaunded them, in all the lawe and statutes, and ordinances, by the hande of Moses.

9 And so Manasse made Juda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, to erre, and to doe worse than the heathen whom the Lorde destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake (a) to Manasse and to his people: but they would not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them, the captaynes of the host of the king of the Assyrians, whiche toke Manasse in holde, and bounde him with chaynes, and caryed him to Babilon.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee besought the Lorde his God, and humbled himselfe exceedingly before the God of hys fathers, 13 And made intercession to him: and God was (b) intreated of him, and hearde hys prayer, and brought him againe to Hierusalem into his kingdome: and then Manasse knew that the Lorde was God.

b. Affliction giueth vnderstanding.

14 After this he buylt a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the weast side of Gion, in the valley, as they came to the fish gate, and rounde about Ophel, and brought it vp of a verie great heigth, & put captaynes of warre in all the strong cities of Juda.

15 And he toke away straunge goddes, and Images out of the house of God, and all the aulters that he had buylt in the mount of the house of God and Hierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

1. Par. 14. 2. and, 31. 2.

16 And hee prepared the aulter of the Lorde, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and thanke offerings, and charged Juda to serue the Lorde God of Israel.

17 Neuertheleſſe, the people did offer still in the high places, howbeit vnto the Lord theyr God onely.

18 The rest of the actes of Manasse, and hys prayer vnto hys God, and the wordes of the Seears that spake to him in the name of the Lorde God of Israel, beholde, they are (written) in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and howe that hee was hearde, and all his sinnes, and his trespasse, and the places where hee made highe places, and set vp groues and Images, before hee was meekened, beholde they are written among the sayings of the Seears.

20 And Manasse slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in his (c) owne house, and Amon his sonne raigned in his rome.

c. Because he had so horribly offended against the lord, they did not burie him in the sepulchre of the kings, but in the garden of the kings house.

21 Amon was two and twentie yeares olde, when he began to raigne, and raigned two yeares in Hierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, lyke as did Manasse his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the carued Images whiche Manasse hys father had made, and serued them, 23 And submitted not himselfe before the Lorde, as Manasse his father had meekened himselfe: but Amon trespassed greatly.

24 And his owne seruants conspyred against him, and slue him in his owne house.

25 But

25 But the people of the lande slue all them that had conspyred agaynst king Amon: and the same people of the land made Iosia his sonne king in his rome.

The.xxxiiij. Chapter.

1. Iosia destroyeth the Idolles, 8. and restoreth the temple. 14. The booke of the law is founde. 21. He sendeth to Hulda the propheteſſe for counsayle. 27. God heareth hys prayer. 31. He maketh a couenant with God.

A 1 IOsia was eight yeares olde when hee beganne to raigne, and he raigned in Hierusalem one and thirtie yeares.

4.Re.22.a.

2 And hee did that whiche was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neyther to the right hande, nor to the left.

3 In the eight yeare of his raigne, when he was yet a childe, he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yeare he began to purge Juda and Hierusalem from the high places, groues, carued Images, and Images of Mettal.

4 And they brake downe the aulters of Baalim, euen in his (a) presence: and other Images that were in greater honour than they, he caused to be destroyed: and the grones, carued Images, and Images of mettal he brake, & made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offered vnto them.

a. He woulde see the reformation with his owne eies.

5 And he burnt the bones of the priestes vpon the aulters of them, and clensed Juda and Jerusalem:

6 And euen so did hee in the Cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wildernesse of them round about,

B 7 He plucked asunder the (b) aulters and the groues, and did beat the Images, and stamped them to powder, and cut downe all the Idols throughout all the lande of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

b. The godly zeale of this good prince is a worthie example for all princes to follow.

8 In the eightenth yere of his raigne, when he had purged the lande and the temple, hee sent Saphan the sonne of Azaliahu, & Maasiah the gouernour of the Citie, and Joah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repayre the house of the Lorde his God.

4.Re.22.a.

9 And when they came to Helkia the high priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entries had gathered of the hande of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remayned in Israel, and of all Juda and Beniamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the handes of the workmen that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lorde, to repayre and mende the house.

11 Euen to Masons and Carpenters gaue they it, to get hewed stone, and tymber for couples, and for beames of the houses which the kings of Juda had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke (c) faythfully: and the ouerseers of them, to courage them forwarde, were Jahath, and Obadiahu, Leuites, of the children of Merari: and Sacharia, and Mesullam, of the children of the Caathites, and other of the Leuites, which all could skil of instruments of musicke.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, and ouer all that wrought, in whatsoeuer workmanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought oute the money that was brought into the house of the lord, Helkia the priest found the booke of the law of the Lorde (giuen) by Moses.

15 And Helkia answered, and sayde to Saphan the scribe, I haue founde the booke of the lawe in the house of the Lord. And Helkia gaue the booke to Saphan.

16 And Saphan caried the booke to the king, and brought the king worde againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruants, that do they.

17 And they haue gathered togither the money that was founde in the house of the lord, and haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouerseers of the worke, & to the handes of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Helkia the priest hath giuen me a booke: & Saphan read in it before the king.

19 And it fortuned, that when the king had heard the wordes of the lawe, he (d) rent his clothes:

20 And the king commaunded Helkia, and Ahikam the sonne of Saphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Saphan the scribe, and Asaa a seruant of the kings, saying, 21 Go and enquire of the Lorde for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Juda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen vppon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lorde, to do after al that is written in this booke.

22 And Helkia, & they that the king had (appoynted) went to Hulda, a Prophetesse, the wife of Sallum, the sonne of Sheuath, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for she dwelt in Hierusalem, within the seconde wall) wal:) and so they communed with hir.

23 She answered them, Thus sayth the lord God of Israel, Tell yee the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I wil bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitours thereof, euen al the curses that are written in the booke whiche they haue read before the king of Juda:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue offered vnto other goddes, to anger me with all maner workes of their handes: therefore is my wrath set on fire agaynst this place, and shal not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Juda, whiche sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the wordes whiche thou hast heard:

27 Because thine heart did (e) melt, and thou didst meeke thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes agaynst this place, and agaynst the inhabitours thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me, and rentest thy clothes, and weepedst before me: that haue I heard also, sayth the Lorde.

28 Beholde, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischiefe that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters of the same. And they brought the king worde againe.

2. 8. 29 Then the king sent and gathered all the elders of Juda and Hierusalem:

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lorde, and all the men of Juda, and the inhabitours of Hierusalem, and the Priestes, and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and (the king) did reade in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant, that was founde in the house of the Lorde.

31 And the king stode at his standing, and made a couenant before the Lorde, to followe the Lord, and to keepe his commaundements, his witnesse and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the appoyntment written in the same booke.

32 And hee set in their rome all them that were found in Hierusalem and Beniamin: and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did according to the couenant of the Lorde God of their fathers.

33 And Josia put away all maner of abominations out of all landes that pertayned to the children of Israel, and brought in all that were founde in Israel, to worship and to serue the Lord their God: and they turned not aside from after the Lorde God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

3 And sayde vnto the Leuites that taught all Israell, and were sanctified vnto the Lorde: Put the holye Arke in the house whiche Solomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israell dyd buylde, it shall be no more a burthen vpon your shoulders: but nowe serue the Lorde your God, and his people Israel:

4 And prepare youre selues by youre auncyent houseboldes, and companyes, according to the writing of Dauid King of Israel, and the writing of Solomon hys sonne.

5 And stande in the holy place, according to the diuision of the auncient houseboldes of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the auncient householdes of the Leuites:

6 Kill Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the worde of the Lorde by the hande of Moses.

7 And Josia gaue to the people flockes of sheepe, and kiddes, all for Passeouer, and for al that were present, thirtie thousand by tale, and three thousande oxen: and these were euen of the kings substance. B

8 And his Lordes gaue willingly, both vnto the people, and to the priestes, and vnto the Leuites: Helkia also, Zacharia, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priestes for Passeouer offerings two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred oxen.

11 And they slue passeouer, and the Priestes sprinckled the bloud with their hand, and the Leuites pulled off the skinnes of the beasts.

12 And they set away the burnt offerings, to giue them vnto the people that were diuided by auncient houses, and that they should offer vnto the Lorde, lyke as it is written in the booke of Moses: and so did they with the oxen also.

¶ 14 And afterwarde they made readie for themselues, and for the priests: for the priests the children of Aaron, were busied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat, vntyll night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the children of Asaph stode in their standing, according to the commaundement of Dauid, and Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun the kings(b) Seer: and the porters wayted at euerye gate, and might not depart from their seruice: for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

b. Meaning the Prophete.

16 And so all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to offer Passeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the aulter of the Lorde, according to the commaundement of king Josia.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no passeouer lyke to that kept in Israel from the dayes of Samuell the prophete, neyther did all the kings of Israel holde such a Passeouer feast, as did Josia, and the priests and Leuites, and al Juda and Israel that were present, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem.

18 This Passeouer was holden in the eightenth yeare of the raigne of Josia.

¶ 20 After all this, when Josia had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fyght agaynste Charchamis, beside Euphrates: and Josia went out against him.

" Or, I come not agaynst thee this day, but agaynst the house of mine enimie.

22 Neuertheless, Josia woulde not turne his face from him, but rather toke aduise to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho out of the mouth of god, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

" Or, changed his apparel to fight with him.

23 And the shooters shot dartes at king Josia: and the king sayde to his seruants, Carie me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His seruauntes therefore had him out of that Charet, and put him in another Charet that they had: and when they had brought him to Hierusalem, he dyed, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers: and al Juda and Hierusalem mourned for Josia.

25 And Jeremia lamented Josia, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Josia in their lamentations to this day, and made the same lamentations an ordinance in Israel: and beholde they are witten in the lamentations.

11 Zedekia was one and twentie yeares olde when he began to raigne, and raigned a-leuen yeares in Hieruſalem.

14 Moreouer, all the chiefe of the Prieſtes and the people treſpaſſed wonderfully after all maner of abhominations of the heathen, and polluted the houſe of the Lorde whiche he had halowed in Hieruſalem.

A verie profitable declaration, for the vnderstanding of the hystories of Esdras, Nehemias, Esther, Daniel, and diuerse other places of scripture, verie darke, by reason of the discorde that is among Historiographers, and amongst the expositours of the holy scriptures, touching the successiue order of the Kings or Monarchies of Babilon, and of Persia: of the yeares that the sayd Monarchies lasted, from the transmigration of the Iewes vnder Nabuchodonosor, vntill the Monarchie of the Greekes, and of the confusion that is in the names of the Kings of Persia.

Of the yeares that the Monarchies of Persia raigned. Of the difference of authours therin, and of the diuersitie and confusion of the names of the sayd Monarchies.

The difference of authours, about historiographers as expositours of the holy scriptures, is great, touching the tyme and yeares that the two Monarchies of the Babylonians & Persians continued, and also touching the names of the Monarches herein described, wherein there is great confusion. And therefore all other opinions set apart, we wil herein folowe Philo Judeus, and Petasthene, auncient authours, whose opinions doe neerest agree with the holy scripture.

Cyrus hauing conquered the kingdome of the Medes agaynst Astyages, left the sayde kingdome to his vncle Darius, by whose ayde he toke Babilon, and transported the Monarchie of Babilon to the Persians. Two yeares after, the sayd Darius returned into Mede, and Cyrus raigned alone in Babilon. Then he moued warre agaynst the Scythians, and marched towarde them, and in the meane while left Cambyses his son king of the countrey, in his absence, according to the custome of the Persians: which was to appoynt the neerest of the kings bloud, to be king ouer the countrey, when the king went out to fight agaynst any straunge nation. This is the cause why Cambises was not set in the successiue order of the Monarchies. Neither is there any mention of two brethren that were Magi-ans, whiche guilefully vſurped the kingdome: but theſe guile beeing knowne, they continued but a fewe monethes, and Darius, ſonne to Hyſtaſpis, was choſen king.

Xerxes the ſonne of the ſayde Darius, ſucceeded him: but is not here placed in the number of the monarchies, for that he left his kingdome to Darius longhande his ſonne, (according to the cuſtome of the Perſians) when hee wente to warre againſt the Greekes. The Greke hiſtoriographers, not reſpecting ithat cuſtom, nũber the ſayde Xerxes, and Cambyſes aboue mentioned, among the ſayde Monarchyes ſucceſſiuelye in order, whiche is the cauſe that they count more yeares in the ſayde monarchie, that is to ſay. 226. yeares.

As touching their confuſed names, ye ſhall vnderſtande, that among the Perſians, Darius ſignifyeth he that ſubdueth: Xerxes a warriour: Artaxerxes, a great warriour. Alſo that this name Aſſuerus, is drawne from the Hebrues, in ſtead of Artaxerxes.

Further, that Artaxerxes was the common name of all kings of Perſia, as Pharao was the commõ name of the kings of Egypt, and Ceſar of the Romiſh Emperours. Therefore where yee finde manye indifferently named Darius, or Artaxerxes, or both togither, that is the cauſe of the difficultie, howe to vnderſtande vnder what king that happened, whiche is recited in the ſayde bookes of Eſdras, Nehemias, Eſther, Daniel, and other places of the holy ſcriptures, except yee well marke them, and well vnderſtand the contents of this table.

5 Afterwarde they offered dayly burnt offerings also, and in the new moones, and in al the feast dayes that were consecrated vnto the Lord, and for al them which did of their owne free will offer vnto the Lorde.

6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth, began they to offer burnt sacrifices, vnto the Lorde: euen when the foundation of the temple of the Lord was not yet layd.

B 7 They gaue money also vnto the Masons and *Carpenters, and meate and drinke, and Oyle vnto them of Sidon and of Tyre, to bring the Cedar timber from Libanus by sea vnto Ioppa, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus the king of Persia.

8 In the seconde yeare of their comming vnto the house of God at Hierusalem, in the seconde moneth, began Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesua the sonne of Iosedec, and the remnant of their brethren, the priests and Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Hierusalem, and appoynted the Leuites from twentie yeares olde and aboue, to see that the worke of the house of the Lorde went forwarde.

9 And Iesua stode vpth his sonnes and brethren, and Cadmiel with his sonnes, and the children of Juda together, to set forward the workmen of the house of God, euen the children of Henadad, with their children, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders layde the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they appointed the priests in their *aray with trumpets and the Leuites the children of Asaph with Cymbales, to praise the Lord after the maner of Dauid king of Israel. *1. Chro. 15. a.

11 And they sang together when they gaue prayse and thankes vnto the Lorde, because he is gracious, and because his mercie endureth for euer vppon Israel: and all the people showted loud in praysing the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lorde was layde.

12 Many also of the priests and Leuites, and chiefe fathers, and auncient menne, which had seene the first house, when the foundation was layde before their eyes, wept with a loude voyce, and many showted aloude with ioy:

13 So that the people coulde not discerne the ioyfull sound and gladnesse, from the noyse of the weeping among the people: for the people showted with a loude crie, and the noyse was heard farre of.

The. iiij. Chapter.

2. The buylding of the temple is hyndered, and howe. 11. Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answere.

1 BVT the aduersaries of Juda and Ben- Ezra. 4. a. iamin, heard that the children of the captiuitie builded the temple vnto the Lord God of Israel:

2 And they came to Zorobabel, and to the principall fathers, & sayd vnto them, We will will buyld with you, for we ſeeke the Lord your God, as ye do, & we haue done ſacrifice vnto him, ſince the time of Aſor Haddon ỳ king of Aſſur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 And Zorobabel and Jeſua, and the other auncient fathers of Iſrael, ſayd vnto them, "It can not be, that you and we together ſhould buylde the houſe vnto our God: for we our ſelues will buylde alone vnto the Lorde our God of Iſrael, as Cyrus the kyng of Perſia hath commaunded vs.

4 And it came to paſſe, that the folke of the lande diſcouraged the people of Juda, and troubled them as they were buildyng:

5 And hyred counſaylers agaynſt them, to hynder their deuiſe, as long as Cyrus the kyng of Perſia lyued, vntil the raygne of Darius kyng of Perſia.

6 And in the raigne of Ahaſuerus, euen at the beginning of his raigne, wrote they vnto him a cõplaynt agaynſt the inhabitours of Juda and Hieruſalem.

B 7 And in the dayes of Artaxerxes, wrote Mithridath, Tabel, & the other of his counſel, vnto Artaxerxes ỳ kyng of Perſia with fayre wordes: and the writyng of the letter was in the Syrians ſpeache, and enterpreted in the language of the Syrians:

8 Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, wrote a letter "from Hieruſalem to Artaxerxes the kyng, as it foloweth.

9 Then Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, and other of their company, they of Dina, of Apharſath, of Tharpelai, of "Perſia, of Arache, of Babylon, of Suſan, of Deha, of Elan,

10 And other of the people whom the great and noble Aſnapper brought ouer, and ſet in the cities of Samaria, and other that are now beyond the water, and Cheeneth.

11 This is the copie of the letter that they ſent vnto king Artaxerxes, Thy ſeruaunts, and the men that are nowe beyonde the water, and Cheeneth:

12 Be it knowne vnto the king, that the Jewes whiche came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Hieruſalem, a Citie ſeditious and frowarde, and buylde the ſame, and ſet vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations.

13 Be it knowne now vnto the king, that if this citie bee buylded, and the walles made vp againe, then ſhall not they giue toll, tribute, and cuſtome, and the kings profite ſhall incurre damage.

C 14 And nowe "in the meane ſeaſon we haue deſtroyed the temple, and would no longer ſee the kings diſhonour: therefore ſent we out alſo, and certified the king,

15 That it may be ſought in the booke of the Chronicles of thy progenitours, and ſo ſhalt thou finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceyue that this citie is ſeditious and noyſome vnto the kings and "landes, and that they cauſe others alſo among them to rebel of olde: and for the ſame cauſe was this citie deſtroyed. "or, prouinces

16 Therefore doe we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walles thereof made vp, thou ſhalt hereafter haue no portion beyonde the water.

17 Then ſent the king an anſwere vnto Rehum the recorder, and Samſai the ſcribe, and to the other of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyonde the water in Selam and "Cheeth. "or, Cheeneth.

18 The letter which ye ſent vnto vs, hath bin openly read before me:

19 And I haue cõmaunded to make ſearch, and it is founde that this citie of olde hath made inſurrection agaynſt kings, and that rebellion and ſedition hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue beene mightie kings alſo at Hieruſalem, whiche haue raigned ouer all countreys beyond the water, and toll, tribute, and cuſtome was giuen vnto them.

21 Giue ye now ther fore commaundement, that the ſame men be forbidden, and that the citie be not buylded agayne, till I haue giuen another commaundement. D

22 Take heede now that ye be not negligent to do this: for why ſhoulde the king haue harme therethrough?

23 Now when the copie of king Artaxerxes letter was read before Rehum, and Samſai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haſt to Hieruſalem vnto the Jewes, and forbade them with violence and power.

24 Then ceaſſed the worke of the houſe of God at Hieruſalem, and continued ſo vnto the ſecond yeare of Darius king of Perſia.

The. v. Chapter.

1. Aggeus and Zacharie doe prophecye. 3. The woorke of the Temple goeth forwarde, contrarie to the minde of Thathanai. 6. His letters to Darius.

1 THe Prophetes Aggeus and Zachari A the ſonne of Iddo, prophecied vnto the Jewes that were in Juda and Hieruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael, euen vnto them.

2 Then gate vp Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Jeſua the ſonne of Joſedec, and began to buylde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the prophetes of God, which helped them.

3 At the same time came to them Thathanai, whiche was captayne beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, and their companions, and sayde thus vnto them, Who hath commaunded you to buyld this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then sayde we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that make this buylding?

5 But the eye of theyr God was vppon the elders of the Iewes, that they coulde not cause them to ceasse, tyll the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters therevnto.

6 This is the copie of the letter that Thathanai, whiche was captayne beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, and the counsaylours of Apharsechai, whiche were beyonde the water, sent vnto king Darius.

B 7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter: Vnto Darius the king, al peace.

8 Be it knowne vnto the King, that wee went into the prouince of Iurie, to the house of the great God, whiche is buylded wyth mightie great stones, and beames are layde in the walles, and the worke goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their handes.

9 Then asked we the elders, and sayd vnto them as it followeth, Who commaunded you to buyld this house, and to make vp the walles thereof?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie thee, and write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these wordes and sayde, We are the seruants of him that is God of heauen and earth, and buylde the house that was buylded of olde and many yeares ago, which the great king of Israel buylded and set vp.

3.Reg.6.a.

12 But after our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hande of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babilon, and of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babilon.

4.Re.24.b.

1.Esd.1.a. 13 But in the first yeare of Cyrus the King of Babilon, the same king Cyrus gaue cõmaundement concerning this house of god, that it should be buylt agayne.

C 14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple at Babylon: those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple at Babylon, and they were deliuered vnto one Salbazar by name, whom he made captayne, 15 And sayde vnto him, Take these vessels, and go thy way, and set them in the temple, that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God be buylded in his place.

16 Then came the same Salbazar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, whiche is at Hierusalem: since that tyme also vntill nowe hath it bene in buylding, and yet is it not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the king, let there be searche made in the kings librarie, which is there at Babylon, whether it haue beene king Cyrus commaundement that this temple of God at Hierusalem shoulde be buylded: and let the king send his minde concerning the same matter.

The.vi.Chapter.

At the commaundement of Darius king of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicated, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

1 THen commaunded king Darius: and they made search in the librarie, euen in the place where they layde vp the tresure at Babylon:

2 And there was founde in a coffer, in the palace that is in the prouince of the Medes, a volume: and therein was it thus written as a memorial.

3 In the first yeare of king Cyrus, gaue the same King Cyrus commaundement concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house shoulde bee buylded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, and to ioyne the walles togyther, of threescore cubites heigth, and threescore cubites breadth.

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one rowe of newe tymber: and the expences shall be giuen of the kings house.

5 And let the golde and siluer vessels of the house of god, which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babylon, bee restored, and brought againe vnto the temple at Hierusalem to their place, in the house of God.

6 Nowe therefore thou Thathanai Captaine beyonde the water, and Starbuzanai, and your counsaylours, and Apharsechai which are beyonde the water, get ye away from them.

7 Let the worke of the house of this God alone, that the captayne of the Iewes and their their elders may buylde the house of God in his place.

B 8 I haue commaunded what ye shall do to the elders of Juda, for the buylding of the house of God, that of the kings goodes, euen of the tribute beyonde the water, forthwith expences be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindred.

9 And if they haue neede of Calues, Rammes, and Lambes for the burnt offering of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the priests at Hierusalem, let the same bee giuen them dayly without any delay:

10 That they may haue to offer sweete sauours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commaundement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer he be that alreadeth this worde, there shall a beame be taken from his house, and set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall bee made a dunghill for the same thing.

12 And the God that set his name there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to breake down the house of God, whiche is at Hierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, that this bee done with spede.

13 Then Thathanai the captayne (of the countrey) beyonde the water, and Stharbuzanai, with their counsaylers, according to that whiche king Darius had sent, so they did speedily their diligence.

C 14 And the elders of the Jewes buylded, and they prospered through the prophecying of Aggeus the prophete, and Zachari the sonne of Iddo, and they buylded, and they finished it according to the commaundement of the God of Israel, and after the commaundement of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth Adar, euen the sixth yeare of the raigne of king Darius.

Ezr.7.d. 16 And the children of Israel, the Priests, the Leuites, and the other children of the captiuitie, helde the dedication of this house of God with ioy:

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred Oxen, two hundred Rammes, foure hundred Lambes: and for the reconciling of all Israel, twelue bee Goates, according to the number of the tribes of Israel:

18 And set the priests in their sundry courses, and the Leuites in their diuerse offices to minister vnto God at Hierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie helde Passeouer vppon the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 For the priestes and Leuites were purified altogither, and killed Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselues.

21 And the children of Israell whiche were come againe out of captiuitie, and al such as had separated them selues vnto them from the filthinesse of the heathen of the lande, to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, did eate.

22 And helde the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes wyth ioy: for the Lorde had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assur vnto them, to strēgthen theyr handes in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. By the commaundement of the king, Esdras and his companions come to Hierusalem. 27. He giueth thankes to God.

1 AFter these things there was in the raign A of Artaxerxes king of Persia, one Esdras, the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Helkia.

7 And there went vp certayne of the chyldren of Israel, of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, and of the Nethinims, vnto Hierusalem, in the seuenth yeare of King Artaxerxes. B

8 And hee came to Hierusalem in the fifth Moneth, euen in the seuenth yeare of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth, began he to goe from Babilon: and on the first day of the fifth moneth came he to Hierusalem, according to the good hande of hys God that was vpon him.

10 For Esdras prepared his heart to seeke the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teache the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 And this is the copie of the letter that king Artaxerxes gaue vnto Eſdras the prieſte, and ſcrybe, whiche was a wryter of the wordes and cõmaundements of the Lord, and of hys ſtatutes ouer Iſrael.

12 Artaxerxes a kyng of kyngs, vnto Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe of the lawe of the God of heauen, peace and ſalutation.

13 I haue commaunded that all they of the people of Iſrael, and of the prieſts and Leuites in my realme, whiche are mynded of theyr owne good wyll to goe vp to Hieruſalem, goe with thee:

14 And therefore art thou ſent of the kyng and of his ſeuen counſaylours, to viſite Iuda and Hieruſalem, accordyng to the lawe of thy God, whiche is in thy hande:

15 And that thou ſhouldeſt take with thee ſiluer and golde, whiche the kyng and hys counſaylours offer of their owne good will vnto the God of Iſrael, whoſe habitation is at Hieruſalem:

16 And all the ſiluer & golde that thou canſt finde in al the "countrey of Babylon, with it that the people offer of their owne good wil, & the prieſts giue willingly for ý houſe of their God, which is at Hieruſalem:

"or, prouince.

17 That thou mayſt buy diligently with the ſame money, Oxen, Rammes, & Lambes, with their meate offerings and drinke offerings, and thou ſhalt offer them vpon the aulter of the houſe of your God, which is at Hieruſalem.

18 And loke what lyketh thee and thy brethren to doe wyth the remnant of the ſyluer and golde, that doe after the wyll of your God.

19 And the veſſels that are giuen thee for the miniſtration in the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliuer thou before God at Hieruſalem.

20 And whatſoeuer thing more ſhal be needful for the houſe of thy God, which is neceſſarie for to ſpende, thou ſhalt receyue the charges out of the kings treaſure houſe.

D 21 I king Artaxerxes haue commaunded all the treaſurers beyonde the water, that loke whatſoeuer Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe in the lawe of the God of heauen requyreth of you, that ye fulfill the ſame ſpedily, 22 Until an hundred talents of ſiluer, and til an hundred quarters of wheate, and tyll an hundred battes of wine, and till an hundred battes of oyle, and ſalt without meaſure.

3. Reg. 7. d

23 What ſo euer alſo is by the commaundement of the God of heauen, let the ſame be done without any delay, for the houſe of the God of heauen, that he be not wroth agaynſt the Realme, and agaynſt the king and his children.

24 And we certifie you, that we haue no authoritie to requyre taxyng and cuſtome, and yeerely rentes, vpon any of the prieſtes, Leuites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, and miniſters in the houſe of his God.

25 And thou Eſdras, after the wiſedome of thy God that is in thyne hande, ſet iudges and arbitrers (by my auctoritie) to iudge all the people that is beyonde the water, euen all ſuche as know the lawe of thy God: and them that know it not, thoſe lere that ye teache.

26 And who ſo euer wil not fulfill the lawe of thy God, and the kyngs lawe, lette hym haue hys iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to be rooted out, or to be condemned in goodes, or to be put in pryſon.

27 Bleſſed be the Lord God of our fathers, & whiche ſo had inſpired the kyngs harte, to garniſhe the houſe of the Lorde that is at Hieruſalem:

28 And hath enclined mercie vnto me in the preſence of the kyng, and his counſaylours, and before all the kyngs highe eſtates: and I was comforted euen as the hande of the Lorde my God was vpon me, and so gathered I the heades of Iſrael together, that they might goe vp with me.

4 Of the chyldren of the captayne of Moab, Eliocnai the ſonne of Zerahia, & with him two hundred men.

5 Of the chyldren of Zechania the ſonne of Jahaſiel, and with him three hundred men.

6 Of the chyldren of Adin, Ebed the ſonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie men.

7 Of the chyldren of Elam, Iſai the ſonne of Athalia, and with hym ſeuentie men.

8 Of the chyldren of Saphatia, Zebadia the ſonne of Michael, and with him fourſcore men,

9 Of

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadia the ſonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteene men.
10 Of the children of Selomith, the ſonne of Joſephia, and with him an hundred and threeſcore men.
11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari, the ſonne of Bebai, and with hym eyght and twentie men.
12 Of the children of Aſgad, Johanan the ſonne of Hakatan, and with him an hundred and ten men.
13 Of the children of Adonicam that were the laſt, whoſe names are theſe: Elipheleť, Jehiel, and Semaiah, and with them threeſcore men.
14 Of the children of Biguai: Uthai, and Zabud, and with them ſeuentie men.
15 And I gathered them togither by the water that runneth towarde Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: and I loked among the people and the prieſts, and founde there none of the children of Leui.
16 Then ſent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semeia, Elnachan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and to Meſullam, the rulers, and to Joiarib, and Elnathan, whiche were men of vnderſtanding.
17 And to thoſe gaue I commaundement vnto Iddo the chiefeſt at Caſphia, and I tolde them what they ſhould ſay vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nithinims at Caſphia, that they ſhoulde cauſe the miniſters of the houſe of our God to come vnto vs.
18 And through the good hande of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a verie wyſe man from among the children of Mahali the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, and Sarabia, with his ſonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.
19 And Haſabia, and with him Iſai of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their ſonnes, twentie.
20 And of the Nethinims, whome Dauid and the Princes gaue to miniſter vnto the Leuites, two hundred and twentie of Nethinims: which al were named by name.
21 And euen there at the water beſyde Ahaua, I proclaymed a faſt, that wee might humble our ſelues before our God, and ſeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our ſubſtance.
22 For I was aſhamed to require of the king ſouldiers and horſemen, to helpe vs agaynſt the enimie in the way: for we had ſpoken vnto the king, ſaying, The hande of our GOD is vpon all them that ſeeke him in goodneſſe, and his power and wrath is agaynſt all them that forſake him.
23 So we faſted, and beſought our God for this, and he was entreated of vs.
24 And I toke oute twelue of the chiefe prieſtes, Sarabia, and Haſabia, and ten of their brethren with them,
25 And wayed them the ſiluer and gold, and veſſels that were appoynted for the houſe of our God, whiche the king and his counſaylours, and his Lords, & all Iſrael that were there at hande, had giuen togither.
26 And I wayed vnto their hande, fiue hundred and fiftie talents of ſiluer, and in ſiluer veſſels an hundred talents, and in golde an hundred talents:
27 Twentie Baſons of golde of a thouſande drams, and two coſtly veſſels of good braſſe, as cleare as golde. E
28 And I ſayd vnto them, Ye are conſecrate vnto the Lord, like as the veſſels are holy alſo: and the golde & ſiluer are giuen of a good will vnto the Lorde God of your fathers.
29 Watche ye and keepe them: for ye ſhall way them downe before the chiefe prieſtes, and Leuites, and auncient fathers of Iſrael, at Hieruſalem, in the treaſuries of the houſe of the Lorde.
30 Then toke the Prieſtes and Leuites the wayed ſiluer and golde, and veſſels to bring it to Jeruſalem vnto the houſe of our God.
31 And we brake vp from the water of Ahaua, on the twelfth day of the firſt moneth, to goe vnto Hieruſalem: and the hande of our God was vppon vs, and deliuered vs from the hande of the enimies, and of ſuch as layd wayte for vs by the way.
32 And wee came to Hieruſalem, and abode there three dayes.
33 But on the fourth day was the ſiluer and golde, and veſſels wayed in the houſe of our God, by the hande of Meremoth, the ſonne of Uria the prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſonne of Phinehes, and with them was Joſabad the ſonne of Jeſua, and Noadia the ſonne of Bennoi, the Leuites. F
34 According to the number and waight of euery one, was the waight all written vp at the ſame time.
35 And the children of the captiuitie, whiche were come oute of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Iſrael, twelue bullockes for all Iſrael, ninetie and fiue rammes, ſeuentie and ſeuen lambes, twelue hee goates for ſinne (offering) al to the burnt offering of the Lorde.
36 And they deliuered the kings commiſſion vnto the kings officers, and to the captaynes that were beyonde the water: and they promoted the people, and the houſe of God.

2 For they haue taken the daughters of the same to themselues, and to theyr sonnes, and the holy seede is mixed with the nations of the landes, and the hande of the prynces and the rulers hath bene principall in the trespasse.

10 And now, O our God, what shal we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commaundements, 11 Whiche thou hast commaunded by thy seruants the prophets, saying, The land vnto which ye goe to possesse it, is an vncleane lande, bycause of the filthynesse of the people of the landes, whiche with theyr abominations haue made it ful of vncleannesse on euery side.

12 Therefore shall ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, and their daughters shal ye not take vnto your sonnes, nor seeke theyr peace and wealth for euer: that ye may be strong and "enioy the goodnesse of the lande, and that ye and your chyldren may haue the inheritance of it for euermore.

13 And after that all these thyngs are come vpon vs, bycause of our euill deedes & great trespasses, seyng that thou our God hast slayed vs from beyng beneath for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance:

14 Shoulde we returne to breake thy commaundements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of these abominatiōs? Wouldest not thou be angry towardes vs, till thou hadst consumed vs, so that there shoulde be no remnant, nor any escapyng?

15 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art righteous, for wee remayne yet escaped, as it is to see this day: beholde also, in thy presence are we in our trespasses, and bycause of it may we not stande before thee.

The.x. Chapter.

The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

1 NOW when Esdras prayed after this manner, and knowledged, wept, and lay before the house of God, there resorted vnto hym, out of Israel, a very great congregation, of men, and women, and chyldren: and the people wept very sore.

2 And Sechania the sonne of Jehiel, one of the children of Elam, answeared, and sayde vnto Esdras, Wee haue trespassed ageynst our God, and haue taken strange wyues of the people of the lande: yet nowe there is hope in Israel concernyng this thyng.

3 For now we will make a couenant with our God, and put away all the wyues, and suche as are borne of them, accordyng to the counsell of the Lord: and we will be in the feare of the commandements of our God, that we may do accordyng to the lawe.

4 Get thee vp, for this matter belongeth vnto thee, we also will be with thee: be of good comfort therefore, and doe it.

5 Then roſe Eſdras, and toke an othe of the chiefe prieſts and Leuites, and of al Iſrael, that they ſhould doe accordyng to this worde: and they ſware.

6 And Eſdras roſe vp from before the houſe of God, & went into the chamber of Johanan the ſonne of Eliaſib: and whē he came thither, he did eate no bread, nor drunke water: for he mourned, bicauſe of the trāſgreſſiō of the people that had bene in captiuitie.

7 And they cauſed a proclamation to goe throughout Juda and Hieruſalem, vnto al them of the captiuitie, that they ſhould gather themſelues together vnto Hieruſalem:

8 And that who ſo euer came not within three dayes, accordyng to the deuiſe of the rulers and elders, al his ſubſtance ſhould be forfeyted, and he ſhould be put out from the congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Juda and Beniamin, gathered themſelues together vnto Hieruſalem within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the nienth moneth: and al the people ſate in the ſtreete of the houſe of God, and trembled, bycauſe of this matter, and for the rayne.

10 And Eſdras the prieſt ſtode vp, and ſayd vnto them, Ye haue tranſgreſſed, and haue taken ſtrange wiues, to make the treſpaſſe of Iſrael yet more.

11 "Confeſſe nowe therefore vnto the Lorde God of our fathers, and doe hys pleaſure: and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the lande, and from the ſtrange wiues.

12 And all the congregation anſwered, and ſayde with a loude voyce: It ſhal be ſo, and we wil doe as thou haſt ſayde.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and the people are to faynt to tarie without in the ſtreete, neyther is this a worke of one day or two: for " we haue offended very ſore in this thyng.

14 Let our rulers ſtande therefore in all the congregation, and let all them which haue taken ſtrange wiues in our cities, come at the tyme appoynted, and let the elders of euery citie, and theyr iudges, be with them, till the fierce wrathe of our God for this matter be turned from vs.

15 Thē were appoynted Jonathan the ſonne of Aſahel, and Jahaſia the ſonne of Thecua, ouer this matter: and Meſullam and Sabathai the Leuites helped them.

16 And the chyldren of the captiuitie dyd euen ſo: and Eſdras the prieſt, and the auncient heades through the houſe of theyr fathers, al men of great fame, ſeparated themſelues, and ſate them downe in the firſte day of the tenth moneth, to examine the matter.

17 And vntil the firſt day of the firſt moneth, they were finiſhing the buſineſſe, with all the men that had taken ſtrange wyues.

18 And among the chyldren of the prieſtes, there were menne founde that hadde taken ſtrange wiues, namely among the chyldren of Jeſua, the ſonne of Joſedec, and of hys brethren, Maaſia, and Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedalia.

19 And they gaue theyr handes, that they would put away their wiues: and they that had treſpaſſed, gaue a ramme for their treſpaſſe.

20 And among the chyldren of Immer: Hanani, and Zebadia.

21 Among the chyldren of Harim: Maaſia, Elia, Semeia, Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22 Among the chyldren of Paſhur: Elioenai, Maaſia, Iſmael, Nathanel, Joſabad, and Elaſah.

24 Among the ſyngers alſo, Eliaſib: and among the porters, Sellum, and Telem, and Uri.

25 And of Iſrael: among the chyldren of Pharos, Remeia, Jeſia, Melchia, Miamin, Eliezer, Melchia, and Banaiah.

26 Among the chyldren of Elam: Mathania, Zacharia, Jehiel, Abdi, Jerimoth, and Elia.

27 Among the children of Zatthu: Elionai, Eliaſib, Mathania, Jerimoth, Zabad, and Aziza.

28 Among the chyldren of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hanania, Zabbai, and Athalai.

29 Among the chyldren of Bani: Meſullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jaſub, Saal, and Jeramoth.

30 Among the chyldren of the captayne of Moab: Idna, Chelal, Benaia, Maaſia, Mathania, Beſaleel, Bennui, and Manaſſe.

31 Among the chyldren of Harim: Eliezer, Iſſiah, Melchiiah, Semeia, and Simeon, 34 Among the chyldren of Bani: Maadai, Amram, and Uel, 35 Banea, Badaia, Cheliau,

36 Uaniah, Maremoth, Eliaſib,

37 Mathaniah, Mathanai, Jaſi,

38 Bani, Bennui, and Semei,

39 Selemia, Nathan, Adaiah,

40 Machnadebai, Saſai, Sarai,

41 Iſarel,

41 Iſarel, Selemiah, and Semariah,
42 Sallum, Amaria, and Joſeph.
43 Among the chyldren of Nebo, Jehiel, Mathathia, Zabad, Zabina, Jadan, Joel, and Banaia.
44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wyues, and among the ſame, there were ſome that had chyldren by the wyues.

¶ The ſecond booke of Eſdras, otherwyſe called the booke of Nehemia.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. Nehemia bewayleth the calamitie of Hieruſalem. 5. He confeſſeth the ſinnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

1 THe wordes of Nehemia the ſonne of Hachalia. In the moneth Cheſleu, in ỳ twētie yeere, as I was in the caſtle at Suſan,
2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Juda: and I aſked them howe the Iewes did, that were deliuered and eſcaped from the captiuitie, and howe it went at Hieruſalem.
3 And they ſayde vnto me, The remnant that are left of the captiuitie there in the lande, are in great affliction and rebuke: the wall of Hieruſalem alſo is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre.
4.Reg.25.b
4 And when I hearde theſe wordes, I ſate downe and wept, and mourned certayne daies, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heauen,
5 And ſayde, O Lorde God of heauen, thou greate and terrible God, thou that keepeſt couenant & mercie for them that loue thee, and obſerue thy commaundements:
Exod.20.a
Deut.7.b
6 Let thyne eares hearken, I beſeeche thee, and let thine eyes be open, that thou mayeſt heare the prayer of thy ſeruaunt, whiche I now pray before thee day and night for the chyldren of Iſrael thy ſeruants, and knowledge the ſinnes of the chyldren of Iſrael whiche we haue ſinned againſt thee: I and my fathers houſe ſinned.
B 7 We haue greeuously ſinned againſt thee, & haue not kept thy commaundements, ſtatutes, and iudgements, whiche thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes.
8 I beſeeche thee call to remembrance the worde that thou commaundedſt thy ſeruant Moſes, and ſaydeſt, Yee wyll tranſgreſſe, and I will ſcatter you abroade among the nations:
9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commaundements, and do them: though ye were caſt out vnto the vttermoſte parte of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and wyll bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen, to ſet my name there.
10 They are thy ſeruauntes, and thy people, whom thou haſte deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mightie hande.
11 O Lorde, I beſeeche thee, let thyne eare hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruants, whoſe deſire is to feare thy name: and let thy ſeruant proſper this day, and graunt him mercie in the ſight of this man. For I was the kings Butler.

The .ij. Chapter.

1. After Nehemia had obteyned letters of Artaxerxes, 11. hee came to Hieruſalem, 17. and buylded the walles.

1 IT came to paſſe, that in the moneth Niſan, in the twentieth yeere of kyng Artaxerxes, the wine ſtoode before him: and I toke vp the wyne, and gaue it vnto the kyng: and I had not bene before heanie in his preſence.
2 And the king ſayd vnto me, Why lookeſt thou ſo ſadly, ſeyng thou art not ſicke? It is nothing els, but that thou art heauie harted. And I was ſore afrayde,
3 And ſayde vnto the kyng, God ſaue the kyng for euer: howe ſhoulde I not looke ſadly, when the citie & place of my fathers burials lye waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?
4 And the kyng ſayde vnto me, What is then thy requeſt? I made my prayer alſo to the God of heauen, 5 And ſayde vnto the king, If it pleaſe the kyng, and if thy ſeruant haue found fauour in

in thy ſight, ſende me vnto Juda, vnto the citie of my fathers burials, that I may buylde it.

6 And the kyng layde vnto me (the queene his wyfe ſittyng by him:) how long ſhall thy iourney continue? and when wilt thou come agayne? And it pleaſed the kyng to ſende me: and I ſet hym a tyme,

7 And layde vnto the kyng, If it pleaſe the kyng, let him gyue me letters to the captaynes whiche are beyonde the water, that they may conney me ouer, till I come into Juda:

8 And letters vnto Aſaph the Lorde of the kyngs wood, that he may giue me timber to make beames, for the gates of the palace, whiche is harde by the houſe, and for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. And the kyng gaue me accordyng to the hande of my God, whiche was good vpon me.

9 And when I came to the captaynes beyond the water, I gaue them the kings letters: and the king had ſent captaynes of the armie and horſemen with me.

10 Sanaballat alſo the Horonite, and Tobia a ſeruant the Ammonite, heard of it, and it greeued them ſore, that there was come a man, whiche ſought the wealth of the chyldren of Iſrael.

11 And I came to Hieruſalē, and was there three dayes.

12 And I gate me vp in the night ſeaſon, & a few men with me, neyther tolde I any mā what God had gyuen me in my hart to dō at Hieruſalem: and there was not one beaſt with me, ſaue it that I rode vpon.

13 And I departed in the night by the valley port, before the dragon wel, and to the dung port, and conſidered the walles of Hieruſalem how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof conſumed with the fyre.

14 And I went ouer vnto the wel port, & to the kyngs conduyte, & there was no rome for the beaſt that was vnder me to paſſe.

15 Then went I on in the night by the broke ſide, and conſidered the wall, and turned backe, and came home againe by the valley port.

16 And the rulers knewe not whyther I went, or what I did: neyther did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, to the prieſtes, to the noble menne, to the rulers, and to the other that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterwarde layde I vnto them, Ye ſee the miſerie that we are in, how Hieruſalem lyeth waſte, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come therefore, and let vs buylde vp the wall of Hieruſalem, and that we be no more a rebuke.

18 Then I told the of the hand of my God, that it was gratious ouer me, & the kyngs wordes that he had ſpoken vnto me: and they layde, Let vs get vp and buylde. And they ſtrengthed theyr handes to good.

19 But when Sanaballat the Horonite, and Tobia the ſeruant an Ammonite, and Geſem the Arabian, hearde it, they laughed vs to ſcorne, and deſpyſed vs, and layd, What is this that ye doe? Will ye fall away from the king?

20 Then anſweared I them, and layd, The God of heauen, he it is that hath graunted vs proſperitie, and we hys ſeruaunts wyll get vp and buylde: as for you, ye haue no portiō, nor right, nor remembrance in Hieruſalem.

"or, the enchanters ſonne.

The. iiij. Chapter.

7. The buylding of Hieruſalem is hyndered, 15. but God breaketh theyr enterpriſe. 17. The Iewes buylde with one hand, and hold theyr weapon in the other.

1 BUt when Sanaballat heard that we builded the wal, he was wroth in himſelfe, and toke great indignation, and mocked the Iewes:
2 And ſayde before hys brethren and the ſouldiers of Samaria, What do theſe impotent Iewes? "will the (heathen) ſuffer them? ſhall they offer? ſhal they performe it in one day? ſhall they make the ſtones whole agayne that are brought to duſt and brent?

3 And

3 And Tobia the Ammonite was beſide hym, and ſayde, Though they buylde, yet if a fore goe vp, he ſhall breake downe theyr ſtony wall.

4 Heare O thou our God, for we are deſpiſed, turne their ſhame vpon their owne head, and geue them ouer into deſpiſing in the lande of theyr captiuitie.

5 Couer not theyr wickednelle, and let not theyr ſinne be put out in thy preſence: for they haue prouoked the buylders.

6 And ſo buylded we the wall, and it was ioyned whole together, vnto the half heyght thereof: and the people were minded to labour.

B 7 But when Sanaballat, and Tobia, and the Arabians, Ammonites, and Aſdodites, hearde that the walles of Hieruſalem were made vp, and that the breaches beganne to be ſtopped, they were very wroth, 8 And conſpired altogether to come & fight agaynſt Hieruſalem, and to make an hynderance therein.

9 Neuertheleſſe, we made our prayer vnto our God, and ſet watchemen by them day and night, bycauſe of them.

10 And Juda ſayde, The ſtrength of the bearers is feeble, and there is yet much more mother, and wee are not able to buylde vn the wall.

11 And our aduerſaries ſayde, They ſhal not know, neyther ſee, till we come in the mids among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the worke to ceaſe.

12 But when the Jewes which dwelt beſide them, came, they tolde vs as good as tenne tymes, that in al places where ye goe vnto, they are appoynted to fall vpon vs.

13 Therfore ſet I the people after their kinreds, with theyr ſwordes, ſpeares, & bowes, beneath in the lowe places, behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the ſtones.

C 14 And I loked, and gate me vp, and ſaide vnto the chiefe men, to the rulers, and to the other people, Be not ye afrayde of them: but thinke rather vpō the great Lord which ought to be feared, and fight for your brethren, your ſonnes, your daughters, your wiues, and your houſes.

15 Neuertheleſſe, when our enimies heard that wee had gotten word of it, GOD brought theyr counſayle to nought: and we turned al agayne to the wal, euery one vnto his labour.

16 And from that tyme forth, the halfe parte of the yong men dyd the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the ſpeares, ſhieldes, bowes, and breſtplates: and the rulers ſtood behinde all the houſe of Juda.

17 They which buylded on the wall, & they that bare burdens, and thoſe that laded the, with one hande did euery one his worke, and with the other helde his weapon.

18 For euery one that buylded, hadde hys ſworde gyrded by his thigh, and ſo buylded they: and he that blewe the trumpet was beſide me.

19 And I ſayde vnto the principall men, to the rulers, & to the other people: the worke is greate and large, and wee are ſeparated vpon the wall one farre from an other.

20 Loke in what place therfore ye heare the noyſe of the trumpet, reſort ye thyther vnto vs, and our God ſhal fight for vs.

21 And we will be labouryng in the worke. D And the halfe parte of them helde theyr ſpeares from the morning ſpryng, tyll the ſtarres came forth.

22 And at the ſame tyme ſayde I vnto the people, Let euery one with his ſeruāt lodge within Hieruſalem, that in the nyght ſeaſon we may watche, and labour on the day tyme.

23 As for me and my brethren, my ſeruants, and the men of the watche whiche folowed me, we put neuer off our clothes, ſaue onely bicauſe of the waſhyng.

The. v. Chapter.

1. The people are oppreſſed and in neceſsitie. 7. Nehemia remedieth it. 15. He toke not the portion of others that hadde ruled before, leaſt he ſhould greeue the people.

1 AND there aroſe a great complaynt of A the people and theyr wyues agaynſt their brethren the Jewes.

2 For there were ſome that ſayde, Our ſonnes and daughters & we are very many: therefore wyll we take corne for them, that we may eate, and lyue.

3 Some alſo there were that ſayde, Let vs ſet our landes, vineyardes, and houſes to pledge, and take vp corne in the dearth.

4 But ſome there were that ſayd, We haue borowed money for the kyngs tribute, and that vpon our landes and vineyardes.

5 And now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, and our chyldren as their children: and loe, we bring into ſubiectiō our ſonnes and our daughters as ſeruants, and ſome of our daughters are ſubdued vnto bondage already & no ſtrength is there in our handes to redeeme them, and other men haue our landes and vineyardes.

6 And when I heard their complaint, and ſuche wordes, it diſpleaſed me ſore.

7 And I aduiſed ſo in my minde, that I re- B buked buked the counsellers and the rulers, & sayd vnto them, Euery one of you layeth great burdens vpon his brother. And I brought a great congregation agaynst them, 8 And sayd vnto them, We after our ability haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, whiche were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren agayne, and shall they be solde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could finde nothyng to answeare.

9 And (Nehemia) sayde, It is not good that ye do: Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, because of the rebuke of the heathen that are our enimies?

10 I and my brethren and my seruaunts do lende them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this burden.

11 Therefore this same day I pray you see that yee restore them their landes agayne, their vineyards, Oliue gardens, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the money, of the corne, wyne, and oyle that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then sayde they, We will restore them agayne, and will requyre nothyng of them, and wil do as thou hast spoken. And I called the priestes, and toke an othe of them that they should do so.

13 And I shooke my lappe, and sayde, God shake out euery man after the same māner, from his house and labour, that maynteyneth not this worde, euen thus be he shaken out, and voyde. And all the congregation sayde, Amen, and praysed the Lorde: and the people did accordyng to this promise.

℣ 14 And from the tyme forth that the kyng committed vnto me to be captayne of them that were in the lande of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yeere, vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of kyng Artaxerres, that is twelue yeeres, I with my brethren lyued not of suche sustenance as was giuen vnto a captayne.

15 For the olde captaynes that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, & had taken of them bread and wyne, beside fourtie sicles of siluer, yea and their seruants had oppressed the people: but so dyd not I, and that because of the feare of God.

16 "But I laboured also in the worke vpon the wal, and we bought no lande: and all my seruants came thyther together vnto the worke.

"or, but rather I fortified a portion, in the worke of this wall.

17 Moreouer, there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes and rulers, which came vnto me from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for me dayly an oxe, and sixe chosen sheepe, and byrdes were prepared for me: and euer once in ten dayes wine for al, in abundance: yet requyred not I the "liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was greeuous vnto the people.

19 Thinke vpon me my God vnto the best, accordyng to all that I haue done for this people.

The. vi. Chapter.

S. Nehemia answereth with great wysedome and zeale to his aduersarie. ii. He is not discouraged by the false prophetes.

1 NOW when Sanaballat, Tobia, and Gesem, the Arabian, and the other of our enimies, heard that I had buylded the wall, and that there were no moe "gappes therein: (howbeit at the same tyme had I not hanged the dores vpon the gates)

2 Sanaballat and Gesem sent vnto me, saying, Come, that we may meete and take counsayle together, in the villages that are in the playne of the citie Ono. Neuertheless they thought to do me euill.

3 And I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great businesse to do, and I can not come downe. Why should the worke cease, whyles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they sent vnto me as good as foure tymes after the same maner: and I gaue them the same answeare.

5 Then sent Sanaballat hys seruaunt agayne vnto me the fifth time, with an open letter in hys hande,

6 Wherein was written: It is solde the heathen, and Gesem hath sayde it, that thou and the Iewes thynke to rebell: for the whiche cause thou buyldest the wall, that thou mayest bee their kyng, accordyng to these wordes:

7 And hast ordeyned the prophets to preach of thee at Hierusalē, and to say, He is kyng of Iuda. And nowe shall this come to the kyngs eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take our counsayle together.

8 And I sent vnto him, saying, There is no such thing done as thou sayest, for thou faynest them out of thyne owne hart.

9 For they were all mynded to make vs afrayde, saying, They shall withdraw their handes from their worke, that it shall not be finished: now therefore strengthen thou my hande.

10 And I came vnto the house of Semaia the sonne of Delaia, the sonne of Mehetabeel, and hee had shut hym selfe within, and sayde, Lette vs come together in the house of GOD, euen vnto the middest of the temple, and shut the dores of the temple, for they will come to slay thee, yea euen in the night will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I sayde, Shoulde any suche man as I flee? Who is, that beyng as I am, will goe into the temple to saue hys lyfe? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceyued that God hath not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophesie agaynst mee: for Tobia and Sanaballat had hyred hym for money.

13 Therefore was he hyred, that through feare I shoulde so doo, and sinne, that they might haue an euyll report of me to lay to my charge.

14 ℭ My God, thynke thou vpon Tobia and Sanaballat, accordyng vnto these theyr workes, and on the prophetisse Noadia, and the other prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 And the wall was finished on the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth Elul, in fiftie and two dayes.

16 And when all our enimies hearde thereof, all the heathen that was about vs were afrayde, and theyr courage fayled them: for they perceyued that this worke came of our God.

17 And at the same tyme were there many of the chiefe of Juda, whose letters went vnto Tobia, and agayne from Tobia vnto them.

18 For there were many in Juda that were sworne vnto hym: for he was the sonne in lawe of Sechania, the sonne of Arah; and his sonne Jehonathan had the daughter of Mesullam the sonne of Barachia, 19 And they spake good of hym before me, and tolde him my wordes: and Tobia sent letters to put me in feare.

The. viij. Chapter.

2. Eſdras gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the lawe. 12. They reioyce in Iſrael for the knowledge of the woorde of God. 15. They keepe the feaſt of tabernacles or boothes.

1 AND all the people gathered themſelues together as one man, in the ſtreete that was before the water gate, and they ſayde vnto Eſdras the ſcribe, that he ſhoulde fetch the booke of the lawe of Moſes, whiche the Lorde commaunded to Iſrael.

2 And Eſdras the prieſt brought the lawe before the congregation bothe of men and women, and al that coulde vnderſtand, dyd hearken vnto it vpon the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth.

3 And hee read therein in the ſtreete that was before the water gate, from the morning vntil the none day, before menne and women that dyd hearken to it: & the eares of all the people were inclined vnto the booke of the lawe.

4 And Eſdras the ſcribe ſtode vpon a pulpet of wood, whiche they had made for the preachyng, and beſide him ſtode Mathathia, Sema, and Anaiah, Uriah, Helkia, Maaſeiah, on his right hande: and on hys left hande ſtode Pedaia, Miſael, and Melchia, and Haſum, Haſabadana, Zachari, & Meſullam.

5 And Eſdras opened the booke before all the people, (For he ſtood aboue all the people:) and when he opened it, all the people ſtode vp.

6 And Eſdras prayſed the Lorde the great God: and al the people anſweared, Amen, Amen, lyfting vp theyr handes, and bowed themſelues, and worſhipped the Lorde, falling downe vppon theyr faces to the grounde.

7 And Jeſua, Bani, Serebiah, Jamin, Accub, Sebbethai, Hodaia, Maaſia, Celita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites, cauſed the people to giue heede vnto the lawe: and the people ſtode in theyr place. B

8 And they readde in the booke of the lawe of God diſtinctly, and gaue the ſenſe, and cauſed them to vnderſtande the readyng.

9 And Nehemia, whiche is Athirſatha, and Eſdras the prieſt and ſcribe, and the Leuites that cauſed the people to take heede, ſayde vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lorde your God, be not yee ſory, and weepe not: for all the people wept, when they hearde the wordes of the lawe.

10 And he ſayde vnto them, Goe your way, and eate the fat, and drinke the ſweete, and ſend part vnto them alſo that haue not prepared for themſelues, for this day is holy vnto our Lorde: be not ye ſory therefore, for the ioy of the Lorde is your ſtrength. 3. Eſd. 9. g

11 And the Leuites ſtilled all the people, and ſayde, Holde your peace, for the day is holy, be not ſad therfore.

12 And all the people went their way to eate, and to drynke, and to ſende parte vnto other, and to make great myrth, bicauſe they had vnderſtande the wordes that were declared vnto them.

13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all the people, and the prieſtes, and Leuites, vnto Eſdras the ſcribe, that they might vnderſtande the wordes of the lawe.

14 And they founde written in the lawe whiche the Lorde hadde commaunded by Moſes, that the chyldren of Iſrael ſhoulde dwell in boothes in the feaſt of the ſeuenth moneth: C Leuit. 23. k.

15 And that they ſhoulde cauſe it to be declared and proclaymed in all theyr cities, and throughout Hieruſalem, ſaying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and fetche Oliue branches, Pine branches, Myrtel branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make boothes, as it is written.

16 And ſo the people went forth, & fet them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the roofe of his houſe, and in theyr courtes, and in the courtes of the houſe of God, and in the ſtreete by the water gate, & in the ſtreete of the porte of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come agayne out of the captiuitie, made bothes, and ſate vnder the bothes: for ſince the tyme of Joſua the ſonne of Nun, vnto this day, had not the chyldren of Iſrael done ſo: and there was very great gladneſſe.

18 And euery day from the firſte day vnto the laſte, readde Eſdras in the booke of the lawe of God: and ſeuen dayes helde they the feaſte, and on the eyghth day they gathered together, accordyng vnto the manner.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. The people repent, and forſake their ſtrange wyues. 5. The Leuites exhorte them to prayſe God, 6. declaryng his woonders, 26. and their ingratitude, 30. & Gods great mercies towarde them.

A 1 AND the foure and twentieth day of this moneth, came the chyldren of Iſrael together agayne, with faſtyng and ſacke-3.Eſd.9.a clothes, and earth vpon them.

2 And they that were of the ſeede of Iſrael, were ſeparated from al the ſtrange chyldrē, and ſtoode and knowledged theyr ſinnes, and the wickednelles of theyr fathers:

3 And ſtoode vp in theyr place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord theyr God foure tymes on the day, and they knowledged and worſhipped the Lorde theyr God foure tymes on the day.

4 Then ſtoode vp vpon the ſtayres of the Leuites, Jeſua, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cryed loude vnto the Lorde theyr God:

5 And the Leuites, Jeſua and Cadmiel, Bani, and Haſabnia, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebania, and Phathahia, ſayde, Stande vp and prayſe the Lorde your God for euer, and let thankes be gyuen vnto the name of thy glory, whiche excelleth all thankes gyuing and prayſe.

6 Thou art Lorde alone, thou haſte made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all theyr hoſt, the earth and all things that are therein, the ſea and al that is therein, and thou preſerueſt them all, and the hoſt of heauen worſhippeth thee.

B 7 Thou arte, O Lorde, the God that haſte
Gen.11.d choſen Abraham, and broughteſt hym out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledſt hym Abraham:

8 And foundeſt hys harte faythfull before thee, and madeſt a couenant with hym, to gyue vnto hys ſeede the lande of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Jebuſites, and Gergeſites, and haſt made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous,

9 And haſt conſidered the miſerie of our fathers in Egypt, and hearde their complaint by the red ſea:

10 And ſhewed tokens and woonders vpon Pharao and all hys ſeruants, and on all the people of hys lande: for thou knoweſt that they were preſumptuous and cruel againſt them: and ſo madeſt thou thee a name as it is this day.

11 And the (red) ſea diddeſt thou diuide in ſunder before thē, ſo that they went through the middeſt of the ſea "drye shod: and their perſecutours threweſt thou into the deepe, as a ſtone in the mightie waters:

12 And leddeſt them on the day tyme in a cloudie pyller, and on the nyght ſeaſon in a piller of fyre, to ſhew them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou cameſt downe alſo vppon mount Sinai, and ſpakeſt vnto them from heauen, and gaueſt them right iudgements, true lawes, good commaundements, and ſtatutes:

14 And declaredſt vnto them thy holy Sabboth, and commaundedſt them precepts, ordinances, and lawes, by the hande of Moſes thy ſeruant:

15 And gaueſt them bread frō heauen when they were hungrie, and broughteſt forth water for them out of the rocke, when they were thirſtie, and promiſedſt them that they ſhoulde goe in, and take poſſeſſion of the lande, ouer which thou haddeſt lift vp thine hande for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers were proud and hardnecked, ſo that they folowed not thy commaundements:

17 And would not obey, neither were mindfull of the woonders that thou dyddeſt for them: but hardened their neckes, and harde in their heades to returne to their bondage by theyr rebellion: But thou, O God of mercies, gratious, and full of compaſſion, of long ſufferyng, and of great mercie, yet forſookeſt them not.

18 Moreouer, when they had made them a moulten Calfe, and ſayde, This is thy God that brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and dyd blaſphemies:

19 Yet forſookeſt thou them not in the wyldernelſe, accordyng to thy great mercies: and the cloudie piller departed not frō them on the day tyme to leade them the way, neither the pyller of fyre in the night ſeaſon, to ſhew them light in the way by which they ſhould goe.

20 And thou gaueſt them thy good ſpirite to to enfourme them, and withheldeſt not thy Manna from their mouth, and gaueſt the water when they were thirſtie.

21 Fourtie yeeres long dyddeſt thou feede them in the wyldernelſe, ſo that they lacked nothyng, their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete ſwelled not.

22 And thou gaueſt them kyngdomes and nations, and ſcatteredſt them into the corners: ſo they poſſeſſed the land of Sehon, and the lande of the kyng of Hesbon, and the lande of Og kyng of Baſan.

23 And their chyldren multipliedſt thou as the ſtarres of heauen, and broughteſt them into the lande whereof thou haddeſt ſpoken to their fathers, that they ſhould goe into it, and haue it in poſſeſſion.

24 And the chyldren went in, and poſſeſſed the lande, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitours of the lande, euen the Chanaanites, and gaueſt them into their hands, with their kyngs and the people of the lande, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they wanne their ſtrōg cities, and a fat lande, and toke poſſeſſion of houſes that were full of all manner of goodes, welles digged out, vineyardes, oliue gardens, "and many fruitefull trees: and they did eate, and were filled, and became fatte, and liued in pleaſure through thy great goodneſſe.

26 Neuertheleſſe, they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy lawe behinde their backes, and ſlue their prophetes, "whiche exhorted them earneſtly, that they might bring them againe vnto thee, and did great blaſphemies.

27 Therfore thou gaueſt them ouer into the hand of their enimies that vexed them: And in the tyme of their trouble, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and through thy greate mercie thou gaueſt them ſauiours, whiche helped them out of the hande of their enimies.

28 But when they came to reſt, they turned backe againe to do euill before thee: therefore leteſt thou them in the hand of their enimies, ſo that they had the dominion ouer them: And when they conuerted, and cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and many tymes haſt thou deliuered them accordyng to thy great mercie,

29 And "teſtifieſt vnto them, that thou myghteſt bring them againe vnto thy law: Notwithſtandyng they were proud, and hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but ſinned "in thy lawes, whiche if a man do, he ſhall liue in them: and turned the ſhoulder away, and were ſtiffe necked, and would not heare.

30 Yet many yeeres diddeſt thou forbeare them, and "teſtifieſt vnto them through thy ſpirite, euen by the hand of thy prophets, and yet would they not heare: therfore gaueſt thou them into the hande of the nations of the landes. "or, proteſteſt

31 And for thy great mercies ſake, thou haſte not vtterly conſumed them, neyther forſaken them: for thou art a gratious and mercyfull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, thou greate God, mighty and terrible, thou that keepeſt couenant and mercie, regarde not a litle all the trauayle that hath come vnto vs, and our kyngs, our princes, our prieſtes, our prophetes, and our fathers, and all the people ſince the tyme of the kings of Aſſur, vnto this day. 2. Eſd. 1. b

33 And truely thou art iuſt in all that thou haſte brought vpon vs, for thou haſte done right: As for vs, we haue bene vngodly. F

34 And our kings, and our princes, our prieſtes, and our fathers, haue not done thy lawe, nor regarded thy commaundements, and thy "earneſt exhortations, wherewith thou haſt "exhorted them, "or, proteſtations. "or, proteſted among them.

35 And they haue not ſerued thee in their kyngdome, and in thy great goodneſſe that thou gaueſt them, and in the large & "plenteous land, which thou gaueſt before them, and haue not conuerted from their wicked workes. "or, fatte.

36 Beholde, wee are in bondage this day, and ſo is the land that thou gaueſt vnto our fathers, to eate the fruytes and goodneſſe thereof, beholde there are we bondmen.

37 And great is the increaſe of it, vnto the kings whom thou haſt ſet ouer vs, becauſe of our ſinnes, and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and cattel, euen as they will themſelues: and we are in great trouble.

38 Nowe becauſe of al this, make we a ſure couenant and write it, and our princes, Leuites, and prieſts, ſeale vnto it.

the wood, to be brought vnto the houſe of our God frō yeere to yeere, after the houſes of our fathers, that it might be burnt at times appointed vpō the aulter of the Lord
God, as it is written in the lawe:
35 And to bryng the firſt fruites of our land,
& the firſtlings of our fruits, of all trees yer by yeere vnto the houſe of the Lorde:
36 And the firſt borne of our ſonnes, and of our cattayle, (as it is wrytten in the lawe) and the firſtlings of our oxen and of our ſheepe, which we ſhould bryng to the houſe of our God, vnto the prieſts that miniſter in the houſe of our God:
37 And that we ſhould bring the firſt fruites of our dough, and our heaue offerynges, and the fruytes of all manner of trees, of wyne alſo, and of oyle, vnto the prieſtes, to the " cheſtes of the houſe of our God, and the tithes of our lande vnto the Leuites, that the Leuites myght haue the tithes in all the cities of our miniſtration.
38 And the prieſte the ſonne of Aaron, ſhall be with the Leuites, when the Leuites take tythes: ſo that the Leuites ſhall bryng vp the tythes of theyr tythes, vnto the houſe of our God, to the ſtore houſes, and to the trea-ſure houſes.
39 For the chyldren of Iſrael, and the children of Leui, ſhall bryng vp the heaue offerynges of the corne, wine, and oyle, vnto the ſtore houſes, there as are the veſſels of the ſanctuarie, and the prieſts that miniſter, and the porters and ſingers, and wee will not forſake the houſe of our God.

The. xij. Chapter.

1. The prieſts and Leuites, whiche came with Zorobabel vnto Hieruſalem, are numbred, 27. and the wall is dedicated.

1 Theſe are the prieſtes and Leuites that went vp with Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and with Jeſua, Saraia, Jeremia, and Eſdras, 10 Jesua begate Joakim, Joakim also begate Eliasib, and Eliasib begate Joiada:

11 Joiada begate Jonathan, and Jonathan begate Jaddua.
12 In the dayes of Joakim were these, the chiefe fathers among the prestes: vnder Saraia, Maraia: vnder Jerima, Hanania:
13 Under Esdras, Mesullam: vnder Amaria, Jehoanan: ג 14 Under Milico, Jonathan: vnder Sebania, Joseph:

22 And in the time of Eliasib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jadua, were the chiefe fathers among the Leuites and the prests, written in the raygne of Darius the Persian.
23 The chyldren of Leui the pryncipall fathers, were written in the Chronicles, vntill the tyme of Jonathan the sonne of Eliasib.
24 And these were the chiefe among the Leuites: Hasabia, Serebia, and Jesua the sonne of Cadmiel, and theyr brethren "in theyr presence, to gyue prayse and thankes, accordyng as Dauid the man of GOD had ordeyned it, one watche ouer agaynst another.
25 Mathania, Bacbukia, Obadia, Mesullam, Talmon, and Accub, were porters "in the watche at the thresholdes of the gates.
26 These were in the dayes of Joiakim the sonne of Jesua the sonne of Josedec, and in the dayes of Nehemia the captayne, and of the prest Esdras the scribe.
27 And in the dedication of the wal at Hierusalem, they sought the Leuites out of all theyr places, that they might be brought to Hierusalem, to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, with thankesgeuyng, and singing, with Cymbales, "Psalteries, and Harpes.
28 And the chyldren of the singers gathered themselues together from euery side, out of the playne countrey about Hierusalem, and from the villages of Nethophathi, 29 From the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Asmaueth: for the singers had buylded them villages rounde about Hierusalem.
30 And the prestes and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, and the wal.
31 And I brought the princes of Juda vpon the wall, and appoynted two great quiers of men to gyue thankes, which went on the right hande of the wall towarde the dung gate.
32 And after them went Hosaia, and half the princes of Juda, 33 And Azaria, Esdras, and Mesullam,
34 Juda, Beniamin, Semeia, and Jeremi,
35 And certayne of the prestes chyldren, with trumpets: namely Zacharie the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Semeia, the sonne of Mathania, the sonne of Michaia, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.
36 And his brethren, Semeia, Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nathanael, and Juda, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Esdras the scribe went before them.
37 And beside the wel gate, they went vp ouer against them, vppon the steppes of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wal, beyonde the house of Dauid, vnto the water gate eastwarde.
38 The other quier of the that gaue thankes went ouer against them, and I after them, and the halfe parte of the people vppon the wall beyonde the fornace gate, vntyll the brode wall, 39 And beyond the port of Ephraim, and beyonde the olde gate, beyonde the fishe gate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Mea, euen vnto the sheepe gate, and they stode still in the "prison gate.
40 And so stode the two quiers of them that gaue thankes in the house of God, and I, and the halfe of the rulers with me:
41 And the prests, namely Eliakim, Maasia, Miniamin, Michaia, Elionai, Zachari, and Hanania, with trumpets:
42 And

"or, aboute them.

"or, keeping the warde.

42 And Maaſia, Semeia, Eleaſar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Melchia, Elam, and Ezer: and the ſingers ſang loude, hauing Jeſrahiah for theyr ouerſeer.

43 And the ſame day they offered great ſacrifices, and reioyced: for God had giuen them great gladneſſe, ſo that both the wyues and childzen were ioyful, and the myrth of Jeruſalem was heard farre off.

44 And the ſame time were the men appointed ouer the treaſure houſes, wherein were the heaue offerings, the firſtlings, and the tythes, that they ſhoulde gather them oute of the fieldes about the cities, to diſtribute them vnto the prieſtes and Leuites, accozding to the law: for Juda was glad of the prieſts and Leuites that ſerued.

45 And there ſtode and wayted vpon the office of theyr God, whiche is a pure office, both the ſingers and pozters, after the commaundement of Dauid, and of Solomon his ſonne.

23. a. 46 For in the time of Dauid and Aſaph, of olde were the chiefe ſingers (founded) and the ſongs of prayſe and thankes giuing vnto God.

47 In the time of Zozobabel and Nehemia, did al they of Iſrael giue pozcions vnto the ſingers and pozters, euery daye bys pozcion: and they gaue tythes vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites gaue tythes agayne vnto the childzen of Aaron.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. The lawe is read. 3. They ſeparate from them all ſtraungers. 15. Nehemiah repro-ueth them that breake the Sabboth. 30. An ordinance to ſerue God.

1 ON that day did they read in the booke of Moſes, in the audience of the people, and therein was founde wzitten, that the 34. a. Ammonites and Moabites ſhoulde neuer come into the congregation of God.

Nu. 23. a. 2 Becauſe they met not the childzen of Iſrael with bzead and water, but byzed Balaam agaynſt them, that hee ſhoulde curſſe them: and our God turned the curſſe into a bleſſing.

3 Nowe when they had heard the law, they ſeparated from Iſrael, euery one that had mixt bimſelfe therein.

4 And before this, had the prieſt Eliaſib the ouerſight of the treaſurie of the houſe of our God, and he was kynſman vnto Tobia.

5 And had made bim a great chamber, and there had they aforetime layde the offerings, frankincenſe, veſſels, and the tythes of cozne, wine, and oyle, accozding to the commaundements giuen to the Leuites, ſyngers, and pozters, and the heaue offerings of the prieſts.

6 But in all this tyme, was not I at Hieruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeare of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, came I vnto the king, and after certayne dayes obteyned I ycence of the king, to come to Hieruſalem.

7 And I gate knowledge of the euill that Eliaſib did for Tobia, in that he had made hym a chamber in the court of the houſe of God. B

8 And it greeued me ſore: therefore I caſt forth al the veſſels of the houſe of Tobia out of the chamber:

9 And commaunded them to cleanſe the chambers, and thither bzought I againe the veſſels of the houſe of God, with the meate offering, and the incenſe.

10 And I perceyued that the pozcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his land, euen the Leuites and ſingers that executed the wozke.

11 Then repzoued I the rulers, and ſayde, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I gathered them togither, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then bzought all Juda the tythes of cozne, and wine, and oyle, vnto the treaſure.

13 And I made treaſurers ouer the treaſure, euen Selemiah the prieſt, and Zadoc the ſcribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia: and vnder their hande, was Hanan the ſonne of Zacur, the ſon of Mathania: for they were counted faythfull, and their office was to diſtribute (the portions) vnto their bzethzen.

14 Thinke vpon me, O my God herein, and wype not out my "mercie that I haue ſhewed on the houſe of my God, and on the offices thereof. C "or, kindneſſe.

15 And the ſame time ſawe I in Juda ſome treading wine pzeſſes on the Sabboth, and bzinging in ſheaues, and which laded Aſſes alſo with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and bzought them into Hieruſalem vpon the Sabboth day: and I rebuked them earneſtly the ſame day that they ſolde the vittayles, 16 There dwelt men of Tyze alſo therein, which bzought fiſh and all maner of ware, and ſolde on the Sabboth vnto the childzen of Juda, euen in Hieruſalem.

17 Then repzoued I the rulers in Juda, and ſayde vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabboth day?

18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God bzought all thys plague vpon vs, and vpon this Citie? and ye make the wrath more yet vpon Iſrael, in that ye breake the Sabboth.

19 And when the portes of Hieruſalem beganne to be darke in the euening before the Sabboth, I cõmaunded to ſhut the gates, and charged that they ſhould not be opened till after the Sabboth: and ſome of my ſeruants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhoulde no burden bee brought in on the Sabboth day.

20 Then remayned the chapmen and marchantes once or twice ouer night wythout Hieruſalem, with all maner of wares.

21 Then reproued I them ſore, and ſayd vnto them, Why tarie ye all night about the wal? If ye doe it once againe, I will laye handes vpon you: From that time forth came they no more on the Sabboth.

D 22 And I ſayde vnto the Leuites, that they ſhoulde cleanſe themſelues, and that they ſhould come and keepe the gates, to halowe the Sabboth day: Thinke vpon me, O my God, concerning this alſo, and ſpare me according to thy great mercie.

23 In thoſe dayes alſo, ſawe I Iewes that maryed wyues of Aſdod, of Ammon, and of Moab, 24 And their chyldren ſpake halfe in the ſpeech of Aſdod, and coulde not ſpeake in the Iewes language, but according to the language of ỹ one people & of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and curſed them, and ſmote certaine men of them, and made them bare: and toke an othe of them by God, Ye ſhal not giue your daughters vnto their ſonnes, neither ſhall yee take their daughters vnto your ſonnes, or for your ſelues.

26 Did not Solomon the king of Iſrael ſinne by theſe things? and yet among many heathen, was there no king lyke hym, which was deare vnto his God, and God made him king ouer all Iſrael: and yet neuertheleſſe outlandiſhe women cauſed hym to ſinne.

27 Shal we then obey vnto you, to doe all this great euill, and to tranſgreſſe againſt our God, and marrie ſtraunge wyues?

28 And one of the children of Iehoiada, the ſonne of Eliaſib the bie prieſt, was the ſonne in lawe of Sanaballat the Horonite: but I chaſed him from me.

29 O my God, thinke thou vpon them that defile the prieſthode, and the couenaunt of the prieſthod, and of the Leuites.

30 Thus cleanſed I thẽ from al ſuch as were outlandiſh, and appointed the courſes of the prieſts, and Leuites, euery one in his office:

31 And to offer the wood at tymes appoynted, and the firſt fruites: thinke thou vpon me, O my God, for the beſt.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

3. King Ahaſuerus maketh a royal feaſt. 10. VVherevnto Queene Vaſthi will not come. 19. For which cauſe ſhe is diuorced. 20. The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

A 1 IT came to paſſe, that in the dayes of Ahaſuerus, (this is Ahaſuerus which raigned frõ India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & twentie and ſeuen prouinces,)

2 Euen in thoſe dayes, when the king Ahaſuerus ſate on his ſeate royal, which was in Suſan the chiefe citie:

3 In the thirde yeare of his raigne, he made a feaſt vnto al his princes and ſeruants: and the mightie men of Perſia and Media, the captaynes alſo and rulers of his countreys, were before him.

4 And hee ſhewed the ryches and glorie of his kingdome, and the glorious worſhip of his greatneſſe, many dayes long, (euen) an hundred and foureſcore dayes.

5 And when theſe dayes were expyred, the king made a feaſt vnto all the people, that were in Suſan the chiefe Citie, both vnto great and ſmall, ſeuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the kings palace.

6 Where

6 Where there hanged white, greene, and "yelowe clothes, fastned with cordes of fine silke and purple, in siluer rings vpon pyllers of Marble stones: the" benches also were of golde and siluer, made vppon a pauement of "greene, whyte, yellowe, and blacke marble.

7 And they dranke in vessels of golde, and chaunged vessel after vessel, and royal wine in abundaunce, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to euery mãs pleasure.

9 And the Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women, in the palace of Ahasuerus.

10 And in the seuenth day, when the Kyng was merie after the wine, he commaunded Nehuma, Bizetha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagthan, Zethar, and Charchas, the seuen chamberlaynes, that did seruice in the presence of king Ahasuerus, 11 To fetche the Queene Vasthi wyth the crowne regal into the kings presence, that hee might shewe the people and princes his fayrenesse: for she was beautifull.

12 But the Queene Vasthi would not come at the Kings worde by his chamberlaynes: Then was the king very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

13 And the king spake to the wise men which knew the tymes (for so was the kings maner, towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgements:

C 14 And the next vnto him were, Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Tharsis, Mares, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome,) 15 What shall wee doe vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the lawe, bycause shee did not according to the worde of the king, Ahasuerus, whiche he commaunded by hys chamberlaynes?

16 And Memuchan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vasthi hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, and against al the people, that are in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deede of the Queene shall come abrode vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands before their eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus commaunded Vasthi the Queene to bee brought in before him, but she woulde not come.

18 And so shal the Princesses of Persia and Media, saye lykewyse this day vnto all the Kings princes, when they heare of thys deede of thee Queene: thus shall there arise to much displeasure and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there goe a commaundement from him, and let it be writte according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, and not to bee transgressed, that Vasthi come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king giue hir royall estate vnto another that is better than she.

20 And when this commaundement of the king, which shall be made, is published thorowout all his Empyre, which is great, all women shall holde theyr husbandes in honour, both among great and smal.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Memuchan. D

22 For he sent letters forth into all the kings prouinces, into euery lande according to the writing thereof, and to euerie people after theyr langagne, that euery man shoulde be Lord in his owne house: and this to be published after the language of his people.

The.ij.Chapter.

2. After the Queene is put away, certain yong maydens are brought to the king. 14. Esther pleaseth the King, and is made Queene. 22. Mardocheus discloseth vnto the king, those that would betray him.

1 AFter these actes, when the displeasure of King Ahasuerus was nowe "alayed, he thought vppon Vasthi, and what shee had done, and what was decreed agaynst hir. A "or, appeased.

2 Then sayde the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, Let there be fayre yong virgins sought for the king,

3 And let the king appoynt officers in al the prouinces of his Empyre, that they shoulde bring togither all the fayre Virgins vnto Susan, the heade citie, to the womens building, vnder the hande of Hegai the Kings chamberlaine that kept the women, to giue them their "apparel: "or, things for purification.

4 And that the mayden whiche pleaseth the king, should be Queene in Vasthis steade. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the citie of Susan there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, a man of Iemini, 6 Which was caryed awaye from Hierusalem wyth the captiuitie, when Iechonia the king of Juda was ledde away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babilon caryed thence. 2.Reg.24.c. Iere.24.a.

7 And

B 7 7 And hee nourished Hadassa (that is Esther) his uncles daughter: for she had neyther father nor mother, and she was a fayre and beautiful mayden, whom Mardocheus (when hir father and mother were dead) receyued for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commaundement and commission was published, and many maydens were brought togither into the citie of Susan vnder the hande of Hegai, Esther was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder the hande of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayden pleased him, and shee founde fauour in his sight: and hee caused "ornaments to bee giuen hir speedily, and such things as belonged to hir, and appoynted hir seuen comely maydens out of the kings house, " and fauoured both hir and hir gentlewomen singularly in the house of the women.

"or, hir things for purification.
"or, and he gaue charge to hir, and to hir maydens, of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Esther shewed not hir people and hir kinred: for Mardocheus had charged hir, that she shoulde not tell it.

11 And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens house, that he might knowe howe Esther did, and what should become of hir.

12 And when the appoynted time of euerie mayden came, that she should goe in to the king Ahasuerus, after that shee had beene twelue monethes, according to the maner of the women (for so were the days of their purification accomplished, sixe monethes with oyle of myrre, and sixe monethes with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the Maydens vnto the king) whatsoeuer she requyred, that must be giuen hir, to go with hir out of the womens buylding vnto the kings palace.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morow she returned into the seconde house of the women, abyding vnder the hande of Saasgaz the kings chamberlaine, whiche kept the concubines: and she came in vnto the king no more, except it pleased the king to haue hir, and that shee were called by name.

15 Nowe when the course came of Esther the daughter of Abihail, the vncle of Mardocheus (which had receyued hir as his owne daughter) that she should come in vnto the king, she desyred nothing but what Hegai the kinges Chamberlaine, the keeper of the women, sayde. And Esther founde fauour in the sight of all them that loked vpon hir.

16 And Esther was taken vnto kng Ahasuerus, into his house royal, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth Tebeth) in the seuenth yeare of his raigne.

17 And the king loued Esther aboue all the women, and shee founde grace and fauour in his sight more than all the virgins, so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon hir head, and made hir Queene in stead of Vasthi.

18 And the king made a great feast vnto all his princes and seruantes, which feast was bycause of Esther, and caused the prouinces to be in quietnesse, and gaue gyftes, as became the royaltie of a king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered togither, the seconde time, Mardocheus sate in the kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Esther shewed hir kynred and hir people, according as Mardocheus had bydden hir: for Esther did after the worde of Mardocheus, like as if she had bene yet vnder his gouernance.

21 At the same time (whyle Mardocheus sate in the kings gate) two of the kings chamberlaynes, Bigthan, and Theres, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay their handes on the king Ahasuerus:

22 Whereof also Mardocheus gate knowledge, and tolde it vnto Queene Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Mardocheus name.

23 And when inquisition was made, it was founde so, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the king.

The.iij. Chapter.

Haman after he was exalted, obteyned of the king, that all the Iewes should be put to death, bycause Mardocheus had not done him worshipe as other had.

1 AFter these actes, did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Amadathe, the Agagite, and set him on highe, and set his seate aboue all the princes that he had with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had so commaunded concerning him: but Mardocheus bowed not the knee, neyther did him reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruantes, which were in the kings gate, sayde vnto Mardocheus, Why transgressest thou the Kings commaundement?

4 And though they spake this dayly vnto hym, yet woulde he not heare them, therefore

fore they tolde Haman, that they might ſe howe Mardocheus matters woulde ſtande, for he had tolde them that he was a Iewe.

5 And when Haman ſawe that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, hee was full of indignation,

6 And thought it to little to lay handes only on Mardocheus, for they had ſhewed him the Nation of Mardocheus: wherfore hee ſought to deſtroye all the Iewes that were throughout the whole Empyre of Ahaſuerus, and that were of the Nation of Mardocheus.

B 7 In the firſt moneth (that is, the moneth Niſan) in the twelfth yeare of king Ahaſuerus, they caſt Phur, that is a lot, before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Adar.

8 And Haman ſayde vnto king Ahaſuerus, There is here a people ſcattered abrode, and diſperſed among all people in all the prouinces of thine Empyre, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and do not after the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profite to ſuffer them after this maner.

9 If it pleaſe the king, let it be written that they may be deſtroyed: and ſo will I way downe ten thouſande talentes of ſiluer by the handes of them that haue the charge of thys buſyneſſe, to bring it into the Kings treaſurie.

10 And the King toke his ring from hys hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the ſonne of Hamadatha the Agagite the Iewes enimy.

11 And the king ſayd vnto Haman, Let the ſiluer be thine, and do with that people as it pleaſeth thee.

12 Then were the kings ſcribes called on the thirteenth day of the firſt moneth, and there was written, according as Haman commaunded, vnto all the kings officers, and to the captaynes that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreys on euery ſide, according to the writing thereof, and to euery Nation after their language, in the name of King Ahaſuerus was it written, and ſealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were ſent by poſtes into all the kings prouinces, to rote out, to kil, and to deſtroy all Iewes, both yong and olde, children, and women, in one day, (namely) vppon the thirteenth daye of the twelfth month (which is the moneth Adar) and to ſpoyle them as a pray.

14 Thys was the ſumme of the writing, that there ſhoulde bee a commaundement giuen in all prouinces, and publiſhed vnto all people, that they ſhould be ready againſt the ſame day.

15 And the poſtes went in all the haſt, according to the kings commaundement, and in Suſan the chiefe citie was the commaundement deuiſed: and the king and Haman ſat and dranke, when in the meane time the citie of Suſan was diſquieted.

The.iiij. Chapter.

5. Mardocheus giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the king againſt the Iewes. 16. Shee willeth that they pray for hir.

1 When Mardocheus perceyued all that I was done, he rent his clothes, and put on ſackecloth, with aſhes, and went out into the middeſt of the citie, and cryed loude and lamentably,

2 And came before the kings gate: but hee might not enter within the kings gate, becauſe he had ſackecloth on.

3 And in all prouinces, countreys, and places, as farre as the kings worde and commaundement extended, there was great lamentation among the Iewes, faſting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in ſackecloth, and in aſhes.

4 So Eſthers maydens, and hir chamberlaynes, came and tolde it hir: Then was the Queene exceedingly aſtonied, and ſhee ſent rayment, that Mardocheus ſhoulde put on, and laye the ſackecloth from him: but Mardocheus woulde not take them.

5 Then called Eſther Hathach one of the kings chamberlaynes, whiche ſtode before hir, and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mardocheus, to know what it was, wherefore he did ſo.

6 So Hathach went forth to Mardocheus, vnto the ſtreete of the citie whiche was before the kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus tolde him of all that B had come vnto him, and of the ſumme of ſiluer that Haman had promiſed to waye downe into the kings treaſurie, becauſe of the Iewes, if he would deſtroy them.

8 And hee gaue him the copie of the kings commaundement that was deuiſed at Suſan to deſtroy them, that he might ſhewe it vnto Eſther, and to ſpeake to hir, & charge hir that ſhe ſhoulde goe in vnto the King, and make hir prayer and ſupplication vnto him for hir people.

9 And when Hathach came in, he told Eſther the wordes of Mardocheus:

10 And againe Esther spake vnto Hathach, and commaunded him to say vnto Mardocheus, 11 All the kings seruants, and the people in the prouinces of the king know, that whosoeuer commeth within the court in to the king, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, " the commaundement is, that the same shall die, except the king holde out the golden scepter vnto him, for then he shall liue: as for me, I haue not bene called to come in vnto the king now this thirtie dayes.

" or, there is a law of his.

12 And they certified Mardocheus of Esthers wordes.

13 And Mardocheus bad saye agayne vnto Esther, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house more than al the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this tyme, then shall the Iewes haue " helpe and deliuerance out of another place, and thou and thy fathers house shal be destroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome " for this cause sake?

" or, breathing

" or, for such a time.

15 Esther bad them giue Mardocheus this answere:

16 Go thou thy way, and gather together al the Iewes that are founde at Susan, and fast ye for me, that yee eate not and drinke not in three dayes neyther day nor night, I and my maydens will fast likewise: and so wil I go in to the king, which thing yet is contrarie to the commaundement: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to al that Esther had commaunded him.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Esther entereth in to the king, and byddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11. Haman prepareth a gallous for Mardocheus.

1 AND on the thirde day it came to passe, that Esther put on hir royall apparell, and stode in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king sate vppon his royall seate in the kings palace, ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Esther the Queene standing in the court, shee founde grace in his sight: and the king held oute the golden scepter that was in his hande: So Esther stept forth, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayde the king vnto hir, What wilt thou Queene Esther? and what requyrest thou? (aske) euen the halfe of the Empyre, and it shall be giuen thee.

4 And Esther answered, If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king sayde, Cause Haman make hast, that he may doe as Esther hath sayde, So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the king sayde vnto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be graunted thee? And what requyrest thou? If it bee euen the halfe of the Empyre, it shall be done.

7 Then answered Esther, and sayde, My petition and desire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to graunt me my petition, and to fulfill my request, then let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them: and to morow will I do to morow as the king hath sayd.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and merry in his minde: but when he same Haman saw Mardocheus in the kings gate, that he stode not vp nor moued for him, he was ful of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuertheless, Haman refrayned himselfe, and when he came home, he sent and called for his friendes, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him so greatly, and howe that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman sayde moreouer, Yea, Esther the Queene dyd let no man come in with the King into the banquet that shee had prepared, except me: and to morowe am I bydden vnto hir also with the king.

13 But in all this am I not satisfied, as long as I see Mardocheus the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then sayde Zares his wyfe, and all his friendes vnto him, Let them make a Gallous of fiftie cubites highe, and to morowe speake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may bee hanged thereon: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was well content withal, and caused the gallous to be made.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. The king turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10. and commaun-commaundeth Haman to cause Mardocheus to be had in honour.

A 1 The same night could not the King sleepe, and he commaunded to bring the Chronicles and stories: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was founde written, how Mardocheus had tolde that Bigthana and Theres, the kings two chamberlaynes, whiche kept the thresholdes, sought to lay handes on king Ahasuerus.

3 And the king sayde, What honour and dignitie hath beene giuen to Mardocheus therefore? Then sayde the kings seruantes that ministred vnto him, There is nothing at all done for him.

4 And the king sayd, Who is in the court? (for Haman was come into the court without before the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the king to hang Mardocheus on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants sayde vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the king sayde, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King sayde vnto him, What shal bee done vnto the man whom the king would faine bring vnto worship? (Haman thought in his hart, Whom desireth the king to bring vnto worship more than me?)

B 7 And Haman answered the king, Let the man whom the king pleaseth to bring vnto worship, be brought hither,

8 That he may be arayed with ỹ royal garments which the king vseth to weare, and the horse that the King rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his heade:

9 And let this rayment and horse be deliuered vnder the hande of one of the Kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall whom the king is disposed to bring to honour, and carie him vppon the horse through the streete of the Citie, and proclayme before him, Thus shal it be done to the man whom the king pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 And the King sayde to Haman, Make hast, and take as thou hast sayd, the rayment and the horse, and doe euen so vnto Mardocheus the Iewe that sitteth before the kings gate, and let nothing fayle of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then toke Haman the rayment and the horse, and arayed Mardocheus, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaymed before him, Euen thus shall it bee done vnto the man whome the king is disposed to honour.

12 And Mardocheus came agayne to the Kings gate: but Haman gate him home in all the hast mourning, and his heade couered, 13 And tolde Zares his wife, and all his friendes, euery thing that had befallen him. Then sayde his wise men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardocheus, of the seede of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begun to fal, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fal before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlaynes, and caused Haman to make hast to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The. vij. Chapter.

5. The Queene byddeth the King and Haman agayne, and prayeth for hir selfe and hir people. 6. She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

A 1 AND the king and Haman came to banquet with the Queene Esther.

2 And the king sayde agayne vnto Esther, on the seconde day at the banquet of wyne, What is thy petition Queene Esther, that it may bee giuen thee? and what requyrest thou? If it be euen to the halfe of the Empyre, it shall be done.

3 And Esther the Queene answered, and sayde, If I haue founde grace in thy sight O king, and if it please the king, then graūt me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine, and to perishe: and would God that we were solde to be bondmen and bondwomen, then would I holde my tongue: although the enimie could not recompence the kings losse.

5 Then King Ahasuerus answered, and sayd vnto Queene Esther, Who is he? And where is he, that dare presume in his minde to do after that maner?

6 And Esther sayd, The enimie and aduersarie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afrayed before the King and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and B from the wine, in his displeasure, and went into the palace garden: and Haman stode vp, and besought Queene Esther for his life: for he sawe that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king alreadie.

8 And when the king came again out of the palace garden, into the place where they

dranke wine, Haman had layde him vpon the bed that Esther sate vpon. Then sayde the king, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As soone as that word went out of the kings mouth, they couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaynes that stoode before the king, sayde, Beholde, there standeth yet a Gallowes in Hamans house, fyftie cubites highe, whiche hee had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king sayde, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallowes that hee had made for Mardocheus: then was the kings wrath pacified.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted. 14. Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 THe same day did king Ahasuerus, giue the house of Haman, the Iewes enimie, vnto Queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king, for Esther tolde what he was vnto hir.

2 And the king toke off hys ring which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus: And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king held out the golden scepter towarde Esther. Then rose Esther, and stoode before the king,

5 And sayde, If it please the king, and if I haue founde grace in his sight, and if it bee acceptable before the king, & I please him, then let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman, the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, may bee called againe, which letters he wrote to destroy the Iewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euil that shall come vnto my people? Or howe can I beare and loke vppon the destruction of my kynrede?

B 7 And the king Ahasuerus sayde vnto Queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon a tree, bycause he layd hande vpon the Iewes.

8 Wryte ye also for the Iewes as it lyketh you, in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the wrytings that were written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man reuerse.

9 Then were the Kings scribes called at the same tyme, euen in the thirde moneth (that is the moneth Siuan,) on the three and twentieth daye thereof, and it was written according to all as Mardocheus commaunded vnto the Iewes, and to the Princes, to the Deputies and Captaynes of the Prouinces whiche are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely an hundred twentie and seuen Prouinces, vnto euery Prouince according to the wryting thereof, and vnto euerie people after their speache, and to the Iewes according to their wryting and language.

10 And hee wrote in the king Ahasuers name and sealed it with the kings ring, and by postes that rode vpon horses and swyfte yong Mules, sent be the wrytings,

11 Wherein the king graunted the Iewes in what cities soeuer they were, to gather themselues togither, and to stande for their life and for to rote out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and Prouince that would trouble them, both childe and women, and to spoyle their good:

12 Upon one day in al the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The summe of the wryting was, howe there shoulde bee a commaundement giuen in all and euery prouince, and published among all people, & that the Iewes should be readie against that day, to auenge themselues on their enimies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift horses and mules, made haste with al speede to execute the kings worde: and ỹ cõmandement was deuised in Sulan the chiefe Citie.

15 And Mardocheus went oute from the King in royall apparel, of yellow and whyte, and with a great crowne of golde, being arayed with a garment of silke and purple: and the citie of Sulan reioyced, and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes there was comme light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 In all prouinces and Cities, into what places soeuer the Kings worde and commaundement reached, there was ioy and myrth, a feast and good dayes among the Iewes: insomuch, that many of the people in the lande became Iewes, for the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

The

The.ix. Chapter.

1. At the commaundement of the king, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14. The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17. The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

1 IN the twelfth moneth (that is the moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings worde and commaundement drewe neare to be put in execution, in the daye that the enimies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Iewes together in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, to lay hande on such as woulde doe them euill, and no man coulde withstand them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the prouinces, and princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Iewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings house, and the report of him was noysed in all the prouinces: for this man Mardocheus waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enimies with the stroke of the sworde, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they woulde vnto their enimies.

6 And at Susan the chiefe citie, slue the Iewes and destroyed fiue hundred men.

7 And slue Pharsandatha, Dalphon, Asphatha,

8 Phoratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Pharmastha, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten sonnes also of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the enimie of the Iewes: but on his goodes they layde no handes.

11 At the same tyme was the king certified of the number of those that were slaine in the citie of Susan,

12 And the king sayde vnto Meene Esther, The Iewes haue slaine and destroyed fiue hundred men in the citie of Susan, and the tenne sonnes of Haman: what haue they done (thinkest thou) in other landes of the king? And what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what requyrest thou more to be done?

13 Esther answered, If it please the king, let him suffer the Iewes which are in Susan, to morow also to doe according vnto thys dayes decree, that they may hang Hamans ten sonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to doe so: and the decree was deuised at Susan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 For the Iewes that were in Susan, gathered themselues together, vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slue three hundred men at Susan: but on their goodes they layde no handes.

16 As for the other Iewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came together, and stode for their liues, and had rest from their enimies, and slue of their enimies seuentie and fiue thousande: howbeit they layde no handes on their goodes.

17 (This they did) on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same moneth rested they, which day they helde with feasting and gladnesse.

18 But the Iewes that were at Susan came together, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fiftenth day of the same they rested, and held that day with feasting and gladnesse.

19 And therefore the Iewes that dwelt in the villages and vnwalled townes, helde the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladnesse and feasting, and kept holy day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mardocheus wrote these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were in al the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, both nie and farre:

21 That they shoulde make a lawe among themselues, and holde the fourteenth and fiftenth day of the moneth Adar, yearely.

22 As the dayes wherein the Iewes came to rest from their enimies, and as a moneth wherein their paine was turned to ioy, and their sorow into a ioyfull day: and that in those dayes they shoulde make feastes and gladnesse, and one to sende gyftes vnto an other, and to distribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Iewes enimie, had deuised agaynst the Iewes howe he might destroy them, and caused to cast Phur (that is a lot) for to consume them, and to bring them to nought.

25 But when Esther came before the king, hee commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which he imagined agaynst the Iewes, shoulde bee turned vpon his owne heade, and that he and his sonnes shoulde be hanged on the tree.

26 For the whiche cause they called these dayes Phurim, bycause of the name of the lot, and bycause of all the wordes of this writing, and what they themselues had seene, and what had come vnto them:

27 And the Iewes ordeyned, and toke it vpon them and their seede, and vpon all suche as ioyned themselues vnto them, that they would not misse, but obserue these two days yearly, according as they were written, and appoynted in their season,

28 And that these dayes are to be remembred, and to bee kept of children children among all kynredes in al landes and Cities, in these dayes of Phurim, which are not to be ouerslipt among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them ought not to perish from their seede.

29 And Queene Esther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Iewe, wrote with all authoritie, to confirme this seconde writing of Phurim.

30 And he sent the letters vnto al the Iewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the Empyre of Ahasuerus, with wordes of peace and truth:

31 To confirme these dayes of Phurim in their tyme appointed, according as Mardocheus the Iew, and Esther the Queene had appoynted them: and they bounde their soule, and their seede, to fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Esther confyrmed these wordes of Phurim, and was written in the booke, 33 And the king Ahasuerus layde tribute vpon the lande, and vpon the Iles of the sea.

34 And all the actes of his power and of his might, & the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus wherewith the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kings of Medes and Persia?

35 For Mardocheus the Iewe, was the seconde next vnto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Iewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealth of his people, and speaketh peaceably for all his seede.

The booke of Iob.

Thus did Iob euery day.

10 Haſt thou not "preſerued him and hys houſe, and all that he hath, on euerie ſyde? Thou haſt bleſſed the worke of his handes, and his poſſeſſion is increaſed in the lande.

11 But lay thine hande nowe vpon hym, and touch all that he hath, and he ſhall (m) curſe thee to thy face.

12 And the Lord ſayd vnto Satan, Loe, (n) all that he hath be in thy "power, onely vpon him ſelf ſee that thou lay not thine hand. And Satan went forth from the preſence of the Lorde.

13 And vppon a certaine daye, when hys ſonnes and daughters were eating and drinking Wine in theyr eldeſt brothers houſe, 14 There came a meſſenger vnto Iob, and ſayde, The Oxen were plowing, and the Aſſes feeding beſide them:

15 (o) And the Sabees came violently and toke them away, yea, they haue ſlaine thy ſeruantes with the edge of the ſwoorde: and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet ſpeaking, there came another, and ſayde, the fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath brent vp thy ſheepe and ſeruants, and conſumed them: and I onely am eſcaped alone to tell thee.

17 And while hee was yet ſpeaking, there came another and ſayd, The Caldees made out theyr bandes, and fel vpon the Camels, and haue caryed them awaye, yea, and layne thy ſeruauntes wyth the ſwoorde: and I onely am gotten away alone to tell thee.

18 And while hee was yet ſpeaking, there came another, and ſayde, Thy ſonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe, 19 And beholde, there came a mighty great winde from beyonde the wildernes, and ſmote the foure corners of the houſe, whiche fell vpon thy children, and they are dead: and I am gotten away alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob ſtoode vp, and (p) rent his clothes, and ſhaued his head, fell downe vpon the grounde, worſhipped, 21 And ſayd, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked ſhall I turne thyther againe: The Lorde gaue, and the Lorde hath taken awaye, bleſſed bee the name of the Lorde.

22 In (q) all theſe things did Iob not offende, nor charged God folliſhly.

p. Not that he was vnpacient, but he woulde not haue any thing remaine with him, which was deliuered into the power of Satan.

q. Declaring that all that God doth, is well done.

The. ij. Chapter.

6. Satan hath permiſion to afflict Iob. 9. His wife tempteth him to forſake God. 11. His three friendes viſite him.

1 NOw on a day the (a) children of God came and ſtoode before the Lorde, and Satan came alſo among them, and ſtoode before the Lorde.

2 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, From whence commeſt thou? Satan anſwered the Lorde, and ſayde, I haue gone aboute the lande, and walked through it.

3 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, Haſte thou not conſidered my ſeruant Iob? how there is none like vnto him in the earth, a perfect and a iuſt man? one that feareth God, and eſcheweth euill, and continueth ſtill in his vprightneſſe, although thou moueſt mee againſt him, to (b) deſtroy him without cauſe?

4 And Satan anſwered the Lorde, and ſayde, (c) Skinne for skinne, yea a man wil giue al that euer he hath for his life.

5 But lay thine hand now vpon him, and touche (once) his bone and his fleſh, and hee ſhall curſe thee to thy face.

6 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hande, but (d) ſaue his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the preſence of the Lorde, and ſmote Iob with ſore byles, from the ſole of his foote, vnto his crowne.

8 And he toke a potſharde to ſcrape him: and he ſate downe among the aſhes.

9 Then ſayde his wife vnto him, (e) Doeſt thou continue yet in thy perfectneſſe, curſe God, and die.

10 But he ſayd vnto her, Thou ſpeakeſt lyke a folliſh woman: ſhall we (f) receyue good at the hande of God, and not receyue euill? In all theſe things did not Iob ſinne with his lippes.

a. Wherein is conteyned as wel all godly and vpright perſons, as angels, as it is taken in the chapter before.

b. Not but that he deſerued plague for his offence, being vnder the law: but for that he was renued and purified by fayth, and by the innocencie of Chriſt, al ſuch puniſhments were vnworthily executed on him, as not deſerued.

c. Skinne for skinne: that is, a man wil offer to danger the skin of an other, rather than to venture his owne: for as a man wil ieopard his worſt goodes to ſaue his better: as to obiect, his arm to the ſtroke to ſaue his head: & as the Mariner in tempeſt will caſt out his goodes out of the ſhip to ſaue his life: ſo would Iob beare the loſſe of his childrēs skinnes, liues, and bodies in pacience, rather than pacientlie to ſuffer his owne skinne and bodie to be touched: and therefore ſayth the deuill, Touch him on his owne skinne, and thou ſhalt ſee that he will to thy face curſe thee. d. Declaring that in all affliction, there are certaine boundes and limites, beyonde the which Satan can not goe. e A cruel temptation of an euill and vngodly wife. f. Teaching that we ought to reioyce in Gods gifts when he ſendeth them, & be thankful, and to be pacient when he taketh thē againe, & not to diſpaire.

11 Nowe (g) when Iobs three friends heard of all the trouble that came vpon him, they came euery one from his own place (namely) Eliphas the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed togither to come to shewe their compassion vppon him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lyft vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: then they cryed and wept, and euerie one of them rent hys clothes, and sprinckeled (h) duft vpon their heades in "the ayre.

13 They sate them downe by him also vpon the ground seuen dayes and seuen nightes, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe that his griefe was verie great.

g. That is, true friendship which bydeth as well in aduersitie as in prosperitie: and as in prosperitie to reioyce with him: so in aduersitie to lament with him.

h. Which was a custome when great sorow was declared, shewing their humblenesse, that from the dust they came, and thither they shal returne.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth and curseth the dayè of his byrth. 11. He desireth to die, as though death were the ende of all mans miserie.

1 AFter (a) this opened Iob his mouth, and cursed his day.

2 And Iob answered and sayde,

3 Let (b) the day perishe wherein I was borne, (c) and the night in the which it was sayde, There is a man childe conceyued.

4 The same day bee (turned to) darknesse, and not regarded of God from aboue, neyther let the light shine vpon it:

5 But let it be stayned with darkenesse, and the shadow of death, let the (dimme) cloude fall vpon it, which may make it terrible as a most bitter day.

6 Let the dark stormе ouercome that night, and let it not bee ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeare, nor counted in the number of the monethes.

7 Desolate bee that night, and wythoute gladnesse.

8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee readie to rayse vp mourning, giue it also their curse.

9 Let the starres of that "night be dimme through darknesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, (d) neither let it see the dawning of the day:

10 Bycause it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hidde sorrowe from mine eyes.

11 (Alas) why dyed I not in the byrth? why did not I perish as sone as I came out of (my mothers) wombe?

12 Why set they me vpon their knees? why gaue they me sucke with their brestes?

13 Then shoulde I nowe haue lyen still, I shoulde haue slept and bene at rest,

a. That is, after that seuen dayes were fully finished.

b. Iob being sore afflicted in the flesh, seemeth after a sort to yeeld to it, breaking out into these wordes, bycause he sawe that that day was the beginning of al these afflictions.

c. He cursed not his dayes bicause he was weery of it, as one desperate, but rather wishing to be dissolued, least by farther troubles he should be forced to offend God.

«Heb. Twylight.

d. The Hebrue speach is, the eyeliddes of the morning.

14 Like as the Kings and "Lordes of the earth, whiche haue buylded them selues "speciall places,

15 Or as the princes that haue had gold, and their houses full of siluer:

16 Or (why) was not I hid, as a thing born out of time, (either) as yong childzen which neuer sawe the light?

17 There (e) muste the wicked ceasse from their tyranny, and there such as laboured valiantly be at rest:

18 There the (f) prysoners rest togither, they heare no more the voyce of the oppressour:

19 There are small and great, and the seruant (is) free from his maister.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie hearts,

21 Which long for death, and finde it not, thoughe they searche more for it, than for treasures:

22 Which reioyce exceedingly, and be glad when they can finde the graue,

23 From whom their endes are hid and concealed by God?

24 For my sighes come before I eate, and my rorings are powred out lyke the water:

25 For the thing that (g) I feared is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afrayde of, is happened vnto me.

26 Was I not happie? Had I not quietnes? Was I not in rest? And nowe commeth such miserie vpon me.

The.iiij. Chapter.

5. Iob is reprehended of impatiencie, 7. and vniustice, 17. and of the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

1 AND Eliphas the Themanite answered and sayde,

2 If wee assaye to come with thee, wylt thou be discontent? (a) But who can withholde himselfe from speaking?

3 Beholde, thou hast beene an instructer of many, and hast strengthned the (b) weake handes:

4 Thy wordes haue set vp him that was falling, thou hast refreshed the weake knees.

5 But (c) nowe it is come vpon thee, and thou art greeued: it toucheth thee and thou art troubled.

6 Was not thy feare according to thy hope? and the perfectnesse of thy wayes according to thy expectation?

7 Consider, I pray thee, who euer perished (d) being an innocent? or when were the godly destroyed?

a. Iob complained.

b. Which was a token of impatiencie.

c. As Iob had him to be an hypocrite.

d. That is, Eliphas his owne reason, innocents but are afflicted, they are not ouerthrowne, but they are oppressed, as was Iob, he did not.

8 For

8 For as I haue proued by experience they that plowe iniquitie, and sowe wretchednesse reape the same.

9 With the blast of God they perishe, with the breath of his nostrels are they consumed away.

10 The roring of the Lion, and the voyce of the Lion, and the teeth of the Lions whelps are pulled out.

11 The (c) Lion perisheth for lack of pray, and the Lions whelpes are scattered abrode.

12 But whereas a thing was (f) hidde from me, yet myne eare hath receyued a little therof.

13 In the thoughts and visions of the night, when sleepe commeth on men, 14 (g) Feare came vpon me, and dread, which made all my bones to shake.

15 The winde passed by before my presence, & made the heares of my flesh to stande vp.

16 Yet stode thereon, and I (h) knewe not his face, an Image there was before mine eyes, and in the stilnesse heard I a voyce.

17 Shall (i) man be more iust than God? or shall a man be purer than his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde not truth in his seruants, and in (k) his angels there was folly:

19 Howe much more in them that dwel in (l) houses of clay, and whose foundation is but dust, which shal be consumed as it were with a moth?

20 They shal be smitten (m) from the morning vnto the euening: yea, they (n) shall perishe for euer, when no man regardeth them.

21 Is not their royaltie gone away with them? they shal die truely, and not in wisdome.

b. Eliphas reprehendeth again Iob sorely bycause the same hath happened vnto him that doth fall vpon the wicked.

c. That is, I was perswaded, that God had cursed him and al his, wherby it grieued not me to see his prosperitie.

d. That is, by publique iudgement condemned, which was vsed to be done in the gates of the cities.

e. Declaring that it is not of the earth that barrennesse and afflictions do arise, neither is it by any externe things but onely such aduersitie falleth for mans offence, wherof he is the authour.

4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were slaine (d) in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.

5 His harueste was eaten of the hungry, and taken from among the thornes, and the thirstie dranke vp their labour: It is not the earth that bringeth forth iniquitie,

6 Neyther commeth sorowe out of the (e) grounde:

7 But man is borne vnto labour, (f) like as the sparkes flee vp (out of the hote coles)

8 But (g) I would aske counsel at the Lord, and talke with God:

9 Whiche doeth great things and vnsearchable, (and) maruels without number.

10 Hee gyueth rayne vppon the earth, and powreth water vpon the streetes, 11 To set vp them that bee of lowe degree, and that those whiche are in heauinesse, may be exalted to saluation.

12 He destroyeth the deuices of the subtill, so that their handes are not able to perfourme that which they do enterprise.

13 Hee compasseth the wyse in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsell of the wicked.

14 They runne into (h) darknesse by fayre day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee delyuereth the (i) poore from the swoorde, from their threatnings, and from the violence of the mightie.

16 He is the hope of the poore, and the mouth of the wicked shall be stopped.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whom God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chastening of the almightie:

18 For he maketh a wounde, and he healeth: he smyteth, and his handes maketh whole againe.

19 He shall deliuer thee in (k) syxe troubles, and in the seuenth there shall no euil come to thee.

20 In hunger he shall saue thee from death, and when it is warre, from the power of the swoorde.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not nerde to feare.

22 In destruction and dearth, thou shalt be merie, and shalt not be afrayd of the beastes of the earth.

g. That is, the wicked floriſh, till Gods diuine iudgement fall on them.

h. If God ſhall afflict him.

i. Bildad concludeth that Iob is not iuſt, but is plagued for his offences, perſwading him therefore to repentance: for god would not thus caſt him away if he were iuſt.

ᵛor, take the vngodly by the hande.

19 Beholde, it will reioyce by this meanes, if it may grow in another moulde.
20 Beholde, God (i) will not caſt away a vertuous man, neyther wil he helpe the vngodly.
21 Thy mouth ſhall bee fill with laughing, and thy lippes with gladneſſe.
22 They alſo that hate thee, ſhall be clothed with ſhame, and the dwelling of the vngodly ſhall come to nought.

The.ix.Chapter.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteouſneſſe is nothing.

a. Anſwered to Eliphas and Bildads orations, confeſſing mans iuſtice to be nothing, being compared to God, as Elyphas ſayde in the fourth Chapter.

b. That is, he ſhal not be able to anſwere one thing for a thouſand, that god can charge him withal.

c. Here foloweth the infinite power of God, whereby doth appeare mans wickedneſſe the more ᵛor, heightes.

d. Theſe be the names of certaine ſtarres, declaring that the powers of heauen are at his commaundement.

e. Though his wonderous workes be before mine eies yet am I not able to comprehende them.

f. Declaring that God doth al things iuſtly, and is vnſearchable in his doings, which not one can controll.

1 IOb (a) anſwered: and ſayde,
2 I knowe it is ſo of a truth: For howe may a man (compared) vnto God, be iuſtified?
3 If he wil argue with him, hee cannot anſwere him (b) one thyng of a thouſande.
4 He is wiſe in hart and mighty in ſtrength: (c) who hath bene fearce agaynſt him, and hath proſpered?
5 He tranſlateth the mountaynes, or euer they be aware, it is he that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.
6 Hee remoueth the earth oute of hir place, that the pillers thereof ſhake withal.
7 He commaundeth the Sunne, and it ryſeth not: he cloſeth vp the ſtarres, as vnder a ſignet.
8 He himſelfe alone ſpreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the ᵛ waues of the ſea.
9 He maketh the waynes of heauen (d) the Oxion, the ſeuen ſtarres, and the ſecrete places of the ſouth.
10 He doeth great things and vnſearchable, yea and wonders without number.
11 Loe, (e) when he goeth by me, I ſhal not ſee him, and when hee paſſeth, I ſhall not perceyue him.
12 If he bee haſtie to take away, who will make him (f) reſtore it? or who will ſaye vnto him, What doeſt thou?
13 God will not withdrawe his anger, and the moſt mightie helpes doe ſtowpe vnder him:
14 How much leſſe ſhall I anſwere him, or how ſhuld I find out my wordes with him?
15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one word again, but meekly ſubmit my ſelfe to him as my iudge.
16 If I had called vpon him, and he had anſwered me. (g) yet would I not beleue that he heard my voyce.
17 Hee troubleth mee ſo wyth the tempeſt, and woundeth me out of meaſure without a cauſe.
18 He wyll not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesſe.
19 If (men will ſpeake) of ſtrength, loe he is ſtrong: if (men will ſpeake) of iudgement, who ſhall bring me in to pleade?
20 If I will iuſtifie my ſelfe, myne owne mouth ſhall condemne me: if I will (put forth my ſelfe for) a perfect man, hee ſhall proue me a wicked doer.
21 For though I bee an innocent, and my cõſcience cleare, yet am I weary of my life.
22 This is one point, and therfore I ſayd, He deſtroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.
23 And thoughe hee ſlaye ſodenly wyth the ſcourge, yet wil he laugh at the punishment of the innocent.
24 As for the world, it is giuen ouer into the hande of the wicked, and he ſhall couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is he, or who is hee (that can ſhew the contrarie?
25 My dayes are more ſwift than a runner, they are gone, and haue ſeene no good thing.
26 They are paſſed away, as the ſhippes that be good vnder ſayle, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.
27 If I ſay, I will forget my complayning, I will ceaſſe from my wrath, and comfort my ſelfe:
28 Then am I afrayed of all my ſorrowes, for I knowe that thou wylt not iudge me innocent.
29 If I be wicked, why then (h) labour I in vaine?
30 If I waſhe my ſelfe with ſnowe water, and make my handes neuer ſo cleane at the Well:
31 Yet ſhalt thou ᵛ dip mee in the myre, and (i) mine owne clothes ſhall defile me.
32 For hee that I muſt giue anſwere vnto, and with whome I goe to the lawe, is not a man as I am:
33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hande betweene vs.
34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no more afrayde of him, 35 And then ſhall I anſwere hym wythout any feare: but becauſe I am not ſo, I hold me ſtill.

g. A miſerable caſe when man is brought to ſuch deſperation, whereas God himſelfe ſayth, before they crie I wil heare them.

The.x.Chapter.

1. Iob is wearie of his lyfe, and ſetteth oute his fragilitie before God. 20. He deſireth hym to ſtay his hande. 22. A deſcription of death.

1 MY (a) ſoule is cutte off though I liue, I wyll powre oute my complaynte agaynſt

a. Leaſt that any are found vnlearned, god is from vs, examples Iob who being cheſt and happieſt al, doth wiſh now to die againſt my ſelfe and wyl ſpeake out of the bytternesse of my ſoule.

2 I will ſay vnto God, Do (b) not condemne me, but ſhewe me, wherefore thou contendeſt ſo with me?

3 Thinkeſt thou it well done to oppreſſe me? to caſt me off, beyng the workes of thy handes? and to (c) mainteyne the counſell of the vngodly?

4 Haſt thou (d) fleſhly eyes? or doeſt thou ſee as a man ſeeketh?

5 Or are thy dayes as the dayes of (e) man? and thy yeeres as mans yeeres?

6 That thou makeſt ſuch inquiſitiō for my wickednesse, and ſearcheſt out my ſinne?

7 Whereas thou knoweſt (f) whether I ſhall do wickedly or no, and that none can deliuer me out of thyne hande.

8 (g) Thy handes haue made me, and faſhioned me altogether rounde about, wilt thou then deſtroy me?

9 Remember, I beſeeche thee, that thou madeſt me as the moulde of the earth, and ſhalt byng me into duſt agayne.

10 Haſte thou not powred mee as it were milke, and turned me to cruddes like cheeſe?

11 Thou haſte couered me with ſkynne and fleſhe, and ioyned me together with bones and ſinowes.

12 Thou haſt graunted me life, and done me good: and thy viſitation hath preſerued my ſpirite.

13 Thou haſt hyd theſe things in thine hart, (yet) I am ſure that thou remembreſt this thyng.

¶ 14 If I dyd ſinne, thou haddeſt an eye vnto me, and ſhalt not pronounce me innocent from mine offence.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo is me therfore: If I haue done righteouſly, yet (h) dare I not lift vp my head, ſo full am I of confuſion, and ſee mine owne miſerie.

16 And let it encreaſe, hunt me as a Lion, and returne and ſhew thy ſelfe marueylous vpon me.

17 Thou bringeſt freſhe "witneſſe agaynſt me, and thy wrath increaſeſt thou vpon me: diuers and many are the plagues that I am in.

18 Wherefore haſte thou brought me out of the wombe? O that I had periſhed, and that no eye had ſeene me, 19 And that I were, as though I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes fewe? Let hym then leaue off from me, and let me alone, that I may comfort my ſelfe a litle,

D 21 Afore I go (thyther from whence) I ſhal not turne agayne, euen to the land of darkneſſe and ſhadowe of death:

22 Yea a land as darke, as darkeneſſe it ſelf, & into the ſhadowe of death where is none order, but the light is there as darkneſſe.

The. xi. Chapter.

1 Iob is vniuſtly reprehended of Sophar. 7. God is incomprehenſible. 14. He is mercifull to the repentant. 18. Their aſſurance that liue godly.

1 THen anſwered Sophar the Naamathite, and ſayde, A

2 Shoulde not (he that maketh) many wordes (a) be anſweared? ſhoulde he that babbleth much, be commended therein?

3 (b) Shoulde thy lies make men holde their peace, and when thou mockeſt (others) ſhal no man make thee aſhamed?

4 For thou haſte ſayde, (c) My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But (d) O that God woulde ſpeake, and open his lippes againſt thee:

6 That he myght ſhewe thee the ſecretes of wyſedome, how thou haſt deſerued double, accordyng to right: Know therefore, that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Art thou able to finde out (the ſecretes of) God? or wilt thou atteyne to the perfectneſſe of the almighty?

8 It is (e) higher than heauen, what art thou able to do? deeper than the hell, howe wylt thou then know it?

9 The meaſure of it, is lōger than ỹ earth, and broder than the ſea.

10 Though he turne al things vpſidedowne, cloſe them in, gather them together, who will turne hym from hys purpoſe?

11 For it is he that (f) knoweth vayne men, he ſeeth their wickednesse alſo, ſhoulde he not then conſider it?

12 Yet vayne man woulde be wyſe, though man (newe) borne, is lyke a wilde Aſſes coult.

13 If thou preparedſt thyne hart, and lyfteſt vp thyne hands towarde him:

14 If thou wouldeſt put away the wickednesse whiche thou haſte in hande, ſo that no vngodlyneſſe dwell in thy houſe:

15 Then mightſt thou (g) lyft vp thy face without "ſhame, and then ſhouldeſt thou be ſure, and haue no neede to feare.

16 Then ſhouldeſt thou forget thy miſerie, and thinke no more vpon it, than vpon the waters that runne by.

17 Then ſhould thy "lyfe be as cleare as the none day, thou ſhouldeſt ſhyne forth, and be as the morning.

a. For not he that ſpeaketh much, but he that ſpeaketh truly, ſpeaketh well.

b. Here Sophar layeth to Iobs charge wordes that he ſpake.

c. Sophar goeth about to proue Iob to be iuſtly plagued. B

d. Iob is reproued in that he ſhould report himſelfe innocēt before God, whiche thing he knoweth not, becauſe gods ſecreté iudgement is vnſearchable.

e. Not onely the outwarde appearāce, but euen the very thoughtes of the hart. Why ſhould not thē a vaine man be afeard to think euill, muche more to do it?

f. Such are the quiet mindes of thoſe that truly repent.

"or, ſpottes.

"or, age.

18 Then mightest thou be bold, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trenche.

19 Then mightest thou lie downe, and none to make thee afrayde, yea many one should make supte vnto thee.

20 As for the eyes of the vngodly, they shall fayle, and they shall not escape: and their hope shal be sorowe of minde.

The.xij. Chapter.

1. Iob accuseth his friendes of ignorance. 7. He declareth the might and power of God. 17. And how he changeth the course of things.

1 SO Iob answeared, and sayde,

2 Then no doubt ye are the men (a) alone, and wisedome shall perish with you.

3 (b) But I haue vnderstandyng as well as ye, & am not inferiour to you: Yea who knoweth not these things?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, & he heareth him: (c) The iust & the vpright, is laughed to scorne:

5 Beyng as a light (d) despised in the thartes of the riche, and as one ready to fal.

6 The houses of (e) robbers are in wealth and prosperitie, and they that maliciously meddle agaynst God, dwell without care, in those things that God hath (f) giuen richly with his hande.

7 Aske the cattayle, (g) and they shall enfourme thee: the foules of the ayre, and they shall tell thee.

8 Or the increase of the earth, and it shal shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall certifie thee.

9 What is he but he knoweth, that the hand of the Lorde made all these?

10 In whose hande is the (h) soule of euery liuyng thyng, & the breath of all mankind, 11 Haue not the eares (i) pleasure in hearing? and the mouth in tastyng the thyng that it eateth?

12 Among (k) olde persons there is wysedome, and in age is vnderstandyng.

13 Yea, with (God) is wisdome & strength, it is he that hath counsell & foreknowledge.

14 Beholde, (l) if he breake downe a thyng, who can set it vp againe? if he shut a thing, who will open it?

15 Beholde, if he withholde the waters, they drye vp: if he let them goe, they destroy the earth.

16 With hym is strength and wysedom: both the deceyuer, and he that is deceyued, are hys.

17 He carieth away the wise men, as it were a spoyle, and bryngeth the iudges out of their wittes.

18 He taketh away the subiection of the people from their kyngs, and gyrdeth their loynes with a bonde.

19 He leadeth away the great men into captiuitie, & turneth the mighty vpside downe.

20 He stoppeth the mouthe of them that speake truth, and dilapoynteth the aged of their reason.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

22 Loke what lieth hydde in darkenesse, he declareth it openly, and the very shadow of death, bryngeth he to light.

23 He (both) increaseth the people, and destroyeth them, he maketh them to multiplie, and diminisheth them.

24 He taketh away the hart of them that be heades of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light, and he maketh them to stacker lyke a drunken man.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16. The penitent shal be saued, and the hypocrite cõdemned. 20. He prayeth vnto God, that he would not handle him rygorously.

1 LOe, (a) all (this) haue I seene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstande it.

2 What ye know, that same do I knowe also, neyther am I inferiour vnto you.

3 Neuertheless, I talke with the almighty, and my desire is to cõmune with God.

4 As for you, ye are worke maisters of lies, and (b) vnprofitable phisitians altogether.

5 Would God ye kept (c) your tongue, for then might ye be taken for wise men.

6 Nowe heare my (d) reasonyng, and ponder the argument of my lippes.

7 Will you speake wickedly for goddes (defence) and talke deceitfully for his (cause?)

8 Will ye accept the person of him? for will ye

d. That is, as he that despiseth the light in the night season may soone stũble, so they that refuse the afflicted which shyne before Gods face, doo get to themselues his wrath to their perill.
e. The robbers are in prosperitie, & iust men in aduersitie, which Iob meaneth by the Arabiãs, that robbed him of his cattell, as before is sayde.
f. The Hebrues read, to whom God hath brought in with his hãd.
g. For euen the cataple and al creatures do declare Gods power, as it is sayde, The heauens declare the glory of God.

i. Can not I discerne your wordes, as the meate is tried by the taste, and holsome counsel by hearyng of it.

11 Shall not hys excellencie make you afrayde? Shal not his terrible feare fall vpon you?
12 Your (c) remembraunce is lyke vnto a " sparke, and your bodyes like the clay.
13 Holde your tongues for my sake, that I also may speake, and my sorow shal be the lesse.

23 Howe many are my misdeedes and sinnes? lette me knowe my transgressions and offences.
24 Wherefore hydeſt thou thy face, and holdeſt me for thyne enimie?
25 Wylt thou breake a leafe dryuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?
26 For thou layeſt sharply to my charge, and punisheſt me for the sinnes of my youth.
27 Thou putteſt my feete also in the stockes, and lookeſt narowly vnto all my pathes, and makeſt the " pynt thereof in the heeles of my feete:
28 And I as a rotten thing dow consume away, as a garment that is motheaten.

The.xiiij.Chapter.

1. Iob describeth the shortneſſe and miſerie of the lyfe of man. 14. Hope sustayneth the godly. 22. The condition of mans lyfe.

1 MAn that is (a) borne of a woman, hath but a shorte tyme to lyue, and is full of miſerie.
2 He commeth vp, and is cut downe (b) like a flowre: he fleeth as it were a shadow, and neuer continueth in one state.
3 Doeſt thou (c) open thyne eyes vpon such one, and bryngeſt me into thy iudgement?
4 Who can make it cleane, that commeth of an vncleane thyng? no body.
5 The dayes of man surely are determined, the number of hys monethes are knowen onely vnto thee, thou haſt appoynted him his bondes, whiche he can not goe beyonde.
6 Goe from hym, that he may reſt vntill his day come whiche he looketh for, lyke as an hyrelyng doeth.
7 For if a tree be cut down, there is (d) some hope yet that it wyl sproute and shoote forth the branches agayne.
8 Though the roote of it be waxen old: and the stocke thereof be dead in the grounde:
9 Yet when it getteth the sent of water, it will budde and bryng forth bowes, lyke as a tree that is planted.
10 (e) But as for man, when he is dead, perished, and consumed away, what becommeth of hym?
11 As the waters paſſe from the sea, and as the floud decayeth and drieth vp?
12 So man, after he is aſleepe, ryseth not, he shall not wake, till the heauens be no more, nor ryſe out of his sleepe.
13 O that thou wouldeſt hyde mee in the graue, and keepe me secrete, vntil thy wrath were paſt, and to appoynt me a time wherein thou mightest remember me.
14 May a dead man lyue agayne? All the dayes of my lyfe, wyl I wayte still, till my chaungyng shal come.
15 Thou shalt (f) call (me) and I shall answeare thee, " deſpiſe not thou the worke of thine owne handes.
16 For nowe thou (g) numbreſt all my goings, and giueſt no delay vnto my sinne.
17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as it were in a bagge, and thou addeſt (punishment) vnto my wickednesse.
18 The mountaynes fall away at the laſt, the rockes are remoued out of theyr place.
19 The waters pearse through the very stones by litle and litle, the flouddes waſhe away the grauel and earth: so shalt thou destroy the hope of man.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. Eliphas reprehendeth Iob, bycause he ascribeth wysedome and pureneſſe to hym selfe. 16. He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of that number.

ℵ 1 Then answeared Eliphas the Themanite, and sayde,

2 Shall a wyse mans answeare be as the wind, and fill a mans belly as it were with the (a) wynde of the east?

a. Woordes to no effect spoken, are likened to the east wynde, whiche drieth vp the moysture, as soone as it ſ lleth: So foolish wordes vainly perishe, assoone as they be spoken.

3 Shall he reprowue with a woorde that is nothing woorth, and speake the things which can dow no good?

4 Surely thou hast caste off feare, and restraynest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth setteth forth thyne owne iniquitie, seyng thou hast chosen the tong of the craftie.

6 (b) Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thyne owne lippes shape an answeare agaynst thee.

b. Eliphas chargeth Iob vncharitably.

ℶ 7 (c) Art thou the first man that euer was borne? or wast thou made before the hils?

c. That is, art thou so auncient, that all wisedome is in thy head?

9 What knowest thou, that we know not? and what vnderstandest thou, but wee can the same?

e. So reale, answering him at thy pleasure: the Hebrue is, answearyng him in thy spirite.

13 That thy minde is so (e) puft vp agaynst God, and lettest suche woordes goe out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he whiche is borne of a woman, wherby he might be righteous?

ℭ 15 Beholde, he doeth not truſt hys sainctes, yea the very heauens are not cleane in hys sight:

16 Howe muche more then an abominable and vile man, whiche drinketh wickednesse lyke water.

17 I wyll tell thee, heare mee, and I wyll (f) shewe thee that I haue seene:

18 Whiche wyse men haue tolde, and haue not hyd that whiche they receyued frō theyr fathers.

19 Vnto whom alone the earth was giuen, and no stranger went among them.

20 The (g) vngodly soroweth all the dayes of his life, as it were a woman with childe, and the (h) number of a tyrantes yeres is vnknowen.

21 A fearefull sounde is (euer) in hys eares, and when he is in peace, the destroyer shall come vpon hym.

22 He beleeueth neuer to be deliuered (i) out of darkenesse: for the swoorde is alwaies before his eyes.

23 He wandreth abroade for bread when it is, knowyng that the (k) day of darkenesse is ready at his hande.

24 Trouble and anguishe wyll make hym afrayde, and compasse him aboute, as a kyng in the middest of an armie.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and armed hym selfe agaynst the almightie.

26 He runneth proudely vpon him, and with a stiffe necke fighteth he agaynst him.

27 Whereas he (l) coureth his face with fatnesse, and maketh his body well liking.

28 Therefore shall his (m) dwelling be in desolate cities, and in houses whiche no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes of stones.

29 He (n) shall not be riche, neyther shall his substance continue, neyther shall the prosperitie thereof be prolonged vpon earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse, the flame (o) shall dryue vp his branches, with the blast of the mouth (of God) shall he be taken away.

31 He beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie, and yet vanitie shal be his recompence.

32 He shall perishe afore his time be worne out, and (p) his branche shal not be greene.

33 He shall be plucked off as an vntimely grape from the vine, and shal let his flowre fall as the Oline doeth.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrites shal be desolate, & the fyre shall consume the houses of such as are gredy to receiue gifts.

35 He cōceyueth trauayle, and beareth vanitie, and their body bringeth forth deceyte.

The.xvi.Chapter.

1. Iob moued by the importunacie of his friendes, 7. counteth in what extremitie he is, 19. and taketh God witnesse of his innocencie.

3 "Shal not vayne wordes come yet to an end? Or what maketh thee bolde so to answeare?
4 I could speake as ye dow also: but would God that your (b) soule were in my soules stede, then could I frame wordes for you, and shake my head at you:
5 I should comfort you with my mouth, and release your payne with the talkyng of my lippes.
6 For al my wordes, my sorow will not cease: and (c) though I holde my tongue, what am I eased?
7 But now that (God) hath sent me aduersitie, thou haste troubled al (d) my congregation.
8 And that thou (e) haste filled me with wrynkles my flesh is record, and my leanenesse riseth vp against me, and beareth witnesse thereof in my face.
9 His wrath hath torne (me,) he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enimie loketh fiercely vppon me with hys eyes.
10 They haue opened theyr mouthes wyde vpon me, and (f) smitten me vpon the cheeke dispytefully, they gather themselues together against me.
11 God hath shut me vp with the vngodly, and deliuered me (g) into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, he hath al to shaken me, and set mee as a marke for himselfe, 13 His (h) archers compasse me round about, he woundeth my reynes, & doeth not spare, my bowels hath he powred vppon the grounde.
14 He hath giuen me one wounde vpon another, and is fallen vpon me lyke a giant.
15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skin, and wallowed my head in the dust.
16 My face is wythered with weepyng, and in myne eyes is the shadow of death, 17 Howbeit, there is (i) no wickednesse in my hands, but (k) my prayer is cleane.
18 O earth couer not thou my blood, and let (l) my crying finde no rome.
19 For loe, (m) my witnesse is in heaue, and he that knoweth me, is in the heyght.
20 My friendes gyue me many wordes to scorne, and myne eye powreth out teares vnto God.
21 O that a body might pleate with God, as one man doeth with another:
22 Yet the number of my yeeres is come, & the way that I must goe is at hande, from whence I shall not turne agayne.

The.xvij. Chapter.

1. Iob sayeth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abyde it. 10. He exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13. shewyng that he looketh but for death.

1 My breath is corrupt, my dayes are shortned, I am harde at deaths dore.
2 (a) "Frowarde men are with mee, and mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.
3 O deliuer me, and (b) loke out one to be my suretie in thy sight: what is he that knoweth who will promyse for me?
4 For thou hast withholden their hartes (c) from vnderstandyng, therefore shalte thou not set (them) vp on high.
5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friende, the eyes of his chyldren shall fayle.
6 He hath made me a byworde of the people, where as afore I was theyr ioy.
7 Myne eye is dimme for very beauinesse, and al my strength is lyke a shadowe.
8 Vertuous men therfore shall well consider this, and the innocent shall take parte against the hypocrite.
9 The righteous also wyll (d) keepe hys way, and he that hath cleane handes wil euer be stronger and stronger.
10 As for all you, turne you, and "get you hence (I pray you) seeyng I can not finde one wyse man among you.
11 My dayes are paste, and my counsayles and thoughtes of my harte are vanished away, 12 (e) Chaungyng the night into day, and the light approchyng into darkenesse.
13 (f) Though I tarry neuer so muche, yet the graue is my house, & I haue made my bed in the darke.
14 I sayde to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the wormes, You are my mother: and my sister.
15 (g) Where is then now my hope? for who hath considered the thing that I looke for? These shall goe downe with me into the pit, and lie with me in the dust.

The. xix. Chapter.

1. Iob reproueth his friends, 15. and reciteth his miseries and greeuous paynes. 25. He assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

1 IOb answeared and sayde,

2 Howe long wyll ye vexe my soule, and trouble me with wordes?

3 Loe, (a) ten tymes haue ye reproched me, and are not ashamed, but haue laughed me to scorne.

4 Be it that I haue erred in deede, myne (b) errour then remayneth with my selfe.

5 But if ye will aduaunce your selues agaynst me, & rebuke me for the shame that is come vpon me:

6 Knowe this then, that it is God which hath ouerthrowen me, and hath compalled me with his net.

7 If I complayne of the violence that is done vnto me, I can not be heard: and if I cry, there is no sentence gyuen with me.

The.xx. Chapter.

1. Sophar sheweth that the wycked and the couetous shal haue a short end, 22. though for a tyme they florish.

1 Then answeared Sophar the Naamathite, and sayde,
2 For the same cause do (a) my thoughts compell me to answeare, and therfore make hast.
3 I haue sufficiently heard the (b) checkyng of my reproofe, therefore the spirite of myne vnderstandyng causeth me to answere.
4 Knowest thou not this of olde, and since God plagued man vpon earth,
5 (c) That the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene shorte, and that the ioy of hypocrites continued but the twincklyng of an eye?
6 Though he be magnified vp to the heauen, so that hys head reacheth vnto the cloudes:
7 Yet at a (d) turne he perisheth for euer, in somuch that they whiche haue seene him, shal say, Where is he?
8 He shall vanishe as a dreame, so that he can no more be found, and shal passe away as a vision in the night.
9 So that the eye whiche sawe hym before, shall haue no more sight of hym, and hys place shall "know hym no more.
10 His chyldren shal be fayne to agree with the poore, and hys handes shall restore theyr goodes.
11 From hys youth his bones are (e) full of pleasures, but now shal it lye downe with-in hym in the "earth.
12 When wickednesse was (f) sweete in his mouth, he hyd it vnder his tongue.
13 That he fauoured, that would he not forsake, but kept it close in hys throte.
14 The breade that hee dyd eate, is turned to the (g) poyson of serpentes within hys body.
15 The ryches that he deuoured, shall he parbreake agayne: for God shall drawe them out of his belly.
16 He shal sucke the (h) galle of serpents, and the adders tongue shall slay him:
17 So that he shal no more see the (i) riuers, and brookes of honie and butter.
18 The thyng he hath laboured for, shall he restore, and (k) shall not eate of it: greate trauayle shal he make for riches, but he shal not enioy them.
19 And why? bee hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath he spoyled, and not buylded them.
20 Bycause he could not perceyue when his belly was well, through hys greedy desire, he shall not escape.
21 There (l) shall none of his meate be left, therfore shall no man looke for hys goodes.
22 When he hadde plenteousnesse of euery thing, yet was he poore, though he was helped on euery side.
23 And it shall come to passe, that wherewith he purposed to fill hys belly, God shal powre the furie of hys wrath thereon, and shall cause hys indignation to raygne vpon hym, and vpon his meate.
24 He shall flee from the iron weapon, & the bowe of steele shal stryke hym through.
25 The (arrow) is taken forth, and gone out of the quyuer, and a glisteryng swoorde through the gal of him, so feare shall come vpon him.
26 All darkenesse shal be hyd in theyr secrete places, (m) an vnkyndeled fyre shall consume hym: and looke what remayneth in his house, it shal be destroyed.
27 The heauen shall (n) declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall take part agaynst hym.
28 The substance that he hath in hys house, shal be taken away, and perishe in the day of the Lordes wrath.
29 This is the portion that the wicked man shall haue of God, and the heritage that he may looke for of GOD, bycause of hys wordes.

i. That is, he shal wat Gods blessyng, so that when all men haue abundance, he shall want.
k. For il gotten goodes God wyl soone take away, and restore to the from whom they were craftily spoyled & rauened.

The.xxi.Chapter.

1. Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15. in so much that they blaspheme God. 16. Their destruction is at hande. 23. None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neyther good for prosperitie.

A 1 IOb answeared, and sayde,
2 O heare diligently my wordes, and that shal be in steede of your consolations, 3 Suffer me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
a. As though he should say, my cause is before God, whom I can not escape, and not before you.
4 Is it for (a) mans sake that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirite then be in sore trouble?
b. That is, keepe scilence.
5 Marke me (wel) and be abashed, and (b) lay your hande vpon your mouth.
6 For when I consider (my selfe) I am afrayde, and my flesh is smitten with feare.
c. Iob prooueth agaynst Sophar, that the wicked are in prosperitie, not meanyng to conteine the sentences before which are true: but Sophars misconstruyng of them is opened.
7 Wherfore (c) do wicked men lyue, come to theyr olde age, and encrease in ryches?
8 Theyr "chyldren lyue in theyr sight, and theyr generation before theyr eyes.
"or, seede.
9 Theyr houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Theyr bullocke gendreth, and that not out of time, theyr cowe calueth, and is not vnfruitfull.
11 They sende forth theyr children by flockes, and theyr sonnes (leade the) daunce.
12 They beare with them tabrets and harps, and reioyce in the sounde of the organs.
13 They spende theyr dayes in wealthynesse, but (d) sodaynely they goe downe to the graue.
d. Not being plagued with long sicknesse.
14 They say also vnto God, (e) Goe fro vs, we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
e. They say this, not with tongue, but by the wickednes and impietie of their hart they seeme so to say 15 Who is the almyghtie, that we shoulde serue hym? And what profite shoulde we haue, if we should pray vnto hym?
16 Loe, there is vtterly no goodnesse in theyr hande, therefore wyl I not haue to do with the counsayle of the vngodly.
17 How oft shal the (f) candle of the wicked be put out, and theyr destruction come vpon them? Or what sorow shal God gyue them for theyr part in hys wrath?
f. That is, theyr great felicitie and wealth.
18 Yea, they shall be euen as hay before the wynde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.
19 God wyl lay vp the sorowe of the father for his children: and when he rewardeth hym, he shal know it.
20 Theyr owne miserie shall they see with theyr eyes, and drynke of the fearefull wrath of the almightie.
D 21 For what careth he for hys house after his death, when the (g) number of his moneths is cut short:
g. For the wicked thinke, and that not vainly, that the vse and course of thinges continue for euer, and neuer haue ende.
22 Seeyng God hath the byghest power of al, who can teache hym any knowledge?
23 (h) One dieth in hys full strength, beyng in al ease and prosperitie,
h. Meaning that the wicked are not plagued for their faith, but for their not feare of God.
24 His breastes are full of mylke, and hys bones runne full of marowe.
25 Another dyeth in the (i) bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
i. And so doeth the godly plagued and punished in the worlde.
26 They shall sleepe both alyke in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.
27 Beholde, (k) I knowe what yee thynke, yea, and the subtiltie that ye imagine agaynst me.
k. How you can not hurt God with your thoughtes.
28 For ye say, (l) Where is the princes pallace? and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?
l. That is, you meanyng to proue by the godly, that the wicked are plagued, you call Iobs house the princes pallace, by ironie and mocking.
29 Haue ye not asked them that goe by the way? Doubtlesse ye can not denie theyr tokens.
30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and the vngodly shal be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who (m) dare declare his way to his face? who wyl rewarde hym for that he doth?
m. Perfect children indeede, when wicked prosperitie, what they come to, they dare not speake.
32 Yet shall he be brought to hys graue, and dwell among the heape (of the dead.)
33 Then shall the (n) slimie valley be sweete vnto him, al men also must folow hym, as there are innumerable gone before hym.
n. That is, the graue.
34 Howe vayne then is the comfort that ye giue me, seeyng falshod remayneth in all your answeares?

The.xxij.Chapter.

2. Eliphas affyrmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6. He accuseth him of vnmercyfulnesse, 13. and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21. He exhorteth him to repentance.

1 THen (a) Eliphas the Themanite gaue answeare, and sayde, a. The second course of chapters in man comparing to God, and iust and sore ouerthrowing repent.
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wyse may be profitable vnto him selfe?
3 Is it any aduantage to the almightie that thou art righteous? Or shal it profite hym that thou makest thy wayes perfect?
4 Is he afrayde to reproue thee, and to strip forth with thee into iudgement?
b. They not that had offended, but they must be reckoned good, which 5 Is (b) not thy wickednesse great, and thy vngratious deedes innumerable?
6 For thou (c) hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and robbed the naked of theyr clothyng.
c. Thus he accuseth Iob for his sinnes, so muche as for to proue hym, before al theyr conclusions are false.

8 But the mightie man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widdowes away emptie, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore art thou (d) compassed about with snares, and sodenly vexed with feare.
11 Shouldest thou then see no (e) darknesse?
shoulde not the water flodde runne ouer

12 Is not God on high in the heauen? be-

13 Wilt thou therfore say, Tush, how should God know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?
14 Tushe, the cloudes couer him that hee may not see, and hee walketh on the toppe of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the worlde, wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 Which were cut downe out of tyme, and whose (f) foundation was as an ouerflowing ryuer.
17 Whyche sayde vnto God, Goe from vs: and asked what the almightie could doe for them.
18 He fylled theyr houses with good thyngs:
but the counsayle of the vngodly bee farre from me.
19 The righteous saw it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scorne.
20 Is our substance hewen downe? As for the remnant of them, (g) the fyre hathe con-

21 Therefore (h) reconcile thee vnto God and be at peace, so shall all things prosper wyth thee ryght well.
22 Receyue I pray thee ỹ lawe at his mouth, and lay vp his wordes in thyne hart.
23 For if thou wylte turne to the almightie, thou shalte bee buylt vp, and put all vnryghtwisnesse from thy dwelling.
24 Thou shalt lay vp golde (as plentifull) as the dull, and the golde of Ophir as the flints of the ryuers.
25 Yea almightie God his owne selfe shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of syluer.
26 Then shalte thou haue thy delyght in the almightie, and lyft vp thy face vnto God.
27 Then shalte thou make thy prayer vnto hym, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalte keepe thy promises.
28 Thou shalte also decree a thyng, and hee shall establishe it vnto thee, and the (i) lyghte shall shyne in thy wayes.
29 When (the wicked) be cast downe, thou shalt say, I am lyfted vp, and God shall saue the humble person.
30 The innocent shall delyuer the Iland: (k) it shall be preserued by the pureneſſe of thine
handes.

The.xxiij. Chapter.

2. Iob affyrmeth that hee both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, and that hee is not punished onely for his synnes.

1 IOb answered and sayde,
2 Thoughe my talke be this day in (a) bitternesse, and my plague greater than my groning.
3 O that I (b) myghte knowe him and fynde him, and that I might come before his seat.
4 I woulde pleade my cause before him, and fill my mouth with argumentes:
5 I would know what answere he woulde giue me, and vnderstande what he woulde say vnto me.
6 Will he pleade agaynst me with his great power? No, but hee will make mee the stronger.
7 There the righteous might dispute wyth him, so shoulde I bee delyuered for euer from my iudge.
8 Beholde, though I goe forwarde, I finde him not: If I goe backewarde, I can get no knowledge of him:
9 If I goe on the left syde where he doth hys worke, I can not attayne vnto him: Agayn, if I goe on the ryght syde he hydeth hymselfe, that I can not see hym.
10 But as for my way, hee knoweth it, and trieth me, ỹ as the golde I may come forth.
11 My (c) foote doeth keepe his path, his hygh way haue I holden, and will not goe out of it, 12 I will not forsake the commaundemente of hys lyppes, I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more thã mine appoynted food.
13 He is still at one poynte, and (d) who can turne him? he doeth as hym listeth, and bringeth to passe what he will.
14 He (e) performeth the thyng that is appoynted for mee, and many suche thynges doeth he.
15 This is the cause that I shrinke at his presence, so that when I consyder hym, I am afrayde of hym.
16 For God maketh my hart (f) soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare.
17 Because I am not (g) cut off before the darknesse, neyther hath he couered the (h) cloude from my face.

A
a. In this chapter is expressed how hard, yea, how impossible it is to come to God, without a mediatour.
b. Iob beyng admonished before to returne to God, sayth, If I should come to hym, where is he, or where might I fynde hym to pleade my cause before hym.
B
c. That is, Gods wayes, proouing therfore hym selfe not to deserue such greeuous plagues and afflictions for his faultes.
d. For God is immutable, and his decrees stand fast.
e. That is, he hath decreed thus to punish me appoynted hereunto, although I can not atteyne to the secrete iudgement of God therein, and therefore I do feare hys presence.
f. That is, maketh it so weak that it cannot but be in feare
g. Out of paynes, troubles, and afflictions.
h. That is, cleared my eys that I may see the ende of my troubles.
k. The place fareth the better, where the ryghteou are.

The.xxiiij.Chapter.

1. Iob describeth the wyckednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12. Howe all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17. and the destruction of the wycked.

1 (a) Consideryng then that there is no tyme hyd from the almightie, how happeneth it that they which know him, do not regarde hys dayes?

2 For some men remoue the lande markes, robbe men of theyr cattel, and feede of the same:

3 They driue away the Asse of the fatherlesse, and take the wyddowes ore for a pledge:

4 They cause the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hyde themselues togither,

5 Beholde, as wylde (b) asses in the desart goe they forth to theyr worke, and ryse betymes to spoyle: Yea the very (c) wyldernesse ministreth fode for them and their children.

6 They reape the corne fielde that is not theyr owne, and let the vineyarde of the vngodly alone.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, & without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and embrace the rocke for want of a couerynge.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge from the poore.

10 They let him goe naked without clothyng, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungrie.

11 The poore are fayne to labour in theyr oyle myllis, yea & to treade in theyr wine presses, and yet to suffer thyrst.

12 Men out of the citie crye vnto the Lorde with syghing, the soules of the slayne also crye out, yet God regardeth not theyr complaynt.

13 Whereas they are conuersant among them that abhorre the light, they knowe not hys way, nor continue in hys pathes.

14 The murderer ryseth early, and kylleth the poore and needie, and in the night is as a theefe.

15 The (d) eye of the adulterer wayteth for the darkenesse, and sayth, There shall no eye see me: and disguyseth hys face.

16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselues in the day tyme: they know not the light.

17 The morning is to them euen as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

18 (The vngodly) is swifte vpon the water: their portion shall be cursed in the earth, and he shal not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the dry grounde and (e) heate consume the snowie waters: so shall the graue the sinners.

20 The (f) pitifull man shall forget him, he shall be sweete to the wormes, he shall be no more remembred, and hys wickednesse shall be broken as a tree.

21 He hath oppressed the barren that can not beare, and vnto the wyddowe hath he done no good.

22 He (g) drewe the mightie after hym with hys power, and when he was gotten vp, no man was sure of lyfe.

23 And though they gaue hym to be in safetie, yet hys eyes are vpon theyr wayes.

24 They are exalted for a litle, but (shortly) are gone, brought to pouertie, and taken out of the way, yea, and vtterly plucke off, as the eares of corne.

25 Is (h) it not so? Who wyll then reproue me as a lyar, and say, that my wordes are nothyng worth?

a. This speaketh Iob in his extreeme passions, according to worldly wit in mans feeble nature, whiche is foolishnesse before god, whereby he woulde prooue, that God considereth not the times.

b. The cursed cruelnie of tyrantes towarde the poore.

c. That is, by robberie and theft.

d. Not onely the tyrant, but also the adulterer escapeth free, and is not corrected.

The.xxv.Chapter.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

1 Then answeared Bildad the Suhite, and sayde,

2 Is there (a) power and feare with hym aboue, that maketh (b) peace sittyng in hys hyghnesse?

3 Is there any number of hys (c) armies, and vpon whom shall not hys light aryse?

4 (d) But howe may a man, compared vnto God, be iustified? Or howe can he be cleane that is borne of a woman?

5 Beholde, the Mone shyneth nothyng in comparyson to him, and the Starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 Howe muche more then man that is but "corruption, and the sonne of man which is but a wormet?

a. Bildad would haue him confesse his power.

b. The peace of the godly.

c. Gods armies.

d. No man can be iustified before God.

e. Although such blessednesse and prosperitie be in the wicked, yet it is but for a time.

f. The godly shall be had in remembrance.

g. The wicked when they haue power, they vse it to oppression.

h. Iob confesseth that he hath spoken the truth.

are darke, cõpared to him, and how much more man, in sinne and corruption, and beyng but a worme

The.xxvi.Chapter.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his myracles.

1 Iob answeared, and sayde,

2 (a) Whom hast thou holpen? hym that is without strength? hast thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Where is the counsell that thou shouldest geue him which hath no wisedome? hast thou neyther comforteth him, beyng voyde of counsell thou shewed the way of right lyuing?

4 To whome hast thou spoken these wordes? who made the breathe to come out of thy mouth?
5 (b) Are not dead things shapen vnder the waters, and things by the waters syde?
6 (c) He is naked before him, and the very destruction it selfe can not be hidde out of hys syght.
7 He stretcheth out the North ouer the empty place, and (d) hangeth the earth vpon nothyng.
8 He bindeth the water in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.
9 (e) He holdeth backe the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloude before it.
10 He hathe compassed the waters with certayne boundes, (f) vntill the day and nyghte come to an ende.
11 The (g) very pillers of heauen tremble and quake at his reprofe.
12 He stilleth the sea with his power, and thorough his wisedome smiteth he the strength thereof.
13 His spirite hath (h) garnished the heauens, and his hande hathe made (i) the crooked serpente.
14 Lo, this is nowe a (k) short summe of his wayes: but howe little a portion heare we of him? who can vnderstand the thunder of his power?

b. For though these few creatures, called Lacteus circulus. k. For though these few things of his power be wonderful, yet they are nothing in comparison of the rest of his works, which mās capacitie can not reach to.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

3. The constancie & perfectnesse of Iob. 13. The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

1 AND Iob proceeded and went forthe in his parable, saying,
2 (a) As God lyueth, which hath taken away my iudgement, and the almighty that hathe (b) vexed my minde:
3 Whyle my breath is in me, (c) and ỹ wind that God hath giuen me, is in my nostrels.
4 My lippes shal talke of no vanitie, and my tong shall speake no deceyt.
5 God forbid that I shoulde graunt youre cause to be right: as for me, vntill mine ende come, will (d) I neuer goe fro mine innocēcie.
6 My righteous dealing keepe I fast, whiche I will not forsake: my hart shall not reprowe me (e) of my dayes.
7 Therefore (f) mine enimie shall bee founde as the vngodly, and he that taketh parte agaynst me, as the vnrighteous.
8 For (g) what hope hathe the hypocrite though he haue great good, if God take away his soule?
9 Will (h) God heare his crie, when trouble commeth vpon him?
10 Hathe he suche pleasure and delight in the almighty, (i) that he dare alway call vppon God?
11 I will teache you in the "name of God, and the thing of the almighty will I not keepe from you.
12 (k) Beholde, all ye your selues haue seene it, why then do ye thus vanish in vanitie?
13 Saying, (l) This is the portion that the wicked haue of God, and the heritage that tyrantes shal receyue of the almighty.
14 If he geat many children, they shall perish with the sworde, and his posteritie shall haue scarsenesse of bread.
15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.
16 Though he (m) heape vp syluer as ỹ dust, and prepare rayment as the clay:
17 He maye well prepare it, but the godly shall put it on, and the innocent shall deale out the money.
18 He (n) buyldeth his house as the moth, and as a booth that the watchman maketh.
19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not bee gathered (to his fathers,) they opened their eyes, and he was gone.
20 Terrour taketh holde vpon him (o) as a water flood, and the tempest stealeth him away in the night season.
21 A (p) vehement East winde taketh hym hence and he departeth: a storme hurleth him out of his place.
22 God shal cast vpō him, & not spare, though he would fayne flee out of his hande.
23 Then clappe men their hands at him, and hisse at him out of his place.

g. What auayleth it a mā if he gaine all the world, and loose hys owne soule? h. Wee haue no greater gift of God, than the spirite of prayer, whereby if we pray, God doeth here vs. i. The hypocrite neyther trusteth nor praieth to god, yea though hee pray, God wyll not heare him. "or, hande. k. Gods secrete works is layde before you, and yet your blindnesse will not permit you to see it. l. That is, not only the wicked shall be plagued, but also their posteritie shall be rooted out. m. As it is said in the law, thou shalte build an house, and not dwell in it thy selfe, whych is the plague of the wicked. n. Meaning it shal be weake, of small estimation: and being lothed, shall soone decay. o. That is, most abundantly. p. That is, he shall sodenly be blowen away by death, nor after death shall he be honorably buried: and this is the ende of the tyrantes.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

Iob sheweth that the wysedome of God is vnsearcheable.

1 THere is a (a) place where syluer is brought out of, and wher gold is tried.
2 Where iron is digged out of the grounde, and (b) stones resolued to metall.
3 (c) The darknesse shall once come to an ende: he can seeke out ỹ ground of all things, the stones, the darke, and the shadowe of death.

a. Iob prouoketh here, that though men attayne to many secretes of nature, yet they are neuer able to reache to the wisdom of God, whiche is vnsearcheable.

b. For brasse and lead groweth in the stones, which being mined vp, is called ore: and by vehemēt fyre molten, the metall is separate from the stones. c. Here he describeth Gods secret works, thereby meaning, that all things shall haue an ende, sauing the vnsearcheable wisedome of God.

4 Hee cauſed the ſtoodes to breake out againſte the inhabitante, and the waters forgotten of the foote, being higher than man, are gone away.

5 (d) Out of the ſame earth commeth bread, and vnder it as it were fyre is turned vp.

6 The (e) ſtones of it, are a place of Saphires, and the duſt of it is golde.

7 There is a way that the birdes knowe not, that no vultures eye hath ſeene:

8 Wherein the Lions whelpes walke not, and where no Lion commeth.

9 (There) (f) putteth he his hande vppon the ſtonie rockes, and ouerthroweth the mountaynes by the rootes.

10 Riuers flowe out of the rockes, and loke what is pleaſant, his eye ſeeth it.

11 He bindeth the ſtoodes that they do not ouerflowe: and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 Where then is wiſedome found? and (g) where is the place of vnderſtanding?

13 Verily no man can tell how (h) worthy a thing ſhe is, neyther is ſhe found in the lande of them that lyue.

14 The deepe ſayth, She is not in me: the ſea ſayth, She is not with me.

15 She can not bee gotten for golde, neyther may the price of hir be bought with any ſyluer.

16 No (i) wedges of golde of Ophir, no pretious (k) Onix ſtones, no Saphires may be valued with hir.

17 No, neyther golde nor chriſtall ſhall be equall vnto it, nor hir exchange ſhall bee for the plate of fine golde.

18 No mention ſhall be made of Coxall, nor of the Gabis, for wiſdome is more pretious than pearles.

19 The (l) Topas of Ethiopia ſhall not bee equall vnto it, neyther ſhall it bee valued with the wedge of pure golde.

20 Whence then commeth wiſedome? and where is the place of vnderſtanding?

21 She is hidde from the eyes of all men lyuing, yea and from the foules of the "ayre.

22 Deſtruction and death ſay, We haue heard the fame therof with our eares.

23 But God feeth hir way, and knoweth hir place.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of the worlde, & looketh vpon all that is vnder heauen.

25 When he wayed the windes, and meaſured the waters:

26 When he made a decree for the rayne, and a way for the lightnings of the thunder:

27 Then did hee ſee hir, then declared he hir, prepared hir, and knew hir.

28 And vnto man he ſayde, (m) To feare the Lorde is wiſedome, and to forſake euill, is vnderſtanding.

d. As the frutefull fieldes tilled and plowed bringeth forth corne: ſo it being deepely digged, there are foũd ſtones, out of the whiche fyre is ſtroken.

e. The Saphires do ſhine wyth golden points, ſo that here by Saphires is meant cloddes of golde. All theſe things are founde, but Gods wiſdome who can reach?

f. Here he ſheweth Gods power: the earthe may be digged, hilles ouerthrowen, a fountayne made among ſtones, riuers turned from theyr courſe: but gods wiſedome is not to be founde.

g. Gods wiſedome is partly ſeene in theſe worldly things, but his heauenly wiſedome and ſecrete iudgement, is hidde and vnknowen to all men.

h. That is, it paſſeth mans capacitie to attayne to it.

i. Ophir is the region by Ganges the riuer of India, ſo called of Ophir the ſonne of Laketan, who poſſeſſed the ſame with his children.

k. Thys ſtone is found in Gãges the riuer of India.

l. Thus the wiſdome of Gods maieſtie doth farre excell all things.

m. Meaning by this, that man hath ſo muche of this excelling wiſedome of God, as he doth ſhew in vertue of liuing, due obedience, and feare of him.

The. xxix. Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth of the proſperitie of the time paſt. 7. His auctoritie, 12. iuſtice, and equitie.

1 SO Iob proceeded, and wente forth in his parable, ſaying,

2 O that I were, as I was in the moneths by paſt, and in the dayes when God preſerued me:

3 When his (a) lighte ſhined vpon my head, when I wente after the ſame light and ſhining, euen through the darkneſſe.

4 As it ſtoode with mee when I was yong, when God proſpered my houſe:

5 When the almightie was yet with me, when my children ſtood about me:

6 When my wayes (b) ranne ouer wyth butter, and when the ſtonie rockes gaue mee riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgemente ſeate, and when I prepared my ſeate in the ſtreete:

8 The (c) yong men ſawe mee, and hydde them ſelues, and the (d) aged aroſe, and ſtoode vp.

9 The (e) princes left off their talking, and layd their hand to their mouth:

10 The mighty kepte ſtill their voyce, and theyr tongue cleaued to the roofe of theyr mouth.

11 When the eare heard me, it bleſſed me: and when the eye ſawe mee, it gaue witneſſe to me:

12 For I (f) deliuered the poore when hee cried, and the fatherleſſe, and him that had none to help him.

13 The bleſſing of him that was ready to periſhe, came vpon me, and I cauſed the wydowes hart to reioyce.

14 And why? I put vpon me righteouſneſſe, whiche couered me as a (g) garment, and equitie was my crowne.

15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poore: and when I knewe not the cauſe, I ſought it out diligently.

17 I brake the (h) iawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the ſpoyle out of hys teeth.

18 Then I ſayde, I ſhall dye in my (i) neſt: and I ſhall multiplye my dayes as the ſande.

19 For

19 For my (k) rote was spread out by the water syde: and the (l) deawe lay vpon my
" come.
20 Myne honoure encreased more and more, and my bowe was" euer the stronger in my hande.
21 Unto me men gaue eare, mee they regarded, and with silence they taryed for my counsell.
22 After my words they replyed not, and my talke dropped vpon them.
23 They (m) waited for me as for the rayne: and gaped vpon me, as (the ground doeth to receyue) the latter shoure,
24 When I laughed, they beleeued it not, and the lyght of my countenance wouldo they not put out.
25 When I agreed vnto their way, I was the chiefe, and sate as a king with his armie about him: and when they were in heauines, I was theyr comfortour.

The.xxx.Chapter.

1. Iob complayneth that hee is contemned of the most contemptible, 11. 21. bycause of hys aduersitie and affliction. 23. Deathe is the house of all flesshe.

1 But (a) now they that are yonger than I haue me in derision: yea euen they whose fathers I would haue thought scorne to haue set with the dogges of my cattell.
2 For whereto myght the strength of (b) their handes haue serued me? for the time was but lost among them.
3 For very (c) miserie and hunger they fled into the wilderneſſe, a darke place, horrible, and waste,
4 Plucking vp nettles among the bushes, and the iuniper rotes for their meate.
5 And when they were driuen forth, men cryed after them, as it had bene after a thiefe.
6 Their (d) dwelling was in the clefts of brookes, yea in the caues and dennes of the earth.
7 Among the bushes wente they about crying, and vnder the thornes they gathered the selues togeather.
8 They were the chyldren of fooles and villaynes, which are more vile than the earth.
9 Now am I their (e) song, and am become their iesting stocke.
10 They abhorre me, and flee from mee, and staine my face with spittle.
11 Bycause God hathe loosed my corde, and humbled mee, they haue loosed the (f) bridle before me.
12 Upon my (g) right hand rise the yong mē against me, they haue hurt my feete, treading vppon me, as vpon the wayes of theyr destruction.
13 My (h) pathes haue they cleane marred, it was so easie for them to do me harme, that they needed no man to help them.
14 They fell vpon me, as it had bin the breaking in of waters, and came in by heapes to destroy me.
15 Feare is turned vpon me, and they pursue my soule as the winde, and my health passeth away as (i) a cloude.
16 Therefore is my soule nowe powred out vpon me, and the dayes of my trouble haue taken hold vpon me.
17 My bones are pearsed through in the nyghte season, and my sinowes take no reast.
18 For the vehemencie of sorowe is my garment changed, whiche compasseth me about as (k) the coller of my cote.
19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become lyke asshes and dust.
20 When (l) I crye vnto thee, thou doest not heare me: and though I stande before thee, yet thou regardest me not.
21 Thou art become myne enimie, and with thy violent hande, thou takest part agaynst mee.
22 (In times past) thou diddest (m) set me vp on high, to bee caried as it were about the winde, (but now) hast thou gyuen me a very sore fall.
23 Sure I am, that thou wilt bring me vnto death, euen vnto the (n) lodging that is due vnto all men lyuing.
24 Notwithstanding, thou wilte not (o) stretche out thyne hande agaynst him that is in the graue: shall men crie out against hym that is in destruction?
25 Did not I weepe with hym that was in trouble? had not my soule compassion vpon the poore?
26 Yet neuertheleſſe, where as I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and (p) where I wayted for lyght there came darkneſſe.
27 My bowels seethe in me withoute reast, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me.
28 I went mourning without heate, I stood vp in the congregation, and (q) communed

b. Of such.
c. What greate griefe is thys, that Iob beeing in high authoritie, now to be in miserie, and mocked of the villaynes.

f. That is, seeyng mee nowe in myserie, not able to correct them, they iest and scorne at me without measure, as vnbridled in theyr affections.
g. The right hand declareth felicitie, and the left hand affliction and miserie: so that Iob meaneth by the yong menne that rise agaynst him on the ryght hād, that they took away his substance and hys felicitie, as the Arabians did, as is before.
h. That is, they ouerthrewe all my doings without help of any other.
i. That is, most swiftly.
k. It is the manner amōg the Hebrues, to haue their garments sowed round in euery part, saue a hole only in the highest of it, to put foorth the necke.
l. Iob sayth not thys as blaming God, but greeuous affliction moued affection.
m. That is, thou diddest set me in high auctoritie, and sodenly thou puttest me downe.

The.xxxi.Chapter.

Iob reciteth the innocencie of his lyuing, and number of his vertues, whiche declareth what ought to be the life of the faythfull.

a. In this Chapter, Iob declareth his vpright liuing, not to boast against God, but to refell the false slaunder of his aduersaries.

1 I Made a (a) couenant with myne eyes: I why then (b) shoulde I looke vppon a mayden?

2 For howe greate a portion shall I haue of God? and what inheritance from the almightie on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked? and strange (c) punishmente to the workers of iniquitie?

b. The flesshe was obedient to the spirite, neyther was he led with carnal desire.

4 Doeth not he see my wayes, and tell al my goings?

5 If I haue walked in (d) vanitie, or if my feete haue runne to deceyue:

c. Iob heere sheweth that the feare of God did driue him from wickednesse.

6 Let me be wayed in an euen balance, that God may see mine innocencie.

7 If my steppe hath turned out of the way, and mine hart walked after mine eyes, and if any blotte haue cleaued to my handes:

d. Meaning, that before men hee was giltlesse, in obseruing all the precepts of the second table.

8 Then shall I sowe, and an other eate: yea my "posteritie shall bee cleane rooted out.

"or, plantes.

9 If my hart haue bin deceyued by a womā, or if I haue layed wayte at my neyghbours dore:

e. Let hir be a bond slaue to another man.

10 Then let my wyfe (e) grinde vnto another man, and let other men "lye with hir.

"or, bowdown vppon hir.

f. Though mās punishmente for adulterie be omitted, yet Gods plague will neuer reaste to consume and roote it out.

11 For this is a wickednesse, and sinne that is worthy to be punished:

12 Yea a (f) fyre that vtterly should consume and roote out all my increase.

g. That is, if I in lawe haue reiected the complaint of my seruaunte, what should I do when God calleth me to the lawe?

13 If I euer thought scorne to do right vnto my seruants and maydens, when they hadde any matter against me:

14 When God (g) will syt in iudgemente, what shall I do? and when he will visit me, what answeare shall I giue him?

h. Iob expresseth the cause why he did pitie his seruats, for that they had one creator, and both made of the same substance 15 He that (h) fashioned mee in my mothers wombe, made hee not him also? were wee not both shapē alike in our mothers bodies?

16 If I denied the pore of their desyre or haue caused the eyes of the wydowe to wait in vayne:

17 If I haue eaten my (i) morsell alone, that the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof:

18 (For from my youth it hathe growen vp with me as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene guyde to the (wydowe.)

19 If I haue seene any perishe for wante of clothyng, or any pore for lacke of rayment:

20 If his loynes haue not blessed mee, bycause he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift vp mine hande against the fatherlesse, when I sawe that I might help him in the gate:

D

22 Then let myne arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme holes be broken from the bone.

23 For I haue euer feared the vengeaunce and punishmente of God, and (knewe very wel that) I was not able to beare his burde.

24 Haue I put my trust in golde? or haue I sayd to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence:

25 Haue I reioyced bycause my power was greate, and bycause my hande gate so muche?

26 Did I euer greatly regard the (k) rising of the sunne? or had I ỹ going downe of the moone in great reputation?

k. By the vp of and downe

27 Hath my hart medled priuily with any deceyte? or dyd I euer (l) kysse mine owne hande?

28 (That were a wickednesse worthy to be punished: for then should I haue denyed the God that is aboue.)

29 Haue I euer reioyced at the hurt of mine enimie? or was I euer glad that any harme happened vnto him? (Oh, no.)

30 I neuer suffered my mouth to sinne, by wishing a curse to his soule.

31 Did not the men of mine owne houshold say, Who shall let vs to haue our belly full of his flesshe?

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my dores vnto him that went by the way.

33 Haue I kept secret my sinne, and hid mine iniquitie, as Adam did?

34 Though I coulde haue made afearde a great (m) multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept silence, and went not out of the (n) dore.

35 O that I had one which would heare me: beholde my signe, in the which the almighty shall answeare for me, though he that is my contrary partie, hathe written a booke against me.

36 Yet will I take it vpon my (o) shoulder, and as a garland bind it about my head.

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a (p) prince.

38 But

i. Meaning, that he hath bin beneficiall to the poore, to the fatherlesse and widdowes.

38 But if case bee that my land (q) crie agaynſt mee, or that the (r) forowes thereof make any complaynt:

39 If I haue eaten the fruite thereof vnpayed for, yea if I haue greeued the ſoules of the maiſters thereof:

40 Then let thiſtles growe in ſteede of my wheate, and cockle for my barley.

Here ende the wordes of Iob.

The.xxxij. Chapter.

1. Elihu reproueth them of folly. 8. Age maketh not a man wyſe, but the ſpirite of God.

1 SO theſe three men ceaſſed to anſweare Iob, (a) bycauſe hee beldo him ſelfe a righteous man.

2 But Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the (b) Buzite, of the kindred of Ram, was very ſore diſpleaſed at Iob, bycauſe hee called him ſelfe iuſt before God.

3 And with Iobs three friendes he was angry alſo, bycauſe, they hadde found no reaſonable aunſweare, and yet condempned Iob.

4 Nowe taried Elihu, till they had ended their communication with Iob: for why? they were elder than he.

5 So when Elihu ſawe that theſe three menne were not able to make Iob anſweare, he was miſcontent.

6 Therefore Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the Buzite anſweared, and ſaide (conſydering that) I am yong, and yee be men of age, I was afrayde, and durſt not ſhew forth my minde.

7 For I thoughte thus within my ſelfe: "It becommeth olde men to ſpeake, and the "aged to teache wiſedome.

8 Euery man no doubt hath a minde, but it is the inſpiration of the almightie, that gyueth vnderſtandyng.

9 Great men are not alway wyſe, neither doeth euery aged man vnderſtand " the thing that is lawful:

10 Therefore I ſay, heare me, and I wyll ſhewe you alſo myne vnderſtanding.

11 For when I had wayted till yee made an ende of your talking, & hearde your wyſedome, (c) what argumentes ye made in your communication,

12 Yea, when I hadde diligently pondered what ye ſaide I founde not one of you that made any good argumente agaynſte Iob, that directly coulde make anſweare vnto his woordes, 13 Leſt ye ſhoulde ſay, We haue founde out wyſedome, (d) God ſhall caſt him downe, and no man.

14 He hath not ſpoken vnto me, and I wyl not anſweare him as ye haue done.

15 For they were ſo abaſhed, that they could not make anſweare, nor ſpeake one woord.

16 When I had wayted (for they ſpake not, but ſtoode ſtill, and anſweared no more:)

17 Then aunſweared I in my turne, and I ſhewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of " matter, and the ſpirite within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my (e) belly is as the wine whiche hathe no vent, like the newe bottels that burſt.

20 (Therefore) will I ſpeake, that I maye haue a vente: I will open my lippes, and make anſweare.

21 I will (f) regarde no manner of perſon, no man will I ſpare.

22 For if I woulde goe about to (g) pleaſe men, I knowe not howe ſone my maker would take me away.

The.xxxiij. Chapter.

5. Elihu accuſeth Iob of ignorance. 14. Hee ſheweth that God hathe diuers meanes to inſtruct man, and to drawe him from ſynne. 19. He afflicteth man, and ſodenly delyuereth him. 26. Man beyng delyuered, gyueth thāks to God.

1 WHerefore heare my woordes, O Iob, & hearken vnto all that I wyll ſaye:

2 Behold, I haue nowe opened my mouth, my tongue hathe ſpoken in my throte.

3 My hart doth order my woords aright, and my lippes talke of pure wiſedome.

4 The (a) ſpirite of God hath made me, and the breath of the almightie hath gyuen mee my lyfe.

5 If thou canſt then giue mee aunſweare, prepare thy ſelfe, and ſtand before me face to face.

6 Beholde, (b) before God, I am euen as thou: for I am faſhioned and made, euen of the ſame molde.

7 Beholde, my terrour ſhall not feare thee, neyther ſhall my hand be heauy vpon thee.

8 (c) Nowe haſt thou ſpoken in myne eares, and I haue hearde the voyce of thy woordes:

9 I am cleane without any faulte, I am innocent, and there is no wickednes in mee.

10 But loe, he hath picked a quareil agaynſte

q. And as though therefore it had bin wiſedome for them to holde their peace.

" or, woords.

r. That is, I ſhould breake in the middes, if I ſhould not ſpeake, my mind is ſo hot within me.

f. I will ſay trueth, all things layde apart.

g. The Hebrue worde is, to alter the name, calling a rude man learned, or a wycked man iuſt.

a. There is cauſe why ye ſhould not deſpiſe mee, although I bee yong: for I am as you are, made by Gods ſpirite, created of the earthe, and receyue life of him.

b. Iob before deſyred to plead his cauſe before God without feare, therefore ſayth Elihu, I am heere in Gods ſteede, whome thou needeſt not to feare: for I am made of the matter that thou art.

c. I haue heard thee boaſt of thy righteous life, that thou art innocent and iuſt, therefore will I not proue thee wicked of thy former life, but by theſe thy wordes.

me, and taketh me for his enimie.
11 He hathe put my foote in the ſtockes, and loketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.
12 Beholde, in this haſt thou not done right, I will make anſweare vnto thee, that God is greater than man.
13 And why doeſt thou then ſtriue agaynſte hym: for he ſhall not gyue thee accompts of all his woꝛdes.
14 For God ſpeaketh (d) once oꝛ twice, and yet man vnderſtandeth it not.
15 In dreames and viſions of the night, whē ſlumbꝛing commeth vpon men, that they ſal alleepe in their beddes, 16 He roundeth them in the eares, and ſealeth their coꝛrection:
17 That he may withdꝛaw man from euill enterpꝛiſes, and delyuer hym from (e) pꝛyde, 18 And keepe hys ſoule from the graue, and his lyfe from the ſwoꝛde.
19 He chaſteneth him with ſickneſſe vpon hys bedde, he layeth ſoꝛe punyſhment vppon hys bones:
20 So that his (f) life may away with no bꝛead, and his ſoule abhoꝛreth to eate anye daintie meate:
21 (g) In ſo muche, that his body is cleane conſumed away, and hys bones appeare, which beſoꝛe were not ſeene.
22 His ſoule dꝛaweth vnto the graue, and his lyfe to " death.
23 Nowe (h) if there be a meſſenger, one among a thouſande, ſente foꝛ to ſpeake vnto man, and to ſhewe him the right way:
24 Then the Loꝛde is mercifull vnto hym, and ſayth, Hee ſhall bee delyuered, that he fall not downe to the graue: foꝛ I am ſufficiently reconciled.
25 Then ſhall his (i) fleſhe bee as freſhe as a chyldes, and ſhall returne as in the dayes of his youth.
26 He ſhall pꝛay vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he ſhall ſee hys face with (k) ioy, foꝛ he will render vnto mā hys righteouſneſſe.
27 A reſpect hathe hee vnto men, let man then ſay, I haue offended, I dyd vnrighteouſly, and (l) it hath done me no good:
28 Yea, he hath delyuered my ſoule from deſtruction, and (m) my lyfe ſhall ſee the lyght.
29 Loe, all theſe woꝛketh God alway with man:
30 That hee bꝛing backe his ſoule from the graue to the light, yea the lyght of the lyuing.
31 Marke well, O Job, and heare me: holde thee ſtill, and I will ſpeake.
32 But if thou haſt any thing to ſay, then (n) anſweare me, and ſpeake: foꝛ I deſyre to iuſtifie thee.
33 If thou haſt nothing, then heare mee, and hold thy tong, and I ſhall teach thee wyſedome.

d. God ſpeaketh two maner of wayes vnto men, eyther by ſleepe, or by hys rod of ſickneſſe, & other plages.

e. For to beate downe the pride of man, God ſendeth hys plages.

f. That is, ſickneſſe that decayeth lyfe, can take no ſuſtenance.

g. Heere ſpeaketh he of the ſecond way, whereby God ſpeaketh to man by afflictions.

" or, to the buriers.

h. If there be a meſſenger ſeene to declare Gods wyl truely, & ſhew his benefytes one of a thouſand, and man regardeth the ſame: then will God haue mercy.

i. The health of the body, is the bleſſing of God.

k. Hee ſhall feele the comfort of the holy ghoſt.

l. But it prouoked Gods wrath vpon me m. That is, my ſoule ſhall appeare cleare in the land of the lyuing.

n. That is, to ſhewe thy ſelfe iuſt, and not wicked.

The. xxxiiij. Chapter.

5. Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee calleth hymſelfe ryghteous. 12. Hee ſheweth that God is iuſt in iudgementes. 24. God deſtroyeth the myghtie. 30. By hym the hypocrite raigneth.

1 ELihu pꝛoceeding in his anſweare, ſayd, I
2 Heare my woꝛdes, O yee (a) wyſe men, hearken vnto me, yee that haue vnderſtandyng:
3 Foꝛ the eare diſcerneth woꝛdes, and the mouth taſteth the meates.
4 Aſ foꝛ (b) iudgement, let vs ſeeke it out among our ſelues, that we may knowe what is good.
5 (And why?) Job hathe ſayde, I am ryghteous, and God hathe (c) taken away my iudgement.
6 In my right, I ſhould be a lyer: my woũd is incurable without my fault.
7 Where is there ſuche a one as Job, that (d) dꝛinketh vp ſcoꝛnefulneſſe like water?
8 Whyche goeth in the company of wycked doers, and walketh with vngodly men?
9 Foꝛ he hathe ſayde, It pꝛofiteth a man nothyng that he ſhould walke with God.
10 Therfoꝛe hearken vnto mee, yee that haue vnderſtanding: farre be it from God, that he ſhould meddle with wickednelle, and farre bee it from the almightie, that he ſhoulde meddle with vnrighteous dealing.
11 Foꝛ he ſhall reward man after his woꝛks, and cauſe euery man to fynde accoꝛdyng to hys wayes.
12 Sure it is, that God wyll not doe wyckedly, neyther will the almightie peruert iudgement.
13 Who ruleth the earth but he? oꝛ who hathe placed the whole woꝛlde?
14 If he ſet his hart vpon (man,) and gather vnto hym ſelfe hys ſpirit and his bꝛeath, 15 All fleſh ſhall come to nought at once, and all men ſhall turne agayne vnto duſt.
16 If thou nowe haue vnderſtanding, heare what I ſay, and hearken to the voyce of my woꝛdes:
17 May he be a (e) ruler that loueth not right? oꝛ may he that is a very innocent man doe vngodly?
18 Is it reaſon thou ſhouldeſt ſay to ỹ kyng, Thou art wicked, oꝛ thou art vngodly, and that beſoꝛe the princes?

the lordly, and regardeth not the rich more than the poore: for they bee all the worke of his handes.

20 In the (f)twinkling of an eye shall they dye, and at midnighte when the people and the tyrantes rage, then shall they perish, and be taken away without handes.

21 For his eyes loke vpon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenesse nor shadowe of death, that can hyde the wicked doers from him.

23 For God will not laye vpon man, more than he hath sinned, that he should enter into (g)iudgement with him.

24 He shall destroye the mightie without seeking, and shall set other in their (h) steade.

25 Therefore shall hee declare their workes: he shall (i)turne the nyght, and they shall be destroyed.

26 The vngodly doth he punishe (k)openly.

27 Bicause they turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes.

28 In so much that they haue caused the voyce of the (l) poore to come vnto him, and nowe he heareth the complaynte of suche as are in trouble.

29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hydeth his face, who can beholde him? whether it be vppon nations or vpon one man onely:

30 Bicause the hypocrite doth raigne, bicause the people are snared.

31 Surely, of God onely it can be sayde, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 If I haue gone amisse, enfourme thou me: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.

33 Will he perfourme the thing through thee, for thou haste reproued his iudgement, thou also hast thyne owne mynd, and not I: but speake on what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wyse man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neyther were his wordes according to wysedome.

36 O (m)father, let Iob be "well tryed, bycause he hath answered for wicked men:

37 Yea aboue his sinne he doth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

The. xxxv. Chapter.

6. Neyther doeth godlynesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18. The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

1 Elihu (a)spake moreouer, and sayde,
2 Thinkest thou it right that thou saist, I am more righteous than God.
3 For thou sayest, What aduantage will it be vnto thee, and what profite shall I haue of my sinne?
4 Therefore will I giue answere vnto thee, and to thy (b)companions with thee.
5 Loke vnto the (c) heauen, and beholde it, consider the cloudes, whych are higher than thou.
6 If thou haste (d) sinned, what haste thou done against him? If thyne offences be many, what hast thou done vnto him?
7 If thou bee (e) righteous, what gyuest thou him? or what will hee receiue of thine hande?
8 Thy wickednesse (may hurt) a man as thou art, and thy righteousnesse (may profite) the sonne of man.
9 They whiche are oppressed, crie out vpon the multitude, yea, they crye out for the power of the mightie:
10 But (f) none sayeth, Where is God that made mee? and that giueth vs "occasion to prayse him in the night?
11 Whiche teacheth vs more than the beastes of the earthe, and giueth vs more wisedome than the fowles of heauen.
12 If any (g)such complayne, no man giueth answere, and that bycause of the wickednesse of proude tyrantes.
13 For God wyll not heare vanitie, neyther will the almightie regarde it.
14 Although thou sayest (to God) thou wylte not regarde it, yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.
15 But nowe bycause his anger hath not (h) visited, neyther called men to accompt with great extremitie:
16 Therefore doth Iob open his mouth but in vayne, and he maketh many wordes without knowledge.

b. To suche as are like to thee in obstinacie, not leauing thy great errour.
c. If the cloudes be higher than thou, how muche more is God excelling thee in all.
d. It doth no thing aduantage God, whether wee bee good or euill, for he needeth not mans help, he is moste mightie, his maiestie is most glorious.
e. As though he wold saye, if we doe good, it is our owne: if we doe euil, it is ours also.
f. Iob said before, that God seemed not to haue care of mortal things: by profe, bicause that the wicked are in prosperitie, & the godlie are afflicted. But Elihu reselleth that, saying, The cause of their plague is for that they cal not to god nor pray, nor trust in him.
" or, songs.
g. That is, God heareth them not, bycause they pray not heartily to him in fayth.
h. For if God shoulde plague Iob according to his deserte, he were not able to speake: but bicause God is fauourable, Iob speaketh so vnwysely.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

1. Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6. and his iustice, 9. and wherefore hee punisheth. 13. The propertie of the wicked.

1 Elihu also proceeded, and sayde,
2 Hold thee stil a little, & I shal shew thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.
3 I will open vnto thee yet far higher knowledge, and will ascribe righteousnesse vnto my maker.
4 And truly my wordes shall not be vayne, seeyng he is with thee, that is (a) perfecte in knowledge.

a. And therefore credit my sayings, for I come to pleade for gods cause.

5 Beholde, the greate God casteth away no man, for he him selfe is (b) mightie in power and wisedome.
6 As for the vngodly hee shall not preserue him, but shall helpe the poore to their ryghte.
7 He shall not turne his eyes away from the ryghteous, but as (c) kynge shall they bee in their throne, hee shall stablish them for euer, and they shall be exalted.
8 But if they be layde in chaynes, or bounde with the bondes of trouble, 9 Then wyll he (d) shewe them their worke and their sinnes which haue ouercome them.
10 He with punishing and nurturing of the, roundeth them in the eares, warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse, and to amende.
11 If they now wyl take heede and serue him, they shall weare out their dayes in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure.
12 But if they will not hearken, they shall goe through the swoorde, and perish or euer they be aware.
13 As for (e) hypocrites in harte, they shall heape vp wrath (for them selues) for they call not vpon hym, though they be his prysoners.
14 Thus shall theyr soule perish in "folyshnesse, and their life among the fornicatours.
15 The poore shall hee delyuer out of hys affliction, and "round them in the eare when they be in trouble.
16 Euē so would he take thee out of ỹ straite place, into a broade place in the whiche there is no straitnesse: yea, and make thy table quiet, replenished with fatnesse.
17 Neuertheless, (f) thou haste commended the iudgement of the vngodly, and euen such a iudgement and sentence shalt thou suffer.
18 And seeing there is (g) wrath with God, beware least he take thee away in thy welth, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, can not delyuer thee.
19 Thynkest thou that hee wyll regarde thy richesse? hee shall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.
20 (h) Spende not the nyghte in carefull thoughts, how he destroyeth some, and bringeth other in their place.
21 But beware that thou turne not aside to wickednesse and synne, which hytherto thou hast chosen more than affliction.
22 Beholde, (i) God is of a mightie hyghe power: where is there such a guyde, and lawgyuer as he?
23 Who wyll reprooue hym of his way? who wyll say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?
24 Remember that thou doe magnifye hys worke which men doe prayse, 25 All men see it, yea men do beholde it a farre off.
26 Beholde, so greate is God, that he passeth our knowledge, (k) neyther can the number of his yeeres be searched out.
27 Sometime hee restrayneth the rayne, and agayne he sendeth rayne by his cloudes:
28 Whiche rayne the cloudes do droppe, and let fall abundantly vpon men.
29 Who can consyder the (l) spreadynges out of hys cloudes, the couerings of his tabernacle?
30 Beholde, he doeth stretche his lyght vppon it, and coureth the bottome of the sea.
31 For by these gouerneth he his people, and gyueth them abundance of meate.
32 With the cloudes he hideth the lyghte, and at his commaundement it breaketh out:
33 Which dashing vpō the next cloudes, shew tokens of wrath.

b. And therefore he wil not destroy the iust, the wise, and the godly, seeing they are therin like vnto hym.
c. So God doeth exalt the godly, and they that loue him.
d. If he shall plage the righteous, he wyll declare the cause of the same.
e. Hypocrites that confesse God in theyr mouthes, and not in theyr hartes, wil not acknowledge theyr offence, and so runne in to desperation, and confusion.
"Or, youthfulnesse.
"or, opē theyr eare.
f. Thou hast alowed the counsayle of the wicked, and layde aside the counsayle of God as vniust.
g. Meanyng, thou shalt be in paynes whiche can not be released for any price.
h. That is, do not wickedly, wayting a time to do euill, as the robbers in the night, or muse not when thou art solitarie in the nyghte, why some people do perish, and some do not, for therein thou offendest, bycause it belongeth to the secrecie of Gods maiestie.
i. What lawe maker then is more iust than he, for he gaue the holy and immaculate law, who durst then to call him vniust?

The.xxxvij. Chapter.

2. Elihu prooueth that the vnsearcheable wisedome of God is manifest by his works, 4. as by thunders, 6. the snowe, 9. the whyrle winde, 11. and the rayne.

1 AT (a) this also my hart is astonied, and moued out of hys place.
2 Heare (b) then the sound of his voyce, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his lyght vnto the endes of the worlde.
4 A roaring voyce followeth it, for his glorious maiestie gyueth a thunderclap, and hee will not stay when his voyce is heard.
5 God thundreth marueylously wyth hys voyce, great things doeth he, whyche we can not comprehende.
6 He commaundeth the snowe, and it falleth vpon earth: he gyueth the rayne a charge, and the showres haue theyr strength, and fall downe.
7 With the force of the rayne he shutteth men vp, that all men may know his (c) workes.
8 The beastes (d) creepe into theyr dennes, and remayne in their places.
9 Out of the south commeth the tempest, and cold out from the north winde.
10 At the (e) breath of God the hoare frost is gyuen, and the broade waters are frosen.
11 He maketh the (f) cloudes to labour in giuing moystnesse, and agayne with hys (g) lyght he dryueth away the cloude.
12 He turneth the heauens about by hys gouernemente, that they maye doe whatsoeuer he 14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob, stand still, and consyder the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the lyght of (i) his cloudes to shyne?

16 Hast thou knowen ỹ varietie of ỹ clouds, and the wonderous workes of him, whyche is perfect in knowledge, 17 And howe thy clothes are warme, when the land is still through the south winde?

18 Hast thou helped him to spread out the heauens, whiche are strong and bright as a (k) loking glasse?

19 Teache vs what wee shall say vnto hym: for we are vnmeete to frame our talke, because of (l) darknesse.

20 Shall it be tolde him what I say? Shall man speake when he shall be destroyed?

21 For men see not the lyght that shineth in the cloudes: but the wind passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The fayre weather commeth out of the North, the prayse thereof is to God, who is terrible.

23 It is the almightie, we can not fynde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgemẽt, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore (m) feare him: for there shall no man see him, that is wise in his owne conceyte.

The. xxxviij. Chapter.

God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenesse of man in the consyderation of his creatures, by whose excellencie, the power, iustice, and prouidence of the creator is knowen.

THen answeared the Lord vnto Iob, out of the (a) whyrle winde, and sayde, 2 What is he that (b) darkneth his counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Gyd vp thy (c) loynes lyke a man: for I will question with thee, see thou gyue mee a direct answeare.

4 Where wast thou when I (d) layde the fundations of the earthe? Tell playnely, if thou hast vnderstandyng.

5 Who hath measured it, knowest thou? or who hath (e) spread the lyne vpon it?

6 Wherevpon are the (f) foundations set? or who hath layd the (g) corner stone thereof?

7 Where wast thou when ỹ morning starres praysed me togeather, and all the children of God reioyced triumphantly?

17 Haue the gates of deathe bin opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the dores of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou also perceyued howe brode the earth is? if thou hast knowledge of all thys:

19 Then shewe mee the way where lighte dwelleth, & where is the "place of darknes.

21 Knewest thou afore thou wast borne, how olde thou shouldest be?

22 (m) Wentest thou euer into the treasures of the snowe, or hast thou seene the secrete places of the hayle,

The. xxxix. Chapter.

The bountie and prouidence of God, whiche extendeth euen to beaſtes, gyueth man full occaſion to put his confidence in God.

The.xl. Chapter.

1. How weake mans power is, being compared to the woorkes of God, 10. whose power appeareth in the creation and gouerning of the great beastes.

1 Moreouer the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayde,

2 Shall hee whome the almightie will chasten, contende with him? Shoulde not hee whiche disputeth with God, giue hym an answeare?

3 Then Iob (a) answeared the Lord, saying.

4 Behold, I am vyle, what shall I answere thee, (therefore) I will lay my hand vppon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I will say, no more: yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

6 Then answeared the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirle wynde, and sayde, 7 Gyrde vp thy loynes nowe lyke a man: I wyll demaunde of thee, and make thou answeare.

8 Wilt thou (b) disanull my iudgemente? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be righteous?

9 Is thy power then lyke the power of god? maketh thy voyce a sound as his doeth?

10 Decke thy selfe nowe with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe with (c) beautie and glory:

11 Cast abroade the indignation of thy wrath, and beholde euery one that is proude, and abase hym:

12 Loke on euery one that is arrogante, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place.

13 Hyde them in the dust together, and couer their faces in (d) secrete:

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that (e) thine owne right hande shall saue thee.

15 Beholde the beast (f) Behemoth, whom I made with thee, which eateth hay as an oxe:

16 Lo nowe his strength is in his loynes, and what power he hath in the nauil of hys body.

17 When hee will, hee spreadeth out his tayle lyke a Cedar tree, all his sinowes are stiffe.

18 His bones are lyke pypes of brasse, yea hys bones are like staues of iron.

19 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God, hee that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

20 Surely the mountaynes bring him forth grasse, where all the beastes of the fielde take their pastime.

21 He resteth him in the shade, in the couerte of the reede and fennes.

22 The trees couer him with their shadowe, and the wyllowes of the broke compasse him about.

23 Beholde, he drinketh vp whole riuers, and feareth not, he thinketh that he can drawe vp Iordane into his mouth.

24 He taketh it with his eyes, and yet ỹ hunter putteth (g) a bridle into his nose.

25 Canst thou drawe out Leuiathan (h) with a hooke? or bind his tong with a corde.

26 Canst thou put an hooke in the nose of him, or bore his iawe through with a "naule?

27 Will hee make many fayre wordes wyth thee (thinkest thou) or flatter thee?

28 Will hee make a couenant with thee? or wilte thou take him for a seruant for euer?

29 Wilt thou take thy pastime with hym? as with a bryde, wilte thou binde him for thy maydens?

30 That thy companions may make a refection of him: or shall he be parted among the marchantes?

31 Canst thou fyll the basket with his skinne? or the fishe (i) pannier with his head?

32 Lay thine hande vpon him, remember the battayle, and do no more so.

33 Beholde, his hope is in vayne: for shall not one perish euen at the syght of hym?

g. Meaning, he is inuisible amongst men, yet God can bruise him.
h. Leuiathan is a whale.
"or, angle.

i. For it is dangerous to trust Satan in any thing, yea it is hurtfull to touch him, for Leuiathan representeth Sathan.

The.xli. Chapter.

By the greatnesse of this monster Leuiathan, God sheweth his greatnesse and his power, which nothing can resist.

1 None (a) man is so fierce that dare stirre him vp: who is able to stand before me?

2 Or who hath giuen me any thing afore hād, that I may reward him agayne? all things vnder heauen are mine.

3 I will not keepe secrete his great strength, his power, nor his comely proporcion.

4 Who can discouer the face of his garment? or who shall come to him wyth a double bridle?

5 Who (b) shall open the dores of his face? for he hath horrible teeth round about.

6 His scales are as it were strong shieldes, so fastned together as if they were sealed:

7 One is so ioyned to another, that no ayre can come in?

8 Yea one hangeth so vppon another, and sticketh so together, that they can not be sundred.

9 His (c) neesings make a glistering like fyre, and his eyes lyke the "morning shyne.

10 Out of his mouth goe torches, and sparks of fyre leape out.

11 And out of his nosthrilles there goeth a smoke, lyke as out of an hot seething pot, or caldron.

a. If the creature can not be resisted, who can compare with the creator?

b. That is, who dare looke in his mouth?

c. That is, he spouteth out flames of fyre out of hys mouth.
"or, eye lids of the morning.

12 His

12 His breath maketh the coales burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.
13 In his (d) necke there remayneth ſtrength, and nothing is too laborous for hym.
14 The members of his body are ioyned (ſo ſtraight one to another,) and cleaue ſo faſt togeather, that he can not be moued.
15 His (e) hart is as harde as a ſtone, and as faſt as the "ſtithie that the Smyth ſmyteth vpon.
16 When hee goeth, the mightie are afrayde, and feare troubleth them.
17 If any man drawe out a ſword at him, it ſhall not hurt him, there may neyther ſpeare, iauelin, nor breſtplate, abyde hym.
18 He ſetteth as much by iron as by a ſtrawe, and as much by braſſe, as by a rotten ſticke.
19 He ſtarteth not away from him that bendeth the bowe: and as for ſling ſtones, hee careth as much for ſtubble as for them.
20 He counteth the dartes no better than a ſtrawe, he laugheth hym to ſcorne that ſhaketh the ſpeare.
21 (f) Sharp ſtones are vnder him like potſheardes, and he lyeth vppon ſharp things as vpon the ſoft myre.
22 Hee maketh the (g) deepe to boyle like a potte, and ſtirreth the ſea togeather like an oyntment.
23 He maketh the (h) path to bee ſeene after hym, and he maketh the deepe to ſeeme all hoarie.
24 Vppon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is ſo mad that he feareth not.
25 He beholdeth all the high things, (i) he is a king ouer all the children of pryde.

d. For Satan is the prince of the world, who ouercame by action: but Chriſt ouerthrewe hys kingdome by his paſsion.
e. Satan is called hard of hart, bycauſe he is vnmercifull, cruel, and vntreatable.
"or, the neather milſtone.
f. For the hardneſſe of his skin is ſuche, that he lyeth vpon it without payne, as in the ſofte myre.
g. He ſpouteth out the water in ſuche ſorte, that the ſeas ſeeme to boyle.
h. With a white froth vppon the water.
i. He deſpiſeth all, & is proudeſt of all.

The. xlij. Chapter.

6. The repentance of Iob. 9. He prayeth for his friendes, 12. and his goodes are reſtored double vnto him.

1 Then Iob aunſweared the Lorde, and ſayde,
2 I knowe that thou haſt (a) power ouer all things, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.
3 For who can keepe his owne counſell ſo ſecrete, but it ſhall be knowen? Therefore haue I ſpoken that I vnderſtoode not, euen the things that are too wonderfull for mee, and paſſe mine vnderſtandyng.
4 (b) Heare, I beſeeche thee, and let me ſpeake: I will demaunde of thee, and aunſweare thou me.
5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but nowe mine eye ſeeth thee.
6 Wherefore, I chuſe mine owne ſelfe the blame, and take (d) repentance in the duſte and aſhes.
7 Nowe when the Lorde had ſpoken theſe woordes vnto Iob, it came to paſſe that the Lorde ſayde to Eliphas the Themanite, I (e) am diſpleaſed with thee, and thy two friendes: for yee haue not ſpoken of mee the thing that is right, like as (f) my ſeruant Iob hath done.
8 Therefore take yee nowe ſeuen oxen, and ſeuen rammes, and goe (g) to my ſeruaunte Iob, and offer vp for your ſelues a burnt offering, and my ſeruaunte Iob ſhall pray for you: him will I accept, and not deale with you after your folliſhneſſe, in that yee haue not ſpoken of me the thing which is ryghte, like as my ſeruant Iob hath done.
9 So Eliphas the Themanite, and Bildad the Suhite, and Sophar the Naamathite, went and did according as the Lorde commaunded them: the Lord alſo accepted "the perſon of Iob.
10 And the Lorde (h) turned the captiuitie of Iob when he prayed for his friendes: yea the Lord gaue Iob twice as much as he had afore.
11 And then came there vnto him all hys (i) brethren, all his ſiſters, and all they that had bin of his acquayntance afore, and did eate bread with him in his houſe, and had compaſſion on him, and comforted him ouer all trouble that the Lord had brought vpō hym, euery man alſo (k) gaue him a certayne ſum of money, and a "iewell of golde.
12 So the Lord bleſſed the laſt dayes of Iob, more than the firſt, for he had fourteene thouſande Sheepe, ſyxe thouſande Cammels, a thouſand yoke of Oxen, and a thouſand ſhee Aſſes:
13 Hee hadde ſeuen ſonnes alſo, and three daughters.
14 The fyrſt daughter called he (l) Iemima, the ſecond (m) Kezia, and the third (n) Kerenhapuch.
15 In all the land were no women founde ſo fayre as the daughters of Iob: and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.
16 After this lyued Iob an hundred and fortie yeeres: ſo that he ſawe his children, and his children children, into the fourth generation.

God ſaue the Queene.

A Prologue of S. Basill the great, vpon the Psalmes.

DAVID that notable King and Prophet, a man singularly chosen of Almightie God after his owne heart, being indued both with the knowledge of his Creator, and with the knowledge of himself, and being throughly exercised in the whole state of his lyfe with the experience of the worlde: vttereth his sundry affections (as his occasions serued him) in this his booke of Psalmes, a booke set out with dyuers names, but sounding all to one thing. The Hebrues name it Tehillim ספר תלים & ספתחליס that is to say, a booke of laudes and hymnes: The Grecians expresse it by the name of a Musical instrument ψαλτηριον so called. Our sauiour Christ calleth it a boke of Psalmes, (as his disciple Peter doth the same.) Some entitle it, Liber Contemplationum siue Soliloquiorum, A booke of contemplations, or secrete Meditations, whereby the godlie speaketh solitarily and alone to almightie God: A booke of holie Scripture, no doubt most comfortable in doctrine, high in mysterie, and profound in sense: but yet familiar and readie to be vnderstanded of the true christian hart. To the diligent vsing of which booke, the holy Apostle saint Paule by graue aduisement, no lesse than in two of his Epistles, exhorteth vs, saying in the one thus: Let the worde of Christ dwell in you richely, in all wisedome (thereof) teaching and admonishing your selues in Psalmes and hymnes and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts vnto the Lord. An admonition so serious ought not to be contemned. Now forasmuch as the vse of the Psalmes hath a special peculiar grace aboue al other parts of scripture, therefore it ought of all other chiefly to be esteemed, and duely to be vsed, as euermore in the Churche of God, aswell of the olde people of Israell, as of the new people of the Christians, it hath bin in most frequent vse and reuerence. Furthermore, al maner of scripture, for that it is inspired from God aboue (as necessarie for instruction) is expressed by the determination of the holy ghost, to the intēt that al men in cōmon should gather out therof (as out of a storehouse of Physike for the soule) peculiar remedies, euery one of vs for our owne infirmities: for such physike (as one writeth) wil restraine great and many sinnes. Now wheras the prophets haue doctrine proper to themselues, and the bookes of the diuine histories matter by themselfe: the lawe hath his peculiar forme of teaching, and the prouerbiall bookes haue their seueral kinde of exhortations. The book of the Psalmes comprehends in it self the whole cōmoditie of al their doctrines aforesaid, for it prophecieth of things to come, it reciteth the histories, it sheweth lawe for the gouernaunce of life, it teacheth what ought to be done: and to be short, it is a cōmon storehouse of all good doctrine, which doth aptely distribute matter to euery man peculiar to himself: for it healeth not only olde festured wounds of the soule, but also can giue quick remedie to such as be newly made. It stayeth and cōforteth that member which is sicke and corrupt, and preserueth that which is whole and sound: it plucketh vp by the roote, (as much as is possible) all such euill affections as do raigne so tyrannically in the whole course of mans life, which effect it worketh as it were with agreable delectation, instilling pleasantly into our heart all sober honestie. For where as the holie Ghost perceiued that mankinde was hardly trayned to vertue, and that we be verie negligent in thinges concerning the true life indeed, by reason of our inclination to worldly pleasures and delectations: What hath he inuented? He hath mixt in his forme of doctrine, the delectation of musike, to the intent that the cōmoditie of the doctrin might secretly steale into vs, while our eares be touched with the pleasantnesse of the melodie. Euen much like as expert Physitions vse to do when they minister their bitter potions to sick children, least they should abhorre their health for the bitternesse of their drinkes, for the most part they anoynt the brinkes of the cups with honie. And for this ende be these sweete and harmonious songs deuised for vs, that suche as be children either by age, or children by maners, should in deed haue their soules holsomly instructed, though for the time they seme but to sing only. Furthermore, we see cōmonly that they which be of the vulgar people, or of rude and grosse nature, can not readily beare away and keepe in minde the graue precepts of the Apostles, or Prophets, where yet the diuine Psalmes they sing at home in their houses, and abroade they can record them. And certainly though a man were neuer so furiously raging in ire and wrath, yet as soone as he heareth the sweete tunes of the psalmes, straightway is he assuaged of his furie, and must depart more quiet in mynde by reason of the melodie. The psalm is the rest of the soule, the rod of peace, it stilleth & pacifieth the raging bellowes of the mind, for it doth assuage & mollifie that ireful power and passion of the soule, it inducteth chastitie where raigned wantonnesse, it maketh amitie where was discord, it knitteth frends togither, it returneth enimies to an vnitie again. For who can long repute him as an enimie, with whō he ioyneth himself in lifting vp his voyce to God in prayer? So that the song of the psalme worketh charitie, which is the greatest treasure of all goodnes that can be, deuising by the enducemēt of cōcord singing, the knot and bond of vnitie, so ioyning the people togither after the similitude of a quier in their vnitie of singing. The psalme is an introduction to beginners, it is a further re to them which go forward to vertue, it is to the perfect mā a stable fundatiō to rest on, it is the swete voyce, the only mouth of the spouse of Christ the Church. The psalme doth cheere the feastful day the better to reioyce, it worketh that same heuinesse, which is heuines to godward: For the psalme is able to pluck out teares of any mās heart, though it be neuer so stonie hard. O wise & marueilous deuice of our heuenly scholemaister, who could inuent that we should both pleasantly sing, & therwith profitably learne, wherby wholsome doctrine might be the deper printed in vs: for that which with violēce and force is lerned of vs, is not wont to abide long: but that which entreth into vs with plesure, & by louing grace, it cōtinueth the longer in our harts, it sticketh the faster in our memories. Now as for the matter and cōtent of the Psalme, what is there but that a man may learn it there? Is not there to be lerned the valiantnes of fortitude, the righteousnes of iustice: the soberneſs of temperāce: the perfection of prudēce, the forme of penance, the mesure of patience? Yea and whatsoeuer soundeth to vertue or perfection, is it not there taught? In the psalme is cōteined absolute diuinitie, both prophecie of Christes cōming in the flesh, the threatful warnings of the iudgement, the hope of our rising again, the feare of Gods punishments, the promises of euerlasting ioy, the reuelation of all misteries: all these be layd and couched vp in the Psalter booke, as in a great treasure house cōmon to all men. Which booke the prophet Dauid framed most aptly (among many instrumentes of musike) to agree with the instrument called the Psalterie: signifying thereby (as I can iudge) the grace of God to come from aboue by the inspiration of the holie Ghost. For this only instrument of all other, hath the cause of his sound from his vpper part, where the Harpe or the Lute by their wrests, haue their sound comming foorth out of the lower part of them: but the Psalterie puts forth the sweetenes of his harmonious melodie from the vpper, teaching vs thereby, that we shoulde sette our whole studie and meditation in heauenly things aboue, and not by the sweteneſse of the tunes to be borne downe to the sensuall affections and delectations of the flesh.

ℵ 1 Euening prayer.

I Will loue thee (O Lorde) my ſtrength, the Lorde is my ſtonie rocke and my defence: my ſauiour, my GOD, and my might, in whom I will truſt, my buckler, the horne alſo of my ſaluation, and my refuge.

2 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthie to bee prayſed: ſo ſhall I bee ſafe from myne enimies.

3 The ſorrowes of death compaſſed mee: and the ouerflowings of vngodlineſſe made mee afrayde.

4 The paynes of hell came about me: the ſnares of death ouertooke me.

5 In my trouble I will call vpon the Lorde: and complaine vnto my God.

6 So ſhall he heare my voyce out of his (holy) temple: and my complaint ſhall come before him, it ſhall enter euen into his eares.

ℬ 7 The earth trembled and quaked: the verie foundations alſo of the hilles ſhooke, and were remoued, becauſe he was wroth.

8 There went a ſmoke out of his preſence: and a conſuming fire out of his mouth, ſo that coales were kindled at it.

9 He bowed the heauens alſo and came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.

10 He rode vpon the Cherubims and did flee: he came fleeing vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkeneſſe his ſecrete place: his pauilion rounde about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.

12 At the brightneſſe of his preſence his cloudes remoued: hayleſtones and coales of fyre.

13 The Lorde alſo thundered out of heauen, and the higheſt gaue his thunder: hayleſtones and coales of fire.

ℭ 14 He ſent out his arrowes, and ſcattered them: hee caſte forth lightninges, and deſtroyed them.

15 The ſpringes of waters were ſeene, and the foundations of the rounde worlde were diſcouered at thy chyding, O Lorde: at the blaſting of the breath of thy diſpleaſure.

16 He ſhall ſende downe from the high to fetche me: and ſhall take me out of many waters.

17 He ſhall deliuer me from my ſtrongeſt enimie, and from them which hate me: for they are to mightie for me.

18 They preuented me in the day of my trouble: but the Lorde was my vpholder.

19 He brought me forth alſo into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen becauſe he had a fauour vnto me.

20 The Lorde ſhall rewarde me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleanneſſe of my handes ſhall he recompence me.

21 Becauſe I haue kept the wayes of the Lord: and haue not forſaken my God as the wicked doth.

22 For I haue an eye vnto all his lawes: and will not caſt out his cõmaundements from me.

23 I was alſo vncorrupt before him: and eſchued mine owne wickedneſſe.

24 Therefore ſhall the Lorde rewarde me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleanneſſe of my handes in his eye ſight.

25 With the holy thou ſhalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou ſhalt be perfect.

26 With the cleane thou ſhalt bee cleane: and with the froward thou ſhalt learne frowardneſſe.

27 For thou ſhalt ſaue the people that are inaduerſitie: and ſhalt bring downe the high lookes of the proude.

28 Thou alſo ſhalt light my candle: the Lorde my God ſhall make my darkneſſe to be light.

29 For in thee I ſhall diſcomfit an hoſt of men: and with the helpe of my God I ſhall leape ouer the wall.

30 The way of God is an vndefiled way, the worde of the Lorde alſo is tryed in the fyre: he is the defender of all them that put their truſt in him.

31 For who is God, but the Lorde: or who hath any ſtrength, except our God?

32 It is God that gyrdeth me with ſtrength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feete like Hartes feete: and ſetteth me vp on high.

34 He teacheth my handes to fight: and mine armes ſhall breake euen a bowe of ſteele.

35 Thou haſt giuen me the defence of thy ſaluation: thy right hande alſo ſhall holde me vp, and thy louing correction ſhall make me great.

36 Thou ſhalt make rome enough vnder me for to go: that my ſotelleppes ſhall not ſlide.

37 I will follow vpon mine enimies, and ouertake them: neyther will I turne againe till I haue deſtroyed them.

38 I will ſmite them, that they ſhall not be able to to ſtande: but fall vnder my feete.

39 Thou haſt gyrded me with ſtrength vnto the battaile: thou ſhalt throw downe mine enimies vnder me.

40 Thou haſt made mine enimies alſo to turne their backes vpon me: and I ſhall deſtroy them that hate me.

41 They ſhall crie, but there ſhall be none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lorde ſhal they crie, but he ſhall not heare them.

42 I will beat them as ſmall as the duſt before the winde: I will caſt them out as the clay in the ſtreetes.

43 Thou ſhalt deliuer me from the ſtryuings of the people: and thou ſhalt make me the head of the heathen.

44 A people whome I haue not knowne: ſhall ſerue me.

45 As ſoone as they heare of me, they ſhall obey me: but the ſtraunge children ſhall diſſemble with me.

46 The ſtraunge children ſhall faile: and be afrayed out of their priſons.

47 The Lorde lyueth, and bleſſed be my ſtrong helper: and prayſed bee the God of my ſaluation.

48 Euen the God which ſeeth that I bee auenged: and ſubdueth the people vnto me.

49 It is he that deliuereth me from my (cruell) enimies, and ſetteth mee vp aboue mine aduerſaries: thou ſhalt ridde me from the wicked man.

50 For this cauſe I will giue thankes vnto thee (O Lord) among the Gentiles: and ſing prayſes vnto thy name.

7 The lawe of the Lorde is an vndefiled lawe, conuerting the ſoule: the teſtimonie of the Lorde is ſure, and gyueth wiſedome vnto the ſimple.

8 The ſtatutes of the Lorde are right, and reioyce the heart: the commaundement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

Exaudiat te dominus. Pſal. xx.

1 THe Lorde heare thee in the day of trouble: the name of the God of Iacob defende thee.

2 Sende thee helpe from the ſanctuarie: and ſtrength thee out of Sion.

3 Remember all thy offerings: and accept thy burnt ſacrifice.

4 Graunt thee thy heartes deſire: and fulfill all thy minde.

5 We will reioyce in thy ſaluation, and triumph in the name of the Lorde our God: the Lorde perfourme all thy petitions.

6 Nowe knowe I that the Lorde helpeth his annoynted, and will heare him from his holye heauen: euen with the wholſome ſtrength of his right hande.

7 Some put their truſt in Charettes, and ſome in horſes: but we will remember the name of the Lorde our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are ryſen, and ſtande vpright.

9 Saue Lorde, and heare vs, O king of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Pſal. xxi.

1 THe king ſhall reioyce in thy ſtrength, O Lorde: exceeding glad ſhall he bee of thy ſaluation.

2 Thou haſt giuen him his hartes deſire: and haſt not denyed him the requeſt of his lippes.

3 For thou ſhalt preuent him with the bleſſings of goodneſſe: and ſhalt ſet a crowne of pure golde vpon his heade.

4 Hee aſked life of thee, and thou gaueſt him a long life euen for euer and euer.

5 His honour is great in thy ſaluation: glorie and great worſhip ſhalt thou lay vpon him.

6 For thou ſhalt giue him euerlaſting felicitie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

B 7 And why? becauſe the king putteth his truſt in the Lord: and in the mercie of the moſt higheſt, he ſhall not miſcarie.

8 All thine enimies ſhal feele thy hand: thy right hand ſhall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalte make them lyke a fierie Ouen in tyme of thy wrath: the Lorde ſhall deſtroy them in his diſpleaſure, and the fire ſhall conſume them.

10 Their frute ſhalt thou rote out of the earth: and their ſeede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended miſchiefe againſt thee: and imagined ſuch a deuice as they are not able to perfourme.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou put them to flight: and the ſtrings of thy bowe ſhalt thou make readie againſt the face of them.

13 Be thou exalted Lord in thine owen ſtrength: ſo will we ſing and prayſe thy power.

Deus deus meus. Pſal.xxij.

A 1 Euening prayer.

Y God, my God (looke vpon mee) why haſt thou forſaken mee: and art ſo farre from my health, and from the wordes of my complaint?

2 O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou heareſt not: and in the night ſeaſon alſo I take no reſt.

3 And thou continueſt holy: O thou worſhip of Iſraell.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they truſted in thee, and thou didſt deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their truſt in thee, and were not cõfounded.

6 But as for mee, I am a Worme: and no man: a verie ſcorne of men, and the outcaſt of the people.

B 7 All they that ſee mee, laugh mee to ſcorne: they ſhoote out their lips, and ſhake their heade, ſaying.

8 He truſted in God that he would deliuer him: let him deliuer him, if he will haue him.

9 But thou art he that toke me out of my mothers wombe, thou waſt my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers breaſtes.

10 I haue bene leaft vnto thee euer ſince I was borne: thou art my God, euen from my mothers wombe.

11 O goe not from mee, for trouble is harde at hande: and there is none to helpe me.

12 Many Oxen are come aboute me: fat bulles of Baſan cloſe me in on euery ſide.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lion.

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of ioynt: my heart alſo in the midſt of my bodie, is euen like melting waxe. C

15 My ſtrength is dryed vp like a potſhard, and my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: and thou ſhalt bring me into the duſt of death.

16 For (many) Dogges are come aboute me: and the counſell of the wicked layeth ſiege againſt mee.

17 They pearced my handes and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they ſtande ſtaring and loking vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them: and caſt lottes vpon my veſture.

19 But be not thou farre from mee, O Lorde: thou art my ſuccour, haſte thee to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my ſoule from the ſworde: my darling from the power of the dogge.

21 Saue me from the Lions mouth: thou haſt D heарde mee alſo from among the hornes of the Unicornes.

22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the myddes of the Congregation will I prayſe thee.

23 O prayſe the Lorde yee that feare him: magnifie him all ye of the ſeede of Jacob and feare him all ye of the ſeede of Iſraell.

24 For hee hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the lowe eſtate of the poore, he hath not hid his face from him: but when hee called vnto him, hee heard him.

25 My prayſe is of thee in the great Congregation: my vowes will I perfourme in the ſight of them that feare him.

26 The poore ſhall eate, and be ſatiſfied: they that ſeeke after the Lorde, ſhall prayſe him, your hart ſhall liue for euer.

27 All the endes of the worlde ſhall remember themſelues, and be turned vnto the Lorde: and all the kinreds of the Nations ſhall worſhippe before him.

28 For the kingdome is the Lordes: and he E is the gouernour among the people.

29 All ſuch as be fatte vpon earth: haue eaten and worſhipped.

30 All they that go downe into the duſt, ſhall kneele before him: and no man hath quickened his owne ſoule.

31 My ſeede ſhall ſerue him: they ſhall be counted vnto the Lorde for a generation.

32 They ſhall come, and the heauens ſhall declare his righteouſneſſe: vnto a people that ſhal be be bothe whom the Lorde hath made.

Dominus regit me. Pſal.xxiij.

1 THe Lorde is my ſheepehearde : therefore can I lacke nothing.

2 He ſhall fede me in a greene paſture: and lead me forth beſides the waters of comfort.

3 Hee ſhall conuert my ſoule : and bring mee forth in the pathes of righteouſneſſe, for his names ſake.

4 Yea thoughe I walke through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will feare no euill : for thou art with me, thy rodde and thy ſtaffe comfort me.

5 Thou ſhalte prepare a Table before mee, againſt them that trouble mee : thou haſt annoynted my heade with Oyle, and my cuppe ſhall be full.

6 But thy louing kindneſſe and mercie ſhall follow me all the dayes of my life : and I will dwell in the houſe of the Lorde for euer.

Domini eſt terra. Pſal.xxiiij.

1 THe earth is the Lordes and al that therein is : the compaſſe of the worlde, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it vpon the ſeas : and prepared it vpon the floods.

3 Who ſhall aſcende into the hill of the Lorde : or who ſhall riſe vp in his holy place?

4 Euen he that hath cleane handes, and a pure heart : and that hath not lift vp his minde vnto vanitye, nor ſworne to deceyue his neighbour.

5 Hee ſhall receyue the bleſſing from the Lord: and righteouſneſſe from the GOD of his ſaluation.

6 This is the generation of them that ſeeke him: euen of them that ſeeke thy face, O Jacob.

7 Lift vp your heades, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlaſting dores : and the king of glorie ſhall come in.

8 Who is the king of glorie : it is the Lorde ſtrong and mightie : euen the Lorde mightie in battaile.

9 Lift vp your heades, O ye gates, and bee ye lift vp ye euerlaſting dores : and the king of glorie ſhall come in.

10 Who is the king of glorie : euen the Lord of hoſtes, he is the king of glorie.

Ad te domine. Pſal.xxv.

1 VNto thee, O Lord, will I lift vp my ſoule, my God I haue put my truſt in thee : O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enimies triumph ouer me.

2 For all they that hope in thee ſhall not bee aſhamed: but ſuch as tranſgreſſe without a cauſe, ſhall be put to confuſion.

3 Shewe mee thy wayes, O Lorde : and teache me thy pathes.

4 Lead me forth in thy truth, and learne me: for thou art the God of my ſaluation : in thee hath bene my hope all the day long.

5 Call to remembraunce, O Lorde, thy tender mercies : and thy louing kindneſſe which haue bene euer of olde.

6 Oh remember not the ſinnes and offences of my youth : but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon me (O Lorde) for thy goodneſſe.

7 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde : therefore will he teach ſinners in the way. B

8 Them that be meeke, ſhall he guide in iudgement : and ſuche as bee gentle, them ſhall hee learne his way.

9 All the pathes of the Lorde are mercie and truth : vnto ſuch as keepe his couenant and his teſtimonies.

10 For thy names ſake, O Lorde : be mercyfull vnto my ſinne, for it is great.

11 What man is he that feareth the Lorde : him ſhall he teach in the way that he ſhall chooſe.

12 His ſoule ſhall dwell at eaſe : and his ſeede ſhall inherite the lande.

13 The ſecrete of the Lorde is among them that feare him : and hee will ſhewe them his couenant.

14 Mine eies are euer looking vnto the Lorde : C for he ſhall plucke my feete out of the net.

15 Turne thee vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me : for I am deſolate, and in miſerie.

16 The ſorrowes of my heart are enlarged : O bring thou me out of my troubles.

17 Looke vpon mine aduerſitie and miſery : and forgiue me all my ſinne.

18 Conſider myne enemies how many they are : and they beare a tyrannous hate againſt me.

19 O keepe my ſoule, and deliuer me : let me not be confounded, for I haue put my truſt in thee.

20 Let perfectneſſe & rightuous dealing waite vpon me: for my hope hath bene in thee.

21 Deliuer Iſraell, O God: out of all his troubles.

Iudica me domine. Pſal.xxvi.

BE thou my iudge, O Lord, for I haue walked innocently : my truſte hath bene alſo in the Lorde, therefore ſhall I not fall. I

3 For thy louing kindneſſe is euer before mine eyes : and I will walke in thy truth.

4 I haue not dwelt with vaine perſons: neither will I haue felowſhip with the deceytfull.

5 I haue hated the Congregation of the wicked:

6 I will washe my handes in innocencie, O Lord: and so will I go to thyne aulter.
B 7 That I may shew the voice of thanksgiuing: and tell of all thy wondrous workes.
8 Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thy house: and the place where thyne honour dwelleth.
9 O shut not vp my soule with the sinners: nor my life with the bloudthirstie.
10 In whose handes is wickednesse: and their right hand is full of gyftes.
11 But as for me, I will walke innocently: O Lord deliuer me, and be mercyfull vnto me, 12 My foote standeth ryght: I will prayse the Lorde in the congregations.

Dominus illuminatio. Psal.xxvij.

A Euening prayer.

THe Lorde is my light, and my saluation, whome then shall I feare? the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whom then shall I be afrayde?
2 When the wicked, (euen myne enimies and my foes) came vpon me to eate vp my flesshe: they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an host of mē were layd against me, yet shall not my heart be afrayde: and though there rose vp warre against me, yet will I put my trust in him.
4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, which I will require: euen that I maye dwell in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of my life, to beholde the fayre beautie of the Lorde, and to visite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle: yea in the secrete place of his dwelling shall he hyde me, and set me vp vpon a rocke of stone.
6 And nowe shall he lift vp myne heade: aboue myne enimies rounde about me.
B 7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladnesse: I will sing, and speake prayses vnto the Lorde.
8 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I crye vnto thee: haue mercie vpon me, and heare me.
9 My heart hath talked of thee, seeke ye my face: thy face Lorde will I seeke.
10 O hyde not thou thy face from me: nor calle thy seruant away in displeasure.
11 Thou hast bene my succour, leaue me not: neither forsake me, O God, of my saluation.
12 When my father and my mother forsake me: the Lorde taketh me vp.
13 Teache me thy way, O Lord: and leade me in the right way, because of myne enimies.
C 14 Delyuer me not ouer into the will of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, and such as speake wrong.
15 I should vtterly haue fainted: but that I beleeue verily to see the goodnesse of the Lorde, in the lande of the lyuing.
16 O tarie thou the Lordes leysure: be strong, and he shall comforte thine heart, and put thou thy trust in the Lorde.

Ad te Domine. Psal.xxvij.

VNto thee will I crye, O Lord, my strength: thinke no scorne of me, least if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become lyke them that goe downe into the pyt.
2 Heare the voyce of my humble petitions when I crye vnto thee: when I holde vp my handes towarde the mercy seate of thy holy temple.
3 O plucke me not away (neyther destroy me) with the vngodly and wicked doers: which speake friendly to their neighbors, but imagine mischiefe in their hearts.
4 Reward them according to their deedes: and according to the wickednesse of their owne inuentions.
5 Recompence them after the worke of their hands: pay them that they haue deserued.
6 For they regarde not in their mind the works of the Lorde, nor the operation of his handes: therefore shall he breake them downe, and not builde them vp.
7 Praysed be the Lorde: for he hath heard the B voyce of my humble petitions.
8 The Lorde is my strength and my shield, my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart daunceth for ioye, and in my song will I prayse him.
9 The Lorde is my strength: and he is the wholsome defence of his annoynted.
10 O saue thy people, and giue thy blessing vnto thine inheritance: feede them, and set them vp for euer.

4 It is the Lorde that ruleth the sea, the voyce of the Lorde is mightie in operation: the voice of the Lorde is a glorious voyce.
5 The voyce of the Lorde breaketh the Cedar trees: yea the Lorde breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.
6 He made them also to skyppe like a Calfe: Libanus also and Syrion like a yong Vnicorne.

9 The Lorde ſitteth aboue the water floud: and the Lorde remaineth a king for euer.

10 The Lorde ſhall giue ſtrength vnto his people : the Lorde ſhall giue his people the bleſſing of peace.

Exaltabo te domine. Pſal.xxx.

1 I Will magnifie thee, O Lord, for thou haſt ſet me vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee: and thou haſt healed me.

3 Thou Lorde haſt brought my ſoule out of hell: thou haſt kept my life from them that go downe into the pit.

4 Sing prayſes vnto the Lord (O ye ſaints of his:) and giue thankes vnto him for a remembrance of his holineſſe.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twinckling of an eye, and in his pleaſure is lyfe: heauineſſe may indure for a night, but ioy commeth in the Morning.

6 And in my proſperitie I ſayd, I ſhal neuer be remoued : thou Lorde of thy goodneſſe haſt made my hill ſo ſtrong.

7 Thou diddeſt turne thy face (fro mee:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee O Lorde : and gate me vnto my Lorde right humbly.

9 What profite is there in my bloud: when I go downe to the pit?

10 Shall the duſt giue thankes vnto thee: or ſhall it declare thy truth?

11 Heare, O Lorde, and haue mercy vpon me: Lorde be thou my helper.

12 Thou haſt turned my heauineſſe into ioy: thou haſt put off my ſackcloth, and gyded me with gladneſſe.

3 And bee thou my ſtrong rocke, and the houſe of defence; that thou mayſt ſaue me.

4 For thou art my ſtrong rock, and my caſtle: be thou alſo my guide and leade me for thy names ſake.

5 Drawe me out of the net that they haue layde priuilye for mee : for thou arte my ſtrength.

6 Into thy handes I commend my ſpirite: for thou haſt redeemed me, O Lorde, thou God of truth.

7 I haue hated them that holde of ſuperſtitious vanities : and my truſt hath bene in the Lorde. B

8 I will be glad, and reioyce in thy mercy: for thou haſt conſidered my trouble, and haſt knowne my ſoule in aduerſities.

9 Thou haſt not ſhut me vp into the hand of the enimie : but haſt ſet my feete in a large rowme.

10 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble : and mine eye is conſumed for very heauineſſe, yea, my ſoule & my bodie.

11 For my life is waren olde with heauyneſſe : and my yeares with mourning.

12 My ſtrength fayleth me, bycauſe of mine iniquitie : and my bones are conſumed.

13 I became a reprowfe among all mine enimies, but ſpecially among my neighbors : and they of mine acquaintance were afraid of me, and they that did ſee mee without, conueyed themſelues from me.

14 I am cleane forgotten as a deade man C out of minde : I am become like a broken veſſell.

15 For I haue heard the blaſphemie of the multitude : and feare is on euerie ſyde, while they conſpire togither againſt me, & take their counſaile to take away my life.

16 But my hope hath bene in thee, O Lord: I haue ſayde, thou art my God.

17 My time is in thy hande, deliuer mee from the hande of mine enimies: and from them that perſecute me.

18 Shewe thy ſeruaunt the lighte of thy countenaunce : and ſaue me for thy mercies ſake.

19 Let me not be confounded, O Lorde, for I haue called vpon thee : let the vngodly be put to confuſion, and bee put to ſilence in the graue.

20 Let the lying lippes bee put to ſilence : which cruelly, diſdeynfully, and diſpitefully ſpeake againſt the righteous.

21 O how plentifull is thy goodneſſe which D thou haſt layde vp for them that feare thee: and that thou haſt prepared for them that putte their truſt in thee, euen before the ſonnes of men.

22 Thou ſhalt hyde them priuily by thine owne preſence, from the prouoking of all men:

men: thou shalt keepe them secretely in thy tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

23 Thankes be to the Lorde: for he hath shewed me marueylous great kindenesse in a strong Citie.

24 And when I made hast, I sayde: I am cast out of the sight of thine eyes.

25 Neuerthelesse thou heardest the voyce of my prayer: when I cryed vnto thee.

26 O loue the Lorde all ye his Saints: for the Lord preserueth them that are faithfull, and plenteously rewardeth the proud doer.

27 Be strong, and he shal stablish your hart: all ye that put your trust in the Lorde.

Euening prayer.

A BLessed is he whose vnrighteousnesse is forgiuen: & whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth no sin: and in whose spirite there is no guile.

3 For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away, through my dayly complayning.

4 For thy hande is heauy vpon me day and night: and my moysture is like the drought in Sommer.

5 I will knowledge my sinne vnto thee: & my vnrighteousnesse haue I not hid.

6 I sayde, I will confesse my sinnes vnto the Lorde: and so thou forgauest the wickednesse of my sinne.

B 7 For this shall euery one that is godly make his prayer vnto thee, in a time when thou mayst be found: but in the great water floods, they shall not come nigh him.

8 Thou art a place to hide me in, thou shalt preserue me from trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songs of deliuerance.

9 I will enfourme thee, and teache thee in the way wherein thou shalt go: and I wil guide thee with mine eie.

10 Be ye not like to horse and mule, which haue no vnderstanding: whose mouthes must be holden with bitte and bridle, least they fall vpon thee.

11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who so putteth his trust in the Lorde, mercie embraceth him on euery side.

12 Be glad, O ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lorde: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of hart.

Exultate iusti. Psal.xxxiij.

A 1 REioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becommeth well the iust to bee thankfull.

2 Prayse the lord with harpe: sing psalmes vnto him with the lute, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song: sing prayses lustily (vnto him) with a good courage.

4 For the worde of the Lorde is true: and all his workes are faythfull.

5 He loueth righteousnesse and iudgment: the earth is ful of the goodnesse of the lord.

6 By the worde of the Lorde were the heauens made: and all the hostes of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the Sea together as it were vpon an heape: and layeth vp the deepe as in a treasure house.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: stande in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commaunded, and it stode fast.

10 The Lorde bringeth the counsaile of the heathen to naught: and maketh the deuises of the people to be of none effecte, (and casteth out the counsailes of Princes.)

11 The counsaile of the Lorde shall endure for euer: and the thoughtes of his heart from generation to generation.

12 Blessed are the people whose God is the Lorde Iehoua: and blessed are the folke that he hath chosen to him to bee his inheritance.

13 The Lorde looked downe from heauen, and beholde all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling, he considereth all them that dwell in the earth.

14 He fashioneth all the hartes of them: and C vnderstandeth all their workes.

15 There is no king that can bee saued by the multitude of an host: neyther is any mightie man deliuered by much strength.

16 An horse is counted but a vaine thing to saue a man: neyther shall hee deliuer any man by his great strength.

17 Beholde, the eye of the Lorde is vppon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their trust in his mercie.

18 To deliuer their soules from death: and to feede them in the time of dearth.

19 Our soule hath paciently tarryed for the Lorde: for he is our helpe, and our shield.

20 For our heart shall reioyce in him: because we haue hoped in his holy name.

21 Let thy mercifull kindnesse (O Lord) be vpon vs: like as we haue put our trust in thee.

Benedicam dominum. Psal.xxxiiij.

1 I Will alwaye giue thankes vnto the Lorde: his prayse shall euer be in my mouth.

2 My soule shall make his boast of the Lord: the humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.
3 O prayse the Lorde with me: and let vs magnifie his name together.
4 I sought the Lorde, and he heard me: yea, he delivered me out of all my feare.
5 They had an eye vnto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.
6 Loe, ỳ poore crieth, & the Lord heareth him: yea, and saveth him out of all his troubles.
7 The angell of ỳ Lord tarieth round about them that feare him: and delivereth them.
8 O taste and see how gratious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
9 O feare the Lord ye that be his saintes: for they that feare him, lacke nothing.
10 The Lions doe lacke, and suffer hunger: but they that seeke the Lord, shall wante no manner of thing that is good.
11 Come ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lorde.
12 What man is hee that lusteth to live, and would fayne see good dayes: keepe thy tong from evill, and thy lippes that they speake no guile.
13 Eschewe evill, and doe good: seeke peace, and ensue it.
14 The eyes of the Lord are over the righteous: & his eares are open vnto their prayers.
15 The countenance of the Lord is against them that do evill: to roote out the remembrance of them from the earth.
16 The righteous crie, and the Lorde heareth them: & delivereth thẽ out of al their troubles.
17 The Lord is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite hart: and will save such as be of an humble spirite.
18 Greate are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of all.
19 He keepeth all his bones: so that not one of them is broken.
20 But misfortune shall slay ỳ vngodly: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate.
21 The Lord delivereth the soules of his servauntes: and all they that put their trust in him, shall not be destitute.

Judica domine nocentes. Psal. xxxv.

1 Leade thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strive w̃ me: & fight thou against them that fight against me.
2 Lay hand vpon ỳ shelde and buckler: and stande vp to help me.
3 Bring forth the speare, and stoppe the way against them that persecute me: say vnto my soule, I am thy salvation.
4 Let them be confounded and put to shame that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mischiefe for me.
5 Let them be as the dust before the winde: and the angell of the Lord scattering them.
6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the angell of the Lord persecute them.
7 For they have privily layd their net to destroy me without a cause: yea, even without a cause have they made a pit for my soule. B
8 Let a sodayne destruction come vpon hym vnawares, and his net that he hath layd privily, catch him selfe: that he may fall into his owne mischiefe.
9 And my soule be joyfull in the Lorde: it shall reioyce in his salvation.
10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is lyke vnto thee, whiche deliverest the poore from him that is to strong for him: yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from hym that spoyleth him.
11 False witnesse did rise vp: they layde to my charge things that I knew not.
12 They rewarded me evill for good: to the great discomfort of my soule.
13 Nevertheless, when they were sicke, I put on sackcloth, and humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer shall turne into mine owne bosome.
14 I behaved my selfe as though it had bin my friend, or my brother: I went heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother. C
15 But in mine adversitie they reioyced, and gathered them together: yea, the very abiects came together against mee vnawares, making mowes at me, and ceassed not.
16 With the flatterers were busie mockers: which gnashed vpon me with their teeth.
17 Lord, how long wilt thou looke vpõ this: O deliver my soule from the calamities whiche they bring on me, and my darling from the Lions.
18 So will I give thee thankes in the greate congregatiõ: I will prayse thee amõg much people.
19 O let not them that are mine enimies triumph over me vngodly: neyther lette them winke with their eyes that hate me without a cause.
20 And why? their communing is not for peace: but they imagine deceytefull wordes against them that are quiet in the lande.
21 They gaped on mee with their mouthes, and sayd: fye on thee, fye on thee, we sawe it with our eyes.
22 Thys thou hast seene, O Lorde: holde not thy tong then, goe not far frõ me, O Lord.
23 Awake and stand vp to iudge my quarell: avenge thou my cause, my God & my Lord.

24 Judge

D 24 Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteouſneſſe: and let them not triumph ouer me.

25 Let them not ſay in their harts, ther, there, ſo would we haue it: neyther let them ſay, we haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be put to confuſion and ſhame together that reioice at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and diſhonour, that boaſt them ſelues againſt me.

27 Let them be glad and reioyce that fauour my righteous dealing: yea let them ſaye alway, bleſſed be the Lorde whiche hath pleaſure in the proſperitie of his ſeruaunt.

28 And as for my tōg it ſhal be talking of thy righteouſneſſe: & of thy prayſe al ỳ day lōg.

Dixit iniuſtus. Pſal.xxxvi.

I 1 MY hart ſheweth me the wickedneſſe of the vngodlie: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himſelf in his owne ſight: vntill his abhominable ſinne be found out.

3 The words of his mouth are vnrighteous, and full of deceit: he hathe left off to behaue him ſelfe wiſely, and to do good.

4 He imagineth miſchiefe vpon his bed, and hathe ſet him ſelfe in no good way: neyther doth he abhorre any thing that is euill.

5 Thy mercy (O Lord) reacheth vnto ỳ heauen: and thy faythfuineſſe vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteouſnes ſtādeth like ỳ ſtrōg moū taynes: thy iudgemēts are like ỳ great depe.

B 7 Thou Lord ſhalt ſaue both man and beaſt, how excellent is thy mercy, O God: and the children of men ſhall put their truſt vnder the ſhadow of thy wings.

8 They ſhall be ſatiſfied with the plenteouſneſſe of thy houſe: and thou ſhalt giue them drinke of thy pleaſures, as out of the riuer.

9 For with thee is the well of life: and in thy light ſhall we ſee light.

10 O continue forth thy louing kindnes vnto them that know thee: and thy righteouſneſſe vnto them that are true of hart.

11 O let not ỳ fote of pride come againſt me: & let not ỳ hād of ỳ vngodly caſt me down.

12 There are they fallen (all) that worke wickedneſſe: they are caſt downe, and ſhall not be able to ſtand.

Euening prayer.

I 1 FRet not thy ſelfe, becauſe of the vngodly: neither be ỳ enuious againſt ỳ euil doers.

2 For they ſhall ſone be cut downe lyke the graſſe: and be withered euen as the greene hearbe.

3 Put thou thy truſt in the Lord, and be doing good: dwell in the land, and verily thou ſhalt be fedde.

4 Delight thou in the Lord: and he ſhal giue thee thy harts deſire.

5 Cōmit thy way vnto ỳ Lord, and put thy truſt in him: and he ſhall bring it to paſſe.

6 He ſhall make thy righteouſnes as clere as ỳ light: and thy iuſt dealing as ỳ noneday.

7 Hold thee ſtill in the Lord, and abide patiently vpon him: but grieue not thy ſelfe at him whoſe way doth proſper, againſte the man that doth after euill counſayles. B

8 Leaue off from wrath, and let go diſpleaſure: fret not thy ſelfe, els ſhalt thou be moued to do euill.

9 Wicked doers ſhall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lord, thoſe ſhall inherite the land.

10 Yet a little whyle, and the vngodly ſhall be cleane gone: thou ſhalte loke after his place, and he ſhall be away.

11 But ỳ meeke ſpirited ſhall poſſeſſe ỳ earth: and ſhal be refreſhed in ỳ multitude of peace

12 The vngodly ſeeketh counſayle againſt ỳ iuſt: and gnaſheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord ſhall laugh him to ſcorne: for he hath eene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue dra'wen out the ſword, C and haue bended their bowe: to caſt downe the poore and needie, and to ſlay ſuch as be of a right conuerſation.

15 Their ſword ſhall go through their owne hart: and their bowe ſhall be broken.

16 A ſmall thing that the righteous hath: is better than great riches of the vngodly.

17 For ỳ armes of the vngodly ſhal be broke: and the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: & their inheritance ſhall endure for euer.

19 They ſhal not be confounded in ỳ perilous time: and in the days of the dearth they ſhall haue ynough.

20 As for ỳ vngodly they ſhal periſh, & the enimies of ỳ Lorde ſhall conſume as ỳ fat of lambs: yea euen as the ſmoke ſhal they conſume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not a- D gayn: but ỳ righteous is merciful & liberall.

22 Such as be bleſſed of god, ſhal poſſeſſe the land: and they that be curſed of him ſhall be rooted out.

23 The Lord ordereth a good mans going: & maketh his way acceptable to him ſelfe.

24 Though he fall, he ſhall not be caſt away, for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hande.

25 I haue bin yong, and now am olde, and yet ſaw I neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his ſeede begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer merciful & lendeth: and and his ſeede is bleſſed.

27 Flee from euill, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.
28 For the Lord loueth the thing that is right: ℭ he forſaketh not his that be godly, but they are preſerued for euer.
29 The righteous ſhall be puniſhed: as for the ſeede of the vngodly, it ſhall be rooted out.
30 The righteous ſhall inherite the lande: and dwell therein for euer.
31 The mouth of the righteous is exerciſed in wiſedome: and his tongue will be talking of iudgment.
32 The lawe of his God is in his heart: and his goings ſhall not ſlide.
33 The vngodly ſeeth the righteous: and ſeeketh occaſion to ſlay him.
34 The Lord will not leaue him in his hande: nor condemne him when he is iudged.
35 Hope thou in the Lorde, and keepe his way, and he ſhall promote thee, that thou ſhalt poſſeſſe the lande: when the vngodly ſhall periſh, thou ſhalt ſee it.
36 I my ſelfe haue ſeene the vngodly in great power: and flouriſhing like a greene bay tree.
37 And I went by, & lo, he was gone: I ſought him, but his place could no where be founde.
38 Keepe innocencie, and take heede vnto the thing that is right: for that ſhall bring a man peace at the laſt.
39 As for the tranſgreſſours, they ſhall periſh together: and the ende of the vngodly is, they ſhal be rooted out at the laſt.
40 But the ſaluation of the righteous commeth of the Lorde: which is alſo their ſtrength in the time of trouble.
41 And the Lorde ſhall ſtande by them, and ſaue them: he ſhall deliuer them from the vngodly, and ſhal ſaue them, becauſe they put their truſt in him.

Domine ne in furore. Pſal.xxxvij.

1 PUT mee not to rebuke (O Lorde) in thyne anger: neyther chaſten me in thy heauie diſpleaſure.
2 For thine arrowes ſticke faſt in me: and thy hande preſſeth me ſore.
3 There is no health in my fleſhe, becauſe of thy diſpleaſure: neyther is there any reſt in my bones, by reaſon of my ſinne.
4 For my wickednelles are gone ouer my head: and are lyke to a ſore burthen to heauie for me to beare.
5 My wounds ſtinke and are corrupt: through my foolyſhneſſe.
6 I am brought into ſo great trouble and miſerie: that I go mourning all the day long.
7 For my loynes are filled with a ſore diſeaſe: B and there is no whole part in my bodie.
8 I am feeble and ſore ſmitten: I haue roared for the verie diſquietneſſe of my heart.
9 Lorde thou knowelt all my deſire: and my groning is not hid from thee.
10 My heart panteth, my ſtrength hath fayled me: and the light of mine eies is gone from me.
11 My louers and my neighbours did ſtande loking vpon my trouble: and my kinſmen ſtood a farre off.
12 They alſo that ſought after my lyfe, layde ſnares for mee: and they that went about to do me euill talked of wickedneſſe, and ymagined deceyte all the day long.
13 As for me, I was like a deafe man, and heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doth not open his mouth.
14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: ℭ and in whoſe mouth are no reproues.
15 For in thee, O Lorde, haue I put my truſt: thou ſhalt anſwere for mee, O Lorde my God.
16 I haue required that they (euen mine enimyes) ſhoulde not tryumph ouer me: for when my foote ſlipt, they reioyced greatly againſt me.
17 And I truely am ſet in the plague: and my heauineſſe is euer in my ſight.
18 For I will confeſſe my wickednelſe: and be ſorie for my ſinne.
19 But mine enimies liue, and are mightie: and they that hate mee wrongfully are manye in number.
20 They alſo that reward euill for good, are agaynſt me: becauſe I followe the thing that good is.
21 Forſake me not, O Lorde my God: be not thou farre from me.
22 Haſt thee to helpe me: O Lord God of my ſaluation.

Dixi, cuſtodiam. Pſal.xxxix.

1 I Sayde, I will take heede to my wayes: A that I offende not in my tongue.
2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle:) while the vngodly is in my ſight.
3 I helde my tongue and ſpake nothing: I kept ſilence, yea euen from good wordes, but it was paine and greefe to mee.
4 My hart was whote within me, and while I was thus muſing, the fire kindled: and at the laſt I ſpake with my tongue.
5 Lorde let me knowe mine ende, and the number of my dayes; that I may be certified howe long I haue to liue.
6 Beholde thou haſt made my dayes as it were a ſpanne long: and mine age is euen as nothing in reſpect of thee, and verily euery man liuing is altogither vanitie.
7 For man walketh in a vaine ſhadowe, and B disquieteth himselfe in vaine: hee heapeth vp riches, and can not tell who shall gather them.

8 And nowe Lord what is my hope: truly my hope is euen in thee.

9 Deliuer me from al mine offences: and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

10 I became dumbe, and opened not my mouth: for it was thy doing.

11 Take thy plague away from mee: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauie hande.

12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away, like as it were a moth fretting a garment: euery man therefore is but vanitie.

13 Heare my prayer, O Lorde, and with thine eares consider my calling: holde not thy peace at my teares.

℣ 14 For I am a straunger with thee, and a sojourner: as all my fathers were.

15 Oh spare me a little, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and bee no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. xl.

℟ 1 I Wayted patiently for the Lorde: and hee inclined vnto me, and heard my calling.

2 He brought me also out of the horrible pit: out of the myre and clay: and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put a newe song in my mouth: euen a thankesgiuing vnto our God.

4 Many shall see it, and feare: and shall put their trust in the Lorde.

5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lorde: and turned not vnto the proude, and to such as go about with lyes.

6 O Lorde my God, great are thy wonderous workes which thou hast done: lyke as bee also thy thoughtes whiche are to vs warde, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.

℟ 7 If I woulde declare them and speake of them: they shoulde be more than I am able to expresse.

8 Sacrifice and meate offering thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares thou hast opened.

9 Burnt offerings and sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayde I, lo, I come.

10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I shoulde fulfill thy will, O my God: I am content to doe it, yea, thy lawe is within my heart.

11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: lo, I will not refrayne my lippes, O Lorde, and that thou knowest.

12 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within my heart: my talking hath beene of thy truth, and of thy saluation.

13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie and truth: from the great congregation.

14 Withdrawe not thou thy mercie from me, O Lorde: let thy louing kindnesse and thy truth alway preserue me.

15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are mo in number than the heares of myne heade, and my heart hath fayled me.

16 O Lord, let it be thy pleasure to deliuer me: make haste (O Lorde) to helpe me.

17 Let them bee ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backwarde, and put to rebuke that wish me euill.

18 Let them bee desolate and rewarded with shame, that say vnto mee: fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.

19 Let all those that seeke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee: and let suche as loue thy saluation, say alway the Lorde be praysed.

20 As for me, I am poore and needie: but the Lorde careth for me.

21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

Beatus qui intelligit. Psal. xli.

℟ 1 BLessed is he that considereth the poore (and needie:) the Lorde shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord preserue him and keepe him aliue, that he may bee blessed vpon earth: and delyuer not thou him into the wyll of his enimies.

3 The Lorde comfort him when he lyeth sicke vpon his bedde: make thou all his bedde in his sickenesse.

4 I sayde, Lorde be mercyfull vnto mee: heale my soule for I haue sinned agaynst thee.

5 Mine enimies speake euill of me: when shall he die, and his name perishe?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanitie: and his heart conceyueth falsehode within himselfe, and when hee commeth forth, hee telleth it.

7 All mine enimies whisper together agaynst me: euen agaynst me doe they imagine this euill.

8 Let the sentence of gyltinesse proceede against him: and nowe that hee lyeth, let him rise vp no more.

9 Yea, euen mine owne familiar friend (whom I trusted:) which did also eate of my breade, hath layde great wayte for me.

10 But bee thou mercifull vnto me, O Lorde: raise raise thou me vp againe, and I shall reward them.

11 By this I know we thou fauourest me: that mine enimie doth not triumph against me.

12 And when I am in my healthy, thou vpholdest me: and shalt set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israell: world without ende. Amen.

Quemadmodum. Psal. xlij.

1 LIke as the Harte desyreth the water brookes: so longeth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule is a thirst for God, yea euen for the liuing God: when shall I come to appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night: while they dayly say vnto mee, where is nowe thy God?

4 Nowe when I thinke therevpon, I poure out my heart by my selfe: for I went with the multitude, and brought them forth into the house of God?

5 In the voyce of prayse and thankesgiuing: among such as keepe holy day.

6 Why art thou so full of heauinesse (O my soule:) and why art thou so vnquieted within me?

7 Put thy trust in God: for I will yet giue him thankes for the helpe of his countenance.

8 My GOD, my soule is vexed within mee: therefore will I remember thee concerning the lande of Jordane, and the little hill of Hermon.

9 One deepe calleth another, because of the noyse of the water Pipes: all thy waues and stormes are gone ouer me.

10 The Lorde hath graunted his louing kindnesse on the day time: and in the night season did I sing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.

11 I will say vnto the God of my strength, why hast thou forgotten me: why go I thus heauily, while the enimie oppresseth me?

12 My bones are smitten asunder, as with a sworde: while mine enimies (that trouble me) cast me in the teeth.

13 Namely, while they saye dayly vnto mee: where is nowe thy God?

14 Why art thou so vexed (O my soule:) and why art thou so disquieted within me?

15 O put thy trust in God: for I wil yet thanke him: which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Judica me deus. Psal. xlij.

1 GIue sentence with me, O God, and defende my cause against vngodly people: O deliuer me from the deceytfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength, why hast thou put me from thee: and why go I so heauily, while the enimie oppresseth me?

3 Oh sende out thy light and thy truth, that they may leade me: and bring me vnto thy holy hill, and to thy dwelling.

4 And that I may go vnto the aulter of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the Harpe will I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou so heauie, O my soule: and why art thou so disquieted within me?

6 O put thy trust in God: for I will yet giue him thankes, which is the helpe of my countenance, and my God.

Deus auribus. Psal. xliij.

1 WEe haue heard with oure eares, O GOD, our fathers haue tolde vs: what thou hast done in their tyme of olde. Morning prayer.

2 Howe thou hast driuen oute the heathen with thy hande, and planted them in: howe thou hast destroyed the nations, and cast them out.

3 For they gate not the lande in possession through their owne sworde: neyther was it their owne arme that helped them.

4 But thy right hande, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance: because thou hadst a fauour vnto them.

5 Thou art my king (O God:) send helpe vnto Jacob.

6 Through thee will wee ouerthrowe our enimies: and in thy name will we treade them vnder that rise vp against vs.

7 For I will not trust in my bowe: it is not my sworde that shall helpe me.

8 But it is thou that sauest vs from our enimie: and puttest them to confusion that hate vs.

9 We make our boast of God all day long: and will prayse thy name for euer.

10 But nowe thou art farre off, and puttest vs to confusion: and goest not forth with oure armies.

11 Thou makest vs to turne our backes vpon our enimies: so that they which hate vs, spoyle our goodes.

12 Thou lettest vs be eaten vp like sheepe: & hast scattered vs among the heathen.

13 Thou sellest thy people for nought: and takest no money for them.

14 Thou makest vs to be rebuked of our neighbours: to be laughed to scorne, and had in derision of them that are rounde aboute vs.

15 Thou makest vs to bee a byworde among the Heathen: and that the people ſhake theyr heades at vs.

16 My confuſion is dayly before me: and the ſhame of my face hath couered me.

17 For the voyce of the ſlaunderer and blaſphemer: for the enimie and the auenger.

18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee: nor behaue our ſelues frowardly in thy couenant.

19 Our heart is not turned backe: neyther our ſteppes gone out of thy way.

20 No not when thou haſt ſmitten vs into the place of Dragons: and couered vs with the ſhadow of death.

D 21 If we haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp our handes to any ſtraunge God: ſhall not God ſearch it out? for he knoweth the verie ſecretes of the heart.

22 For thy ſake alſo are wee killed all the day long: and are counted as ſheepe appoynted to be ſlaine.

23 Vp Lorde, why ſleepeſt thou: awake, and be not abſent from vs for euer.

24 Wherefore hydeſt thou thy face: and forgetteſt our miſerie and trouble?

25 For our ſoule is brought low, euen vnto the duſt: our bellie cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Ariſe and helpe vs: and deliuer vs for thy mercyes ſake.

14 They lie in the hell like ſheepe, deathe gnaweth vppon them, and the righteouſe ſhall haue dominatiō of them in the morning: their beautie ſhall conſume in the ſepulchre, out of theyr dwelling.
15 But God ſhall deliuer my ſoule from the place of hell: for he ſhall receyue me.
16 Be not thou afrayde though one bee made rich: or if the glory of his houſe be encreaſed.
17 For hee ſhall cary nothing away with hym when he dyeth: neyther ſhall his pompe followe him.
18 For while he liued, hee counted him ſelfe an happy man: and ſo long as thou doeſt well vnto thy ſelfe, men will ſpeake good of thee.

Deus deorum. Pſal.L.

1 THe Lorde, euen the moſt mightie God, hath ſpoken: and called the worlde, Morning prayer.
from the ryſing of the Sunne, vnto the going going downe thereof.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beautie.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keepe silence: there shall goe before him a consuming fire, and a mightie tempest shall bee stirred vp rounde about him.

4 He shall cal the heathen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.

5 Gather my saints togither vnto me: those that haue made a couenant with me, with sacrifice.

6 And the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: for God is iudge himselfe.

B 7 Heare, O my people, and I will speake: I my selfe will testifie against thee, O Israell, for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reproue thee, because of thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: because they were not alway before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thy house: nor bee Goates out of thy foldes.

10 For all the beastes of the forrest are mine: and so are the cattels vpon a thousand hilles.

11 I knowe all the foules vpon the Mountaynes: and the wilde beastes of the fielde are in my sight.

12 If I be hungrie, I will not tell thee: for the whole worlde is mine, and all that is therein.

13 Thinkest thou that I will eate Bulles flesh: and drinke the bloud of Goates?

C 14 Offer vnto GOD thankesgiuing: and pay thy vowes vnto the most highest.

15 And call vpon me in the tyme of trouble: so will I heare thee, and thou shalt praise me.

16 But vnto the vngodly sayde God, why doest thou preach my lawes: and takest my couenant in thy mouth?

17 Whereas thou hatest to bee reformed: and hast cast my wordes behinde thee.

18 When thou sawest a theefe, thou consentedst vnto him: and hast bene partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse: and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceyte.

20 Thou satest and spakest against thy brother: yea and hast slaundered thine owne mothers sonne.

D 21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I will reproue thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done.

22 O consider this, yee that forget God: least I plucke you away, and there bee none to deliuer you.

23 Who so offereth me thankes and praise, hee honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, will I shewe the saluation of God.

Miserere mei deus. Psal.li.

1 HAue mercie vpon mee (O God) after thy great goodnesse: according vnto the multitude of thy mercyes, doe away mine offences.

2 Wash me throughly from my wickednesse: and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I knowledge my faultes: and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee onely haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight: that thou mightest be iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.

5 Beholde, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceyued me.

6 But loe, thou requirest truth in the inwarde partes: and shalt make me to vnderstand wisdome secretly.

7 Thou shalt purge mee with Hyssope, and I shall be cleane: thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whyter than snow.

8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones whiche thou hast broken may reioyce.

9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeedes.

10 Make me a cleane heart (O God:) and renue a right spirite within me.

11 Cast mee not away from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirite from me.

12 O giue mee the comfort of thy helpe againe: and stablish me with thy free spirite.

13 Then shall I teache thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shall bee conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer mee from bloud-guiltinesse, O GOD, thou that arte the GOD of my health: and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

15 Thou shalt open my lippes, O Lorde: and my mouth shall shewe thy prayse.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, else would I giue it thee: but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirite: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not dispise.

18 O be fauourable and gracious vnto Sion: builde thou the walles of Ierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offerings and oblations: then shall they offer yong bullocks vpon thine aulter.

Quid gloriaris. Psal.lij.

1 WHy boastest thou thy selfe, thou tyrant: that thou canst doe mischiefe?

2 Where

2 Whereas the goodneſſe of God : endureth yet dayly.
3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednes: and with lyes thou cutteſt like a ſharpe raſor.
4 Thou haſt loued vngraciouſneſſe more than goodneſſe : and to talke of lyes more than righteouſneſſe.
5 Thou haſt loued to ſpeake all wordes that may do hurt : O thou falſe tongue.
6 Therefore ſhall God deſtroy thee for euer : he ſhall take thee, and plucke thee oute of thy dwelling, and rote thee out of the lande of the liuing.
7 The righteous alſo ſhall ſee this, and feare : and ſhall laugh him to ſcorne.
8 Loe, this is the man that toke not God for his ſtrength : but truſted vnto the multitude of his richeſſe, and ſtrengthned himſelfe in hys wickednes.
9 As for me, I am like a greene Oliue tree in the houſe of God : my truſt is in the tender mercie of God for euer and euer.
10 I will alway giue thanks vnto thee for that thou haſt done : and I will hope in thy name, for thy ſaintes like it well.

Dixit inſipiens. Pſal.liij.

THe fooliſhe bodie hath ſayde in his heart: there is no God.
2 Corrupt are they and become abhominable in theyr wickednes : there is none that doth good.
3 God looked downe from heauen vppon the children of men : to ſee if there were any that would vnderſtande, and ſeeke after God.
4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogither become abhominable : there is alſo none that doth good, no not one.
5 Are not they without vnderſtanding that worke wickednes : eating vp my people, as if they would eate breade, they haue not called vpon God.
6 They were afrayde where no feare was : for God hath broken the bones of him that beſieged thee, thou haſt put them to confuſion, becauſe God hath deſpiſed them.
7 Oh that the ſalnation were giuen vnto Iſrael out of Sion : oh that the Lorde woulde deliuer his people out of captiuitie.
8 Then ſhould Jacob reioice: and Iſrael ſhould be right glad.

Deus in nomine tuo. Pſal.liiij.

SAue me, O God, for thy names ſake : and auenge me in thy ſtrength.
2 Heare my prayer, O God : and hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth.
3 For ſtraungers are riſen vp againſt me : and tyrants (which haue not God before theyr eyes) ſeeke after my ſoule.
4 Beholde, God is my helper : the Lorde is with them that vpholde my ſoule.
5 He ſhall reward euill vnto myne enimies : deſtroy thou them in thy truth.
6 An offering of a free heart will I giue thee, and prayſe thy name (O Lord:) becauſe it is ſo comfortable.
7 For he hath deliuered me out of all my trouble: and mine eie hath ſeene his deſire vpon mine enimies.

Exaudi deus. Pſal.lv.

HEare my prayer, O God : and hide not thy ſelfe from my petition.
2 Take heede vnto me, and heare mee : howe I mourne in my prayer, and am vexed.
3 The enimie cryeth ſo, and the vngodly commeth on ſo faſt : for they are mynded to do me ſome miſchiefe, ſo maliciouſly are they ſet againſt me.
4 My heart is diſquieted within me : and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.
5 Fearefulneſſe and trembling are come vpon me : and an horrible dread hath ouerwhelmed mee.
6 And I ſayde, O that I had wings lyke a Doue : for then would I flee away and be at reſt.
7 Lo then would I get me away farre off: and remaine in the wildernes.
8 I woulde make haſt to eſcape : becauſe of the ſtormie winde and tempeſt.
9 Deſtroy their tongues (O Lorde) and diuide them : for I haue ſpyed vnrighteouſneſſe and ſtrife in the Citie.
10 Day and night they goe aboute within the walles thereof : miſchiefe alſo and ſorrowe are in the middes of it.
11 Wickednes is therein : deceyte and guile go not out of their ſtreetes.
12 For it is not an open enimie that hath done me this diſhonour : for then I coulde haue borne it.
13 Neither was it mine aduerſarie y did magnifie himſelfe againſt me : for then (peraduenture) I would haue hid my ſelfe from him.
14 But it was euen thou my companion : my guide, and mine owne familiar friend.
15 We toke ſweete counſaile togither : and walked in the houſe of God as friendes.
16 Let death come haſtily vpon them, and let them goe downe quicke into hell : for wickednes is in theyr dwellings, and among them.
17 As for me, I will call vpon God : and the Lorde ſhall ſaue me.
18 In the Euening and Morning, and at noone day will I pray, and that instantly: and hee shall heare my voyce.

19 It is he that hath deliuered my soule in peace, from the battaile that was agaynst me: for there were many with me.

20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer shall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.

D 21 He layde his handes vpon such as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.

22 The wordes of his mouth were softer than Butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were smoother than Oyle, and yet they be verie swordes.

23 O cast thy burthen vpon the Lorde, and hee shal nourish thee: and shall not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

24 And as for them: thou, O God, shalt bring them into the pit of destruction.

25 The bloud thirstie and deceytfull men shall not liue out halfe their dayes: neuertheless, my trust shall be in thee, O Lorde.

Miserere mei deus. Psal.lvi.

A 1 Mornyng prayer. BE mercifull vnto me, O God, for man goeth about to deuour me: he is dayly fighting and troubling me.

2 Myne enimies are dayly in hand to swallow me vp: for they be many that fight agaynst me, O thou most Highest,

3 Neuertheless though I am sometime afrayd: yet put I my trust in thee.

4 I will prayse God, because of his worde: I haue put my trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can do vnto me.

5 They dayly mistake my wordes: all that they imagine, is to do me euill.

6 They holde altogither, and keepe themselues close: and marke my steppes, when they lay in wayte for my soule.

B 7 Shall they escape for their wickednesse: thou (O God) in thy displeasure shalt cast them downe.

8 Thou tellest my flittings, put my teares into thy bottell: are not these things noted in thy booke?

9 Whensoeuer I call vpon thee, then shall mine enimies be put to flight: this I know, for God is on my side.

10 In Gods word will I reioyce: in the Lords worde will I comfort me.

11 Yea in God haue I put my trust: I will not be afrayde what man can do vnto me.

12 Vnto thee (O God) will I pay my vowes: vnto thee will I giue thankes.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and my feete from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Miserere mei deus. Psal.lvi.

1 BE mercifull vnto me, O God, be mercifull vnto mee, for my soule trusteth in thee: and vnder the shadowe of thy wings shall bee my refuge, vntill this tyrannie be ouerpast.

2 I will call vnto the most highe God: euen vnto the GOD that shall performe the cause which I haue in hande.

3 Hee shall sende from heauen: and saue me from the reproofe of him that woulde eate me vp.

4 God shall sende forth his mercie and truth: my soule is among Lions.

5 And I lye euen among the children of men (that are sette on fyre: whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sworde.

6 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.

7 They haue layde a Nette for my feete, and pressed downe my soule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the middes of it themselues.

8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and giue prayse.

9 Awake vp my glorie, awake Lute and Harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.

10 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: and I will sing vnto thee among the Nations.

11 For the greatnesse of thy mercie reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy truth vnto the clouds.

12 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.

Si vere vtique. Psal.lvii.

1 ARe your mindes sette vpon righteousnesse, O ye Congregation: and doe ye iudge the thing that is right, O yee sonnes of men?

2 Yea, ye imagine mischiefe in your heart vpon the earth: and your handes deale with wickednesse.

3 The vngodly are frowarde euen from their mothers wombe: as sone as they be borne, they go astray, and speake lyes.

4 They are as venemous as the poyson of a serpent: euen like the deafe Adder that stoppeth hir eares.

5 Which refuseth to heare the voyce of the charmer: charme he neuer so wisely.

2 O delyuer me from the wicked doers: and saue me from the bloud thirstie men.
3 For lo, they lye wayting for my soule: the mightie men are gathered agaynst mee, without any offence or fault of me, O Lorde.
4 They runne and prepare them selues without my fault: arise thou therefore to helpe me, and beholde.
5 Stande vp (O Lorde God of hostes) thou God of Israel, to visite al the heathen: and be not merciefull vnto them that offende of malicious wickednesse.

7 Beholde, they speake with their mouth and swordes are in theyr lyppes: for who dothe heare?
8 But thou, O Lorde, shalt haue them in derision: and thou shalt laughe all the heathen to scorne.
9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the God of my refuge.
10 God sheweth me his goodnesse plentifully: and God shall let me see my desyre vpon myne enimies.
11 Slay them not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abrode among thy people, and put them downe, O Lorde, our defence.
12 For the sinne of theyr mouth, & for the wordes of theyr lyppes, they shalbe taken in theyr pryde: and why? theyr preaching is of cursyng and lyes.
13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume them that they may perysshe: and knowe that it is God which ruleth in Iacob, and vnto the endes of the worlde.
14 And in the euenyng they wyll returne: and grinne lyke a dogge, and wyll goe about the citie.
15 They wyl runne here and there for meate: and grudge if they be not satisfied.
16 As for me, I wil sing of thy power, and wil prayse thy mercy betimes in the morning: for thou hast bin my defence, and refuge in the day of my trouble.
17 Vnto thee (O my strength) wyll I syng: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my mercyful God.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is myne: Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Iuda is my lawgeuer. B
8 Moab is my washpot, ouer Edom wyll I cast out my shoe. Philistia be thou glad of me.
9 Who wyll leade me into the strong Citie: who wyll bryng me into Edom?
10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wylt not thou, O God, go out with our hostes?

Nonne deo. Psal.lxij.

Morning prayer.

1 MY soule truly wayteth still vpon God: for of him commeth my saluation.

2 He verily is my strength & my saluation: he is my defence so that I shall not greatly fal.

3 Howe long will ye imagine mischiefe against euery man, ye shalbe slayne al the sort of you: yea as a totteryng wal shal ye be, and lyke a broken hedge.

4 Their deuice is only how to put him out who God will exalt: theyr delyght is in lyes, they geue good wordes with theyr mouth, but curse with their heart.

5 Neuertheless, my soule wayte thou styl vpon God: for my hope is in hym.

6 He truely is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shal not fal.

7 In God is my health and my glory: the rock of my myght, and in GOD is my trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway (ye people:) poure out your hartes before hym, for God is our hope.

9 As for the children of men, they are but vayne: the children of mē are deceitful vpō ỹ weights, they are altogether lighter than vanitie it selfe.

10 O trust not in wrong and robbery, giue not your selues vnto vanitie: if ryches encrease, set not your hart vpon them.

11 God spake once and twyce: I haue also hard the same, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lord art mercyfull: for thou rewardest euery man according to his worke.

Deus deus meus. Psal.lxij.

1 O God, thou art my God: early will I seeke thee.

2 My soule thirsteth for thee, my flesshe also longeth after thee: in a barreine and drye lande, where no water is.

3 Thus haue I loked for thee in holinesse: that I myght beholde thy power and glory.

4 For thy louyng kindnesse is better thā the life it selfe: my lippes shall praise thee.

5 As long as I liue wil I magnifie thee on this manner: and lyft vp my handes in thy name.

6 My soule shalbe satisfied euen as it were with marowe and fatnesse: when my mouth prayseth thee with ioyful lyppes.

7 Haue I not remembred thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?

8 Because thou hast bin my helper: therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wynges will I reioyce.

9 My soule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.

10 These also that seek the hurt of my soule, they shal goe vnder the earth.

11 Let them fall vpon the edge of the sworde: that they may be a portion for Foxes.

12 But the kyng shall reioyce in God, al they also that sweare by him, shalbe commended: for the mouth of them that speake lyes, shalbe stopped.

Exaudi deus. Psal.lxiij.

5 They courage them selues in mischiefe: and communne among them selues howe they may lay snares, and say that no man shall see them.

6 They imagine wickednesse, and practise it: that they keepe secret among themselues euery man in the deepe of his hart.

7 But God shall suddenly shoote at them with a swyft arrowe: that they shalbe wounded.

8 Yea theyr owne tongues shal make them fal: insomuche that who so seeth them, shall laugh them to scorne.

9 And al men that see it, shal say, this hath God done: for they shal perceiue that it is his worke.

10 The ryghteous shal reioyce in the Lord, and put his trust in him: and al they that are true of hart shalbe glad.

Iubilate deo. Psal.lxvi.

1 BE ioyful in God, al ye landes: syng prayses vnto the honour of his name, make hys prayse to be glorious.

10 Thou broughtest vs into the snare: and laydst trouble vpon our loynes.

11 Thou sufferedst men to ryde ouer our heads: we went through fire and water, & thou broughtest vs out into a wealthie place.

12 I wil go into thine house with burnte offerings: and will pay thee my vowes which I promised with my lippes, and spake with my mouth when I was in trouble.

13 I wil offer vnto thee fat burnt sacrifices, with the incense of rammes: I wil offer bullockes and goates.

14 O come hither and hearken, all ye that feare god: and I will tell you what he hath done for my soule. ℭ

15 I called vnto him with my mouth: and gaue hym prayses with my tongue.

16 If I encline vnto wickednesse with my hart: the Lorde wyl not heare me.

neſſe.

8 The earth ſhooke, and the heauens dropped at the preſence of God: euen as Sinai, alſo was moued at the preſence of God, which is the God of Iſrael.

9 Thou, O God, ſendeſt a gratious rayne vpon thyne inheritaunce: and refreſheſt it when it was wearie.

10 Thy congregation ſhall dwel therein: for thou, O God, haſt of thy goodneſſe prepared for the poore.

11 The Lorde gaue the worde: great was the company of the preachers.

12 Kinges with their armies dyd flee, and were diſcomfited: and they of the houſehold deuided the ſpoile.

13 Though ye haue lien among the pottes, yet ſhal ye be as the wings of a Doue: that is couered with ſiluer wings, and hir feathers lyke golde.

℣ 14 When ỹ almightie ſcattered kynges for their ſake: then were they as white as ſnowe in Salmon.

15 As the hyl of Baſan, ſo is Gods hil: euen an high hil, as the hil of Baſan.

16 Why hoppe ye ſo, ye high hilles? this is Gods hil, in the which it pleaſeth him to dwel: yea, the Lorde will abyde in it for euer.

17 The charrets of God are twentie thouſand, euen thouſandes of angels: and the Lorde is among them, as in the holy place of Sinai.

18 Thou art gonne vp on high, thou haſt led captiuitie captiue, and receiued giftes for men: yea, euen for thine enimies, that ỹ Lord God might dwel among them.

19 Prayſed bee the Lorde dayly: euen the God whiche helpeth vs, and powreth his benefites vpon vs.

20 He is our God, euen the God of whom cõmeth ſaluation: God is the Lorde, by whom we eſcape death.

℣ 21 God ſhall wounde the head of his enimies: and the hearie ſcalpe of ſuche a one as goeth on ſtyl in his wickednelle.

22 The Lord hath ſayd, I wil bring my people againe, as I did from Baſan: mine owne will I bring againe, as I did ſometime from the deepe of the ſea.

23 That thy foote may be dypped in the bloud of thine enimies: and that the tongue of thy dogges may be red through the ſame.

24 It is well ſeene, O God, howe thou goeſt: howe thou my God and king goeſt in the ſanctuarie.

25 The ſingers goe before, the minſtrelles followe after: in ỹ middeſt are the damſells playing with the tymbrelles.

26 Giue thanks, O Iſrael, vnto God ỹ Lord in the congregations: from ỹ ground of the hart, 27 There is lytle Beniamin they r ruler, and the princes of Iuda their counſayle: the princes of Zabulon, and the princes of Nepthali.

28 Thy God hath ſent forth ſtrength for thee: ℣ ſtabliſhe ỹ thyng, O God, ỹ thou haſt wrought in vs.

29 For thy temples ſake at Ieruſalem: ſo ſhall kings bring preſentes vnto thee.

30 When the company of the ſpearemen, and multitude of the mightie, are ſcattered abroade among the beaſtes of the people (ſo that they humbly bring peeces of ſyluer:) and when hee hath ſcattered the people that delight in warre.

31 Then ſhal the princes come out of Egypt: the Mozians land ſhal ſone ſtretch out hir handes vnto God.

32 Syng vnto God, O ye kyngdomes of the earth: O ſing prayſes vnto the Lorde.

33 Whiche ſytteth in the heauens ouer all from the beginning: loe, he doth ſend out his voyce, yea and that a mightie voyce.

34 Aſcribe ye the power to God ouer Iſrael: his worſhyp and ſtrength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, wõderful art thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Iſrael, he will giue ſtrength & power vnto his people, bleſſed be God.

Saluum me fac deus. Pſal. lxix.

1 SAue me, O God: for the waters are come in, euen vnto my ſoule. Euening prayer.

2 I ſticke faſt in the deep mire, where no grõd is: I am come into deepe waters, ſo that the flouds ranne ouer me.

3 I am weerie of crying, my throte is dyre: my ſyght fayleth me for wayting ſo long vpon my God.

4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are more than the heares of my head: they that are myne enimies, and would deſtroy me giltleſſe, are mightie.

5 I payde them the thinges that I neuer tooke: God, thou knoweſt my ſimpleneſſe, and my faultes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that truſt in thee, O Lord God of hoſtes, be aſhamed for my cauſe: let not thoſe that ſeeke thee be confounded through me, O Lorde God of Iſrael.

7 And why? for thy ſake haue I ſuffered reproffe: ſhame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a ſtraunger vnto my brethren: euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.

9 For the zeale of thine houſe hath euen eaten me: and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept, and chaſtened my ſelfe with faſting: and that was turned to my reproffe.

11 I put

11 I put on a ſackecloth alſo: and they ieſted vpon me.
12 They that ſyt in the gate, ſpeake againſt me: and the drunkards make ſongs vpon me.
13 But Lorde, I make my prayer vnto thee: in an acceptable tyme.
14 Heare me, O God, in the multitude of thy mercy: euen in the trueth of thy ſaluation.
15 Take me out of the myre, that I ſynke not: oh let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.
16 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe ſwallowe me vp: and let not the pyt ſhut hir mouth vpon me.
17 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindneſſe is comfortable: turne thee vnto me, accordyng to the multitude of thy mercies.
18 And hide not thy face from thy ſeruaunt for I am in trouble: oh haſte thee, and heare me.
19 Drawe nigh vnto my ſoule, and ſaue it: oh deliuer me, bycauſe of mine enimies.
20 Thou haſt knowen my reproſe, my ſhame, & my diſhonour: mine aduerſaries are all in thy ſyght.
21 Thy rebuke hath broken my hart, I am full of heauineſſe: I loked for ſome to haue pitie on me, but there was no man, neyther found I any to comfort me.
22 They gaue me gal to eate: and when I was thirſtie, they gaue me vineger to drinke.
23 Let their table be made a ſnare to take them ſelues withall: and let the thinges (that ſhoulde haue ben for their wealth) be vnto them an occaſion of falling.
24 Let their eyes be blynded, that they ſee not: and euer bowe downe their backes.
25 Powre out thyne indignation vpon them: and let thy wrathfull diſpleaſure take holde of them.
26 Let their habitation be voyde: and no man to dwel in their tentes.
27 For they perſecute him whom thou haſt ſmitten: and they talke howe they may vexe them whom thou haſt wounded.
28 Let them fal from one wyckednesſe to another: and not come into thy righteouſneſſe.
29 Let them be wyped out of the booke of the liuyng: and not be wrytten among the righteous.
30 I ſo for me, when I am poore, and in heauines: thy helpe (O GOD) ſhal lifte me vp.
31 I will prayſe the name of God with a ſong: and magnifie it with thankeſgiuyng.
32 This alſo ſhall pleaſe the Lorde: better than a Bullocke that hath hornes and hoofes.
33 The humble ſhall conſider this, and be glad: ſeeke ye after God, and your ſoule ſhal liue.
34 For the Lorde heareth the poore: and diſpiſeth not his priſoners.
35 Let heauen and earth prayſe him: the ſea, and al that moueth therein.
36 For God wil ſaue Sion, and builde the cities of Juda: that men may dwel there, and haue it in poſſeſſion.
37 The poſteritie alſo of his ſeruauntes ſhal inherite it: & they that loue his name, ſhal dwel therein.

Deus in adiutorium. Pſal. lxx.

1 HAſte thee, O God, to deliuer me: make haſt to helpe me, O Lorde. I
2 Let them be aſhamed and confounded that ſeeke after my ſoule: let them be turned backwarde, and put to confuſion that wiſhe me euil.
3 Let them (for their reward) be ſoone brought to ſhame: that crye ouer me, there, there.
4 But let al thoſe that ſeeke thee, bee ioyful and glad in thee: and let all ſuch as delight in thy ſaluation, ſay alway, the lord be prayſed.
5 As for me, I am poore, and in miſerie: haſt thee vnto me (O God.)
6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer: O Lord, make no long tarying.

In te domine. Pſal. lxxi

1 IN thee, O Lorde, haue I put my truſte, let me neuer be put to confuſion: but rydde me, and deliuer me in thy righteouſneſſe, encline thine eare vnto me, and ſaue me. A Morning prayer.
2 Be thou my ſtrong holde (whereunto I may alway reſort:) thou haſte promyſed too helpe me, for thou art my houſe of defence and my caſtel.
3 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hande of the vngodly: out of the hande of the vnrighteous & cruel man.
4 For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for: thou art my hope, euen from my youth.
5 Through thee haue I bin holden vp euer ſince I was borne: thou art he that toke me out of my mothers wombe, my prayſe ſhalbe alway of thee.
6 I am become as it were a monſter vnto many: but my ſure truſt is in thee.
7 O let my mouth be filled with thy prayſe: (that I may ſing of thy glory) and honour all the day long. B
8 Caſt me not away in the time of age: forſake me not when my ſtrength faileth me.
9 For mine enimies ſpeak againſt me, and they that lay waite for my ſoule, take their counſaile togither, ſaying: God hath forſaken hym, perſecute him, and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.
10 Goe not farre fro me, O God: my God, haſt thee thee to helpe me.

11 Let them be confounded and perysshe, that are agaynste my soule: let them bee couered with shame and dishonour that seeke to doe mee euil.

12 As for me, I will patiently abide alway: and wil prayse thee more and more.

13 My mouth shall dayly speake of thy ryghteousnesse and saluation: For I knowe no ende thereof.

C 14 I will goe forth in the strength of the Lord God: and will make mention of thy ryghteousnesse only.

15 Thou O God, hast taught me from my youth vp vntil nowe: therefore wil I tel of thy wonderous workes.

16 Forsake me not, O God, in my olde age, whē I am gray headed: vntill I haue shewed thy strength vnto this generation, and thy power to al them that are yet for to come.

17 Thy righteousnesse, O God, is very high: and great thynges are they that thou hast done, O God, who is like vnto thee?

18 O what great troubles and aduersities hast thou shewed me, and yet didst thou turne and refresh me: yea, and broughtest me frō the deepe of the earth agayne.

19 Thou hast brought me to great honour: and comforted me on euery side.

20 Therefore wil I prayse thee and thy faythfulnesse (O God) playing vpon an instrument of musycke: vnto thee wyll I syng vpon the harpe, O thou holy one of Israel.

D 21 My lips will bee fayne when I sing vnto thee: and so wyl my soule whom thou hast delyuered.

22 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse al the day long: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke to do mee euyl.

Deus iudicium. Psal. lxxij.

A 1 GIue the king thy iudgementes (O God:) and thy righteousnesse vnto the kynges sonne.

2 Then shal he iudge the people according vnto right: and defende the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bryng peace, and ỹ litle hylles righteousnesse vnto the people.

4 He shall keepe the symple folke by theyr right: defende the children of the poore, and punishe the wrong doer.

5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 He shall come downe lyke the rayne into a fleece of wool: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

B 7 In his tyme shall the righteous florysshe: yea and aboundance of peace so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion also shal bee from the one sea to the other: and frō the floude vnto the worldes ende.

9 They ỹ dwel in the wyldernesse shall kneele before him: his enimies shal licke the dust.

10 The kinges of Tharsis, and of the Iles, shall giue presentes: the kinges of Arabia and Saba, shall bryng giftes.

11 All kinges shal fal downe before him: all nations shall do hym seruice.

12 For he shall delyuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shalbe fauourable to the symple & needy: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall delyuer theyr soules from falsehed & wrong: and deare shall theyr blonde bee in his sight.

15 He shall liue, and vnto him shalbe giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shal be made ever vnto him, and dayly shall he be praysed.

16 There shalbe an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shal shake lyke Libanus, & shalbe greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His name shall endure for euer, his name shal remayne vnder the sunne among the posteritie: whiche shall be blessed through him, & al the heathen shal prayse him.

18 Blessed be ỹ Lord God, euen the God of Israel: which only doth wonderous things.

19 And blessed be the name of his maiestie for euer: and al the earth shall be fylled with his maiestie. Amen. Amen.

Quam bonus Israel. Psal. lxxij.

1 TRuely God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane hart.

2 Neuertheless, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had welnygh slypt.

3 And why? I was greeued at the wicked: I do also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no peril of death: but are lusty and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other men.

6 And this is the cause that they be so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with cruelte.

7 Theyr eyes swel with fatnesse: and they do more then what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: theyr talking is agaynste the most hyghest.

9 For they stretch forth theyr mouth vnto the heauen: and theyr tongue goeth through the worlde.

10 Therefore

10 Therfore fal the people vnto them: and thereout ſucke they no ſmal aduauntage.
11 Tuſhe (ſay they) howe ſhoulde God perceiue it: is there knowledge in the moſte hyghеſt?
12 Loe, theſe are the vngodly, theſe proſper in the worlde: and theſe haue ryches in poſſeſſion: and I ſayd, then haue I cleanſed my hart in vayne, and waſhed my handes in innocencie.
13 All the day long haue I bene punyſhed: and chaſtened euery morning.
14 Yea and I had almoſt ſayd euen as they: but loe, then ſhoulde I haue condemned the generation of thy children.
15 Then thought I to vnderſtande this: but it was to hard for me.
16 Until I went into the ſanctuarie of God: the vnderſtoode I the ende of theſe men.
17 Namely howe thou doeſt ſet them in ſlypperie places: and caſteſt them downe, and deſtroyeſt them.
18 Oh howe ſuddenly do they conſume: peryſhe, and come to a fearefull ende?
19 Yea, euen like as a dreame whē one awaketh:
ſo ſhalt thou make their image to vaniſhe out of the citie.
20 Thus my harte was greeued: and it went euen through my reynes.
21 So fooliſhe was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beaſt before thee.
22 Neuertheleſſe, I am alway by thee: for thou haſt holden me by my ryght hande.
23 Thou ſhalt guide me with thy counſell: and after that receiue me with glory.
24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: and there is none vpon earth that I deſyre in compariſon of thee.
25 My fleſhe and my hart fayleth: but God is the ſtrength of my harte, and my portion for euer.
26 For loe, they that forſake thee, ſhall peryſhe:
thou haſt deſtroyed all them that commit fornication againſt thee.
27 But it is good for me to holde mee faſt by God, to put my truſt in the Lorde God: and to ſpeake of al thy workes (in the gates of ỹ daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid deus. Pſal. lxxiij.

1 O God, wherefore art thou abſent from vs ſo long: why is thy wrath ſo hot againſt the ſheepe of thy paſture?
2 Othinke vpon thy congregation: whom thou haſt purchaſed and redeemed of olde.
3 Thinke vpon the tribe of thine inheritaunce:
and mounte Sion, wherein thou haſte dwelt.
4 Lyfte vp thy feete, that thou mayeſt vtterly deſtroy euery enimie: which hath done euyl in thy ſanctuarie.
5 Thyne aduerſaries roare in the myddeſt of thy congregations: and ſet vp theyr banners for tokens.
6 He that hewed tymber afore out of the thycke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.
7 But nowe they breake downe all the carued B worke therof: with axes and hammers.
8 They haue ſet fyre vpon thy holy places: and haue defiled ỹ dwellyng place of thy name, euen vnto the grounde.
9 Yea, they ſayde in theyr hartes, let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houſes of God in the land.
10 We ſee not our tokens, there is not one pro-phete more: no not one is there among vs that vnderſtandeth any more.
11 O God, howe long ſhal the aduerſary do this diſhonour: how long ſhal the enimie blaſpheme thy name, for euer?
12 Why withdraweſte thou thy hande: why pluckeſt not thou thy right hand out of thy bo-ſome to conſume the enimie?
13 For God is my king of olde: the helpe that is done vpon the earth, he doth it him ſelfe.
14 Thou diddeſt diuide the ſea through thy po- C wer: thou breakeſt the heades of the dragons in the waters.
15 Thou ſmoteſt the heades of Leuiathan in pe-ces: and gaueſt him to be meate for the people in the wildernеſſe.
16 Thou broughteſt out fountaines and waters out of the harde rockes: thou dryedſt vp mightie waters.
17 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou haſt prepared the light and the ſunne.
18 Thou haſt ſet al the borders of the earth: thou haſt made ſommer and winter.
19 Remember this, O Lorde, how the enimie hath rebuked: and howe the fooliſhe people haue blaſphemed thy name.
20 O delyuer not the ſoule of thy Turtle doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the congregation of the poore for euer.
21 Loke vppon the couenaunt: for al the earth is D ful of darkneſſe, and cruel habitations.
22 Oh let not the ſimple go away aſhamed:
but let the poore and needie giue prayſe vnto thy name.
23 Aryſe, O God, maynteyne thine owne cauſe:
remember howe the fooliſhe man blaſpheмeth thee dayly.
24 Forget not the voyce of thine enimies: the preſumption of them that hate thee, encreaſeth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal.lxxv.

A 1 Morning prayer. VNto thee (O God) do we giue thankes: vnto thee do we giue thankes.
2 Thy name also is so nigh: and that doe thy wonderous workes declare.
3 When I receiue ỹ congregation: I shal iudge according vnto right.
4 The earthe is weake, and all the inhabiters therof: I beare vp the pillers of it.
5 I sayde vnto the fooles, deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, set not vp your horne.
6 Set not vp your horne on hygh: and speake not with a stiffe necke.
B 7 For promotion commeth neyther from the east, nor from the west: nor yet from the south.
8 And why? God is ỹ iudge: he putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.
9 For in the hand of the Lorde there is a cuppe, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, & he powreth out of the same.
10 As for the dregges therof: al the vngodly of the earth shal drinke them, and sucke them out.
11 But I will talke of the God of Jacob: and prayse him for euer.
12 Al the hornes of the vngodlye also will I breake: and the hornes of the righteous shal bee exalted.

Notus in Iudea. Psal.lxxvi.

A 1 IN Jurie is God knowen: his name is great in Israel.
2 At Salem is his tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bowe: the shielde, the sword, and the battayle.
4 Thou art of more honour and might: than the hilles of the robbers.
5 The proude are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and al the men (whose handes were mightie) haue found nothing.
6 At thy rebuke (O God of Jacob:) both the charret and horse is fallen.
B 7 Thou, euen thou art to bee feared: and who may stande in thy sight when thou art angry?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgemente too bee hearde from heauen: the earth trembled, and was still.
9 When God arose to iudgement: and to helpe al the meeke vpon earth.
10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy prayse: and the fiercenesse of them shalte thou refrayne.
11 Promyse vnto the Lorde your God, and kepe it, all ye that bee rounde about hym: bring presentes vnto hym that ought to bee feared.
12 He shall refrayne the spirite of princes: and is wonderfull among the kynges of the earth.

Voce mea ad dominum. Psal.lxxvij.

1 I Wil crye vnto God with my voyce: euen vnto God wil I crye with my voyce, and he shal hearken vnto me.
2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lorde: my sore ranne and ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.
3 When I am in heauinesse, I wyl thynke vpon God: when my hart is vexed, I wyl complayne.
4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I can not speake.
5 I haue considered the dayes of olde: and the yeeres that are past.
6 I call to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne hart, and searche out my spirites.
7 Will the Lorde absent himselfe for euer: and wil he be no more entreated?
8 Is his mercy cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come vtterly to an ende for euermore?
9 Hath god forgotten to be gratious: and will he shut vp his louing kindnesse in displeasure?
10 And I saide, it is mine owne infirmitie: but I will remember the yeeres of the right hande of the most hyghest.
11 I will remember the workes of the Lorde: and call to mynde thy wonders of old time.
12 I will thinke also of al thy workes: and my talking shalbe of thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God, as our God?
14 Thou art the God that doth wonders: and C hast declared thy power among people.
15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Jacob, and Joseph.
16 The waters sawe thee, O God, the waters sawe thee, and were afrayde: the deapthes also were troubled.
17 The cloudes powred out water, the ayre thundred: and thine arrowes went abrode.
18 The voyce of thy thunder was hearde round about: the lyghtnynges shone vppon the grounde, the earthe was moued, and shoke withall.
19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy pathes in the greate waters: and thy foteteppes are not knowen.
20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hande of Moses and Aaron.

Attendite populè. Psal.lxxviij.

1 HEare my lawe, O my people: I encline your eares vnto ỹ wordes of my mouth. Hearing prayer
2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hard sentences of olde.

3 Which

3 Whiche we haue heard and knowen: and such as our fathers haue tolde vs.
4 That we should not hyde them from the children of the generation to come: but to shew the honour of the Lorde, his mightie and wonderfull workes that he hath done.
5 He made a couenaunt with Jacob, and gaue Israel a lawe: which he commaunded our forefathers to teache their children.
6 That their posteritie might knowe it: and the children which were yet vnborne.
7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shewe their children the same.
8 That they might put their trust in God: and not forget the workes of God, but to keepe his commaundements.
9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faythlesse and stubborne generation: a generation that set not their hart aright, and whose spirite cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.
10 Lyke as the chyldren of Ephraim: which being harnessed and carying bowes, turned themselues back in the daye of battayle.
11 They kept not the couenaunt of God: and would not walke in his lawe.
12 But forgate what he had done: and the wonderfull worke that he had shewed for them.
13 Marueloꝰ thinges did he in the sight of our forefathers in the lande of Egypt: euen in the fielde of Zoan.
14 He deuided the sea, and let them goe through: he made the waters to stande on an heape.
15 In the day tyme also he led the with a cloud: and al the night thorowe with a light of fyre.
16 He claue the harde rockes in the wyldernesse: and gaue them drynke thereof, as it had bin out of the great deapth.
17 He brought waters out of the stony rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.
18 Yet for al this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most highest in the wildernesse.
19 They tempted God in their hartes: and required meat for their lust.
20 They spake agaynste God also, saying: shall God prepare a table in the wyldernesse?
21 He smote the stony rocke in deede, that the waters gushed out and the streames flowed withall: but can he giue bread also, or prouide flesh for his people?
22 When the Lord heard this, he was wroth: so the fyre was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heauy displeasure against Israel.
23 Because they beleeued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.
24 So he commaunded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.
25 He rayned down Manna also vpon them for to eate: and gaue them foode from heauen.
26 So man dyd eate angels foode: for he sent them meate ynough.
27 He caused the East winde to blowe vnder the heauen: and through his power he brought in the Southwest wynde.
28 He rayned flesshe vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered foules like as the sand of the sea.
29 He let it fall among their tentes: euen round about their habitation.
30 So they did eate and were fylled: for he gaue them their owne desyre, they were not disapointed of their lust. E
31 But whyle the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heauie wrath of God came vpon them, and slew the wealthiest of them: yea and smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.
32 But for al this, they sinned yet more and beleeued not his wonderous workes.
33 Therefore their dayes did he consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.
34 When hee slewe them, they sought hym: and turned them early, and enquired after God.
35 And they remembred that GOD was their strength: and that the hygh God was their redeemer.
36 Neuertheleſſe, they dyd but flatter him with their mouth: and dissembled with him in their tongue.
37 For their hart was not whole with him: neyther continued they stedfast in his couenant.
38 But he was so mercyful: that he forgaue their misdeedes, and destroyed them not.
39 Yea, many a time turned he his wrath away: and would not suffer his whole displeasure to aryse.
40 For he considered that they were but flesshe: and that they were euen a wynde that passeth away, and commeth not agayne.
41 Many a time did they prouoke him in the wyldernesse: and grieued hym in the desert. F
42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy one in Israel.
43 They thought not of his hande: nor of the day when he deliuered the fro the hād of the enimie.
44 How he had wrought his miracles in Egipt: and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan.
45 He turned their waters into blood: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.
46 He sent lyce among them, and deuoured the: vp: and frogges to destroy them.
47 He gaue their fruites vnto the Caterpiller: and their labour vnto the Grashopper.
48 He destroyed their vines with haylestones: and their Mulbery trees with the frost.
49 He smote their cattell also with haylestones: and their flockes with hot thunder boltes.
50 He cast vpon them the furiousnesse of his wrath, anger, displeasure, and trouble: & sent euyll angels among them.

51 He made a way to his indignation, and spared not their soule from death: but gaue their life ouer to the pestilence.

52 And smote all the fyrst borne in Egypt: the most principall and mightiest in the dwellings of Ham.

53 But as for his owne people, he led them forth like sheepe: and caryed them in the wyldernesse lyke a flocke.

54 He brought the out safely, that they shold not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enimies with the sea.

55 And brought them within the borders of his sanctuarie: euen to his mountayne whiche hee purchased with his right hande.

56 He cast out the heathen also before them: caused their lande to bee diuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tentes.

57 So they tempted and displeased the most high God: and kepte not his testimonies.

58 But turned their backes, and fell away like their forefathers: starting asyde lyke a broken bowe.

59 For they greued him with their hyl aulters: and prouoked him to displeasure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and toke soare displeasure at Israel.

61 So that he forsoke the tabernacle in Silo: euen the tent that he had pitched among them.

62 He deliuered their power into captiuitie: and their beautie into the enimies hande.

63 He gaue his people ouer also vnto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritaunce.

64 The fyre consumed their young men: and their maydens were not giuen to mariage.

65 Their priestes were slayne with the sword: and there were no wydowes to make lamentation.

66 So the Lorde awaked as one out of sleepe: and like a Giaunt refreshed with wine.

67 He smote his enimies in the hinder partes: and put them to a perpetuall shame.

68 He refused the tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

69 But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hil of Sion which he loued.

70 And there he builded his temple on high: and layd the fundation of it, like the ground whiche he hath made continually.

71 He chose Dauid also his seruaunt: and toke him away from the sheepe foldes.

72 As he was followyng the Ewes great with young ones, he toke hym: that he might feede Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritaunce.

73 So he fedde them with a faithfull and true hart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

Deus venerunt. Psal. lxxix.

1 O God, the Heathen are come into thyne inheritaunce: thy holy temple haue they defyled, and made Jerusalem an heape of stones.

2 The dead bodyes of thy seruauntes haue they giuen to bee meate vnto the foules of the ayre: and the flesshe of thy saintes vnto the beastes of the lande.

3 Their bloud haue they shed lyke water on euery syde of Jerusalem: and there was no man to burie them.

4 We are become an open shame to our enimies: a very scorne and derision vnto them that are rounde about vs.

5 Lord how long wilt thou be angry: shall thy gelousie burne lyke fyre for euer?

6 Powre out thine indignation vpon the heathē that haue not knowen thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy name.

7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: and layd waste his dwelling place.

8 O remember not our olde sinnes, but haue mercy vpon vs, and that soone: for we are come to great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glory of thy name: O deliuer vs, and be mercyfull vnto our sinnes for thy names sake.

10 Wherefore do the Heathen say: where is now their God?

11 O let the vengeaunce of thy seruauntes bloud that is shed: bee openly shewed vpon the Heathen in our sight.

12 O let ỹ sorowful sighing of ỹ prisoners come before thee: according to the greatnesse of thy power, preserue thou those that are appointed to dye.

13 And for the blasphemie (wherewith our neybours haue blasphemed thee:) reward thou thē O Lord, seuen folde into their bosome.

14 So we that be thy people and sheepe of thy pasture, shall geue thee thanks for euer: and will alway be shewing forth thy prayse, from generation to generation.

Qui regis Israel. Psal. lxxx.

1 Geare, O thou shepheard of Israell, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheepe: shew thy selfe also, thou that sittest vpon the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim, Beniamin, and Manasses: stirre vp thy strength, and come and help vs.

Turne

3 Turne vs agayne, O GOD: shewe the light of thy countenaunce, and we shalbe whole.
4 O Lord God of hostes: how long wylt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth?
5 Thou feedest them with the bread of teares: and giuest them plentyousnesse of teares to drinke.
6 Thou hast made vs a very strife vnto our neighbours: and our enimies laughe vs to scorne.
7 Turne vs againe, thou God of hostes: shewe the lyght of thy countenaunce, and we shal be whole.
8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the Heathen, and planted it.
9 Thou madest rome for it: and when it had taken rote, it fylled the land.
10 The hylles were couered with the shadowe of it: and the boughes therof were lyke the goodly Cedar trees.
11 She stretched out hir braunches vnto the sea: and hir boughes vnto the riuer.
12 Why hast thou then broken down hir hedge: that all they whyche goe by plucke of hir grapes?
13 The wylde Bore out of the woodde dothe rote it by: and the wylde beastes of the fielde deuoure it.
14 Turne thee agayne thou God of hostes, looke downe from heauen: beholde, and visite this vine.
15 And the place of the vineyarde that thy right hande hath planted: and the branche that thou madest so strong for thy selfe.
16 It is burnt with fire and cut downe: and they shall perishe at the rebuke of thy countenaunce.
17 Let thy hande bee vpon the man of thy ryght hande: and vpon the sonne of man whom thou madest so strong for thyne owne selfe.
18 And so will not we goe backe from thee: O let vs liue, and we shall call vpon thy name.
19 Turne vs againe: O Lorde God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenaunce, and wee shalbe whole.

Exultate deo. Psal. lxxxi.

1 SIng we merily vnto God our strength: make a chearefull noyse vnto the God of Iacob.
2 Take the Psalme, bring hither the Tabret: the mery Harpe, with the Lute.
3 Blowe vp the trumpet in the newe moone: euen in the tyme appoynted, and vpon our solemne feast day.
4 For this was made a statute for Israel: and a lawe of the God of Iacob.
5 This he ordeyned in Ioseph for a testimonie: when hee came out of the lande of Egypt, and had heard a straunge language.
6 I eased his shoulder from the burden: and his handes were deliuered from makyng the pots.
7 Thou calledst vpon me in troubles, and I deliuered thee: and hearde thee what tyme as the storme fell vpon thee. B
8 I proued thee also: at the waters of strife.
9 Heare, O my people, and I will assure thee, O Israel: if thou wilt harken vnto me.
10 There shall no straunge god be in thee: neyther shalt thou worshyp any other God.
11 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt: open thy mouth wyde, and I shal fill it.
12 But my people would not heare my voyce: and Israel woulde not obey me.
13 So I gaue them vp vnto theyr owne hartes lust: and let them folowe their owne imaginations.
14 O that my people woulde haue harkened vnto mee: for if Israel had walked in my wayes. C
15 I shoulde soone haue put downe theyr enimies: and turned my hande agaynst theyr aduersaries.
16 The haters of the Lord should haue bin found lyers: but theyr tyme should haue endured for euer.
17 He shoulde haue fedde them also with the finest wheat flowre: and with honie out of the stonie rocke should I haue satisfied thee.

1 GOD standeth in the congregation of princes: he is iudge among gods. A Euening prayer.
2 How long wil ye giue wrong iudgement: and accept the persons of the vngodly?
3 Defende the poore and fatherlesse: see that such as be in neede and necessitie haue ryght.
4 Deliuer the outcast and poore: saue them from the hande of the vngodly.
5 They will not be learned, nor vnderstand, but walke on styl in darknesse: all the foundations of the earth be out of course.
6 I haue sayde, ye are Gods: and ye all are children of the most highest.

1 BOwe downe thyne eare, O Lorde, and heare me: for I am poore and in miserie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruaunt that putteth his trust in thee.

3 Be mercyfull vnto me, O Lorde: for I will call dayly vpon thee.

4 Comfort the soule of thy seruaunt: for vnto thee (O Lorde) do I lyft vp my soule.

5 For thou Lorde art good and gratious: and of great mercy vnto all them that cal vpon thee.

6 Eine eare Lorde vnto my prayer: and ponder the voyce of mine humble desyres.

7 In the tyme of my trouble I will cal vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the goddes there is none like vnto thee (O Lorde:) there is not one that can do as thou doest.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and worship thee, O Lord: and shall glorifie thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teache me thy way (O Lorde) and I will walke in thy truth: O knit my hart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.

12 I will thanke thee, O Lorde my God, with al my harte: and will prayse thy name for euermore.

13 For great is thy mercy towarde me: and thou hast deliuered my soule from the nethermost hell.

14 O God, the proude are risen against me, and the congregations of noughtie mē haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou (O Lorde God) art ful of compassion and mercy: long suffering, plenteous in goodnes and truth.

16 O turne thee then vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thine handmayde.

17 Shewe some good token vpon me for good, that they whiche hate me may see it, and be ashamed: bycause thou Lord hast holpen me, and comforted me.

Domine deus. Psal.lxxxviij.

1 O Lord God of my saluation, I haue cryed day and nyght before thee: O let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.

2 For my soule is full of trouble: and my lyfe draweth nigh vnto hell.

3 I am counted as one of them that goe downe vnto the pit: and I haue bin euen as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead, lyke vnto them that be wounded and lye in the graue: whiche be out of remembraunce, and are cut away from thy hande.

5 Thou hast layde mee in the lowest pit: in a place of darknesse, and in the deepe.

6 Thyne indignation lyeth harde vpon me: and thou hast vexed me with all thy stormes.

7 Thou hast put away mine acquayntaunce farre from me: and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison: that I can not get forth.

9 My sight fayleth for very trouble: Lorde I haue called dayly vpo thee: I haue stretched out my handes vnto thee.

10 Doest thou shewe wonders among the dead: or shall the dead ryse vp agayne and prayse thee?

11 Shall thy louyng kyndnesse bee shewed in the graue: or thy faythfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes be knowen in the darke: and thy righteousnesse in the lande where al things are forgotten?

13 Unto thee haue I cryed, O Lorde: and early shal my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why abhorrest thou my soule: and hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am in miserie, and like vnto him that is at the pointe to dye: (euen from my youth vp) thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled mynde.

16 Thy wrathfull displeasure goeth ouer mee: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.

17 They came rounde about me dayly lyke water: and compassed me together on euery syde.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from me: and hydde myne acquaintaunce out of my syght.

Misericordias domini. Psal.lxxxix.

Euenyng prayer.

I 1 MY song shalbe alway of the louing kindnesse of the Lord: with my mouth wyll I euer be shewyng thy truthe, from one generation to another.

2 For I haue sayde, mercy shalbe set vp for euer: thy truth shalt thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a conenaunt with my chosen: I haue swoorne vnto Dauid my seruaunt.

4 Thy seede will I stablishe for euer: and set vp thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lorde, the very heauens shall prayse thy wounderous workes: and thy truth in the congregation of the saintes.

6 For who is he among the cloudes: that shalbe compared vnto the Lorde?

B 7 And what is he among the goddes: that shal be like vnto the Lorde?

8 God is very greatly to be feared in the counsayle of the saintes: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lorde God of hostes, who is lyke vnto thee: thy trueth (most mightie Lorde) is on euery syde.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou shyllest the waues thereof when they aryse.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it: thou hast scattered thyne enimies abrode with thy mightie arme.

12 The heauens are thyne, the earth also is thine: thou hast layde the foundation of the rounde worlde, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North and the South: Tabor and Hermon shal reioyce in thy name.

C 14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand and hygh is thy right hande.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seat: mercy and trueth shal go before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lorde) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the lyght of thy countenaunce.

17 Their delight shalbe dayly in thy name: & in thy righteousnesse shal they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy louyng kindnesse thou shalt lyft vp our hornes.

19 For the Lorde is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our king.

20 Thou spakest sometyme in visions vnto thy saintes, and saidest: I haue layd helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue found Dauid my seruaunt: with my D holy oyle haue I annoynted him.

22 My hande shal holde hym fast: and my arme shal strengthen him.

23 The enimie shal not be able to do him violence: the sonne of wickednesse shall not hurte him.

24 I shall smite downe his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shalbe with him: and in my name shall his horne be exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the sea: and his right hande in the fluddes.

27 He shal cal me, thou art my father: my God, and my strong saluation.

28 And I will make him my fyrst borne: higher E than the kinges of the earth.

29 My mercy wil I keepe for him for euermore: and my conenaunt shal stande fast with him.

30 His seede also wil I make to endure for euer: and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

31 But if his children forsake my lawe: and walke not in my iudgementes.

32 If they breake my statutes, and kepe not my commaundementes: I wil visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.

33 Neuertheles, my louing kindnes wil I not vtterly take from him: nor suffer my truthe to fayle.

34 My conenaunt will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes: I haue swoorne once by my holynesse, that I will not fayle Dauid.

35 His seede shall endure for euer: and his seate F is like as the sunne before me.

36 He shal stand fast for euermore as the moone: and as the faithful witnesse in heauen.

37 But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thine annoynted: and art displeased at him.

38 Thou hast broken the conenaunt of thy seruaunt: and cast his crowne to the ground.

39 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges: and broken downe his strong holdes.

40 All they that goe by, spoyle him: and he is become a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

41 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enimies: and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

42 Thou hast taken away the edge of his G swoord: and giuest him not victorie in the battayle.

43 Thou hast put out his glory: and cast his throne downe to the ground.

44 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortned: and couered him with dishonour.

45 Lorde, how long wylt thou hyde thy selfe for euer: and shall thy wrathe burne lyke fyre?

46 O, remember how short my time is: where-

for

for hast thou made al men for nought?
47 What man is he that liueth, and shal not see death: and shall be deliuer his owne soule from the hande of hell?
48 Lord where are thine olde louing kindnesses: whiche thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy truth?
49 Remember Lorde the rebuke that thy seruauntes haue: & how I do beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.
50 Wherwith thine enimies haue blasphemed thee, and slaundered the footesteppes of thyne annoynted: praysed bee the Lord for euermore, Amen, Amen.

LOrde thou hast ben our refuge: from one generation to another.
2 Before the mountaines were brought forth, or euer the earth and the worlde were made: thou art God from euerlasting, and world without ende.

5 Assone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe: and fade away sodaynely lyke the grasse.
6 In the morning it is greene and groweth vp: but in the euenyng it is cut downe, dryed vp, and wythered.
7 For we consume away in thy displeasure: and are afrayde at thy wrathfull indignation.
8 Thou hast set our misdeedes before thee: and our secrete sinnes in the syght of thy countenance.
9 For when thou art angry, all our dayes are gone: we bring our yeeres to an end, as it were a tale that is told.
10 The daies of our age are threescore yeeres and tenne, and though men be so strong that they come to fourescore yeeres: yet is their strength then but labour and sorow, so sone passeth it away, and we are gone.
11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for euen there-after as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.
12 Teache vs to number our dayes: that wee may apply our hartes vnto wisdome.
13 Turne thee againe (O Lorde) at the last: and be gratious vnto thy seruauntes.
14 Satisfie vs with thy mercie, and that sone: so shal we reioyce and be glad all the dayes of our lyfe.
15 Comfort vs agayne nowe after the time that thou hast plagued vs: and for the yeeres wherein we haue suffered aduersitie.
16 Shewe thy seruauntes thy worke: and their children thy glory.
17 And the glorious maiestie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs: prosper thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, O prosper thou our handy worke.

4 For thou Lorde haſte made me glad thorowe thy worckes: and I wil reioyce in giuing praiſe for the operations of thy handes.

5 O Lorde, how glorious are thy worckes: and thy thoughtes are very deepe.

6 An vnwiſe man doth not wel conſyder this: and a fole doth not vnderſtande it.

B 7 When the vngodly are greene as the graſſe, and when all the workers of wickednelle doe flouriſhe: then ſhall they bee deſtroyed for euer, but thou Lorde art the moſte higheſt for euermore.

8 For loe thine enimies (O Lorde) loe thine enimies ſhal periſhe: and all the workers of wickednelle ſhall be deſtroyed.

9 But my horne ſhalbe exalted lyke the horne of an Unicorne: for I am annoynted with freſh oyle.

10 Myne eye alſo ſhall ſee his luſt of myne enimies: and mine eare ſhal heare his deſyre of the wicked that riſe vp againſt me.

11 The righteous ſhal flouriſh lyke a Palme tree: & ſhall ſpread abrode like a Cedar in Libanus.

12 Such as be planted in the houſe of the Lord: ſhall flouriſhe in the courtes (of the houſe) of our God.

13 They ſhall alſo bring forth more fruite in their age: and ſhalbe fat and well liking.

C 14 That they may ſhewe how true the Lorde my ſtrength is: and that there is no vnrighteouſnelle in hym.

Dominus regnauit. Pſal.xciij.

A 1 THE Lorde is king, and hath put on glorious apparel: the Lord hath put on his apparel, & girded him ſelfe wt ſtrength.

Euening prayer.

2 He hath made the round worlde ſo ſure that it can not be moued.

3 Euer ſince the worlde began hath thy ſeate bin prepared: thou art from euerlaſting.

4 The fluddes are ryſen (O Lorde) the fluddes haue lyfte vp theyr voyce: the fluddes lyft vp their wawes.

5 The wawes of the ſea are myghtie, and rage horribly: but yet the Lorde that dwelleth on high, is mightier.

6 Thy teſtimonies, O Lorde, are very ſure: holyneſſe becometh thine houſe for euer.

Deus vltionum. Pſal.xciiij.

A 1 O Lorde God to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to whō vengeance belongeth, ſhewe thy ſelfe.

2 Ariſe thou iudge of the worlde: and reward the proude after theyr deſeruing.

3 Lord, how long ſhal the vngodly: howe long ſhal the vngodly triumph?

4 Howe long ſhall al wycked doers ſpeake ſo diſdaynefully: and make ſuche proude boſting?

5 They ſmyte downe thy people, O Lord: and trouble thine heritage.

6 They murder ỹ widow and the ſtranger: and put the fatherleſſe to death.

7 And yet they ſay, tuſhe, the Lord ſhal not ſee: neyther ſhal the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Take heede, ye vnwiſe among ỹ people: O ye fooles, when wil ye vnderſtande?

9 He that planted the eare, ſhall he not heare: or he that made the eye, ſhal he not ſee?

10 Or he that nurtureth the heathen: it is he that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall hee not punyſhe?

11 The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of man: that they are but vayne.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou chaſteneſt (O Lorde:) and teacheſt him in thy lawe.

13 That thou mayeſt giue him patience in time of aduerſitie: vntil the pit be dygged vp for the vngodly.

14 For the Lorde wil not fayle his people: neyther wil he forſake his inheritance.

15 Until righteouſneſſe turne agayne vnto iudgement: all ſuche as be true in hart ſhall folowe it.

16 Who wil riſe vp with me againſt ỹ wicked: or who will take my parte againſte the euill doers?

17 If the Lorde had not helped me: it had not fayled but my ſoule had bin put to ſilence.

18 But when I ſayde, my foote hath ſlypped: thy mercy (O Lorde) helde me vp.

19 In the multitude of the ſorowes that I had in my hart: thy comfortes haue refreſhed my ſoule.

20 Wilte thou haue any thing to doe with the ſtoole of wickednelle: whiche imagineth miſchiefe as a lawe?

21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous: and condemne the innocent bloud.

22 But the Lorde is my refuge: and my God is the ſtrength of my confidence.

23 He ſhall recompence them theyr wickednelle, and deſtroy them in theyr owne malice: yea, the Lorde our God ſhall deſtroy them.

1 O Come, let vs ſing vnto the Lord: let vs hartely reioyce in the ſtrength of our ſaluation. Pope

2 Let vs come before his preſence with thankeſgiuing: and ſhewe our ſelues glad in hym with Pſalmes.

3 For

3 For the Lorde is a great God: and a great king above all Gods.
4 In his hande are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hilles is his also.
5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the drie lande.
6 O come, let vs worship and fall downe: and kneele before the Lorde our maker.
7 For he is (the Lorde) our God: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his handes.
8 To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your heartes: as in the prouocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wildernesse.
9 When your fathers tempted me: proued me, and saw my workes.
10 Fortie yeares long was I grieued with this generation, and sayde: it is a people that doe erre in their heartes, for they haue not knowne my wayes.
11 Vnto whom I sware in my wrath: that they should not enter into my rest.

Cantate domino. Psal. xcvi.

1 O Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: sing vnto the Lorde all the whole earth.
2 Sing vnto the Lorde, and prayse his name: be telling of his saluation from day to day.
3 Declare his honour vnto the Heathen: and his wonders vnto all people.
4 For the Lorde is great, and cannot worthily be praysed: he is more to be feared than all Gods.
5 As for the Gods of the heathen, they be but Idols: but it is the Lord that made the heauens.
6 Glorie and worship are before him: power and honour are in his Sanctuarie.
7 Ascribe vnto the Lorde (O ye kinreds of the people:) ascribe vnto the Lorde worship and power.
8 Ascribe vnto the Lorde the honour due vnto his name: bring presentes, and come into his Courtes.
9 O worship the Lorde in the beautie of holynesse: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.
10 Tell it out among the heathen, that the Lord is king: and that it is he which hath made the rounde worlde so fast that it can not be moued, and how that he shall iudge the people righteously.
11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the Sea make a noyse, and all that therein is.
12 Let the fielde be ioyfull, and all that is in it: then shall al the trees of the wood reioyce before the Lorde.
13 For he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: and with righteousnesse to iudge the worlde, and the people with his truth.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. xcvij.

1 The Lorde is king, the earth may bee glad thereof: yea the multitude of the Iles may be glad thereof. I
2 Cloudes and darknesse are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the habitation of his seate.
3 There shall go a fire before him: and burne vp his enimies on euery side.
4 His lightnings gaue shine vnto the worlde: the earth saw it, and was afrayde.
5 The hilles melted like waxe at the presence of the Lorde: at the presence of the Lorde of the whole earth.
6 The heauens haue declared his righteousnesse: and all the people haue seene his glorie.
7 Confounded bee all they that worship carued Images: and that delite in vaine Gods, worship him all ye Gods. B
8 Sion heard of it, and reioiced: and the daughters of Iuda were glad, because of thy iudgements, O Lorde.
9 For thou Lorde art higher than all that are in the earth: thou art exalted farre aboue all Gods.
10 Ye that loue the Lorde, see that ye hate the thing which is euill: the Lorde preserueth the soules of his saintes, he shall deliuer them from the hande of the vngodly.
11 There is sprong vp a light for the righteous: and ioyfull gladnesse for such as be true harted.
12 Reioyce in the Lorde ye righteous: and giue thankes for a remembrance of his holynesse.

Cantate domino. Psal. xcviij.

1 O Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: for hee hath done maruellous things. I Euening prayer.
2 With his owne right hand, and with his holy arme: hath he gotten him selfe the victorie.
3 The Lorde declared his saluation: his righteousnesse hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.
4 He hath remembred his mercie and truth towarde the house of Israell: and all the endes of the worlde haue seene the saluation of oure God.
5 Shew your selues ioyfull vnto the Lorde, all ye landes: sing, reioyce, and giue thankes.
6 Prayse the Lorde vpon the Harpe: sing to the Harpe with a Psalme of thankesgiuing.
7 With Trumpets also and Shaulmes: O shewe your selues ioyfull before the Lorde the king. B
8 Let the sea make a noyse, and all that therein is: the rounde worlde, and they that dwell therein.

9 Let the floods clap theyr handes, and let the hilles be ioyfull togither before the Lorde: for he is come to iudge the earth.

10 With righteouſneſſe ſhal he iudge the world: and the people with equitie.

Dominus regnauit. Pſal.xcix.

1 THe Lorde is king, bee the people neuer ſo vnpacient: he ſitteth betweene the Cherubims, be the earth neuer ſo vnquiet.

2 The Lorde is great in Sion: and high aboue all people.

3 They ſhall giue thankes vnto thy name: which is great, wonderfull, and holy.

4 The kings power loueth iudgement, thou haſt prepared equitie: thou haſt executed iudgement and righteouſneſſe in Jacob.

5 O magnifie the Lorde our God: and fall downe before his footeſtole, for he is holy.

6 Moſes and Aaron among his prieſtes, and Samuell among ſuch as call vpon his name: theſe called vpon the Lorde, and he heard them.

B 7 He ſpake vnto them out of the cloudie piller: for they kept his teſtimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardeſt them (O Lorde our God:) thou forgaueſt them, O God, and puniſhedſt their owne inuentions.

9 O magnifie the Lorde our God, and worſhip him vpon his holy hill: for the Lorde our God is holy.

Iubilate deo. Pſal.C.

1 GBe ioyfull in the Lord all ye landes: ſerue the Lorde with gladneſſe, and come before his preſence with a ſong.

2 Be ye ſure that the Lorde he is God, it is he that hath made vs, and not we our ſelues: we are his people, and the ſheepe of his paſture.

3 O go your way into his gates with thankeſgiuing, and into his Courtes with prayſe: bee thankefull vnto him, and ſpeake good of his name.

4 For the Lorde is gracious, his mercie is euerlaſting: and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

Miſericordiam & iudicium. Pſal.Ci.

1 MY ſong ſhal be of mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lorde, will I ſing.

2 O let me haue vnderſtanding: in the waye of godlineſſe.

3 When thou wilt come vnto me: I will walk in my houſe with a perfect heart.

4 I will take no wicked thing in hand, I hate the ſinnes of vnfaithfulneſſe: there ſhall no ſuch cleaue vnto me.

5 A frowarde heart ſhall depart from me: I will not know a wicked perſon.

6 Who ſo priuily ſlaundereth his neighbour: him will I deſtroy.

7 Who ſo hath alſo a proude loke and high ſtomacke: I will not ſuffer him.

8 Mine eyes loke vnto ſuch as bee faythfull in the lande: that they may dwell with me.

9 Who ſo leadeth a godly life: he ſhall be my ſeruant.

10 There ſhall no deceitefull perſon dwell in my houſe: he that telleth lyes ſhall not tarie in my ſight.

11 I ſhall ſoone deſtroy all the vngodly that are in the lande: that I may rote out all wicked doers from the Citie of the Lorde.

Domine exaudi. Pſal.Cij.

Eare my prayer, O Lord: and let my crying come vnto ther.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me when I call, O heare me, and that right ſoone.

3 For my dayes are conſumed away like ſmoke: and my bones are brent vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is ſmitten downe, and withered like graſſe: ſo that I forget to eate my breade.

5 For the voyce of my groning: my bones will ſcarce cleaue to my fleſh.

6 I am become like a Pellican in the wilderneſſe: and like an Owle that is in the deſert.

7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a Sparrowe: that ſitteth alone vpon the houſe toppe.

8 Mine enimies reuile me all the day long: and they that are madde vpon mee, are ſworne togither againſt me.

9 For I haue eaten aſhes as it were bread: and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that bycauſe of thine indignation and wrath: for thou haſt taken me vp, and caſt me downe.

11 My dayes are gone lyke a ſhadowe: I am withered like graſſe.

12 But thou (O Lorde) ſhalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou ſhalt ariſe, and haue mercie vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercie vpon hir, yea the time is come.

14 And why? thy ſeruauntes thinke vpon hir ſtones: and it pitieth them to ſee hir in the duſt.

15 The heathen ſhall feare thy name, O Lorde: and all the kings of the earth thy maieſtie.

16 When the Lorde ſhall builde vp Sion: and when his glorie ſhall appeare.

17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore deſtitute: and deſpiſeth not their deſire.

18 This ſhall be written for thoſe that come after:

ter: and the people which ſhall bee borne, ſhall prayſe the Lorde.

19 For he hath looked downe from his ſanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lorde beholde the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of ſuche as be in captiuitie: and deliuer the children appointed vnto death.

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his worſhip at Ieruſalem.

22 When the people are gathered togyther: and the kingdomes alſo to ſerue the Lorde.

23 He brought downe my ſtrength in my iourney: and ſhortened my dayes.

24 But I ſayd, O my God, take me not away in the middes of mine age: as for thy yeares, they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou Lorde in the beginning haſt layd the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy handes.

26 They ſhal periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: they all ſhall waxe olde as doth a garment.

27 And as a veſture ſhalt thou chaunge them, and they ſhall bee chaunged: but thou art the ſame, and thy yeares ſhall not fayle.

28 The children of thy ſeruants ſhall continue: and their ſeede ſhall ſtande faſt in thy ſight.

Benedic anima mea. Pſal. Ciij.

1 PRayſe the Lord, O my ſoule: and all that is within me prayſe his holy name.

2 Prayſe the Lorde, O my ſoule: and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiueth all thy ſinne: and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which ſaueth thy life from deſtruction: and crowneth thee with mercy & louing kindneſſe.

5 Which ſatisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee yong and luſtie as an Eagle.

6 The Lord executeth righteouſneſſe & iudgement: for all the that are oppreſſed with wrong.

7 He ſhewed his wayes vnto Moſes: his works vnto the children of Iſraell.

8 The Lorde is full of compaſſion and mercy: long ſuffering, and of great goodneſſe.

9 He will not alway be chyding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our ſinnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickedneſſe.

11 For loke how high the heauen is in compariſon of the earth: ſo great is his mercie alſo towarde them that feare him.

12 Loke how wide alſo the eaſt is from the weſt: ſo farre hath he ſet our ſinnes from vs.

13 Yea, lyke as a father pitieth his owne children: euen ſo is the Lorde mercifull vnto them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembreth that we are but duſt.

15 The dayes of man are but as graſſe: for hee flouriſheth as a floure of the fielde.

16 For as ſoone as the winde goeth ouer it, it is gone: & the place thereof ſhall know it no more.

17 But the mercifull goodneſſe of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him: and his righteouſneſſe vpon childers children.

18 Euen vpon ſuch as keepe his couenant: and thinke vpon his commaundements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his ſeate in heauen: and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 O prayſe the Lorde, ye Angels of his, yee that excell in ſtrength: ye that fulfill his commaundement, and hearken vnto the voyce of his wordes.

21 O prayſe the Lorde, O ye his hoſtes: ye ſeruants of his that do his pleaſure.

22 O ſpeake good of the Lorde all ye workes of his, in all places of his dominion: prayſe thou the Lorde, O my ſoule.

Benedic anima mea. Pſal. Ciiij.

1 PRayſe the Lord, O my ſoule: A O Lorde my God, thou art Euening become exceeding glorious, prayer. thou art clothed with maieſtie and honour.

2 Thou deckeſt thy ſelf with light, as it were with a garment: and ſpreadeſt out the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chamber in the waters: and maketh the cloudes his Chariot, and walketh vppon the winges of the winde.

4 He maketh his Angels ſpirites: and his miniſters a flaming fire.

5 He layde the foundations of the earth: that it ſhould neuer moue at any tyme.

6 Thou couereſt it with the deepe, like as with a garment: the waters ſtande in the hilles.

7 At thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy B thunder they are afrayde.

8 They go vp as high as the hilles, and downe to the valleyes beneath: euen vnto the place which thou haſt appointed for them.

9 Thou haſt ſet them their boundes which they ſhall not paſſe: neyther turne againe to couer the earth.

10 He ſendeth the ſpringes into the ryuers: which runne among the hilles.

11 All beaſtes of the field drinke thereof: and the wilde Aſſes quench their thirſt.

12 Beſide them ſhall the foules of the ayre haue their habitation: and ſing among the branches.

13 He watereth the hilles from aboue: the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

14 He bringeth forth graſſe for the cattell: and C greene hearbe for the ſeruice of men.

15 That

15 That he may bring food out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man: and oyle to make him a cheerefull countenance, and bread to strength mans heart.

16 The trees of the Lorde also are full of sappe: euen the Cedars of Libanus, whiche hee hath planted.

17 Wherein the byrds make theyr nests: and the Fyrre trees are a dwelling for the Storke.

18 The highe hilles are a refuge for the wilde Goates: and so are the stonie Rockes for the Conies.

19 He appoynteth the Mone for certaine seasons: and the Sunne knoweth hys goyng downe.

20 Thou makest darknesse that it may be night: wherein all the beastes of the Forrest doe moue.

D 21 The Lions roaring after their pray: do seeke their meate at God.

22 The Sunne ariseth, and they get them away togither: and lay them downe in their dennes.

23 Man goeth forth vnto his worke, and to his labour: vntill the Euening.

24 O Lorde, howe manyfolde are thy workes: in wisedome hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy ryches.

25 So is the great and wyde sea also: wherein are things creeping innumerable, both smal and great beastes.

26 There go the shippes, and there is that Leuiathan: whome thou hast made to take hys pastime therein.

27 These wayte all vpon thee: that thou mayst giue them meate in due season.

E 28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it: and when thou openest thine hande, they are filled with good.

29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: when thou takest away their breath, they dye, and are turned againe to their dust.

30 When thou lettest thy breath goe forth, they shall be made: and thou shalt renue the face of the earth.

31 The glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall endure for euer: the Lorde shall reioyce in his workes.

32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him: if he doe but touche the hilles they shall smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lorde as long as I liue: I will praise my God while I haue my being.

34 And so shall my wordes please him: my ioy shall be in the Lorde.

35 As for sinners, they shall bee consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an ende: praise thou the Lord, O my soule, praise the Lorde.

Confitemini domino. Psal. cv.

1 GIue thankes vnto the Lorde, and call vpon his name: tell Moreouer the people what things he hath prayer. done.

2 O let your songes be of him, and prayse him: and let your talking bee of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lorde.

4 Seeke the Lorde and his strength: seeke his face euermore.

5 Remember the marueylous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgementes of his mouth.

6 O ye seede of Abraham his seruant: ye children of Jacob his chosen.

7 He is the Lorde our God: his iudgementes are in all the worlde.

8 He hath bene alway mindfull of his couenant and promise: that he made to a thousande generations.

9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham: and the oth that he sware vnto Isahac.

10 And appoynted the same vnto Jacob for a law: and to Israel for an euerlasting testament.

11 Saying, vnto thee will I giue the lande of Canaan: the lot of your inheritance.

12 When there was yet but a fewe of them: and they straungers in the lande.

13 What time as they went from one Nation to another: from one kingdome to an other people.

14 He suffered no man to doe them wrong: but C reproued euen kings for their sakes.

15 Touche not mine annoynted: and doe my Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, hee called for a dearth vpon the lande: and destroyed all the prouision of bread.

17 But he had sent a man before them: euen Joseph, which was solde to be a bond seruant.

18 Whose feete they hurt in the stockes: the iron entered into his soule.

19 Untill the tyme came that his cause was knowne: the worde of the Lorde tryed him.

20 The king sent and deliuered him: the prince of the people let him go free.

21 He made him Lorde also of his house: and D ruler of all his substance.

22 That he might enfourme his princes after his will: and teach his Senatours wisedome.

23 Israell also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a straunger in the lande of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger than their enimies.

25 Whose heart turned so, that they hated his people: and dealt vntruely with his seruants.

26 Then

26 Then ſent he Moſes his ſeruant: and Aaron whom he had choſen.
27 And theſe ſhewed his tokens among them: and wonders in the lande of Ham.
28 He ſent darkneſſe, and it was darke: and they were not obedient vnto his woꝛde.
29 He turned their waters into bloud: and ſlue their fiſhe.
30 Their lande bꝛought foꝛth Frogges: yea euen in their kings Chambers.
31 He ſpake the woꝛde and there came all maner of flies: and lice in all their quarters.
32 Hee gaue them haileſtones foꝛ raine: and flames of fire in their lande.
33 He ſmote their vines alſo, and figge trees: and deſtroyed the trees that were in their coaſtes.
34 Hee ſpake the woꝛde and the Graſſhoppers came, and Caterpillers innumerable: and did eate vp all the graſſe in the lande, and deuoured the fruite of their grounde.
35 He ſmote all the firſt bozne in their lande: euen the chiefe of all their ſtrength.
36 He bꝛought them foꝛth alſo with ſiluer and golde: there was not one feeble perſon among their trybes.
37 Egypt was glad at theyꝛ departing: foꝛ they were afrayde of them.
38 He ſpread out a cloude to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night ſeaſon.
39 At their deſire he bꝛought Quayles: and he filled them with the bꝛead of heauen.
40 He opened the rocke of ſtone, and the waters flowed out: ſo that ryuers ranne in the dꝛie places.
41 Foꝛ why? he remembꝛed his holy pꝛomiſe: and Abꝛaham his ſeruant.
42 And he bꝛought foꝛth his people with ioy: and his choſen with gladneſſe.
43 And gaue them the landes of the heathen: and they tooke the labours of the people in poſſeſſion.
44 That they might keepe his ſtatutes: and obſerue his lawes.

1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lozde, foꝛ hee is gracious: and his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.
2 Who can expꝛeſſe the noble actes of the Lozde: oꝛ ſhewe foꝛth all his pꝛayſe?
3 Bleſſed are they that alway keepe iudgement: and do righteouſneſſe.
4 Remember me, O Lozde, accoꝛding to the fauour that thou beareſt vnto thy people: O viſite me with thy ſaluation.
5 That I may ſee the felicitie of thy choſen: and reioyce in the gladneſſe of thy people, and giue thankes with thine inheritance.
6 We haue ſinned with our fathers: we haue done amiſſe, and dealt wickedly.
7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt, neyther kept they thy great goodneſſe in remembꝛance: but were diſobedient at the ſea, euen at the red ſea. B
8 Neuertheleſſe, he helped them foꝛ his names ſake: that he might make his powꝛ to bee knowen.
9 He rebuked the red ſea alſo, and it was dꝛied vp: ſo he led them thꝛough the deepe, as thꝛough a wildernеſſe.
10 And hee ſaued them from the aduerſaryes hande: and deliuered them from the hand of the enimie.
11 As foꝛ thoſe that troubled them, the waters ouerwhelmed them: there was not one of them left.
12 Then beleeued they his woꝛdes: and ſang pꝛayſe vnto him.
13 But within a while, they foꝛgat his woꝛkes: and would not abide his counſaile.
14 But luſt came vppon them in the wildernеſſe: and they tempted God in the deſert. C
15 And hee gaue them theyꝛ deſire: and ſent leannеſſe withall into their ſoule.
16 They angred Moſes alſo in the tentes: and Aaron the ſaint of the Lozde.
17 So the earth opened and ſwallowed vp Dathan, and couered the Congregation of Abiram.
18 And the fire was kindled in their companie: the flame burnt vp the vngodly.
19 They made a Calfe in Hozeb: and woꝛſhipped the molten Jmage.
20 Thus they turned their gloꝛie: into the ſimilitude of a Calfe that eateth hay.
21 And they foꝛgate God their ſauiour: which D had done ſo great things in Egypt.
22 Wonderous woꝛkes in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red ſea.
23 So he ſayde he woulde haue deſtroyed them, had not Moſes his choſen ſtande befoꝛe him in the gappe: to turne away his wꝛathfull indignation, leaſt he ſhould deſtroy them.
24 Yea, they thought ſcoꝛne of that pleaſant lande: and gaue no credence vnto his woꝛde.
25 But murmured in their tentes: and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lozde.
26 Then lift he vp his hande againſt them: to ouerthꝛow them in the wildernеſſe.
27 To caſt out their ſeede among the Nations: and to ſcatter them in the landes.
28 They ioyned themſelues vnto Baal Peoꝛ: E and ate the offerings of the deade.
29 Thus they pꝛouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.
30 Then ſtoode vp Phinees, and pꝛayed: and ſo

the

the plague ceaſſed.

31 And that was counted vnto him for righteouſneſſe: among all poſteritiyes for euermore.

32 They angred him alſo at the waters of ſtrife: ſo that he puniſhed Moſes for their ſakes.

33 Becauſe they prouoked his ſpirite: ſo that he ſpake vnadviſedly with his lippes.

34 Neyther deſtroyed they the heathen: as the Lorde commaunded them.

F 35 But were mingled among the heathen: and learned theyr workes.

36 Inſomuch that they worſhipped their idols, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their ſonnes and daughters vnto diuels.

37 And ſhedde innocent bloud, euen the bloud of their ſonnes and of their daughters: whome they offered vnto the Idols of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with bloud.

38 Thus were they ſtayned with their owne workes: and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.

39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people: inſomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.

40 And he gaue them ouer into the hande of the heathen: and they that hated them were Lords ouer them.

G 41 Their enimies oppreſſed them: and had them in ſubiection.

42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled againſt him with their owne inuentions, and were brought downe in their wickedneſſe.

43 Neuertheleſſe, when he ſaw their aduerſitie: he heard their complaint.

44 He thought vpon his couenaunt, and pitied them accoꝛding vnto the multitude of his mercies: yea, he made all thoſe that had ledde them away captiue to pitie them.

45 Deliuer vs (O Lorde our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that we may giue thankes vnto thy holy name, and make oure boſt of thy prayſe.

46 Bleſſed be the Lorde God of Iſraell, from euerlaſting, and worlde without ende: and let all the people ſay, Amen.

Confitemini domino. Pſal. Cvij.

A 1 Morning prayer. Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let the giue thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hande of the enimie.

3 And gathered them out of the landes: from the eaſt, and from the weſt, from the north, and from the ſouth.

4 They went aſtray in the wildernesſe out of the way: and found no citie to dwell in.

5 Hungrie and thirſtie: their ſoule fainted in them.

6 So they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: and he deliuered them from their diſtreſſe.

7 He led them forth by the right way: that they might go to the Citie where they dwelt.

8 O that men would therefore prayſe the Lord for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

9 For he ſatiſfieth the emptie ſoule: and filleth the hungrie ſoule with goodneſſe.

10 Such as ſit in darkeneſſe, and in the ſhadow of death: being faſt bounde in miſerie and yron.

11 Becauſe they rebelled againſt the wordes of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counſaile of the moſt high.

12 He alſo brought downe their heart thorow heauineſſe: they fell downe, and there was none to helpe them vp.

13 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: hee deliuered them oute of their diſtreſſe.

14 For he brought them out of darkeneſſe, and out of the ſhadowe of death: and brake their bondes in ſunder.

15 O that men would therefore prayſe the Lord for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

16 For he hath broken the gates of Braſſe: and ſmitten the barres of yron in ſunder.

17 Fooliſhe men are plagued for their offence: and becauſe of their wickedneſſe.

18 Their ſoule abhorred all maner of meate: and they were euen hard at deathes dore.

19 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: hee delyuered them oute of their diſtreſſe.

20 Hee ſent his worde and healed them: and they were ſaued from their deſtruction.

21 O that men woulde therefore prayſe the Lord for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.

22 That they woulde offer vnto him the ſacrifice of thankeſgiuing: and tell out his workes with gladneſſe.

23 They that go downe to the Sea in ſhips: and occupie their buſineſſe in great waters.

24 Theſe men ſee the workes of the Lorde: and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For at his worde the ſtormie winde ariſeth: which lifteth vp the waues thereof.

26 They are caryed vp to the heauen, and downe againe to the deepe: their ſoule melteth away, becauſe of the trouble.

27 They reele to and fro, & ſtagger like a drunken man: and are at their wittes ende.

28 So when they crye vnto the Lorde in their trouble: he deliuereth them out of their diſtreſſe.

29 For

29 For he maketh the ſtorme to ceaſſe: ſo that the waues thereof are ſtill.
30 Then are they glad, becauſe they be at reſt: ſo bee bringeth them to the hauen where they would be.
31 O that men would therefore prayſe the Lord for his goodneſſe: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.
32 That they would exalt him alſo in the congregation of the people: and prayſe him in the ſeate of the elders.
33 Which turneth the floods into a wildernesſe: and dryeth vp the water ſpringes.
34 A fruitfull lande maketh he barren: for the wickednesſe of them that dwell therein.
35 Againe hee maketh the wildernesſe a ſtanding water: & water ſpringes of a dry ground.
36 And there he ſetteth the hungrie: that they may builde them a Citie to dwell in.
37 That they may ſowe their lande, and plant vineyardes: to yeelde them fruites of increaſe.
38 Hee bleſſeth them, ſo that they multiplie exceedingly, and ſuffereth not their cattell to decreaſe.
39 And agayne, when they are miniſhed and brought lowe: through oppreſſion, through any plague or trouble.
40 Though he ſuffer them to be euill entreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wildernesſe.
41 Yet helpeth hee the poore oute of miſerie: and maketh him houſholdes like a flocke of sheepe.
42 The righteous will conſider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednesſe ſhall be ſtopped.
43 Who ſo is wiſe, will ponder theſe things: and they ſhall vnderſtande the louing kindneſſe of the Lorde.

Paratum cor meum. Pſal.Cviij.

1 O God, my heart is readie, my hart is readie: I will ſing and giue prayſe with the beſt member that I haue.
2 Awake thou Lute and Harp: my ſelfe will awake right early.
3 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: I will ſing prayſes vnto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is greater than the heauens: and thy truth reacheth vnto the cloudes.
5 Set vp thy ſelfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glorie aboue all the earth.
6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hande ſaue them, and heare thou me.
7 God hath ſpoken in his holyneſſe: I will reioyce therefore, and diuide Sichem, and meaſure out the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead is mine, and Manaſſes is mine: Ephraim alſo is the ſtrength of my heade.
9 Iuda is my lawe giuer, Moab is my waſh-pot: ouer Edom will I caſt out my ſhoe, vpon the Philiſtines will I triumph.
10 Who will leade me into the ſtrong Citie: and who will bring me into Edom?
11 Haſt not thou forſaken vs, O God: and wilt not thou God go forth with our hoſtes?
12 O helpe vs agaynſt the enimie: for vaine is the helpe of man.
13 Through God we ſhall do great actes: and it is he that ſhall treade downe our enimies.

Deus laudem. Pſal.Cix.

1 HOld not thy tongue, O God of my praiſe: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea and the mouthe of the deceytefull is opened vppon mee.
2 And they haue ſpoken agaynſt mee with falſe tongues: they compaſſed me aboute alſo with wordes of hatred, and fought agaynſt me without a cauſe.
3 For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take nowe my contrary part: but I giue my ſelfe vnto prayer.
4 Thus haue they rewarded me euill for good: and hatred for my good will.
5 Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer him: and let Satan ſtande at his right hande.
6 When ſentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer bee turned into ſinne.
7 Let his dayes be fewe: and let an other take his office.
8 Let his children be fatherleſſe: and his wife a wydow.
9 Let his children bee vagabondes, and begge their breade: let them ſeeke it alſo out of deſolate places.
10 Let the extortioner conſume all that he hath: and let the ſtraunger ſpoyle his labour.
11 Let there be no man to pitie him: nor to haue compaſſion vpon his fatherleſſe children.
12 Let his poſterite be deſtroyed: and in the next generation let his name be cleane put out.
13 Let the wickednesſe of his fathers be had in remembrance in the ſight of the Lorde: and let not the ſinne of his mother be done away.
14 Let them alway be before the Lorde: that he may rote out the memoriall of them from of the earth.
15 And that becauſe his minde was not to doe good: but perſecuted the poore helpeleſſe man, that hee might ſlea him that was vexed at the heart.
16 His delite was in curſing, and it ſhall happen vnto him: he loued not bleſſing, therefore ſhall it be farre from him.

17 He

17 Hee clothed himselfe with cursing, like as with a rayment: and it shall come into hys bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.
18 Let it be vnto him as the cloke that hee hath vpon him: and as the gyrdle that he is alwaye gyrded withall.
19 Let it thus happen from the Lorde vnto mine enimies: and to those that speake euill agaynst my soule.
20 But deale thou with me (O Lorde God) according vnto thy name: for sweete is thy mercie.
D 21 O deliuer me for I am helpelesse and poore: and my heart is wounded within me.
22 I go hence like the shadowe that departeth: and am driuen away as the Grashopper.
23 My knees are weake through fasting: my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnesse.
24 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that loked vpon me, shaked their heades.
25 Helpe me (O Lorde my God:) O saue me according to thy mercy.
26 And they shall knowe howe that this is thy hande: and that thou Lorde hast done it.
27 Though they curse, yet blesse thou: and let them be confounded that rise vp agaynst me, but let let thy seruaunt reioyce.
E 28 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame: and let them couer themselues with their owne confusion, as with a cloke.
29 As for me, I will giue great thankes vnto the Lorde with my mouth: and prayse him among the multitude.
30 For he shall stande at the right hande of the poore to saue hys soule from vnrighteous Iudges.

Dixit dominus. Psal.Cx.

A 1 THe Lorde said vnto my Lorde: sitte thou on my right hande vntill I make thine enimyes thy foote stoole.
Morning prayer.
2 The Lorde shall sende the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler euen in the middest among thine enimies.
3 In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee free will offerings with an holy worshyp: the dewe of thy byrth is the wombe of the morning.
4 The Lorde sware, and will not repent: thou art a preest for euer after the order of Melchisedech.
5 The Lorde vpon thy right hand: shall wound euen kings in the day of his wrath.
B 6 He shall be iudge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with deade bodies: and smite in sunder the heades ouer diuers countryes.
7 Hee shall drinke of the broke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his heade.

Confitebor tibi. Psal.Cxi.

1 I Will giue thankes vnto the Lorde with my whole heart: secretely among the faithfull, and in the congregation.
2 The workes of the Lorde are great: sought out of all them that haue pleasure therein.
3 His worke is worthie to be praysed, and had in honour: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.
4 The mercifull and gracious Lorde hath so done his marueilous workes: that they ought to be had in remembrance.
5 Hee hath giuen meate vnto them that feare him: he shall euer be mindefull of his couenant.
6 He hath shewed his people the power of his workes: that he may giue them the heritage of the heathen.
7 The workes of his handes are veritie and iudgement: all his commaundements are true.
8 They stande fast for euer and euer: and are done in truth and equitie.
9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commaunded his couenant for euer, holy and reuerent is his name.
10 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome: a good vnderstanding haue all they that doe therafter, the prayse of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Psal.Cxij.

1 BLessed is the man that feareth the Lorde: he hath great delight in his commaundements.
2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the faythfull shall be blessed.
3 Riches and plenteousnesse shall bee in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.
4 Vnto the godly there ariseth vp light in the darkenesse: hee is mercifull, louing, and righteous.
5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his wordes with discretion.
6 For he shall neuer be moued: and the righteous shall bee had in an euerlasting remembrance.
7 Hee will not bee afrayde for any euill tydings: for his heart standeth fast, and beleeueth in the Lorde.
8 His heart is stablished, and will not shrinke: vntill he see his desire vpon his enimies.
9 He hath dispersed abroade, giuen to the poore: and his righteousnesse remayneth for euer, his horne shall be exalted with honour.
10 The vngodly shall see it, and it shall grieue him: he shall gnashe with his teeth, and consume sume awaye, the desire of the vngodly shall perish.

Laudate pueri. Psal.Cxiij.

1 PRayse the Lord (ye seruantes:) O prayse the name of the Lorde.
2 Blessed be the name of the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.
3 The Lordes name is prayed: from the rysing vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.
4 The Lorde is high aboue all Heathen: and his glorie aboue the heauens.
5 Who is lyke vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling so highe: and yet humbleth himselfe to beholde the things that are in heauen and earth?
6 He taketh vp the simple out of the dust: and lifteth the poore out of the myre.
7 That he may set him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.
8 He maketh the barren woman to keepe house: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Israel. Psal.Cxiiij.

1 WHen Israel came out of Egipt: and the house of Iacob from among the straunge people.
2 Iuda was his sanctuarie: and Israell his dominion.
3 The sea sawe that and fled: Iordane was driuen backe.
4 The mountaynes skipped like rammes: and the little hilles like yong sheepe.
5 What ayleth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest: and thou Iordane, that thou wast driuen backe?
6 Ye mountaynes that ye skipped like rammes: and ye little hilles like yong sheepe?
7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lorde: at the presence of the God of Iacob.
8 Which turned the harde rocke into a standing water: and the flint stone into a springing Well.

Non nobis domine. Psal.Cxv.

1 NOt vnto vs, O Lorde, not vnto vs, but vnto thy name giue the prayse: for thy louing mercie, and for thy truthes sake.
2 Wherefore shall the Heathen say: where is nowe their God?
3 As for our God he is in heauen: he hath done whatsoeuer pleased him.
4 Their Idolles are siluer and golde: euen the worke of mens handes.
5 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.
6 They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they, and smell not.
7 They haue handes, and handle not, feete haue they, and walke not: neyther speake they through their throte.
8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all such as put their trust in them.
9 But thou house of Israell trust thou in the Lorde: he is their succour and defence.
10 Yee house of Aaron put your trust in the Lorde: he is their helper and defender.
11 Ye that feare the Lorde, put your trust in the Lorde: he is their helper and defender.
12 The Lorde hath bene mindfull of vs, and he shall blesse vs: euen he shall blesse the house of Israell, he shall blesse the house of Aaron.
13 Hee shall blesse them that feare the Lorde: both small and great.
14 The Lord shal encrease you more and more: you and your children. ℭ
15 Ye are the blessed of the Lorde: which made heauen and earth.
16 All the whole heauens are the Lordes: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.
17 The dead prayse not thee, O Lorde: neither all they that go downe into the silence.
18 But we will prayse the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore. Prayse the Lorde.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal.Cxvi.

1 I Am well pleased: that the Lorde hath heard the voyce of my prayer. Morning prayer.
2 That he hath enclyned his eare vnto me: therefore will I call vpō him as long as I liue.
3 The snares of death cōpassed me round about: and the paynes of hell gate holde vpon me.
4 I shall finde trouble and heauinesse, and I shall call vpon the name of the Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee deliuer my soule.
5 Gracious is the Lorde and righteous: yea our God is mercyfull.
6 The Lorde preserueth the simple: I was in miserie, and he helped me.
7 Turne againe then vnto thy rest, O my soule: ℬ for the Lorde hath rewarded thee.
8 And why? thou hast deliuered my soule from death: mine eies from teares, and my feete from falling.
9 I will walke before the Lorde: in the land of the liuing.
10 I beleeued, and therefore will I speake, but I was sore troubled: I sayde in my haste, all men are lyers.
11 What rewarde shall I giue vnto the Lorde: for all the benefites that hee hath done vnto me?
12 I will receyue the cup of saluation: and call vpon the name of the Lorde.
13 I will pay my vowes nowe in the presence of all his people: right deare in the sight of the Lorde, is the death of his Saintes.

C 14 Beholde (O Lorde) how that I am thy seruant: I am thy seruant and the sonne of thine handemayde, thou hast broken my bonds in sunder.

15 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thankes giuing: and will call vppon the name of the Lorde.

16 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lorde, in the sight of all his people: in the courtes of the Lordes house, euen in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Prayse the Lorde.

Laudate dominum. Psal. Cxvij.

A 1 O Prayse the Lorde all ye heathen: prayse him all ye nations.

2 For his mercifull kindenesse is euer more and more towarde vs: and the truth of the Lorde endureth for euer. Prayse the Lorde.

Confitemini domino. Psal. Cxviij.

A 1 O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for hee is gracious: because his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israell now confesse that he is gracious: and that his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Yea, let them now that feare the Lorde confesse: that his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lorde in trouble: and the Lorde heard me at large.

6 The Lorde is on my side: I will not feare what man doth vnto me.

B 7 The Lorde taketh my part with them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enimies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord: than to put any confidence in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lorde: than to put any confidence in princes.

10 All nations compassed me round about: but in the name of the Lorde will I destroy them.

11 They kept me in on euerie side, they kept mee in (I say) on euery side: but in the name of the Lorde will I destroy them.

12 They came about me lyke Bees, and are extinct euen as the fire among the Thornes: for in the name of the Lorde I will destroye them.

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fal: but the Lorde was my helper.

C 14 The Lorde is my strength and my song: and is become my saluation.

15 The voyce of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hande of the Lorde bringeth mightie things to passe.

16 The right hande of the Lorde hath the preheminence: the right hande of the Lorde bringeth mightie things to passe.

17 I shall not die, but liue: and declare the workes of the Lorde.

18 The Lorde hath chastened and corrected me: but he hath not giuen me ouer vnto death.

19 Open me the gates of righteousnesse: that I may go into them, and giue thankes vnto the Lorde.

20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will thanke thee, for thou hast heard me: & art become my saluation.

22 The same stone which the builders refused: is become the heade stone of the corner.

23 This is the Lordes doyng: and it is marueilous in our eyes.

24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.

25 Helpe me nowe, O Lorde, O Lorde, send vs now prosperitie.

26 Blessed be he that commeth in the name of the Lorde: we haue wished you good lucke, ye that be of the house of the Lorde.

27 God is the Lord which hath shewed vs light: bind the sacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the aulter.

28 Thou art my God, and I will thanke thee: & thou art my God, and I will prayse thee.

29 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.

B 6 Their hart is as fatte as brawne: but my delight hath bene in thy law.

7 It is good for me that I haue beene in trouble: that I may learne thy statutes.

8 The law of thy mouth is dearer vnto mee: than thousands of golde and siluer.

Manus tuæ fecerunt me.

A 1 Euening prayer. THy handes haue made mee, and fashioned mee: O giue me vnderstanding, that I may learne thy commaundements.

2 They that feare thee, will be glad when they see me: because I haue put my trust in thy worde.

3 I know (O Lorde) that thy iudgements are right: and that thou of verie faythfulnesse hast caused me to be troubled.

4 O let thy mercyfull kindenesse bee my comforte: according to thy worde vnto thy seruaunt.

5 O let thy louing mercies come vnto me, that I may liue: for thy lawe is my delight.

B 6 Let the proude be confounded, for they goe wickedly about to destroy me: but I will bee occupied in thy commaundements.

7 Let such as feare thee, and haue knowne thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.

8 O let my heart be sound in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

A 1 MY soule hath longed for thy saluation: and I haue a good hope bycause of thy worde.

2 Mine eyes long sore for thy worde: saying, O when wilt thou comfort me?

3 For I am become like a bottle in the smoke: yet do I not forget thy statutes.

4 Howe many are the dayes of thy seruaunt: when wilt thou be auenged of them that persecute me?

5 The proude haue digged pittes for me: which are not after thy lawe.

6 All thy commaundements are true: they persecute me falsely, O be thou my helpe. B

7 They had almost made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forsoke not thy commaundements.

8 O quicken me after thy louing kindenesse: and so shall I kepe the testimonies of thy mouth.

In æternum domine.

A 1 O Lorde: thy worde endureth for euer in heauen.

2 Thy truth also remayneth from one generation to another: thou hast layde the foundation of the earth, and it abydeth.

3 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things serue thee.

4 If my delight had not beene in thy lawe: I should haue perished in my trouble.

5 I will neuer forget thy commaundements: for with them thou hast quickened me.

6 I am thine, oh saue me: for I haue sought thy commaundements. B

7 The vngodly layde wayte for mee to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

8 I see that all things come to an ende: but thy commaundement is exceeding broade.

Quomodo dilexi.

A 1 O Lorde, what loue haue I vnto thy law: all the day long is my studie in it.

2 Thou through thy commaundements hast made mee wyser than mine enimies: for they are euer with me.

3 I haue more vnderstanding than my teachers: for thy testimonies are my studie.

4 I am wyser than the aged: bycause I keepe thy commaundements.

5 I haue refrayned my feete from euery euill way: that I may keepe thy worde.

6 I haue not shronke from thy iudgements: for thou teachest me.

7 O how sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte: B yea, sweeter than honie vnto my mouth.

8 Through

8 Through thy commaundements I get vnderstanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

Thy worde is a Lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my pathes.

2 I haue sworne, and am stedfastly purposed: to keepe thy righteous iudgements.

3 I am troubled aboue measure: quicken mee (O Lorde) according vnto thy worde.

4 Let the freewill offerings of my mouth please thee, O Lorde: and teache me thy iudgements.

5 My soule is alway in my hande: yet doe I not forget thy lawe.

6 The vngodly haue layde a snare for me: but yet I swarued not from thy commaundements.

7 Thy testimonies haue I claymed as mine heritage for euer: and why, they are the verie ioy of my heart.

8 I haue applyed mine heart to fulfill thy statutes alway: euen vnto the ende.

Iniquos odio habui.

1 I Hate them that imagine euill things: but thy lawe doe I loue.

2 Thou art my defence and shielde: and my trust is in thy worde.

3 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commaundements of my God.

4 O stablishe mee according vnto thy worde, that I may liue: and let me not be disappoynted of my hope.

5 Holde thou me vp, and I shall be safe: yea my delight shall be in thy statutes.

6 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they imagine but deceyte.

7 Thou puttest awaye all the vngodly of the earth lyke drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

8 My flesche trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afrayde of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

1 I Deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: O giue me not ouer vnto mine oppressours.

2 Make thou thy seruaunt to delight in that whiche is good: that the proude doe mee no wrong.

3 Myne eyes are wasted away with loking for thy health: and for the worde of thy righteousnesse.

4 O deale with thy seruaunt according vnto thy louing mercy: and teach me thy statutes.

5 I am thy seruant, O graunt me vnderstanding: that I may know thy testimonies.

6 It is time for thee Lord to lay to thine hand: for they haue destroyed thy lawe.

7 For I loue thy commaundementes: aboue golde and precious stone.

8 Therefore holde I streight all thy commaundements: and all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Mirabilia.

1 THy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doth my soule keepe them.

2 When thy worde goeth forth: it giueth light and vnderstanding vnto the simple.

3 I opened my mouth and drew in my breath: for my delight was in thy commaundements.

4 O looke thou vpon mee, and bee mercyfull vnto mee: as thou vsest to doe vnto those that loue thy name.

5 Order my steppes in thy worde: and so shall no wickednesse haue dominion ouer mee.

6 O deliuer me from the wrongfull dealings of men: and so shall I keepe thy commaundements.

7 Shewe the light of thy countenaunce vpon thy seruant: and teach me thy statutes.

8 Mine eyes gushe out with water: because men keepe not thy law.

Iustus es domine.

1 RIghteous art thou, O Lorde: and true is thy iudgement.

2 The testimonies that thou hast commaunded: are exceeding righteous and true.

3 My zeale hath euen consumed mee: because mine enimies haue forgotten thy wordes.

4 Thy worde is tryed to the vttermost: and thy seruant loueth it.

5 I am small and of no reputation: yet do not I forget thy commaundements.

6 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse: and thy law is the truth.

7 Trouble and heauinesse hath taken holde vpon mee: yet is my delight in thy commaundements.

8 The righteousnesse of thy testimonyes is euerlasting: O graunt me vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

Clamaui in toto corde meo.

1 I Call with my whole heart, heare me, O Lord: I wil kepe thy statutes.

2 Yea euen vpon thee do I call: helpe me, and I shal kepe thy testimonies.

Euening prayer.

3 Earely in the morning doe I crie vnto thee: for in thy worde is my trust.
4 Mine eies preuent the night watches: that I might be occupied in thy wordes.
5 Heare my voyce, (O Lorde) according vnto thy louing kindnesse: quicken me according as thou art wont.
B 6 They drawe nighe that of malice persecute me: and are farre from thy lawe.
7 Be thou nigh at hande, O Lorde: for all thy commaundements are true.
8 As concerning thy testimonies: I haue knowne long since, that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

I 1 CConsider mine aduersitie, and deliuer me: for I do not forget thy law.
2 Auenge thou my cause, and deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy worde.
3 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regarde not thy statutes.
4 Great is thy mercy, O Lorde: quicken mee as thou art wont.
5 Many there are that trouble me, and persecute mee: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.
B 6 It greeueth mee when I see the transgressours: by cause they keepe not thy lawe.
7 Consider, O Lorde, howe I loue thy commaundementes: O quicken mee according to thy louing kindnesse.
8 Thy worde is true from euerlasting: all the iudgementes of thy righteousnesse endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt.

I 1 PRinces haue persecuted mee without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy wordes.
2 I am as glad of thy worde: as one that findeth great spoyles.
3 As for lyes, I hate and abhorre them: but thy law do I loue.
4 Seuen times a day doe I prayse thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.
5 Great is the peace that they haue which loue thy law: and they are not offended at it.
B 6 Lorde I haue looked for thy sauing health: and done after thy commaundements.
7 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: and loued them exceedingly.
8 I haue kept thy commaundements and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

I 1 LEt my complaint come before thee, O Lorde: giue me vnderstanding according to thy worde,
2 O let my supplication come before thee: deliuer me according to thy worde.
3 My lippes shall speake of thy prayse: when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
4 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy worde: for all thy commaundements are righteous.
5 Let thine hande helpe me: for I haue chosen thy commaundements.
6 I haue longed for thy sauing health, O Lord: B and in thy law is my delight.
7 Oh let my soule liue, and it shall prayse thee: and thy iudgements shall helpe me.
8 I haue gone astray lyke a sheepe that is lost: oh seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commaundements.

Ad dominum. Psal.Cxx.

1 WHen I was in trouble, I cal- I led vpon the Lorde: and he Morning prayer.
heard me.
2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord from lying lippes: and from a deceytfull tongue.
3 What rewarde shall bee giuen or done vnto thee thou false tongue: euen mightie and sharpe arrowes, with hote burning coales.
4 Wo is mee that I am constrayned to dwell with Mesech: and to haue mine habitation among the tentes of Cedar.
5 My soule hath long dwelt among them: that B be enimies vnto peace.
6 I labour for peace: but when I speake vnto them thereof, they make them readie to battaile.

Leuaui oculos. Psal.Cxxi.

1 I Will lift vp mine eyes vnto the hilles: I from whence commeth my helpe.
2 My helpe commeth euen from the Lorde: which hath made heauen & earth.
3 He will not suffer thy foote to be moued: and he that keepeth thee will not sleepe.
4 Beholde, he that keepeth Israell: shall neyther slumber nor sleepe.
5 The Lorde himselfe is thy keeper: the Lorde is thy defence vpon thy right hande.
6 So that the sunne shal not burne thee by day: B neyther the Mone by night.
7 The Lorde shall preserue thee from all euill: yea, it is euen he that shall keepe thy soule.
8 The Lorde shall preserue thy going out, and thy comming in: from this time forth for euermore.

Letatus sum. Psal.Cxxij.

1 I Was glad when they sayde vnto me: we I will go into the house of the Lorde.
2 Our feete shall stande in thy gates: O Jerusalem.

Ierusalem.
3 Ierusalem is buylded as a citie: that is at vnitie in it selfe.
4 For thyther the tribes goe vp, euen the tribes of the Lorde: to testifie vnto Israel, to giue thankes vnto the name of the Lord.
5 For there is the seate of iudgement: euen the seate of the house of Dauid.
6 O pray for the peace of Ierusalem: they shall prosper that loue thee.
7 Peace be within thy walles: and plentifulnesse within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions sakes: I wil wish thee prosperitie.
9 Yea, because of the house of the Lorde our God: I will seeke to do thee good.

Ad te leuaui. Psal.Cxxiij.

1 VNto thee lyft I vp myne eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heauens.
2 Beholde, euen as the eyes of seruauntes looke vnto the hand of their maisters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hande of hir maistresse: euen so our eyes wayte vpon the Lord our God, vntyll he haue mercy vpon vs.
3 Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs: for we are vtterly despised.
4 Our soule is filled with the scornefull reproofe of the wealthy: and with the despitefulnesse of the proude.

Nisi quia dominus. Psal.Cxxiiij.

1 IF the Lorde him selfe had not bin on our side (nowe may Israel say:) if the Lorde himselfe had not bin on our side when men rose vp against vs,
2 They had swalowed vs vp quicke: when they were so wrathfully displeased at vs.
3 Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the streame had gone ouer our soule.
4 The deepe waters of the proude: had gone euen ouer our soule.
5 But praised be the Lorde: which hath not giuen vs ouer for a praye vnto their teeth.
6 Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the snare of the fowler: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.
7 Our helpe standeth in the name of the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

Qui confidunt. Psal.Cxxv.

1 THey that put their trust in the Lord, shalbe euen as the mount Sion: which may not be remoued, but standeth fast for euer.
2 The hylles stande about Ierusalem: euen so standeth the Lorde rounde about his people, from this tyme forth for euermore.
3 For the rod of the vngodly commeth not into the lot of the righteous; least the righteous put their hands vnto wickednesse.
4 Do wel, O Lorde: vnto those that be good and true of hart.
5 As for suche as turne backe vnto their owne wickednesse: the Lorde shall leade them forth with the cuyll doers, but peace shal bee vpon Israel.

In conuertendo. Psal.Cxxvi.

1 WHen the Lorde turned againe the captiuitie of Sion: then were we like vnto them that dreame. A Euenyng prayer.
2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with ioy.
3 Then sayd they among the Heathen: the Lord hath done great thinges for them.
4 Yea, the Lorde hath done great thinges for vs alredy: whereof we reioyce.
5 Turne our captiuitie, O Lorde: as the ryuers in the South.
6 They that sowe in teares: shall reape in ioy. B
7 He that now goeth on his way weeping, and beareth forth good seed: shall doutlesse come again with ioy, and bring his sheaues with him.

Nisi dominus. Psal.Cxxvij.

1 EXcept the Lorde buylde the house: their labour is but lost that builde it. A 2 Except the Lorde keepe the citie: the watchman waketh but in vayne.
3 It is but lost labour that ye haste to ryse vp early, and so late take rest, and eate the breade of carefulnesse: for so he giueth his beloued sleepe.
4 Loe, chyldren, and the fruite of the wombe: are an heritage and gyft, that commeth of the Lorde.
5 Lyke as the arrowes in the hande of the Giaunt: euen so are the young chyldren. B
6 Happy is the man that hath his quyuer full of them: they shall not bee ashamed when they speake with their enimies in the gate.

Beati omnes. Psal.Cxxviij.

1 BLessed are al they that feare the Lord: and walke in his wayes. A 2 For thou shalte eate the labours of thyne handes: O well is thee and happy shalt thou be.
3 Thy wife shalbe as the fruitfull vine: vpon the walles of thine house.
4 Thy children like the Oliue braunches: round about thy table.
5 Loe, thus shal the man be blessed: that feareth the Lorde.
6 The Lorde from out of Sion shall so blesse thee: that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperitie all thy life long.

7 Yea, that thou shalt see thy childers childzen: and peace vpon Israell.

Sepe expugnauerunt. Psal.Cxxix.

A 1 MAny a tyme haue they fought agaynste mee from my youth vp: (may Israell now say.)

2 Yea, many a tyme haue they vered me from my youth vp: but they haue not preuayled agaynst me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe: and made long furowes.

4 But the righteous Lozde: hath hewen the snares of the vngodly in peeces.

5 Let them bee confounded and turned backeward: as many as haue euill will at Sion.

B 6 Let them be euen as the grasse growing vpon the house toppes: which withereth before it bee plucked vp.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hande: neyther he that bindeth vp the sheaues his bosome.

8 So that they which go by, say not so much as the Lozde prosper you: we wish you good luck in the name of the Lozde.

De profundis. Psal.Cxxx.

A 1 OVt of the deepe haue I called vnto thee (O Lozde:) Lozde heare my voyce.

2 Oh let thine eares consider well: the voyce of my complaint.

3 If thou Lozd wilt be extreeme to mark what is done amisse: oh Lozde who may abide it?

4 For there is mercie with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.

5 I looke for the Lozde, my soule doth wayte for him: in his wozde is my trust.

B 6 My soule fleeth vnto the Lozde: before the morning watche, I saye, before the morning watche.

7 O Israell trust in the Lozde, for with the Lozde there is mercie: and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he shall redeeme Israell: from all his sinnes.

Domine non est. Psal.Cxxxi.

A 1 LOzde, I am not high mynded: I haue no proude lookes.

2 I do not exercise my selfe in great matters: which are to high for me.

3 But I refrayne my soule, and keepe it lowe, like as a childe that is weaned from his mother: yea my soule is euen as a weaned childe.

4 O Israell trust in the Lozd: from this time forth for euermoze.

Memento domine. Psal.Cxxxij.

1
DOzde remember Dauid: and all his trouble.

2 Howe he sware vnto the Lozde: and vowed a vowe vnto the almightie God of Jacob.

3 I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor climbe vp into my bed.

4 I will not suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eie lyddes to slumber: neyther the temples of my head to take any rest.

5 Untill I finde out a place for the temple of the Lozde: an habitation for the mightie God of Jacob.

6 Loe, we heard of the same at Ephrata: and founde it in the wood.

7 Wee will goe into his tabernacle: and fall downe on our knees before his footestoole.

8 Arise, O Lozde, into thy resting place: thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousnes: and let thy saints sing with ioyfulnesse.

10 For thy seruant Dauids sake: turne not away the presence of thine annoynted.

11 The Lozde hath made a faythfull othe vnto Dauid: and he shall not shrinke from it.

12 Of the fruite of thy bodie: shall I set vpon thy seate.

13 If thy childzen will keepe my conenant and my testimonies that I shall learne them: their childzen also shal sit vpon thy seat for euermoze.

14 For the Lozde hath chosen Sion to bee an habitation for himselfe: hee hath longed for hir.

15 This shall be my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

16 I will blesse hir victayles with increase: and will satisfie hir powre with breade.

17 I will decke hir priestes with health: and hir saints shall reioyce and sing.

18 There shall I make the horne of Dauid to flourish: I haue ordeyned a lanterne for mine annoynted.

19 As for his enimyes, I shall cloth them with shame: but vpon himselfe shall his crowne flourish.

Ecce quam bonum. Psal.Cxxxij.

1 BEholde how good and ioyful a thing it is: brethren to dwell togither in vnitie.

2 It is like the precious oyntment vpon the heade, that ran downe vnto the beard: euen vnto Aarons beard, and went downe to the skirts of his clothing.

3 Like as the dewe of Hermon: which fell vpon the hill of Sion.

4 For

4 For there the Lorde promised his blessing: and life for euermore.

Ecce nunc benedicite. Psal.Cxxxiiij.

1 BEholde (nowe) prayse the Lorde: al ye seruauntes of the Lorde.
2 Ye that by night stande in the house of the Lord: euen in ỳ courts of ỳ house of our god.
3 Lyft vp your hands in the sanctuary: and prayse the Lord.
4 The Lorde that made heauen and earth: giue thee blessing out of Sion.

Laudate nomen. Psal.Cxxxv.

1 O Prayse the Lorde, laude ye the name of the Lord: prayse it, O ye seruauntes of the Lord.
2 Ye that stande in the house of the Lord: in the courtes of the house of our God.
3 O prayse the Lorde, for the Lorde is gratious: O sing prayses vnto his name, for it is louely.
4 For why? the Lorde hath chosen Jacob vnto him selfe: and Israel for his owne possession.
5 For I knowe that the Lorde is great: and that our Lord is aboue al gods.
6 Whatsoeuer the Lorde pleased, that did he in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and in all deepe places.
7 He bringeth forth the cloudes from the ends of the worlde: and sendeth forth lightnings with the rayne, bringyng the windes out of his treasures.
8 Hee smote the fyrst borne of Egypt: both of man and beast.
9 He hath sent tokens & wonders into the myddst of thee, O thou lande of Egypt: vpon Pharao and al his seruauntes.
10 He smote diuers nations: and slue myghtie kinges.
11 Sehon king of the Amorites, and Og the king of Basan: and all the kingdomes of Chanaan.
12 And gaue their lande to be an heritage: euen an heritage vnto Israel his people.
13 Thy name O Lorde, endureth for euer: so doth thy memoriall, O Lorde, from one generation to another.
14 For the Lord wil auenge his people: and be gratious vnto his seruauntes.
15 As for the images of the heathen, they are but syluer and golde: the worke of mens handes.
16 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, but they see not.
17 They haue eares, and yet they heare not: neyther is there any breath in their mouthes.
18 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are al they that put their trust in them.
19 Prayse the Lord, ye house of Israel: prayse the Lord yee house of Aaron.
20 Prayse the Lord yee house of Leui: yee that feare the Lorde, prayse the Lorde.
21 Praysed be the Lorde out of Sion: which dwelleth at Jerusalem.

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: for his mercy endureth for euer.
11 And brought out Israel from among the: for his mercy endureth for euer.
12 With a mighty hande, and stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer.
13 Which deuided the red sea in two partes: for his mercy endureth for euer.
14 And made Israel to go through the myddest of it: for his mercy endureth for euer. C
15 But as for Pharao and his host, he ouerthrew them in the red sea: for his mercy endureth for euer.
16 Which led the people through the wildernesse: for his mercy endureth for euer.
17 Which smote greate kinges: for his mercy endureth for euer.
18 Yea and slue mighty kinges: for his mercy endureth for euer.
19 Sehon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for euer.
20 And Og the king of Basan: for his mercye endureth for euer.
21 And gaue away their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for euer. D
22 Euen for an heritage vnto Israel his seruaunt: for his mercy endureth for euer.
23 Which remembred vs when wee were in trouble: for his mercy endureth for euer.
24 And hath deliuered vs from our enimies:

foꝛ his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.

25 Which giueth foode to all fleſhe: foꝛ his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.

26 O giue thankes vnto the God of heauen: foꝛ his mercy endureth foꝛ euer.

27 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde of Lordes: foꝛ his mercie endureth foꝛ euer.

10 If I ſay, peraduenture the darkneſſe ſhall couer me: then ſhal my night be turned to day.

11 Yea, the darkeneſſe is no darkneſſe with thee, but the night is as cleare as the day: the darkneſſe and light (to thee) are both alike.

12 Foꝛ my reynes are thine: thou haſt couered me in my mothers wombe.

13 I will giue thankes vnto thee, foꝛ I am fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy woꝛkes, and that my ſoule knoweth right well.

14 My bones are not hid from thee: though I be made ſecretely, and faſhioned beneath in the earth.

15 Thine eyes did ſee my ſubſtance, yet being vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members writtẽ.

16 Which day by day were faſhioned: when as yet there was none of them.

17 Howe deare are thy counſayles vnto me, O God: O how great is the ſumme of them?

18 If I tell them, they are mo in number then the ſande: when I wake vp, I am preſent with thee.

19 Wilt thou not ſlea the wicked, O God? departe from me ye bloud thirſtie men.

20 Foꝛ they ſpeake vngraciouſly againſt thee: and thine enimies take thy name in vaine.

21 Do not I hate them, O Lorde, that hate thee: and am not I grieued with thoſe that riſe vp agaynſt thee?

22 Yea I hate them right ſoꝛe: euen as though they were mine enimies.

23 Trie me, O God, and ſeeke the grounde of my heart: proue me and examine my thoughtes.

24 Looke wel if there be any way of wickednes in me: and leade me in the way euerlaſting.

Eripe me domine. Psal. cxl.

1 DEliuer me, O Lorde, from the euill man: and preserue me from the wicked man.
2 Which imagine mischiefe in their harts: and styre vp strife al the day long.
3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: Adders poyson is vnder their lippes.
4 Kepe me, O Lorde, from the handes of the vngodly: preserue me from the wicked men which are purposed to ouerthrowe my goings.
5 The proude haue laide a snare for me, and spread a net abroade with cordes: yea and set traps in my way.
6 I sayd vnto the Lorde, thou art my God: heare the voyce of my prayers, O Lord.
7 O Lord God, thou strength of my health: thou hast couered my head in the day of battayle.
8 Let not the vngodly haue his desyre, O Lord: let not his mischeuous imagination prosper, lest they be too proude.
9 Let the mischiefe of their owne lyppes fal vpon the head of them: that compasse me about.
10 Let hot burning coales fall vpon them: let them be cast into the fyre, and into the pit, that they neuer rise vp agayne.
11 A man full of wordes, shal not prosper vpon the earth: euyll shall hunt the wicked person to ouerthrowe him.
12 Sure I am that the Lorde will auenge the poore: and maynteyne the cause of the helpelesse.
13 The righteous also shall giue thankes vnto thy name: and the iust shall continue in thy sight.

Domine clamaui. Psal. cxli.

1 LOrd I cal vpon thee, haste thee vnto me: and consyder my voyce, when I crye vnto thee.
2 Let my prayer bee set forth in thy sight as the incense: and let the lyfting vp of my handes be an euening sacrifice.
3 Set a watch (O Lorde) before my mouth: and kepe the dore of my lyppes.
4 O let not mine hart bee inclined to any euyll thing: let me not be occupyed in vngodly workes with the men that worke wickednesse, lest I eate of such things as pleaseth them.
5 Let the righteous rather smite me frendly: and reproue me.
6 But let not their pretious baulmes breake myne head: yea, I will pray yet against their wickednesse.
7 Let their iudges bee ouerthrowne in stonie places: that they may heare my wordes, for they are sweete.
8 Our bones lye scattered before the pit: lyke as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.
9 But mine eies looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust, O cast not out any soule.
10 Keepe me from the snare whiche they haue layde for me: and from the trappes of the wicked doers.
11 Let the vngodly fall into their owne nettes togither: and let me euer escape them.

Voce mea ad dominum. Psal. cxlj.

1 I Cryed vnto the Lorde with my voyce: yea euen vnto the Lord did I make my supplication. Morning prayer.
2 I powred out my complaints before him: and shewed him of my trouble.
3 Whē my spirite was in heauinesse thou knewest my path: in the way wherin I walked haue they priuily layde a snare for me.
4 I looked also vpon my right hande: and see, there was no man that would know me.
5 I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my soule.
6 I cryed vnto thee, O Lorde, and sayde: thou art my hope, and my portion in the lande of the liuing.
7 Consider my complaynt: for I am brought very lowe. B
8 O deliuer me from my persecuters: for they are too strong for me.
9 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may giue thankes vnto thy name: which thing if thou wilt graunte me, then shall the righteous resort vnto my company.

Domine exaudi. Psal. cxlij.

1 HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and consider my desire: harken vnto me for thy truth and righteousnesse sake. A 2 And enter not into iudgement with thy seruaunt: for in thy sight shal no man liuing be iustified.
3 For the enimie hath persecuted my soule, he hath smitten my life downe to the ground: he hath layd me in the darknesse, as the men that haue bin long dead.
4 Therefore is my spirite vexed within me: and my hart within me is desolate.
5 Yet do I remember the time past, I muse vpon all thy workes: yea, I exercise my selfe in the workes of thy handes.
6 I stretch forth my hands vnto thee: my soule gaspeth vnto thee as a thirstie land.
7 Heare me, O Lorde, and that sone, for my spirit wareth faint: hide not thy face from me, lest I be like vnto them ẏ goe down into ẏ pit. B
8 O let me heare of thy louing kindnesse betimes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew thou mee the way that I should walke

in,

in, for I lyfte vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from myne enemies: for I flee vnto thee to hide me.

10 Teache me to do the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louyng spirite leade me forth into the land of righteousnesse.

11 Quicken me, O Lorde, for thy names sake and for thy righteousnesse sake bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodnesse slea mine enimies, and destroy all them that vexe my soule: for I am thy seruaunt.

Benedictus dominus. Psal.cxliij.

1 BLessed be the Lorde my strength: whiche teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight.

I Morning prayer.

2 My hope and my fortresse, my castle and deliuerer, my defender, in whom I trust: which subdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lorde what is the man that thou hast suche respect vnto him: or the sonne of man that thou so regardest hym?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time passeth away like a shadowe.

5 Bowe thy heauens O Lorde & come downe: touche the mountaines, and they shall smoke.

6 Caste forth thy lyghtning, and teare them: shote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send downe thyne hande from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of straunge children.

8 Whose mouth talketh of vanitie: and theyr right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.

9 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God: and sing prayses vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.

10 Thou that giuest victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruaunt from the peryl of the swoord.

11 Saue me and deliuer me from the hande of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and theyr right hande is a right hande of iniquitie.

12 That our sonnes may growe vp as the yong plantes: and that our daughters may be as the pollyshed corners of the temple.

13 That our garners may be full and plenteous with all manner of store: that our sheepe may bryng forth thousandes, and ten thousands in our streetes.

14 That our Oxē may be strong to labour, that there be no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complaynyng in our streetes.

C 15 Happy are the people that be in suche a case: yea blessed are the people whiche haue the Lord for their God.

Exaltabo te deus. Psal.cxlv.

1 I Will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I will prayse thy name for euer and euer.

2 Euery day will I giue thankes vnto thee: and prayse thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lorde and marueilous worthy to be praysed: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

4 One generation shall prayse thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.

5 As for me, I will be talking of thy worthy: thy glory, thy prayse, and wonderous workes.

6 So that men shall speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.

7 The memoryall of thine abundant kindnesse shall be shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse. B

8 The Lorde is gracious and mercyful: long sufferyng, and of great goodnesse.

9 The Lorde is louing vnto euery man: and his mercy is ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes prayse thee, O Lord: and thy saintes giue thankes vnto thee.

11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.

12 That thy power, thy glorye, & mightinesse of thy kingdome: might be knowen vnto men.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlastyng kingdome: and thy dominiō endureth throughout all ages. C

14 The Lord vpholdeth all such as fal: and lifteth vp all those that be downe.

15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, O Lord: and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thyne hande: and fillest all thinges liuing with plenteousnesse.

17 The Lorde is righteous in all his wayes: and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is nygh vnto all them that call vpon him: yea all such as cal vpon him faythfully.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare hym: he also will heare theyr crye, and will help them.

20 The Lord preserueth all them that loue him: but scattereth abrode all the vngodly.

21 My mouth shal speake the prayse of the Lord: and let all flesh giue thankes vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

Lauda anima mea. Psal.cxlvi. I

1 PRayse the Lorde, O my soule, while I liue will I prayse the Lorde: yea as long as I haue any being I will sing prayses vnto my God.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any childe of man: for there is no helpe in them.

3 For whē the breath of man goeth forth, he shal turne agayne to his earth: and then all his thoughts thoughtes perilhe.

4 Bleſſed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his helpe: and whoſe hope is in the Lorde his God.

5 Whiche made heauen and earthe, the ſea, and al that therin is: whiche keepeth his promiſe for euer.

6 Which helpeth the to right that ſuffer wrong: which feedeth the hungry.

7 The Lord loſeth men out of priſon: the Lord giueth light to the blynd.

8 The Lorde helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.

9 The Lord careth for the ſtraungers, he defendeth the fatherleſſe and wydow: as for the way of the vngodly, he turneth it vpſide downe.

10 The Lorde thy God, O Sion, ſhal bee king for euer more: throughout all generations.

Laudate dominum. Pſal. Cxlvj.

1 O Prayſe the Lord, for it is a good thing to ſing prayſes vnto our God: yea a ioyfull and pleaſaunt thing it is to bee thankefull.

2 The Lord doth builde vp Jeruſalem: and gather togither the outcaſtes of Iſrael.

3 He healeth thoſe that are broken in harte: and giueth medicine to heale their ſickneſſe.

4 He telleth the number of the ſtarres: and calleth them al by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea and his wiſdome is infinite.

6 The Lord ſetteth vp the meeke: and bringeth the vngodly downe to the grounde.

7 O ſing vnto the Lorde with thankeſgeuing: ſing prayſe vpon the Harpe vnto our God.

8 Which couereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth rayne for the earth: and maketh the graſſe to growe vpon the mountaynes, and herbe for the vſe of men.

9 Whiche giueth fodder vnto the cattell: and fedeth the young Rauens that call vpon him.

10 Her hath no pleaſure in the ſtrength of an horſe: neyther delighteth hee in any mannes legges.

11 But the Lordes delight is in them that feare him: and put their truſt in his mercy.

12 Prayſe the Lorde O Jeruſalem: prayſe thy God, O Sion.

13 For he hath made faſt the barres of thy gates: and hath bleſſed thy children within thee.

14 He maketh peace in thy borders: and fylleth thee with the flower of wheat.

15 Her ſendeth forth his commaundement vpon earth: and his worde runneth verye ſwyftly.

16 He giueth ſnowe lyke woll: and ſcatereth the hoare froſt like aſhes.

17 He caſteth forth his yce like morſelles: who is able to abyde his froſt?

18 He ſendeth out his worde, and melteth them: hee bloweth with his winde, and the waters flowe.

19 He ſheweth his worde vnto Jacob: his ſtatutes and ordinaunces vnto Iſrael.

20 Hee hath not deale ſo with any nation: neyther haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Laudate dominum. Pſal. Cxlvij.

1 G Prayſe the Lorde of heauen: prayſe hym in the heigth. I

2 Prayſe him all ye angels of his: prayſe him al his hoſt.

3 Prayſe him Sunne and Moone: prayſe him all ye ſtarres and light.

4 Prayſe him all yee heauens: and ye waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praiſe the name of the Lorde: for he ſpake the worde, and they were made, he commaunded, and they were created.

6 Hee hath made them faſt for euer and euer: he hath giuen them a lawe, whiche ſhall not bee broken.

7 Prayſe the Lord vpon earth: ye dragons, and B all deepes.

8 Fyre and haile, ſnowe and vapours: wind and ſtorme, fulfillyng his worde.

9 Mountaines and al hylles: fruiteful trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beaſtes and al cattel: wormes and featherd foules.

11 Kinges of the earth, and all people: princes, and al iudges of the world.

12 Young men and maidens, old men and children prayſe the name of the Lord: for his name only is excellent, and his prayſe aboue heauen and earth.

13 He ſhall exalt the horne of his people, all his ſaintes ſhall prayſe him: euen the chyldren of Iſrael, euen the people that ſerueth him.

Cantate domino. Pſal. Cxlix.

1 G Sing vnto the Lorde a newe ſong: let the congregation of ſaintes prayſe him. I

2 Let Iſrael reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyful in their king.

3 Let thē praiſe his name in the daunce: let them ſing prayſes vnto him with Tabret and Harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleaſure in his people: and helpeth the meeke harted.

5 Let the ſaintes be ioyful with glory: let them reioyce in theyr beddes.

6 Let the prayſes of God be in their mouth: and B a two edged ſword in their handes.

7 To

7 To be auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.
8 To bynde their kings in chaines: and their nobles with lynkes of iron.
9 That they may be auenged of them, as it is writtē: ſuch honour haue all his ſaintes.

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1. The power and vse of the worde of God. 7. Of the feare of God and knowledge of his word. 10. We may not consent to the intisinges of sinners. 20. Wisdome complayneth that shee is contemned. 24. The punishment of them that contemne hir.

1 THe prouerbes of Solomon ẏ son of Dauid, king of Israel.
2 Too learne wisdome and instruction, and to perceiue ẏ wordes of vnderstãding.
3 To receiue the instruction of wisedome, iustice, iudgement, and equitie.
4 To giue wit vnto the simple, & that ẏ yong mã might haue knowledge & vnderstãding.
5 The wise man will giue eare, & will come by more wisdome, and he that is endued with vnderstanding, shal atayne vnto (wise) counsayles.
6 To vnderstande a parable, and the interpretation therof, the wordes of the wise, and their darke speaches.
B 7 The feare of the Lord is the beginnyng of knowledge: but fooles dispise wisdome and instruction.
Iob.28.b. Eccle.1.c Psal.110.b Prou.9.c
8 My sonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forsake not the "lawe of thy mother:
"or, instruction.
9 For they shalbe an increase of grace vnto thy head, and (as) a chayne about thy necke.
10 My sonne if sinners "entice thee, consent not vnto them.
"or leade thee out of the way.
11 If they say, Come with vs, let vs lay wait for bloud, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cause:
Psal.24.a
12 Let vs swalowe them vp like the graue quicke and whole, as those that go downe into the pit:
13 So shal we finde all maner of costly ryches, and fyll our houses with spoyles:
C 14 Cast in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one purse.
15 My sonne, walke not thou with them, refrayne thy foote from their wayes.
Psal.14.a
16 For their feete runne to euyl, and are hastie to shed bloud.
17 But (as) in vayne, the net is layde forth before the birdes eyes:
18 So these lay wayte for the bloud of them, and lye priuily for their lyues.
19 Such (are) the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine, who taketh away the life of the owner thereof.
20 Wisedome cryeth without, and putteth Prou.1.b forth hir voyce in the streetes:
21 She calleth before the congregation in the D open gates, and sheweth hir wordes through the citie, saying.
22 O ye children, how long wil ye loue childishnesse? how long will the scorners delight in scornyng, and the vnwise hate knowledge?
23 O turne you at my correction: loe I wil expresse my mynde vnto you and make you vnderstande my wordes.
24 Bycause I haue called, and ye refused, I Eccl. haue stretched out my hande, and no man Iere. regarded:
25 But all my counseles haue ye despised, and set my correction at nought:
26 Therefore will I also laugh at your destruction, and mocke you, when the thing that you feare commeth vpon you.
27 Euen when the thing that ye bee afrayde of falleth in sodaynely like a storme, and your miserie like a tempest, yea when trouble and E heauinesse commeth vpon you.
28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not aunsweare: they shall seke me early, but they shal not fynde me:
29 And that bycause they hated knowledge, and did not chose the feare of the Lord.
30 They would none of my counsayle, but despised al my correction.
31 Therefore shall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and bee fylled with their owne inuentions.
32 For the turning away of the vnwise shall slay them, and the prosperitie of fooles shall destroy them.
33 But who so hearkeneth vnto me, shall Prou.3 dwel safely, & be sure from any feare of euil.

The.ij.Chapter.

1. Wisdom exhorteth to obey hir. 5. She teacheth the feare of God. 6. She is giuen of God. 10. She preserueth from wickednesse.

1 MY son, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, I and lay vp my commaundements within ther,

2 That

2 That ỹ wilt encline thine eares vnto wisdome: applie thine hart thẽ to vnderstãding.
3 For if thou cryest after wisdome, and crieste for knowledge:
4 If thou seekest for hir as for syluer, and searchest for hir as for treasures:
5 Then shalt thou vnderstande the feare of the Lord, and fynde the knowledge of God.
6 For the Lorde giueth wisdome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 He stirreth vp health for the righteous, and defendeth them that walke vprightly,
8 That they may keepe the right path: and he preserueth the way of such as do serue him with godlinesse.
9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, yea and euery good path.
10 When wisedome entreth into thyne harte, and thy soule delighteth in knowledge:
11 Then shal counsayle preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,
12 That thou mayest bee deliuered from the euil way, and from the man that speaketh frowarde thinges:
13 From suche as leaue the wayes of ryghteousnesse to walke in the wayes of darknesse:
14 Which reioyce in doyng nought, and delight in the wickednesse of the euil:
15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they froward in their pathes.
16 That thou mayest be deliuered also from the straunge woman, and fro hir that is not thine own, which giueth sweete wordes, 17 Forsaketh the husbande of hir youth, and forgetteth the couenaunt of hir God.
18 For hir house is inclined vnto death, and hir pathes vnto hel.
19 All they that goe in vnto hir, come not again, neither take they holde of ỹ way of lyfe
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of suche as be vertuous, and keepe the pathes of the righteous.
21 For the iust shall dwell in the lande, and they that be perfect shall remaine in it.
22 But ỹ vngodly shalbe cut of frõ the earth: and the wicked doers shalbe rooted out of it.

The.iij. Chapter.

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that folowe the word of God, all thinges shall succeede well.

1 My sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but let that thine hart keepe my commaundementes:
2 For they shal prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy lyfe, and bring thee peace.
3 Let mercie and faythfulnesse neuer goe from thee: binde them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thyne hart:
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and men.
5 Put thy trust in God with all thine hart: and leane not vnto thyne owne wit.
6 In al thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall order thy goynges.
7 Be not wise in thyne owne conceit: but feare the Lord, and depart from euyl:
8 So shall thy (a) nauel bee whole, and thy bones strong.
9 Honour the Lord with thy substaunce, and with the firstlings of all thyne encrease:
10 So shall thy barnes be fylled with plenteousnesse, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with sweete wine.
11 My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neyther fainte when thou art corrected of him:
12 For whom the Lorde loueth, him he chasteneth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.
13 Well is him that findeth wisedome, and getteth vnderstanding:
14 For the marchaundise of it, is better than the marchaundise of siluer, and the gayne thereof (is better) than golde.
15 She is more worth than precious stones: and all the thinges that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto hir.
16 In hir right hande is long life, and in hir left hand riches and honour.
17 Hir wayes are pleasaunt wayes, and al hir pathes are peaceable.
18 She is a tree of lyfe to them that lay hold vpon hir: & blessed is he that keepeth hir fast.
19 With wisdome hath the Lord layde the foundation of the earth, and thorow vnderstanding hath he stablished the heauens.
20 Thorow his knowledge the deapthes are broken vp, and the cloudes drop downe the deawe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thyne eyes, but keepe wisedome and vnderstanding:
22 So they shall bee lyfe vnto thy soule, and grace vnto thy mouth.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely in thy way, and thy foote shal not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid: but shalt take thy rest, and sleepe sweetly.
25 Thou shalt not be afrayde of any sodaine feare, neither of the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.
26 For the Lord shall stande by thy side, and

(a) That is, the whole body keepe thy fote, that thou be not taken.

27 Withdrawe no good thing fro them that haue neede, so long as thine hande is able to do it.
28 Say not vnto thy neyghbour, Goe thy way, & come again, & to morow wyl I giue thee: where as thou haste now to giue him.
29 Intende no hurt against thy neyghbour, seeing he hopeth to dwell in rest by thee.
30 Striue not with any manne without a cause, where as he hath done thee no harme.
Pryn.1.a. 31 Folow not a wicked man, and chose none of his wayes:
32 For the Lorde abhorreth the froward: but his "counsayle is among the righteous.
For, secret.
33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellinges of the righteous.
34 As for the scornefull, doth he not laugh the to scorne? but he giueth grace vnto ỹ lowly.
35 The wise shall haue honour in possession: but shame is the promotion that fooles shall haue.

The.iiij.Chapter.

1. VVisdome and hir fruites ought to bee searched. 14. The way of the wicked muste be refused. 20. By the word of God, the hart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

A 1 HEare, O ye children, a fatherly instruction, and take good heede, that yee may learne vnderstanding.
2 For I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my lawe.
3 For when I my selfe was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderly beloued of my mother.
Deut.6.b 4 He taught me also, and sayd vnto me, Let 11.c.32.g. thyne hart receiue my wordes, keepe my cõmaundementes, and thou shalt liue.
5 Get thee wisdome, & get thee vnderstanding: forget not the wordes of my mouth, & shrynke not from them.
6 Forsake hir not, and she shall preserue thee, loue hir, and she shal keepe thee.
B 7 The chiefe poynte of wisdome, is to possesse wisdome: and before al thy goodes, to get the vnderstanding.
Deut.26.d 8 Make muche of hir, and she shall promote thee, yea if thou imbrace hir, she shall bring thee vnto honour:
9 She shall beautifie thy head wt manyfolde graces, & garnish thee wt a crowne of glory.
10 Heare my sonne, and receiue my wordes and the yeeres of thy life shal be many.
11 I haue shewed thee the way of wisdome and led the into thee right pathes.
12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straitnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt no fal.
13 Take fast hold of doctrine, and let hir not goe: keepe hir, for she is thy lyfe. C Psal.1 and.2
14 Come not in the pathe of the vngodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked:
15 Abhorre it, and goe not therein, depart aside, and passe ouer by it.
16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischiefe: and sleepe is taken from them, vntil they haue done harme.
17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drynke the wine of robberie.
18 The pathe of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.
19 But the way of the vngodly is as ỹ darknesse, they knowe not where they fall.
20 My sonne, marke my wordes, and encline Deut.6 and.11 thine eare vnto my sayings:
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but D keepe them euen in the middest of thine hart.
22 For they are lyfe vnto those that fynde the and health vnto all their bodies.
23 Keepe thyne heart with all diligence, for out of it issueth lyfe.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and let the lippes of slaunder be farre frõ thee.
25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right, and let thyne eye lydde looke straight before thee.
26 Ponder the pathe of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not aside, neyther to the right hãd, Deut.5 and.28 nor to the lefte: but withholde thy foote frõ euyl.

The.v.Chapter.

3. VVhooredome forbydden, 9. and prodigalitie. 15. He willeth a man to lyue on his labour, and too helpe others. 18. To loue his wife. 22. The wicked taken in theyr own wickednes.

1 MY sonne, giue heede vnto my wisdome, I "my and bow thine eare vnto my "prudence: knowledge.
That thou mayest regarde good counsel, and that thy lyppes may keepe knowledge. Pro.2.b and.5.b
3 For the lyppes of a straunge woman are a dropping hony combe, and hir throte is more glistering than oyle:
4 But at the last she is as bitter as wormewood, and as sharpe as a two edged sworde,
5 Hir feete go downe vnto death, and hir steppes pearce thorowe vnto hel.
6 Perchaunce thou wilt ponder the pathe of hir lyfe: so vnstedfast are hir ways, that thou canst not know them.
7 Heare me now therfore, O ye children, and B depart depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from hir, and come not nigh the dores of hir house:
9 That thou giue not thy honour vnto other, and thy yeres to the cruell:
10 That other men bee not filled with thy vertues, and that thy labours come not in a straunge house.
11 Yea, that thou mourne not at the last, when thou hast spent thy body and lustie youth, and then say, 12 Alas, why hated I nurture? why did my hart despise correction?
13 Wherefore was not I obedient vnto the voyce of my teachers, and harkened not vnto them that enstructed me?
14 I was come almost into al misfortune, in the middest of ỳ multitude & congregation.
15 (a) Drinke of the water of thine owne wel, and of the riuers that run out of thine owne spring.
16 Let thy welles flow out abrode, that there may be riuers of water in the streetes:
17 But let them be onely thyne owne, and not straungers with thee.
18 Let thy well be blessed, and be glad with the wife of thy youth.
19 Let hir be as the louing Hinde, and pleasaunt Roe: let hir breasts alway satisfie thee, and holde thee euer content with hir loue.
20 Why wylt thou my sonne haue pleasure in a straunge woman, and embrace the bosome of a straunger?
21 For euery mans wayes are open in the sight of the Lorde, and he pondereth all their goings.
22 The wickednesse of ỳ vngodly shal catche him selfe, and with the snares of his owne sinne shal he be trapped.
23 He shall dye without "amendmẽt, and for his great foolishnesse he shal go astray.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Instruction for sureties. 6. The slouthfull and sluggishe is stirred to worke. 12. He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16. The thinges that god hateth. 20. To obserue the word of God. 24. To flee adulterie.

1 MY sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neyghbour, and hast fastened thyne hande for another man:
2 Thou art "bound with thine own wordes, and taken with thine owne speache.
3 Therefore my sonne do this, and thou shalt be discharged: when thou art come into thy neighbours daunger, goe thy wayes then son, humble thy self, and with thy friends intreat (thy "creditour.)
4 Let not thyne eye sleepe, nor thyne eye lyds slumber.
5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the (hunter) and as a bird from the hande of the fowler.
6 Go to the Emmet thou sluggarde, cõsyder hir wayes, and learne to be wise:
7 She hath no guide, nor ouerseer, nor ruler,
8 Yet in the sommer she prouideth hir meat, and gathereth hir food together in ỳ harueste.
9 How long wilt thou sleepe thou sluggishe man? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? Prou.13.d.
10 Yea, sleepe on syl a little, slumber a little, folde thine handes together yet a little, that thou mayest sleepe. Prou.24.
11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauayleth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.
12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a frowarde mouth.
13 He winketh with his eyes, he tokeneth with his feete, he teacheth with his fingers.
14 He is euer imagining mischiefe and frowardnesse in his hart, and causeth discorde.
15 Therefore shal his destruction come hastily vpon him, sodaynely shall he be all to broken, and not be healed.
16 These fiue things doth the Lord hate, and the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth: Prou.12.c.
17 A proude loke, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent bloud, 18 An hart that goeth about wicked imaginations, feete that bee swift in running to mischiefe, Psal.14.a. Prou.1.a.
19 A false witnesse that bringeth vp lyes, and him that soweth discord among brethren.
20 My sonne, keepe thy fathers commaundement, and forsake not ỳ lawe of thy mother:
21 Tye them continually in thine hart, and bynde them about thy necke. D
22 That shall leade thee when thou goest, preserue thee when thou art a sleepe, and whẽ thou awakest talke with thee.
23 For the commaundement is a lanterne, and the lawe a light: yea chastenyng and nurture is the way of lyfe: Psal.119.d.
24 That they may keepe thee from the euyll woman, and from the flattering tongue of the straunge woman. Prou.5.a, and.7.a.
25 Lust not after hir beautie in thine hart, lest thou be taken with hir fayre lokes.
26 By an harlot (a man is brought) to begge his bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.
27 May man take fyre in his bosome, and his clothes not be brent?
28 Or can one go vpon hotte coles, and his feete not be brent?
29 Euen so, whosoeuer goeth into his neighbours wife, and toucheth hir, can not be vngyltie.

Say.22.a. 30 Men do not vtterly despise a theefe that stealeth to satisfie his soule, when he is hungrie:

31 But if hee may bee gotten, he restoreth againe seuentimes as much, or else hee maketh recompece with al the good of his house.

32 But who so committeth adulterie with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and he that doth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He getteth him selfe a plague and dishonour, and his reproche shal neuer be put out:

34 For the iealousie and wrath of the man wil not be entreated, 35 No though thou wouldst offer him great gyftes to make amendes, he will not receiue them.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to wisdome, and to the word of God. 5. VVhiche will preserue vs from the harlot. 6. VVhose maners are discribed.

A 1 My sonne, keepe my wordes, and lay vp my commaundementes by thee.

Deut.6.b. and.11.a. 2 Keepe my commaundements and my law, euen as the apple of thyne eye: and thou shalt lyue.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them in the table of thyne hart.

4 Say vnto wisedome, Thou art my sister: and cal vnderstanding thy kynswoman.

Prou.2.b. and.11.a. 5 That they may keepe thee fro the straunge woman, and from the forrayne woman which giueth swete wordes.

6 For at the window of my house I lowked through the windowe,

B 7 And beheld among the simple people, and among ỹ children, a yong man voyd of wit,

8 Goyng ouer the streete by the corner in the way toward hir house,

9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began nowe to be night and darke:

Eccle.9.a. 10 And beholde, there met him a womã with open tokens of an harlot, onely hir hart was hyd:

11 She was full of loude wordes, and redy to dally, whose feete could not abide in ỹ house:

12 Now is she without, now in the streetes, and lyeth in waite at euery corner.

13 She caught him, and kissed him, and was not ashamed, saying,

C 14 I had a vow of peace offrings to pay, and this day I performe it:

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and so haue I found thee.

16 I haue decked my bedde with coueryngs of tapessarie, and clothes of Egypt.

17 My bed haue I made to smell of Myrre, Aloes, and Cinamom.

18 Come let vs take our fyll of loue vntil the morning, and let vs solace our selues with the pleasures of loue.

19 For the good man is not at home, he is gon farre of.

20 He hath taken the bagge of money with him, and will returne at the appointed solemne feast.

D 21 Thus with many sweete wordes she ouercame him, and with hir flattering lippes she entised him.

22 Sodaynely hee folowed hir, as if wereen ore led to the slaughter, and like as it were a foole (that laugheth) when hee goeth to the stockes to be punished,

23 So long till shee had wounded his liuer with hir dart: like as if a birde hasted to the snare, not knowing that the perill of his lyfe lyeth thereupon.

24 Heare me nowe therefore O my chylde, and marke the wordes of my mouth:

25 Let not thyne hart wander in hir wayes, and be not thou deceiued in hir pathes.

26 For many one hath she wounded and cast downe, yea many a strong man hathe bin slayne by the meanes of hir.

27 Hir house is the way vnto hell, and bryngeth men downe into the chambers of death.

The.viij. Chapter.

1. VVisdome declareth hir excellẽcie. 11. Riches. 15. Power. 22. Eternitie. 32. She exhorteth al to loue and folow hir.

1 Doth not wisdome crye? doth not vnderstandyng put forth hir voyce? I Pro.

2 She standeth in the toppe of high places, by the way in the place of the pathes:

3 She crieth at the gates of the citie at the entrie of the doores:

4 It is you, O ye mẽ (sayth she) who I cal, vnto ỹ chyldren of mẽ do I lift vp my voice.

5 Take heede vnto knowledge, O ye ignoraunt, be ye wise in hart, O ye fooles.

6 Giue eare, for I wyll speake of great matters, and open my lippes to tell things that be right.

7 For my mouth shal be talking of the truth, B and my lippes abhorre vngodlynesse.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are rightwous, there is no frowardnesse or falshod in them.

9 They are al playne to such as will vnderstand, and right to thẽ that find knowledge.

10 Receiue my doctrine, and not syluer, and knowledge knowledge rather, than fyne golde:

11 For wisedome is more worth than pretious stones, yea all things that thou canst desire, may not be compared vnto it.
12 I wisdome dwel with counsel, and fynd out knowledge and vnderstanding.
13 The feare of the Lord abhorreth wickednesse, pryde, disdayne, and the euil way, and a mouth that speaketh wicked thinges I vtterly abhorre.
14 Counsell is mine, and direction, I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.
15 Through me kinges raigne, and princes make iust lawes.
16 By me princes beare rule, and noble men do iudge the earth.
17 I am louing vnto those that loue me: and they that seeke me early, shall finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me, yea durable riches and righteousnesse.
19 My fruite is better than gold and precious stones, and myne encrease more worth than fyne siluer.
20 I wil guyde thee in the way of righteousnesse, and in the middest of the pathes of iudgement.
21 That I may stablish the inheritaunce of them that loue me, and encrease their treasure.
22 The Lorde himselfe had me in possession in the beginning of his wayes, or euer he began his workes aforetime.
23 I haue bin ordayned from euerlastyng, and from the begynning or euer the earthe was made.
24 When I was borne, there were neyther deapthes nor springs of water.
25 Before the foundations of the mountaines were layde: yea before all hylles, was I borne:
26 The earth, and all that is vpon the earth was not yet made, no not the dust it selfe.
27 For when hee made the heauens, I was present, when he compassed the deapthes about:
28 When he hanged the cloudes aboue, when he fastened the springes of the deepe:
29 When hee shut the sea within certaine bounds, that the waters shoulde not goe ouer their markes that hee commaunded: when hee layd the foundations of the earthe.
30 I was by him ordering al things, delighting dayly and reioycing alway before him.
31 As for the round compasse of this world, I make it ioyfull: for my delight is to be among the children of men.
32 Therefore harken vnto me, O ye children, blessed are they that kepe my wayes.
33 O giue eare vnto nurture, be wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, and giuing attendaunce at the postes of my doores.
34 For who so findeth me, findeth life, and shal obteyne fauour of the Lord.
35 But who so offendeth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and they that hate me, are the louers of death.

4 Who so is without knowledge, let him come hither: and to the vnwise she sayde,
5 O come on your way, eate my bread, and drinke my wine (which) I haue powred out for you.
6 Forsake foolishnesse, and ye shal liue: and see that ye goe in the way of vnderstanding.
7 Who so reproueth a scornefull person, getteth him selfe dishonour: and hee that rebuketh the vngodly, stayneth him selfe.
8 Reproue not a scorner, lest hee owe thee enyll wil: but rebuke a wyse man, and hee will loue thee.
9 Giue a discrete man but an occasion, and hee will bee the wyser: teache a righteous man, and he will encrease in knowledge.

1 THe vngodly fleeth when no man pursueth him: but the righteous are bolde as a Lion.
2 For the wickednesse of ỹ land, the princes are oft chaunged: but thorow "a man of vnderstanding and wisedome, a realme endureth long. Eccl.10.a.
3 One poore man oppressing another by violence, is like a raging rayne that destroyeth the "fruite.
4 They that forsake the lawe, prayse the vngodly: but such as keepe the law, are grieued at them.
5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lorde, vnderstand all things. 1.Cor.2.
6 Better is he that walketh in his vprightnesse: than he that peruerteth hys wayes, and is rich. Prou.19.b.
7 Who so keepeth the lawe, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that "is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father. B "or, gouernour.
8 He that by vsurie and vniust gaynes gathereth riches: he shall lay them in store for a man that will pitie the poore. Prou.13.c.
9 He that turneth away his care from hearing the lawe, his prayer shalbe abhominable. Prou.15.c.
10 Who so causeth the righteous to go astray by an euill way, shall fall into hys owne pitte: but the iust shall haue the good in possession. Prou.26.b.
11 The ryche man thynketh hym selfe to be wyse: but the poore that hath vnderstanding "can perceyue him wel ynough. "or, him. Eccle.6.c. Prou.28.c.
12 When righteous men doe reioyce, there is greate glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried. Iob.31.c. Prou.29.c.
13 He that hydeth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but who so knowledgeth them, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy. Iob.31.c. Psal.32.a.

15 As a roaring Lion, and an hungry Beare, ſo is an vngodly prince ouer the poore people.

16 Where the prince is without vnderſtanding, there is great oppreſſion and wrong: but if hee hateth couetouſneſſe, he ſhall long raigne.

a.b. 17 He that by violence ſheadeth any mannes bloud, ſhall be a runnagate vnto his graue, and no man ſhalbe able to ſuccour him.

b.b. 18 Who ſo leadeth an innocent life, ſhalbe ſaued: but he that goeth froward wayes, ſhall once haue a fall.

n.b. 19 He that tilleth his lande ſhal haue plenteouſneſſe of bread: but he that followeth idle perſons, ſhall haue pouertie ynough.

m.6.b. 20 A faythfull man ſhall be filled with bleſſings, and he that maketh haſt to be rich, ſhal not be vngiltie.

p.a. D 21 To haue reſpect of perſons (in iudgement) is not good, for that man will doe wrong, yea euen for a peece of bread.

22 He that wilbe rich all to ſoone, hath an euil eye: and conſidereth not that pouertie ſhall come vpon him.

23 He that followeth my precepts rebuketh a man, ſhall finde more fauour at the laſt than he that flattereth him.

24 Who ſo robbeth his father and mother, and ſayth it is no ſinne: the ſame is the companion of a "deſtroyer.

25 He that is of a proude ſtomacke, ſtirreth vp ſtrife: but he that putteth his truſt in the Lord ſhall be well fedde.

26 He that truſteth in his own hart, is a fole: but he that dealeth wiſely, ſhalbe ſafe.

27 He that giueth vnto the poore, ſhall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes from them ſhall haue many a curſe.

28 When the vngodly are come vp, men are fayne to hide themſelues: but when they periſh, the righteouſe increaſe.

The.xxix. Chapter.

A 1 HE that is ſtifnecked, and will not be reformed, ſhall ſodaynely be deſtroyed "without any helpe.

2 When the righteous are in authoritie, the people do reioice: but when the wicked beare rule, the people mourne.

3 Who ſo loueth wiſedome, maketh his father a glad man: but he that keepeth company with harlottes, ſpendeth away that he hathe.

4 With (true) iudgemente the king ſtabliſſheth the lande: but if he be a man that oppreſſe the people with gatherings, he turneth it vpſide downe.

5 Who ſo flattereth his neighbour, layeth a net for his feete.

11 A fole vttereth all his minde at once: but a wiſe man keepeth it in till afterwarde.

15 The rodde and correction gyueth wiſedome: but a childe left to his owne will, bringeth his mother to ſhame.

16 When the vngodly are multiplyed, wickednelle encreaſeth: but the righteous ſhall ſee their fall.

17 Nurture thy ſonne with correction, & thou ſhalt be at reſt: yea, he ſhall do thee good at thine hart.

18 When the worde of God is not preached, the people periſh: but well is him that keepeth the lawe.

19 A (ſtoubbourne) ſeruaunt will not be the better for words: for though he vnderſtande, yet will he not regard them.

20 Seeſt thou a man that is haſty to ſpeake vnaduiſedly? there is more hope in a fole than in him.

21 He that delicately bringeth vp his ſeruaunt from a child, ſhall make him his "maiſter at length. D "or, his ſonne.

22 An angrie man ſtirreth vp ſtrife, and hee that beareth euil wil in his mind, doth much euill.

23 "After pryde commeth a fall: but a lowly ſpirite bringeth great worſhip. "or, a mannes pride ſhall bring him lowe.

24 Who ſo is partner with a theefe, hateth his owne ſoule: he heareth "blaſphemie, and telleth it not forth. "or, curſing.

25 He that feareth men, ſhall haue a fall: but who ſo putteth his truſt in the Lorde, "is without daunger. "or, ſhall be exalted.

26 Many there be that ſeeke the princes fauour: but euery mans iudgemente commeth from the Lord.

27 The righteous abhorreth the vngodly: and the wicked hateth him that is in the right way.

¶ The ende of the Prouerbes of Solomon.

The booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes, which is Solomon the king.

For Solomon is called in Scripture by three sundry names. The one Solomon, that is, the maker of peace. The second Idida, that is, beloued of God. The third Ecclesiastes, that is, a Preacher, teaching that true and eternal felicitie cõsisteth not in any worldly wisedome, or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleasure, which al be but vayne and transitorie: but he proueth that true felicitie consisteth in a whole ioyning oure selues to God by pure religion, that is, with a sincere faith, and the feare of God, obseruing his commaundementes.

¶ The first Chapter.

2. All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none indurance. 13. All mans wisedome is but follie and griefe.

a. He doth not condemne the creatures and gifts of God as euill: but the careful seking of them, and the pride and trust that man hath in worldly things. He proueth by six reasons, that true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing.
b. The first reason is, that nothing can be atteyned in this lyfe without laboure and care.
c. 2. Mans life is but short & vncertain. And thoughe the earth it selfe continueth for a longer time, yet it cõmeth to an ende at the last.
d. 3. Neyther Astronomie, nor any other science is perfectly knowen in this lyfe.
e. 4. Man in this lyfe is so desirous to see and heare newes alwayes, that he is neuer satisfyed nor contente with his estate
f. 5. The first clause is vnderstanded of thinges made by nature, the second of things done by arte.

THE wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid king of Hierusalem.
2 (a) All is but most vaine vanitie (sayeth the Preacher) & all is moste vayne (I saye) and but plaine vanitie.
3 For what (b) else hathe a man of all the labour that he taketh vnder the sunne?
4 (c) One generation passeth awaye, another commeth: but the earth abideth still.
5 (d) The sunne ariseth, the sunne goth downe, and returneth to his place, that it maye there rise vp againe.
6 The wynde goeth towarde the south, and turneth vnto the Northe fetcheth his compasse, whirleth about, and goeth forthe, and returneth again to his circuites from whence he did come.
7 All floudes ran into the sea, and yet is the sea it selfe not filled: for loke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flowe agayne.
8 All things are so harde to be knowen, that no man can expresse them: (e) the eye is not satisfyed with syghte, the eare is not fylled with hearing.
9 (f) The thing that hath bin, cõmeth to passe agayne, and the thing that hathe bin done, shall be done agayne: there is no new thing vnder the Sunne.
10 Is there any thing wherof it may be said, Loe this is newe? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bin before vs.
11 The thing that is passe, is oute of remembrance: euen so the thinges that are for to come, shall no more be thought vpon amõg them that come after.
12 I my selfe the Preacher was king of Israell at Hierusalem.
13 And did applie my minde to seeke out and searche for knowledge of al thinges that are done vnder heauen: (g) such trauell and labour hathe God giuen vnto the children of men, to exercise themselues therin.
14 Thus haue I considered all these thyngs that come to passe vnder the sunne: and loe, they are all but vanitie, & vexation of minde.
15 (h) The crooked can not be made straight, nor the imperfectiõ of things can be nũbred.
16 I communed with myne owne heart, saying, Loe I am come to greate estate, and haue gotten more wysedome than all they that haue bin before me in Hierusalem.
17 Yea my hart had great experience of wisdome and knowledge: for therevnto I applyed my mind, that I might know what were wisedome and vnderstanding, what were errour and folishnesse: and I perceyued that this also was but a vexation of minde.
18 For where much wisedome is, there is also great trauayle and disquietnesse: & the more knowledge a man hath, the more is his care.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Pleasures, sumptuous buyldings, riches, and possessions, are but vanitie. 14. The wise and the foole hath both one ende touching the bodily death.

1 THen said I thus in my hart, Now goe to, (a) I will take mine ease, and haue good days: but loe, that is vanitie also.
2 Insomuch, that (b) I sayde vnto the men giuen to laughter, Thou art madde: and to myrth, What doest thou?
3 (c) So

b. 2. The mother of vayne pleasure, and much laughter & foolishnesse.

3 (c) So I thought in my heart to giue my flesshe vnto wine, and agayne to applye my mynde vnto wisedome, and to comprehende folishnesse: vntill the time that among all the things which are vnder ỳ sunne, I might se what were best for men to do so long as they liue vnder heauen.

4 (d) I made gorgeous fayre workes: I builded my houses, and planted vineyardes.

5 I made me orchardes and gardens of pleasure, and planted trees in them of al maner of fruites.

6 I made poles of water, to water ỳ grene and fruitefull trees withall.

7 I bought seruaunts and maidens, and had a great houshold: as for cattell and sheepe, I had more substance of them than al they that were before me in Hierusalem.

8 I gathered together siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of kings and landes: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of mẽ, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was greater and in more worship than al my predecessours in Hierusalem: For wisedome remayned with me.

10 And loke whatsoeuer mine eyes desired,
I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my hart delighted or had any pleasure, I with-helde it not from it: thus my hart reioyced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauayle.

11 But when I considered all the works that my handes had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein: loe, al was but va-nitie and vexation of minde, and nothing of any value vnder the sunne.

12 (e) Then turned I me to consider wise-dome, errour, and folishnesse (for what is he among men that might be compared to me the king in such workes?)

13 And I sawe that wisedome excelleth folishnesse, as farre as light doth darknesse.

14 For a wise man hath his eyes in his head, but the fole goeth in darknesse: I perceyued also that they both (f) had one ende.

15 Then thought I in my minde, if it happen vnto the fole as it dothe vnto me, what needeth me then to labour any more for wis-dome? So I confessed within my heart that this also was but vanitie.

16 For the wyse are euer as little in remembraunce as the foolish: for the days shal come
(g) when all shalbe forgotten, yea the wyse man dyeth as well as the fole.

17 Thus began I to be weery of my lyfe, insomuch that I could away with nothyng that is done vnder the sunne: for al was but vanitie and vexation of minde.

18 (h) Yea I was weery of my labor, which I had taken vnder the sunne, bycause I shuld be fayne to leaue them vnto another manne that commeth after me.

19 (i) And who knoweth whether he shalbe a wise man, or a fole? And yet shal he be lorde of all my labours which I with such wise-dome haue taken vnder the sunne: this is also a vayne thing.

20 So I turned me to refrayne my mynde from all suche trauayle as I toke vnder the sunne.

21 For somuch as a man should weery hymselfe with wisedome, with vnderstanding, and opportunitie, and yet be fayn to leaue hys labours vnto another that neuer sweate for them: this is also a vayne thing, and greate miserie.

22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauayle of his minde, that he taketh vnder the sunne?

23 But heauinesse, sorow, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life? Insomuch that hys hart can not rest in the night: this is also a vayne thing.

24 (k) Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, and his soule to be merrie in hys labour? yea I sawe that this also was a gift of God.

25 For who will eate or goe more lustily to his worke than I?

26 And why? God gyueth to the man that is good before him, wisedome, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner he gyueth weerinesse, that he may gather and heape together the thing that afterward shalbe gyuẽ vnto hym whome it pleaseth God: thys is now a vayne thing, yea a very disquietnesse, and vexation of minde.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. All things haue their time. 14. The woorkes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17. God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

1 (a) EVery thing hath a time, yea all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

2 There is a time to be borne, and a time to die: there is a time to plant, and a tyme to plucke vp the thing that is planted.

3 A tyme to slay, and a tyme to make whole:
a tyme to breake downe, and a tyme to builde vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a tyme to gather stones together: a tyme to im-

h. That he might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

i. He rebuketh men that make carefull prouidence to enriche their heyres by vnlawfull meanes to their owne damnation, not knowing who or what they shal be, eyther good or euill. D

k. As it is the blessing of god to obteyne ryches honestly, so is it no lesse blessing to refresh him selfe with the frutes thereof in measure. Of both which blessings Solomon confesseth hym selfe to haue tasted largely, and yet not happy therby.

a. Although true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing, yet God hath appointed all necessary things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

brace, and a tyme to refrayne from imbra-cing.

6 A time to winne, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spende.

B 7 A time to cut in peeces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a tyme to speake.

8 A tyme to loue, and a time to hate: a tyme of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What hath a man else that doth any thing, but weerinesse and labour?

b. God hath appointed that euery man shoulde diligently trauayl and take pains in his vocatiō, to the ende he woulde haue him humble, and feare God.

10 (b) For as touching the trauayle and carefulnesse which God hath gyuen vnto men, I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.

11 All this hathe bee ordeyned maruelous godly, to euery thing his due time: He hathe planted ignorance also in the hartes of men, that they should not comprehend the ground of his workes which he doth from the beginning to the end.

12 So I perceiued that in those things there is nothing better for a man than to be merrie, and to do well as long as he liueth.

13 For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea what so euer a man enioyeth of all his labour: that same is a gift of God.

C 14 I considered also that what so euer God doth, it cōtinueth for euer: And that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doth it to the intēt that mē should feare hym.

Eccle. 1. d.

15 The thing that hathe bin is now: and the thing that is for to come, hath bin afore time: for GOD restoreth agayne the thing that was past.

16 Moreouer, I sawe vnder ỹ sunne vngodlinesse in the steede of iudgemente, and iniquitie in steede of righteousnesse.

c. There is no difference betwixt a man & a beast as touching the bodie, whiche of them both dieth: but the soule of man liueth immortally, and the bodie of man riseth vp again by the mightie power of the spirite of God.

17 Then thought I in my minde, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly: and then shalbe the time and iudgemente of al counsayles and workes.

18 I communed with mine owne harte also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare as though they were beasts.

19 (c) For it happeneth vnto men, as it dothe vnto beasts, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dyeth, so dyeth the other, yea they haue both one manner of breath: so that in this a man hathe no preeminence aboue a beast, but are all subdued vnto vanitie.

d. The immortalitie of the soule is not knowen by carnall reason or sense: but by the woord and spirite of God.

20 They goe all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so shall they all turne vnto dust agayne.

21 (d) Who knoweth the spirite of" man that goeth vpwarde, and the breath of the beaste that goeth downe to the earth?

" or, of the children of men.

22 Wherefore I perceiue that ther is nothing better for a man, than to be ioyful in his labour, for that is his portion: But who wyll bring him to see the thing that shal come after hym?

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The innocente are oppressed. 4. Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9. Mans societie is necessary. 13. A young man poore and wise, is to bee preferred before an olde king that is a foole.

1 SO I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is done vnder the sunne, and beholde the teares of such as were oppressed, and there was no man to comfort them, or that would deliuer and defend them from the violence of their oppressours.

2 Wherefore I" iudged those that are dead, to be more happie than those that be aliue:

3 (a) Yea him that is yet vndone, to be better at ease than they both: bycause he seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the sunne.

4 (b) Agayne, I sawe that all trauayle and diligence of labour that euery man taketh in hande, was done of enuie against his neighbour; This is also a vayne thing, and a vexation of minde.

5 (c) The foole foldeth his hands together, and eateth vp his owne flesche.

6 One handfull (sayth he) is better with rest, than both the handes full with labour and trauayle of minde.

7 Moreouer I turned me, and beholde yet another vanitie vnder the sunne:

8 There is one man, no more but himselfe alone, hauing neyther childe nor brother, yet is there no ende of his carefull trauayle, his eyes can not be satisfyed with riches: (yet sayth he not) for whome do I take such trauayle? For whose pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a vayne and miserable thing.

9 (d) Therefore two are better than one, for they may well enioy the profite of their labour: for if one of them fall, his companion helpeth him vp agayne.

10 But wo is him that is alone: for if he fal he hath not another to helpe him vp.

11 Againe, when two sleepe together, they are warme: but howe can a body be warme alone?

12 One may be ouercome, but two may make resistaunce: A three folde cable is not lightly broken.

13 A poore child being wise, is better than an olde king that doteth," and can not beware

" or, will not receiue admonition in time to come.

14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king: and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto powertie.

15 And I perceiue that all men liuing vnder the sunne, (e) goe with the second child that shall stande vp in the steade of the other.

16 As for the people that haue ben before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come after him shal not (f) reioyce of him: This is also a vayne thing and vexation of mynde.

17 When thou commest into the house of God, kepe thy foote, and draw nigh, that god which is at hande may heare that thou giue not the (g) offering of fooles: for they knowe nought but to do euil.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Not to speake lightly, chiefely in Gods matters. 9. The couetous can neuer haue ynough 11. The labourers sleepe is sweete. 14. Man whē he dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18. To liue ioyfully and with a contented mynde, is the gyft of God.

1 BE (a) not hastie with thy mouth, and let not thyne hart speak any thing rashly before God: For God is in heauen, and thou vpon earth, therefore let thy wordes bee fewe.

2 For where muche carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many words are, there men may heare fooles.

3 If thou make a vowe vnto God, bee not slacke to performe it: As for foolishe vowes, he hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

4 (b) For better is it that thou make no vowe, than that thou shouldest promyse and not pay.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesshe for to (c) sinne, neither say thou before the angel, that it is ye ignorance: for then God wil be angry at thy voyce, and destroy al the worke of thine handes.

6 (d) And why? whereas are many dreames, and many wordes, there are also diuers vanities: but loke that thou feare God.

7 If thou seest the power to bee oppressed and wrongfully dealt withal, so that equitie and right of the lawe is wrested in the lande, marueyle not thou at suche a thing: for hee that (e) is higher than the highest regardeth, and there be higher than they.

8 (f) The increase of the earth vpholdeth all thing: yea the king him selfe is mayntayned by husbandrie.

9 Hee that loueth money, will neuer be satisfied with money, and hee that loueth riches, shalbe without the fruite thereof: This is also a vayne thing.

10 Whereas muche riches is, there are many also that spend them away: And what pleasure more hath he that possesseth them, sauing that he may loke vpon them with his eyes?

11 A labouring man sleepeth sweetly, whether it be little or much that hee eateth: but the abundaunce of the ryche will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 (g) Yet is there a sore plague whiche I haue seene vnder the sunne (namely) riches kept to the hurte of the that hath them in possession:

13 For oft times they perishe with ye great misorie and trouble: and if he haue a childe, it getteth nothyng.

14 Like as he came naked out of his mothers wombe, so goeth he thither again, and carieth nothing away with him of al his labour.

15 This is a miserable plague that hee shall goe curn as he came away: What helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the winde?

16 (h) All the dayes of his life also he did eate in the darke, with greate carefulnesse, sickenesse, and sorowe.

17 (i) Therefore me thinke it a better & fayrer thing, a man to eate and drinke, and to bee refreshed of al his labour that he taketh vnder the sunne, all the dayes of his life whiche God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 For vnto whō so euer God giueth riches, gowdes, and power, hee giueth it him to enioye it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For he thynketh not much howe long hee shall liue, forasmuch as God fylleth his hart with gladnesse.

The.vi. Chapter.

The miserable estate of him too whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace too vse them.

1 THere is yet a plague vnder the sunne, & it is a generall thing among men: when God giueth a man riches, gowdes, and honour, so that hee wanteth noting of al that his hearte can desyre, and yet GOD giueth him not leaue to enioye the same, but an other man spendeth them. This is a vayne thing, and a miserable plague.

2 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeares, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet can not enioye his good,

(a) neither

(a) but God is to be feared.

(b) Hearing that God wil redresse these things, and therefore depende vpon him.

(c) The decay of husbandry is the decay of the prince.

g. A plage of the couetous man.

h. That is, in vayne, and without profit.

i. Man by reason can comprehende nothing better in this lyfe than to vse the giftes of God soberly and comfortably for to know farther, is a special gyft of God reueled by his spirit.

a. The wicked couetous man by many kind of offences, wã teth the honor of a christian mans buriall, either by mur dring himselfe, or by ſuche o-ther kinde of offence.

(a) neither bee buried, as for him, I ſay, that vntimely birth is better than he.

3 For he commeth to nought, and ſpendeth his time in darkeneſſe, and his name is for-gotten.

4 Moreouer hee ſeeth not the ſunne, and kno-weth not of it: and yet hath he more reſt than the other.

5 Yea, though he liued two thouſande yeeres, yet hath he no good life: Come not al to one place?

6 (b) All the labour that a man taketh, is for him ſelfe, and yet his deſire is neuer filled after his minde.

7 For what hath the wiſe more than the fole: What helpeth it the poore that (c) he knoweth to walke with foles in due tirliuing?

b. That is, to death, meaning that he is no-thing better than the vntymely fruite. Or, for his mouth.

c. That is, that he knoweth how to vſe his riches well in the iudgemẽt of the wyſe.

8 (d) The cleare ſight of the eye, is better than that the ſoule ſhould walke after deſires of ỹ luſt: Howbeit, this is alſo a vayne thing, and a diſquietneſſe of mynde

d. It is better to be content with that God hath giuen, thã to folowe his deſire that ne-uer will be ſa-tiſfyed.

9 The thing that hath bin, is named alredy, & knowẽ ỹ it is euen mã himſelfe, neither may he go to law wt̃ him (e) ỹ is mightier than he.

e. That is, with God, who wil teach him that he is mortall.

10 Many thinges there be that encreaſe vani-tie, and what hath a man elſe?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man liuing in the dayes of his vayne lyfe, whiche is but a ſhadowe? Or who will tell a man what ſhall happẽ after him vnder the ſunne?

The.vij.Chapter.

Diuers preceptes too folowe that whiche is good, and too auoyde the contrary.

Pro.22.a. Canti.1.a.

1 A Good name is more worth than precious ointment: and (a) the day of death, is bet-ter than the day of byrth.

a. Bicauſe that this corporall death is the en tring into lyfe euerlaſting.

2 (b) It is better to goe into an houſe of mourn-ning, than into a banketting houſe: for there is the ende of all men, and he that is liuyng taketh it to hart.

b. The houſe of mourning put vs in mind of death, and ſo to examine and amende our lyues.

3 (c) Grauitie is better than to laugh: for when the countenaunce is heaume, the hart is reformed.

c. The hart of a ſinneri s ſoner reformed by an angrie coũtenance, than by a ſmiling.

4 The harte of the wiſe is in the mourning houſe: but the hart of the foliſhe is in the houſe of myrth.

Pro.17.a.

5 It is better to giue eare to the chaſtening of a wiſe mã, than to heare ỹ ſong of foles:

6 For the laughing of foles, is like the (d) cracking of thornes vnder a pot: and that is but a vayne thing.

d. Thornes in the fire crack-leth for a while, but thei are ſoon gone out.

7 The wiſe man hateth wrong dealing, and abhorreth the hart that coueteth rewards.

8 Better is it to conſider the end of a thing, than the beginning: The patient of ſpirite, in better than the hygh minded.

9 Be not haſtyly angry in thy mynde: for wrath reſteth in the boſome of foles.

10 (c) Say not thou. What is the cauſe that the dayes of the old tyme were better than they ỹ be now? for ỹ were no wiſe queſtion.

11 Wiſdome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may beholde the ſunne:

12 For wiſedome defendeth as well as mo-ney, and the excellent knowledge and wiſe-dome, giueth life vnto him that hathe it in poſſeſſion.

13 Conſyder the worke of God, how that no man can make the thing (f) ſtraight, which he maketh crooked.

14 Vſe wel the time of proſperitie, and remẽ-ber the time of miſfortune: for God doth ſo temper the one and the other, that a man (g) can fynde nothing els.

15 All things haue I conſydered in the time of my vanitie: that the (h) iuſt man periſheth for his righteouſneſſe ſake, and the vngodly lyueth in his wickedneſſe.

16 (i) Therefore be thou neither too righteous, (k) nor ouer wiſe, that thou periſhe not.

17 (l) Bee neither too vnrighteous alſo, nor too folyſhe, leſt thou dye before thy time.

18 It is good for thee to (m) take hold of this, and not to let that goe out of thy hand: For he that feareth God, commeth forth with them all.

19 Wiſdome giueth more courage vnto the wiſe, than ten mightie men of the citie.

20 For there is not one iuſt vpon earth, that doth good, and ſinneth not.

21 Take no heede vnto euery word that is ſpoken, leſt thou heare thy ſeruant curſe thee: for thyne owne hart knoweth that thou thy ſelfe alſo haſt oft times ſpoken euyl by other men.

22 All theſe thinges haue I proued in wiſe-dome, for I thought to be wiſe, but the went farther from me than ſhe was before: yea and ſo deepe, that I might not reach vn-to hir.

23 I applyed my minde alſo vnto knowledge and to ſeeke & ſearche out ſcience, wiſdome, & vnderſtanding, to knowe the folyſhneſſe of the vngodly, & the errour of doting foles.

24 And I founde that a woman is bitterer than death, the whiche hath caſt abroade hir hart as a net that menne ſiſhe with, and hir handes are chaynes: (o) Who ſo pleaſeth God ſhall eſcape from hir, but the ſinner ſhal be taken with hir.

25 Beholde (ſaith the preacher) this haue I di-ligently ſearched out, and proued: One thing muſt be conſidered with an other, that a mã may come by knowledge which as yet I ſeeke, and finde it not.

26 Among a thousand men I haue founde one, but (o) not one woman among al.
27 Loe this only haue I founde, that God made man iuſt and right: (p) but they ſought many inuentions.

The.viij. Chapter.

2. To obey princes and magiſtrates. 17. The workes of God paſſe mans knowledge.

1 WHo is wiſe? who hath knowledge to make an aunſwere? A (a) mans wiſedome maketh his face to ſhine: but vnſhamfaſtneſſe putteth out of fauour.
2 Keepe the kings cõmaundemẽt, namely for the othe that thou haſt made vnto God for the ſame.
3 (b) Be not haſtie to go out of his ſight, and ſtie thou continue in no euill thing: for what ſo euer it pleaſeth him, that doth he.
4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commaundement is mightie: Euen ſo, who may ſay vnto him, What doeſt thou?
5 Who ſo keepeth the commaundement, ſhal feele no harme: but a wiſe mans hart diſcerneth the time and iudgement.
6 For euery thing wil haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men ful of carefulneſſe and ſorowe.
7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tel him when it ſhalbe.
8 Neyther is there any man that hath power ouer the ſpirite to keepe ſtil the ſpirite, nor to haue any power in the time of death, nor that can make an end of the battayle, neither may vngodlynes deliuer thẽ yͤ meddle wal.
9 Al theſe things haue I conſidered, and applyed my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the ſunne, how one man hath lordſhip vpon another to (c) his owne harme.
10 For I haue ſeene often yͤ vngodly brought to their graues, (d) and yet they haue returned into the citie againe: and (e) came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memorie, as were thoſe alſo that liued well: This is alſo a vaine thing.
11 (f) Byeauſe now that euill workes are not haſtily puniſhed, the hart of man giueth hym ſelfe ouer vnto wickednelſe.
12 Byeauſe an euill perſon offendeth an hundred times, and god deferreth, giuing him long life, therefore I am ſure that it ſhalgoe wel with them that feare God, whiche haue him before their eyes.
13 Againe, as for the vngodly it ſhal not bee wel with him, neyther ſhall he prolong his dayes: but euen as a ſhadowe, ſo ſhal hee bee that feareth not God.
14 Yet is there vanitie vpon earth: There bee iuſt men, vnto whom it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Agayne, there be vngodly, with whome it goeth as though they had the workes of the righteous: This haue I called alſo a vayne thing.
15 Therefore I commend gladneſſe, byeauſe a man hath no better thing vnder the ſunne, than to eate and drinke, and to bee mery: (g) for that ſhall he haue of his labour, all the dayes of his life whiche God giueth hym vnder the ſunne.
16 And ſo I applied my mind to learne wiſdome, and to knowe the trauaile that is in the world, and that of ſuche a faſhion, that I ſuffered not myne eyes to ſleepe, neyther day nor nyght.
17 I ſoy erſtoode of all the workes of God, but it is not poſſible for a man to attayne vnto the workes that are done vnder the ſun: and though hee beſtowe his labour to ſeeke them out, yet can he not reach vnto them: yea though a wiſe man would vndertake to knowe them, yet ſhal he not fynde them.

g. This he ſpeaketh in the perſon of a carnal man.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 11. No man knoweth his ende. 19. VViſdome excelleth ſtrength.

1 FOr all theſe thinges purpoſed I in my mynde to ſeeke out: The righteous and wiſe, yea & their ſeruants alſo, are in the hand of God, (a) & there is no man yͤ knoweth either loue or hate, but al things are before thẽ.
2 It happeneth vnto one as vnto another, it goeth with yͤ righteous as vnto the vngodly, (b) vnto the good and cleane, as with the vncleane, with him that offreth, as vnto him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, ſo goeth it alſo with the ſinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, ſo happeneth it alſo to him that is afrayde to be forſworne.
3 Among al thinges that come to paſſe vnder the ſunne, this is a miſerie, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cauſe alſo that the harts of men are ful of wickednelſe, and madde folliſhneſſe is in their hartes as long as they liue, vntil they dye.
4 And why? as long as a man liueth, he hath an hope: for a quicke (c) dogge (ſay they) is better than a dead Lion.
5 For they that be liuing, knowe that they ſhall dye: but they (d) that be dead, knowe nothing, neyther deſerue they any more, for their memorial is forgotten.
6 Alſo their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie, is nowe periſhed, neither haue they any more parte in the worlde in all that is done

a. By any outward thing in this life, no man knoweth whether he is loued or hated of God.
b. Proſperitie, and aduerſitie, commeth in this life, as wel to the godly, as to the wicked.
c. This prouerbe is the ſaying of the Epicures, the which beleueth not the immortalitie of the ſoule.
d. Repentance after this lyfe is to late and vnprofitable.

done vnder the sunne.

B 7 (e) Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wyne with a glad hart, for thy workes please God: Let thy garmentes bee alwayes white, and let thy head lacke no oyntment.

e. The wicked flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, whatsoeuer they doe, for that they do abound in prosperitie.
Math.6.b.
Prou.5.c.

8 Use thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife, whom thou louest all the dayes of thy lyfe, which is but vaine, that God giueth thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for that is thy portion in this life, of all thy labour and trauaile that thou takest vnder the sunne.

9 What so euer thou takest in hande to do, that do with all thy power: for in the graue that thou goest (f) vnto, there is neyther work, counsayle, knowledge, nor wisdom.

f. There is no time of working or repentance after this lyfe.

10 So I turned me vnto other thinges vnder the sunne, and I sawe that in running, it helpeth not to bee swifte: in battayle, it helpeth not to be strong: to feeding, it helpeth not to be wyse: to ryches, it helpeth not to be a man of muche vnderstandyng: to bee had in fauour, it helpeth not to be cunnyng: (g) but that al lyeth in time and fortune.

g. Thus the wicked worldlings are deceiued, attributing to fortune that whiche is ordered by the secrete prouidence of God, for that the reward, according to mens doings, is not in this life, but chiefly in the life to come.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fyshes are taken with the angle, and as the byrdes are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perillous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 (h) This wisdome haue I seene also vnder the sunne, and me thought it a great thing:

h. A prayse of wyse men.

13 There was a little citie, and a fewe men within it: so there came a great king and besieged it, and made great bulwarks against it.

C 14 And in the citie there was found a poore man, but he was wyse, which with his wisdome deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respecte to suche a simple man.

15 Then sayde I, wisedome is better than strength: Neuertheless, a simple mans wisdome is dispised, and his wordes are not hearde.

16 A wise mans counsayle that is "folowed in scilence, is farre aboue the crying of a captayne among fooles.

"or, hearde.

The.x. Chapter.

1. The difference of foolishnesse and wisdome. 10. A slaunderer is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 15. Of foolishe kinges and riotous princes. 16. And of good kings & princes.

A 1 A Dead flye doth corrupt sweete oyntmẽt, and maketh it to stincke: Euen so oft tymes he that hath bin had in estimation for wisdome and honour, is abhorred because of a little foolishnesse.

2 (a) A wise mans hart is vpon his right hand: but a fooles hart vpon his leaft.

5 Another plague is there which I haue seene vnder the sunne, namely, the ignorance that is commonly among princes: in that a fole sitteth in great dignitie, and the (b) ryche are set downe beneath.

b. Rich without vertue

6 I haue seene seruauntes ryde vpon horses, and princes goyng vpon "theyr feete as it were seruauntes.

The.xi.Chapter.

1. To be liberal to the poore. 4. Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8. Al worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9. God wil iudge al.

1 CAy (a) thy bread vpon wet faces, and so shalt thou finde it after many dayes.

2 (b) Giue part seuen dayes, and also vpon the eight: for thou wotest not what miserie shal come vpon earth.

3 When the cloudes are full, they poure oute rayne vpon the earth. (c) And when the tree falleth, whether it bee towarde the south or north, in what place soeuer it fal, ther it lieth.

4 He that regardeth the wind, shal not sow: and he that hath respect vnto the cloudes, shal not reape.

5 Now like as thou knowest not the way of the spirite, nor how the bones doe growe in the wombe of hir that is with child: euen so thou knowest not the workes of God, which is the worke maister of all.

6 Ceasse not thou therefore with thy handes to sow thy seede, whether it be in the morning or in the euening: for thou knowest not whether this or that shall prosper, and if they both take, it is the better.

7 The light is sweete, and a pleasant thing is it for the eyes to loke vpon the sunne.

8 If a man liue many yeeres, and be glad in them al, let him remember the dayes of darkenesse, whiche shal be many, and that foloweth: Al thinges shalbe but vanitie.

9 Be glad then (O thou young man) in thy youth, and let thy hart be merry in thy young dayes, folow the wayes of thyne owne hart, and the lust of thyne eyes, (d) but be thou sure that God shall bring thee into iudgement for all these things.

The.xij.Chapter.

1. To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre tyl age. 7. The soule returneth to God. 12. VVisdome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him, and keeping his commaundements.

1 PVt away displeasure out of thine hart, and remoue euil from thy body: for childehood and youth is but vanitie.

2 Remember thy maker the sooner in thy youth, yer euer the dayes of aduersitie come, and yer the yeeres drawe nigh, when thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them.

3 Before the sunne, the light, the moone, and starres be darkned, and yer the clouds, turne agayne after the rayne:

4 (a) When the kepers of the house shal tremble, and when the (b) strong men shall bowe them selues, when the (c) mylners stand styll because they be so fewe, and when the (d) sight of the windowes shall wax dymme:

5 When the (e) dores in the streetes shal bee shut, and when the (f) voyce of the mylner shal be layd downe, when men shal rise vp at the voyce of (g) the byrde, and when al the (h) daughters of musycke shall bee brought lowe:

6 When men shall feare (i) in high places, and be afrayde (k) in the streetes, when the (l) Almonde tree shall flowrysshe, and be laden with the (m) grashopper, and when all lust shal passe: because man goth to his (n) long home, & the mourners goe about (o) the streets:

7 (p) Or euer the syluer lase be taken away, and or the (q) golden vyel be broken: Or the (r) potte be broken at the (s) well, and the (t) wheele broken vpon the (v) cesterne:

8 Then shall the dust be turned agayne vnto earth from whence it came, and the spirite shal returne vnto God who gaue it.

9 All is but vayne (sayth the preacher) all is but playne vanitie.

10 The preacher was yet more wise, and taught the people knowledge, he gaue good heede, sought out the ground, and set forth many parables: His diligence was to find out acceptable wordes, right scripture, and the wordes of truth.

11 For the words of the wise, are like prickes and nayles that goe through, of the (x) authours of gatherings (which) are giuen of one sheepeheard.

12 Therefore beware my son of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes, it is an endlesse worke, and to much studie weeryeth the body.

13 Let vs heare the conclusion of all thinges: Feare God, and keepe his cōmaundements, for that toucheth al mē. For God shal iudge all workes and secret thinges, whether they be good, or euil.

The ende of the booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes.

The Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The familiar talke and myſtical cõmunication of the ſpiritual loue betweene Ieſus Chriſt and his Churche. 6. The domeſticall enimies that perſecute the Churche.

1 THat (a) he would kyſſe mee with the kyſſes of his mouth: for thy loue is more plea ſant than wine, and that byndeſe of the good and pleaſaunt ſauour of thy moſt pre-tious baulmes.

a. The churche deſyreth the peace of Chriſt

2 (b) Thy name is a ſweete ſmelling oyntement when it is ſhed forth, therefore do the (c) maydens loue thee.

b. Chriſts mercie is ſet forth by preaching.
c. The maydens, that is, they that are pure in hearte.

3 Draw thou me (vnto thee) we will runne after thee. The king hath brought me into his (d) priuie chambers: Wee wil, be glad and reioyce in thee, we thinke more of thy loue than of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

d. Priuie chambers, that is, his ſecretes and miſteries.

4 (e) I am blacke (O ye daughters of Ieruſalem) but yet (f) faire and wel fauoured, like as the tentes of the Cedarenes, and as the hangynges of Solomon:

e. Blacke thorough the ſpottes of ſinne & perſecution.
f. Fayre thorough faith in the bloud of Chriſte.

5 Maruel not at me that I am ſo blacke, for why? the ſunne hathe ſhyned vpon me: my mothers children haue euil will at me, they made me the keeper of the vineyardes, but mine owne vineyard haue I not kept.

6 Tel me, O thou whom my ſoule loueth, where thou feedeſt the ſheep, where thou makeſt them reſt at the none day: for why ſhal I be like him that goeth wrong about the flockes of thy companions?

B 7 If thou know not thy ſelfe (O thou fayreſt among women) then goe thy way forth after the (g) foteſteps of the ſheepe, and feede thy goates beſide the ſhepeheardes tentes.

g. After the doctrine of the Apoſtles.

Exo. 14. c. 8 Vnto the hoſt of Pharaos charrets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

9 Thy cheekes and thy necke is beautifull as the turtles, and banged with ſpangs & goodly iewelles, a neckbande of gold wil we make thee, with ſiluer buttons.

h. So long as the church followeth Chriſt, ſhe ſhall not erre from the true fayth of ſaluation.

10 (h) When the kyng ſytteth at the table, he ſhal ſmel my Nardus: a bundel of Myrrh is my loue vnto me, hee wil lye betwixt my breaſtes: a cluſter of Camphire in the vineyardes of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

11 Oh how fayre art thou, my loue, Oh how fayre art thou? thou haſt doues eyes. Oh how faire art thou my beloued, how wel fauoured art thou?

12 Our bed is deckt with flowres, the ſeelings of our houſe are of Cedar tree, and our croſſe ioyntes of Cipreſſe.

The. ij. Chapter.

3. The Church deſyreth too reſt vnder the ſhadowe of Chriſte. 8. She heareth his voyce. 14. She is compared to the doue. 15. And the enimies to the foxes.

1 I Am the roſe of the feelde, and lillie of the valleys.

2 (a) As the Lyllie among the thornes: ſo is my loue among the daughters.

3 (b) Like as the apple tree among the trees of the woodde: ſo is my beloued among the ſonnes.

4 My delight is to ſyt vnder his ſhadowe, for (c) his fruite is ſweete vnto my throte.

5 He bringeth me into his wine celler, his baner ſpreade ouer me, which is his loue.

6 Set about me cuppes of wine, comfort me with apples, for I am ſycke of loue.

7 His leafte hand lyeth vnder myne head, and his right hande ſhall embrace me.

8 (d) I charge you (O ye daughters of Ieruſalem) by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touche hir, tyl ſhe be content hir ſelfe.

9 Me thinke I heare the voyce of my beloued: Loe, there commeth he hoppyng vpon the mountaines, and leaping ouer the little hilles.

10 My beloued is like a Roe, or a young Hart: behold, he ſtandeth behind (e) our wal, he loketh in (f) at the windowe, and peepeth through the grate.

11 My beloued anſwered, and ſayde vnto me, O ſtande vp my loue, my beautifull, and go to thine owne: (g) for loe the winter is nowe paſt, the rayne is away and gone.

12 (h) The flowres are come vp in the feelde, the time of the vyndes ſinging is come, & the (i) voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our land.

13 The fig tree bringeth forth hir figs and the vines beare bloſſomes, and haue a good ſmel.

14 O ſtande vp then, and come my loue, my beautiful, (and come I ſay) O my doue, out of the caues of the rockes, out of the holes of the wall, O let me ſee thy countenaunce, and heare thy voyce: for ſweete is thy voyce, and fayre is thy face.

15 Get vs (k) the foxes, yea the little foxes that hurt the vines: for our vines beare bloſſomes.

16 My loue is myne, and I am his, whiche feedeth among the lilies vntil the day breake, and til the ſhadowes be gone:

17 (l) Come againe, O my beloued, and be like as a Roe, or a young Harte vpon the wyde mountaynes.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. The Churche deſyreth to be ioyned inſeparably to Chriſt hir husbande. 6. Hir deliuerance out of the wylderneſſe.

1 BY (a) nyght in my bedde I ſought him whom my ſoule loueth: yea diligently ſought I him, but I found him not.

2 I wil get vp (thought I) (b) and goe about the citie, in the wayes in al the ſtreetes will I ſeeke him whome my ſoule loueth: but when I ſought him, I found him not.

3 The watchemen alſo that goe about the citie, founde me (to whome I ſayd) Sawe ye not him whom my ſoule loueth?

4 So whē I was a little paſt them, I found him whom my ſoule loueth: I haue gotten hold vpon him, and wil not let him goe, vntil I bring him into my mothers houſe, and into hir chamber that bare me.

5 I charge you, O yee daughters of Ieruſalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the fielde, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touche hir, till ſhe be content hir ſelfe.

6 Who is this that commeth vp out (c) of the wylderneſſe like vapours of ſmoke, as it were a ſmell of Myrrhe, Frankincenſe, and al maner ſpices of the Apothecarie?

7 Beholde, about (d) Solomons bedſtrede there ſtande threeſcore valiant, of the moſte mightie in Iſrael: They hold ſwords euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 (e) Euery man alſo hath his ſworde vpon his thygh, bycauſe of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made him ſelfe a pallace of the wood of Libanus, the pyllers are of ſiluer, the couering of golde, the ſeate of purple, the ground is pleaſantly paued with loue, for the daughters of Ieruſalem.

10 Goe forth (f) (O ye daughters of Sion) and beholde king Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his maryage, and in the day of the gladneſſe of his hart.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. The praiſes of the Churche. 7. She is without blemiſh in his ſight. 9. The loue of Chriſt towarde hir.

1 HOw (a) fayre art thou my loue, howe fayre art thou? thou haſt (b) doues eies, beſide that which lyeth hyd within: (c) Thy heayre lockes are lyke the wool of a flocke of Goates that be ſhowne vpon mount Eilead. A

a. Chriſt praiſeth his church wherin he hath great delight. b. A ſimple faith & ſincere c. The frutes of a true faith.

2 (d) Thy teeth, are like a flocke (of ſheepe) of the ſame bygneſſe whiche went vp from the waſhyng place, where euery one beareth two twynnes, and not one vnfruiteful among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a Roſe coloured riband, thy wordes are louely, thy cheekes are like a peece of a Pomegranate within thine heares.

d. By the teeth is ſignified faithe, by the whiche we are all made the ſonnes of God equally.

4 (e) Thy necke is like the towre of Dauid, buylded with coſtly ſtones, lying out on the ſydes, whereupon there hang a thouſande ſhieldes: yea al the weapons of the giaunts.

e. By the necke are ſignified the preachers.

5 (f) Thy two breſtes are like two twinnes of young Roes, which feede among roſes.

f. The two breſtes ſignifie the two teſtamentes.

6 O that I might goe to the mountayne of Myrrhe, and to the hyl of Frankincenſe tyll the day breake, and till the ſhadowes be paſt away. B

7 Thou art all fayre (O my loue) and no ſpot is there in thee.

8 Come to me from Libanus (O my ſpouſe) come to me from Libanus: looke from the toppe of Amana, from the toppe of Sanir & Hermon, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaynes of Leopardes.

9 Thou haſt (with loue) bewitched my hart, O my ſyſter, my ſpouſe, thou haſt bewitched my hart with one of thine eyes, and with one chayne of thy necke.

10 O howe fayre are thy breaſtes, my ſiſter, my ſpouſe? Thy breſtes are more pleaſaunt than wine, and the ſmel of thine oyntmentes paſſeth al ſpices.

11 (g) Thy lippes, O my ſpouſe, drop as the hony combe, yea milke and hony is vnder thy tong, & the ſmel of thy garments is like the ſmel of Libanus.

g. The preaching of the Goſpel, bringeth foorthe muche conſolatiō and profite.

12 (h) A garden well locked is my ſyſter, my ſpouſe: a gardē wel locked, and a ſealed wel.

h. The Church is defended by Chriſt.

13 The fruites that are planted in thee, are like a very paradiſe of Pomegranates with ſweete fruites, as Camphire, Nardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Sinamom, with all ſweete ſmelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and al the beſt ſpices, a well of gardens, a well of liuing waters, whiche runne downe from Libanus.

f. He prayeth for the grace of the holye Ghost, towarde the Churche, without the which nothīg can prosper in it.

14 (f) Vp ꝑ North wind, come thou South winde and blow vpon my garden, that the smel therof may be caried on euery side: yea that my beloued may come into his garden, and eate of ẏ sweete fruits (that grow therin.)

The.v. Chapter.

1. Christ calleth his Churche to the participation of al his treasures. 2. She heareth his voice. 6. She confesseth hir nakednesse. 10. She prayseth Christ hir husbande.

A 1 I Am (a) come into my garden O my Sister, my spouse, I haue gathered my myrre with my spice: I haue eatē hony with my hony combe, I haue dronken my wine with my milke: Eate, O ye friendes, drinke and be mery, O ye beloued.

a. The gardin signifieth the church of God in the whiche Christe bestoweth his singular benefits

2 I am a sleepe, but my hart is wakyng: I heare the voyce of my beloued whē he knocketh, saying, Open to me, O my sister, my loue, my doue, my darlyng: for my heade is ful of deawe, and the lockes of my heare are ful of the night droppes.

3 I haue put of my coate, howe can I do it on agayne? I haue washed my feete, howe shal I syle them agayne?

4 My loue put in his hand at the hole, and my hart was moued within me.

5 I stode vp to open vnto my beloued, and my handes dropped with Myrre, and the Myrre ran down my fingers vpon the locks.

6 I opened vnto my beloued, but he was departed, and gone his way: Nowe when hee spake, my hart was gon: (b) I sought him, but I coulde not fynde him: I cryed vpon him, neuertheless he gaue me no aunswere.

b. Christ doth leaue his for a tyme, for that he woulde stir vp in them a greater desire of him.

7 So the watchmen that went about the citie, founde me, smote me, and wounded me: yea they that kept the walles toke away my kercheffe from me.

B 8 I charge you therefore, O ye daughters of Ierusalem, if yee finde my beloued, that yee tell him howe that I am sicke for loue.

9 What manner of man is thy loue aboue other louers, O thou fairest among women? Or what can thy loue doe more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so straitly?

10 As for my loue, he is whyte and redde coloured, a (c) goodly person amōg ten thousād.

c. The churche setteth forth Christ to be of most perfectiō and comlines.

11 His head is as the most fyne gold, the lockes of his heare are bushed, and blacke as a crowe.

12 His eyes are the eyes of doues by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, and are set like pearles in gold.

*Some reade and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bed, wherein the Apothecaries plante all maner of sweete things.

14 His lyppes are lyke Lillyes that droppe sweete smelling Myrre: his handes are like golde rings, hauyng inclosed the precious stone of Tharsis.

15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, decked ouer with Saphires: his legges are as the pillers of Marble set vpon sockets of golde.

16 His face is as Libanus: and as the beautie of the Cedar trees.

17 The wordes of his mouth are sweete, yea he is altogether louely: such a one is my loue, O ye daughters of Ierusalem, such a one is my loue.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. The Churche assureth hir selfe of the loue of Christ. 3. The prayses of the Churche. 8. She is but one, and vndefyled.

1 WHither is ty loue gone then, O thou fayrest among women? whyther is thy loue departed, & wee wil seeke him wt thee?

2 (a) My loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweete smelling bedds, that he may refreshe him selfe in the garden, and gather Lillies.

a. Christ wel taught is a louer of his

3 My loue is myne, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lillies.

4 Thou art beautifull, O my loue, as is (the place) Thirza, thou art fayre as Ierusalem, feareful as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes from me, for they haue* set me on fyre: thy heaire locks are like a flocke of goates shorne vpon the mount of Gilead.

* Or, ouercome me.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shorne sheepe which go out of the washing place, where euery one beareth twynnes, and not one vnfruitfull among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a peece of a pomegranate within the lockes of heare.

8 (b) There are threescore queenes, fourescore wiues, and damsels without number.

b. The mans Church God is ordeined gyues the Diuine church makes one Christ Church.

9 (c) One is my doue, one is my darling: she is the onely beloued of hir mother, and deare vnto hir that bare hir: when the daughters saw hir, they sayde shee was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praysed hir.

10 What is she this that looketh forth as the morning, fayre as the moone, cleare as the sunne, and fearefull as an armie of men with their banners?

11 (d) I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grewe by the brookes, and to loke if the vineyard flourished, or if the pomegranates were not forth.

d. Christ seeketh the Church

12 I knew not that my soule had made me the chariot of ẏ people that be vnder tribute.

13 Turne agayne, turne agayne, O thou perfect one, turne agayne, turne agayne, and we wee wyll lowke vpon thee: what will ye see in the (e) Sulamite? She is lyke men of war singing in a companie.

The.vij.Chapter.

1. The beautie of the Churche in all hir members. 10. She is assured of Christes loue towards hir.

1 O How pleasaunt are thy treadings with thy shoes, thou princes daughter? the ioyntes of thy thighes are like a faire iewel, which is wrought by a cũning workmaster.

2 Thy (a) nauel is like a round goblet, which is neuer without drinke.

3 Thy (b) wombe is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lillies.

4 (c) Thy two breastes are like two twinnes of young Roes.

5 (d) Thy necke is as it were a towre of Ivorie: thyne (e) eyes also are lyke the water powles that are in Hesebon, beyde the port of Bathrabbim, thy (f) nose is lyke the towre Libanus, which loketh toward Damascus.

6 (g) That heade that standeth vpon thee is lyke Carmel: and the heare of thy head is lyke purple, and lyke a king dwelling among many water conduites.

7 O how fayre and louely art thou my darling in pleasures?

8 Thy stature is like a (h) paulme tree, and thy breastes lyke the grapes.

9 I sayd, I will climbe vp into the Paulme tree, and take hold of his high branches.

10 (i) Thy breastes also shal bee as the wine clusters, the smel of thy nosethyrilles like as the smel of apples, 11 And the roofe of thy mouth like the beste wine, whiche is meete for my best beloued, pleasant for his lips, & for his teeth to chawe.

12 I am my beloueds, and he shal turne him vnto me.

13 O come on my loue, we will goe forthinto ỹ field, & take our lodging in the villages.

14 (k) In the morning will we goe see the vineyarde, we wil see if the vine be sprong forth, if the grapes bee growen, and if the pomegranates be shot out.

15 (l) There wil I giue thee my breastes: the Mandragoras giue their sweete smell, and beside our dores are all maner of pleasant fruites both new and old, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloued.

The.viij.Chapter.

1. The churche will be taught by Christ. 3. She is vpholden by him. 16. The vehement loue wherwith Christ loueth hir. 11. She is the vine that bringeth foorth fruite too the spirituall Solomon, which is Iesus Christ.

1 G That (a) I might finde thee without, and kisse thee, whom I loue as my brother whiche suckt my mothers breastes, and that thou shalt not be despised,

2 I will leade thee, and bring thee into my mothers houses, that thou mightest teache me and that I might giue thee drinke of the spiced wine, and of the sweete iap of my pomegranates.

3 His (b) left hande shall be vnder my heade, and his right hand shal imbrace me.

4 I charge you, O ye daughters of Ierusalem, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch hir, tyl she be content hir selfe.

5 (What is she this that cõmeth vp from the wildernesse, and leaneth vpon hir loue?) I wake thee vp among the apple trees where thy mother conceiued thee, where thy mother (I say) brought thee into the world.

6 (c) O set me as a seale vpon thine heart, and as a seale vpon thine arme: for loue is mightie as the deathe, and gelousie as the hel.

7 Hir coales are coales of fyre, and a very vehement flambe (of the Lorde:) so that many waters are not able to quench loue, neyther may the streames drowne it: yea if a man would giue all the good of his house for loue, he should count it nothing.

8 (d) Our sister is but young and hath no breastes: what shall we do for our syster when she shalbe spoken for?

9 (e) If she be a wal, we shal buylde a siluer bulwarke therupon: if she bee a doore, wee shal fasten hir with bordes of Cedar tree.

10 I am a wal, and my breasts like towres: then was I as one that hath founde fauour in his sight.

11 Solomon hath a vineyarde at Baalhamon: and this vineyard deliuered hee vnto the keepers, that euery one for the fruite therof shoulde giue him a thousand peeces of siluer.

12 My vineyarde whiche is myne, is in my sight: thou (O Solomon) must haue a (f) thousande, and the keeper two hundred, which keepe the fruite.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, (g) O let me heare thy voyce, that my companions may harken to the same.

14 (h) O get thee away my loue, and be as a Roe or a young hart vpon the sweete smelling mountaynes.

The booke of the Prophet Esai.

¶ The first Chapter.

2. The prophet accuseth the sinnes of the people, namely of ingratefulnesse, stubbornesse, 11. faythlesse seruice of God, 14. and sheweth Gods terrible iudgement against them, vnlesse they repent.

a. A reuelation, or prophecie.

THe (a) vision of Esai the sonne of Amos, which hee sawe vpon Juda and Jerusalem, in the dayes of Uzia & Joathan, Achaz and Jehezekiah, kings of Juda.

2 Heare, O heauens, and harken, O earth: for the Lorde hath spoken, I haue nourished and brought vp children, and they haue done vnfaythfully against me.

3 The Oxe hath knowen his owner, and the Asse his maisters cribbe: (but) Israel hath not knowen, my people hath giuen no heed.

4 Ah, sinneful nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lord, they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel vnto anger, they are gone backwarde.

5 Why should ye be striken any more? (for) ye are euer falling away: euery head is diseased, and euery heart heauie:

6 Fro the sole of the foote, vnto the head, there is nothing sounde in it: (but) woundes, blaynes, and putrifying sores: they haue not bin salued, neither wrapped vp, neither mollified with the oyntment.

B 7 Your land is wasted, your cities are burnt vp, straungers deuoure your land before your face, and it is made desolate, as it were the destruction of enimies (in the time of warre)

8 And the daughter of Sion shall be left as a cotage in a vineyarde, lyke a lodge in a garden of Cucumbers, like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lorde of hostes had left vs a smal remnaunt, we should haue bin as Sodoma, and like vnto Gomorra.

10 Heare the worde of the Lorde ye lords of Sodoma, and hearken vnto the lawe of our God, thou people of Gomorra.

b. God hateth al maner of seruice and workes seeme they neuer so good and holy, when they be done without faith, and pure nesse of mind.

11 Why offer ye so many sacrifices to me, wil the Lorde say? I am full of the burnt offerings of weathers, and of the fatnesse of fed beastes, (b) I haue no pleasure in the bloud of bullockes, lambes, and goates.

12 When ye come to appeare before me, treading in my courtes, who hath required this at your handes?

13 Offer me no mo oblations, for it is but lost labour: incense is an abominable thing vnto me, I may not away with your newe moones, your sabbothes and solemne meetings, your solemne assemblies are wicked.

14 I hate your newe moones, and appointed feastes, euen from my very hart, they make me weery, I can not abyde them.

15 When you holde out your handes, I will turne myne eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, yet I wil heare nothing at al, seeing your hands are ful of blond.

16 Washe you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughtes out of my sight: ceasse from doing of euil.

17 Learne to do wel, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, helpe the fatherlesse to his right, let the wyddowes complaint come before you:

18 And then goe to, sayth the Lorde, Let vs talke together: though your sinnes be as red as scarlet, they shal be as white as snow: and though they were like purple, they shal be as whyte as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shal eate the good of the lande:

20 But if ye be obstinate and rebellious, ye shal bee deuoured with the swoorde: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken (it.)

D 21 How happeneth it then that the righteous citie which was full of equitie, is become vnfaythful as a whore? Righteousnesse dwelt in it, but nowe murderers.

22 Thy syluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are wicked, and companions of theeues: they loue giftes altogether, and gape for rewardes: As for the fatherlesse they helpe him not to his right, neyther will they lette the wyddowes caules come before them.

24 Therefore sayth the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel: Ah, I must take me of mine enimies, and auenge me of mine aduersaries:

25 And I shall laye my hand vpon thee, and purely purge awaye thy drosse, and take away al thy tinne:

26 And

26 And set the iudges agayne as they were sometimes, and thy senatours as they were from the beginning: and then thou shalt bee called the righteous citie, the faithfull citie.
27 Sion shall be redemed with equitie, and hir conuertes with righteousnesse.
28 But the transgressours, and the vngodly, and suche as forsake the Lorde, shal altogither be vtterly destroyed.
29 For yee shal bee confounded for the trees whiche yee haue desyred: and ye shal be ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.
30 For ye shall be as a tree whose leaues are fallen away, and as a garden that hathe no moysture.
31 And the very strong one (of your idols) shal be as towe, and the maker of it as a sparke (of fire) and they shall both burne togither, and no man quenche them.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. A prophecie of Christe and his kingdome. 12. pryde, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17. Gods terrible iudgemēt against these.

1 The selfe same word that Esai the sonne of Amos sawe vpon Juda and Jerusalem.
2 And (this) shall come to passe in the latter dayes: the hyll of the Lords house (a) shalbe prepared in the heigth of the mountayns, and shalbe higher than the hilles, and all nations shall preace vnto him.
3 And a multitude of people shall goe, speaking (thus one to another) Come, let vs ascende to the hill of the Lorde, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will instruct vs of his wayes, and we wil walke in his pathes: for out of Sion shall come a lawe, and the word of the Lorde from Jerusalem.
4 And shall giue sentence among the Heathen, and shall reforme the multitude of people: they shall breake their swordes also into mattockes, and their speares to make sythes: and one people shall not lyft vp a weapon againste another, neyther shal they learne to fight from thencefoorth.
5 Come yee, O house of Jacob, and let vs walke in the light of the Lorde:
6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, (b) bycause they bee replenished (with euils) from the East, and with sorcerers like the Philistines, and in straunge childzen they thinke themselues to haue ynough.
7 Their land is full of syluer and gold, neyther is there any end of theyr treasure: their land is also ful of horses, and no end is there of their charrettes.
8 Their lande also is full of vayne goddes, and before the worke of their owne handes they haue bowed them selues, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.
9 There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man downe (before them) therefore forgiue them not.
10 Get thee into the rocke, and hyde thee in the ground, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie.
11 The high lookes of man shall be brought lowe, and the hautynesse of men shall bee bowed downe: and the Lorde alone shal bee exalted in that day.
12 For the day of the Lorde of hostes (shal be) vpon all the proude, loftie, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shalbe brought low:
13 And vpon all high and stoute Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the okes of Basan, 14 And vpon all the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hilles.
15 And vpon euery hygh towre, and vpon euery fenced wall,
16 And vpon all the shippes of Tharsis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.
17 And the pryde of mā shal be brought down and the loftynesse of men shall bee made lowe, and the Lorde alone shal be exalted in that day:
18 As for the idols he shal vtterly abolish:
19 And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie, whē he ariseth to destroy (the wicked ones of) the earth.
20 In the selfe same day shal man cast away his goddes of syluer, and his goddes of gold into the holes of Mowles and Backes, which he neuertheless had made to him selfe to honour them.
21 And they shall creepe into the clyftes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the hard stones for feare of the Lorde, and for the glorie of his maiestie, when he aryseth to destroy (the wicked ones of) the earth.
22 Ceasse therefore from man in whose nosethrilles there is breath: for wherein is he to be accompted of?

The.iij. Chapter.

1. The mischiefes that God sendeth on common weales for the contempt of his worde. 14. The couetousnesse of rulers reproued. 16. The proude niceneſse of women punished to their shame.

1 For loe, the Lorde God of hostes doth take away from Jerusalem and Juda all manner of staye, all staye of meate and drinke.

2. The prudent that is, such as can foresee by their prudecie. things to come

2 The captaine and the souldiour, the iudge and the prophet, the (a) prudent and the aged man.
3 The captayne of fyftie, and the honorable, the senatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent oratour.
4 And I shall giue children to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them,
5 And the people shall eche one of them violently oppresse another, and euery one against his neyghbour: the boy shal presume against the elder, and the persone of lowe degree against the honourable.
6 Yea one shall take a friende of his owne kynred by the bosome, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our head, and stay this ruine with thy hande.
B 7 Then shall he sweare, and say, I can not helpe you: there is neyther meat nor clothing in my house, make me no ruler of the people.
8 For Jerusalem and Juda must decay, because that both their wordes and counsayles are against the Lord, to prouoke the presence of his maiestie to anger.
9 Their very countenaunce bewrayeth them, yea they declare their owne sinnes (them selues) as Sodome, they hide it not: Wo be to their owne soules, for they haue rewarded euyll vnto them selues.
10 Say to the righteous that it shal go well with them: for they shal eat the fruite of their owne studies, 11 (But) wo be vnto the wicked, for it shalbe euil with him: for he shal be rewarded after his owne workes.
12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy foteseppes.
13 The Lorde is here to commune of the matter, and standeth to iudge the people.
C 14 The Lorde shall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, (and shal say to them) It is ye that haue burnt vp my vineyarde, the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.
15 What meane ye that ye bray (as in a morter) my people, and grynde the faces of the poore, sayth the Lord God of hostes?
16 Moreouer the Lorde hath sayde, Seeyng the daughters of Sion are waxen proude, and walke with stretched forth neckes, and wanton lookes, going and tripping nicely, and tinckling with their feete:
17 Therfore shall the Lorde shaue the heads of the daughters of Sion, and shal discouer their fylthynesse.
18 In that day shall the Lord take away the gorgeousnesse of the attyre about their feete, and the caules, and the round tyres (after the fashion of the moone,) 19 The sweete perfumes, and the bracelets, and the mussiers, 20 The bonets, and the slops, and the headbandes, and the tablets, and the earrings.
21 And rings, and nose iewels:
22 The costly apparell, and the vayles, and the wimples, and the crispyng pinnes,
23 And the glasses, and the fyne linnen, and the hoodes, and the lawnes.
24 And in steede of good smell, there shall bee stincke, and in steede of their girdle, a rent, and for wel set heare, there shal be baldnesse, in steede of a stomacher, a sackclothe, and (sunne) burning for beautie.
25 Thy men shall perish with the sword, and thy valiant souldiours in the battaile (O Ierusalem,) 26 And hir gates shal mourne and bewayle: and she being desolate, shall sitte vpon the grounde.

(a) In that day shal the budde of the Lorde be beautiful & glorious, and the fruite of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant, for them that are escaped of Israel.
3 Then shal the remnaunt in Sion, and the remnaunt at Ierusalem bee called holy: (namely) all suche as are written among the liuing in Jerusalem,
4 (b) After that the Lord hath washt away the fylthynesse of the daughters of Sion, and hath purged the bloud out from Ierusalem in the spirite of iudgement, and in the spirit of fyre.
5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hilles of Sion, and vpon hir congregatiõs, the Lord shal create a cloude and smoke by day, and the shyning of a flamyng fyre by night: for all the (c) glory shalbe preserued.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Of Christ & his vineyard. 8. with an execratiō of couetousnesse, 11. drunkēnesse, 19. and contempt of Gods word.

1 NOw wil I sing my beloued friende, a song of my friende touching his vineyarde: My beloued friende hath a vineyard in a very fruitefull plenteous grounde.

2 This he hedged, & gathered out the stones, from it, and planted it with the choysest vine: In the middest of it buylded he a towre, also made a wyne presse therein: (a) and he loked that it shoulde bring him grapes, and it brought forth wylde grapes.

3 Nowe, O citizen of Jerusalem: and man of Juda, iudge, I praye thee, betwixt mee and my vineyarde:

4 What more coulde haue bin done for it that I haue not done? Wherfore then hath it giuen wylde grapes, where I loked to haue had grapes of it?

5 Wel, nowe I shal tell you how I wil do with my vineyarde: I will take the hedge from it, that it may perish, and breake down the wal thereof, that it may be troden vnder foote.

6 I will lay it waste, it shall neyther be digged nor cut, but beare thornes and bryers: I will also forbyd the cloudes that they shal not rayne vpon it.

B 7 As for the vineyarde of the Lord of hostes, it is the house of Israel, and the man of Juda, the plante of his pleasures: of these hee loked for equitie, but see, there is oppressiō for righteousnesse, and loe, it is a crying.

8 Wo vnto them that ioyne one house to another, and bring one lande so nygh vnto another, that there is no more place: Wyll yee bee placed alone in the myddest of the earth?

9 These thinges are in the eares of the Lorde of hostes: of a truthe greate and fayre houses shalbe without any dweller in them.

10 And ten acres of vines shal giue but a quart, and thirtie bushels of seede shal giue but an Epha.

11 Wo be vnto them that rise vp early to followe drunkennesse, continuyng vntil night, till they be set on fyre with wine.

12 In their feasties are harpes and Lutes, Tabrettes and Pipes, and wine: but they regarde not the worke of the Lord, and consider not the operation of his handes.

13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiuitie, bycause they haue no vnderstanding: (b) their glorie is famished with hunger, and their multitude dryed vp with thirst.

14 Therefore gapeth hell, and openeth hir C mouth maruellous wide, that their glorie, multitude, and wealth, with suche as reioyce in hir, may descende into it.

15 Thus bathe man a fall, and is brought lowe, and the high loke of ỹ proude shalbe layde downe.

16 But the Lorde of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is sanctified in righteousnesse.

17 Then shall the sheepe eate as they were wont, and the riche mens landes that were layde wast, shall straungers deuour.

18 Wo be vnto them that drawe wickednesse with cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as it were with a cart rope:

19 Whiche vse to speake on this manner, Let him make speede and hasten his worke, that we may see it: let the counsell of the holy one of Israel come, and draw nigh, that we may knowe it.

20 Wo be vnto them that cal euyl good, and good euyl, whiche make darkenesse light, and light darkenesse, that make sowre sweete, and sweete sowre.

21 Wo bee vnto them that are wise in their D owne sight, and thinke themselues to haue vnderstanding.

22 Wo bee vnto them that are strong to supp out wyne, & expert mē to set vp drunkennes.

23 Wo be vnto them that giue sentence with the vngodly for rewardes, but condemne the iust cause of the righteous.

24 Therfore like as fyre licketh vpō ỹ straw, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: euen so their rote shal be a corruption, & their blossome shall vanishe away like dust: for they haue cast away the lawe of the Lord of hostes, and despised the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled againste his people, and hathe stretched forth his hand vpon them, yea he hath smitten them: and the hylles did tremble, and their carkases dyd lye torne in the open streetes: and in al this the wrath of God hath not ceassed, but his hand stretched out still.

26 And he shall giue a token to a people of a far countrey, and shal hisse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and beholde they shall come hastily with speede.

27 There shal not be one faynte nor feeble among them, no not a sluggishe nor sleepie persone: there shall not one of them put off his girdle fro his loynes, nor lowse the latchet of his shoe.

28 His arrowes are sharpe, and al his bowes E bent: his horse hookes are as flint, & his cart wheeles like a whirle winde.

29 His crye is as it were of a Lion, and hee roareth lyke Lions whelpes: they ſhall roare and hauntche vpon the praye, and no man ſhall recouer it, nor get it from them

c. The land of Iuda ſhal be ouerwhelmed with miſerable affliction.

30 In that day he ſhal be ſo fierce vpon hym as the raging of the ſea: then one ſhal behold the (c) lande, and loe darkenneſſe and ſorow, & the light is darkened in the heauens therof.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Eſai ſawe the glorie of the Lord. 9. And was ſent to prophecie the deſolation of Iurie.

A 1 IN the yeere that king Oziah dyed, I ſaw alſo the Lord ſitting vpon an high and glorious ſeate, and his trayne fylled the temple.

2 And about him ſtode Seraphims, whereof one had ſixe wings, & twayn eche couered his face, & twayn his feet, & & twain did he flee.

3 They cryed alſo eche one to another on this manner, Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hoſtes: the whole earth is ful of his glorie.

4 And the lintels of the dore cheekes moued at his crying, & the houſe was ful of ſmoke.

5 Then ſayde I, Wo is me, for I am loſt, in as muche as I am a man of vncleane lips, & dwell among people that hath vncleane lippes alſo: for myne eyes haue ſeene the king, ỳ Lord of hoſtes.

6 Then flewe one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot coale in his hande, whiche hee had taken from the aulter with the tongs,

B 7 And layde it vpon my mouthe, and ſayde, Loe, (this) hath touched thy (a) lippes, and thine vnrighteouſneſſe ſhal be taken away, and thy ſinne forgiuen.

a. Gods ſacraments are not bare ſignes, but with the ſigne and the word, the matter ſignified, is exhibited to the faithful.

8 Alſo I hearde the voyce of the Lorde on this manner: Whom ſhal I ſende, and who will be our meſſenger? Then I ſayde, Here am I, ſend me.

9 And he ſayde, Goe and tell this people: heare in deede, yet vnderſtande not, ye ſhall playnely ſee, and yet perceiue not.

10 Harden the harte of this people, ſtop their eares, and ſhut their eyes: leſt they ſee with their eyes, heare with their eares, and vnderſtande with their hartes, and conuert, and be healed.

11 Then ſpake I, Lorde, how long? He anſwered, Untill the cities bee vtterly walted without inhabiters, and the houſes without men, & tyll the lande alſo be vtterly deſolate.

12 For the Lorde ſhall put the men farre away, and (there ſhal be) greate walte in the middeſt of the land.

13 Yet in it ſhall ſucceede ten kinges, and it ſhall returne, and bee afterwarde walted: (but) as the Teyle tree and the Oke in ỳ fal of their leaues haue yet the ſap remayning in them, (euen ſo) the holy ſeede ſhal be the ſtay thereof.

The.vij. Chapter.

1 The Syrians moue battayle againſt Ieruſalem. 14. A virgine ſhal beare a childe.

1 IT happened in the time of Ihaz the ſonne of Iotham, whiche was the ſonne of Uziah king of Iuda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pecah the ſonne of Romelich king of Iſrael, wente vp toward Ieruſalem to beſiege it: but Razin was not able to winne it.

2 Nowe when the (a) houſe of Dauid heard woorde thereof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his harte quaked, yea and the hartes alſo of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are moued with the winde.

a. Dauid here is put for the whole kingdome.

3 Then ſayde God vnto Eſay, Goe meete Ihaz, thou and thy ſonne Sear Iaſub, at the head of the ouer poole in the cawſeyath by the Fullers ground,

4 And ſay vnto him, Take heede to thy ſelfe, and be ſtyll, feare not, neither be faynt harted, for theſe two tayles, that is, for theſe two ſmoking fyre brandes, the wrath and furiouſneſſe of Razin the Syrian, and Romelies ſonne.

5 Becauſe that the Syrian, Ephraim, & Romelies ſon haue wickedly conſpired againſt thee,

6 Saying, Wee will goe vp againſt Iuda, vexe them, and bring them vnder vs, and ſet a king there, euen the ſonne of Tabel:

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lord God therto, It ſhall not ſo goe forth, neyther ſo come to paſſe.

8 For the heade citie of the Syrians is Damaſcus, but the heade of Damaſcus is Razin: and after threeſcore and fiue yeeres ſhall Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but ỳ head of Samaria is Romelies ſon: if ye beleeue not, ſurely ye ſhall not be eſtabliſhed.

10 Moreouer, God ſpake againe vnto Ihaz, ſaying:

11 Require to thy ſelfe a token of the Lorde thy God, whether it bee toward the deapth beneath, or toward the heygth aboue.

12 Then ſayd Ihaz, I will require none, neither wil I tempte the Lorde.

13 The prophet anſwered, Then heare ye of the houſe of Dauid: Is it not ynough for you that ye be greeuous vnto menne, but ye ye muſt greeue my God alſo?

C 14 Therefore the Lorde him ſelfe ſhall giue you a token: behold, a virgine ſhal conceiue and beare a ſonne, and ſhall call his name Emmanuel.

15 Butter and hony ſhall hee eate, vntyll he knowe to refuſe the euil, and chooſe the good.

16 For or euer the child come to knowledge to eſchewe the euill, and chooſe the good, the land that thou ſo abhorreſt, ſhal be deſolate of both hir kings.

17 The Lorde alſo ſhall ſende a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers houſe, ſuche as neuer came ſince the tyme that Ephraim departed from Juda, namely through the king of the Aſſyrians.

18 For at the ſame tyme ſhall the Lorde hiſſe for the flyes that are about the water of Egypte, and for the bees in the Aſſirians land:

19 Theſe ſhall come, and ſhall light al in the deſolate valleys, in the holes of ſtones, and vpon all thornie and buſhie places.

20 At the ſame time ſhal the Lorde ſhaue the (b) heare of the head, and the feete, and the beарde cleane off, with the raſer that he ſhall hyre beyonde the waters, namely with the king of Aſſyrians.

21 At the ſame time ſhall a man nouriſhe a young Cowe, and two ſheepe.

D 22 Then beeauſe of the abundance of milke that they giue, he ſhal eate butter: ſo that euery one whiche remayneth in the land, ſhal eate butter and honey.

23 At the ſame tyme all vineyardes, wherein there ſhal be a thouſand vines, worth a thouſande ſyluerlings, ſhall be turned to byers and thornes.

24 They ſhall come into the lande with arrowes and bowes, beeauſe all the lande ſhal become byers and thornes.

25 As for all hylles that ſhal be digged with the mattocke, there ſhal not come vpon them any feare of byers and thornes: but the cattell ſhall bee dryuen thither, and the ſheepe ſhall feede there.

The.viij. Chapter.

8. The deliueraunce of the lande by Emmanuel. 14. The ſtone of offence, at which many ſhal ſtumble.

1 MOreouer, the Lorde ſayde vnto mee, Take thee a great roule, and write in it as men do with a pen: Make haſtie ſpeede to rob, and haſt to the ſpoyle.

2 And I called vnto me faithful witneſſes to record, Uriah the prieſt, and Zachariah the ſonne of Barachiah.

3 After that went I vnto the prophetiſſe, and ſhe conceiued and bare a ſonne: then ſayde the Lorde to me, Giue him his name, a ſpeedy robber, an haſtie ſpoyler.

4 For why? or euer the chylde ſhall haue knowledge to crye my father and mother, ſhal the riches of Damaſcus, and the ſpoyle of Samaria, be taken away before the king of the Aſſyrians.

5 The Lorde ſpake alſo vnto me againe, ſaying.

6 Forſomuche as the people refuſeth the ſtyll running water of Silo, & put their delight in Razin and Romelies ſonne:

7 Beholde, the Lord ſhall bring mightie and great flouddes of water vpon them, namely the king of the Aſſyrians with al his power, whiche ſhal climbe vp vpon all his floudes, and run ouer al his bankes. B

8 And ſhall breake in vpon Juda, hee ſhall flowe and paſſe through, tyll he come vp to the necke therof: he ſhal fyl alſo the wideneſs of thy lande wt his winges, O Emmanuel.

9 Breake downe, O ye people, (a) and ye ſhall be broken downe, hearken to all ye of farre countreys: muſter you, and you ſhal be broken downe, prepare you, and you ſhal bee torne in peeces.

a. Mans policie and deuice without God preuayleth not 10 Take your counſel together, yet ſhal your counſel come to nought: determine the matter, yet ſhall it not proſper: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord ſpake thus to me in a mightie propheſie, (b) and warned mee that I ſhould not walke in the way of this people, ſaying:

b. Affiance is to be put in God, and not in mans policie or helpe.

12 Ye ſhal not ſpeake (words) of conſpiracy in al thinges, when this people ſhall ſay conſpiracie: feare them not, neyther be afrayde of them.

13 But ſanctifie the Lord of hoſtes let him be your feare and dread.

14 For he ſhalbe the holy place to flee to, and ſtone to ſtumble at, the rocke to fall vpon, a ſnare and net to both the houſes of Iſrael, and the inhabiters of Jeruſalem: C

15 And many among them ſhall ſtumble, and fall, and be broken, yea they ſhal be ſnared and taken.

16 Bind vp the teſtimonie, ſeale the lawe in my diſciples.

17 (c) And I wil wayte vpon the Lorde that hydeth his face from the houſe of Jacob, and I wil looke for him.

c. The works of Chriſt.

18 But loe, as for me, and the children which the Lord hath giuen me, we are to be a token and a wonder in Iſrael from the Lorde of hoſtes, whiche dwelleth vpon the hyll of Sion.

19 And if they say vnto you, Aske counsell at the sothsayers, wytches, charmers, and coniurers: (then make them this aunswere) Is there a people any where that asketh not counsell at his God? should men runne vnto the deade for the liuing?

n. We must seeke in Gods word what to folow, for in meanes without gods word there is no lyght.

20 Get thee to the law, (d) and the testimonie: and if they speake not after this word, there is no light in them.

21 And they shall wander through this land hardly bestrade and hungry, and when they suffer hunger, they will bee out of pacience, and curse their king and their God, and shall looke vpwarde and downeward to the earth:

22 And beholde there is trouble and darkenesse, dymnesse is rounde about him, and he shalbe driuen into darkenesse.

23 Neuertheless, the darkenesse shal not bee such as was in hir vexation, when at the fyrst hee lightly afflicted the lande of Zabulon, and the lande of Nephthali, and afterward did more greeuously afflict hir by the way of the sea beyond Jordane in Galilee of the heathen.

The.ix. Chapter.

He prophesieth of Christes natiuitie and dominion.

A 1 The people that walked in darkenesse, haue seene a great lyght: As for them that dwell in the lande of the shadowe of death, vpon them hath the lyght shyned.

2 Thou hast multiplied the people, and not encreased their ioy: they reioyce before thee, euen as men make mery in haruest, and they bee ioyful as men that do diuide the spoyle (after the victorie.)

3 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, the staffe of his shoulder, and the rod of his oppressour, as in the day of Madian.

4 And truely euery battayle that the warrier maketh, is done with confused noyse, and defiling their garmentes with bloud: (but this battayle) shal bee with burning and consumyng of fyre.

a. Christe his kingdome, and his names.

5 For vnto vs a (a) chylde is borne, and vnto vs a sonne is giuen, vpon his shoulder dothe the rule lye, and he is called with his owne name, Wonderfull, the giuer of counsell, the mightie God, the euerlasting father, the prince of peace.

6 He shall make no ende to encrease the rule and peace, and shall syt vpon the seate of Dauid: and in his kingdome, to order the same, and to stablishe it with equitie and ryghteousnesse frō henceforth for euermore: this shal the zeale of the Lord of hostes bring to passe.

7 The Lorde sente a word into Jacob, the same is come into Israel.

8 And al the people of Ephraim shal know, and they that dwell in Samaria, that say with pryde and hygh stomackes (on this manner.)

9 The tyle worke is fallen downe, but we will buylde it with squared stones: the Mulberie tymber is broken, but we shall set it vp agayne with Cedar.

10 But the Lord shal strengthen the enimies of Razin, and ioyne his aduersaries together against him:

11 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind, and shall deuour Israel with open mouth. After all this is not the wrath of the Lord ceased, but yet his hande stretched out stil.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chastiseth thē, neyther do they seeke the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore hath the Lord rooted out of Israel both head and tayle, bough and reede in one day.

14 By the heade, is vnderstand the Senatour and honourable man: and by the taile, the prophete that preached lyes.

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, and those that be gouerned are vtterly lost.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde haue no pleasure in theyr young men, neyther haue pitie of theyr fatherlesse and wydowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and al their mouthes speake folly: After al this is not the Lordes wrath ceased, but yet his hād is stretched out still.

17 For vngodlynesse burneth as a fyre, and shall deuour briers and thornes, and it shall burne as in the thicket of a wood, and (the wicked) aduaunce themselues, as the smoke is caried vp.

18 Through the wrath of the Lorde of hostes is the land ful of darknesse, and the people be consumed as it were with fire: no man doth spare his brother.

19 But hee robbeth on the right hande, and doth famyshe, he eateth on the left hand, and he shall not haue ynough: euery man shall eate the flesshe of his owne arme.

20 Manasses (shal eate) Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasses, & they both together shal eate Juda: After all this is not the Lordes wrath ceassed, but yet his hand stretched out still.

The.x. Chapter.

1. He threatneth the oppressours of the poore.
12. And prophesieth against Sennacherib.

1 WOe be vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and that causeth their actuaries to write grieuousnesse,

2 Wherethrough the poore are put from theyr right, and my seelie people robbed of iudgement, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may robbe the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do in the time of visitation, and when destructiō shall come from farre? to whome will ye runne for helpe? and wher will you leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdraw me my hande, yee come not among the priseners, nor lye among the dead? After all this dothe not the wrath of the Lorde ceasse, but yet is his hande stretched out still.

5 O Assur which art the staffe of my wrath, in whose hand is the rodde of mine indignation.

6 I will send him among those hypocritishe people: among the people that haue deserued my displeasure will I send him, that he vtterly robbe them, spoyle them, and tread them downe like the mire in the streete.

7 Howbeit his meaning is not so, neyther thinketh his hart on this fashion: but he imagineth howe he maye rote out and destroye much people.

8 For he sayth, Are not my princes al kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to winne, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquere Hamath, than Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus, than Samaria?

10 (As who say) I were able to winne the kingdomes of the idolaters and their Gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shall I not doe vnto Hierusalem and hir images, as I did vnto Samaria and hir idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that as sone as the Lord hath perfourmed his whole worke vppon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I visite the fruite of the stoute hart of the king of Assyria, with his proude lokes.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceyt, Thys do I through the power of mine own hande, and through my wisdome: for I am wise, I am he that remoue the landes of the people, I rob their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants lyke a valiant man.

C 14 My hande hath founde out the strength of the people, as it wer a nest: and like as egges that were layd here and there, are gathered together, so do I gather all countreys, and there was none (so bolde) as to moue the wing, that dare open his mouthe, or once whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast him selfe against hym that heweth therewith? or shal the saw make anye bragging against him that ruleth it? that were euen like as if the rodde did exalte him selfe against him that beareth it, or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe (as who say) it were no wood.

16 Therefore shal the Lord the God of hosts send amōg his fatlings, leanenesse, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fyre.

17 And the light of Israel shalbe that fire, and his holy one shalbe the flame: and it shal kindle and burne vp his thornes and bryers in one day.

18 Yea all the glory of his woods and fieldes shalbe consumed with body and soule, and they shalbe as an host of men, whose standerd bearer fayleth.

19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shalbe of such a number that a child may tel them.

20 After that day shall the remnaunt of Israell, and such as are escaped out of the house of Jacob, seeke no more comforte at him that smote them: but vnfaignedly shall they trust vnto the Lord, the holy one of Israell.

21 The remnant, euē the posteritie of Jacob, D shall conuert vnto God the mightie one.

22 For though thy people, O Israell, be as the sande of the sea, yet shall the remnaunt of thē conuert vnto him: The decreed cōsumption ouerfloweth with righteousnesse.

23 And therefore the Lorde of hosts shal perfectly fulfill the thing that he hath determined, in the midst of the whole world.

24 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God of hostes, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, be not afrayde for the king of the Assirians: he shall smite thee with a rodde, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.

25 But very sone after shall my wrath and indignation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:

26 Moreouer, the Lord of hostes shall stirre vp a scourge for him, like as was the slaughter of Madian vpon the rocke Oreb, and as the destruction of the Egyptians when hee lifted vp his rodde vpon the sea.

27 Then shall his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, yea the same yoke shalbe destroyed because of the vnction.

28 He shall come to Aiath, and go through E towarde Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harneſſe.

29 They ſhall goe ouer the foꝛd, Geba ſhall be their reſting place, Rhama ſhal be afrayd, Gibea Saul ſh all flee away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, giue eare to Laiſa thou poꝛe Anathoth.

31 Madmena ſhall tremble foꝛ feare, but the Citizens of Gabim are manly.

32 Yet ſhal he remayne at Nob that day: after that ſhall he lift vp his hand againſte the mount of the daughter Sion the hil of Hieruſalem.

33 But ſee, the Lozde God of hoſtes ſhall bꝛeake downe the bough with feare, he ſhall hewe downe the pꝛoude, and fell the hygh minded.

34 The thickettes alſo of the wood ſhall bee rote out with iron, and Libanus ſhal haue a fall thꝛough the mightie.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. He propheſieth of the natiuitie of Chriſte, and of his people. 6. Of the remnaunt of Iſrael. 10. And of the fayth of the heathen or Gentiles.

A 1 AND there ſhall come a ſpꝛigge foꝛthe of the (a) ſtemme of Eſay, and a yong ſhoote ſhall growe out of his rote.

a. Chriſt ſhall be borne of the ſeede of Eſaye.

2 The ſpirite of the Lozd ſhall reſt vpon him, the ſpirite of wiſedome and vnderſtanding, the ſpirite of counſayle and ſtrength, the ſpirite of knowledge and of the feare of the Lozde,

3 And ſhall make him of deepe iudgement in the feare of God: Foꝛ he ſhall not giue ſentence after the thing that ſhal be bꝛought beꝛoꝛe his eyes, neyther repꝛoue after the hearing of his eares:

4 But with righteouſneſſe ſhall he iudge the poꝛe, and with equitie ſhall he reſourme the ſimple of the woꝛlde, and hee ſhall ſmite the woꝛld with the rodde of his (b) mouthe, and with the bꝛeath of his mouthe ſhall he ſlaye the vngodly.

b. The armour of Chriſte, and of his kingdome.

5 Righteouſneſſe ſhall be the girdle of hys loynes, and faythfulneſſe the gyꝛding vp of his reynes.

6 The Woolfe ſhall dwell with the Lambe, and the Leoparde ſhall lye downe by the Goate: Bullockes, Lions, and cattell ſhall keepe company together, ſo that a little child ſhall leade them.

B 7 The Cowe and the Beare ſhall feede together, and their young ones ſhall lye together: the Lion ſhall eate ſtraw lyke the Oxe oꝛ the Cowe.

8 The chylde whyle he ſucketh ſhall haue a deſyre to the Serpentes neſt, and when he is weaned, he ſhall put his hand into the Cockatrice denne.

9 No man ſhall doe euill vnto another, no, no man ſhall deſtroye another in the hyll of my holyneſſe: foꝛ the earth ſhal be full of the knowledge of the Lozde, euen as the ſea floweth ouer with water.

10 And in that daye ſhall the Gentiles enquire after the rote of Jeſſe, whiche ſhall be ſet vp foꝛ a toke vnto the people, and his reſt ſhall be glorious.

11 At the ſame time ſhall the Lozde take in hand agayne to recouer the remnaunt of his people, which ſhalbe left aliue, from the Aſſyrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Moyans, Elamites, Chaldees, Antiochians, and from the Ilandes of the ſea, 12 And he ſhall ſet vp a token amõg the Gentiles, and gather together the diſperſed of Iſraell, yea and the outcaſtes of Juda from the foure cozners of the woꝛld.

13 The hatred of Ephraim alſo, and enimies of Juda, ſhall be cleane rooted out: Ephraim ſhall beare no euill will to Juda, and Juda ſhall not vexe Ephraim.

14 But they both together ſhall flee vpon the ſhoulders of the Philiſtines towarde the weſt, and ſpoile them together that dwel toward the Eaſt: the Edomites and the Moabites ſhal come vnder their handes, and the Ammonites ſhall be obedient vnto them.

15 The Lozde alſo ſhall cleaue the tongues (c) of the Egyptians ſea, and with his mightie winde ſhall he lift vp his hand ouer Nilus, and ſhall ſmite his ſeuen ſtreames, and make men goe ouer dꝛie ſhod.

c. That is, the armie of the Egyptians ſhall be diuided as the ſea is diuided by legs.

16 And thus ſhall there be a way foꝛ his people that remayneth from the Aſſyrians, lyke as it happened to the Iſraelites what tyme they departed out of the land of Egypt.

The.xij. Chapter.

4. The ſong of the Churche for the obteyning of the victorie, and ouercomming of the world.

1 AND in that day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord, I will pꝛaiſe thee, foꝛ thou waſt diſpleaſed at me: but refrayne thou from thy wrath, and comfoꝛt me.

2 Behold, God is my ſaluation, in whom I will truſt, and not be afrayde: foꝛ the Lozde God is my ſtrength and (my) ſong, he alſo is become my ſaluation:

3 Therefoꝛe with ioy ſhall ye drawe water out of the welles of ſaluation:

4 And then ſhall yee ſay, Gyue thanks vnto the Lozde, call vppon his name, declare hys woꝛkes among the people, keepe them in remembꝛaunce branch for his name is excellent.

5 O sing prayses vnto the Lorde, for hee hath done great things, as it is knowne in all the worlde.
6 Crie out, and sing, thou that dwellest in Sion: for great is the holy one of Israell in the middest of thee.

The.xiij. Chapter.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babilon, the captiuitie and the comming againe of the people.

1 THis is the (a)burden of Babilon, which Esay the sonne of Amos did see.
2 Lift vp the Banner vpon the high hill, call vnto them, wagge your hande, that they maye goe into the Gates of the Princes.
3 I haue commaunded my sanctified, I haue also called my valiant ones, ioying in mine honour to execute my wrath.
4 There is a noyse of a multitude in the mountaynes, like as of a great people, a rushing as though the kingdomes of the Nations came togither: the Lorde of hostes musstereth his armie to battaile.
5 They come out of a farre countrey from the ende of the heauen, euen the Lorde himselfe with the ministers of his wrath, to destroy the whole lande.
6 Mourne ye for the day of the Lorde is at hand, and shall come as a destroyer from the almightie.
7 Therefore shal al handes be letten downe, and all mens hearts shall melt away.
8 They shall stand in feare, carefulnesse, and sorrow shall come vpon them, and they shal haue paine, as a woman that trauelleth with childe: One shall bee abashed of another, and their faces shall burne lyke the flame of fire.
9 Beholde, the day of the Lorde shall come terribly, and full of indignation, furie, and wrath; to make the lande waste, and to rote out the sinners thereof.
10 For the starres and planettes of heauen shall not giue their light, the sunne shall bee darkened in the rysing, and the moone shall not shine with hir light.
11 And I will visite the wickednesse of the worlde, and the sinnes of the vngodly. The highe stomackes of the proude will I take away, and will lay downe the boasting of the tyrant.
12 I wil make a man dearer than fine gold, and a woman to be more worthy than a golden wedge of Ophir.
13 Therefore I will shake the heauens, and the earth shall remoue out of hir place, in the wrath of the Lorde of hostes, and in the day of his fearefull indignation.
14 And (Babylon) shall be as an hunted or chased Doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: Euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee eche one into his owne land.
15 Who so is founde shall be shot through: and who so taketh their part, shall bee destroyed with the swoorde.
16 Their childre shalbe slain before their eies: their house spoyled, & their wiues rauished.
17 For loe, I shall bring vp the Medes against them, which shall not regarde siluer, nor be desirous of golde:
18 With bowes shall they destroy the yong men, & haue no pitie on women with childe, and their faces shall not spare the children.
19 And Babylon, that glorie of kingdomes, and beautie of the Chaldees honour, shall be destroyed, euen as God destroyed Sodome and Gomor.
20 It shall not endure for euer, neyther shall there bee any more dwelling there from generation to generation: The Arabians shall pitch no tents there, neither shall the sheepeheards make their foldes there any more.
21 But fearefull wilde beastes shall lie there, and the houses shalbe full of great Owles, Estriges shall dwell there, and Apes shall daunce there.
22 Wilde cattes shall crie in the palaces, and Dragons shall be in the pleasaunt houses: And as for Babylons time it is at hande, and hir dayes shall not be prolonged.

(a) Burden, or the matter.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their enimyes. 13. The pride of Babylon.

1 BVt the Lorde will be mercifull vnto Jacob, and will yet chose Israell againe, and set them in their owne lande, straungers shall cleaue and get them to the house of Jacob.
2 The people shall take them, and cary them home to their owne lande: and the house of Israell shall possesse them in the land of the Lorde, that they may be seruants and handmaydes, and they shall take those prisoners whose captiues they had bin before, and rule those that had oppressed them.
3 When the Lorde nowe shall bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and hard bondage that thou wast laden withall:
4 Then shalt thou vse this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, Howe happeneth peneth it that the oppreſſour leaueth off? Is the golden tribute come to an ende?

5 The Lorde hathe broken the ſcepter of the vngodly, and the rod of the lordly,

6 Which when he is wroth, ſmiteth the people with continuall ſtrokes, and in wrath raigneth ouer the heathen, whome he perſecuteth without compaſſion.

B 7 And therefore the whole world is now at reſt and quietneſſe, and men ſing for ioy.

8 Yea euen the Firre trees and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, ſaying, Nowe that thou art layd downe, ther come no moe vp to hewe downe vs.

9 Hell alſo beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy ſake hath rayſed his dead, all mightie men and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth ſtande vp from their ſeates,

10 That they maye all aunſwer and ſpeake vnto thee, Art thou become weake alſo as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe and thy pride is layd downe into the pit, and ſo is the melodie of thy inſtruments. Wormes be layde vnder thee, and wormes be thy couering.

12 Howe art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou fayre morning childe? Howe haſt thou gotten a fall euen to the ground, which didſt weaken the nations?

13 For thou ſaydeſt in thine hearte, I wyll climbe vp into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue, beſyde the ſtarres of God, I will ſit alſo vppon the mount of the congregation toward the north.

C 14 I will climbe vp aboue the cloudes, and will be like the higheſt of all.

15 Yet thou ſhalt be brought downe to the deepe of hell, to the ſides of the lake.

16 They that ſee thee, ſhall narrowly looke vpō thee, and thinke in themſelues, (ſaying,) Is this the man that brought all landes in feare, and made the kingdomes afrayde?

17 (Is this he) that made the world in a manner waſte, and layd the cities to the ground, which let not his priſoners goe out?

18 The kings of the nations lye euery one in his owne houſe with worſhip.

19 And thou art caſt out of thy graue lyke a filthie abhominable braunche, like as dead mens rayment that are ſhotte through with the ſword, and goe downe to the ſtones of the deepe, as a dead coarſe that is troden vnder feete.

20 Thou arte not buryed with them: euen bycauſe that thou haſt waſted thy land, and deſtroyed thy people: The generation of the wicked ſhalbe out of memorie for euer.

D 21 Let there a way be ſought to deſtroy their childzen that be in their fathers wickednesſe, that they come not vp agayne to poſſeſſe the land, and fyll the world full of enimies.

22 I will ſtande vp againſte them, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes, and rote out the name and remnaunt, ſonne and ſonnes ſonne of Babylon, ſayeth the Lord.

23 I wil giue it to the Otters, and wil make water puddles of it, and I wil ſweepe them out with the beeſome of deſtruction, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

24 The Lord of hoſtes hath ſworne an othe, ſaying, It ſhall come to paſſe as I haue determined, and ſhalbe fulfilled as I haue deuiſed.

25 So that Aſſyria ſhall I deſtroye in my lande, and vppon my mountaynes wyll I treade him vnder foot, wherthrough his yoke ſhall come from them, and his burden ſhall be taken from their ſhoulder.

26 This deuiſe hathe God taken through the whole world, and this is his hande ſtretched out ouer all people.

27 For if the Lorde of hoſtes determine a thing, who is able to diſanul it? And if he ſtretch forth his hande, who maye returne it agayne?

28 The ſame yeere that king Ahaz dyed, was E this burden:

29 Reioyce not thou whole Paleſtina, bycauſe the rodde of him that beateth ther is broken: for out of the ſerpents rote ther ſhall come an Adder, and his fruite ſhall be a fiery fleeing worme.

30 But the fyrſt borne of the poore ſhalbe fed, and the ſimple ſhall dwell in ſafetie: The rote alſo will I deſtroye with hunger, and it ſhall ſlay the remnaunt.

31 Mourne thou port, weepe thou citie, for, O whole land of Paleſtina, thou art layde waſte: for there ſhall come from the north a ſmoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.

32 What ſhall one then aunſwere the meſſenger of the Gentiles? For the Lorde hathe ſtabliſhed Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, ſhall put their truſt in it.

The.xv. Chapter.

A propheſie againſt Moab.

1 THis is the burden vppon Moab: Ar of Moab was deſtroyed, and ouerthrowē in the night ſeaſon, Kir alſo in Moab was deſtroyed, and periſhed in the night.

2 Moab went vp to the idolles houſe, euen to Dibon, to the high places, to weepe: for Nebo, and Moab ſhal mourne for Medba: All their heads were balde, and all their beardes ſhauen.

shauen.
3 In hir streetes are they girded about with sackcloth: In all the toppes of hir houses and streetes, shall be nothing but mourning and weeping.
4 Hesbon and Elcale shall crye, that their voyce shalbe heard vnto Jahaz: and therfore ỳ armed souldiers also of Moab, shal bleate out and cry for very sorow of their mindes.
5 My shall my hart be for Moabs sake, they shall flee vnto the citie of Zoar, whiche is lyke a fayre young bullocke of three yeeres olde, for they shall all goe vp to Luith weeping: euen so, by the way towarde Horonaim they shall make lamentation for their vt-ter destruction.
6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dryed vp, by reason whereof the grasse is withered, the hearbs destroyed, and the greene thyngs gone.
B 7 Therfore the goodes that remayneth in Moab, and the riches thereof, they shall carry to the brooke of wyllowes.
8 For the cry went ouer the whole lande of Moab, vnto Eglaim, and vnto Beer Elim was there nothing but mourning.
9 Because the waters of Dimon were full of bloud, I will adde more vpon Dimon:
and Lions vpon the remnaunt of the lande,
and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The.xvi. Chapter.

The destruction of Moab.

A 1 SEnd the Lorde of the world a lambe, from the rocke that lyeth towarde the desert, vnto the hil of the daughter of Sion.
2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they shal be as a trembling bird that is put out of hir nest: for they shall carrie them vnto Arnon.
3 Gather youre counsell, come together in iudgement, couer vs with your shadow in the midday, as the night doth hide the chased, and bewray not them that are fled.
4 Let my persecuted people dwell among you, Moab be thou their refuge againste the destroyer: for the aduersarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyraunte is wasted out of the lande.
5 And in mercy shall the seate bee prepared, and he shall sitte vppon it in the truth in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and making haste vnto righte-ousnesse.
6 We haue heard of the pryde of Moab, he is very proude, presumtuous, arrogant, and full of indignation, and vayne are his lyes.
B 7 Therfore shall Moab make lamentation, because of the Moabites (that shall be slayn) yea they shall wayle altogether: because of the foundations of the citie that is made of brycke shall yee complayne, euen yee lame people that are left only behinde.
8 For the vines of Hesbon are cut downe: as for the vine of Sibma, the Lordes of ỳ heathen haue broken downe hir principal branches, they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandering vnto the wildernesse, hir goodly braunches were throwen downe
as they went ouer the sea.
9 Therefore will I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powre my teares vpon thee, O Hesbon and Elcale: for the crye of thyne enimies is fallen vpon thy sommer fruites, and vpon thy harueste.
10 The myrth and cheare is taken away out of the plentifull fielde, and in the vineyardes there shall bee no ioy nor gladnesse: The treader shall treade out no wine in theyr presses, the song of their merrie cheare haue
I layd downe.
11 (a) Wherefore my bowels shall rumble like an Harpe for Moabs sake, and mine inward partes for the cities sake that is made of brycke.
12 And it shall come to passe, that when it is seene that Moab shall be made weery of hys hill chappels, he shall come to his temple to pray, (b) but he shall not be able.
13 So then this is the saying that the Lorde hath spoken concerning Moab since ỳ tyme.
14 But now the Lorde hath spoken, saying,
In three yeeres, which shall be as the yeeres of an hyred seruaunt, shall the glory of Moab bee turned into contempt throughout all hys multitude, which is very great: and that whiche remayneth, shall be very small, and feeble.

a. The superstitious and idolaters haue more trust in one idol, and in some one place than in another: but all in vayne.
b. Not be able through weriness, or it shall not profit him

The.xvij. Chapter.

A propheste agaynst Damascus.

1 THis is the burden vppon Damascus. A BEholde, Damascus is taken away to be no more a citie, but shall be an heape of broken stones.
2 The walle cities of Aroer shall be foldes for cattell which shall lye there, and ther shal be none to fray them away.
3 Ephraim also shall no more be strong, and Damascus shall no longer be a kingdome, and the remnaunt of Syria shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saythe
the Lord of hostes.
4 And in that day it shall come to passe, that the glory of Jacob shal be made very thinne, and the fatnesse of his flesh shall waxe leane.

5 And

5 And he ſhall bee as one that gathereth vp corne in haruеſt, euen like him whoſe arme reapeth the eares of corne: He ſhall be alſo lyke him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede ſhall there bee left in it, euen as in the ſhaking of an Oliue tree there remayne two or three berries in the top of the vttermoſt bowe, and foure or fyue in the broade fruiteful braunches therof, ſayth the Lord God of Iſraell.

B 7 Then ſhall man turne agayne to his maker, and his eyes ſhall haue reſpect to the holy one of Iſrael.

8 As for the aulters which are his owne handie worke, he ſhall not regard them, and the things that his fingers hath made, as groues and images, thoſe ſhall hee not caſt his eye vnto.

9 In that day ſhall their ſtrong cities bee as the forſaken ſhrubbes and braunches, whych they left becauſe of the children of Iſrael, and the lande ſhall be deſolate.

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſaluation, and haſt not bin mindfull of thy ſtrong rocke: therefore ſhalte thou ſette pleaſant plants, and ſhalt graffe the braunche of another mans vine.

11 In that day ſhalt thou make thy plante to growe, and early in the morning ſhalte thou make thy ſeede to floriſh: the haruеſt ſhall be gone in the day of inheritance, and there ſhal be ſorow without hope of comfort.

12 Wo ſhal be to the multitude of much people, which ſhall make a ſound like to ỹ noiſe of the ſea, and the violẽce of ỹ natiõs, which rage like the ruſhing in of many waters.

13 Euen lyke many waters ſhall the people rage, God ſhall rebuke him, and he ſhall flee farre off, he ſhall be chaſed away lyke as dry ſtrawe vppon the mountaynes before the wynde, and like a thing that turneth before the ſtorme.

C 14 At euen, behold there is trouble, and yer euer it be morning, loe it is gone: This is the portion of them that oppreſſe vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

The.xviij. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countreyes nigh adioyning to them. 7. The vocation of the Gentiles.

I 1 GThat land that truſteth vnder the ſhadowe of wings, (that lande) whiche is beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

2 Sending meſſengers by the Sea, euen in veſſels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence, ye ſpeedy meſſengers, to a nation that is ſcattered abrode, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by little & little, whoſe land the floudes haue ſpoyled.

3 All the inhabiters of the worlde, & indwellers of the earth, looke vp when he ſetteth vp a token in the mountaynes, and hearken when he bloweth with the trumpe.

4 For ſo the Lord ſayd vnto me (as for me) I will take my reſt, and looke vppon the matter in my habitation, like a fayre heate after the rayne, and like a cloude of drawe in the heate of haruеſt.

5 For afore the haruеſt, when the braunch is growen, there ſhall come rype fruite of the floure: and he ſhall cut downe the increaſe with ſithes, and the branches ſhall he take away with hookes.

6 Thus ſhall they be left together vnto the foules of the mountaynes, and to the beaſts of the earth, for in ſommer the birds ſhal remayne vpon it, and euery beaſt of the lande ſhal be vpon it in winter.

7 In that time ſhall ther a preſent be brought B vnto the Lord of hoſtes, euen a people that is ſcattered abrode, and robbed of that they had, that ſame people which haue bin fearefull from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by little and little, whoſe land the flouds haue ſpoyled, to the place of the name of the Lorde of hoſtes, euen to the mount Sion.

The.xix. Chapter.

1. He propheſieth againſt Egypt. 18. and the vocation of the Gentiles to Chriſt.

I 1 THe burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth vppon a ſwift cloude, and ſhall come into Egypt, and the idolles of Egypt ſhall tremble at the preſence of him, and the hart of Egypt ſhall quake in the middeſt of hir.

2 And I will ſet the Egyptians one againſt another, ſo that one brother ſhall fight againſt another, and one neighbour againſte another, citie againſte citie, and realme againſt realme.

3 The mynde alſo of Egypt ſhall be cleane without counſaile within it ſelfe, and the deuice that they take, will I deſtroy: and they ſhall ſeeke counſayle at idolles, and at ſorcerers, at workers with ſpirites, and at ſothſayers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a marueylous cruell Lorde, and a mightie king ſhall haue dominion ouer them, ſayth the Lord God of hoſts.

5 The waters of the ſea ſhall fayle, and the riuer ryuer shall decrease, and be dryed vp.

6 The waters shall be drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shall be emptied and dryed vp, the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.
7 The grasse in the riuer, and by the riuers banke, and al that groweth by the riuer shall wither away, and be brought to nought.
8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water, shall make lamentation: and they that lay forth theyr net beyde the waters, shall be rotted out.
9 Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe, and make fine works, shalbe confounded, and so shal they that weaue open workes.
10 For their open workes shall euen be destroyed, and all they that make pondes and slues for fishe, shall come to nought.
11 But you foolishe princes of Zoan, ye wyse counsaylours of Pharao, whose witte is turned vnto foolishnesse, howe say yee vnto Pharao, I am come of wise men, and of auncient kings?
12 Where are thy wise men? lette them tell thee if they can, what the Lord of hostes hath deuised vpon Egypt.
13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are deceyued, they haue deceyued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe stay thereof.
14 In the middest of it hath the Lorde powred the spirite of wickednesse: and they haue deceyued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drunken man staggereth in his vomite.
15 Neither shal the (a) head or tayle, ỹ braunch or reede, be able to do any worke in Egypt.
16 In that day shal Egypt be lyke vnto women: It shalbe afrayde, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh ouer it.
17 And Egypt shall be afrayd of the land of Iuda, so that euery one that maketh mentiō of it, shall be afrayde thereat, bycause of the counsayle of the Lorde of hostes, whiche hee deuised for it.
18 In that day shall fyue cities in the lande of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lorde of hostes: the citie of desolation shalbe called one of them.
19 In that day shall the aulter of the Lorde be in the middest of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, Vnto the Lord.
20 And it shalbe a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the Land of Egypte: For they shal cry vnto the Lord, bycause of such as trouble them, and he shal send them a sauiour, and a great man to deliuer them.
21 And the Lord shall be knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lorde in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation: yea they shall bowe a bowe vnto the Lord and performe it.
22 The Lorde also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them agayne: and they shalbe cōuerted vnto the Lorde, and he shall be entreated of them, and shal heale them.
23 In that day shal there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptiās and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together.
24 In that day shall the nation of Israel be the thirde with Egypt & Assyria: and they shall be blessed in the middest of the lande.
25 Whiche lande the Lorde of hostes hathe blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my handes, and Israel is mine inheritance.

(a) the head, the braunche signifieth the honorable and chiefe of the people, by the braunche and reede, the multitude and lower sort of people.

The.xx. Chapter.

Agaynst Egypt and Ethiopia.

1 IN the yeere that Tharthan came vnto Asdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sente him, and had fought against Asdod, and taken it: I
2 At the same tyme spake the Lorde by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shoe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.
3 And the Lord sayd, Lyke as my seruaunte Esay hathe walked naked and barefoote, for a signe and wōder, three yeeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:
4 Euen so shall the king of Assyria take away out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and old men, naked and barefoote, with theyr loines vncouered, to ỹ great shame of Egypt
5 They shall be brought in feare also, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt wherein they are wont to glory.
6 And they that dwel in ỹ same Ile shal say in ỹ day, Beholde, such is our hope, whether shal we flee for help, ỹ we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? And how shall we escape?

The.xxi. Chapter.

Agaynst Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

1 THe burden of the (a) waste sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth through at the noone day from the wildernesse, so shal it come from the terrible land. I
2 A greeuous vision was shewed vnto me: let one deceytfull offendour come against another, and one destroyed against another: Vp Elam, lay siege thou of Media, all

a. The waste sea is Babylon, or Chaldee.

all their groning haue I layd downe.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled with ſorowe, beaunceſſe hathe taken hold vppon me as the pangs of a woman that is trauailing: it made me ſtoupe when I hearde it, and it vexed me when I ſawe it.

4 My hart panted, fearefulneſſe came vppon me: the night of my voluptuouſneſſe hath he turned againſt me into feare.

5 Whyle they garniſhed the table, the watchman loked: and whyle I was eating and drinking, it was ſayde, Up ye Captaynes, take you to your ſhielde.

6 For thus hath the Lord ſayd vnto me, Goe and ſet a watchman to tell what he ſeeth.

B 7 And he ſawe a charret which two horſemē ſate vpon, with the cariage of an Aſſe, and the cariage of a Camel: So he loked, and toke diligent heede.

8 And he cryed, A Lion, my Lorde, I ſtande continually vppon the watche towre in the day time, and am appoynted to keepe my watch euery night:

9 And beholde, heere commeth a charret of men, with two horſemen, and he anſwered and ſayd, Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of hir Gods hathe he ſmitten downe vnto the grounde.

10 Thou art he whome I muſt threſhe, and thou beloged to my corne floure: This that I hearde of the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, haue I ſhewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Duma. He calleth to me out of Seir: Watchman, what haſt thou eſpyed by nyght? watchman, what haſte thou eſpied by night?

12 The watchman ſayd, The morning commeth, and ſo dothe the nyght: if ye will aſke me any queſtion, then aſke it: Returne and come agayne.

13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woodes of Arabia ſhall ye tarie all nighte, euen in the ſtreetes of Dedanim.

C 14 The inhabitours of the lande of Thema brought forth water to him that was thirſty, they preuented him that was fled away with their bread.

15 For bycauſe of ſwordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawen ſworde, and for the bent bowe, and bycauſe of the greeuouſneſſe of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord ſaid vnto me, There is yet a yeere, according to the yeeres of an hyred ſeruaunte, and all the glory of Cedar ſhall fayle.

17 And the number of them that ſhall eſcape from the bowes, ſhall be miniſhed by the mightie children of Cedar: for the Lorde God of Iſrael hath ſpoken it.

The.xxij. Chapter.

A prophecie agaynſt Hieruſalem.

1 The burden of the (a) valley of viſion. What haſt thou to doe heere, that thou clymeſt to the houſe toppes?

2 Thou that art ful of tumultuouſneſſe, thou troubleſome and proude citie: thy ſlayne men are neyther put to death with the ſwoord, nor dead in battayle.

3 All thy captaynes are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken them priſoners: all they I ſay that are found in thee, are in captiuitie together, and they alſo that fledde farre off.

4 Therefore ſayde I, Let me alone, and I will make lamentation: Ye ſhall not preuayle to comfort me, byeauſe of the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For this is a daye of trouble, of ruine, and of deſtruction, that the Lorde God of hoſtes will bring to paſſe in the valley of viſion, breaking downe the citie, and crying vnto the mountaynes.

6 Elam bare the quiuer with a charret of ſouldiers and horſemen, and the citie of Kir diſcouered the ſhield open.

7 Thy chiefe valley alſo was full of chariots, and the horſemen ſet their faces directly toward the gate.

8 And in that day did the enimie take away the couer of Iuda, and then diddeſt thou looke towarde the (b) armour of the houſe of the forreſt.

9 Ye haue ſeene alſo the broken places of the citie of Dauid, how that they are many, and ye gathered together the waters of the lower poole.

10 As for the houſes of Hieruſalem ye haue numbred them, and the houſes haue ye brokē downe, to make the wall ſtrong.

11 A pit alſo haue ye made betweene the two walles for the waters of the old poole, (c) and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neyther had reſpect vnto him that faſhioned it long agoe.

12 And in that daye did the Lorde God of hoſtes call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldneſſe, and girding about with ſackcloth.

13 And beholde, they haue ioy and gladneſſe, ſlaying oxen, and killing ſheepe, eating fleſh, and drinking wine: Let vs eate and drinke, for to morow we ſhal dye.

14 And it came to the eares of the Lorde of hoſtes, This iniquitie ſhall not be purged from you till ye dye, ſayth the Lord God of hoſtes.

15 Thus

15 Thus sayth the Lord God of hostes, Get ye vnto yonder treasurer, euen vnto Sebna, which is the ruler of the house.

16 What hast thou to do heere? and whome hast thou here? that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for him selfe on an hard rocke?

17 Behold, O thou man, the Lorde shall carie thee away into captiuitie, and shal surely couer thee with confusion.

18 The Lord shall turne thee ouer lyke a bal with his handes (and shall sende thee) into a farre countrey: there shalt thou dye, & there in steede of the charrets of thy pompe, shall the house of the Lord haue confusion.

19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shall he ouerthrowe thee.

20 And in that day shall I call my seruaunt Eliakim, the sonne of Helkia:

D 21 And with thy garments wil I cloth him, and with thy girdle will I strength him: thy power also will I commit into his hād, and he shall be a father of suche as dwell in Hierusalem, and in the house of Juda.

h. 22 And the key of the house of Dauid will I h. lay vpon hys shoulder: so that he shall open, and no man shut, he shall shut, and no man open.

23 And I will fasten him as a nayle in a sure place, and hee shall be the glorious seate of his fathers house.

24 Moreouer, all generations and posteritie, shall hang vppon him, all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both greate and small, and all instrumentes of measure and musicke.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shal the nayle that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it shall be pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The.xxiij. Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynst Tyrus, 17. and a promise that it shall be restored agayne.

1 The burden of Tyre. Mourne ye shyps of Tharsis, for there commeth such destruction, that yee shall not haue an house to enter into: end that there shall be no traffike out of the lande of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.

Esa.23.a. 2 Be still ye that dwell in the Ile, the marchauntes of Zidon, and suche as passe ouer the sea, haue made thee plenteous.

3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruites of the ryuer were hir rentayles, so that it became a common mart of the nations.

4 Be ashamed thou Zidon: for the (a) Sea, euen the strength of the sea hath spoken, saying, I haue not trauayled nor brought forth chyldren, nor nourished vp young men, or brought vp virgins.

a. By the sea and the strēgth of the sea is meant Tyrus.

5 When tydyngs commeth to the Egyptians, they shall be sorie for the rumour of Tyre.

6 Get you to Tharsis, mourne you that dwell in the Ile.

7 Is not this that glorious citie of yours B which hath bin of olde antiquitie? hir owne feete shall carrie hir forthe to be a sojourner into a farre countrey.

8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that (b) croweth hir selfe? whose marchauntes are princes, and whose factours are honorable in the worlde.

b. That croweth hir selfe, that is, whych boasted hir selfe to be as it were the Queene of all cities on the sea coast.

9 Euen the Lord of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, and to punish all them that be proude vpon the earth.

10 Get thee out of thy land, lyke a flood, vnto the daughter of Tharsis, for thou hast no more strength.

11 He that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hande ouer the sea: euen the Lord him selfe hath giuen a commaundement againste the same common place of marchaundise, that they shall vtterly destroy the might thereof.

12 And he sayd, Make no more thy boast, O virgin, thou daughter Zidon, thou shalte be brought downe: Up, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheles thou shalte haue no rest.

13 Behold, this people came not of the Chaldees, but Assur made them strong with great shippes: They set vp the strong holds thereof, and destroyed his palaces: and hee brought it in decay.

14 Mourne ye shyppes of Tharsis, for your C strength is brought downe.

15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten seuentie yeeres, according to the yeeres of one king: and after the end of the seuentie yeeres shall Tyre sing as doth an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and goe about the Citie, thou harlot that hast bene forgotten, make sweete melodie, sing moe songs, that thou mayest be had in remembraunce.

17 And after the ende of the seuentie yeeres shal the Lord visite Tyre, and she shal conuert vnto hir rewarde, and shall committe fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth that are in the worlde.

18 Their occupying also, and their rewarde ſhall be holy vnto the Lorde: their gaynes ſhall not be layde vp, nor kept in ſtore, but it ſhall be theirs that dwell before the Lorde, that they maye eate ynough, and haue clothing ſufficient.

The.xxiiij. Chapter.

A prophecie of tribulation to come vppon the worlde, bycauſe of ſinne.

A 1 BEholde, the Lorde maketh the earthe waſte, and emptie, he turneth it vpſide downe, and ſcattereth abroade the inhabitours thereof.

2 And the prieſt ſhall be as the people, and the maiſter as the ſeruaunte, the maiſtreſſe lyke the mayde, the ſeller lyke the buyer, he that lendeth vpon vſurie, lyke him that boroweth vppon vſurie, the creditour as the dettour.

3 The lande ſhall be cleane walked and vterly ſpoyled: for ſo the Lorde hathe ſpoken.

4 The earthe is ſory, and conſumeth away, the worlde is feeble and periſheth, the proude people of the earth are come to nought.

5 The earth alſo is become vnprofitable vnder the inhabitours thereof, which haue trãſgreſſed the lawes, chaunged the ordinance, broken the euerlaſting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curſe conſumed ẏ earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen into treſpaſſe: Wherefore, the inhabitours of the earthe are periſhed with drought, and fewe men are left behinde.

B 7 The wine faileth, the wyne hath no might, all they that haue bin merrie of hart are come to mourning.

8 The mirth of tabrettes is layde downe, the noyſes of ſuche as haue made merrie is ceaſſed, the ioy at the harpe is at an ende.

9 They ſhall drynke no more wine with myrth, ſtrong drinke ſhall be bitter to them that drynke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, euery houſe is ſhut vp, ẏ no man may come in.

11 In the ſtreetes is there a crying, bycauſe of wyne, al cheare is vaniſhed away, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the citie is left deſolation, and the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.

13 For in the middes of the lande, euen amõg the people, it ſhall come to paſſe as at the ſhaking of oliues, and as the grapes are whẽ the wyne harueſt is done.

C 14 They ſhall lyft vp their voyce, and make a merrie noyſe: and in magnifying of the Lord ſhall they crie out of the Weſt.

15 Wherefore prayſe ye the Lord in the valleys, euen the name of the Lord God of Iſraell in the Iſles of the ſea.

16 From the vttermoſt part of the earth haue we heard prayſes and mirth, bycauſe of the righteous: And I ſayde, I know a thing in ſecrete, I know a thing in ſecret, wo is me: the tranſgreſſours haue offended, the tranſgreſſours haue greeuouſly offended.

17 Fearefulnes, the pit and the ſnare are vpon thee, O thou that dwelleſt on the earth.

18 It wyll come to paſſe, that whoſoeuer eſcapeth the fearefull noyſe, ſhall fall into the pit, and he that commeth vp out of the pitte, ſhall be taken with the ſnare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are moued.

19 The earthe is vterly broken downe, the earth hath a ſore ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly:

20 The earthe ſhall reele to and fro like a drunkard, and ſhall be remoued lyke a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhall be heauie vpon it, it ſhall fall, and not riſe vp againe.

21 And in that day ſhall the Lorde viſite the D hoſt aboue that is on hygh, and the kings of the worlde that are vpon the earth.

22 And they ſhall bee gathered together as they that be in priſon, and they ſhall be ſhutte vp in warde, and after many dayes ſhall they be viſited.

23 The moone ſhall be aba ſhed and the ſunne Iſa. aſhamed, whẽ the Lord of hoſtes ſhal raigne in mount Sion, and in Hieruſalem with worſhip, and in the ſight of ſuch as ſhall be of his counſel.

The xxv. Chapter.

A thankes gyuing to God for his works.

1 THou art my Lord my God, I wil magnifie thee, I will giue thankes vnto thy name, for thou haſt brought wonderfull thynges to paſſe, according to thine olde counſels, truely and faythfully. I

2 Thou haſt made a citie a heape of ſtones, Eſa. and brought a ſtrong towne into decay: the habitation of ſtraungers haſt thou made to bee no citie, neyther ſhall it be buylded any more.

3 Therefore ſhall the mightie people giue glorie vnto thee, the citie of the valiaunte Heathen ſhall feare thee.

4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrengthe vnto the poore, and a ſuccour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge againſt euyll weather, a ſhadowe againſt the heate: for the blaſt of raging men is like a ſtorme that eaſteth downe a wall.

5 Lyke as the heate in a drie place waſteth al thinges: ſo ſhalte thou ſuppreſſe the noyſe of ſtraunge, aliauntes, the heate (is abated) with the shadow of the cloude, (euen so shall God) asswage the noyse of the cruell tyrauntes.

6 And in this mountayne shall the Lorde of hostes make vnto all people a feast of plenteous and delicate things, euen of most pleasaunt and daintie dishes.

7 And in this mountayne shall the Lord destroy the couering that all people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is spread vppon all nations.

8 As for deathe, he hath destroyed it for euer, and the Lorde God shall wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away out of all the earthe: for so the Lord hath sayde.

9 And in that day it shall be sayd, Loe, thys is our God, we haue wayted for him, and he shall saue vs, this is the Lorde in whome we haue hoped, we wil be merie, and reioyce in the saluation (that commeth) of him.

10 For in this mountayne shall the hande of the Lorde ceasse, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is troden to doung on the doungbill.

11 And he shall stretche out his hande in the middes of them, as he that swimmeth casteth out his handes to swimme: and with the strength of his handes shall he bring downe their pryde.

12 The strong holde also, and defence of thy walles hath he ouerthrowen, and cast down, and brought them to the grounde, euen vnto dust.

The.xxvi. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

1 IN that daye shall this song be song in the land of Juda, We haue a strong citie, saluation shall God appoynt in steede of walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteouse people whyche keepeth the trueth maye enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilte thou preserue perfect peace, bycause they put theyr trust in thee.

4 Put ye your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore.

5 For he hathe brought downe the high minded Citizens: as for the proude Citie, he hath brought it lowe, euen to the ground shall he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, and the steppes of such as be in necessitie, shall treade it downe.

7 The path of equitie wilt thou graunt vnto the iust, (O thou most righteous,) thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

8 Yea in the way of thy iudgementes, O Lorde, haue we putte our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembraunce of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath lōged for thee all the night, and with my spirite which is within me, wil I seeke thee early in the morning: For when thy iudgementes are in the earthe, the inhabiters of the worlde shall learne righteousnesse.

10 Shall the vngodly manne bee fauoured, whiche hath not learned righteousnesse, but doth wickedly in the earthe, where nothing ought to bee done but that whyche is righteouse? hee shall not see the glorie of the Lorde.

11 Lorde, when thy hande is lift vp to strike, they see it not: but they shall see it, and be cōfounded with the zeale of the people, and the fyre that consumeth the enimies shall deuour them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalte prouide peace: for thou also hast wrought all oure workes in vs.

13 O Lorde our God, other Lordes beside thee hath subdued vs: but we will be mindfull onely of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead will not lyue, they that be out of lyfe wyll not ryse agayne, therefore hast thou visited and rooted thē out, and destroyed all the memorie of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lorde, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sente them farre off vnto all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Lyke as a woman with chylde that draweth nygh towards hir trauayle, is sory and cryeth in hir paynes: euen so haue we bin in thy sight, O Lorde.

18 We haue bene with childe, and suffered payne, as though we hadde brought forthe winde: for there is no saluation in the earth, neyther do the inhabiters of the worlde submit themselues.

19 Thy dead men shall lyue, euen as my body shall they rise againe: Awake and syng ye that dwell in dust, for thy dewe is euen as the dewe of herbes, and the earthe shall cast out them that be vnder hir.

20 Come my people, enter thou into thy chaumbers and shutte thy doores about thee, hyde thy selfe for a little whyle, vntill the indignation be ouer past.

21 For behold, the Lorde is comming out of his place, to viſite the wickednesse of ſuch as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shal diſcloſe hir blouds, and shall no moze hide them that are slayne in hir.

The.xxvij.Chapter.

A prophecie of the comming of Christ, and deſtruction of Idolatrie.

A 1 IN that daye, the Lozde with his soze, great, and mightie swozde, shall viſite (a) Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked Serpente, and he shall slay the dzagon that is in the sea.

a. By Leuiathan the greateſt of fyſhes in the sea, is ment the kingdome of Satan, and the mighty tiraunts of the world, enimies to Christ, and perſecuters of his religion. 1. Coz. 15. c. Apoc. 12. c.

2 In that daye see that ye sing of the congregation, which is the vineyarde that bzingeth fozth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lozde doe keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and leſt the enimie do it any harme, I will both night and day pzeſerue it.

4 There is no diſpleasure in me, els whē the vineyard bzingeth me fozth bryers & thoznes, I would go thzough it by warre, and burne it vp together.

b. God calleth his word his ſtrength, bycauſe thereby he winneth men, and bindeth them vnto him ſelfe.

5 Let it take holde of my (b) strength, and it shall be at one with me, euen at one shall it be with me.

6 The dayes are comming that Jacob shall take rote, Israell shall be greene and floriſhe, and the woꝛlde shall be fylled with fruite.

B 7 Hath he smitten him as soze as he did the other that smote him? Oz is he slayne with so soze a slaughter, as they that slue him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the bzaunches, yet not beyond measure: foz in the daye that the East winde bloweth soze, it taketh away the fruites.

9 By this meanes therefoze shall the iniquitie of Jacob be pourged, and this is all the fruite (namely) the (c) taking away of his sin, if he make all the stones of the aulter of idols as chalke stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images ryse not vp agayne.

c. God vſeth afflictions, as meanes to call men to repentaunce, whereupon foloweth forgiueneſſe of sinnes.

10 Els shall the strong citie be desolate, and the habitation foꝛsaken and left lyke a wildernesse: there shall the Calfe feede, and there shall he lie, and eate vp the graffes thereof.

11 When the bzaunches of it are dzye, they are bzoken off, and the women come & set them on fyze: foz it is a people of no vnderſtanding, and therefoze he that made them, shall not fauour them, and he that created them, shall giue them no grace.

Deut. 32. b.

12 And in that daye shall the Lozde make a tyzesshing, from the middest of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee chyldzen of Israell shall be gathered togeather one to another.

13 In that daye shall the greate trumpe bee blowen, so that they whiche were lost in the land of Assyria, and they that were banished in the lande of Egypt, shall come and woꝛship the Lozde in the holy mount of Hieruſalem.

The.xxviij.Chapter.

1. Against the pride of Ephraim, 9. and against falſe prieſtes and preachers.

1 WO be vnto the croꝛwne of pride, euen to the dzunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a flonre that fadeth away vpon the head of the valley of suche as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine.

2 Beholde, there commeth a vehement and soze daye from the Lozde, like an vnmeaſurable hayle, and perillous tempeſt, euen lyke the foꝛce of mightie and hoꝛrible waters that violentlye beareth downe all thynges.

3 The croꝛwne of the pzide of the dzunken Ephzaimites shall be troden vnder foote:

4 So that the flonre of his fayꝛenesse, and beautie which is in the head of the valley of fatnesse, shall fade away as dothe an vntimely rype fygge before haruest: whyche when a manne eſpieth, he loketh vppon it, and whyle it is yet in his hande, he eateth it vp.

5 In that day shall the Lozd of hoſtes be the croꝛwne of glozie, and diamonde of beautie, vnto the reſidue of his people.

6 He will be also a spirite of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgement, and strength vnto them that turne away the battayle to the gate (of the enimies.)

7 But they are out of the way by reaſon of wyne, yea farre out of the way are they thorough strong dzinke: The prieſt also and the pzophete are gone astray by the meanes of strong dzynke, they are dzunken with wine, they goe amiſſe thzough strong dzinke, they fayle in pzophecying, and stumble in iudgement.

8 Foz all tables are full of vomit and filthynesse, that no place is cleane.

9 Whome then shall such one teache knowledge? and whome shall he make to vnderſtand the thing that he heareth? foz they are as ignozant as yong chyldzen that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 Foz they that be suche, muſt take after one leſſon, another leſſon, after one commaundement, another commaundemente, foz one rule, another rule, after one inſtruction, another another instruction, there a little, and there a little.

11 For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of speach, and a straunge language.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest wherewith ye may ease him that is weery, this is the refreshing: they wyll not hearken.

Cap.14.f. 13 Therefore shall the word of the Lorde be vnto them, lesson vppon lesson, commaundement vpon commaundement, rule vppon rule, instructiō vpō instruction, there a little, and there a little: that they may goe on and fall backwarde, be bruised, tangled, and snared.

C 14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye mockers, ye that haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Beause ye haue sayde, We haue made a couenaunt with death, and with hell are we at agreement: and though there goe forth a sore plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for we haue made falshode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I lay in Sion for a fundation a stone, euen a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: who so beleeueth, let hym not be tw(a)hasty.

17 Judgemente also wyll I lay to the rule, and righteousnesse to the ballaunce, so that the (b) hayle shall sweepe away as a broome your vayne confidence, and the priuie place of your refuge shall the waters runne ouer.

18 And thus the couenaunt that ye made with death, shalbe disanulled, and your agreemēt that he made with hell, shall not stande, yea when the sore plague goeth forth, ye shal be troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euery day, yea both day and night shal it goe through, and when the noyse thereof is perceyued, it shall gender veration.

20 For the bedde is narrowe, and not large, and the couering so smal that a man cannot winde him selfe (vnder it.)

D 21 For the Lorde shall stande as in mounte Perazim, and shall be wroth like as in the valley Gibeon, that he maye doe his worke, his straunge worke, and bring to passe his acte, his straunge acte.

22 Now therefore, see that ye be no mockers, least your punishment increase: for I heard of the Lord of hostes, that there shall come a short end vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and hearkē vnto my voyce, consider and ponder my speach.

24 Dothe not the husbandman plow all the daye, and openeth and breaketh the clottes of his ground, that he may sowe?

25 When he hath made it playne, wil he not spread abroade the Fitches, and sowe Commin, and cast in Wheate by measure, and the appoynted Barley and Rye in their place?

26 God will instruct him to haue discretion, euen his God will teach him.

27 For Fitches shall not be threshed with an harrowe, neyther shall a carte wheele bee brought through the Commin: but the Fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and Commin with a rod.

28 But the seede that bread is made of, is threshed, though it be not alway a threshing, and the cart wheele must be brought ouer it, least he grind it with his teeth. E

29 This also commeth of the Lord of hostes, which worketh with wonderfull wisedome, and bringeth excellent workes to passe.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynst Hierusalem. 13. and agaynst the vayne traditions of men.

1 WO vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou citie that Dauid dwelte in: Goe on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be slayne. I 2.Reg.5.b.

2 I will lay siege vnto Ariel, so that there shall be heauinesse and sorrowe in it: and it shall be vnto me euen an aulter of slaughter.

3 I will besiege thee round about, and fighte against thee through a Bulwarke, and will reare vp ditches against thee.

4 Thou shalt be brought downe, and shalte speake out of the ground, and thy speach shal goe lowe out of the dust: Thy voyce also shall come out of the grounde lyke the voyce of a witch, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust:

5 Moreouer, the noyse of the straunge enimies shall be lyke the thinne dust, and the multitude of tyrantes shall be as dry straw that can not tarie: euen sodaynely and in hast shall their blast goe. Psal.1.b.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, earthquake, and with a greate noyse, with storme and tempest, & with the flame of a consuming fyre.

7 And the multitude of all nations that fight agaynst Ariel, shall be as a dreame seene by night: euen so shall they be that make warre against it, and strong holdes to ouercome it, and that lay any siege vnto it. B Psal.83.c.

8 In conclusion, it shall be euen as when a hungry man dreameth that he is eating, and when he awaketh his soule is empty: or as when a thirſtie man dreameth that hee is drinking, and when hee awaketh, he is yet faintie, and his ſoule hathe appetite: euen ſo ſhall the multitude of all nations bee that fighteth againſt mount Sion.

9 Ponder theſe thinges once in your mindes, and wonder: Blinded are they them ſelues, and the blind guides of other: they are drunken, but not with wyne: they are vnſtable, but not through ſtrong drinke.

10 For the Lorde hathe couered you with a ſlumbring ſpirite, and hath cloſed your eyes:
your prophetes alſo and rulers that ſhoulde ſee, them hath he couered.

11 And the viſion of al the prophets is become vnto you as the wordes of a booke that is ſealed vp, which me deliuer to one that is learned, ſaying, Read thou in it: and he ſaythe, I cannot, for it is ſealed.

12 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, ſaying, Reade thou in it: & he ſayth,
I am not learned.

13 Therefore thus hath the Lorde ſayde, Forſomuch as this people when they be in trouble, do honour me with their mouth, & with their lyppes, but their hart is farre from me, and the feare which they haue vnto me proceedeth of a commaundement that is taught of men:

14 Therefore will I doe marueyles among thys people, euen marueylous thynges (I ſaye) and a wonder: For the wyſedome of their wiſe men ſhall periſhe, and the vn-derſtanding of theyr wittie men ſhall hyde it ſelfe.

15 Woe vnto them that keepe ſecrete theyr thoughtes, to hide their counſayle from the Lorde, and to doe theyr workes in darke-neſſe, ſaying, Who ſeeth vs? And who knoweth vs?

16 Doubtleſſe your deſtruction is in reputation as the potters clay: And doth the work ſaye of him that made it, He made not me?
And doth an earthen veſſell ſaye of him that faſhioned it, He had no vnderſtanding.

17 Is it not harde at hande that Libanus ſhall be turned into a lowe fielde, and that the lowe fielde ſhalbe taken as the wood?

18 And in that day ſhall deafe men heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blind ſhall ſee, euen oute of the cloude, and out of darkneſſe.

19 The meeke ſpirited alſo ſhalbe merrie in the Lord, and the poore among them that be lowly, ſhall reioice in ỹ holy one of Iſrael:

20 For he that dyd violence, is brought to nought, and the ſcorneful man is conſumed, and they rooted out that made haſt early to vnrighteouſneſſe,

21 Making a man to ſinne in the worde, and that toke him in a ſnare, whiche reproued the in the open place, and they that haue turned the cauſe of the righteous to nought.

22 Therfore thus ſayth the Lord to the houſe of Iacob, euen thus ſaythe he that redeemed Abraham: Iacob ſhal not now be confounded, nor his face pale.

23 But when he ſeeth his children, the worke of my handes, in the middeſt of him, they ſhall ſanctifie my name, and prayſe the holy one of Iacob, and feare the God of Iſrael.

24 They alſo that haue bin of an erronious ſpirite, ſhall come to vnderſtanding, and they that haue bin ſcorneſull, ſhal learne doctrine.

The.xxx.Chapter.

1. Againſt them that forſake the counſayle of God, and cleaue to the counſayle of men. 3. The prophet alſo threatneth the remnaunt of the people, that after the deſtruction of Hieruſalem went into Egypt.

1 WAs for thoſe diſobedient children, ſayth the Lorde, that they will take counſayle, and not of me, that they will take a ſecrete aduice, and not out of my ſpirite, and therfore adde they ſinne vnto ſinne.

2 Euen they that walke to goe downe into Egypt, and haue aſked no queſtion at my mouth, but ſeeke ſtrengthe in the might of Pharao, and truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefore ſhall the ſtrength of Pharao be your confuſion, and the truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt your ſhame.

4 For his captaynes were at Zoan, and his embaſſadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were aſhamed of the people that coulde doe them no good, and that myghte not helpe them, nor ſhewe them any profite, but were their confuſion and rebuke.

6 The burden of the beaſts of the South. In a land of trouble and anguiſh, from whence ſhall come the yong and olde Lion, the Viper and fierie Serpent that fleeth againſte them that vpon Coltes beare their riches, and vppon Camelles their treaſures, to a people that can do them no good.

7 For vayne and nothing worth ſhal the help of the Egyptians be: therefore haue I cryed vnto Hieruſalem, they ſhall haue ſtrength ynough, if they will ſettle their myndes in quietneſſe.

8 Now therefore goe thy way, and write this before them in a table, and note it in a booke: that it may hynally remayne, and be kept ſtil for euer.

9 For this is an obſtinate people, and diſsembling children, children that refuse to heare the lawe of the Lorde.

10 For they say vnto the seers, See not: and to them that be cleare of iudgement, Looke not out right thynges for vs: but speake fayre wordes vnto vs, looke out errours.

11 Get you out of this way, departe out of thys pathe, and turne the holy one of Israel from vs.

12 Wherefore thus sayth the holy one of Israel, Bycause your hartes rise agaynste thys worde, and bycause you trust in wrong dealing, and peruerse iudgement, and put youre confidence therein:

13 Therefore shall ye haue this mischiefe for youre destruction and fall, lyke as an hygh wall that falleth bicause of some ryft or blast, whose breaking commeth sodainely.

C 14 And the hurt thereof, is like an earthen vessel which breaketh without helpe, so that in the bursting of it, there is not found one shiuer to fetch fire in, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus sayth the Lord God, euen the holy one of Israell, In repentaunce, and in rest shall yee be safe, in quietnesse and sure confidence shal be your strength, but ye haue had no lust thereto.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we will escape vpon horses, therefore shal ye flee: and we will get vs vp vpon swift beasts, and therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of fyue shall ye all flee, till ye bee left as a ship mast vppon the top of a mountayne, and as a beakon vpon an hyll.

18 Therefore dothe the Lorde cause you to wayte, that he may haue mercy vpon you, to the intent that he may haue the preeminence when he is gratious vnto you: for the Lorde is the God of iudgement, Blessed are al they that hope in him.

19 If the people remayne in Sion, and at Hierusalem, thou shalt not be in beauinesse: but at the voyce of thy complainte shall he haue mercy vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he shall giue thee an answer.

20 And though the Lorde giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduersitie, thy rayne shall be no more so scante, but thyne eyes shall see thy rayne.

D 21 Yea and thine eare shall heare the talking of hym that dothe speake behynde thee: this is the way, walke ye in it, turne not abyde, neyther to the right hande, nor to the lefte.

22 Ye shall destroy also the couering of your syluer images, and the decking of your golden idols, euen as filthynesse shalt thou put them away: And thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shal God giue rayne vnto thy seede, that thou shalt sow the ground withall, and bread, of the increase of the earth, which shal be fat, and very plenteous: in that day also shall thy cattell be fedde in large pastures.

24 The Oxen likewise, and the young Asses that eare the grounde, shall eate cleane prouender, whiche is pourged with the winde, and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountayne and hyll, shall there bee riuers, and streames of waters, in ỳ day of the great slaughter, when the towres fall. 2. Pet. 3. b.

26 Moreouer, the lyght of the moone shall be as the light of the sunne, and the sunne light shall be seuen fold, and haue as much shyne as in seuen days beside, when the Lord bindeth vp the sore of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wounde.

27 Beholde, the fame of the Lorde commeth from farre, and his presence is so hot, that no man is able to abyde: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tong is a consumyng fyre.

28 His breath is a behement flood of water, E that reacheth vp to the necke, that he may syft away the Heathen in the sive of vanitie: and his breath is a brydle of errour in the iawes of the people.

29 And ye shall syng, lyke as in the nighte, when the holy solemnitie beginneth, and ye shall haue gladnes of hearte, lyke as when one commeth with a pype vnto the hil of the lord, and to the most mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shall cause hys glorious voyce to be heard, and shal declare his stretched out arme, with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of consumyng fyre, with noisome lightning, with a showre, and with haylestones.

31 For thyough the voyce of the Lorde, shall Assur be destroyed, whiche smote other men with the rod. Esai. 10. a.

32 And it shall come to passe, that whether so euer he goeth, the rod shall cleane vnto hym, whiche the Lorde shall lay vpon him, with Tabrets and Harpes: and with great warre shall he fight against his host.

33 For the fyre of hell is ordeyned from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: This hath the Lord set in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning whereof is fyre and muche wood: the breathe of the Lorde, whiche is lyke a riuer of brymstone, dothe kyndle it. Mat. 25. b.

The.xxxi.Chapter.

He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeeke for the help of men.

A 1 WO be vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and truſt in horſes, and put their confidence in charrets, becauſe they be many, and in horſemen, becauſe they be luſty and ſtrong: but they regard not the holy one of Iſrael, and they aſke no queſtion at the Lord.

2 And he neuertheleſſe is wiſe, and will plage the wicked, and goeth not from his worde, hee will ariſe agaynſte the houſholde of the frowarde, and agaynſte the helpe of euill doers.

3 Nowe the Egyptians are men, and not God: and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirite: and as ſoone as the Lorde ſtretcheth out hys hande, then ſhall the helper fall, and he that ſhould haue bin helped, and they ſhall altogether be deſtroyed.

Apoc.5.a. Gen.49.b. 4 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken vnto mee: lyke as the Lion and Lions whelpe roareth vpon the pray that he hath gotten and is not afrayde though the multitude of ſhepheards crye out vppon him, neyther be abaſhed for all the braye of them: ſo ſhall the Lorde of hoſts come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defend his hil.

Deut.32.d. 5 Like as the byrds flutter about their neſtes, ſo ſhall the Lorde of hoſtes keepe, ſaue, defend and deliuer Hieruſalem.

6 Therefore, O ye children of Iſraell, turne agayne vnto him whome you haue oftentimes forſaken.

B 7 For in that daye euery man ſhall caſt oute his idols of ſyluer, and his idols of golde, which ye haue made with your owne hands vnto your ſinne.

Eſai.2.c. 8 Aſſur alſo ſhall be ſlaine with the ſworde, not with a mans ſworde, neyther ſhall the ſword of any man deuoure him, and he ſhall flee from the ſlaughter, and his cheyſe yong men ſhalbe diſcomfited.

Eſai.37.c. 9 He ſhall goe for feare to his ſtrong holdes, and his princes ſhall flee from his ſtanderde, ſayth the Lorde, whoſe fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hieruſalem.

The.xxxij.Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

A 1 BEholde, a king ſhall gouerne after the rule of righteouſneſſe, and the princes ſhall rule according to the ballaunce of equitie.

2 And that man ſhalbe vnto me as a defence for the wynde, and as a refuge for the tempeſt, lyke as a riuer of water in a thirſtie place, and the ſhadowe of a great rocke in a drie lande.

3 The eyes of the ſeeing ſhall not be dimme, and the eares of them that heare, ſhall take diligent heede.

4 The hart of the vnwiſe ſhall attayne to knowledge, and the vnperfect tong ſhall ſpeake playnely and diſtinctly.

5 Then ſhall the foliſh niggard be no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the niggarde will ſpeake niggardly, and his hart will worke euil, and playe the hypocrite, and imagine abhominations againſt God, to make the hungry leare, and to withholde drinke from the thirſtie.

B 7 The weapons of the churliſh are euill, he deuiſeth noyſome deuiſes, that hee maye beguile the poore with deceitfull words, yea euen there as he ſhoulde giue ſentence with the poore.

Pro.17.b. 8 But the liberall perſon imagineth honeſt things and commeth vp for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 Vp ye rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voyce, ye careleſſe daughters marke my wordes.

10 Many yeeres and days ſhalbe brought in feare, O ye careleſſe women: for the vintage ſhall fayle, and the harueſt ſhall not come.

11 Beye abaſhed you that liue in abundance, tremble you careleſſe, caſt off your rayment, make your ſlues bare, and put ſackcloth about you.

12 For as the infants weepe when their mothers teates are dryed vp: ſo ſhall you weepe for youre fayre feeldes, and fruiteſull vineyardes.

13 My peoples feelde ſhall bring thornes and thyſtles, and ſo ſhall it be in euery houſe of voluptuouſneſſe, and in euery citie that reioyceth.

C 14 The palaces alſo ſhall be broken, and the greatly occupied cities deſolate: the towres and bulwarkes ſhall become dennes for euermore, where wilde Aſſes take their pleaſure, and ſheepe their paſture:

15 Vnto the time that the ſpirite be powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wilderneſſe be a fruiteful fielde, and the plentious fielde be reckoned for a wood.

16 Then ſhall equitie dwell in the deſert, and righteouſneſſe in a fruiteſull lande.

Rom.5.a. 17 And the worke of righteouſneſſe ſhall be peace, and hir fruite reſt and quietneſſe for euer.

18 And

18 And my people shal dwel in the inues of peace and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.

19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shalbe set lowe in the valley.

20 O howe happye shall ye be when ye shall safely sowe your seede beside all waters, and dryue thyther the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The.xxxiij.Chapter.

. Threatning against the Assyrians. 20. A destruction of them that shal see the Lord.

1 WO to thee that destroyest when thou wast not destroyed, thou breakest the league, whereas none hathe broken it with thee: for when thou shalt leaue destroying, thou thy selfe shalt be destroyed: and when thou ceasest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.

2 O Lorde haue mercy vpon vs, we haue put our whole trust in thee: be an arme to suche early, and our health in the time of trouble.

3 At that confuse noyse the people fledde, and at thyne exalting, the heathen were scattred.

4 And the spoyles shall be gathered, whiche shal be yours, as are the gathering of Buchus, and the multitude going to it, shal be as Locustes running to and fro.

5 The Lord is exalted for it is he that dwelleth on high, he hath fylled Sion w̄ iudgement, and righteousnesse.

6 And a sure stablishing of thy times shal be strength, health, wysdome, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lorde shall be the treasure of it.

7 Behold, the messengers shal crie without: and the embassadours of peace shall weepe bytterly.

8 Their streetes are wast, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the apoyntment, the cities are cast away, and men are nothing regarded.

9 The desolate earth is in heauinesse, Libanus is shamed and hewen downe, Saron is like a wildernesse, Basan and Charmel are spoyled of their fruites.

10 And therefore sayth the Lorde, I will vp nowe, nowe will I be aduaunced, nowe will I be exalted.

11 Ye shall conceiue stubble, and beare straw: and your spirite shal be the fyre, that it may consume you.

12 And the people shal be burnt lyke lime and as thornes burnt, that are hewen of and cast in the fyre.

13 Nowe hearken to, ye that are farre of how I haue done, and consider my power ye that are at hande.

14 The sinners at Sion are afrayde, a suddayne fearefulnesse is come vpon the hypocrites: What is he among vs say they, that shall dwell by the consuming fyre? Whiche of vs may abyde the euerlasting heate?

15 He that leadeth a godly lyfe, and speaketh the truthe, he that abhorreth gaynes by violence and deceit, he that kepeth his hand that he touche no rewarde, whiche stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsel against the innocent bloud, which holdeth downe his eyes that he see no euil: Psal.14.a. and.23.a.

16 He it is that shall dwel on hygh, whose safegard shall be in a bulwarke of rockes: to him shal be giuen meat, and his waters shal not fayle.

17 Thyne eyes shall see the king in his glorye, euen the king of the farre countries shal they see.

18 Thyne harte studyed for feare, thinking thus: What shal then become of the scribe? for the receiuer of our money? what of him that tared our fayrest houses? 1.Cor.2.

19 There shalt thou not see a cruell people of a straunge tong, to haue so diffused a language that it may not be vnderstanded, neither so straunge a speache but it shal be perceiued.

20 Loke vpon Sion the heade citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remoue whose nayles shall neuer bee taken oute worlde without ende, whose cordes euery one shal neuer corrupt. Heb.9.d.

21 For the glorious maiestie of the Lord shal there be present among vs, as a place where fayre brode riuers and streames are, through the whiche shall neyther galey rowe, nor great ship sayle.

22 For the Lorde is our iudge, the Lord is our lawe giuer, the Lord is our king, and he him selfe shalbe our sauiour. Iacob.4.c.

23 Thy tackling is losed, therefore it can not make fast the mast, nor spreade the saile: then there is dealed great spoyle, yea lame men runne after the pray.

24 There lyeth no mā that sayth, I am sycke: but all euill is taken away from the people that dwell there.

The.xxxiiij.Chapter.

The last destruction of the synagogue, in whiche the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Churche and congregation of Christ.

1 COme ye heathen, and heare, take heede you people: hearken thou earth, and all that is therin, thou round compaſſe, and all that dwelleth therupon.

2 For the Lord is angry with all people, and his diſpleaſure is kindled againſt al the multitude of them, he hath deſtroyed them, and deliuered them to the ſlaughter.

3 So that their ſlayne ſhall bee caſt out, and their bodyes ſhal ſtincke, that euen the very hilles ſhal be wet with the bloud of them.

4 All the ſtarres of heauen ſhall waſte, and the heauens ſhal fold together like a role, and all the ſtarres thereof ſhall fall, like as the leaues fall from the vines and fig trees.

5 For my ſworde ſhal be bathed in heauen, and ſhal immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue curſed.

6 And the Lords ſworde ſhal be full of bloud, and be ruſtie with the fatneſſe and bloud of lambes and goates, with the fatneſſe of the kydneyes of weathers: For the Lorde ſhall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great ſlaughter in the lande of Idumea.

7 There ſhall the Unicornes fall with them, and the Bulles with the Giants, and their lande ſhall be throughly ſoked with bloud, and their ground corrupt with fatneſſe.

8 For it is the (a) day of Gods vengeãce, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion.

9 And his ſtouddes ſhall be turned to pitche, and his earth to brymſtone, & therwith ſhall the lande be kindled.

10 So that it ſhall not be quenched day nor night, but ſmoke euermore, and ſo forth lye waſt: and no mã ſhal go through it forever.

11 But Pellicanes, Storkes, great Owles, and Rauens ſhall haue it in poſſeſſion, and dwel therin: for God ſhal ſpread out the line of deſolatiõ vpõ it, & ẏ ſtones of emptineſſe.

12 Hir nobles ſhall cal, and there is no kingdome, and all hir princes ſhal be nothing.

13 Thornes ſhall growe in their palaces, nettles and thiſtles in their ſtrong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleaſure therein, and that they may be a court for Eſtriches.

14 There ſhal ſtraunge biſtures and monſterous beaſtes meete one another, and the wild kepe company together: there ſhal ẏ Lamia lye and haue hir lodging.

15 There ſhal the Owle make hir neſt build, be there at home, and bring forth hir young ones: there ſhall the Kites come together, eache one to his like.

16 Seeke through the booke of the Lorde, and reade it: there ſhall none of theſe thinges be left out, ther ſhal not one nor ſuch like fayle: for his mouth commaundeth, and that ſame doth his ſpirit gather together, or fulfyl.

17 He hath caſt the lot for them, and to thoſe beaſtes hath his hand diuided it by the line, therefore thoſe ſhall poſſeſſe it for euer, from generation to generation ſhall they dwell therein.

Of the time and kingdome of Chriſt.

1 BVt (a) the deſert and wildernes ſhal reioyce, the waſt ground ſhal be glad and floriſhe as the Lillie.

2 She ſhall floriſhe pleaſantly, and be ioyful, and euer be giuing thankes more and more: For the glorye of Libanus, the beautie of Charmel and Saron ſhalbe giuen hir: theſe ſhall knowe the honour of the Lord, and the maieſtie of our God.

3 And therfore (b) ſtrength the weake hands, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are of a fearefull hart, be of good cheare and feare not, beholde, your God commeth to take vengeaunce, and you ſhal ſee therewarde that God giueth: God commeth his own ſelfe, and wil deliuer you.

5 Then ſhal the eyes of the blind be lightned, and the eares of the deafe opened.

6 Then ſhal the lame men leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tong ſhal giue thanks: for in ẏ wildernes there ſhal welles ſpring, and ſtouddes of water in the deſert.

7 The dry grounde ſhall turne to riuers, and the thyrſtie to ſpings of water: whereas dragons dwelt afore, there ſhal growe ſweet flowres, and greene rushes.

8 There ſhall bee ſuch pathes and common ſtreetes, this ſhal be called the holy way: no vncleane perſone ſhal goe through it, for the Lord him ſelfe ſhal goe with them that way, and the wayfayrer nor ignorant ſhal not erre.

9 There ſhall be no Lion, and no rauiſhing beaſtes ſhall come therein, nor be there, but men redeemed ſhal goe there free and ſafe.

10 And the redeemed of the Lord, I ſay, ſhall conuert and come to Sion with thankeſgiuing: euerlaſting ioy ſhal they haue, pleaſure and gladneſſe ſhall be among them, and as for all ſorow and heauyneſſe, it ſhall vaniſh.

strong cities of Juda, to conquere them.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsakeh from Lachis towarde Jerusalem, against Hezekias, with an exceeding host, whiche sette him by the conduite of the ouer powle, in the waye that goeth through the Fullers lande.

3 And so there came forth vnto him Eliakim Helkias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs son the secretarie:

4 And Rabsakeh said vnto them, Tel Hezekias that the great king sayth thus vnto him: What presūptiō is this ẏ thou trustest vnto?

5 I sayde surely that thou trustest in vayne wordes, when counsell and strength are necessary to battayle: but nowe wherto trustest thou, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou puttest thy trust in a broken staffe of reede (I meane) Egypt, whiche hee that leaneth vpon, it goeth into his hande, and thooteth it through: euen so is Pharao the king of Egypt vnto all thē that trust in him:

7 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, Wee trust in the Lord our God: Is not he that God whose high places and aulters Hezekias toke downe, and cōmaunded Juda and Jerusalē to worship only before this aulter?

8 Nowe therefore deliuer host ages, that thou rebel no more against my Lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will giue thee two thousande horses, if thou be able to set men vpon them.

9 Howe darest thou resyst the power of the smallest prince that my Lord hath? how darest thou trust in the charrets and horsemen of Egypt?

10 Moreouer, thynkest thou that I am come vp hither to destroy this lande without the Lords wil? The Lord sayde vnto me, Goe vp against this lande, and destroy it.

11 Then sayd Eliakim, Sobna, and Joah vnto Rabsakeh: Speake to vs thy seruantes, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderstande it wel, and speake not to vs in the Iewes tong, lest the folke heare which syt vpon the wal.

12 Then answered Rabsakeh: Hath my master sent me to speake this only to thy maister and thee? hath he not sent me to them also that lie vpon the wall? that they may be compelled to eate their owne doung, and drinke their own stale with you?

13 And Rabsakeh stoode stiffe, and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes tong, and sayd, Nowe take heede how the great king of the Assyrians giueth you warning.

C 14 Thus sayth the king, Let not Hezekia deceiue you, for hee shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreouer, let not Hezekia comfort you in the Lord when he sayth, The Lord without doubt shal defende vs, & shal not giue ouer this citie into ẏ hāds of ẏ king of ẏ Assyriās.

16 Hearken not to Hezekia, for thus saith the king of Assyria: Obtayn my fauour, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyardes and fig trees, and drink the water of his cesterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my selfe, and bring you into a land that is like your own, wherein is wheate & wine, which is both sowen with seed, and planted with vineyards.

18 Let not Hezekia deceiue you, whē he saith vnto you, The Lord shal deliuer vs: Might the gods of the Gentiles keepe euery mans land fro the power of ẏ king of ẏ Assyrians.

19 Wher is the god of Hemath and Arphad? where is the god of Sepharnaim? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of al the gods of these lands hath deliuered their countrie out of my power? Is the Lorde in deede able to deliuer Jerusalem from my hand?

21 Unto this Hezekias messengers held their tongs, & answered not one word: for the king had charged them that they should giue him no answere. D

22 So came Eliakim Helkias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs son the secretarie, vnto Hezekia with rente clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabsakeh.

The.xxxvij.Chapter.

1. Hezekia humbleth him selfe before the Lord. 36. The armie of Sennacherib is slayne of the angel of the Lord, 38. and he him selfe is killed of his owne sonnes.

1 WHen Hezekia heard that, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the temple of the Lord. A

2 But he sent Eliakim the chiefe ouer the houshold, & Sobna the scribe, with the eldest priestes clothed in sacke, vnto the prophet Esay the sonne of Amos. 4.Re.19.a.

3 And they sayde vnto him, Thus sayth Hezekia: This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemie: for the chyldren are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth. Jonas.3.a.

4 The Lord thy God (no doubt) hath well considered the wordes of Rabsakeh, whō his lord king of ẏ Assyrians hath sent to defye & blaspheme the liuing God, with such wordes as the Lorde thy God hath heard right wel: & therfore lift vp thy prayer for the remnant that are yet left.

5 So

5 So the ſeruantes of the king Hezekia came to Eſai,

6 And Eſai gaue them this aunſwere: Say thus vnto your lord, Thus ſaith the Lord, Be not afrayde of the wordes that thou haſt heard, wherewith the king of the Aſſyrians ſeruauntes haue blaſphemed me.

B 7 Behold, I will rayſe vp a winde againſt him, and he ſhall heare a rumour, and he ſhal goe agayne into his countrey, there will I deſtroy him with the ſworde in his owne lande.

Eſai.31.b.

3.Re.23.c. 8 Now when Rabſaketh returned, he found the king of Aſſyria laying ſiege to Libnas: for he had vnderſtanding that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And there came a rumour that Tharakas king of Ethiopia was come forth to warre againſt him: and when the king of Aſſyria heard that, he ſent other meſſengers to kyng Hezekia with this commaundement, 10 Say thus to Hezekia king of Juda, Let not thy God deceiue thee, in whom thou hopeſt, and ſayeſt Jeruſalem ſhal not be giuen into the handes of the king of Aſſyria.

11 For loe, thou knoweſt well how the kings of Aſſyria haue handled all the landes that they haue ſubuerted: and hopeſt thou to eſcape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whom myne progenitours conquered, deliuered at any time through their goddes? (As namely) Goſan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were at Thalaſſar?

3.R.17.a.

13 Wher is the king of Hemath, and the king of Arphad, and the kyng of the citie Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iua?

C 14 Nowe when Hezekia had receiued the letter of the meſſengers, and read it, he went vp into the houſe of the Lorde, and opened the letter before the Lord,

15 And Hezekia prayed vnto the Lord (on this manner.)

16 O Lorde of hoſtes, thou God of Iſrael, whiche dwelleſt vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that only is God of all the kingdomes of the world, for thou only haſt created heauen and earth.

Exod.25.c.

Gene.1.a.

Baruc.1.c. 17 Encline thyne eare Lord and conſider, open thyne eyes Lord and ſee, and ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, whiche hath ſent his embaſſage to blaſpheme the liuyng God.

18 It is true, O Lorde, that the kinges of Aſſyria haue conquered all kingdomes and landes, 19 And caſt theyr gods, in the fyre: for thoſe were no gods, but the workes of mēs hands, of wood, or ſtone, therfore haue they deſtroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore delyuer vs, O Lord our God, from the handes of Sennacherib that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe that thou only art the Lord.

21 Then Eſai the ſonne of Amos ſente vnto Hezekia, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael: Whereas thou haſte made thy prayer vnto mee as touching Sennacherib the king of Aſſyria, D

22 This is the aunſwere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: Deſpiſed art thou, and mocked, O daughter Sion, he hath ſhaken his heade at thee, O daughter of Jeruſalem.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whom haſt thou defyed and blaſphemed? Againſt whom haſt thou lyfted vp thy voyce, and exalted thy proude lokes? euen againſt the holy one of Iſrael.

Zach.2.b. Pſal.25.d. Iſay.5.c.

24 Thou w̄ thy ſeruants haſt blaſphemed the Lord, and thus holdeſt thou of thy ſelfe, I wil couer the high mountaines and ſides of Libanus with my hoſtemen, and there will I cutte downe the high Cedar trees, and the faireſt Fyre trees: I wil vp in the height of it, and into the chiefeſt of his timber woodes.

25 If there be no water, I will graue and drinke: and as for waters of defence, I wil drye them vp with the ſoote of myne hoſt.

26 Yea, haſt thou not heard what I haue taken in hande and brought to paſſe of olde time? That ſame will I do nowe alſo, and walſte, deſtroy, and bring ſtrong cities vnto heapes of ſtones.

27 For their inhabitours ſhall bee like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they ſhal be like graſſe and greene herbes in the field, like the hay vpon the houſe tops, that withereth before it be growen vp. E

28 I knowe thy wayes, thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy madneſſe againſt me.

29 Therefore thy furiouſneſſe againſt me, and thy pryde is come before me, I will put my ring in thy noſe, and my bridle byt in the iawes of thee, and turne thee about euen the ſame way thou cameſt.

30 I wil giue thee alſo this toke̅, (O Hezekia) this yeere ſhalt thou eate ſuche as groweth of it ſelfe, and the ſeconde yeere that whiche ſpringeth againe of the ſame, & in the third yeare ye ſhall ſowe and reape, yea yet ſhall plant vineyards, and enioy the fruites therof.

31 And ſuche of the houſe of Juda as are eſcaped, ſhall come together, and the remnant ſhall take rote beneath, and bring forth fruite aboue,

32 For the eſcaped ſhall goe out of Jeruſalē, and the remnaunt from the mount Sion: and this ſhal the zeale of the Lorde of hoſtes bring bying to passe.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lorde concerning the king of the Assyrians: He shall not come into this citie, and shal shoote no arrow into it, there shall no shield hurt it, neyther shall they cast dytches about it.

34 The same way he came, he shal returne, and not come at this citie, sayth the Lord.

35 And I wil keepe and saue this citie (saith he) for myne owne and for my seruaunt Dauids sake.

36 Thus the angel of the Lord went forth, and slue of the Assyrians hoste an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand: and when men arose vp early in the morning, beholde they were slayne, and all lay full of dead bodyes.

37 So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake vp, and dwelt at Niniue.

38 Afterward it chaunced, as he prayed in the temple of Nesroch his god, that Adramalech and Sarasar, his owne sonnes, slue him with the sword, and fled into the lande of Armenia: and Asarhaddon his sonne raigned in his steede.

The.xxxviij. Chapter.

1. Hezekia is sicke vnto death, 5. but is yet reuiued by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after, 10. for which benefite he giueth thankes.

1 ABout this tyme was Hezekia sycke vnto death, and the prophet Esai the sonne of Amos came vnto him, and sayde, Thus commaundeth the Lord: Set thine house in order, for thou must dy, and shalt not escape.

2 Then Hezekia turned his face toward the wal and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And saide, Remember, O Lord, I beseech thee, that I haue walked before thee in truth and a stedfast hearte, and haue done the thing that is pleasant vnto thee. And Hezekia wept sore.

4 Then sayde God vnto Esai,

5 Goe and speake vnto Hezekia: The Lord God of Dauid thy father sendeth thee this worde, I haue heard thy prayer, and consydered thy teares: beholde, I wil put fyftene yeeres moe vnto thy lyfe,

6 And deliuer thee and the citie also from the hand of the king of Assyria: for I will defende the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lorde, that he wil do it as he hath spoken.

8 Beholde, I will returne the shadowe of Ahaz dial that nowe is layde out with the sunne, and bring it ten degrees backwarde: So the sunne turned ten degrees backward, the which he was descended afore.

9 A thankesgiuing whiche Hezekia king of Iuda wrote, when he had bin sicke, and was recouered.

10 I thought I should haue gone to the gates of hel when mine age was shortened, and haue wanted the residue of my yeeres.

11 I spake within my selfe, I will neuer visite the Lorde (the Lord I say) in this life: I will neuer see man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Myne age is folden together, and taken away from me like a shepheardes cotage, I haue hewen off my life by my sinnes, like as a Weauer cutteth off his webbe: Hee will with pyning sickenesse make an ende of me yea, he wil make an ende of me in one day.

13 I thought I woulde haue liued vntil the morow, but he bruised my bones like a Lion, & in one day thou wilt make an ende of me. Iob.4.b.

14 Then chattered I like a swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Doue, I lifte vp myne eyes into the heyght: O Lord (sayde I) my sickenesse keepeth mee downe, ease thou me. C

15 What shall I say? The Lord hath made a promise to me, yea, and he him selfe hath performed it: I shal therfore so long as I liue, remember this bitternesse of my life.

16 O Lord, to al those that shall liue hereafter, yea, to all men shal it be knowen, that euen in those yeeres I haue a ioyful life, and that it was thou that causedst me to sleepe, agayne thou hast giuen lyfe to me.

17 Beholde, bitter as gall was my penfulnesse, so sore longed I for health, and it was thy pleasure to deliuer my life, from the fylthie pit: for thou it is (O Lorde) that hast cast all my sinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For hell prayseth not thee, death dothe not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue prayse not thy truth: Psal.6.a. and.115.b.

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledge thee, as I do this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulnesse.

20 To heale me it is the Lordes worke, and we will sing my songs in the house of the Lord al the dayes of our life. Luk.1.g.

21 And Esai saide, Take a plaster of figs and lay it vpon the sore, so shal it be whole.

22 Then sayd Hezekia, O what a myracle is this, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?

The.xxxix. Chapter.

3. Hezekia is reproued of Esai, bycause he shewed his treasure vnto the embassadours of Babilon.

1 At

A 1 AT the ſame time Merodach Baladan,
4.Re.20.c. Baladans ſonne king of Babylon, ſent letters and preſentes to Hezekia: for he vnderſtode that he had bin ſycke, and was recouered againe.

2.Par.32.c. 2 And Hezekia was glad thereof, and ſhewed them the houſe of his treaſures of ſiluer and gold, of ſpices, and oxtes, of precious oyles, and all that was in his cupbozds and treaſure houſes: there was not one thing in Hezekias houſe, and ſo throughout al his kingdome, but he let them ſee it.

3 Then came Eſai the prophet to king Hezekia, and ſayde vnto him, What haue the men ſayd, and from whence came they vnto thee? Hezekia aunſwered, They came out of a far countrey vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Eſai ſayd, What haue they loked vpon in thy houſe? Hezekia anſwered, All that is in my houſe haue they ſeene, and there is nothing in my treaſure but I ſhewed it them.

5 Then ſayde Eſai vnto Hezekia, Underſtand the word of the Lord of hoſtes:

4.Re.24.c. 6 Behold, the time wil come, that euery thing which is in thine houſe, and all that thy progenitours haue layde vp in ſtore vntil this day, ſhal be caried to Babylon, and nothing left behinde, thus ſayth the Lord.

B 7 Yea and part of thy ſonnes that ſhall come of thee, and whom thou ſhalt beget, ſhall be caryed hence, and become gelded chamberlaynes in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then ſayde Hezekia to Eſai, God is the worde of God which thou haſt told me, He ſayde moreouer, For there ſhall be peace and faithfulneſſe in my time.

The.xl.Chapter.

3. The comming of ſaint Iohn Baptiſt. 9. The preparation of the Apoſtles. 11. The calling of the Gentiles.

A 1 COmfort my people (O yee prophetes) comfort my people ſaith your God,

2 Comfort Jeruſalem at the hart, and tel hir ẏ hir trauaile is at an ende, that hir offence is pardoned, that ſhe hath receiued at the Lords hand ſufficient correction for al hir ſinnes.

Mark.1.a. of our God in the deſart.
Luk.3.a.
Iohn.1.c.
Eſai.47.c. 4 Al valleys ſhal be exalted, and euery mountayne and hil laide lowe: what ſo is croked ſhal be made ſtraight, and the rough ſhal be made playne.

Ioh.10.b. 5 For the glory of the Lord ſhall apeare, for al fleſhe ſhall at once ſee that the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

6 The ſame voyce ſpake: Now crye. And the prophet anſwered, What ſhall I crye? That all fleſhe is graſſe, and that all the goodlynes thereof is as the flowre of the field. Pſal.103.c. Iacob.1.c. 1.Pet.1.b.

7 The graſſe is withered, the flowre falleth away, for the breath of the Lord bloweth vpon them: of a truth the people are graſſe. Eccl.14.b. B

8 The graſſe withereth, and the flowre fadeth away: yet the worde of our God endureth for euer. Pſal.33. and.117.

9 Goe vp vnto the high hil, O Sion, thou that bringeſt good tyding, lift vp thy voyce with power, O thou preacher Jeruſalem, lift it vp without feare, and ſay vnto the cities of Juda: Beholde your God, 1.Pet.1.b. Iacob.1.b.

10 Behold, the Lorde God ſhall come with power, and ſhall of him ſelfe beare rule with his arme: behold his reward with him, and his workes before him.

11 Hee ſhal feede his flocke like an heardman, he ſhall gather the lambes together with his arme, and carie them in his boſome, and ſhal kindly entreate thoſe that beare yong.

12 Who hath meaſured the waters in his fyſt? who hath meaſured heauen with his ſpanne, and hath comprehended all the earth of the worlde in three meaſures? who hath weighed the mountaynes and hilles in a ballance?

13 Who hath directed the ſpirit of the Lord or Sapi.9.b. who gaue him counſel, and ſhewed him? Rom.11.b.

14 Who is of his counſel, and giueth him vnderſtanding, and hath taught him the path of iudgement? who taught him cunnyng, & opened to him the way of vnderſtanding? C

15 Behold, all people are in compariſon of him as a droppe of a bucket full, and are counted as the leaſt thing that the ballance weigheth: yea and the Iſles he taketh vp as a very little thing.

16 Libanus is not ſufficient to miniſter fyre to his offering, and al the beaſtes thereof are not ynough for one ſacrifice.

17 All people in compariſon of him are reckoned as nothing: if they be compared with him, leſſe than nothing, and as if that is not. Pſal.61.d.

18 To who then wil ye liken God? or what ſimilitude wil ye ſet vp to him?

19 Shall the caruer make him a carued image? And ſhall the goldſmith couer him with gold, or caſt him into a fourme of ſiluer plates?

20 Moreouer, ſhall the image maker, that the poore man which is diſpoſed may haue ſomething to ſet vp alſo, ſeeke out and chooſe a tree that is not rotten, and carue thereout an image that moueth not?

21 Knowe ye nothing? heard ye neuer of it? D hath it not bin preached vnto you ſince the beginning? haue ye not bin enfourmed of this by the foundation of the earth?

22 It is he that sitteth vpon the circle of the worlde, whose inhabiters are (in comparison of him) but as grashoppers: he spreadeth out the heauens as a couering, he stretcheth them out as a tent to dwel in.
23 He bringeth princes to nothing, and the iudges of the earth as though they were not.
24 So that of them it may be sayde, they be not planted nor sowen againe, neyther their stocke rooted againe in the earth: for as sone as he bloweth vpon them, they wither & fade away like the strawe in a whirle winde.
25 To whom nowe will yee liken me? and whom shal I be like, saith the holy one?
26 Lift vp your eyes on high, and consyder who hath made those things which come out by so great heapes, and he calleth them all by their names: there is nothing hidde from the greatnes of his power, strength, and might.
27 How may then Jacob thinke, or may Israel say, My wayes are hid from the Lord, and my God knoweth not of my iudgemēts?
28 Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard that the euerlasting God, the Lorde whiche made all the corners of the earth is neyther weerie nor fainte? and that his wisedome can not be comprehended?
29 It is he that giueth strength vnto ẏ weer-ie, and power vnto fayntie.
30 Children are weerie and faynte, and the strongest men fal:
31 But vnto them that haue their trust in the Lorde, shall strength be encreased: Eagles winges shall growe vpon them, when they runne they shall not fall, and when they goe they shal not be weerie.

The.xii.Chapter.

Of the goodnesse and mercie of God toward the people.

1 BE styl you (a) Ilandes, and hearken vnto me: let the people lay their strength together, let thē come hither, and then shewe their cause: we will goe to the lawe together.
2 Who raysed vp the (b) iust man from the East, and called him to goe forth? who cast downe the people, and subdued the kings before him? that he may throwe them all to the grounde with his sword, and scatter thē lyke stubble with his bowe.
3 He followeth vpon them, and goeth safely him selfe, and that in a way where before his fote had not troden.
4 Who hath made and created these things?
euen he that called the generations from the beginning, euen I the Lorde which am the first, and with the last.
5 The Iles sawe and did feare, and the ends of the earth were abashed, drewe nygh, and came hither. Esai.44.a. and.48.c. Apoc.1.b.
6 Euery man helped his neyghbour, and said to his brother, Be strong.

8 But thou Israel art my seruant, thou Ja-

9 Thou art he whome I led from the endes mong the glorious men of it, and sayde vn-thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Be not afrayde, for I am with thee: Melt not away as ware, for I am thy God to Esai.43.b. strength thee, helpe thee, and kepe thee with 11 Beholde, all they that resist thee shall come to confusion and shame, and thyne aduersaries shal be destroyed & brought to nought.

12 So that who so seeketh after thē, shall not find them, thy destroyers shal perishe: and so shal they ẏ vndertake to make battel against thee, be as ẏ is not, and as a thing of nought.
13 For I the Lorde thy God wil strengthen thy right hande, euen I that say vnto thee
Feare not, I will helpe thee.
14 Be not afrayde, thou little worme Jacob, and thou despised Israel: for I will helpe C thee, sayth the Lorde, and the holy one of Israel thy redeemer.
15 Beholde, I will make thee a treading cart, and a newe flayle, that ẏ mayest threshe and grynde the mountaynes, and bring the hilles to powder.
16 Thou shalte fanne them, and the winde shall carie them away, and the whirle wind shal scatter thē: but thou shalt reioyce in the lord, & shalt delight in ẏ holy one of Israel.
17 When the thirstie and poore seeke water, Gene.21.c.

of thirst, I giue it them, sayth the lord, I the God of Israel forsake them not.

19 I plant in the wast grounde trees of Cedar, Bore, Myrre, & Olines, and in the dry I set Fir trees, Elms, & Hawthornes, togith er.
20 All this do I, that they altogether maye see and marke, perceiue with their hartes, & consider that the hande of the Lorde maketh D these things, and that the holy one of Israel bringeth

bringeth them to paſſe.

D 21 Stande at your cauſe, ſayth the Lorde, and bring forth your ſtrongeſt grounde, ſayth the king of Iacob.

22 Let them bring forth their goddes, and let their goddes tell vs what ſhall chaunce hereafter, yea let them ſhewe vs the thinges that are paſt what they be, let them declare them vnto vs, that we may take them to hart and know them hereafter:

23 Eyther ſhewe vs things for to come, and tel vs what ſhal be done hereafter, ſo ſhal we knowe that ye are gods: do ſomething either good or bad, ſo wil we both knowledge the ſame and tel it out.

24 Beholde, yee are goddes of nought, and your making is of nought: yea abhominable is the man that hath choſen you.

Eſai.45.a. Cyrus. 25 Neuertheleſſe, I haue waked vp one frō the North, and he ſhal come from the Eaſt, he ſhal call vpon my name, and ſhall treade vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth downe the myre.

27 The firſt is he that ſhal ſay to Sion, Beholde, beholde, they are preſent: and to Ieruſalem it ſelfe will I giue an euangeliſt.

28 But when I conſyder, there is not a man among them, nor any that can giue counſel, nor that when I examine them can anſwere one worde.

29 Loe wicked are they, and vaine, with the thinges alſo that they take in hande, yea their Images are but wynde and vayne things.

The.xlij.Chapter.

The comming of Christ.

A 1 BEholde this is my ſeruant vpon whom I leane, my elect in whom my ſoule is pacified: I haue giuen my ſpirite vpon him, that he may ſhewe forth iudgement among the Gentiles. Mat.3.b.12. a.17.a.

2 He ſhal not be an outcryer, nor lyfte vp his voyce, his voyce ſhall not bee hearde in the ſtreetes.

3 And a bruiſed reede ſhall hee not breake, and the ſmoking flax ſhall bee not quench: but faythfully and truely ſhal he giue iudgement.

4 He ſhall not be penſiue nor careful, that hee may reſtore righteouſneſſe vnto the earthe: and the Gentiles alſo ſhall looke for his lawes.

5 For thus ſayth God the Lorde vnto him, Euen he that made the heauens, and ſpreade them abrode, and ſet forth the earth with his increaſe, which giueth breath vnto the people that is in it, and ſpirite to them that dwel therein. Eſai.40. and.44.a.

6 I the Lorde haue called thee in righteouſneſſe, and wil holde thee by the hande, and will alſo defende thee, and giue thee for a couenaunt of the people, to bee the lyght of the Gentiles. Eſai.49.a. Luke.2.c.

7 That thou maieſt open the eies of the blind, let out the priſoners from their bonds, and them that ſit in darkeneſſe out of the dungeon houſe. B Zach.9.b.

8 Euen I am the Lorde, and this is my name, and my glorie wil I giue to none other, neyther myne honour to grauen images. Pſal.150.a.

9 Behold olde thinges are come to paſſe, and new thinges do I declare, and or euer they come I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lorde a newe ſongue of thankeſgiuing, blowe out his prayſe from the ende of the worlde: they that bee vpon the ſea, and all that is therein prayſe him, the Iſles and they that dwel in them.

11 Let the wyldernelle, with the cities, lyft vp hir voyce, the townes alſo that they of Cedar dwel in: let them be glad that ſitte vpon rockes of ſtone, and let them crye downe from the high mountaynes, 12 Aſcribing glory vnto the Lord, and magnifying him among the Gentiles.

13 The Lord ſhall come forth like a Giant, and take a ſtomacke to him like a freſche man of warre: he ſhall roare and crye, and ouercome his enimies.

14 I haue long holden my peace (ſayth the Lord) (a) I haue bin ſtil, and refrayned my ſelfe, but nowe I wyll crye lyke a trauayling woman, and at once wil I deſtroy and deuoure. C a. Chriſt for a time deferreth, as it were with paine, to deliuerhis elect from the tirannie of Antechriſt, but at the time appointed, he will enforce him ſelfe, as a woman in hir trauaile, to deliuer his people.

15 I will make waſte both mountaine and hill, and drye vp euery greene thing that groweth thereon: I will dry vp the ſluddes to become Ilandes, and drinke vp the riuers.

16 I will bring the blinde into a ſtreete that they know not, and leade them into a ſote path that they are ignorant in: I ſhal make darkneſſe light before them, and the thing that is crooked to be ſtraight: Theſe thynges haue I done vnto them, and not forſaken them.

17 They are fallen backe, yea and let them be aſhamed earneſtly that hope in idolles, and ſay to the moulten images, Ye are our gods. Eſai.44.b.

18 Heare,

18 Heare Dye deafe men, and sharpen your eyes to see, O yee blynde.

19 Who is blynde but my seruaunt? or so deafe as (b) my messenger whom I sent vnto them? for who is so blinde as the perfect man, and so blinde as the Lords seruaunt?

20 Thou hast seene muche, and keepest nothing: the eares are open, & no man heareth.

21 The Lorde is mercifull vnto them for his righteousnesse sake, that his worde might be magnified and praysed:

22 (c) But the people them selues is robbed and troden vnder the foote, chayned in dungeons, and they al, I say, are shut into prison houses: they be caryed away captiue, and no mã doth lose thẽ: they be trodẽ vnder foot, & no man doth labour to bring thẽ againe, 23 But who is he among you that pondereth this, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come?

24 Who gaue Jacob to bee troden vnder foote, and Israel to be spoyled? Dyd not the Lord? Bycause we haue sinned against him, and haue had no delight to walke in his wayes, neither bin obedient vnto his lawe:

25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his wrathfull displeasure and strong battell, and hath fyred him on euery side, yet will he not vnderstande: he burneth him vp, yet sinketh it not into his heart.

The.xliij.Chapter.

1. God promised to send his Christ, which shal delyuer his people. 25. He forgiueth sins for his owne sake.

1 BVt now the Lorde that made thee, O Jacob, and hee that fashioned thee, O Israel, sayth thus, Feare not, for I haue redeemed thee, I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine owne.

2 If thou goest thorow the water, I wil bee with thee, the strong flouddes shal not ouerwhelme thee: and if thou walkest thorowe the fyre, it shal not burne thee, and the flambe shall not kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel thy sauiour: I gaue Egypt for thy deliuerance, the Ethiopians and the Sabees for thee:

4 Bycause thou wast deare in my sight and bycause I set by thee, and loued thee: I will giue ouer all men for thee, and deliuer vp al people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee, I wil bring thy seede from the East, and gather thee together from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Let goe: and to the South, Keepe not backe: but bring mee my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the world. Gala.3.a.

7 (Namely) all those that bee called after my name: for thẽ haue I created, fashioned, and made for myne honour. B

12 The ſmith maketh an are, and tempereth it with hot coales, and faſhioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with all the ſtrength of his armes, yea ſomtime he is faint for very hũger, & ſo thirſty ꝑ he hath no more power.

13 The carpenter or Image caruer, taketh meaſure of the tymber, and ſpreadeth forth his line, he marketh it with ſome colour, hee plaineth it, he ruleth it, and ſquareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according to the beautie of a man, that it may ſtande in the houſe.

14 Moreouer, he goeth out to hewe Cedar trees, he bringeth home Elmes and Okes, ℭ and taking a bold courage, he ſeeketh out the beſt tymber of ꝑ wood: he him ſelfe hath plãted a Pinetree, which the rayne hath ſwelled, 15 Which wood ſerueth for men to burne: of this he taketh and warmeth him ſelfe withall, he maketh a fyre of it to bake bread, and maketh alſo a God thereof to honour it, and a grauen image to kneele before it.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, euen hee that fashioned thee from thy mothers wombe, I the Lord do all thinges my selfe alone, I onely spread out the heauens, and I onely haue layde abroad the earth by myne owne selfe.

28 He sayth of Cyrus, He is mine heardman, so that he shall fulfil al things after my wil: He sayth also of Ierusalem, It shal be buylded: & of the temple, It shal be fast grounded.

The.xlv.Chapter.

1. The diliueraunce of the people by Cyrus. 20. The comming of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles.

1 Thus sayth the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whom I haue taken by the right hande, to subdue nations before him? I will loose the (a) loynes of kings, and I will open the gates before his face, and the gates shal not be shut.

2 I wil goe before thee, and make the crooked straight: I shall breake the brasen doores, and burst the iron barres.

3 I shal giue thee hid treasures, and the thing whiche is secretly kept: that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord God of Israel, whiche haue called thee by thy name.

4 For Iacob my seruants sake, and for Israel my chosen, I called thee by thy name, and ordeyned thee or euer thou knewest me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none other, for without me there is no God: I haue prepared thee or euer thou knewest me.

6 Therfore they shall knowe from the rysing of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same, that all is nothing without me: for I am the lord, and there is else none.

7 It is I that created light and darknesse, I make peace & trouble: yea euen I the Lord do all these thinges.

8 Ye heauens from aboue drop downe, and let the cloudes rayne righteousnesse: let the earth open it selfe, and let saluation and righteousnesse growe forth, let it bring them forth together: I ỳ Lord haue created him.

9 Wo be vnto him ỳ striueth wt his maker, let the potsherd strive with the potsherdes of the earth: Sayth the clay to the potter, What makest thou? or, Thy worke is not perfectly done?

10 Wo be vnto him that sayth to his father, What begettest thou: and to his mother, What bearest thou?

11 Thus saith the Lorde, euen the holy one and maker of Israel, Aske me of things for to come concerning my sonnes, and put me in remembraunce as touching the workes of my hands.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: With my handes haue I spread forth heauen, and giuen a commaundement for all the host therof.

13 I shall wake him vp with righteousnesse, & order all his wayes: He shall build my citie, & let out my prisoners, & that neither for giftes nor rewardes, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus sayth the Lord, the occupiers of Egypt, the marchauntes of the Ethiopians and Sabees, shall come vnto thee with tribute. they shal be thyne, they shal folow thee, and goe with chaines vpon their feete, they shall fal downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee: for God, without whom there is none other God, shal be with thee.

15 O how profounde art thou, O God, thou God and sauiour of Israel?

16 Confounded are they al, and put to dishonor, they are gon bee together with shame, euen the makers of Images.

17 But Israel shal be saued in the Lord wt an euerlasting saluation: ye shal not come to shame nor confusion world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord, euen he that created heauen, the God that made the earth and fashioned it, & set it forth: He did not make it for nought, but to be inhabited, euen I the Lord, without whom there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken secretly, neyther in dark places of the earth: I sayde not in vaine to the seed of Iacob, Seke me: I am the Lord, which when I speake, do declare the thing that is rightcous and true.

20 Gather you and come together, draw nigh hither you that escaped of the people: they haue no vnderstanding that set vp the stocks of their idols, and pray vnto a god that can not helpe them.

D 21 Draw nigh, come hither, and let them aske counsel one at another, and shewe forth what is hee that tolde this before? or who Esai.46.b. shake of it euer since the beginning? haue not I the Lord done it? without whom ther is none other God, the true God and sauior, and there is else none but I.

Esai.44.b. 22 And therefore turne you vnto me, all yee ends of the earth, that ye may be saued: for I am God, and there is else none.

23 I sweare by my selfe, out of my mouth Rom.14.b. commeth the worde of righteousnesse, and Philip.2.a. that may no man turne: but all knees shall bow vnto me, and al tongs shal sweare (by my name.)

24 Saying, Verily in the Lord is my righteousnesse and strength, to him shall men come: but all they that thinke scorne of him, shal be confounded.

25 And the whole seede of Israel shall bee iustified, and glory in the Lord.

The.xlvi.Chapter.

3 Hearken vnto me, O house of Jacob, and al ye that remaine yet of the house of Israel, whom I haue borne from your mothers wombe, & brought you vp from your birth.

4 It is euen I, whiche shall beare you vnto your last age: I haue made you, I wil also nourishe you, beare you, and saue you.

8 Consyder this well, and be ashamed: goe into your owne selues.

9 Remember the thinges that are past since the beginning of the world, that I am God, and that there is else no god, yea & that there is nothing like vnto me.

10 In the beginning of a thing I shewe the ende therof, and I tell before things that are not yet come to passe: My deuice standeth stedfastly stablished, & I fulfil al my pleasure.

12 Heare me, O ye that be of an high stomack, but farre from righteousnesse:

13 I shal bring forth my righteousnesse it is not farre, and my health shal not tarie long away: I wil lay health in Sion, and in Israel my glory.

The.xlvij.Chapter.

The word of the Lord against Babylon.

1 BVt as for thee, O daughter, thou vir- I gine Babylon, syt thou downe in the Isai.47 dust, sit vpon the ground, there is no throne O thou daughter of Chaldea, for thou shalt no more be called tender and pleasant.

2 Bring forth the querne and grynde meale, vntrusse thy broydred heare, put of thy shoes, make bare thy knees, and wade through the water riuers.

3 Thy fylthinesse shal be discouered, and thy Ezec.16.d shame shal be seene: for I wil auenge me Naum.3.c of thee, and wil shewe no mercy to thee, as I do to other men.

4 Our redeemer is called the Lord of hostes, the holy one of Israel.

5 Sit stil, holde thy tong, get thee into some darke corner, O daughter Caldea: for thou shalt no more be called lady of kingdomes.

6 I was so wroth with my people, that I Psal.10.b. punished myne inheritaunce, and gaue them Iere.50.b. into thy power, neuertheless thou shewedst thē no mercy, but euen the very aged of thē diddest thou oppresse right sore w̄ the yoke.

7 And thou thoughtest thus, I shal be lady B for euer: and beside all that, thou hast not regarded these things, neyther remembred what was the ende of that citie Jerusalem.

8 Heare now therefore thou delicate one, that Esai.20.b. sittest so careles, & speakest thus in thine hart, Apo.18.c. I am alone, & without me is there none, I shal neuer be widow, nor desolate againe.

9 And yet both these things shal come to thee Dan.5.c vpon one day, in the twinckling of an eye: namely, widowhod, and desolation: they mightily fall vpō thee, for ỹ multitude of thy witches, & for the great heap of thy cōiurers.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse, and hast sayde, No man seeth me: thyne owne Esai.29.c. wisdome and cunning hath deceiued thee, in that thou hast said in thine hart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore

11 Therefore shall trouble come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe frō whence it shal arise: Mischiefe shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put off, a sudden vtter destruction shall come vpon thee or euer thou be ware.

12 Nowe goe to thy coniurers, and to the multitude of thy witches, with whom thou hast wearyed thy selfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or strengthe thee.

13 Thou hast hitherto had many counsels of them: So let the heauen gasers, and the beholders of starres, and moone prophets, come on now and deliuer thee, yea and lette them shewe when these newe thinges shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shal be lyke straw, whiche if it be kindled with fyre, no mā may rid it for the vehemencie of the flambe, & yet it giueth no sinders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to sit by.

15 Thus are they with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe, and thus are thy marchaunts that haue bin with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them shal defende thee.

2 For they are named of the holy citie, and are grounded vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lorde of hostes.

3 The thinges that I haue shewed you euer since the beginnyng, haue I not brought them to passe immediatly as they came out of my mouthe, and declared them, and they are come?

4 Howbeit, I know that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an iron sinow, and that thy browe is of brasse.

5 Neuertheless, I haue euer since the beginning shewed thee of things for to come, and declared them vnto thee or euer they cam to passe: that thou shouldest not say, Myne idol hath done it, my carued or molten image hath shewed it.

6 Thou hearest it before, & behold it is come to passe: And shall not ye your selues shewe forth or confesse the same? But as for me, I tolde thee before at the beginning, newe and secrete thinges which thou knewest not of,

14 Gather you altogether, & hearken: Which of yonder goddes hath declared this? The Lord hath a loue vnto him, and he shal performe his will against Babel, and declare his power against the Chaldees.

15 I my selfe alone, euen I haue tolde you this, I did call him, and bring him forth, and he shall make this iourney prosperous.

16 Come to me, and heare this: Haue I spoken any thing darkly since the beginning? Frō the time ỳ this thing beginneth, I am there: Wherefore ỳ Lord God and his spirite hath sent me.

The.1. Chapter.

The Iewes are reproued, and also called.

1 THus sayth the Lord, Where is the byll of your mothers diuorcement, whom I sent away: or who is the vsurer to whom I solde you? Beholde, for your offences are ye solde, and bycause of your transgression, is your mother forsaken.

2 For why, would no man receiue me when I came? and when I called, no man gaue me answere? Is my hande shortened, that it might not helpe? or haue I not power to deliuer? loe, at a worde I drinke vp the sea, and of water flouddes I make drye lande: so that for want of water the fysshe corrupt, and and dye for thirst.

3 As for heauen I cloth it with darknesse, and put as it were a sacke vpon it.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a wel learned tong, so that I can comfort them that are troubled, yea and that in due season: hee wakeneth mine eare vp betimes in ỹ morning, betimes in the morning, I say, he will waken myne eare, that I might hearken as to the scholemaisters.

5 The Lorde God hath opened myne eare, and I haue not gainesaid, nor withdrawen my selfe.

6 But I offered my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I turned not my face from shame and spittings.

7 And the Lord God shall helpe me, therfore shall I not be confounded: I haue therefore hardened my face like a flynt stone, for I am sure that I shall not come to confusion.

8 He is at hande that iustifieth me, who will then goe with me to lawe? Let vs stand together, if there be any that will reason with me? let him come here forth to me.

9 Behold the Lord God will helpe me, what is he then that can condemne me? loe, they all shall waxe olde like a cloth, the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Therfore, who so feareth the Lord among you, let him heare the voyce of his seruaunt: Who so walketh in darknesse, and no light shineth vpon him, let him put his trust in the name of ỹ Lord, & hold him by his God.

11 But take heede, yee all kindle a fyre, and styre vp ỹ coales: walke on in the glistering of your owne fyre, and in the coales that ye haue kindled: This commeth vnto you frō my hand (namely) ỹ ye shal sleepe in sorow.

The.li. Chapter.

Consolation and comfort is promised vnto the faythfull.

1 HEarken vnto me ye that hold of righteousnesse, and ye that seeke the Lord: take heede to the stone wherout ye are hewen, and to the graue wherout ye are digged.

2 Consyder Abraham your father, and Sara that bare you, how that I called him alone, and blessed him, and encreased him.

3 Therefore shal the Lord comfort Sion, and repayre all hir decaye, making hir desert as a paradise, and hir wildernesse as the garden of the Lord? Myrth and ioy shall be founde there, thankesgiuing, and the voyce of prayse.

4 Haue respect vnto me then, O my people, both high and lowe, and lay thine eare vnto me: for a lawe and an ordinaunce shall goe forth frō me, to lighten the gentiles.

5 It is hard by, that my health and my righteousnesse shall goe forth, and the people shall be ordered with mine arme: the (a) Islands shall hope in me, and put their trust in myne arme.

a, That is the Gentiles.

6 Lyft vp your eyes toward heauen, & loke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanishe away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garmente, and they that dwel therein shal perishe in like manner: but my saluation shall endure for euer, and my righteousnesse shal not ceasse.

7 Hearken vnto me ye that haue knowledge in righteousnesse, thou people that beareſt my law in thine hart: feare not the reuylings of men be not afrayde of their blasphemies.

8 For wormes and mothes shal eate them vp like cloth and wool: but my righteousnesse shall endure for euer: and my sauing health from generation to generation.

9 Wake vp, wake vp, and be strong, O thou arme of the Lorde, wake vp, like as in time past, euer, and since the world began.

10 Art not thou the same arme that hast wounded the proude, and hewen the dragon in peeces? Art not thou euen the same which hast dryed vp the deepe of the sea, which hast made playne the sea ground, that the deliuered might goe through?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lorde shall turne gaine, and come with ioy vnto Sion, continual ioye shall bee on their heade, and myrth and gladnesse shal be with them, and sorowe and woe shall flee from them.

12 Yea I (euen) I am he that in al thinges giueth you consolation: What art thou then that feareſt a mortal man, and the child of man, which goth away as doth ỹ flowre?

13 And forgetteſt the Lorde that made thee, that spread out ỹ heauens, & layd the foundation of the earth: but thou art euer afrayde for ỹ sight of thine oppressour which is redy to do harme: wher is ỹ wrath of ỹ oppressor?

19 Both theſe thingsare happened vnto thee, but who is ſorie for it? yea deſtruction, waſting, hunger, and ſword, but who will comfort thee?

20 Thy ſonnes lye comfortleſſe at the head of euery ſtreete like a taken venilon, and are full of ẏ terrible wrath of the Lord, and puniſhment of thy God.

D 21 And therefore thou miſerable and dronken (howbeit not with wine) heare this:

22 Thus ſayth the Lord, thy Lord and God, the defender of his people: Beholde, I will take the ſtumbling cuppe out of his hande, euen the cup with the dregges of my wrath, ẏ from henceforth ẏ ſhalt neuer drinke it more.

23 But I will put it into their hande, that trouble thee, which haue ſpoken to thy ſoule, Stoupe downe, that we may goe ouer thee, make thy body euen with the ground, and as the ſtreete to goe vpon.

16 For I chide not euer, and am not wroth without end: but the blasting goeth from me, and is included in ỹ body, and I made the breath. Psal.103.a. Iere.3.e.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnesse, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, and he turneth him selfe, and followeth thee by the way of his owne hart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and I heale him, I lead him and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sory for him. Luke.15.a.

19 I make the fruites of thankesgiuing, that he may say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are farre off, and to them that are nygh, saith the Lord, I make him whole. Ephes.2.c.

20 But the wicked are like the raging Sea that cannot rest, whose water fometh with the myre and grauel.

21 Eue so ỹ wicked haue no peace, saith god. Esay.48.d.

The.lviij. Chapter.

The Lord (by the mouth of the prophet) reproueth the people for theyr fastings, which were full of hypocrisie.

1 Crye now as loude as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their offences, and the house of Jacob their sinnes. A Ezech.3.c. Iere.29.a.

2 For they seeke me dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as it were a people that dyd right, and had not forsaken the statutes of theyr God: they aske of me concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore (all we (say they) and thou seest it not? we put our liues to straightnesse, and thou regardest it not. Math.9.d.

4 Behold,

Eſay.1.b. 4 Behold, when ye fall, your luſt remayneth ſtill, for ye do no leſſe violence to youre detters: loe, ye fall to ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with your fiſte without mercy: Nowe ye ſhall not fall thus, that your voyce might be heard aboue.

Zach.7.a. 5 Thinke ye this fall pleaſeth me, that a man ſhoulde chaſten him ſelfe for a daye? and to hang downe his head like a bulruſhe, and to lye vpon the earth in an hearie cloth? Should that be called falling, or a daye that pleaſeth the Lorde?

Deu.15.a. 6 Dothe not this falling rather pleaſe mee, that thou loſe the wicked bandes, that thou take off the ouer heauy burdens, that thou let the oppreſſed goe free, and breake all manner of yoke?

B 7 To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bryng the poore wandering home into thy houſe? when thou ſeeſt the naked, that thou couer hym, and hyde not thy ſelfe from thy neighbour, and deſpiſe not thine owne fleſhe?

Ezec.18.b. Math.15.c.

Luke.11.d. 8 Then ſhall thy lyght breake forth as the morning, and thy healthe flouriſh ryghte ſhortly: righteouſneſſe ſhall goe before thee, and the glory of the Lorde ſhall embrace thee.

Prou.21.b. 9 Then if thou calleſt, the Lord ſhall anſwer thee: if thou cryeſt, he ſhall ſay, Here I am: yea if thou layeſt away from thee thy burdens, and holdeſt thy fyngers, and ceaſſeſt frō vngratious talking:

Zach.7.a. Math.5.b. 10 If thou haſt cōpaſſion vpon the hungrie, and refreſheſt the troubled ſoule: then ſhall thy light ſpring out in the darkneſſe, and thy darkneſſe ſhall be as the noone day.

11 The Lord ſhall euer be thy guide, and ſatisfye the deſire of thine heart in the tyme of drought, and fill thy bones with marrowe: thou ſhalt bee like a freſhe watered garden, and lyke the fountayne of water that neuer leaueth running.

Iohn.4.b.

12 Then the places that haue euer bin waſte, ſhall be builded of thee, there ſhalt thou lay a foundation for many kinredes: thou ſhalte be called the maker vp of the breache, and the buylder agayne of the way to dwell in.

13 Yea if thou turne thy feete from the ſabboth, ſo that thou doe not the thing whyche pleaſeth thy ſelfe in my holy daye, and thou call the pleaſaunt, holy, and glorious ſabboth of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, ſo that thou doe not after thyne owne imagination, neyther ſeeke thyne owne wil, nor ſpeake thyne owne words:

Eſay.56.a. and.66.d.

14 Then ſhalte thou haue thy pleaſure in the Lorde, and I wil carrie thee high aboue the earthe, and feede thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the Lords owen mouth hath ſo promiſed.

The.lix. Chapter.

1. The Lorde is mightie to ſaue, and ready to heare our requeſtes, 12. our ſinnes are the cauſe why G O D heareth not vs, neyther graunteth our requeſtes.

1 BEholde, the Lordes hande is not ſo ſhortned that it can not help, neyther is his eare ſo ſtopped that it may not heare: A Eſay.50. Num.11.

2 But youre miſdeedes haue ſeparated you from youre God, and your ſinnes hide hys face from you, that he heareth you not. Ier.5.d. Eſay.1.d.

3 For youre handes are defiled with bloud, and youre fingers with vnrighteouſneſſe: your lyppes ſpeake leaſings, and your tong ſetteth out wickednеſſe.

4 No man regardeth righteouſneſſe, and no man iudgeth truely: euery man hopeth in vayne thinges, and imagineth deceit, conceyueth weerineſſe, and bryngeth forthe euill. Iob.15.d. Pſalme.7.

5 They breede Cockatrice egges, and weaue the ſpyders webbe, who ſo eateth of theyr egges, dyeth: but if one treade vppon them, there commeth vp a ſerpent.

6 Their webbe maketh no cloth, and they may not couer them with their labours: their deedes are the deedes of wickedneſſe, and the worke of robberie is in their handes.

7 Their feete runne to euill, and they make haſte to ſhed innocent bloud: their counſels are wicked counſels, harme and deſtruction are in their wayes. B Prou.1.a. Pſalm.5.b. and.13.a.

8 But the way of peace they knowe not, in their goings is no equitie: their wayes are ſo croked, that whoſoeuer goeth therein knoweth of no peace. Rom.3.b.

9 And this is the cauſe that equitie is ſo farre from vs, and that righteouſneſſe commeth not nigh vs: Wee looke for light, loe, it is darkneſſe: for the morning ſhine, lo, wee walke in the darke. Eſay.5.a. Iob.30.b.

10 We grope lyke the blinde vpon the wall, we grope euen as one that hathe no eyes, we ſtumble at the noone day, as though it were forward night, in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead. Deu.28.c. Iohn.12.c.

11 We roare all lyke beares, and mourne ſtill lyke doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for healthe, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offences are many before thee, and our ſinnes teſtifie againſt vs: yea wee muſt confeſſe that we offend, and knowledge that we do amiſſe,

13 (Namely) trāſgreſſe and diſſemble againſt the Lord, and fall away frō oure God, ſpeaking preſump-presumptuous and traiterous imaginatiõs, and calling false matters in our hartes.

14 And therefore is equitie gone aside, and ryghteousnesse standeth farre off, truthe is fallen down in the streete, and the thing that is playne and open, may not be shewed:

15 Yea the truthe is taken away, and he that refrayneth hym selfe from euill, must be spoiled: When the Lorde sawe this, it displeased him sore that there was no equitie.

16 He sawe also that there was no man righteous, and hee wondred that there was no man to helpe him: wherefore he held hym by his owne power, and hee sustayned him by his owne righteousnesse.

17 He putte righteousnesse vppon him for a brestplate, he sette the helmet of health vppon his head: he putte on wrath in the steede of clothing, and toke ielousie about hym for a cloke.

18 Euen as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompence his enimies, to be auenged of his aduersaries, hee will recompence and reward the Ilandes.

19 They shall feare the name of the Lord frõ the rysing of the sunne, and his maiestie vnto the going downe of the same, for hee shall come as a violent water streame, whyche the winde of the Lord hath moued.

20 But vnto Sion there shall come a redeemer, and vnto them in Jacob that turne frõ wickednesse, sayth the Lorde.

21 I will make thys couenaunt with them (sayth the Lord) My spirite that is vpõ thee, and the wordes whiche I haue putte in thy mouth, shall neuer goe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy children children, frõ thys time forth for euermore, world without end, sayth the Lorde.

The.lx. Chapter.

1. A consolation and comforte to Hierusalem. 5. The Churche is gathered together among the Gentiles by preaching of the Gospell, 16. and aboundeth with all good thynges.

1 ARise vp betimes, and be brighte (O Hierusalem) for thy light commeth, and the glorye of the Lorde is risen vp vppon thee.

2 For loe, while the darknesse and cloude couereth the earthe, and the people, the Lorde shall shewe thee light, and his glory shal be seene in thee.

3 The gentiles shall come to thy lighte, and kynges to ẏ brightnesse that springeth forth vpon thee.

4 Lift vp thine eyes, and looke rounde about thee: all these gather them selues and come to thee, thy sonnes shall come vnto thee, from farre, and thy daughters shall gather them selues to thee on euery syde.

5 Then shalte thou see this, and be glorious, thou shalt marueyle exceedingly, and thyne hart shall be opened: when the abundaunce of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, (that is) whẽ the riches of the Gentiles shal come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of Cammelles shall couer thee, the dromedaries of Madian and Epha: all they of Saba shall come, bringing golde and incense, and shewing the prayse of the Lorde. Psal.72.b. Math.2.b.

7 All the rattell of Cedar shall bee gathered vnto thee, the rammes of Nabaioth shall serue thee, to bee offered acceptably vppon myne aulter, and the house of my glory will I garnishe. B

8 But what are these that flee heere like the cloudes, and as the doues fleeing to theyr windowes? Heb.13.b.

9 The Iles also shall wayte for me, and specially the shippes of Tharsis, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and theyr siluer, and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lorde thy God, vnto the holy one of Israel that hathe glorifyed thee.

10 Straungers shall builde vp thy walles, and their kings shall do thee seruice: for whẽ I was angry, I smote thee: and of my mercy I pardoned thee. Esay.53.b.

11 Thy gates shall stand open still both daye and night, and neuer be shut, that the host of the Gentiles may come and that their kings may be brought vnto thee. Apoc.21.b.

12 For euery people and kingdome that seruethe not thee, shall perishe, and be destroyed with vtter destruction.

13 The glory of Libanus shall come vnto thee, the Fyrre trees, Boxes, and Cedars together, to garnishe the place of my sanctuarie: for I wil glorifie the place of my feete.

14 Moreouer, those shal come kneeling vnto thee that haue vexed thee, and all they that despise thee shall fall downe at thy foote: thou shalt be called the citie of the Lord, Sion (the citie) of the holy one of Israel. C

15 Bycause thou hast bin forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee: I wyll make thee glorious for euer and euer, and ioyfull throughout all posterities.

16 Thou shalt sucke ẏ milke of the gentiles, and kings breasts shall feede thee: and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy sauiour and redeemer, the mightie one of Jacob. Esay.49.c.

17 For brasse, will I giue thee golde, and for iron, siluer, for wood, brasse, and for stones, iron: I wil turne thine oppressiõ into peace,

and

and thine exactions into righteousnesse.

18 Violence and robberie shall neuer bee heard of in thy lande, neyther harme and destruction within thy borders: thy walles shal be called healthe, and thy gates the praise of God.

Apoc.21.a. 19 The sunne shall neuer be thy day light, and the light of the moone shall neuer shine vnto thee: but the Lorde him selfe shall be thyne euerlasting lyght, and thy God shall be thy glory.

Apoc.22.b. 20 Thy sunne shall neuer go downe, and thy moone shall not be hid: for the Lord him selfe shall bee thine euerlasting light, and thy sorowfull dayes shall be ended.

21 Thy people shal be all righteous, and possesse the lande euer, ẏ flowre of my planting, the worke of my handes, wherof I wyll reioyce.

22 Thy youngest and least, shall grow into a thousande, and the simplest into a strong people: I the Lorde shall shortly bring thys thing to passe in his time.

The.lxi. Chapter.

He prophesieth that Christ shall be annointed, and sent to preach.

A 1 The spirite of the Lord is vpon me: for the Lord hath annoynted me, and sente me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, that I might binde vp the wounded hartes, that I might preach deliuerance to the captiue, and open the prison to them that are bounde:

Luke.4.c. and.7.c. Esay.11.a. Esay.57.b. and.66.a.

2 That I might declare the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of the vengeance of our God: that I might comfort al them that are in heauinesse:

Math.15.a. and.11.a.

3 That I might giue vnto them ẏ mourne in Sion, that I might giue (I say) beautie in steede of ashes, ioyfull oyntment for sighing, pleasaunt rayment for an heauie minde, that they might be called trees of righteousnesse, a planting of the Lorde for him to reioyce in.

4 They shall builde the long rough wildernesse, and set vp the olde desart: they shall repayre the waste places, and suche as haue bin voyde throughout many generations.

5 Straungers shall stande and feede youre cattell, and the aliauntes shalbe your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

Esay.66.a. Iere.33.d. 6 But yee shall bee named the priestes of the Lord, and men shall call you the seruauntes of our God: ye shall enioy the goodes of the gentiles, and triumph in their substaunce.

B 7 For your great reproofe you shal haue double ioy, and for shame shall they haue ioy of their portion: for they shall haue double possession in their land, and euerlasting ioy shal be with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robberie (though it were offered me) shall make their workes full of kaythfulnesse, and make an euerlasting couenaunt with them.

9 Their seede also, and their generation shal be knowen among the gentiles, and among the people: all they that see them, shall know that they are the bygh blessed seede of the Lorde.

10 And therefore I am ioyfull in the Lorde, and my soule reioyceth in God: For he hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, and couered me with the mantle of righteousnesse: He shall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hathe hir apparrell vpon hir. Luke.1.b. Psal.103. Ezec.16.

11 For like as the grounde bringeth forth hir fruite, and as the garden shooteth forthe seede: so shall the Lorde God cause righteousnesse and praise to florish forth before al the heathen.

The.lxij. Chapter.

A propheste of the comming of Christ.

A 1 FOr Sions sake will I not holde my tong, and for Hierusalems sake I wyll not cease vntill righteousnesse breake forthe as the shining lighte, and theyr saluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousnesse, and all kyngs thy glory: Thou shalte be named with a new name, which ẏ mouth of the Lord shal shewe. John.1.a. Apoc.2.c.

3 Thou shalt be a crowne in the hand of the Lord, and a glorious garlande in the hande of thy God.

4 From this time forthe thou shalte neuer be called the forsaken, and thy lande shall no more be called the wildernes: but thou shalt be called, My pleasure is in hir: and thy land shall be called, The maried woman: for the Lord loueth thee, and thy lande shall be ioyned in mariage.

5 And like as a yong man taketh a virgin to mariage, so shall thy sonnes be maried vnto thee: ¶ as a bridegrome is glad of his bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee. Ezec.16.b. Osee.2.c. Esay.54.a.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hierusalem, which shall neyther cease daye nor night to preache the Lorde: and yee also that remember the Lorde, yee shall not keepe him close,

7 Nor leaue to speake of him, vntill Hierusalem be set vp, and made the praise of the worlde. B

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hande, and and by his strōg arme, that from hencefoꝛth he will not giue thy coꝛne to be meate foꝛ thine enimies, noꝛ thy vine wherin thou hast laboured, to be dꝛunke foꝛ the straungers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the coꝛne, shall eate it, and giue thankes to the Loꝛde: and they that haue boꝛne in the vine, shall dꝛinke it in the court of my sanctuarie.

10 Goe you, goe you thꝛough the gates, make cleane the way foꝛ the people, make playne, make playne the foꝛte path, and take awaye the stones out of it, and set out a token foꝛ the people.

11 Beholde, the Loꝛde pꝛoclaymeth vnto the endes of the woꝛlde, tell the daughter Sion, see, thy sauiour commeth, behold, he bꝛingeth his recompence with him, and his woꝛke goe befoꝛe him.

12 Foꝛ they whome the Loꝛd deliuereth, shal be called the holy people: and as foꝛ thee, thou shalt be named the greatly occupied, and not the foꝛsaken citie.

The.lxiij. Chapter.

Of the redemption promised to the people.

1 WHat is he this that commeth from Edom, with redde coloured clothes from Bosra? He is honourably arayed, and commeth in mightily with his powꝛer: I am he that teacheth righteousnesse, and am of powꝛer to helpe.

2 Wheꝛefoꝛe then is thy clothing redde, and thy raymente lyke his that treadeth in the wine pꝛesse?

3 I haue troden the pꝛesse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with me: Thus will I treade them downe in my wꝛath, and let my fꝛete vpon them in mine indignation, and their bloud shall bee spꝛong vpon my clothes, and so wyll I staine all my raymente.

4 Foꝛ the daye of vengeaunce is assigned in my hart, and the yeere when my people shal be delinered is come.

5 I loked about me, and there was no man to shewe me any helpe, I marueyled that no man held me vp: Then I helde me by mine owne arme, and my feruentnesse sustey-ned me.

6 And thus will I treade downe the people in my wꝛath, and bathe them in my displesure, and vpon the earthe will I lay theyr strength.

7 I will declare the gꝛodnesse of the Loꝛde, yea and the pꝛayse of the Loꝛd foꝛ all that he hath giuen vs, foꝛ the great gꝛod that he hath done foꝛ Israell, whiche hee hathe gyuen them of his owne fauour, and accoꝛding to the multitude of his louing kindnesses.

8 Foꝛ he sayde, These no doubt are my people, and no dꝛinking childꝛen: and so was he their sauiour.

9 In their troubles, hee was also troubled with them, & the angel that went foꝛth from his pꝛesence deliuered them: of very loue and kindnesse that he had vnto them, he redeemed them, he hath boꝛne them and caried them vp euer since the woꝛld began. Exod.13. 14.d.24.c.

10 But after they pꝛouoked hym to wꝛathe, and vexed his holy spirite, hee was their enimie, and fought against them him selfe.

11 Yet remembꝛed Israell the olde tyme of Moses and hys people, saying, Where is he that bꝛought them from the water of the sea, with them that feede his sheepe? Where is he that hath giuen his holy spirite among them? Exod.43.c. Psal.77.d.

12 He ledde them by the right hand of Moses with his gloꝛious arme, diuiding the water befoꝛe them, wheꝛeby he gate him selfe an euerlasting name.

13 He ledde them in the deepe as an hoꝛse is ledde in the playne, that they shoulde not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the field, and the spirite of God gyueth him rest: Thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a gloꝛious name withall. C

15 Loke downe then from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy gloꝛy: Howe is it that thy gelousie, thy strengthe, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kynonesse will not be intreated of vs? Deu.26.d. Baruc.2.c.

16 Yet art thou our father: foꝛ Abꝛaham knoweth vs not, neyther is Israell acquainted with vs: but thou Loꝛde art our father and redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting. Math.6.d. Luke.11.a. and.23.a.

17 O Lord, wheꝛefoꝛe hast thou ledde vs out of the way? wheꝛefoꝛe hast thou hardened our hartes that we feare thee not? Be at one with vs agayne foꝛ thy seruaunts sake, and foꝛ the generation of thine heritage. Psal.119.b.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a little while thy sanctuarie in possession, foꝛ our enimies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And wee were thyne from the beginning, whē thou wast not their Loꝛd, foꝛ they haue not called vpon thy name.

1. The prophet (vnder the person of the Iewes) bewayleth theyr exile and banishmente.

1 O that

A 1 O That thou wouldeſt cleaue the heauēs in ſunder and come downe, that the mountaynes might melt away at thy preſence:

2 Lyke as at an hotte fyre, and (that the malitious might boyle away) as the water dothe vpon the fyre: whereby thy name might be knowen among thine enimies, and that the Gentiles might tremble before thee.

3 Whē thou wroughteſt wonderous ſtrāge worzes, we loked not for them: thou cameſt downe, and the hylles melted at thy preſence.

The. Ixv. Chapter.

The reiecting of the Iewes, and the callyng of the Heathen.

A 1 They ſeeke mee, that hitherto haue not Eſay. 52. c. talked for me, they fynd me, that hitherto haue not ſought me: I haue ſayde, I am Rom. 10. a. here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name.

2 For thus long haue I euer holde out mine handes to an vnfaythfull people, that go not the right waye, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer defying me to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, and their ſmoke vpon aulters of bricke. Deu. and Exo.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lye in the dennes all night: they eate ſwynes fleſhe, and vncleane broth is in their veſſels. Leui. Deu.

5 If thou commeſt nyghe them, they ſaye, Touch me not, for I am holyer than thou: All theſe men, when I am angry, ſhall be turned to ſmoke and fyre, that ſhall burne for euer. Mich.

6 Beholde, it is written before my face, and I ſhall not be forgotten, but recompenced: I ſhall rewarde it them into their boſome. Iere. 7. Eſay. 65. Exe. 16.

7 (I meane) youre miſdeedes and the miſdeedes of your fathers together, ſayeth the Lorde, whyche haue made theyr ſmoke vpon the mountaynes, and blaſphemed me vppon the hylles: therefore will I meaſure their olde deedes into their boſome agayne. B

8 Moreouer, thus ſayth the Lorde, Lyke as when newe wine is founde in the cluſter, and one ſayth, Loſe it not, for there is bleſſing therein: euen ſo will I do alſo for my ſeruauntes ſakes, that I will not deſtroye them all. Rom. 4. Reg. Rom.

9 But I will take a ſeede out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take poſſeſſion of my hyl: My choſen ſhall poſſeſſe it, and my ſeruauntes ſhall dwell there.

10 Saron ſhall be a ſheepefolde, and the valley of Achor ſhall giue the ſtalling for the cattell of my people that ſeeke after me. Ioſu. 7.

11 But as for you, yee are they that haue forſaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy hill: yee haue ſet vp an aulter vnto Jupiter, and gyuen riche drinke offerings vnto the planettes: Pyon. 1. Iere. 7.

12 Therefore will I number you to ẏ ſwoꝺ, that ye ſhall be deſtroyed altogether: for that when I called, no man gaue me anſwer, when I ſpake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but dyd wickednelle before mine eyes, and chole the things that pleaſed me not.

13 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, my ſeruauntes ſhall eate, but yee ſhall haue hunger: beholde, my ſeruauntes ſhall drinke, but ye ſhall ſuffer thirſt: behold, my ſeruauntes ſhall be merrie, but yee ſhall be confounded:

14 Beholde, my ſeruauntes ſhall reioyce for very quietneſſe of hart: but yee ſhall crye for ſorowe of hart, and complayne for vexation of minde. C

15 Your name ſhall ye leaue accurſed amōg my my chosen: for God the Lord shall slay you, and call his seruauntes by another name.

16 Who so reioyceth vpon earth, shal reioyce in the true God, and who so sweareth vppon earthe, shall sweare in the true God: for the olde afflictions shall be forgotten, and taken away out of my syght.

17 For loe, I shall make a newe heauen and a newe earth: and as for the olde, they shall neuer bee thought vpon, nor kept in minde:

18 (But the Lord sayth) Be glad, and euermore reioyce, for the things that I shall do: For why? beholde, I shall make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: and the voyce of weeping and wayling shall not be heard in hir from thencefoorth:

20 There shall neither be childe nor old man that haue not their full dayes: but when the child commeth to an hundred yeeres olde, it shall die, and if he that is an hundred yeeres of age do wrong, he shall be cursed.

21 They shall buylde houses and dwell in them, they shall plant vineyardes and eate the fruite of them.

22 They shall not builde, and another possesse, they shall not plant, and another eate: but the life of my people shall be lyke a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their handes.

23 They shall not labour in vayne, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high blessed seede of the Lorde, and their fruites with them.

24 And it shal be, that or euer they cal, I shal answere them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I shall heare them.

25 The Wolfe and the Lambe shall feede together, and the Lion shall eate hay lyke the bullocke, but earth shall be the Serpents meate: There shall no manne hurte nor slay another in all my holy hyll, sayth the Lorde.

He is taught of the Lord, and becommeth bolde, 11. God openeth vnto him, that the deſtruction of the Iewes by the Babylonians is at hande, 17. Ieremie is commaunded to ſpeake the word of God vnto the Iewes without feare.

1 THeſe are the ſermons of Ieremie the ſonne of Helkiah ẏ prieſt, one of them that dweⁱte at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin, 8 Be not afrayd of their faces: for I am with thee, to deliuer thee, ſayth the Lorde.

9 And with that the Lorde ſtretched out hys hand, and touched my mouth: and the ſame lord ſaid vnto me, Behold, I put my words in thy mouth. Pſal.6.a. Jerr.8.a.

11 After this the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Ieremie what seest thou? And I sayd, (a) I see a rod of an Almonde tree.

12 Then sayde the Lord vnto me, Thou hast seene right, for I will make hast speedily vpon my word to perfourme it.

13 It happened afterwarde that the Lorde spake to me agayne, and sayde, What seest thou? And I sayde, I do see a seething potte, loking from out of the North.

14 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Out of the North shall come a plague vppon all the dwellers of the lande.

15 For lo, I will call all the kinredes of the kingdomes of the North, sayth the Lorde: and they shall come, and euery one shall set his seate in the gates of Hierusalem, and in all their walles round about, and in all cities of Iuda.

16 And through them shall I declare my iudgement, vpon all the wickednesse of those men that haue forsaken me, that haue burnt incense vnto straunge gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

17 And therefore gyrde vp thy loynes, arise, and tell them all that I giue thee in commaundemente: Feare them not, least I destroy thee before them.

18 For beholde, this daye doe I make thee a strong fensed towne, an iron piller, and a brasen wall, agaynst the whole land, against the kings and mightie men of Iuda, against the priestes and people of the lande.

19 They shal fight against thee, but they shall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe thy way, crie in the eares of Hierusalem, and say, Thus sayth the Lorde, I remember thee, the kindnesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy despousing, in that thou folowedst me through the wildernesse in an vntilled land.

3 Israel was an halowed thing vnto the Lord, and was his fyrst fruites: All they that deuoure Israell shall offende, misfortune shall fall vpon them, sayth the Lord.

4 Heare therefore the worde of the Lorde, O thou house of Iacob, and all the generations of the house of Israell.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde, What vnfaithfulnesse found your fathers in me, that they went so farre away from me, falling to lightnesse, and being so vayne.

6 They thought not in their hartes, where is the Lord that brought vs out of the lande of Egypt, that ledde vs through the wildernesse, through a desert & rough land, through a drye and deadly lande, yea a lande that no man had gone through, and wherein no man had dwelt? Exod.14.c.

7 And when I had brought you into a pleasant fertile land, that yee myght enioye the fruites and all the commodities of the same: ye wente forth and defyled my lande, and brought mine heritage to abhomination. B Deut.6.b.

8 The Priests them selues sayde not, Where is the Lorde? They that had the law in their handes knew me not, the shepheardes offended against me, the prophetes did prophecie in Baal, and folowed suche thinges as shall bring them no profite.

9 Wherefore I am constrayned, sayeth the Lorde, yet agayne to contende in iudgemente with you, and with your childers childzen.

The. iij. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull calleth to repentaunce his people, whych he had forſaken for their whoredome with idols. 20. Hee exhorteth Iſraell to repentaunce, promiſing them ſheepheardes that ſhould haue the true knowledge of God. 23. The returne of Iſrael vnto God confeſsing their offences.

2 Lift vp thine eyes to the high places, and loke where thou haſt not bin defyled: Thou haſt wayted for them in the ſtreetes, and as a murderer in the wildernelle, through thy whoredome and ſhamefull blaſphemies is the land defyled.

3 This is the cause that the rayne and euening deawe hathe ceassed: thou hast gotten thee an whores forehead, and wilte not be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto mee, O my father, thou art hee that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?

5 Will God continue his wrathe for euer? will hee keepe our faultes in memorie to the end? Neuertheleſſe, thou speakeſt such words, but thou art euer doing worſe and worſe to the vttermoſt of thy power.

6 The Lord sayde also vnto me in the tyme of Iosiah the king, Hast thou seene what that rebellion Israel hath done? how she hath run vp vpon all the hylles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot?

7 Hast thou seene also when she had done all this, how I sayde vnto hir, that she shoulde turne agayne vnto me, and yet she is not returned? Iuda that vnfaythfull sister of hirs, also saw this:

8 Namely, that after I had wel seen the adulterie of the shrinking harlot Israell, I put hir away, and gaue hir a bill of diuorcement: For all this, hir vnfaythfull sister Iuda was not ashamed, but wente backe, and played the whore.

9 Yea, and the wantonneſſe of hir whoredome hath defyled the whole lande: For she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheleſſe, hir vnfaythfull sister Iuda is not turned vnto me again with hir whole hart, but faignedly, sayth the Lord.

11 And the Lord sayde vnto me, The backeslyder Israel, is more righteous than the vnfaythfull Iuda.

12 And therefore goe preach theſe wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne agayne, sayth the Lord, and I will not bring my wrath vppon you: for I am mercifull, sayth the Lord, and I will not alway beare displeasure agaynſt thee:

13 But on this condition, that thou know thy great blasphemie, namely that thou hast vnfaythfully forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange gods vnder all greene trees, and hast had no wyll to heare my voyce, sayth the Lord.

14 Ye disobedient children, turne agayne, sayth the Lorde, and I will be maried with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from amog you, and bring you into Sion, 15 And wyll giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, whyche shall feede you with learning and wisedome.

17 Then shall Hierusalem be called the lords seate, and all Heathen shall be gathered vnto it, for the name of the Lordes sake whyche shall be set vp at Hierusalem: and from that time forthe they shall folow no more the imagination of their owne frowarde hearte. Galat.4.c.

18 Then those that bee of the house of Iuda, shall goe vnto the house of Israell, and they shal come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers. Math.8.b.

20 Truely like as a woman fayleth hir husband, so are yee vnfaythfull vnto me, O yee house of Israel, sayth the Lord.

For though thou clotheſt thy ſelfe Jere.2.c with ſcarlet, & deckeſt thee with gold, though 4.Re.9.b thou paynteſt thy face with colours nowe, yet ſhalt thou trimme thy ſelfe in vayne: for thoſe that hitherto haue bin thy louers, ſhall abhorre thee, and go about to ſlay thee.

31 For

31 For I heare a noyse lyke as it were of a woman trauaylyng, and one labouring of hir fyrſt chylde, euen the voyce of the daughter Sion, that caſteth out hir armes, and ſowneth, ſaying, Ih, woe is me, howe ſore vexed and faynt is my hart for feare of the murderers?

The.v. Chapter.

1. In Iurie is there no ryghteous or faythfull man founde, eyther amongſt the people or the rulers, for whoſe ſake the Lorde ſhoulde ſpare the citie. 15. VVherefore Iurie is deſtroyed of the Aſſyrians.

1 ROoke through Hieruſalem, behold and ſee, ſeeke through hir ſtreetes alſo within, if ye can finde one man that doth equall and ryghte, or ſeeketh for the trueth, and I ſhall ſpare that citie, ſayth the Lord.

2 For though they can ſaye, The Lorde lyueth: yet they ſweare to deceiue.

3 Wherras thou (O Lord) lokeſt only vpon fayth and truth: thou haſt ſcourged the, but they toke no repentaunce, thou haſt corrected them for amendment, but they refuſed thy correction, they made their faces harder than a ſtone, and would not amende.

4 Therefore I thought in my ſelfe, peraduenture they are ſo ſymple and fooliſhe, that they vnderſtand nothing of the Lords way, and iudgements of their God.

5 Therefore will I goe vnto their heads and rulers, and talke with them, if they know the waye of the Lorde, and iudgementes of theyr G O D: but theſe (in lyke manner) haue broken the yoke, and burſt the bondes in ſunder.

6 Wherefore a Lion out of the wood hathe hurt them, and a woolfe in the euening ſhall deſtroy them, the Leopard dothe lie lurking by their cities to teare in peeces all them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplyed, and theyr departing away is encreaſed.

7 Should I then for all this haue mercy vpon thee? thy chyldren haue forſaken mee, and ſworne by them that are no goddes: and albeit that I fedde them to the full, yet they fall to adulterie, and haunt harlottes houſes.

8 In the deſire of vncleanly luſt they are become lyke the ſtoned horſe, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife.

9 Should I not correct this, ſayth the Lord? ſhoulde I not bee auenged of euery people that is like vnto this?

10 Climbe vp vpon theyr walles, beate them downe, and (a) deſtroy them not vtterly: take away their battlementes, becauſe they are not the Lordes.

11 For vnfaythfully hath the houſe of Iſraell and Juda forſaken me, ſayth the Lorde.

12 They haue denyed the Lord, and ſayde, It is not he (that looketh vpon vs) tuſhe, there ſhall no miſfortune come vppon vs, we ſhall ſee neyther ſword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophetes, it is but winde, yea there is not the word of God in them: ſuch things ſhall happen vnto them ſelues.

14 Wherefore thus ſayeth the Lorde God of hoſtes, Becauſe ye ſpeake ſuch wordes, behold, the wordes that are in thy mouth wyll I turne to fyre, and make the people to bee wood, that the fyre may conſume them.

15 Loe, I wil bring a people vpon you from farre, O houſe of Iſraell, ſayth the Lorde, a mighty people, an old people, a people whoſe ſpeach thou knoweſt not, neyther vnderſtandeſt what they ſay.

16 Their arrowes are ſuddayne death, yea they them ſelues be very gyantes.

17 This people ſhall eate vp thy fruite and thy meate, yea they ſhall deuoure thy ſonnes and thy daughters, thy ſheepe and thy bullockes, they ſhal eate vp thy grapes & figges: as for thy ſtrong and well defenſed cities, wherein thou didſt truſt, they ſhall bring to pouertie, and that through the ſword.

18 Neuertheleſſe, I will not then haue done with you, ſayth the Lorde.

19 But if they ſay, Wherefore doth ỹ Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then anſwere them: Becauſe that lyke as yee haue forſaken me, and ſerued ſtraunge goddes in your land, euen ſo ſhall ye ſerue ſtraungers out of your lande.

20 Preach this vnto the houſe of Jacob, and crye it out in Juda, and ſay thus,

21 Heare this thou fooliſhe & vndiſcrete people, ye haue eies, but ye ſee not: eares haue ye, but ye heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, ſayth the Lord? Will ye not tremble at my preſence? whiche bind the ſea with the ſande by a continuall decree, ſo that it can not paſſe his bondes: for though it rage, yet can it do nothing, and though the wawes thereof doe ſwell, yet maye they not goe ouer.

23 But thys people hath a falſe and obſtinate hart, they are departed and gone away fro me.

24 They thinke not in their hartes, O let vs feare ỹ Lord our God, who giueth vs rayne early and late when neede is, which keepeth euer ſtill the haruell for vs yeerely.

a. Theſe words are not to be referred vnto the citie or walles whiche were vtterly deſtroyed, but to a remnaunt of the people whome God did reſerue, that his whole Church ſhould not vtterly periſh, althoughe but a fewe did remayne faithfull.

The.vi.Chapter.

1. The ſinnes for which Hieruſalem is afflicted. 10. Vncircumciſed eares. 13. Couetouſneſſe. 14. Deceit. 20. The Lorde reiecteth the ſacrifices of the Iewes. 22. The comming of the Babylonians is propheſied agayne.

A 1 COme out of Hieruſalem, yee ſtrong children of Beniamin, blowe vp the trumpets yee Thecuites, ſet vp a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plague and a great miſerie appeareth out of the North.

2.Re.14.a.

2 I will liken the daughter Sion to a fayre and tender woman and to hir ſhal come the (a) ſhepheards with their flockes.

a. The ſhepheardes with their flockes, that is, the princes and captaynes with their armies.

3 Their tentes ſhall they pitche round about hir, and euery one ſhall feede in his place.

4 Make battayle againſt hir (ſhall they ſay) ariſe, lette vs go vp whyle it is yet day: alas the day goeth away, and the night ſhadowes fall downe.

5 Ariſe lette vs goe vp by night, and deſtroy hir ſtrong holdes.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hoſtes commanded, Hewe downe hir trees, and ſet vp bulwarkes againſt Hieruſalem: for the tyme is come that this citie muſt be puniſhed, for in hir is all malitiouſneſſe.

B 7 Like as a conduite ſpouteth out waters, ſo ſhe ſpouteth out hir wickednelle: Robberie and vnrighteouſneſſe is hearde in hir, ſorowe and woundes are euer there in my ſyght.

8 Amende thee (O Hieruſalem) leſt I withdraw my heart from thee, and make thee deſolate, and thy land alſo, that no man dwell in it.

9 For thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, The reſidue of Iſrael ſhal be gathered as the remnaunt of grapes: and therefore turne thyne hande agayne into the baſket, lyke the grape gatherer.

10 But vnto whome ſhall I ſpeake? whome ſhall I warne, that hee maye take heede? Jere.4.a. and.9.b. Theyr eares are ſo vncircumciſed, that they may not heare: beholde, they take the worde of God but for a ſcorne, and haue no luſt thereto. Jere.5.c. and.10.b.

11 And therefore I am ſo full of thyne indignation, O Lorde, that I may ſuffer no longer, but ſhed it out vppon the children that are without, and vpon all young men: yea the manne muſt bee taken priſoner with the wife and the ages with the creeple.

12 Their houſes with their landes and wiues ſhall be turned into ſtraungers: for I wyll ſtretch out mine hande vpon the inhabitours of this land, ſayth the Lord.

13 For from the leaſt to the moſt they hang all vpon couetouſneſſe: and from the Prophet vnto the Prieſt, they goe about falſehood and lyes. Eſay.56.c. Jere.8.b.

14 And beſide that, they heale the hurte of my people with ſweete wordes, ſaying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace at all. C Eſay.56.c. Jere.8.b.

15 Were they aſhamed when they had committed abhommination? Truely nay, they be paſt ſhame, and therefore they ſhall fall among the ſlayne: and in the houre when I ſhall viſite them, they ſhall bee brought downe, ſayth the Lord. Ezec.8.b. Jere.8.c.

16 Thus ſayeth the Lorde, Goe into the ſtreetes, conſyder and make inquiſition for the old way, and if it be the good and ryghte way, then goe therein, that ye may fynde reſt for your ſoules: but they ſaye, we will not walke therein.

17 Moreouer, I wil ſet watchmen ouer you, and therefore take heede vnto the voyce of the trumpette: but they ſaye, We will not take heede.

18 Heere therefore ye Gentiles and thou congregation ſhalt know what I haue deuiſed for them.

19 Heare thou earth alſo: behold, I wil cauſe a plague to come vppon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations, for that they haue not bene obedient vnto my wordes, and to my lawe, but abhorred them. Jere.19.a.

farre countreyes? (b) your burnt offerings displease me, & I reioyce not in your sacrifices.

21 And therfore thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes among this people, and there shall fall at them the father with the children, one neyghbour shall perish with another.

22 Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall arise from the ends of the earth.

23 With bowes and with dartes shal they be weaponed, it is a rough and fierce people, and an vnmercifull people: their voyce roareth like the sea, they ride vpon horses well appoynted to ỹ battayle against thee, O daughter Sion.

24 The fame of them haue we hearde, our armes are feeble, (c) heauinesse and sorow is come vpon vs, as vpon a woman trauayling with childe.

25 Let no man goe forth into the fielde, let no man come vpon the high streete: for the sword and feare of the enimie is on euery syde.

26 Wherefore gird a sackcloth about thee, O ỹ daughter of my people, sprinckle thy selfe with ashes: mourne and weepe bitterly as vpon thine onely beloued sonne, for the destroyer shall suddenly fall vpon vs.

27 Thee haue I set for a strong towre (O thou prophet) and a well fensed wal amõg my people, to seeke out & to trye their ways.

28 For they are all stubborne apostates, and fallen away, walking deceitfully, they are cleane brasse and iron, for they hurt and destroy euery man.

29 The bellowes are brent in the fyre, the leade is not molten, the melter melteth in vaine, for the euyl is not taken away from them.

30 Therfore do they call them noughtie syluer, because the Lord hath cast them out.

The.vij. Chapter.

2 Ieremie is commaunded too shewe vnto the people the worde of God, which trusteth in the outwarde seruice of the temple. 13. The euils that shall happen too the Iewes for the despising of their prophets. 21. Sacrifices doth not the Lorde chiefely require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his worde.

1 THese are the wordes that God spake vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Stande vnder the gate of the Lords house, and crie out these wordes there with a loude voyce, and say, Heare the word of the Lorde all yee of Iuda, that goe in at this dore to worship the Lord:

3 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel: Amend your wayes, and your counsels, and I wil let you dwel in this place.

4 Trust not in false lying wordes, saying, Here is ỹ tẽple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lord:

5 But rather in deed amend your wayes and counsels, and iudge right betwixt a man and his neyghbour. Exod.22.c. Zach.8.c.

6 Oppresse not the straunger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, shed not innocent bloud in this place, cleaue not to straunge goddes to your owne destruction: Leui.19.g. Iob 23.a.

7 Then wil I let you dwel in this place, yea in the land that I gaue afore time to youre fathers for euer. B

8 But take heede, ye trust in lying tales, that beguile you, and do you no good.

9 For when ye haue stollen, murdered, committed adulterie and periurie, when ye haue offered vnto Baal, folowing straunge and vnknowen goddes, shall ye be vnpunished?

10 Yet then come ye, and stande before me in this house (which hath my name giuen vnto it) and say, Tushe, wee are absolued quite, though we haue don al these abhominatiõs. 1.Re.8.9.

11 What, thinke you this house that beareth my name, is a denne of theues? And yet I see what you thinke, saith the Lorde. Esai.59.b.

12 Goe to my place in Silo, wherevnto I gaue my name afore time, & loke wel what I did to the same place for the wickednesse of my people of Israel. Iob.2.b. Mat.21.b. Iere.32. Iosu.18.a.

13 And nowe seeyng ye haue done all these deedes, saith the Lord, and I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warn you, and to commune with you, yet woulde you not heare me, I called, ye would not answere. Iere.26.a. 3.Re.3.c. 4.5.6.

14 Therefore, euen as I haue done vnto Silo, so will I do to this house that my name is giuen vnto, and that you put your trusse in, yea vnto the place that I haue giuen to you and your fathers: Prou.1.c. Esai.55.b. Luke.21.a.

15 And I shall thrust you out of my sight, as I haue cast out al your brethren the whole seede of Ephraim. 1.Re.17.a.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither giue thankes, nor byd prayer for them: make thou no intercession for them, for in no wise will I heare thee. Iere.14.b.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Iuda, and in the streetes of Ierusalem? Ezec.14.c. 1.Ioh.5.c.

18 The children gather sticks, the fathers kindle the fyre, the women knead the dough to bake cakes for the Queene of heauen: they poure oute drinke offerynges vnto straunge goddes, to prouoke me vnto wrath. Iere.44.e.

19 Howbeit, they hurt not me, sayth the Lord, but rather confounde and shame themselues.

20 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God

Behold, my wrath and indignation ſhall be powred out vpon this place, vpon men and cattell, vpon trees in the fielde, and fruite of the lande: and it ſhall burne, ſo that no man may quenche it.

D 21 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Heape vp your burnt offerings with your ſacrifices, and eate the fleſhe.

Eſai.1.a. 22 For when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I ſpake no word vnto them of burnt

Eſai.43.a. 23 But this I commaunded them, ſaying,

Exod.19.a. Hearken, and obey my voyce, and I ſhal be your God, and ye ſhal be my people, ſo that yee walke in all the wayes whiche I haue commaunded you, that ye may proſper.

Zach.7.a. 24 But they were not obedient, they enclined not their eares therunto: but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of theyr owne wicked heart, and ſo turned them ſelues away, and conuerted not vnto me.

25 And this haue they done from the tyme

Iere.25.a. 29.c.and 43.a. that our fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day: Neuertheleſſe, I ſent vnto you all my ſeruauntes the prophetes, I roſe vp early, and ſent you word.

26 Yet would they not hearken nor offer me their eares, but were obſtinate, and worſe then their fathers.

27 And thou ſhalte nowe ſpeake all theſe wordes vnto them, but they ſhall not heare thee: thou ſhalt crye vpon them, but they ſhall not anſwere thee.

E 28 Therefore ſhalt thou ſay vnto them, This is the people that neyther heareth the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth his correction: faythfulneſſe and trueth is cleane rooted out of their mouth.

Iere.5.a.

Ezec.5.a. 29 Wherefore cut off thyne heare, O Ieruſalem, and caſt it away, take vp a complaynt on high: for the Lorde hath caſt away and forſaken the people that he is diſpleaſed withall.

Iere.32.d. 30 For the chyldren of Iuda haue done euill in my ſight, ſayth the Lorde: they haue ſet vp their abominations in the houſe that hath my name, and haue defiled it:

Deut.32.c. 4.Re.24.c. Pſal.106.c. Iere.43.a 31 They haue alſo builded an aulter at Thopheth, whiche is in the valley of the children of Hennom, that they might burne theyr ſonnes and daughters in fire: whiche I neuer commaunded them, neyther came it euer in my thought.

32 And therfore beholde, the dayes ſhall come

Iere.19.c. (ſaith the Lorde) that it ſhal no more be called Thopheth, or the valley of the children of Hennom, but the valley of ſlaughter: for in Thopheth they ſhal be buryed, becauſe they ſhall elſe haue no rome.

33 Yea the dead bodies of this people ſhal bee eaten vp of the foules of the ayre, and wylde beaſtes of the earth, and no man ſhall fray them away. Iere.8.b. and.9.a.

34 And as for the voyce of myrth and gladneſſe of the cities of Iuda and Ieruſalem, the voice of the bridegrome and of the bryde, I will make them ceaſſe: for the lande ſhal be deſolate. Iere.16.b. and.25.d. Ezec.26.

The.viij.Chapter.

1. The deſtruction of the Iewes. 4. The Lorde moueth the people to amendment, reckoning vp their ſinnes. 10. He reprehendeth the lying doctrine of the prophets and prieſtes.

1 AT the ſame time, ſayth the Lord, the bones of ỹ kings of Iuda, the bones of his princes, the bones of the preachers and prophets, yea and the bones of the citizens of Ieruſalem, ſhal bee brought out of theyr graues, I

2 And laide againſt the ſunne, the moone, and Deut.4.d all the heauenly hoſte, whome they loued, whom they ſerued, whom they ranne after, whome they ſought and worſhipped: they ſhal neither be gathered together nor buried: but ſhall lye as doung vpon the earth.

3 And all they that remaine of this wicked Luke.23.b generation, ſhall deſire rather to dye than to liue, wher ſo euer they remaine, and wher as I ſcatter them, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

4 Thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto them alſo, Thus ſaith the Lord, Do men fal ſo, that they riſe not vp agayne? or if Iſrael repent, will not God turne againe to them?

5 Wherfore then is the people of Ieruſalem gone ſo farre backe, that they turne not againe? They are euer the longer the more obſtinate and wil not be conuerted.

6 For I haue loked and conſidered, but there is no man that ſpeaketh a good word, there is no man that taketh repentaunce for his ſin, that will ſo much ſay, What haue I done? but euery man turneth to his owne courſe, like a fierce horſe headlong to the battayle.

7 The ſtorke in the ayre knoweth his appoin- B ted time, the turtle Doue, the Swallowe, and the Crane conſider the time of their trauayle? but my people will not knowe the Eſai.1.a. time of the puniſhment of the Lord.

8 How dare ye ſay then, Wee are wiſe, wee haue the law of the Lord among vs? Truely in vayne hath he prepared his penne, and vaynely haue the writers written it.

9 Therfore ſhall the wiſe be confounded, they Deut.32.d ſhall be afrayde and taken: for loe, they haue Pſal.19.a. caſt out the word of the lord, what wildom can then be among them.

10 Wherefore, I will giue theyr wiues vnto aliantes, and theyr fieldes to destroyers: For from the lowest vnto the highest they folow filthie lucre, and from the prophet vnto the priest they deale all with lyes.

11 Neuertheless, they heale the hurt of my people very slenderly, saying, Peace, peace: where there is no peace at all.

12 Fye for shame, howe abhominable thinges do they? and yet they be not ashamed, yea they knowe of no shame: Wherefore in the tyme of theyr visitation they shal fal among ẏ dead bodies, ⁊ be ouerthrowē, saith ẏ lord.

13 Moreouer, I will consume them in deede (saith the Lord) so that there shall not be one grape vpon the vine, neither one figge vpon the fig tree, and the leaues shal be pluckt off: and the thing that I haue giuen them, shall be taken from them.

14 Why prolong we the time? Let vs gather our selues together, and goe into the strong city, there shal we be in rest: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water myxt with gal to drinke, because we haue sinned against him.

15 We loked for peace, and we fare not the better, we wayted for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

16 The noyse of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole lande is afrayde at the neyghyng of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the land, with al that is in it, the cities, ⁊ those ẏ dwel therin.

17 Moreouer, I will send Cockatrices and serpents among you (whiche wil not be charmed) and they shal bite you saith the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorowe: but sorow is come vpon me, and heauinesse vexeth my hart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard, (for feare of them that come) from a farre countrey: Is not the Lorde in Sion? Is not hir king in hir? Wherefore then haue they greeued me (shall the Lorde say) with their Images, and folish straunge fashions of a forraine god?

20 The haruest is gone, the sommer hath an ende, and we are not helped.

21 I am sore vexed because of the hurt of my people, I am heauie and abashed:

6 But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord, and great is the name of thy power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of the Gentiles? for thyne is the dominion: for among all the wiſe men of the Gentiles, and in all theyr kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee. B Apo.15.d.

10 But the Lorde is the true God, a liuing God, and an euerlaſting king: if hee bee wroth, the earth ſhaketh, all the Gentiles may not abyde his indignation.

11 (As for their goddes) thus ſhall you ſay to them, They are no goddes that made neyther heauen nor earth, therefore ſhall they periſhe from the earth, and from all thinges vnder heauen.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of thy lande, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will nowe throwe as with a stone slyng, the inhabiters of this lande at this once, and I wil bring trouble vpon them, that they shall proue true the wordes that I haue spoken by the prophetes.

19 Alas howe am I hurt? alas howe painefull are my scourges vnto me? for I consider this sorowe by my selfe, & I must suffer it.

23 Nowe I knowe (O Lorde) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steppes and goings.

24 Therefore chasten thou me, O Lord but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, lest thou bring me vtterly to nought.

25 Powre out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles, that knowe thee not, and vpon the people that cal not vpon thy name, and that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

The.xi.Chapter.

1. A curse to them that obey not the worde of Gods promise. 10. The people of Iuda, folowing the steppes of their fathers, worshipeth straunge goddes. 15. The Lord saith that hee will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

1 THis is a sermon which the Lorde commaunded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Heare the wordes of this couenaunt, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to al them that dwell at Ierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this couenant, Deut. 27. and. 28. b. Galat. 3. b.

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the iron furnace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voyce, and do according to all that I commaunde you, so shall ye be my people, and I wil be your God: Exod. 19. a.

5 And I will kepe my promise that I haue swoorne vnto your fathers, (namely) that I would giue them a lande which floweth ẅ milke and honie, as ye see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and sayd, Amen, let it be euen so Lord as thou sayest. Gene. 15. c. 26. a. and. 72. c

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto me again, Preach this in the cities of Iuda, and round about Ierusalem, and say, Heare the wordes of this couenaunt, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligently exhorted your fathers, euer since the time that I brought thē out of the lande of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voyce. B

8 Neuertheless, they would not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto me: but folowed the wicked imaginatiōs of their own harts, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the wordes of this couenaunt that I gaue them to keepe, which they (notwithstanding) haue not kept. Iere. 13. c.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Ierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned them selues to the blasphemyes of their forefathers, whiche had no lust to heare my wordes: euen likewise haue these also folowed straunge goddes, and worshipped them: the house of Israel and Iuda haue broken my couenaunt which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold I wil sende a plague vpon them, whiche they shal not be able to escape: and they shall crie vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shal the townes of Iuda, and the citizens of Ierusalem goe and call vpon their goddes vnto whom they made their oblations: but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble. Zach. 7. b. Deut. 35. c.

13 For as many cities as thou hast, O Iuda, so many goddes hast thou had also: and loke how many streetes there be in thee, O Ierusalē, so many shamefull aulters haue ye set vp, aulters (I say) to offer vpon them vnto Baal. Iere. 2. b.

14 Therefore

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, bid neither praise nor prayer for them: for though they crye vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them.

Iere.7.d. and.15.a.

15 What part hath my beloued in my house seeing he hath wrought abhomination, seruing many goddes? The holy flesshe offerings in the temple are gone from thee, (O Iuda) and thou, when thou hast done euil, makest thy boast of it.

Agge.2.b.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath deuised a plague for thee (O thou house of Israel and Iuda) for the euill that ye haue done to prouoke him to wrath, in that ye did seruice vnto Baal.

18 This (O Lorde) haue I learned of thee, and vnderstande it: for thou hast shewed me their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke lambe, an Oxe that is caryed away to be slayne, not knowing that they had deuised suche a counsel against me (sayinge) We wil destroy his meate with wood, and driue him out of the lande of the lyuing, that his name shal neuer be thought vpon.

20 Therefore I will beseeche thee now (O Lord of hostes) thou righteous iudge, thou that triest the reines and the harts, let me see thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I committed my cause.

A

1 O Lord, thou art more righteous than that I should dispute with thee: neuertheless, let me talke with thee in things resonable. How happeneth it that the way of the vngodly is so prosperous? and that it goeth so wel with them which without any shame offende, and liue in wickednesse?

Esai.5.d. Esai.5.a.

11 They haue layde it waste, and nowe that it is waste, it sigheth vnto me: yea the whole lande lyeth waste, and no man regardeth it.

13 They haue sowen wheat, and reaped thornes: they haue taken heritage in possession, but it doth them no good: and they were ashamed of your fruites, by cause of the great wrath of the Lorde.

14 Thus saith the Lorde vpon all my euyll neyghbours that lay hande vpon myne heritage which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israel: Beholde, I will plucke them (namely Israel) out of their lande, and put out the house of Iuda from among them.

17 But if they wil not obey, then will I roote out the same folke, & destroy the, saith ỹ lord.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, and their sparsing abroade. 11. VVhy Israel was receiued too be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

1 THus saith the Lorde vnto me, Goe thy way, and get thee a linnen gyrdle, and gyrd it about thy loynes, let it not be wet.

2 Then I got me a gyrdle, according to the commaundement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the second time the Lorde spake vnto me againe,

4 Take the gyrdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hyde it there in a hole of the rocke:

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lorde commaunded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lorde spake vnto me: Vp, and get thee to Euphrates, and fetch the girdle from thence, whiche I commaunded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and dygged vp, and toke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and behold, the girdle was corrupt so that it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then sayde the Lorde vnto me,

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, Euen so wyl I corrupt the pryde of Juda, and the high mynde of Ierusalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my worde, they folow the wicked imaginations of their owne hart, and hang vpon straunge goddes, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shall be as this breech that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straightly as a girdle lyeth vpon a mans loynes, so straightly did I bynde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Juda vnto me, saith the Lorde, that they might be my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might be in honor: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore lay this riddle before them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery pot shall be filled with wine. And they shal say vnto thee, Thinkest thou we know not that euery pot shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I shal fill al the inhabitours of this lande with drunkennesse, the kings that sitte vpon Dauids stole, the priestes and prophetes, with all that dwel at Ierusalem.

14 And I wil set them one against another, C yea the fathers against the sonnes, sayth the Lord: I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor haue pitie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not disdaine at it: for it is the Lorde him selfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lorde your God or he take his light from you, and or euer your feete stumble in darknesse at the hyll: lest when you looke for the light, hee turne it into the shadowe and darkenesse of death.

17 But if ye wil not heare me that giue you secrete warning, I will mourne from my whole harte for your stubburnesse: piteously will I weepe, and the teares shall gushe out of my eyes, for the Lordes flocke shal be caryed away captiue. Jere.31.c. Thre.1.a.

10 Thus hath the Lord ſaide vnto his people, Seeing they haue had luche a luſt to wander abroade, and haue not refrayned their feete: therefore the Lord hath no pleaſure in them, but he will nowe bring againe to remembraunce all their miſdeedes, and punith all their ſinnes.

Jere. 7. d. 11 Yea euen thus ſaide ỳ Lord vnto me, Thou ſhalt not praye to do this people good.

12 For though they faſt, I will not heare their prayers, and though they offer burnt offeringes and ſacrifices, yet will not I accept them: for I wil deſtroy thē with the ſword, hunger, and peſtilence.

19 Haſt thou then vtterly forſaken Iuda? Doeſt thou ſo abhorre Sion? Wherefore haſt thou ſo plagued vs that we cannot be healed no more? We loked for peace, and there commeth no good: for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble. Jer. 8.

Thus

11 THus spake the Lord vnto me, Though Moses & Samuel stode before me, yet haue I no hart to this people: dryue them away, that they may goe out of my sight.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whyther shal we goe? then tell them, The Lorde giueth you this answere: Some vnto death, some to the sword, some to hunger, some into captiuitie.

3 For I wil bring foure plagues vpon them, sayth the Lord: the sword shall slay them, the dogges shall teare thē in peeces, ỹ fowles of the aire, and beastes of the earth, shall eate them vp and destroy them:

4 I wil scatter them about also in all kyngdomes and lands to be plagued, bycause of Manasses the sonne of Hezekia king of Iuda, for the things that he did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem, who shal be sorie for thee? Or who shall make intercession to obtaine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from me, and turnest backwarde, sayth the Lord: therefore I dyd stretche out myne hande against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bin sorie for thee so long, that I am weerie.

7 I haue scattered them abroade w̄ the fanne, on euery syde of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their own wayes.

8 I haue made their wyddowes moe in nūber than the sandes of the sea, vppon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone day, suddenly and vnawares did I send a feare vpon their cities.

9 She that hath borne seuen children, hathe none, hir hart is full of sorow: the sunne doth fayle hir in the cleare day, she is confounded and fayntie for very heauynesse: As for those that remayne, I wil deliuer them vnto the sword before their enimies, saith the Lord.

10 O mother, alas that thou euer dyddest beare me, a brawler & rebuker of the whole lande: though I neuer lent nor receiued vpon vsurie, yet all men speake euil vpon me.

11 And the Lord answered me, Verely thy (a) remnaunt shall haue wealth: Come not I to thee when thou art in trouble, and helpe thee when thine enimie oppresseth thee?

12 Doth one iron hurt another? or one metal that commeth from the North another?

13 As for thy riches & treasure, I wil giue thē out into a pray: not for money, but bycause of al thy sins that ỹ hast don in al thy coastes.

14 And I wil bring thee with thine enimies into a lande that thou knowest not: for the fyre that is kindled in mine indignation shal burne vp.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, therfore remember me, and visite me, reuenge me of my persecutours: take me not from this life in the midst of thyne anger, thou knowest that for thy sake I suffer rebuke.

16 When I had founde thy wordes, I dyd eate them vp greedily, they haue made my hart ioyfull and glad: for thy name was (b) called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes.

17 I dwel not among the scorners, neyther is my delight therein: but I dwel alone bycause of thy hand, for thou hast filled me with bitternesse.

18 Shal my heauinesse endure for euer? Are my plagues then so great that they may neuer be healed? Wylt thou be as one that is false, and as a water that falleth, and can not continue?

19 Upon these wordes, thus sayde the Lorde vnto me, If ỹ wilt turne againe, I shall set thee in my seruice, & if thou wilt take out the things that is precious frō the vile, thou shalt be euen as myne owne mouth: they shal conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto thē.

20 And so shall I make thee a strong brazen wal agaynst this people: They shall fight agaynst thee, but they shall not preuayle: for I my selfe wil be with thee, to helpe thee, and deliuer thee, sayth the Lord:

21 And I wil rid thee out of the hands of the wicked, and deliuer thee out of the handes of tyrauntes.

2 Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place.

3 For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, and of their fathers that haue begotten them in this lande, thus sayth the Lorde,

4 They shall dye an horrible death, no man shal weepe for them, nor bury them, but they shal lye as doung vpon the earth: they shall perishe through the sworde and hunger, and their bodyes shall be meate for the foules of the ayre, and beastes of the earth.

5 For thus sayth the Lord, Go not thou into the house of mournyng, nor come to mourne and weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, sayth the Lorde, yea my fauour and my mercies.

6 And in this lande ſhall they dye olde and young, and ſhal not be buryed: no man ſhal beweepe them, no man ſhall clyp nor ſhaue him ſelfe for them.

B 7 They ſhal not wring their hands in mourning wiſe on their dead, one to comfort another: one ſhall not offer another the cup of conſolation, to forget their heauineſſe for their father and mother.

20 How can a man make thoſe hys goddes, which are not able to be goddes?

21 And therefore I wyl once teach thē, ſayth
the Lorde, I wil ſhewe them my hande and my power, and they ſhall knowe that my name is the Lord.

1. The frowardneſſe of the Iewes. 5. Curſed be thoſe that put their confidence in man, and thoſe bleſſed that truſt in God. 9. Mans hart is wicked. 10. God is the ſearcher of the hart. 13. The liuing waters are forſaken. 21. The hallowing of the Sabboth is commaunded.

itage that I gaue thee: and I will ſubdue thee vnder the heauie bondage of thy enimies, in a lande that thou knoweſt not: for thou haſte miniſtred fyre to myne indignation, which ſhal burne euermore.

9 Among all things, man hath the moste deceitfull and stubburne harte: Who shal then know it?

10 Euen I the Lord searche out the ground of the hart, and trye the raynes, and reward euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 The Partridge maketh a nest of egges, which she layde not: he commeth by riches, but not righteously, in the middest of his life must he leaue them behinde him, and at the last be found a very fole.

12 But thou (O Lord) whose throne is most glorious, excellent, and of most antiquitie, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest:

13 Thou art the comfort of Israel, all they that forsake thee shal be confounded, all they that do departe from thee shal be writen in earth: for they haue forsaken the Lord the very conduite of the waters of life.

14 Heale me, O Lorde, and I shal be whole saue thou me, and I shal be saued: for thou art my prayse.

15 Beholde, these men say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come nowe.

16 Whereas I neuertheless obediently followed thee as a shepheard, and haue not vncalled take this office vpon me, this knowest ỹ wel: my wordes also were right before thee.

17 Be not thou terrible vnto me, O Lorde: for thou art he in whom I hope when I am in peryl.

18 Let my persecuters be confounded, but not me: let them be afrayde, and not me: Thou shalt bring vpon them the tyme of plague, and shalt destroy them right sore.

19 Thus hath the Lorde layde vnto me, Goe and stande vnder the gate wherethrough the people and the kinges of Iuda go out and in, yea vnder all the gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord ye kings of Iuda, and al thou people of Iuda, and all the citizens of Ierusalem, that goe through this gate.

D 21 Thus the Lorde commaundeth, Take heede, for your lyues that ye carie no burden vpon you in the Sabboth, to bring it thorow the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Ye shall beare no burden also out of your houses in the Sabboth, you shall do no labour therin: but halow the Sabboth, as I commaunded your fathers.

23 Howbeit, they obeyed me not, neyther hearkened they vnto me: but were obstinate and stubburne, and neyther obeyed me, nor receiued my correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye will heare me, sayth the Lord, and beare no burden into the citie through this gate vpon the Sabboth, if ye will halowe the Sabboth, so that yee do no worke therein:

25 Then shal there goe through the gates of this citie kings and princes that shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, they shall be caryed vpon charets, & ryde vpon horses, both they & their princes: yea whole Iuda and al the citizens of Ierusalem shal goe here through, and this citie shal euer be inhabited.

26 There shal come men also from the cities of Iuda, from about Ierusalem, & from the land of Beniamin, from the playne fieldes, from the mountaynes, & from the wildernes, which shall bring burnt offerings, sacrifices, oblations, & incense, and offer vp thankesgiuing in the house of the Lord. E

27 But if ye wil not be obedient vnto me, to halow the Sabboth, so ỹ ye wil beare your burdens through the gates of Ierusalem vpon the Sabboth, then shal I set fyre vpon the gates of Ierusalem, & it shall burne vp the houses of Ierusalem, & no man shal be able to quench it.

The.xviij. Chapter.

2. God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his word, and too helpe them agayne when they amend. 18. The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremie. 19. His prayer against his aduersaries.

1 THis is another communication that A God had with Ieremie, saying,

2 Arise, and go down into the potters house, and there shal I tel thee more of my minde.

3 Now when I came to the potters house, I found him making his worke vpō a wheele.

4 The vessel ỹ the potter made of clay, brake among his hands: So he began a newe, and made another vessel according to his minde.

5 Then sayd the Lord thus vnto me,

6 May not I do with you as this potter doth, O ye house of Israel, sayth the Lorde: Beholde, ye house of Israel, ye are in my hand, euen as the clay is in the potters hande. Esai.45.b. Iere.19.c. Rom.9.c.

10 If the same people do euyl before me, and heare not my voyce, I repent for the good that I haue deuised for them.

11 Speake nowe therefore vnto whole Iuda, and to them that dwel at Ierusalem, Thus ſayth the Lord, Beholde, I am deuiſing a plague for you, and am taking a thing in hande againſt you: therefore let euery man turne from his euil way, and take vpon you the thing that is good and right.

Iere.25.a. and.35.c. Ionas.3.b.

12 But they ſayde, No more of this, we will folowe our owne imaginations, & do euery man accoyding to the wilfulneſſe of his own mynde.

Iere.14.a.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Aske amõg the heathen if any man haue heard ſuch horrible thinges, as the mayden Iſrael hathe done?

14 (a) Wyl a man forſake the ſnowe of Libanus, which commeth from the rocke of the fielde? or ſhall the cold flowing water that commeth from another place be forſaken?

a It is extreme madneſſe to forſake God the onely freſh ſpring of pure pleaſaunt waters, who is nigh at hande, and to goe far off to ſeeke fowle and filthy puddels, wherein there is nothing but vncleane and ſtinking water.

15 But my people hath forgotten mee, they haue made ſacrifice in vayne, and their prophetes make them fall in their wayes from the auncient pathes, and to goe into a way not vſed to be troden (of iuſt men.)

16 Where through they haue brought their lande into an euerlaſting wyldernelle and ſcorne: ſo that whoſoeuer trauayleth therby, ſhal be abaſhed, and wagge their heads.

Iere.19.b. and.49.c.

17 With an Eaſt winde wil I ſcatter them before their enimies: and when they? deſtruction commeth, I will turne my backe vpon them, but not my face.

Iere.11.b.

18 Then ſayde they, Come, let vs imagine ſome thing againſt this Jeremie: for the prieſtes ſhall not be deſtitute of the law, neither ſhall the wiſe men be deſtitute of counſel, nor the prophetes deſtitute of the worde of God: Come, and let vs ſmyte him w̃ the tong, and let vs not marke all his wordes.

19 Conſider me, O Lord, and heare the voice of myne enimies.

Pſal.109.c. Iere.10.d.

20 Shall they recompence euil for good? for they haue digged a pyt for my ſoule: Remember how that I ſtode before thee to ſpeake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

D

21 Therefore, let their children dye of hunger, and let them be oppreſſed with the ſworde: let their wiues be robbed of their children, and become widdowes, let their huſbandes be ſlayne, let their young men be kylled with the ſworde in the fielde.

Pſal.109.b. Thre.3.f.

22 Let the noyſe be heard out of their houſes when thou bringeſt the murderer ſuddaynely vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and layde ſnares for my feete.

Iere.11.d.

23 Yet Lord thou knoweſt all their counſel, that they haue deuiſed to ſlay me, forgiue not their wickednelle, and let not their ſinnes be put out of thy ſyght, but let them be iudged before thee as giltie: this do thou vnto them in the time of thyne indignation.

The.xix. Chapter.

He prophecieth the deſtruction of Ieruſalem for the contempte and deſpyſing of the word of God.

1 Thus ſayde the Lord, Go thy way and I buye thee an earthen pitcher, and bring forth the ſenatours and chiefe prieſtes,

2 Unto the valley of the children of Hennom, whiche lyeth without the Eaſt gate, and ſhewe them there the wordes that I ſhall tel thee.

3 And ſay thus vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord ye kings of Juda, and ye citizens of Ieruſalem, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael: Beholde, I will bring ſuch a plague vpon this place, that the eares of all that heare it ſhall glowe:

3.Reg.21. Iere.6.b.

4 And that becauſe they haue forſaken me, and vnhalowed this place, and haue offered in it vnto ſtraunge gods, whome neyther they, their fathers, nor ỳ kings of Juda haue knowen: they haue filled this place alſo with the bloud of innocentes.

5 And they haue ſet vp an aulter vnto Baal, to burne their children for a burnt offering vnto Baal, whiche I neyther commaunded nor charged them, neyther thought once therevpon.

Deut.12.b. and.18.b. Pſal.106.f. Exe.16.f. and.20.b. Iere.7.d.

6 Beholde therefore, the time commeth (ſaith the Lorde) that this place ſhal no more bee called Thopheth, nor the valleye of the children of Hennom, but the valley of ſlaughter.

7 For in this place wil I bring to nought the counſayle of Juda and Ieruſalem, and kyll them downe with the ſworde before their enimies: & I will deliuer them into the hãds of them that ſeek their liues, & their dead carkaſſes wil I giue to be meate for the foules of the ayre, and the beaſtes of the fielde.

8 And I wil make this citie ſo deſolate and deſpiſed, that who ſoeuer goeth thereby, ſhal be abaſhed, and iell vpon hir, becauſe of all hir plagues.

10 And the pitcher ſhalt thou breake in the ſight of the men that goe with thee, other place.

12 Thus wil I do vnto this place also, saith the Lord, & to them that dwel therin, yea I wil make this citie as Thopheth.
13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the kinges of Juda, shal be defiled like as Thopheth, and so shall all the houses in whose roofes they did sacrifice vnto al the host of heauen, and powred drinke offerings vnto straunge goddes.
14 And so Ieremie came from Thopheth, where the Lorde had sent him to prophesie, and stode in the court of the house of the Lord, and spake to al the people,
15 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon euery towne about it, all the plagues that I haue deuised against them, bycause they haue bin obstinate, and would not obey my warnings.

The.xx.Chapter.

2. Ieremie is smitten and cast into prison for preaching the word of God. 4. He propheciеth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7. He complaineth that hee is a mocking stocke for the worde of God. 9. He is compelled by the spirite to preache the worde.

1 When Phashur the priest, the son of Emmer, chief in the house of the Lord, heard Ieremie preache these wordes (so stedfastly,)
2 He smote Ieremie, and put him in the prison that is in the high gate of Beniamin, towardes the house of the Lord.
3 The nexte day folowing, Phashur brought Ieremie out of the prison agayne: Then sayde Ieremie vnto him, The Lorde shall cal thee no more Phashur (that is, excellent and increasing) but Magor (that is, feareful and afrayde) euery where.
4 For thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I wil make thee afrayde, euen thy selfe, and al that fauour thee, which shall perishe with the sword of their enimies, euen before thy face, and I will giue whole Juda into the hands of the king of Babylon which shall carrye some vnto Babylon prisoners, & slaye some with the sworde.
5 Moreouer, all the substaunce of this citie, whatsoeuer they haue gotten w̄ their trauaile, all their precious things, and al the treasure of the kings of Juda, will I giue into the handes of their enimies, whiche shall spoyle them, and carrie them vnto Babylon.
6 But as for thee (O Phashur) thou shalt go into captiuitie w̄ all thyne housholde, and to Babylon shalt thou come, where thou shalt dye, & be buryed, thou and all thy fauourers to whom thou hast preached lies.
7 (a) O Lord, if I am deceiued, then hast thou deceiued me, thou enforcedst me, and hast preuayled: dayly am I despised and laughed to scorne of euery man.
8 For since I began to preache, I cryed out against violencie, and exclaymed against oppression: for the which cause they cast the word of the Lord in my teeth, to my reproch continually.
9 Wherefore I thought from henceforth not to speake of him, nor to preache any more in his name: but the word of the Lorde was a verye burnyng fyre in my harte and in my bones, which when I would haue stopped, I might not.
10 Verily I heard the euyl reportes of many, terrour was on euery side of me (b) complayne vpon him, say they, & we will tel his tale: Yea all myne owne companions, and such as were conuersant w̄ me, lay in wayte for my halting, saying. Peraduenture he wil be deceiued, and so shal we preuayle against him, and be auenged of him.
11 But the Lorde stode by me like a mightie Giaunt, therefore my persecuters fel, and coulde do nothing: they shal be sore confoūded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shall haue an euerlasting shame, which shal neuer be forgotten.
12 And nowe, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, which knowest ỹ raynes and the very hearts, let me se them punished: for vnto thee I haue declared my cause.
13 Syng vnto the Lorde, and prayse him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed from the hande of the violent.
14 Cursed be the day wherein I was borne, vnhappy bee the day wherein my mother brought me forth.
15 Cursed be the man that brought my father the tydynges to make him glad, saying, Thou hast begotten a sonne:
16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities (c) which the Lord turned vpside down, and repented not: Let him heare crying in the morning, and at none day lamentable howlyng.
17 Why slewest thou not me assone as I came out of my mothers wombe? for that my mother had bin my graue hir selfe, that the birth might not haue come out, but remayned stil in hir?
18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe? to haue experience of labour and sorowe, and to leade my lyfe with shame?

a. The prophet assureth the truth of his doctrine against the slaunderer, for it is the worde of God, who cā not deceiue nor be deceiued. Iere. 6. b.

b. The priestes and such as were in auctoritie with the king, stirredvp the people to watch narrowly Ieremies sayings if they could finde him to halt in any thing, wherefore they might accuse him to the king. Iere. 11. d.

c. The most godly men are sometimes caried away with the vnruly rage of immoderate affection, albeit in this prophet the cause of this immoderate zeale was for that he sawe his trauayle to saue the people to be in vaine, Gods word contemned, and all godlinesse scornefully despised.

The.xxi. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Zedekias ſhal be taken, and the citie burned.

A 1 THeſe are the woꝛdes that the Loꝛd ſpake vnto Jeremie, what time as king Zedekias ſent vnto him Phaſhur the ſonne of Melchias, & Sophonias the ſonne of Maaſias prieſt, ſaying,

5 And I my ſelfe will fyght againſte you with an out ſtretched hand, & with a mightie arme, in greate diſpleaſure, and terrible wꝛath:

6 And will ſmite them that dwel in this citie, yea both men and cattel ſhall dye of a great peſtilence.

which raigned after his father: When he is caryed out of this place, he shall neuer come hither againe.

11 For he shall dye in the place whereunto he is led captiue, and shal see this land no more.

12 Woe worth him that buildeth his houſe in vnrighteousnesse, and his parlours with the good that he hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompenceth his neyghbours labour, nor payeth him his hyre:

13 Who thinketh in him selfe, I will builde me a wyde house, and goodly parlours, who causeth windowes to be hewen therein, and the seelings and ioysts maketh be of Cedar, and painteth them with Sinoper:

15 Thinkest thou to raigne nowe that thou hast inclosed thy selfe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke, and prosper well, as long as he dealt with equitie and righteousnesse?

16 Yea, when he helped the oppressed and poore to their right, then prospered he well: from whence came this, but only because he knewe me, saith the Lord?

17 Nevertheless, as for thine eyes and thine hart, they loke vpon couetousnesse, to shed innocent bloud, to do wrong and violence.

18 And therefore, thus saith the Lord against Iehoakim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, They shall not mourne for him (as they vse to do) Alas brother, alas sister: neyther shall they say vnto him, Alas sir, alas for that noble prince.

19 But as an Asse shall he be buried, corrupt, and be cast without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 Climbe vp the hil of Libanus, (O thou daughter Sion) lift vp thy voyce vpon Basan, crye from al partes: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I gaue thee warning while thou wast yet in prosperitie, but thou saydest, I will not heare: and this manner hast thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldest neuer heare my voyce.

22 All thy heardmen shal be driuen with the winde, and thy darlings shal be caried away into captiuitie: then shalt thou be brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedar trees, O howe little shalt thou be regarded when thy sorow and panges come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauayling with childe?

24 Is truely as I liue, saith the Lord, though Conanias the sonne of Iehoakim king of Iuda, weare the signet of my right hād, yet wil I plucke him of.

25 And I will giue thee into the hande of them that seeke thy lyfe, and into the power of the that thou fearest, euen into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Moreouer, I will sende thee, and thy mother that bare thee, into a straunge lande where ye were not borne, & there shal ye die.

27 But as for the lande vnto the which ye will desire to returne vnto, ye shall neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Conanias shall be like an image robbed and torne in peeces, and like a vessel wherein there is no pleasure: Wherefore both he and his seede shall be sente away, & cast into a land that they know not. E

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lorde.

30 Thus saith the Lorde, Write this man destitute of children: for no prosperitie shall this man haue all his dayes, neyther shal any of his seede be so happy as to sit vpon the seate of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Iuda.

2 Wherefore this is the saying of the Lorde God of Israel concerning the shepheardes that feede my people, Yee scatter and thruste out my flocke, and loke not vpon them: therefore nowe will I visite the wickednesse of your imaginations, saith the Lorde.

3 And I will gather together the remnant of my flocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may growe and increase.

4 I wil set shepheards also ouer them, which shall feede them: they shall no more feare and dreade, and there shal none of them be lost, saith the Lorde.

5 Behold, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I wil rayse vp the righteous branche of Dauid, which king shal beare rule, & be shal prosper with wisedome, and shall set vp equitie and righteousnesse agayne in the earth. Iere. 33. c. Esai. 11. a.

6 In his time ſhall Juda be ſaued, and Iſrael ſhall dwel without feare: and this is the name that they ſhall cal him, euen the Lord our righteouſneſſe.

B Iere.16.c.

7 And therefore beholde, the time commeth, ſayth the Lorde, that it ſhal be no more ſaid, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Iſrael out of the lande of Egipt:

8 But, The Lord liueth which brought forth and ledde the ſeede of the houſe of Iſrael out of the north lande, and from all countreys where I had ſcattered them: and they ſhall dwell in their owne lande againe.

9 My hart breaketh in my body, becauſe of the falſe prophetes, all my bones ſhake, I am become lyke a drunken man, that by reaſon of wine can take no reſt, for very feare of the Lorde, and his holy wordes.

Iere.14.a.

10 Becauſe the lande is full of adulterers, and through ſwearing it mourneth, and the pleaſant paſtures of the deſert are dryed vp: yea the way that men take is wicked, and their power is nothing right.

11 For the prophets and the prieſtes them ſelues are polluted hypocrites, and their wickedneſſe haue I found in my houſe, ſayth the Lorde.

12 Wherefore theyr way ſhall be ſlypperie in the darkeneſſe, wherein they may ſtacker & fal: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their viſitatiō, ſaith the Lord.

13 I haue ſeene follie among the prophets of Samaria, that preached for Baal, and deceiued my people of Iſrael.

C 14 I haue ſeene alſo among the prophetes of Ieruſalē foule adulterie, and preſumptuous lyes: they take the moſt ſhameful men by ẏ hand flattering them, ſo that they can not returne from their wickednes: all theſe, with their citizens, are vnto me as Sodome, and as the inhabitours of Gomorrhe.

Iere.9.b.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes concerning theſe prophetes, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gal: for from the prophetes of Ieruſalem is hypocriſie come into all the lande.

Iere.27.b. and.29.b.

16 And therfore the Lord of hoſtes giueth you this warning: Heare not the wordes of the prophetes that preache vnto you and deceyue you, truely they teache you vanitie: for they ſpeake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lorde.

Iere.12.a. and.14.b. Sopho.1.c.

17 They ſay vnto them that deſpiſe me, The Lord hath ſpoken it, tuſhe, ye ſhall proſper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the luſt of their owne harte, they ſay, Tuſh there ſhall no myſfortune happē you.

18 For who hath ſitten in the counſel of the Lorde, that he hath heard and vnderſtande what he is about to do? who hath marked his deuice, and heard it?

Iere.30.b.

19 Beholde, the ſtormie weather of the Lord (that is) his indignation, ſhall goe forth, and a violent whirlewinde ſhall fall downe vpon the heade of the vngodly.

Iere.30.b.

20 And the wrath of the Lord ſhal not turne againe, vntil hee perfourme and fulfill the thought of his hart, and in the latter dayes ye ſhall knowe his meaning.

D Iere.14.b.

21 I haue not ſent theſe prophetes (ſaith the Lord) and yet they ranne, I haue not ſpoken to them, and yet they preached.

22 But if they had continued in my counſel, they had opened to my people my wordes, & they had turned my people from their euill wayes, and wicked imaginations.

25 I haue heard wel ynough what the prophetes ſay that preache lyes in my name, ſaying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long will this continue in the prophetes hart to tell lies, and preach the craftie ſubtilitie of their owne hart?

27 Whoſe purpoſe is, wt the dreames that euery one tel, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came vp.

E 2.Cor.4.d. 1.Pet.4.b.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and he that vnderſtandeth my worde, let him ſhewe it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to do together, ſaith the Lorde?

29 Is not my worde like a fyre, ſaythe the Lorde? and like an hammer that breaketh the harde ſtone?

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, Beholde, I will vpon the prophets that ſteale my word priuily from euery man.

31 Beholde, here am I, ſayth the Lord, againſt the prophetes ẏ make tongs tender to ſpeake, and to ſay, The Lorde hath ſayde it.

32 Behold, here am I, ſaith the Lord: againſt thoſe prophetes that dare prophecie lying dreames, and deceiue my people with theyr vanities and inconſtant deuiſes, yet I neuer ſente nor commaunded them: they ſhall doe this people no good at all, ſaythe the Lorde.

a. The wicked mens harts were ſo hardened againſt the truth, that they vſed ſcornefully to ſcoffe at Gods threatning prophecies in mockage calling them Gods fardels or burdēs.

33 If this people eyther any prophete or prieſt aſke thee, and ſay, What is the (a) burden of the Lord? Thou ſhalt ſay vnto thē, What burden? I will forſake you ſaith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, prieſt, or people that ſhall ſay this this tearme, The burden of the Lorde: hym will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shall yee saye euery one to another, and euery man to his brother: What answer hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lordes commaundement?

36 And as for the burden of the Lord, ye shal speake no more of it, for euery mans owne word is his burden: because ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lorde of hostes, our God.

37 Thus shal euery man say to the prophets: What answer hath the Lorde giuen thee? or what sayth the Lorde?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lorde. Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Forasmuch as ye haue vsed this tearme (the burden of the Lorde) whereas I notwithstanding sente vnto you, & forbade you to speake of the Lords burden:

39 Behold therefore, I will take you vp as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea and the citie also that I gaue you and your fathers:

40 And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten.

The.xxiiij.Chapter.

1. The vision of the two pannyers of figges. 5. The first vision signifieth, that part of the people should be brought agayne from captiuitie. 8. The second, that Zedekias and the rest of the people should be destroyed.

1 THe Lord shewed me a vision: Behold, there stode two maundes of fygges before the temple of the Lord, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away captiue Iechonias, the sonne of Iehoakim king of Juda, the myghtie men also of Juda, with the workemaisters and cunning men of Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

2 In the one maunde were very good figges, euen lyke those that be firste ripe: in the other maunde were very naughtie figges, whych myght not be eaten, they were so euil.

3 Then sayd the Lorde vnto me, What seest thou Ieremie? I sayd, Figges: wherof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them.

4 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after this manner:

5 Thus sayth the Lorde the God of Israell, Like as thou knowest the good figges: so shall I knowe the men led away, whome I haue sent out of this place into the Lande of the Chaldees for their profite:

6 And I will set myne eyes vpon them for the best, for I will bryng them agayne into this lande, I will builde them vp, and not breake them downe, I will plant them, and not rote them out.

7 And I wyll gyue them an hart to knowe howe that I am the Lorde: They shall bee my people, and I wyll be theyr God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole hearte. B Deut.29.a. Iere.30.d. 31.f.32.c.

8 And like as thou knowest the naughtie figges, whyche may not be eaten they are so euill: euen so will I, sayth the Lord, cause Zedechias the king of Juda, yea and all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem that remayne ouer in this lande, and them also that dwell in Egypt, to be vexed and plaged in all kingdomes and landes. Iere.29.c.

9 And I will make them to be a reproche, a common byworde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them. Psal.79.a. Baruc.3.a.

10 I will sende the sworde, hunger, and pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the land that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

The.xxv.Chapter.

1. Ieremie prophesieth that they shalbe in captiuitie threescore and tenne yeeres, bycause they contemned and despised the worde of God. 10. He sheweth that after the threscore and ten yeeres, the Babylonians shoulde be destroyed. 14. The destruction of all nations is prophesied. 34. He moueth the priestes of the nations to wayling.

1 A SErmon that was giuen vnto Ieremie vpon al the people of Juda, in the fourth yeere of Iehoakim the sonne of Josias king of Juda (that was in the fyrst yeere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.) A

2 Whiche sermon Ieremie the prophet made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabitours of Hierusalem, on this manner.

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Josias ỹ sonne of Ammon kyng of Juda, vnto this presente daye (that is euen twentie and three yeeres) the worde of the Lorde hath bin committed vnto me, and so I haue spoken vnto you, I haue risen vp early, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye woulde not heare me. Iere.39.c. 35.c.38.a.

4 Though the Lorde hath sent his seruauntes all the prophetes vnto you in season, yet would ye not obey, yee woulde not encline your eares to heare. 2.Par.36.c.

5 He sayde, Turne agayne euery man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, so shall ye dwell for euer in the land ỹ the Lord promised you & your forefathers. 4.Reg.17.c

6 And goe not after ſtraunge goddes, ſerue them not, worſhip them not, and anger me not with the worckes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

8 Wherefore thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Iere.1.b. Bycause yee haue not hearkened vnto my worde, 9 Loe, I wyll ſende out and call for the people that dwell in the North, ſayth the Lorde, and will prepare Nabuchodonoſor Eſai.10.a. the kyng of Babylon my ſeruaunt, and will Iere.17.a. bring them vpon this land, and vpon al that dwell therein, and vpon al the people that are about them, and will vtterly rote them out: I will make them amaſed, a mockage, and a continuall deſart.

10 Moreouer, I wyll take from them the Iere.8.b. voyce of gladneſſe and ſolace, the voyce of and.16.b. the bridegrome and the bryde, the noyſe of the milſtones, and the light of the creſſets.

11 And this whole lande ſhal become a wilderneſſe, and aſtoniſhed: and theſe nations ſhall ſerue the king of Babylon three ſcore yeeres and ten.

12 When the threeſcore and ten yeeres are ex- 2.Pa.36.d. pired, I will viſite all the wickedneſſe of the 1.Eſd.1.a. king of Babylon and his people, ſayeth the Iere.5.e. Lord, yea and the land of the Chaldees, and and.29.b. will make it a perpetuall wildernesse. Dan.9.a. Zach.1.b.

13 And will fulfill all my wordes, vpon that land, which I haue deuiſed againſt it: yea al that is written in this booke, whiche Jeremie hath propheſied of all people.

14 So that they alſo ſhall bee ſubdued vnto C diuers nations and great kings, for I wyll Iob.34.d. recompence them according to theyr deedes, and worckes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lorde God of Iſraell ſpoken vnto me: Take this wine cup of in- Eſai.51.d. dignation from my hande, that thou mayeſt Pſal.75.b. cauſe all people to whome I ſend thee, for to drinke of it:

16 That when they haue dronken therof, they may be madde and out of theyr wyttes, whē the ſword commeth that I wyll ſend amōg them.

17 Then toke I the cup from the Lords hād, and made all people to drinke therof, vnto whome the Lord had ſent me:

18 But fyrſt the citie of Hieruſalem, and all the cities of Juda, their kings and princes, to make them deſolate, amaſed, deſpiſed, and hiſſed at, and curſed, according as it is come to paſſe this day:

19 Yea and Pharao the kyng of Egypt, his ſeruauntes, his princes, and his people, altogether one with another:

20 And all kings of ỹ land of Hus, all kings of the Philiſtines laude, Aſcalon, Azah, Acca- ron, and the remnant of Aſdod,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, and the D Ammonites,

22 All the kynges of Tyrus and Sidon, the Kynges of the Iles that are beyonde the Sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, and all them that dwell in the vttermoſt partes of the worlde,

24 All the kinges of Arabia, and (generally) all the kings that dwell in the deſart,

25 All the kings of Zimri, all the kinges of Elam, all the kings of Medes, 26 All the kings toward the North, whether they be farre or nigh, euery one againſte hys neyghbour, yea and all the kingdomes that are vppon the whole earthe: and the king of Seſach ſhall drinke alſo after them.

27 Therefore ſaye thou vnto them, Thys is the commaundement of the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell: Drinke, and be dronken, ſpewe, and fall, that yee neuer ariſe, and that through the ſword whyche I wyll ſende among you.

28 But if they will not receiue the cup of thy E hand, and drinke it, then tell them, thus doth the Lorde of hoſtes threaten you, Drinke it you ſhall, and that shortly.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the Citie that Ier.49. my name is giuen vnto: thynke ye then that Ezec.9. I will leaue you vnpuniſhed? yee ſhall not 1.Pet.4. goe quite: for why? I call for a ſworde vpon all the inhabiters of the earth, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

30 Therefore tell them all theſe wordes, and Joel.4.c. ſay vnto them, The Lorde ſhall crye from Amos.1. aboue, and his voyce ſhall be heard from his holy habitation, with a greate noyſe ſhall he cry from his court regal: he ſhall giue a great voyce lyke the grape gatherers, and the ſound thereof ſhall be heard vnto the endes of the world.

31 For the Lorde hathe a iudgemente to giue vpon all people, and will holde his courte of iuſtice with al fleſh, and wil deliuer the vngodly to the ſword, ſayth the Lorde.

32 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts, Behold, Ier.9.d. a miſerable plague ſhall goe from one people to another, and a great ſtormie water ſhal ariſe from all the endes of the earth.

33 And the ſame day ſhal the Lorde him ſelfe ſlay them from one ende of the earth to another: there ſhall no moane bee made for anye of them, none gathered vp, none buried: but ſhall lye as dung vpon the ground.

34 Mourne, O yee ſhepheardes, and crye, ſprinkle sprinckle youre selues with asshes, O yee rammes of the flocke: for the tyme of youre slaughter and breache is fulfilled, and yee shall fall lyke vessels that were much set by.

35 The shepheardes shall haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke shall not escape.

36 Then shall the shepheardes crye horribly, and the rammes of the flocke shall mourne: for the Lord hath consumed their pasture, 37 And they? best fieldes lye dead, bycause of the horrible wrath of the Lorde.

38 They haue forsaken their foldes lyke as a Lion: for they? lande is waste, bycause of the spoylers furious crueltie, and of his fearfull indignation.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1. Ieremie mooueth the people to amendement. 7. He is taken of the prophetes and priestes, and brought to iudgement. 33. Vrias the prophet is killed of Iehoakim, contrary to the will of God.

1 IN the beginning of the raigne of Iehoakim the sonne of Iosias kyng of Iuda, came thys worde from the Lorde, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lordes house, and speake vnto all them, which (out of the citie of Iuda) come to doe worship in the Lordes house, all the wordes that I command thee to say: loke that thou kepe not one worde backe.

3 (If peraduenture they wyll hearken and turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may also repente of the plague whiche I haue determined to bring vpon them, bicause of their wicked inuentions.)

4 And after this maner shalt thou speake vnto them, thus sayth the Lord, If ye will not obey me, to walke in my lawes whiche I haue given you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruauntes the prophetes whome I sent vnto you, rising vp tymely, and still sending, yet you haue not hearkened:

6 Then will I do to this house as I did vnto Silo, and wil make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth.

7 And the priestes, the prophetes, and all the people heard Ieremie preach these wordes in the house of the Lorde.

8 Now when he had spoken out al the words that the Lorde commaunded him to preache vnto the people, then the priests, the prophets, and all the people toke hold vpon him, and sayd, Thou shalt dye:

9 How darest thou bee so bolde as to say in the name of the Lord, It shall happen to this house as it did vnto Silo, and this citie shall bee so waste, that no manne maye dwell therein?

10 And when all the people were gathered about Ieremie in the house of the Lorde, the princes of Iuda heard of this rumour, and they came some out of the kings palace into the house of the Lorde, and sate them downe before the new dore of the Lord. 4. Re. 15. g. Iere. 36. d.

11 Then spake the priestes and the prophetes vnto the rulers, and to all the people these wordes, This man is worthy to die: for hee hath preached againste this citie, as yee youre selues haue heard with your eares. Iohn. 19. a. Mat. 16. g.

12 Then sayd Ieremie vnto the rulers and to all the people, The Lorde hathe sente me to preach against this house, and agaynste thys citie, all the words that ye haue hearde.

13 Therefore amende your wayes, and youre aduisements, and be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God, so shall the Lord repente of the plague that he hath deuised against you.

14 Now as for me I am in your handes, do with me as you thinke expedient and good: C

15 But this shall yee knowe if yee put me to deathe, ye shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabitours thereof giltie of innocent bloud: for this is of a trueth, that the Lorde hathe sente me vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares. Math. 23. c.

16 Then sayde the rulers and the people vnto the priestes and prophetes, This man maye not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lorde oure God.

17 The elders also of the lande stode vp, and sayd thus vnto all the people, 18 Micheas the Morasthite, which was a prophet vnder Ezekias king of Iuda, spake to al the people of Iuda, thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Sion shall be plowed lyke a fielde, Mich. 1. a. Hierusalem shall be an heape of stones, and the hil of the Lordes house shall be turned to an high wood. Mich. 3. c.

19 Did Ezekias the king of Iuda, and al the people of Iuda, put hym to deathe for this? No verily: but rather feared the Lorde, and made their prayer vnto him, for the whyche cause also the Lord (a) repented of the plague that he had deuised againste them: Shoulde we then do suche a shamefull deede agaynste our soules? Ionas. 3. b.

a. In the diuine nature there is no such affectiõs or changeablenesse: but God is sayde after the maner of men to repent, when he dothe not execute that he had denounced, or doth defer the plague whiche he had threatened.

20 Ther was a prophet also ỹ preached sticlly in the name of ỹ Lord, called Urias the son of Semeiah of Kiriathiarim: this man also preached againste this citie, and against thys lande, according to all as Ieremie sayth.

3.Re.22.b. Mich.2.c.

21 Now when Iehoakim the king, with all the eſtates and princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to ſlay him: When Urias perceyued that, he was afrayd, and fled, and departed into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoakim the king, ſente ſeruantes into the lande of Egypt (namely) Elnathan the ſonne of Achbor, and certayne men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched Urias out of Egypt, and brought hym vnto kyng Iehoakim, that ſlue him with the ſworde, and caſt his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahikam the ſonne of Saphan helped Ieremie, that he came not into the handes of the people to be ſlayne.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

1. Ieremie at the commandement of the Lord ſendeth bondes to the kyng of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, wherby they are admoniſhed to become ſubiectes vnto Nabuchodonoſor. 9. He warneth the people, and the kings, and rulers, that they beleeue not falſe prophetes.

1 IN the beginning of the raigne of Iehoakim the ſonne of Iolias kyng of Iuda, came this worde vnto Ieremie from the Lorde, which ſpake thus vnto me:

2 Make thee bondes and chaines, and put thē about thy necke,

3 And ſende them to the kyng of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the kyng of Tyrus, and to the king of Sidon, and that by the meſſengers whych ſhall come to Hieruſalem, vnto Zedekiah ẏ king of Iuda:

4 And bid them ſay vnto their maſters, Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, ſpeake thus vnto your maiſters, Iere.21.b. 38.a.42.c. 7 And all the people ſhall ſerue him, and hys ſonne, and hys childers childzen, vntill the time of the ſame land be come, and hys time alſo: yea many people and great kyngs ſhall ſerue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdom which will not ſerue Nabuchodonoſor, and that will not put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the ſame people will I viſite with the ſworde, with hunger, and peſtilence, vntill I haue conſumed them in hys handes, ſayth the Lorde.

Ier.2. and. 9 And therefore followe not your prophetes, ſoothſayers, expounders of dreames, charmers, and witches, whiche ſay vnto you, Ye ſhall not ſerue the king of Babylon.

10 For they preache you lyes, to bring you farre from youre lande, and that I might caſt you out, and deſtroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerue him, thoſe wyll I let remayne ſtill in theyr owne lande, ſayth the Lorde, and they ſhall occupie it, and dwell therein.

Ier.2 I 1 12 All theſe things told I Zedekiah the king of Iuda, and ſayde, Put youre neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and ſerue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people periſh with the ſworde, with hunger, with peſtilence, like as the Lorde hath deuiſed for all people that will not ſerue the king of Babylon?

14 Therefore, gyue no care vnto thoſe pro- C phets that tell you, Ye ſhall not ſerue ẏ king Ier.2 of Babylon: for they preach you lyes. and 3

15 Neither haue I ſent them, ſayth the Lord, howbeit, they are bolde falſely to prophecie in my name, that I might the ſoner dryue you out, and that ye myght periſh with your preachers.

16 I ſpeake to the prieſtes alſo, and to al thys people, thus ſayth the Lorde, Heare not the wordes of youre prophetes that preache vnto you, and ſay, Behold, the veſſels of the Lords Ier.2 houſe ſhall ſhortly be brought hither agayne from Babylon: for they prophecie lyes vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but ſerue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: Wherefore will ye make this citie to be deſtroyed?

18 But if they be true prophets in very deede, and if the worde of the Lorde be committed vnto them, then lette them pray the Lorde of hoſtes, that the remnaunt of the ornamentes whiche are in the houſe of the Lorde, and in the houſe of the king of Iuda, and at Hieruſalem, be not caried to Babylon alſo.

19 For thus hathe the Lorde of hoſtes ſpoken concerning the pillers, the lauer, the ſeate, and the reſidue of the ornamentes, that yet remayne in this citie,

20 Which Nabuchodonoſor the king of Ba- 4.Re.24 bylon toke not, when he caried away Iechonias the ſonne of Iehoakim king of Iuda, with all the power of Iuda and Hieruſalem, vnto Babylon captiue.

21 Yea thus hath the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell ſpoken, as touching the reſidue of the

the ornamentes of the Lordes house, of the king of Juda his house, and of Hierusalem:
22 They shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall they remayne vntil I visite them, sayth the Lorde: then will I bring them hyther agayne.

The.xxviij.Chapter.

1. The false prophesie of Hananias the Prophete. 12. Ieremie sheweth that the prophesie of Hananias is false, by the example of the other prophetes. 15. He being inspired of the Lorde, reproueth Hananias, prophesying his death.

1 AND it came to passe the same yeere, euen in the beginning of the raigne of Zedekiah king of Juda, in the fourth yeere, the fyfth moneth, that Hananias the sonne of Assur the Prophete of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priestes, and of all the people, and sayde,
2 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babylon:
3 And after two yeeres will I bring againe into this place all ỳ ornaments of the Lords house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, caried away from thys place vnto Babylon.
4 Yea I wyll bring againe Iechonias the sonne of Iehoakim the king of Juda hym selfe, with all the prisoners of Juda that are caried vnto Babylon, euen vnto this place, sayth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babylon.
5 Then the prophete Ieremie gaue aunswere vnto the prophete Hananias before all the priestes, and before all the people that were present in the house of the Lorde.
6 And the prophet Ieremie sayde, Amen, the Lord do that, and graunt the thing whyche thou hast prophesied, that he may bring again all the ornamentes of the Lordes house, and restore all the prisoners from Babylon into this place.
7 Neuertheless, hearken thou also what I will saye, that thou and all the people may heare.
8 The prophetes that were before vs in time past, whiche prophesied of warre or trouble, or pestilence,
9 Either of peace vppon many nations and greate kingdomes, were proued by this (if God hath sente them in very deede) when the thing came to passe which the prophet tolde before.
10 And Hananias the prophet toke the chaine from the Prophete Ieremies necke, and brake it:
11 And with that sayd Hananias that all the people myght heare, Thus hathe the Lorde spoken: Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, from the necke of all nations, yea and that within this two yeeres. And so the prophet Ieremie went his way.
12 Now after that Hananias the prophet had taken the chayne from the Prophete Ieremies necke, and broken it, the worde of the Lorde came vnto the Prophete Ieremie, saying,
13 Goe and tell Hananias these words, thus sayth the Lord, Thou hast broken the chaine of wood, but in steede of wood thou shalte make chaynes of iron.
14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israell, I will put a yoke of yron vppon ỳ necke of all this people, that they may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea and so shall they doe: and I will giue hym the beastes of the fielde. C
15 Then sayde the prophet Ieremie vnto the prophete Hananias: Heare me Hananias, The Lord hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false beleefe. Jere.29.c.
16 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will send thee out of the lande, and within a yeere thou shalt dye, because thou hast falsely spoken against the Lord.
17 So Hananias dyed the same yeere, in the seuenth moneth.

The.xxix.Chapter.

1. The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10. He prophesieth their returne frō the captiuitie after seuentie yeeres. 16. He prophesieth the destruction of the king and of the people that remayned in Hierusalem. 21. He threatneth two prophetes that seduced the people. 25. The death of Semeiah the Nehelamite is prophesied.

1 THese are the wordes of the booke that Ieremie the Prophete sent from Hierusalem, vnto the prisoners the senatours, priests, prophetes, and all the people, whome Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, A
2 After that time that king Iechonias and his queene, his chamberlaynes, the princes of Juda and Hierusalem, the workemaisters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.
3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, and Gamariah the sonne of Helkiah dyd beare, whome Zedekias the king of Juda sente vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the the king of Babylon: Theſe were the wordes of Jeremies booke.

4 Thus hathe the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell ſpoken, vnto al ỹ priſoners that were fled from Hieruſalem to Babylon:

Jere.35.d. 5 Builde you houſes to dwell therein, plante you gardens, that you may enioy the fruites thereof.

Gen.1.d. and.2.a. 6 Take you wiues to beare you ſonnes and daughters, prouide wiues for youre ſonnes, and huſbandes for your daughters, that they may get ſonnes and daughters: and that yee may multiply there, and decreaſe not.

B 7 Seeke after the peace and proſperitie of the citie wherein ye be priſoners, and pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall your peace be.

Baruc.1.a. 1.Tim.2.a.

8 For thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell, Let not theſe prophetes and ſoothſayers that be among you, deceiue you, and beleeue not your owne dreames:

Jere.33.c. and.27.b.

Jere.14.b. 9 For why? they preache you lyes in my name, and I haue not ſent them, ſayeth the Lorde.

1.Par.26.d. Jere.22.b. 1.Eſd.1.a. 10 But thus ſayth the Lorde, When ye haue fulfylled ſeuentie yeeres at Babylon, I will bring you home, and of mine owne goodneſſe I will carrie you hyther agayne into this place.

11 For I know what I haue deuiſed for you, ſayth the Lorde: my thoughtes are to gyue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wiſh and hope to haue.

Deut.4.c. and.30.a. 12 Ye ſhall crye vnto me, yee ſhall goe and call vpon me, and I will heare you.

Iohn.7.d. 13 Ye ſhall ſeeke me, and fynde me, yea if ſo be that you ſeeke me with your whole harte.

C 14 I will be founde of you, ſayth the Lorde, and will deliuer you out of priſon, and gather you together againe out of all places wherin I haue ſcattered you, ſaith the Lord, and wil bring you agayne to the ſame place from whence I cauſed you to be caried away captiue.

15 But where as ye ſay that God hath rayſed you vp prophetes at Babylon:

16 Thus hath the Lorde ſpoken to the kyng that ſitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in this citie, youre brethren that are gone with you into captiuitie:

4.Re.14.d.

17 Thus (I ſay) ſpeaketh the Lorde of hoſtes, Beholde, I will ſend a ſworde, hunger, and peſtilence vpon them, and will make them lyke vntimely fygges, that may not be eaten for bitternesſe:

Jere.24.b.

18 And I will perſecute the with the ſworde, with hunger, and peſtilence, I will delyuer them vp to be vexed of all kingdomes, to be curſed, abhorred, laughed to ſcorne, and put to confuſion of all the people among whom I haue ſcattered them:

19 And that becauſe they haue not bin obedient vnto my commaundementes, ſayth the Lord, whiche I ſente vnto them by my ſeruants the prophetes: I ſtode vp early, and ſente vnto them, but they woulde not heare, ſayth the Lorde.

Jere.25. and.44.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye priſoners whome I ſente from Hieruſalem to Babylon.

21 Thus hath the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell ſpoken, of Ahab the ſonne of Colaiah, and of Zedekiah the ſonne of Maaſiah, which prophecie lyes vnto you in my name: Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hande of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, that he may ſlay them before your eyes.

D

22 And all the priſoners of Iuda that are in Babylon, ſhall take this tearme of curſing, and ſay, Nowe God do vnto thee, as he did vnto Zedekiah and Ahab, whome the kyng of Babylon roſted in the fyre, 23 Becauſe they ſinned ſhamefully in Iſraell: for they haue not only defiled their neybours wiues, but alſo preached lying words in my name, whiche I haue not commaunded them: this I tellifye and aſſure, ſayth the Lord.

24 But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite thou ſhalte ſpeake vnto hym,

25 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Becauſe thou haſt ſente letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hieruſalem, & to Sophoniah the ſonne of Maaſiah the prieſt, yea and ſent them to all the prieſtes, wherein thou writeſt thus vnto him,

26 The Lorde hath ordeyned thee to be prieſt in the ſteede of Iehoiada the prieſt, that thou ſhouldeſt be chiefe in the houſe of the Lorde aboue all prophetes and preachers, and that thou mightest ſet them vpon the pyllorie, or in the ſtockes:

4.Re.11. 2.Par.24. B 7

27 How happeneth it then that thou haſt not reproued Jeremie of Anathoth, which neuer ſaueth off his prophecying.

28 And beſide all this, he hathe ſente vs worde vnto Babylon, and tolde vs playnely, that our captiuitie ſhall long endure, that we ſhoulde buylde vs houſes to dwell therein, and to plant vs gardens, that we may enioy the fruites thereof.

E Jere.29.d. and.9. and.10.

29 Whiche letter Sophonias the prieſt read, and let Jeremie the prophet heare it.

30 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying,

31 Sende worde to all them that be in captiuitie, uiſie, on this manner, Thus hathe the Lorde ſpoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Bycause that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my commiſſion, and brought you into a falſe hope:

32 Therefore thus the Lord doth certifie you, Behold, I will viſite Semeiah the Nehelamite and his ſeede, ſo that none of hys ſhall remayne among this people, and none of thē ſhall ſee the good that I will do for my people ſaith the Lord: for he hath preached falſely of the Lorde.

The.xxx.Chapter.

1. The returne of the people from Babylon. 8. God by his chaſtening ſheweth that the people is ſinfull. 16. The deſtruction of the enimies of Iſraell.

31 THeſe are the words that the Lorde ſheweth vnto Ieremie, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, Write vp diligently all the words, that I haue ſpoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For loe, the time commeth, ſayth the Lord, that I will bring agayne the priſoners of my people of Iſraell and Juda, ſayth the Lord: for I will reſtore them vnto the lande that I gaue to their fathers, and they ſhall haue it in poſſeſſion.

4 Agayne, theſe wordes ſpake the Lord concerning Iſraell and Juda.

5 Thus ſayeth the Lorde, We haue heard a terrible crie, feare, and diſquietneſſe.

6 For what els doth this ſignifie that I ſee? (Namely) that all ſtrong men ſmite euery man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the payne of hir trauayle: Who euer ſawe a man trauayle with childe? Enquire thereafter, and ſee, yea all their faces are maruelous pale.

7 Alas for this day, which is ſo dreadfull that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for the time of Jacobs trouble, from the whiche he ſhall yet be deliuered.

8 For in that day, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and ſtraungers ſhall no more haue dominion ouer them:

9 But they ſhall doe ſeruice vnto God theyr Lorde, and to Dauid their king, whome I will raiſe vp vnto them.

10 And as for thee, O my ſeruaunte Jacob, feare not, ſaith the Lord, and be not afrayde, O Iſraell: For loe, I will help thee alſo frō farre, and thy ſeede from the land of their captiuitie: And Jacob ſhall turne againe, he ſhall be in reſt, and haue a proſperous lyfe, and no man ſhall make him afrayde:

11 For I am with thee to help thee, ſayeth the Lorde: And though I ſhall deſtroy all the people among whome I haue ſcattered thee, yet will I not deſtroy thee, but correct thee, and that with diſcretion: for I will not vtterly deſtroy thee. Amos.2.b. Jere.10.b.

12 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord, Thy bruſings are perillous, and thy woundes ready to call thee into ſickneſſe. Exod.33.a. Naum.1.a.

13 There is no man to medle with thy cauſe, or to lay a plaſter vpon thee, or to binde vp thy woundes to heale thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, & care nothing for thee: for I haue giuē thee a cruell ſtroke, and chaſtened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy miſdeedes: for thy ſinnes haue had the ouer hand. C

15 Why makeſt thou mone for thy harme? In deede thou art ſore wounded, and in ieopardie: but for the multitude of thy miſdeedes and ſinnes I haue done this vnto thee. Jere.15.b.

16 And therfore, al they that deuoure thee, ſhal be deuoured, & all thine enimies ſhal be ledde into captiuitie: al they that make thee waſte, ſhall be waſted themſelues, and all thoſe that robbe thee, will I make alſo to be robbed. Jere.12.a. and.10.b.

17 For I will giue thee thy healthe agayne, and make thy woundes whole, ſayeth the Lorde, bycauſe they reuyled thee as one caſt away and deſpiſed: Sion (ſayde they) is ſhe whome no man regardeth.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wyll bring againe the captiuitie of Jacobs tentes, and defend his dwelling place: the citie ſhall be builded in hir olde eſtate, and the houſes ſhall haue their right foundation. Num.24.a.

19 And out of them ſhall go thankeſgiuing, and the voyce of ioy: I will multiply them, and they ſhall not be fewe, I ſhall endue them vō honour, & no man ſhal ſubdue them.

20 Their children ſhall be as afore time and their congregatiō ſhal continue in my ſight: and all thoſe that vexe them wyll I viſite.

21 A captayne alſo ſhall come of them, and a prince ſhall ſpring out from the middeſt of them, him will I chalenge to my ſelfe, and he ſhall come vnto me: For what is hee that giueth ouer his hart to come vnto mee, ſayth the Lorde? D Mich.5.a. John.6.c.

22 Ye ſhall be my people alſo, and I will be your God. Jere.23.b. 24.b.31.k.

23 Beholde, on the other ſide ſhall the wrathe of the Lorde breake out as a ſtormie water, as a mightie whirle winde, and ſhall fall vpon the heads of the vngodly. Jere.23.c. and.25.b.

24 The terrible diſpleaſure of the Lord ſhall not leaue off, vntill hee haue done and performed the intent of his hart, whiche in the latter dayes ye ſhall vnderſtand. Jere.23.e.

The.xxxi. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that the people of Iſraell ſhall be reſtored agayne vnto their proſperitie. 18. To be turned from ſinne is the gyft of God. 27. The byrth of Chriſt is prophecied. 30. All the wicked ſhal dye in their wickedneſſe. 31. The newe Teſtamente and couenaunt is prophecied. 33. The Chriſtians are taught and inſtruct of the Lorde. 34. Our ſinnes ſhall ſo be remitted that they ſhall not once bee thought vpon. 36. God promiſeth that he will caſt off the Iewes. 38. The buylding agayne of Hieruſalem.

A 1 AT the ſame time, ſayth the Lord, ſhall I be the God of all the generations of Iſrael, and they ſhall be my people.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord, The people of Iſrael which eſcaped in the wilderneſſe from the ſword, found grace to come into their reſt. Num. 13. c.

3 Euen ſo ſhall the Lorde now alſo appeare vnto me from farre (and ſay) I loue thee with an euerlaſting loue: therefore by my mercy I haue drawen thee vnto me. John. 6. f.

4 I wyl repayre thee agayn, O thou daughter of Iſraell, that thou mayeſt be faſt and ſure: thou ſhalte take thy tabrettes agayne, and goe forthe with them that leade the daunce:

5 Thou ſhalte plante vines agayne vpon the hylles of Samaria, and the grape gatherers ſhall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 For the dayes ſhall come, when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim, ſhall crie, Aryſe, let vs goe vp vnto Sion to our Lord God. Eſai. 2. a.

B 7 For thus ſayeth the Lorde, Reioyce with gladneſſe bycauſe of Jacob, crye vnto the head of the Gentiles, ſpeake out, ſyng and ſay, O Lorde ſaue thy people the remnaunte of Iſraell.

8 Beholde, I will bring them agayne from out of the North lande, and gather them from the endes of the worlde, wyth the blynde and laime that are among them, with the women that be great with chylde, and ſuch as be alſo deliuered: and the companie of them that come agayne, ſhall bee great.

9 They ſhall come weeping, and with mercifull pitie will I bring them hither againe: I will leade them into the riuers of water, in a ſtraight way, wher they ſhall not ſtumble: For I am Iſraels father, and Ephraim is my fyrſt borne. Deut. 23. a. Gen. 47. d.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O yee Gentiles, preach in the Iſles that lye farre off, and ſay, He that hath ſcattered Iſraell, ſhall gather him together agayne, and ſhall keepe him, as a ſhepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lorde hathe redeemed Jacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.

12 And they ſhall come, and reioyce vpon the hyl of Sion, and ſhall haue plenteouſneſſe of goodes, whiche the Lorde ſhall giue them, (Namely) wheate, wine, oyle, yong ſheepe, and calues: and their ſoule ſhall be as a well watered garden, for they ſhall no more bee hungry.

13 Then ſhall ỹ mayde reioyce in the daunce, yea both yong and olde folkes: for I wyll turne their ſorowe into gladneſſe, and wyll comfort them from their ſorowes, and make them ioyfull.

14 I will powre plenteouſneſſe vpon the C hartes of the prieſtes, and my people ſhall be ſatiſfyed with my goodneſſe, ſayth the Lorde.

15 Thus ſayth the Lorde, The voyce of heauineſſe, weeping, and lamentation was Jer. Mat. heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning for hir children, and wouldе not bee comforted, bycauſe they were not.

16 But now, ſaith the Lorde, Leaue off from weeping and crying, withholde thyne eyes from teares: for thy labour ſhall be rewarded, ſayth the Lorde, and they ſhall come agayne out of the land of their enimies.

17 Yea euen thy poſteritie ſhall haue conſolation in this, ſayth the Lord, that thy children ſhall come againe into their owne lande.

18 Moreouer, I hearde Ephraim, that was leade away captiue, complayne on this maner, O Lorde, thou haſt correct me, and thy Ezec. chaſtening haue I receiued as an vntamed Calfe, conuert thou me, and I ſhall be con- Dan. uerted: for thou art my Lord God. Zach.

19 Yea aſſone as thou turneſt me, I ſhall repent me of my ſelfe, and when I vnderſtande, I ſhall ſmite vpon my thygh: For verily I haue committed ſhamefull thinges: for I haue borne the reproche and confuſion of my youth.

20 Vpon this complaynt, I thought thus by Gen. my ſelfe, Is not Ephraim my deare ſonne? Is he not the chylde with whome I haue had all my myrth and paſtime? For ſince the time that I fyrſte communed with him, I haue him euer in remembraunce: therefore my hart driueth me vnto him, gladly and louingly wyll I haue mercy vpon him, ſayth the Lorde.

21 Make thy ſelfe markes, ſet vp heapes of D ſtone, ſet thyne hart vpon the way that thou dyddeſt walke, and turne agayne, O thou daughter of Iſraell, turne againe to theſe cities of thyne.

22 How long wilt thou goe aſtray, O thou ſlynking shrinking daughter? for the Lord wil worke a new thing vppon earthe: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 For thus sayth the Lord of hosts, the God of Israell, It will come thereto, that when I haue brought Iuda out of captiuitie, these wordes shall bee heard in the lande, and in his cities, The Lorde blesse thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hyll.

24 And there shal dwell Iuda, and all hir cities, the shepherdes, and husbandmen:

25 For I shal feede the hungry soule, and refresh all saynt hartes.

26 When I heard this, I came agayne to my selfe, I sawe lyke as I had bin waked out of a sweete sleepe.

27 Beholde sayth the Lorde, the dayes come, that I will sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda, with men and with cattell.

28 Yea it shall come thereto, that lyke as I haue gone about in tymes past to rote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also goe diligently about to buylde them vp agayne, and to plant them, sayeth the Lorde.

29 Then shal it no more be sayde, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euery one shall dye for his owne misdeedes: so that who so eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Beholde, the dayes will come, sayeth the Lorde, that I will make a newe couenante with the house of Israell, and the house of Iuda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, whē I toke them by the hand, and ledde them out of the lande of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea euen when I as an husbande had rule ouer them, sayeth the Lorde.

33 But this shall be the couenaunte that I will make with the house of Israell after those dayes, sayth the Lorde: I will plante my lawe in the inward partes of them, and write it in their hartes, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And from thencefoorth shall no man teach his neighbour or his brother, and say, Know the Lord: but they shall all knowe me from the lowest vnto the highest, sayth the Lorde: for I will forgiue their misdeedes, and will neuer remember their sinnes any more.

35 Thus sayeth the Lorde, whiche gaue the sunne to bee a lyghte for the daye, and the moone and the starres to shine in the nyghte, whiche moueth the sea, so that the floudes thereof waxeth fierce, his name is the Lorde of hosts.

36 Lyke as this ordinaunce shall neuer be taken out of my syght, sayeth the Lorde: so shall the seede of Israell neuer ceasse, but alway be a people before me.

37 Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde, Lyke as the heauen aboue cannot be measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not be sought out: so will I also not cast out the whole seede of Israell for that they haue committed, sayth the Lorde. Rom.11.a.

38 Behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lorde, that the citie of ỹ Lorde shal be enlarged frō the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall. 2.Esdr.3.a. Zach.14.b.

39 From thence shall the right measure bee taken before hir, vnto the hyll toppe of Gareb, and shall come about Eaath. Iere.19.b.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carkases, and of the asshes, and all the fieldes, vnto the broke Cedron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate towarde the East, it shall be holy vnto the Lorde, and shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

The.xxxij.Chapter.

1. Ieremie is cast into prison, bycause he prophecied that the citie shoulde be taken of the kyng of Babylon. 7. By the field that Ieremie bought at the commaundement of the Lorde, is signified that the people shoulde come agayne to their owne possession. 38. The people of God are his seruauntes, & he is their Lord. 40. To feare God, is gods gift, to the intent that sinnes may be eschewed.

1 THese wordes spake the Lord vnto Ieremie in the tenth yeere of Zedekias king of Iuda, which was the eyghteenth yere of Nabuchodonosor. A

2 What time as the king of Babylons host layde siege vnto Hierusalem: but Ieremie the prophet lay bound in the court of ỹ prysen, which was in the king of Iudas house,

3 Where Zedekias the king of Iuda caused him to be layd, bycause he had prophecied on this maner, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will deliuer this citie into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall take it. Iere.34.a. 38.a.f.39.

4 As for Zedekias the king of Iuda, he shall not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely he shall come into the handes of the king of Babylon, whiche shall speake with hym mouth to mouth, and one of them shal loke another in the face.

5 And Zedekias shall be caried vnto Babylon, and there shall he be vntill the time that I visite him, sayth ỹ Lord: but if thou takest in hande to fight againſt the Chaldees, thou ſhalt not proſper.

6 And Jeremie ſayde, Thus hath the Lorde ſpoken vnto me:

B 7 Beholde, Hananeel the ſonne of Sellum, thyne vncles ſonne, ſhall come vnto thee, and require thee to redeeme the lande that lyeth in Anathoth vnto thy ſelfe: for by reaſon of kindred it is thy right to redeeme it, and buye it out.

Leuit.25.d. Num.24.a and.36.a. Ruth.4.a.

8 And Hananeel myne vncles ſonne came to me in the court of the pryſon, according to the word of the Lorde, and ſayde vnto me, Buye my land, I pray thee, that lyeth in Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, for by heritage thou haſt right to loſe it out for thy ſelfe, therefore redeeme it. Then I perceyued that this was the commaundemente of the Lorde:

9 And ſo I bought the lande from Hananeel of Anathoth myne vncles ſonne, and wayed him there the money, euen ſeuen ſicles and ten ſiluer pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and ſealed it, and toke witneſſes, and wayed him there the money vpon the weightes.

11 So I toke the euidence with the copie, whē it was orderly ſealed, and read it ouer:

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, the ſonne of Maaſiah, in the ſyght of Hananeel my coſin, and in the preſence of the witneſſes that be named in ẏ euidence, and before all the Iewes that were thereby in the court of the pryſon.

13 I charged Baruch alſo before them, ſaying,

C 14 The Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell commaundeth (thee) to take this ſealed euidence with the copy, and to lay it in the earthen veſſel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, hath determined, that houſes, fieldes, and vineyardes, ſhall be poſſeſſed agayne in this lande.

16 Now when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch the ſon of Neriah, I beſoughte the Lorde, ſaying, Gene.1.a. Iere.10.b.

17 O Lorde God, it is thou that haſt made heauen and earth with thy greate power and high arme, and ther is nothing hid frō thee:

18 Thou ſheweſt mercy vpon thouſands, thou recompenceſt the wickednelle of the fathers into the boſome of the children that come after them:

19 Thou art the great and mightie GOD, whoſe name is the Lorde of hoſtes, great in counſayle, and excellent in worke, thine eyes loke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and accor-ding to the fruites of his inuentions:

20 Thou haſt done greate tokens and wonders in the land of Egipt, as we ſee this day, vpon the people of Iſraell, and vpon thoſe men, to make thy name greate, as it is come to paſſe this day:

Exod. vnto the Chapter.

21 Thou haſt brought thy people of Iſraell out of the lande of Egypt, with tokens, with wonders, with a mighty hand, with a ſtretched out arme, and with great terriblenelle:

D

22 And haſt giuen them this lande, lyke as thou haddeſt promiſed vnto their fathers, (namely) that thou wouldeſt giue them a land that floweth with milke and hony.

23 Now when they came therein, and poſſeſſed it, they folowed not thy voyce, and walked not in thy lawe: but all that thou commandeſt thē to do, that haue they not done, & therfore come all theſe plagues vpon them.

Iudg.2. 4.6.8. Eſther.8.

24 Behold, there are bulwarkes made nowe againſte this citie to take it, and it ſhall bee wonne of the Chaldees that beſiege it, with ſworde, with hunger, and death: and loke what thou haſt ſpoken, that ſame ſhall come vppon them: for loe, all things are preſente vnto thee.

25 Yet ſayeſt thou vnto me, O Lorde God, and commaundeſt me that I ſhall buye a peece of lande vnto my ſelfe for money, and take witneſſes therets: and yet in the meane ſeaſon the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying, 27 Behold, I am the Lord God of al fleſhe: is there any thing then too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord, Behold, I ſhall deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, & into the power of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, they ſhal take it.

E Iere.25. and.39.

29 For the Chaldees ſhall come and winne this citie, and ſet fyre vppon it, and burne it, with the gorgeous houſes, in whoſe parlours they haue made ſacrifice vnto Baal, & powred drinke offerings vnto ſtraunge Gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath:

30 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Juda, haue onely bin doing wickednelle before me from their youth vp, they haue bin only prouoking me to wrath with ẏ workes of their owne handes, ſayth the Lorde.

31 For what hath this citie bin els, but a prouoking of my wrath euer ſince the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherein I caſt it out of my ſyght?

32 Becauſe of the greate blaſphemies of the children of Iſraell and Juda, whiche they haue done to prouoke me, yea they, their kinges, their princes, their prieſtes, their prophetes,

prophetes, the men of Juda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

33 When I stoode vp early and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backes to me, and not their faces, 34 They woulde not heare to be reformed and correct: but set their idols in the house that is halowed to my name, to defyle it.

35 They haue buylded high places for Baal in the valley of the childzen of Hennom, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thzough (fyre) in the honour of Moloch, whiche I neuer commaunded them: neyther came it euer in my thought to make Juda sinne with such abhomination.

36 And nowe therefore thus hath the Lorde God of Israell spoken concerning thys citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shall be deliuered into the hand of the kyng of Babylon, (when it is wonne) with the swozde, with hunger, and with pestilence.

37 Beholde, I will gather them together frō all landes, wherein I haue scattered them in my wzath, in fearefull and great displeasure, and will bzing them agayne vnto this place where they shall dwell safely:

38 And they shal be my people, and I wil be their God.

39 And I will giue them one hart and one way, that they maye feare me all the dayes of their life: that they and their childzen after them may pzosper.

40 And I will set vp an euerlastnig couenaunt with them (namely) that I will neuer cease to doe them good, and that I will put my feare in their hartes, so that they shall not runne away from me.

41 Yea I will haue a lust and pleasure to do them good, and faythfully to plant them in this lande with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus sayth the Lorde, Like as I haue bzought all this great plague vpon this people: euen so will I also bzing vpon them all the good that I haue pzomised them.

43 And men shall haue their possessions in this lande, whereof ye say nowe, that it shall neyther be inhabited of the people, nor of cattell, but be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees.

44 Yea lande shal be bought for money, and euidences made thereupon, & sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Juda, in the cities that are vpon the mountaynes, and them that lye beneath, yea and in the cities that are in the South: for I wil bzyng their prisoners hither agayne, sayeth the Lorde.

The.xxxiij. Chapter.

1. The prophete is monished of the Lorde, to pray for the deliuerance of the people, whiche the Lorde promiseth. 8. God forgyueth sinnes, and doth gratiously to the people for his owne renowme. 15. Of the byrthe of Christe. 20. The kingdome of Christe in the Churche shall neuer be ended.

1 MOzeouer, the wozde of the Lozde came vnto Jeremie againe, when he was yet bound in the court of the prison. A Jere.20. and.32.a.

2 Thus sayth the Lozde who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establishe it, whose name is the Lozde:

3 Crye vnto me, and I wyll aunsweare, and shew thee great and bigh things, which wer vnknowen vnto thee. Exod.14. 1.Reg.7.d.

4 Thus (I say) speaketh the Lozd GOD of Israell, concerning the houses of this citie, and the houses of the kings of Juda, that are bzoken thzough the ozdinaunce and the swozde.

5 The inhabitours of this citie haue come to fyght against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carkasses of men, whom I haue slayne in my wzathe and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, bycause of all hir wickednesse.

6 Beholde, sayeth the Lozd, I wyll repayze and heale their woundes, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and truth.

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Juda and Israell, and will set them vp againe as they were before: B

8 From all misdeedes wherein they offended against me, I will clense them and all theyr blasphemies which they haue done agaynste me when they regarded me not, I will forgiue them. Jere.44.d.

9 And this shall get me a name, a prayse and honour among all the people of the earthe, whiche shall heare all the good that I wyll shewe vnto them, yea they shall bee afrayde and astonied at all the good deedes and benefites that I will do for them.

10 Mozeouer, thus sayeth the Lozd, In this place (whereof ye say it shal be a wildernes, wherin neyther people nor cattell shal dwel) in like manner in the cities of Juda, and in the streetes of Hierusalem (which also shall bee so voyde, that neyther people nor cattell shall dwell there,) and his mercy endureth for euer, and ỳ voyce of them that offer vp giftes in the houſe of the Lorde: for I will reſtore the captiuitie of thys lande as it was afore, ſayeth the Lorde.

11 Shall the voyce of gladnesse be hearde agayne, the voyce of the bzidegrome and of the bzyde, the voyce of them that shall syng, Prayse the Lozde of hostes, for he is louing, Psal.108.a. 1.Mac.4.d.

12 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, It ſhall come yet thereto, that in thys lande whyche is voyde from men and cattel, and in all the cities of the lande, there ſhall be ſet vp ſhepheards cotages to reſt their flockes.

13 In the cities vpon the mountaynes, and in the cities that lye vppon the playne, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Beniamin, and round about Hieruſalem, and in the cities of Juda, ſhall the ſheepe paſſe agayne vnder the hande of him that telleth them, ſayth the Lorde.

C 14 Behold, the time commeth, ſayth ỳ Lord, that I wil perfourme that good thing which I haue promiſed vnto the houſe of Iſraell, and vnto the houſe of Juda.

Iere.23.a.

15 In thoſe dayes, and at the ſame time, I will bring forth vnto Dauid the braunche of righteouſneſſe, and he ſhall do equitie and righteouſneſſe in the lande.

16 In thoſe dayes ſhall Juda be ſaued, and Hieruſalem ſhall dwell ſafe: and this ſhalbe hir name, (a) God our righteouſneſſe.

Eſay.32.d. 2.Reg.7.c.

a. This name hath God gyuen to Chriſt, and doth properly belong to him alone: but here it is attributed vnto the Church, for that God the father hath eſpouſed chriſt his ſonne vnto the Churche, and hath endowed hir with all that is his. 1.Reg.2.g.

17 For thus the Lord promiſeth, Dauid ſhal neuer want one to ſit vpon the throne of the houſe of Iſraell:

18 Neyther ſhall the Prieſtes and Leuites want one to offer alway before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the ſacrifices.

19 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie, after this manner.

20 Thus ſayth the Lord, May the couenant whiche I haue made with day and nyght be broken, that there ſhould not be daye and night in due ſeaſon?

D 21 Then may my couenante alſo be broken which I made with Dauid my ſeruant, and ſo he not to haue a ſonne to raigne in his throne: ſo ſhall alſo the Prieſts and Leuites neuer fayle, but ſerue me.

2.Pet.2.a.

22 For like as the ſtarres of heauen maye not be numbred, neither the ſande of the ſea meaſured: ſo will I multiply the ſeede of Dauid my ſeruãt, and ỳ Leuites my miniſters.

Gen.15.b. and.32.e.

23 Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came to Jeremie, ſaying, 24 Conſydereſt thou not what thys people ſpeaketh? Two kynredes (ſay they) had the Lorde choſen, and thoſe ſame two hathe he caſt away: for ſo they haue deſpiſed my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore, thus ſayeth the Lorde, If I haue made no couenant with day and night, and giuen no ſtatute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I alſo caſt away the ſeede of Jacob and Dauid my ſeruaunt, ſo that I will take no prince out of his ſeede to rule the poſteritie of Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob: but yet I will turne agayne their captiuitie, and be mercifull vnto them.

The.xxxiiij. Chapter.

2. He threatneth that the citie, and the kyng Zedekias alſo ſhall be gyuen into the hands of the kyng of Babylon. 11. Hee rebuketh them that brought ſuche of their brethren into captiuitie, as were pardoned to goe at theyr libertie.

1 THeſe are the wordes whiche the Lorde ſpake vnto Jeremie, what time as Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon, and all his hoſt, and all the kingdomes that were vnder his power, and all his people, fought againſte Hieruſalem, and all the cities thereof. I Jer.39.a.

2 Thus ſayth the Lorde God of Iſrael, Go and ſpeake to Zedekias the king of Juda, and tell hym, The Lorde ſendeth thee this worde: Behold, I will deliuer this citie into the hande of the king of Babylon, hee ſhall burne it with fyre, 4.Reg. Jer.32. 39.a.

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape his handes, but ſhalte be taken priſoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou ſhalt looke the king of Babylon in the face, and he ſhall ſpeake to thee mouth to mouth, and then ſhalt thou goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekias thou king of Juda, thus ſayth the Lord vnto thee, Thou ſhalt not be ſlayne with the ſworde, 1.Reg.

5 But ſhalt dye in peace: and as thy forefathers the kinges thy (a) progenitours were brent, ſo ſhalt thou be brent alſo, and in thy mourning they ſhall ſay, O Lorde: for thus haue I determined, ſayth the Lord. 2. Zedek. promiſed to be brent his death is, to haue funerall nourably

6 Then ſayd Jeremie the Prophete all theſe wordes vnto Zedekias king of Juda, in Hieruſalem, B

7 What time as the kyng of Babylons hoſt beſieged Hieruſalem, and the remnaunte of the cities (namely) Lachis and Azecab, whiche yet remayned of the ſtrong defenſed cities of Juda. 2.Pet.

8 Theſe are the wordes that the Lorde ſpake vnto Jeremie the prophete, when Zedekias was agreed with all the people at Hieruſalem, ỳ there ſhould be proclaymed a libertie: Exod. Leuit. Deut.

9 So that euery man ſhould let his ſeruant & handmayde goe free, Hebrue and Hebruiſſe, and and no Iew hold his brother as a bondmã.

10 Nowe as they had consented, all the princes and all the people whiche had gathered vnto this agreement, that euery man shoulde set at libertie his bondeseruaunt and bondewoman, and no longer to holde them bond: euen so they were obedient, and let them go free.
11 But afterward they repented, and toke agayne the seruauntes and handmaydens whome they had lette goe free, and so made them bonde agayne.
12 For whiche cause, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremie from the Lord himselfe, saying,
13 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israell, I made a couenaunt with your fathers when I brought them out of the land of Egypte, out of the house of bondage, saying,
14 Whē seuen yeeres are out, euery man shall let his bought seruant an Hebrue goe free, if he haue serued him syxe yeeres: but youre fathers obeyed me not, and hearkened not vnto me.
15 Is for you ye were nowe turned, and dyd right before me, in that ye proclaymed euery manne to let his neighbour goe free, and in that yee made a couenaunt before me in the temple that beareth my name.
16 But yet ye turned your selues agayne, and blasphemed my name, in thys, that euery man hathe required his seruaunte and handmayde agayne, whome ye had let goe quite and free, and compelled them to serue you agayne, and to be bondmen and bondwomen.
17 And therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde, Ye haue not obeyed me, euery manne to proclayme freedome vnto his brother & neyghbour: wherefore I will call you vnto freedome, sayth the Lord, euen vnto the sworde, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all kingdomes of the earth.
18 Yea those men that haue broken my couenant, & not kept the wordes of the appointment which they made before me, when they bewed the calfe in two, and when they went thorowe the two halfes thereof.
19 The Princes of Juda, the princes of Hierusalem, the gelded men, the prieستes and al the people of the lande, which went thorow the two sides of the calfe:
20 Those men will I giue into the power of their enimyes, and into the handes of them that folow vppon their liues: and their dead bodies shall be meete for the foules of the ayre, and beasts of the fielde.
21 Is for Zedekias the king of Juda, and his princes will I deliuer them into the power of their enimies, and of them that desire to slay them, and into the hande of the kyng of Babylons host, whiche nowe is departed from you. Iere. 37. c.
22 But through my commaundement (sayth the Lorde) they shall come agayne before this citie, they shall fight against it, winne it, and burne it: Moreouer I will lay the cities of Juda so waste, that no manne shall dwell therein.

The. xxxv. Chapter.

1. He propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes. 6. The commaundemente of Ionadab the father of the Rechabites. 17. He threatneth punishment vnto the rebellious Iewes. 19. Hee promiseth prosperitie vnto the Rechabites for their obedience.

1 The worde which the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, in the raigne of Jehoakim the sonne of Josias king of Juda, are these:
2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and call them out, and bring them to the house of the Lord, into some commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke. 4. Re. 10. f.
3 Then toke I Jazaniah the sonne of Ieremie, the sonne of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and al his sonnes, and the whole household of the Rechabites,
4 And brought them into the house of the Lorde, into the closet of the children of Hanan the sonne of Jedaliah the man of God, which was by the closet of the princes, that is aboue the closet of Maasiah the sonne of Sellum, which is the treasurer.
5 And before the sonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I set pots full of wine, & cups, and sayd vnto them, Drinke wine:
6 But they sayd, We will drinke no wyne: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commaunded vs, saying, Yee and youre sonnes shall neuer drinke wine, buylde houses, sowe no seede, plant no vines, Iere. 29. b.
7 Yea ye shall haue no vineyardes: but for al B your time ye shall dwel in tents, that ye may liue long in the land wherin ye be strangers.
8 Thus haue we obeyed the commaundemēt of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that hee hathe charged vs, and so wee drinke no wine all our life long, we nor our wiues, our sonnes and our daughters,
9 Neyther buyld we any house to dwel therein: wee haue also among vs neyther vineyardes, nor corne lande to sowe:
10 But we dwell in tentes, we obey, and do according vnto all that Jonadab our father commaunded vs.

11 But now that Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon came vp into the lande, wee ſayde, Come, let vs goe to Hieruſalem, that we may eſcape the hoſt of the Chaldees and the Aſſyrians: and ſo we dwell nowe at Hieruſalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying, 13 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Goe and tell the men of Juda, and the inhabitours of Hieruſalem: Will ye not be reformed to obey my wordes, ſayth the Lorde?

C 14 The words whiche Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab commaunded his ſonnes, that they ſhould drinke no wine, are faſt ſurely kepte, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey theyr fathers commaundemente: but as for me I haue ſtande vp early, I haue ſpoken vnto you, and giuen you earneſt warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

Jere.18.a. and.25.a.

15 Yea I haue ſente my ſeruauntes all the prophetes vnto you, I roſe vp early, and ſent you worde, ſaying, O turne you nowe euery man from his wicked way, amende youre lyues, and goe not after ſtraunge Gods to worſhip them, that ye may continue in the lande whyche I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but ye would neyther heare me, nor folow me.

16 The children of Jonadab Rechabs ſonne, haue ſtedfaſtly kept their fathers commaundement that he gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me,

17 And therefore thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, Beholde, I will bring vpon Juda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Hieruſalem, all the trouble that I haue deuiſed againſt them: For I haue ſpoken vnto them, but they woulde not folow, I haue called vnto them, neuertheleſſe they would giue me no aunſwere.

Prou.1.c. Eſay.45.b. Jere.7.b.

18 Jeremie alſo ſpake vnto the houſholde of the Rechabites, Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, the God of Iſraell, For aſmuche as ye haue obeyed the commaundement of Jonadab youre father, and kept all his preceptes, and done according to all that hee hath bidden:

19 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſraell, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhall not fayle, but haue one out of his flocke to ſtand alway before me.

Jere.33.c.

The.xxxvi. Chapter.

1. Baruch writeth (as Ieremie enditeth) the booke of the curſes againſt Iuda and Iſraell. 9. He is ſente with the booke vnto the people, and readeth it before them all. 14. He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them alſo. 20. The rulers ſhew vnto the king the wordes of the booke. 23. Iehudi taketh the booke, and readeth a little of it, and caſteth it into the fyre. 28. There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

1 IN the fourthe yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias the kyng of Juda, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jeremie ſaying, I

2 Take a booke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue ſpoken to thee againſte Iſraell, againſt Juda, and againſt all the people, from the tyme that I beganne to ſpeake vnto thee in the raigne of Joſias vnto this day: Jer.30.a.

3 That when the houſe of Juda heareth of the plague whiche I haue deuiſed for them, they maye peraduenture turne euery manne from his wicked way, that I may forgyue their offences and ſinnes.

4 Then did Jeremie call Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Jeremie, all the wordes of the Lord which he had ſpoken vnto him. Jer.45.a.

5 And Jeremie commaunded Baruch, ſaying, I am in priſon, ſo that I may not come into the houſe of the Lorde:

6 Therefore goe thou thyther, and reade the booke that thou haſt written at my mouthe (namely) the wordes of the Lord, and reade them in the Lordes houſe vppon the (a) faſtyng daye, that the people, whole Juda, and all they that come out of ỳ cities may heare.

7 Peraduenture they will pray meekely before the face of the Lord, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and diſpleaſure that the Lord hath taken againſt this people.

8 So Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, did according to all that Jeremie the Prophete commaunded hym, reading the wordes of the Lorde, out of the booke, in the Lordes houſe.

9 And this was done in the fyfth yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commaunded that all the people of Hieruſalem ſhould faſt before the Lorde, and they alſo that were come from the cities of Juda, vnto Hieruſalem:

10 Then read Baruch the wordes of Jeremie out of the Booke within the houſe of the Lorde, out of the treaſurie of Gamariah the ſonne of Saphan the ſcribe, whyche is Ioſu.3.a.

a. When Jehoakim the king of Iuda heard that the king of Babylon his army was comming to beſege Hieruſalem, he appoynted a faſt: Ieremie and publique faſt for al the people, commanding them to reſort vnto the temple at the time appoynted, and there to make their humble prayers vnto God for peace and his fauour, as the maner of Gods people was in all their diſtreſſes to faſt and pray in faythfull repentaunce.

is beside the higher loft of the newe doze of the Lordes house, that all the people myghte heare.

11 Nowe when Michaas the sonne of Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, hearde all the wozds of the Lozd out of the booke, 12 He wente downe to the kings palace into the scribes chambers, foz there all the princes were set, Elisama the scribe, Dalaiah the sonne of Semei, Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, Gamariah the sonne of Saphan, Zedekias the sonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

13 And Michaas tolde them all the wozdes that he heard Baruch reade out of the booke before the people.

14 Then all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Chusi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thyne hande the booke whereout thou hast reade before all the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Meriah toke the Booke in hys hande, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe, and reade the booke, that we may heare also: so Baruch reade, that they might heare.

16 Now when they had heard all the wozds, they were abashed one vpon another, and sayd vnto Baruch, We will certifye the king of all these wozdes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs, how diddest thou write all these wozdes out of his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He spake all these wozds vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

19 Then sayd the princes vnto Baruch, Goe thy way, hyde thee with Ieremie, so that no man knowe where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the Court (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Elisama the scribe) and told the king all the wozds, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fetch him the booke: which he brought out of Elisama the scribes chamber and Jehudi, read in it, that the king and all the princes whiche were about him might heare.

22 Nowe the king sate in the winter house (foz it was in the ninth moneth) & there was a fyre before him.

23 And when Jehudi had read three oz foure leaues thereof, he cutte the booke in peeces with a penknyfe, and cast it into the fyre vpon the harth, vntill the booke was all brent in the fyre vpon the harth.

24 Yet no man was abashed thereof, noz rent his clothes, neyther the king him selfe, noz his seruaunts, though they heard al these wozdes.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, Dalaiah, and Gamariah, besought the king that he would not burne the booke: notwithstanding, the king would not heare them, 26 But commaunded Jerahmel the sonne of Amelech, Saraiah, the sonne of Esriel, and Selemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to lay handes vpon Baruch the scribe, and vpon Ieremie the Prophete: but the Lozde kept them out of syght.

27 Nowe after that the king had brente the booke, and the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremie, the wozde of the Lozd came vnto Ieremie, saying,

28 Take another booke, and write in it all the E afozesayde sermons that were written in the fyrst booke, which Jehoakim the king of Juda hath brent.

29 And tell Jehoakim the king of Juda, thus saith the Lozd, Thou hast brent ỹ booke, and thoughtest within thy selfe, Why hast thou written therin that the king of Babylon shall come and make this land waste, so that he shall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lozd sayeth of Jehoakim the king of Juda, There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead coarse shal be cast out, that the heate of the daye, and the frost of the night, maye come vpon him. 4. Re. 24. b. Iere. 22. c.

31 And I will visite the wickednesse of hym, of his seede, and of his seruauntes: Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard me not, will I bring vpon them, vppon the inhabitours of Hierusalem, and vpon all Juda.

32 Then toke Ieremie another booke, and gaue it to Baruch ỹ scribe the sonne of Meriah, whiche wrote therein out of the mouthe of Ieremie, all the sermons that were in the fyrst booke which Jehoakim the king of Juda did burne: and there were added vnto the many moe sermons, like vnto the former.

The. xxxvij. Chapter.

1. Zedekia succeedeth Cononiah, 3. he sendeth vnto Ieremie to pray for him, 12. Ieremie going into the lande of Beniamin is taken, 15. he is beaten and put in prison, 17. he is deliuered by kyng Zedekia.

1 ZEdekia the sonne of Josiah, which was A made king through Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, raigned in the lande of Juda, in the steede of " Cononiah the sonne of Jehoakim. 4. Reg. 24. " or, Jechoniah.

2 But neyther he, nor his ſeruauntes, nor the people in his land, would obey the wordes of the Lorde whiche he ſpake by the Prophete Jeremie.

Jere.31.a. 3 Neuertheleſſe, Zedekiah the king ſent Jehucal the ſonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the ſonne of Maaſiah the prieſt, to the prophet Jeremie, ſaying, O pray thou vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Nowe Jeremie walked free among the people at that time, and was not put in priſon as yet.

Ezec.17.b. 5 Pharaos hoſt alſo was come out of Egypt: which when the Chaldees whiche beſieged Hieruſalem perceyued, they departed from thence.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the prophet Jeremie, ſaying,

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, This aunſwere ſhall ye giue to the king of Juda

Jere.46.a. that ſent you vnto me for counſayle, Behold, Pharaos hoſt whiche is come forth to helpe you, ſhal returne into Egypt into his owne lande.

8 But the Chaldees ſhal come agayne, and fyght againſt this citie, winne it, and ſet fyre vpon it.

9 For thus ſayth the Lord, Deceiue not your owne minds, thinking on this maner, Tuſh, the Chaldees goe now their way from vs: no, they ſhal not goe their way.

10 For though ye had ſlayne the whole hoſt of the Chaldees that beſiege you, and that none remayned of them but wounded men, yet ſhould they ſtande vp, and ſet fire vppon this citie.

11 Now when the hoſt of the Chaldees was broken vp from Hieruſalem for feare of the Egyptians armie, 12 Jeremie went out of Hieruſalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him frō among the people.

13 And whē he came vnder Beniamins port, there was a porter called Jeriah, the ſonne of Jere.28.b. Selemiah, the ſonne of Hananiah, whiche fell vppon him, and toke him, ſaying, Thy minde is to runne to the Chaldees.

C 14 Then ſaid Jeremie, It is not ſo, I go not to the Chaldees: neuertheleſſe, Jeriah would not beleeue him, but brought Jeremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore, the princes were angry with Jeremie, and ſmote him, and layde hym in priſon in the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe: for they had made that houſe the priſon.

16 Thus was Jeremie put into a dungeon and priſon, and ſo lay there a long time.

Jere.38.c. 17 Then Zedekiah the king ſent for him, and called him, and aſked him quietly in his owne houſe, ſaying, Thinkeſt thou this buſineſſe (that is now in hand) commeth of the Lord? Jeremie aunſwered, Yea that it dothe: and thou (ſayd he) ſhalt be deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreouer, Jeremie ſaid vnto king Zedekia, What haue I offended againſt thee, againſt thy ſeruauntes, or againſt this people, that ye haue put me in pryſon?

19 Wher are your prophets which haue prophecied vnto you, and ſayd, That the king of Jer.28. Babylon ſhould not come againſt you and this lande?

20 And therefore heare now, O my Lord the king, let my prayer be accepted before thee, and ſende me no more into the houſe of Jonathan the ſcribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedekia commaunded to put Jeremie in the fore entrie of the priſon, & dayly to be giuen him a cake of bread of the bakers ſtreete, vntill all the bread in the citie was eaten vp: thus Jeremie remayned in the fore entrie of the priſon.

The.xxxviij. Chapter.

1 By the motion of the rulers, Ieremie is put into a dungeon. 14. At the requeſt of Abedmelech the chamberlayne, the kyng commaundeth Ieremie to be brought foorthe of the dungeon. 17. Ieremie ſheweth the kyng how he might eſcape death.

1 SAphatiah the ſonne of Mathan, Gedaliah the ſonne of Paſhur, Jucal the ſonne of Selemiah, and Paſhur the ſonne of Melchia, perceyued the wordes that Jeremie had ſpoken vnto all the people, namely, on this manner:

2 Thus ſayth the Lorde, Who ſo remayneth Jer.21.c. in this citie, ſhall periſh either with ỹ ſword, and.27.a. with hunger, or with peſtilence: but who ſo falleth vnto the Chaldees ſhall eſcape, wynning hys ſoule for a pray, and ſhall lyue.

3 For thus ſayth ỹ Lord, This citie no doubt Jer.21.c. muſt be deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he alſo ſhall winne it.

4 Then ſayde the Princes vnto the King, Sir, we beſeech you let this man be putte to death: for thus he diſcourageth the handes of Jer.37.a. the ſouldiers that bee in this citie, and the handes of all the people, when hee ſpeaketh ſuch wordes vnto them: this manne laboureth not for peace of the people, but miſchiefe.

5 Zedekia the king anſwered, and ſaid, Lo, he is in your handes: for the king may denye you nothing.

6 Then toke they Jeremie, and caſt hym into into the dungeon of Melchiah the sonne of Amelech, that dwelt in the fore entrie of the prison, and they let downe Jeremie with cordes into a dungeon, where there was no water, but myre: so Jeremie stacke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Abedmelech the Mozian, being a chamberlayne in the kings court, vnderstode that they had cast Jeremie into the dungeon,

8 He went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, which then sat vnder the port of Beniamin, these wordes:

9 My Lorde the king, where as these men meddle with Jeremie the prophete, they do him wrong (namely) in that they haue put him in prison, there to dye for hunger: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commaunded Abedmelech the Mozian, and sayde, Take from hence thirtie men, whom thou wilt, and drawe vp Jeremie the prophete, out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Abedmelech toke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, and there vnder the treasurie he gate olde ragges and worne cloutes, and let them downe by a corde into the dungeon to Jeremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Mozian sayde vnto the prophete Jeremie, Put these raggēs & cloutes vnder thine arme holes, betwixt them and the cordes: and Jeremie dyd so.

13 So they drawe vp Jeremie with cords, and toke him out of the dungeon: and he remayned in the fore entrie of the prison.

14 Then Zedekia the king sent, and caused Jeremie the prophete to be called vnto him, into the thyrde entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king sayde vnto Jeremie, I will aske thee some what, but hyde nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremie answered Zedekia, If I be playne vnto thee, thou wilt cause me to suffer death: if I giue thee counsel, thou wilt not folowe me.

16 So the king swore an othe secretly to Jeremie, saying, As the Lord liueth that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hāds of thē yͤ seeke after thy life.

17 Then saide Jeremie vnto Zedekia, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, If case be that thou wylt goe forth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou shalt saue thy life, and this citie shal not be brent, yea both thou and thy household shal escape with your lyues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babylons princes, then shall this citie be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees, which shal set fyre vpō it, and thou shalt not be able to escape them.

19 And Zedekia sayde vnto Jeremie, I am afrayde for the Jewes that are fledde vnto the Chaldees, lest I come into their handes, and so they to haue me in derision.

20 But Jeremie answered, No, they shall not betray thee: O hearke vnto yͤ voyce of yͤ Lord, I beseeche thee, which I speake vnto thee, so shalt thou be well, and saue thy lyfe:

21 But if thou wilt not goe forth, the Lorde hath tolde me this playnely, D

22 Beholde, all the women that are leaft in the king of Judaes house, shal be led forth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they shall say, thou art deceiued, and the men in whom thou diddest put thy trust, haue gotte thee vnder, and set thy feete fast in the myre, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore al thy wiues, with thy children, shall they leade forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou shalt not escape their handes: but shalt be the king of Babylons prisoner, and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt.

24 Then sayd Zedekia vnto Jeremie, Loke that no body knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye:

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked wͭ thee, and come vnto thee, saying, O speake, what sayd yͤ king to thee, hyde it not frō vs, & we wil not put thee to death: Tell vs (we pray thee) what sayd the king to thee?

26 See thou giue them this answere: I haue humbly besought the king, that he will lette me lye no more in Jehonathans house, that I dye not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremie, and asked him: and he tolde them after the manner as the king bad him. Then they helde their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Jeremie abode stil in the fore entrie of the prison, vntil the daye that Jerusalem was wonne. Jere. 39. e.

Jere.34.a. 4 And when Zedekia the kyng of Juda departed out of the citie by night through the kings garden, and through the port that

The.xl.Chapter.

1. Ieremie hath licence to goe whither he wil.8. he dwelleth with the people that remayneth at Ieruſalem, ouer whom Gedaliah ruleth 14. Iehanan propheſieth death vnto Gedaliah.

1 THis is the word that the Lord ſpake vn- A chiefe captayne had let him goe free from Jere.40.a Ramath, whyther he had led him bounde among all the priſoners that were caryed Joſu.18.d

from Jeruſalem and Juda vnto Babylon.
2 The chiefe captayne called for Jeremie, &
ſayde vnto him, The Lord thy God ſpake

3 Nowe the Lord hath ſent it, and perfourmed it, as he hath promiſed: for ye haue ſin-

Juda, and dwel with him among the peo-

So the chiefe captayne gaue him his expen-

6 Then went Jeremie vnto Gedaliah the ſon him among the people that were left in the lande.

7 Now when the captaynes of the hoſt of Ju- B abroade on euery ſide in the land, vnderſtode

that

that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the lande, and that man, wife, and childe, yea & the poore men in the lande that were not led captiue vnto Babylon, should be vnder hys iurisdiction:

8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, (namely) Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sonnes of Careah, Sarrah the sonne of Thanehumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophatite, Jezeaniah the the sonne of Maachati, with theyr companions.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan, sware vnto them and their felowes in this manner: Be not afrayde to serue the Chaldees, dwel in the land, & do the king of Babylon seruice, so shal ye prosper.

10 Beholde, I dwel at Mispa, to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie suche as come to vs: therfore gather wine, corne, and oyle, and kepe them in your ware houses, and dwel in your cities that ye haue in keeping.

11 Yea al the Jewes also ẏ dwelt in Moab, vnder the Amonites, Idumea, and in all the countreyes, when they heard that the kyng of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sõne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan gouernour, vpon all them that were left in Juda:

12 All the Jewes (I say) returned out of all places where they were fledde vnto, & came into the lande of Juda to Gedaliah vntõ Mispa, and gathered wine and other fruites, and that very much.

13 Moreouer, Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the host that were scattered on euery side in the lande, came to Gedaliah to Mispa, and sayde vnto him,

C 14 Knowest thou not that Baalis the kyng of the Amonites hath sent Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam beleeued them not.

15 Then sayde Johanan the sonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Mispa these wordes secretly, Let mee goe, I pray thee, and I wyll slay Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, so that nobody shall knowe it: Wherefore wyll he kyll thee, that all the Jewes which resort vnto thee myght be scattered, and the remnãt in Juda perishe?

16 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam sayde to Johanan the sonne of Careah, Thou shalt not do it, for they are but lyes that thou sayest of Ismael.

The.xli.Chapter.

2. Ismael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11. Johanan foloweth after Ismael.

1 BVt in the seuenth moneth, it happened A that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah 4.Re.25.a.
the sonne of Elisama, one of the kings bloud came, and the greatest about the king, and tenne men with him, vnto Gedaliah the son of Ahicam to Mispa, and they did eate together in Mispa.

2 And Ismael the son of Nathaniah, w̃ those ten men that were with him, starte vp, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan with the swoorde, and slue him, whom the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the lande.

3 Ismael also slue all the Jewes that were with Gedaliah at Mispa, and all the Chaldees that he foũde there waytyng vpon him, and those that were able to fight, he slue with him.

4 The next day after that he had slaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknowen:

5 And there came certayne men from Sichem, from Silo, and Samaria, to the number of fourescore, whiche had shauen theyr beardes, rent their clothes, & were all beanie, bringyng meate offerings & incense in theyr hands, to offer it in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah went Eccl.12.
forth of Mispa weeping, to meete thẽ: nowe when he mette them, he sayd, Goe your way to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam.

7 And when they came in the middest of the B city, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, wyth them that were with him, slue them, euen at the middest of the pyt.

8 Among these fourescore men, there were ten that sayde vnto Ismael, O slay vs not, for we haue yet a great treasure in the fielde, of wheate, barley, oyle, and honie: so he spared them, & slue them not with their brethrẽ.

9 Now the pyt wherein Ismael did cast the 2. Chr.16.a.

C 14 So al ỹ people that Iſmael had caryed away from Miſpa, were brought againe: and when they returned, they came to Johanan the ſonne of Careah.

15 But Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah fled from Johanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan the ſonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoſt that were with him, toke all the remnant of the people, whō Iſmael the ſonne of Nathaniah had ledde away when he had ſlayne Gedaliah the ſon of Ahicam, whom they alſo had reſerued from him, fighting men, women, and chyldren, and gelded men, whom they brought agayne from Gibeon,

A 1 THen all the captaynes of Johanan the ſonne of Careah, Jezaniah the ſonne of Oſiah, came, with all the people, from the leaſt to the moſt, 18 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Like as my wrath and indignation is moued againſt the inhabitours of Jeruſalem: ſo ſhall my diſpleaſure be kyndled againſt you alſo if ye goe into Egypt, and there ye ſhal be reuiled, abhorred, brought to ſhame and confuſion, and as for this place ye ſhal neuer ſee it more.

19 The Lord forbiddeth you, (O ye remnant of Juda) that ye ſhall not goe into Egypt:

and

and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

10 For ye haue dissembled with me: for yee sent me vnto the Lorde your God, and sayd, Oppay thou the Lord our God for vs, and loke what answere the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, & we shal do thereafter:

11 Nowe haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but ye haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde your God, for the which cause he hath sente me vnto you.

12 Nowe therefore, be sure that ye shall perysshe with the swoorde, with hunger, and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwell.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, that he myght bring vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, and cary vs away prisoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaynes of the host, and all the people, folowed not the cõmaundement of the lord, (namely) to dwel in the land of Juda:

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaynes of the host, caryed away al the remnant of Juda that were come together agayne from all the heathen, among whom they had bin scattered, to dwel in the lande of Juda,

6 Men, women, children, the kyngs daughters, all those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Saphan: they caryed away also the prophete Ieremie, Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: for they were not obedient vnto the commaundement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis.

8 And in Thaphnis the woorde of the Lorde happened vnto Ieremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hande, and hide the in ỳ bryck wal, vnder the doore of Pharaos house in Thaphnis, that all the men of Juda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil sende & cal for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and will set his seate vpon these stones that I haue hid, and hee shall spreade his tent ouer them. Iere.46.c.

11 And when he commeth, he shall smite the land of Egypt, some vnto slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the swoorde.

12 He shall set fire vpon the temple of the Egyptians goddes, and burne them vp, & take themselues prysoners: Moreouer, he shal aray him selfe with the lande of Egypt, lyke as a shepheard putteth on his coate, and shal depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pyllers also of the temple of the sunne that is in Egypt, shall he breake in peeces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians goddes.

The.xliiij.Chapter.

1. He reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15. They that set light by the threatning of the Lord are chastened. 26. The destructiõ of Egypt and the Iewes therein is prophecied.

1 THis is the woorde that was shewed to Ieremie, concerning all the Iewes which dwelt in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the lande of Pathures.

2 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Ye haue seene all the miserie that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem, and vpon all the cities of Juda: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein,

3 And that bycause of the great blasphemies, which they committed to prouoke me vnto anger, in that they went backe to do sacrifice and woorship vnto strange goddes, whom neyther they, nor ye, nor your fathers haue knowen.

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruauntes all the prophetes, I rose vp early, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O do no suche abhominable things and things that I hate. Iere.25.a and.29.a.

5 But they wouldē not folowe, nor hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to do no more sacrifice vnto straunge goddes.

6 Wherfore, mine indignation & wrath was kindled, and it brent vp the cities of Juda, with the streetes of Jerusalem, so that they were were made waste and desolate, as it is come to passe this day.

25 7 Now therefore, thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, How happeneth it that ye do so greate euil vnto your owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, children and babes of Juda, so that none of you is left?

8 Bycause ye prouoke me to wrath with the workes of your owne handes, when ye offer vnto strange goddes in the lande of Egypt, where as ye be gone to dwel, that ye myght vtterly perysshe, and that ye might be reuiled, and shamefully entreated of al nations?

9 Or haue ye now forgotten the wickednesse of your forefathers, the wickednesse of the kings of Juda, and their wiues, the wickednesse that yee your selues and your wiues haue done in the lande of Juda, and in the streetes of Jerusalem?

10 Yet are ye not sorie this day, ye feare not, neyther walke ye in my lawe, and in my commaundementes that I haue giuen vnto you and your forefathers.

11 Therefore, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I am stedfastly aduised and determined to punysshe you, and to rote out all Juda.

12 As for the remnant of Juda that purposely went into Egypt there to dwel, I wil take them, and they shall all bee destroyed, in the lande of Egypt shall they perisshe being cōsumed with the swoorde, and with hunger: for from the least vnto the moste, they shall perysshe with the swoorde, and wyth hunger: moreouer, they shall be reuiled, abhorred, shamed, and confounded.

Ezec.39.a. 13 For I wil visite them that dwel in Egypt, as I haue visited Jerusalem, with the swoord, with hunger, and with pestilence.

℄ 14 So that none of the remnant of Juda which are gone to dwel in Egypt, shall bee left to come againe into the land of Juda, although they thinke to come thyther again, and to dwel there: for none shall come agayne but such as are fled away.

15 Then all the men which knewe that theyr wiues had offered vnto strange goddes, and a great sorte of wiues that stode there, yea and al the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the citie of Phatures, answered Jeremie, and sayde,

16 As for the words that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lord, we wil in no wise heare them:

17 But whatsoeuer goeth out of our owne mouth, that will we do, we will do sacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the queene of heauen like as we and our forefathers, our kings & our heades haue done in the cities of Juda, and in the streetes of Jerusalem: for then had we plenteousnesse of victuals, then were we in prosperitie, and no misfortune came vpon vs:

Jere.7.b.

18 But since we left to offer, and to do sacrifice vnto the queene of heauen, we haue had scarcenesse of all things, and perisshe with the swoorde and hunger. 1.Ma.1.

19 (Last of all) when we (women) dyd sacrifice and offered vnto the queene of heauen: dyd we make hir cakes, and powre vnto hir drinke offerings to do hir seruice, without our husbandes wylles?

20 Then sayde Jeremie vnto all the people, to the men, to the women, and to al the folke which had giuen him that answere,

21 Dyd not the Lord remember the sacrifices that yee, your forefathers, your kyngs and rulers, with all the people, haue offered in the cities of Juda, in the streetes of Jerusalem? and hath he not consydered this in hys mynde? D

22 In somuch that the Lord myght no longer suffer the wickednesse of your inuentions, and the abhominable things which yee did: Is not your lande desolate and voyde, yea and abhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to passe this day? Esai.1.

23 Did not all this happen vnto you, bycause ye made such sacrifice, and sinned against the Lord? ye haue not folowed his voice, to walke in his lawe, in his ordinances & statutes: yea this is ỳ cause ỳ al misfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe this day. 3.Re.11. Jere.2. 3.c.4.6. Baru.2.

24 Moreouer, Jeremie spake vnto al the people, & to al the womē, Heare the word of the Lord, al Juda that be in the land of Egypt:

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ye and your wiues haue spoken with your owne mouth, the thing that ye haue fulfilled in deede, yea thus haue ye sayd, We wil not fayle but perfourme the vowes that we haue vowed, we wil do sacrifice, & poure out drinke offerings to the Queene of heauen, purposely will yee set vp your owne meanings, and perfourme your vowes. Jere.44.

26 And therefore heare the word of the Lord al Juda ỳ dwel in the land of Egypt, Behold, I haue swoorne by my great name, sayth the Lord, that my name shall not bee rehearsed throughout any mans mouth of Juda in all the land of Egypt, to say, The lord God liueth. Gen.22.

27 For I wil watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: And all the men of Juda that be in the lande of Egypte, shall perisshe with the swoord, and with hunger, vntil they Jere.44.

he vtterly destroyed.

28 Neuertheleſſe thoſe that fledde away for the ſworde, ſhall come againe out of Egypt into the lande of Juda, but there ſhal be very fewe of them, and al the remnant of Jude that are gone into Egypt there to dwel, ſhall knowe whoſe wordes ſhall be founde true, theirs or myne.

29 Take this for a token, that I will viſite you in this place, ſayth the Lord, and that ye may know howe ỹ I wout doubt wil performe my purpoſe vpon you, to punish you:

30 Behold, ſayth the Lorde, I will deliuer Pharao Hophra king of Egypt, into the handes of his enimies that ſeeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedekia the king of Juda into the handes of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon his enimie, which ſought after his lyfe.

The.xlv.Chapter.

Baruch is reproued of Ieremie.

1 THeſe are the wordes that Jeremie the prophet ſpake vnto Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, after that he had writ ten theſe sermons in a booke at the mouth of Jeremie, in the fourth yeere of Jehoakim the ſon of Joſias king of Juda, ſaying,

2 Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael vnto thee, O Baruch:

3 Inſomuch as ỹ thoughteſt thus (when thou waſt writing) Wo is me, the Lord hath giuen me payne for my trauayle, I haue weeried my ſelfe w̃ ſighing, and haue founde no reſt:

4 Therefore tell him, O Jeremie, that the Lorde ſayth thus, Beholde, the thing that I haue builded, will I breake downe agayne, and rote out the thing that I haue planted, yea this whole lande:

5 And ſeekeſt thou yet promotion? (loke not for it, and) deſire it not, for I will bring a miſerable plague vpõ al fleſh, ſaith the Lord: but thy lyfe will I giue thee for a pray in al places whither ſo euer thou goeſt.

The.xlvi.Chapter.

1. He prophecieth the deſtruction of Egypt. 27. Deliueraunce is promiſed to Iſrael.

1 HEre folow the wordes of the Lord to ỹ Prophet Jeremie, which he ſpake againſt (all) the Gentiles.

2 Theſe wordes folowing preached he to the Egyptians, concerning the hoſte of Pharao Necho king of Egypt, whẽ he was in Charchamis beſide the water of Euphrates, what tyme as Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon ſlue him, in the fourth yeere of Jehoakim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda.

3 Make ready buckler and ſhielde, and goe forth to fight. Jere.36.a.

4 Harneſſe your horſes, and ſet your ſelues vpon them, ſet your ſallets faſt on, bring forth ſpeares, ſcoure your ſwordes, and put on your breaſt plates.

5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I ſee you ſo afrayde? why ſhrynke ye backe? Theyr worthyes are ſlaine, yea they runne ſo faſt away, that none of them loketh behinde him: fearefulneſſe is fallen vpon euery one of thẽ, ſayth the Lord.

6 The lightеſt of foote ſhal not flee away, and the worthies ſhall not eſcape: towarde the North, by the water of Euphrates they dyd ſtumble and fal.

7 But what is hee this that ſwelleth vp as it were a floud, roaryng and raging lyke the ſtreames of water? B

8 It is Egypt that ryſeth vp lyke the floud, & calleth out the waters with ſo great noyſe, and he ſayde, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth, I wil deſtroy the citie, with them that are therein.

9 Get ye vp ye horſes, rolle forth ye charets, come forth worthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Libyans with your bucklers, ye Lydians with your bowes.

10 But this day of the Lorde God of hoſtes, is a day of vengeance, that he may auenge him of his enimies: The ſword ſhal deuour, it ſhall be ſatiſfied and bathed in their blond, for the Lord God of hoſtes ſhal haue a ſlaine offeryng toward the North, by the water of Euphrates.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and bring triacle, O virgin thou daughter of Egypt: but in vaine ſhalt thou go to ſurgerie, for thy wound ſhal not be ſtopped.

12 The heathen haue heard of thy ſhame, and the lande is full of thy confuſion, for one ſtrong man did ſtumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.

13 Theſe are the the wordes that the Lorde ſpake to the prophet Jeremie, concerning the comming of Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon, whiche was ſent to deſtroy the lande of Egypt: Jere.43.b.

14 Preache out through the lande of Egypt and cauſe it to be proclaymed at Migdol, Noph, and Thaphnis, and ſay, Stande ſtyl, make thee redy, for the ſword ſhall conſume thee rounde about. C

15 How happeneth it that thy mightie worthies are fallen? why ſtood they not faſte? euẽ becauſe the Lord thruſt them downe.

16 The ſlaughter was great, for one fel euer ſtyl vpon another: & they ſaide, Vp, let vs goe agayn to our owne people, and to our owne natural natural countrey, from the cruel ſwoꝛd.

17 They did cꝛye euen there, Pharao the king of Egypt, is a king of troubleſomeneſſe, he hath ouerpaſt the appointed time.

Eſai. 48. b. 18 As I liue (ſayth the king whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes) ſo ſurely as Thaboꝛ ſtandeth among the mountaynes, and Charmel in the ſea: euen ſo aſſuredly ſhall this miſchiefe come (vpon Egypt.)

19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make redy thy geare to flit: foꝛ Noph ſhal be voyde and deſolate, ſo that no man ſhall dwel therein.

20 The lande of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe: but deſtruction ſhall come out of the noꝛth, (I ſay) it commeth.

ד 21 Hir waged ſouldiours that be with hir, are lyke fat calues, they alſo ſhall flee away together, & not abyde: foꝛ ỹ day of their ſlaughter, and the time of their viſitation ſhal come vpon them:

22 The cꝛye of them ſhall make a noyſe, as the hiſſing of ſerpentes: foꝛ they ſhal enter in with their hoſtes, and come againſt hir with axes, as it were hewers downe of wood.

a. Hir wood, that is, the whole multitude of the people, whiche was like a great wood.

23 And they ſhall cut downe hir (a) wood, ſaith the Lord, they ſhall be innumerable: foꝛ they ſhall be moe in number than the graſſehoppers, ſo that no man ſhal be able to tel them.

24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the handes of the people of the noꝛth.

25 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Beholde, I will viſite that reſtleſſe people of Alexandꝛia, Pharao, & Egypt, yea both their gods & their kings, euen Pharao and all them that put their truſt in him:

26 Yea I will deliuer them into the hands of thoſe that ſeeke after their lyues, (namely) into the power of Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the king of Babylon, and into the power of his ſeruauntes: and after all theſe things, it ſhall be inhabited as afoꝛetime, ſayth the Lord.

27 Be not thou afrayde, O my ſeruaunt Jacob, feare not thou, O Iſrael: foꝛ loe, I will helpe thee from farre, and thy ſeede from the lande of their captiuitie: Jacob alſo ſhall come agayne and be in reſt, he ſhal pꝛoſper, and no man ſhall do him harme.

ה 28 Feare thou not (O Jacob my ſeruaunt) ſayth the Lorde, foꝛ I am with thee, and wil deſtroy all nations among whom I haue ſcattered thee: neuertheleſſe, I wil not conſume thee, but chaſten thee, and coꝛꝛect thee, yea and that with diſcretion, neyther will I vtterly deſtroy thee.

The. xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord againſt the Philiſtines.

1 Theſe are the woꝛdes that ỹ Lord ſpake vnto Jeremie the pꝛophete againſt the Philiſtines, beſoꝛe that Pharao ſmote (the citie of) Izah.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord, Behold, there ſhall waters aryſe out of the noꝛth, and ſhal gꝛow to a great flood, running ouer, and couering the lande, and all that is therin, the cities and them that dwel therein: and the men ſhall cꝛye, and all they that dwel in the land ſhal mourne,

3 At the noiſe and ſtamping of their ſtꝛong barbed hoꝛſes, at the ſhaking of their charrettes, and at the rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers ſhall not looke to their chyldꝛen, ſo feeble and weerie ſhall their handes be,

4 At the ſame tyme when he ſhall be there to deſtroy the whole lande of the Philiſtines, he ſhall make waſt both Tyrus, Sidon, and the reſidue of theyr ayde: foꝛ the Lorde will deſtroy the Philiſtines, the remnant of of the Ile of Caphtoꝛ.

5 Baldneſſe is come vpon Izah, Aſcalon is put to ſilence with the reſt of their baleys: how long wilt thou teare thy ſelfe?

6 O thou ſwoꝛd of the Lord, how long wilt thou not ceaſſe? turne agayn into thy ſheath, reſt, and leaue of.

ז 7 But how can it ceaſſe, when the Lord him ſelfe hath giuen it a charge againſt Aſcalon, and rayſed it vp againſt the cities of the ſea coaſt?

The xlviij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord againſt the Moabites.

I Eſai. 16. a. Ezec. 25. Sophon. 2. 1 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, the god of Iſrael, againſt Moab, Wo be to the citie of Nebo, foꝛ it is layde waſte, bꝛought to confuſion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Miſgab is bꝛought to ſhame, and afrayde.

2 Moab can boaſt no moꝛe of Heſbon, foꝛ they haue deuiſed a miſchiefe againſt it: come (ſhal they ſay) let vs rote them out, that they may be no moꝛe a nation, thou alſo ſhalt be deſtroyed, O Madmena, and the ſwoꝛd ſhal perſecute thee.

3 A voyce ſhall cꝛie from Hoꝛonaim, Exꝛat walling & deſtruction ſhall come vpon the,

4 Moab is made deſolate: hir little ones haue cryed out.

5 Foꝛ at the going vp vnto Luith he aroſe with lamentations and mourning, & down towarde Hoꝛonaim they heaꝛde a cruel and deadly cꝛye,

6 Get you away, ſaue your liues, and be like vnto the heath in the wyldernelle.

ט 7 Foꝛ bycauſe thou haſt truſted in thyne owne downe woꝛkes and treaſure, thou ſhalt be taken: Chamos with his prieſtes and princes ſhal goe away into captiuitie.

8 The deſtroyer ſhall come vpon all cities, none ſhall eſcape: The valleys ſhall be deſtroyed, and the fieldes ſhall be layde waſt, like as the Lord hath ſpoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that ſhe get hir away ſpeedyly: for hir cities ſhal be made ſo deſolate, that no man ſhal dwel therein.

10 Curſed bee hee that doth the woꝛke of the Lord fraudulently, & curſed be he that keepeth backe his ſwoꝛd from ſhedding of bloud.

11 Moab hath euer bin riche and careleſſe frō hir youth vp, ſhee hath bin ſtil ſettled vpon lyes, ſhe was neuer yet put out of one veſſell into another (that is) ſhe neuer went away into captiuitie, therefoꝛe hir taſt remayneth, and hir ſauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, ſayth the Lord: that I ſhal ſende hir truſſers to truſſe hir vp, which ſhall remoue hir from hir dwelling, and emptie hir veſſels, and breake hir wine pottes.

13 And Moab ſhal be aſhamed of Chamos, like as Iſrael was aſhamed of Bethel, wherin ſhe put hir truſt.

14 Wherefoꝛe do ye thinke thus, Wee are mightie, and ſtrong men of warre?

15 Moab is deſtroyed, and hir cities brent vp, hir choſen yong men be ſlaine, ſayth the king, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes.

16 The deſtruction of Moab commeth on apace, and hir fal is at hande.

17 All ye neyghbours mourne foꝛ hir, and all ye that knowe hir name, ſay, O how happeneth it that the ſtrong ſtaffe and the gowdy rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe from thy glorie, and ſit in thirſt: foꝛ he that deſtroyeth Moab, ſhall come vp to thee alſo, and breake downe thy ſtrong holdes.

19 And thou that dwelleſt in Aroer, get thee to the ſtreete, and looke about thee, aſke them that are fledde and eſcaped, and ſay, What thing is happened?

20 Oh Moab is confounded and ouercome: mourne and crye, tel it out at Arnon, that Moab is deſtroyed.

21 Foꝛ iudgement ſhall come vpon the playne lande, (namely) vpon Holon, and Jahzah & vpon Mephaath.

22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Nabo, and Beth Diblathaim, 23 Vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon, 24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the lande of Moab, whether they lye farre oꝛ neare.

25 The hoꝛne of Moab is ſmitten downe, & hir arme broken, ſayth the Lord.

26 Make hir drunken, foꝛ ſhe magnified hir ſelfe aboue the Lord that men may clap their handes at hir vomite, and that ſhe alſo may be laughed to ſcorne.

27 Diddeſt not thou laugh Iſrael to ſcorne, as though he had bin taken (with theft) among theeues? foꝛ ſo often as thou makeſt mention of him, thou ſkippeſt foꝛ ioy.

28 Ye Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of ſtone, and become lyke doues that make their neſtes in holes. E

29 As foꝛ Moabs pride we haue heard of it, ſhe is very hygh minded, I knowe hir ſtoutneſſe, hir boaſting, hir arrogancie, and the pryde of hir ſtomacke, (ſayth the Lorde.) Eſai.16.b. Iere.49.c.

30 I knowe, (ſayth the Lord) hir indignation, ſhe doth not right, hir woꝛdes are lyes, & they haue not dealt truely.

31 Therefoꝛe will I mourne foꝛ Moab, foꝛ whole Moabs ſake: my hart ſhall lament the men of Kirchares.

32 O thou vineyarde of Sabamah, I will weepe foꝛ thee as foꝛ Jazer: thy vine brāches ſhall come ouer the ſea, vnto the ſea of Jazer, the deſtroyer ſhall breake into thy haruell and grape gathering.

33 Myrth and cheare ſhall be taken away frō the fertile fielde, and from the lande of Moab: there ſhal be no ſweet wine in the preſſe, the treader ſhall haue no ſtomacke to crye, yea there ſhall be none to crye vnto him, 34 Whiche aforetyme were heard from Helbon to Eleale, and Jahaz, whiche lyfted vp their voice from Zoar vnto Horonaim, that bullocke of three yeeres olde, the waters alſo of Nemrim ſhal be dryed vp.

35 Moreouer, I will make Moab ceaſſe ſaith the Lord, from the offerings and cenſyng that ſhee hath made vnto hir gods in hygh places. F

36 Wherefoꝛe my hart mourneth foꝛ Moab, lyke a crowde playing an heauie ſong, and foꝛ the mens ſake of Kirchares my harte mourneth alſo, euen as a pype that pypeth a doleful ſong: foꝛ their riches whiche they haue gathered ſhal be deſtroyed.

37 All heades ſhal be ſhauen, and all beardes clipped of, all handes bound, and all loynes gyrded about with ſackcloth. Eſai.15.d.

38 Upon all the houſe toppes and ſtreetes of Moab there ſhall be lamentable mourning: foꝛ I wil breake Moab like an vnprofitable veſſel, ſayth the Lord.

39 O how is ſhe deſtroyed? O how mourneth ſhe? O how doth Moab hang downe hir heade and is aſhamed? Thus ſhal Moab be a laughing ſtocke, and had in deriſion of al them that be rounde about hir.

Deut.28.c. Jere.49.d. 40 For thus sayth the Lord, Behold, the enimie shal come fleeing as an Eagle, & spread his wings vpon Moab.

G 41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holdes: then the mightie mennes harts in Moab, shall be like the hart of a woman trauelling with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no more bee a people, because she hath set vp hir selfe against the Lord.

Esai.24.c. 43 Feare, pit, and snare, shall come vpon thee, O Moab, sayth the Lord.

44 Who so escapeth the feare, shall fall into the pit, and who so getteth out of the pit, shal be taken in the snare: for I wil bring a yere of visitation vpon Moab sayth the Lord.

45 They that are able to flee, shall stand vnder the shadow of Hesbon, for there shal goe a fyre out of Hesbon, and a flambe from Sion, & shal burne vp ỳ proude people of Moab and the toppe of those seditious children.

46 Wo be vnto thee, O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalte perishe: yea thy sonnes and daughters shall be led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last will I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, sayth the Lorde: Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1. The worde of the Lorde against the Ammonites. 7. Against Idumea. 23. Damascus. 28. Cedar. 34. Elam.

A 1 AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lord saith, Hath Israel no children? or is he without any heire? Why hath your king then taken Gad in? Wherfore doth his people dwel in his cities?

Ezec.21.d. and.25.a. Amos.1.a.

2 Beholde therefore, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will bring a noise of warre into Rabath of the Ammonites, and it shall be layde on a desolate heape, and hir cities brent vp, and the Israelities shall be Lordes ouer those that had them in possession afore, sayth the Lord.

3 Hesbon shall mourne, for Ai shall be rooted out of the grounde, (sayth the Lorde) the citie of Rabbath shall crye out, and gyrde thē selues with sackcloth, they shal mourne and runne about the walles, for their kyng shall be led away prisoner, yea his priestes, and princes with him.

a. The plentifulnesse of the soyle, the strōg situation of the place, & their great wealthe causeth the Ammōits, like a rechlesse, to wāton girle to blaspheme the Lord, to annoy his people, and to be without all feare of enimies.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the (a) valley? thy valley hath flowed away, O thou rebellious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure, ỳ no mā shall come to thee?

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lord God of hostes, from all those that be about thee, so that ye shal be scattered euery man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fledde.

6 But after that, I will bring the Ammonites also out of captiuitie agayne, sayeth the Lord.

7 Vpon the Edomites hathe the Lorde of hostes spoken on this manner, Is there no more wysedome in Theman? Is there no more good counsel among his people? Is their wisdome thē turned cleane to nought?

B Esai.21. Ezod. and.25.

8 Get you hence, turne your backes, crepe downe into the deepe, O ye citizens of Dedan: for I will bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, shuld they not leaue some grapes? If ỳ night robbers come vpon thee, should they not take so much as they thought were ynough?

10 But I wil make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that he shal not be able to hide them: His seede shal be wasted away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and hee himselfe shall not be left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, & I will kepe them, and thy widdowes shal take their comfort in me.

12 For thus hath the Lorde spoken: Beholde, they that men thought were vnmete to drynke of the cup, haue drunken with ỳ first, and thinkest thou then to be free? No, no, thou shalt neither be quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

Jere.25. Ezec.35. 1.Pet.4.

13 For why? I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shall become a wyldernesse, an open shame, a laughing stocke, and cursing, and all hir cities shall be a continual desert.

14 For I am perfectly informed of the lord, C that he hath sent a message already vnto the heathen: Gather you together, and go forth against hir, make you redy to battel.

15 For loe, I wil make thee but smal among the heathen, & little regarded among men.

Abdi.1.d.

16 Thy high stomacke, and the pryde of thy hart hath deceiued thee, because thou dwelst dwel in the holes of stony rockes, and hast ỳ high mountaynes in possession: Neuertheles, though thy nest were as high as the Egles, yet will I cast thee downe, saith the lord.

Esai.48. Jere.49.

17 Moreouer, Idumea shal be a wildernesse, who so goeth by it, shal be abashed & wonder at all hir miserable plagues.

Jere.18. 19.b.&50.

18 Lyke as Sodom, Gomor, and the cities that lay there about, were turned vpside downe, saith the Lord: so shal no body dwel in Idumea, and no man shall haue his habitation there.

Gen.19.c.

19 Beholde,

19 Behold, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasant medowes of Iordaine, vnto the strong dwelling place, & when I haue made him quiet, I will make him to flee from hir and all chosen men will I set in aray against hir: Who is like vnto me? what is he ỳ will stryue with me? what shepheard may stande in my handes?

20 Therefore, heare the counsel of the Lorde that he hath taken vpon Idumea, & his purpose that he hath deuised vpon the citizens of Theman: The least of the flocke shal traple thē, & loke what faire habitation they haue, they shal make it wast, and them selues also.

21 At the noyse of their fall the earth shall quake, the crye of their voyce shall be heard vnto the red sea.

22 Behold, the enimie shall come and flee vp hither like as it were an Egle, and spread his wings vpon Bozrah: then shall the hartes of the worthies in Edom, be as the harte of a woman trauailing of childe.

23 Upon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shall come confusion: for they shall heare euyl tidings, they shall be tossed to and fro like the sea that can not stande styl.

24 Damascus shall be sore afrayde, and shall flee: trembling commeth vpon hir, sorowe and paine shall ouertake hir, as a woman trauayling of childe.

25 But howe happeneth it that the famous citie, the citie of my ioy, is not spared?

26 Hir young men shall fall in the streetes, & all hir men of warre shal be taken away in that time, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 I will kindle a fyre in the walles of Damascus, which shall consume the pallace of Benhadad.

28 As for Cedar and the kyngdome of Hazor whō Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon smote, the Lord hath spoken thus vpon them: Aryse, and get you vp vnto Cedar, & destroy the people toward the East.

29 Their tentes and their flockes shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Camels also shal they carry away with them: they shall crye to them, feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you far away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwel there, O ye inhabiters of Hazor, saith the Lorde: for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsel concerning you, and concluded his deuise against you.

31 Aryse, and get you vp against yonder rich and careles people, sayth the Lorde, whiche haue neither gates nor dore barres, but dwel alone.

32 Their Camels shall be a pray, & the droues of their Cattel dryuē away: Moreouer, those will I scatter towarde all the windes, and to the farthest partes of the world, yea from al the sides therof will I bring their destruction sayth the Lorde.

33 Hazor also shal be a dwelling for dragons, and an euerlasting wyldernesse, so that no body shal dwel there, and no man shal haue there his habitation.

34 These are the wordes that the Lord spake to the prophete Jeremie concerning Elam, in the beginning of the raigne of Zedekias king of Juda. Ezec.32.a. Dan.8.a.

35 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Behold, I wil breake the bow of Elam, their principal strength. F

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, & wil scatter thē against the same foure windes: and there shall be no people, but some of Elam shall flee vnto them.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afrayde of their enimies, and of them that seeke their liues, and wil bring vpon them a mischiefe, euen my wrath saith the Lord: And I will persecute them with the sworde so long, til I haue brought them to nought.

38 I wil set my throne in Elam, I will destroy both ỳ kings and princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in processe of time I wil bring Elam out of captiuitie agayne, sayth the Lorde.

The. I. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

1 THe words that the Lord spake vnto the prophet Jeremie, concerning Babylon, and the lande of the Chaldees: A

2 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voyce be heard, make a token, crye out, keepe no silence, but saye, Babylon is won, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome, yea their goddes be brought to shame, and their images burst in peeces: Esai.13.a. and.47.a. and.51.a. Jere.25.b. Esai.46.a. Dan.5.a.

3 For out of the north there doth come a people against hir, which shall make hir land so wast that no body shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, for they shall flee, and depart from thence.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shal come, they & the children of Juda, weeping and making hast, and shal seke the Lord their God. 1.Esd.1.a.

5 They shall aske the way to Sion, thither shall they turne their faces, saying, Come, & we wil cleaue to the Lorde in a couenaunt that neuer ſhal be broken.

Iere.23.a. Ezec.36.f. 6 My people haue bin a loſt flocke, my ſhepheardes haue deceiued them: and haue made them go aſtray vpon the hylles, they haue gonne from the mountayne to the little hil, and forgotten their folde.

B 7 Al they that came vppon them, haue deuoured them, and their enimies ſayde, We haue made no fault againſt them, for they haue diſpleaſed the Lorde, (yea euen the Lorde which is) the habitation of their righteouſneſſe, and the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the lande of the Chaldees, and be ye as the rammes that goe before the flocke.

Iere.50.g.

9 For loe, I will wake vp an hoſt of people from the northren land, and bring them vpon Babylon, theſe ſhal lay ſiege to it, and winne it: their arrowes ſhal not miſſe, like as a cunning archer ſhooteth not wrong.

10 And the Chaldees ſhall be ſpoyled, and al they that ſpoyle them, ſhal be ſatisfyed, ſayth the Lord:

Eſai.47.a. 11 Although ye were ſo chearefull and glad, to treade downe myne heritage, and fulfilled your pleaſures as the calues in the graue, and triumphed ouer them lyke bulles (when ye had gotten the victorie.)

12 Your mothers ſhall be ſore confounded, and they that bare you ſhall come to ſhame, ſhe ſhall be the leaſt ſet by among the nations, voyde, waſted and dryed vp.

Iere.18.b. 19.b.&.49.f. 13 No man ſhal be able to dwel there for the feare of the Lord, but ſhe ſhal be whole deſolate: al they that goe by Babylon, ſhal ſtand ſtyl, and be abaſhed, and ſhall wonder at al hir plagues.

C 14 Goe forth in your aray againſt Babylon rounde about, al ye that can handle bowes, ſhoote at hir, ſpare no arowes: for ſhe hath ſinned againſt the Lord.

15 Crye out againſt hir round about, ſhe ſhal yeeld hir ſelf, hir foundatiõs ſhal fal, and hir walles ſhal com down, for it ſhal be the vẽgeance of ỹ Lord, yea vengeance ſhal be takẽ of hir: & as ſhe hath don, ſo deale ye wt hir.

Exod.21.b. Leui.24.d. Ioel.3.b.

16 Roote out the ſower from Babylon, and him that handleth the ſicle in harueſt: for feare of the ſword of the enimie euery man ſhall get him to his owne people, and euery man ſhall flee to his owne land.

17 Iſrael is a ſcattered flocke, the Lions haue diſpearſed them: Firſt the kyng of the Aſſyrians deuoured them, laſt of al this Nabuchodonoſor kyng of Babylon hath bruiſed all their bones.

4.Re.17.f. Eſai.10.a. 3.Re.25.d.

18 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will viſite the kyng of Babylon, and his kyngdome, as I haue viſited the kyng of the Aſſyrians, 19 And will bring Iſrael againe to his pleaſant paſture, that he may feede vpon Charmel and Baſan, and be ſatisfied vppon the mount of Ephraim and Galaad. 3.Re.18. Eſai.35.

20 In thoſe dayes, and at the ſame time, ſayth the Lord, if the offence of Iſrael be ſought for, there ſhall none be found, if men enquire for the ſinne of Iuda, there ſhall be none: for I will be mercifull vnto them whom I ſuffer to remayne.

21 Goe downe (O thou auenger) into the enimies land, and viſite them that dwel therin: downe with them, and ſmite them vppon the backes, ſayth the Lord, do accordyng to al that I haue commaunded thee. D

22 There is gone about the lande a crye of a ſlaughter and great murder (namely on this manner.)

23 Howe happeneth it that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruyſed in ſunder? How chaunceth it that Babylon is become a wylderneſſe among the Heathen (on this manner.)

24 I my ſelfe haue layde a ſnare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and ſnared: for why? thou haſt contended againſt the Lord.

25 The Lorde hath opened his houſe of ordinaunce, & brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing ỹ is done in the lande of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hoſtes worke.

26 Come againſt hir, for this is hir end, breake vp hir chelles, threſhe hir as ye threſhe corne, deſtroy hir, that nothing ſhal be left.

27 Slay all theyr mightie ſouldiers, and put them to death: Wo be vnto them, for the day and time of their viſitation is at hand.

28 (Me thinke) I heare (alredy) a crye of thẽ that be fled and eſcaped out of the lande of Babylon, which ſhew in Sion ỹ vengeance of the Lorde our God, the vengeance of his temple, (yea a voyce of thẽ that crye againſt Babylon.) E

29 Cal vp all the archers againſt Babylon, pitch your tentes rounde about hir, ỹ none eſcape, recõpence hir as ſhe hath deſerued, and accordyng as ſhe hath done, ſo deale with hir againe: for ſhe hath ſet vp hir ſelfe againſt the Lord, againſt the holy one of Iſrael. Iere.50. Ipe.18. 2.Theſ.

30 Therefore ſhall hir yong men fal downe in the ſtreetes, and al hir men of warre ſhall be rooted out in that day, ſaith the Lord.

31 Behold I ſpeake vnto thee, O thou proud, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, for thy day ſhal come, euen the time of thy viſitation.

32 And the proude ſhall ſtumble and fal, and no man ſhall helpe him vp, I wil burne vp his cities wt fire, & it ſhall conſume al that is round rounde about hym.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel and Juda suffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuitie keepe them fast and will not let them goe.

34 But their reuenger and redeemer is mighty, whose name is the Lorde of hostes, he shall maynteyne their cause, he shall make the lande shake, and iudge them that dwell therein, (one with another.)

35 The swoord shal come vpon the Chaldees, sayth the Lorde, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, and vpon theyr wise men.

36 The swoorde vpon their swthsayers, as for thole they shall become fooles: the swoord vpon theyr worthyes, so that they shall stande in feare.

37 The swoorde vpon their horsemen and charrets, and vpon all the common people that dwel among them, so that they shall all become lyke women: The swoorde vpon their treasure, so that it shal be stollen away.

38 I brought vpon their waters, so that they shall be dryed vp: for the lande worshippeth images, & delighteth wonderfully in idoles.

39 Therefore shall wilde beastes, Lamia, and Cat of mountaynes, and Estreches dwel therein: for there shall neuer man dwell there, neyther shal any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

40 Lyke as God destroyed Sodome and Gomorre, with ỹ cities that lay there about, sayth the Lorde, So shal no man dwel there also, neyther shall any man haue there hys habitation.

41 Beholde, there shall come a people from the North with a great bond of men, and many kings shal stande vp from the ends of the earth.

42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruel are they and vnmerciful: their voyce roreth lyke the raging sea, they ryde vpon horses, & come weaponed to fight agaynst thee, O Babylon.

43 Assone as the kyng of Babylon heare tel of them, his handes shall wax feeble, sorow and heauinesse shall come vpon him as a woman trauayling with childe.

44 Beholde, lyke as the Lion commeth vp from the swelling of Iordane vnto the dennes of Ethan, so will I driue them swth, and make them runne against hir: But whom shall I chose out and ordeyne to suche a thing? for who is like me? or who wil striue with me: or what shepheard may stande against me?

45 Therefore heare the counsayle that the Lord hath giuen vpon Babylon, & the deuice that he hath taken vpon the land of the Chaldees, The least among the people shal draw them out, and loke what pleasant houses, they haue, they shal lay them wast.

46 The noyse at the wynnyng of Babylon shall moue the earth, and the crye shall bee heard among the Gentiles.

The. li. Chapter.

1. How Babylon shoulde be ouerthrowen. 59. Ieremie giueth his booke to Saraias.

1 THus hath the Lord sayde, Beholde, I wil raise vp a perylous winde against Babylon, and hir citizens that beare euyll wil against me. A Iere. 25. b. and. 50. a.

2 I will send also into Babylon fanners to fanne hir out, and to destroy hir lande: for in the day of hir trouble they shall be about hir on euery side.

3 Moreouer (the Lorde wyll say) vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduaunce themselues in their armour: Ye shall not spare hir young men, kyl downe all hir host.

4 Thus the slayne shal fal downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the streetes.

5 As for Israel and Juda they shall not bee forsaken of their God, of the Lord of hostes, yea (a) for the holy one of Israels sake haue the Chaldees filled their lande ful of sinne. Iere. 50. b.

6 Flee away from Babylon, euery man saue his life, that ye be not roted out ỹ hir wickednesse: for the time of the Lords vengeance is come, yea he shall reward hir againe.

7 Babylon hath bin in the Lordes hande a golden cup, that maketh all landes drunken: of hir wine haue all people dronken, therfore are they out of their wittes.

8 But sodainely is Babylon fallen and destroyed: mourne for hir, bring plaisters for hir woundes, if shee may peraduenture bee healed agayne.

9 We woulde haue made Babylon whole, say they, but shee is not recouered, therefore wil we let hir alone, and goe euery man vnto his owne countrey: for hir iudgement is come into heauen, & is gone vp to the clouds.

10 The Lorde hath brought forth out (b) righteousnesse: & therefore come on, we wil shew in Sion ỹ worke of ỹ Lord our God.

11 Make sharpe your arrowes, and multiply your shieldes: for the Lord shall rayse vp the spirite of the king of the Medes, whiche hath alredy a desire to destroy Babylon: this shal be the vengeance of the Lorde, and the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babylon,

a. For the holy one of Israels sake, that is, for the greeuous afflictiõs and great iniurie done to gods people which he reputeth as done vnto himself. Esai. 48. b. Iere. 25. c. Esai. 21. b. Apo. 18. a.

b. How so euer the Iewes had deserued to be plagued at gods hand, yet had the Chaldees no cause on their partes why to deale so cruelly with them: and so God declareth their righteousnesse in respect to the Chaldees, by punishing them, and deliuering hys people.

bylon, make your watche ſtrong, ſet your watchmen in aray, yea holde prime watches, and yet for all that ſhall the Lord goe forth with his deuice whiche he hath taken vpon them that dwel in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwelleſt by the great waters, O thou that haſt ſo great treaſure and riches, thyne ende is come, and the reckening of thy winnings.

14 The Lord of hoſtes hath ſworne by hym ſelf, ỹ he will ouerwhelme thee wt̄ men lyke grashoppers in number, which wt̄ a courage ſhall crye alarum, alarum, agaynſt thee:

15 Yea euen the Lord of hoſtes that with his power made the earth, with his wyſedome prepared the rounde worlde, and with diſcretion ſpread out the heauens:

16 Aſſone as he letteth his voice be heard, the waters in the ayre ware fierce: he drawe th vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, he turneth the lightnynges to raine, he bringeth the windes out of their ſecret places.

17 (If they be eſteemed by their wiſedome, al men are become fooles: confounded be al the caſters of images, for the thing that they make, is but deceit, and hath no breath.

18 Vayne is it, and an erronious worke, and in the time of viſitation it ſhall periſhe.

19 The portion of Jacob is none ſuche: but he ỹ made al things, whoſe name is the Lord of hoſtes, he is the rod of his inheritaunce.

20 (c) Thou haſt bin myne hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in peeces, and with thee haue I deſtroyed kingdomes.

21 Through thee I haue beaten to powder horſe and horſemē, yea the charrets, and ſuch as ſate vpon them.

22 Through thee haue I broken man & woman, olde and young, bacheler and mayden.

23 Through thee I haue deſtroyed the ſhepherde and his flocke, the huſbandman and his cattel, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore wil I reward the citie of Babylon, and all the inhabitauntes of Chaldea, with all the euil which they haue done vnto Sion yea that ye your ſelues ſhal ſee it, ſaith the Lorde.

25 Beholde, I come vpon thee thou noyſome (d) hill, ſaith the Lorde, thou that deſtroyeſt all landes, I will ſtretche out my hand ouer thee, and caſt thee downe from the ſtonye rockes, and will make thee a burnt hil, 26 So that neyther corner ſtones ſhall be taken any more out of thee: but waſt & deſolat ſhalt thou lye for euermore, ſayth the Lorde.

27 Set vp a token in the lande, blowe the trumpettes among the Heathen, prouoke the nations againſt hir, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Menni, and Aſcanez, againſt hir, ſet the prince agaynſt hir, bring as great a ſorte of terrible horſes agaynſt hir, as if they were graſſhoppers.

28 Prepare againſte them the people of the Medes, with their kings, princes, and al their chiefe rulers: yea & the whole land that is vnder him.

29 The lande alſo ſhall ſhake, and be afrayde when the deuice of the Lorde ſhall come forth againſt Babylon, to make the lande of Babylon ſo waſte, that no man ſhall dwell any more therein.

30 The worthies of Babylon ſhall leaue the battayle, and keepe them ſelues in ſtrong holds, their ſtrength hath fayled them, they ſhal be like womē, their dwelling places ſhal be burnt vp, their barres ſhal be broken.

31 One purſeuant ſhal mete another, yea one poſt ſhal come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tidynges that his citie is taken on euery ſide, 32 The fordes occupyed, the fennes burnt vp, and the ſouldiers ſore afrayde.

33 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, (e) The daughter of Babylon hath bin in hir time lyke as a threſhing floure, but ſhortly ſhall hir harueſt come.

34 Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon hath deuoured and deſtroyed me, he hath made me an emptie veſſell, he ſwalowed me vp like a Dragon, and filled his belly wyth my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

35 My ſubſtaunce wherof he hath ſpoiled me, and the thing that was left mee, whiche he hath caryed away, crye out againſt Babylon ſaith the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea and my bloud alſo againſt the Chaldees, ſayth Jeruſalem.

36 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, Beholde, I wil defende thy cauſe, and auenge thee, I wil drinke vp hir ſea, and dry vp hir water ſprings.

37 Babylon ſhall become an heape of ſtones, a dwelling place for Dragons, a feareſulnes and wondering, & no man ſhal dwel there.

38 They ſhal roare together like Lions, and as the yong Lions when they be angry, ſo ſhall they bende them ſelues.

39 In their heate I will giue them a dinner, and they ſhal be drunken for ioy: then ſhall they ſleepe an euerlaſtyng ſleepe, and neuer wake, ſayth the Lord.

40 I ſhall cary them downe to be ſlaine lyke ſherpe, like weathers and goates:

41 O howe was Seſach wonne? O howe was the glory of the whole lande taken? howe happeneth it that Babylon is ſo wondred at among the heathen?

c. The complaint of people. Eſai.21.d. Iere.51.d.

42 The sea is risen ouer Babylon, and hath couered hir with hir great waues.

43 Hir cities are layde wast, the lande lyeth vnbuilded and voyde, it is a lande where no man dwelleth, and where no mā trauayleth through.

44 Moreouer, I will visite Bel at Babylō, and the thing that he swalowed vp, ẏ same shall I plucke out of his mouth: the Gentiles also shall runne no moze vnto him, yea and the walles of Babylon shal fal.

45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that euery man may saue his lyfe from the feareful wrath of the Lozd.

46 Be not fainte harted, and feare not at euery rumour that shal be heard in the land: foz euery yeere bringeth newe tydings, and in the yeere folowyng newe tydyngs, & robbing in the lande, and Lozd vpon Lozd.

47 And loe the tyme commeth that I will visite the images of Babylon, and the whole land shal be confounded, yea and hir slayne shall lye in the middest of hir.

48 Heauen and earth, with all that is therein, shall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the destroyers shall come vppon hir from the north, sayth the Lozd.

49 Lyke as Babylon hath beaten downe, & slaine many out of Israel, so shall there fall many & be slaine in all hir kingdome.

50 Ye that haue escaped the swozd, hast you, stande not styll, remember the Lozde a farre off, and thinke vpon Ierusalem.

51 Foz we are ashamed to heare the blasphemies, our faces wer couered with shame, bycause the strange aliantes came into the sanctuarie of the Lozd.

52 Wherefoze beholde, sayth the Lozd, The tyme commeth that I wil visite the images of Babylon, and through the whole lande they shall mourne and fall.

53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, & kepte hir powēr on hygh, yet shall I send hir destroyers, saith the Lozd.

54 A piteous crye (shal be heard) from Babylon, and a great miserie from the lande of the Chaldees:

55 When the Lozd destroyeth Babylon, and when he driueth out the high stomacke and proud boasting, wherewith they haue bin as furious as the waues of the great water flouds, & made great crakes wt their wozdes.

56 Foz the destroyers shall come vpon hir, euen vpon Babylon, whiche shall take theyz wozthies, & breake their bowes: foz the God of recompence, euen the Lozde shall sufficiently recompence them.

57 Yea (saith the Lord) I will make their princes, their wise men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their wozthies drunken, so that they shall sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, and neuer wake: thus saith the kyng, whose name is the Lozd of hostes.

58 Moreouer, thus saith the Lozde of hostes, The thicke wall of Babylon shal be broken, and hir high gates shall bee burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles and the people hath wrought wt great trauaile and labour, shal come to nought, & be consumed in ẏ fire.

59 This is the charge that Ieremie the prophete gaue vnto Saraiah the son of Meria, the son of Maasiah, when he went towarde Babilon with Zedekiah the king of Juda, in the fourth yeere of his raigne: now this Saraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 Ieremie wrote in a booke all the miserye ẏ should come vpon Babylon, yea & al these sermons that be written against Babylon.

61 And gaue Saraiah this charge: When thou commest vnto Babylon, see that thou reade these wozdes, 62 And say, O Lozd, thou art determined to rote out this place, so that neither people noz cattel shall dwel there any moze, but to lye wast foz euer.

63 And when thou hast read out the booke, bynde a stone to it, and cast it in the middest of Euphrates, 64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sincke, and be thruste downe with the burden of trouble that I wil bring vpon hir: so that she shal neuer come vp againe. Thus far are the preachings of Ieremie.

The lij. Chapter.

1. He repeteth the taking of Zedekiah. 4. Ierusalem is take of the Chaldees. 10. Zedekias sons are kylled before his face, and his eyes put out. 13. The citie is burned. 14. The temple is spoyled and robbed. 25. They that were leste in Ierusalem are caryed to Babylon. 31. Kyng Iehoakim is brought foorth of prison, and fed like a king.

1 ZEdekiah was one and twentie yeeres olde when he was made king, and raigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem: his mothers name was Hamutal, Ieremies daughter of Libna. 4.Re.24.d. 2.Par.36.b.

2 He liued wickedly before the Lozd, euen as Iehoakim dyd:

3 Foz the Lozd was angry at Ierusalem and Juda, so long til he had cast them out of hys presence: and Zedekiah fel from the king of Babylon.

4 But in the ninth yeere of his raigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the kyng Iere.39.a. 4.Re.25.a.

of Babylon, with al his hoſt came before Ieruſalem, and beſieged it and made bulwarkes rounde about it.

5 And this beſieging of the citie, endured vnto the eleuenth yere of king Zedekiah.

4. Reg. 25. a Iere. 27. b. and. 39. a. 6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no more victuals for the people of the lande.

B 7 So all the ſouldiers brake away, and fled out of the citie by night, through the way of the porte betweene the two walles by the kings garden: (nowe the Chaldees had cõpaſſed the citie rounde about) yet went theſe men their way through the wildernesſe.

8 And ſo the Chaldees folowed vpon them, & toke Zedekiah the king in the fielde of Iericho, when his hoſt was run from him.

9 So they caryed the king away priſoner to Reblath, vnto the king of Babylon, in the lande of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement Iere. 39. b. vpon him.

10 The king of Babylon alſo cauſed Zedekiahs ſonnes to be ſlayne before his face, yea and put all the princes of Juda to death at Reblath.

11 Moreouer, he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and cauſed him to be bound with two chaynes, to be caryed vnto Babylon, and let him lye in priſon til he dyed.

12 Now the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yere of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons ſeruauntes came vnto Ieruſalem, 13 And burnt vp the houſe of the Lorde: hee burnt vp alſo the kings palace, all the houſes, and al the gorgeous buildings in Ieruſalem.

C 14 And the whole hoſt of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captayne, brake downe all the walles of Ieruſalem round about.

15 As for the poore people, and ſuch folke as was yet left in the citie, which alſo were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea & what people as yet remayned, Nabuzaradan ỳ chiefe captaine caryed them away priſoners.

16 But the poore people of the countrey dyd Nabuzaradan the chiefe captayne leaue in ỳ lande, to occupie the vineyardes and fields.

17 The Chaldees alſo brake the braſen pyllers that were in the houſe of the Lorde, yea the ſeate and the braſen lauer that was in the houſe of the Lorde, and caryed al the mettal of them vnto Babylon.

18 They toke away alſo the chaldernes, ſhouels, fleſh hookes, ſprincklers, ſpoones, and all the braſen veſſels that was occupyed in the ſeruice.

19 With the baſons, colepannes, ſprinklers, pottes, candelſtyckes, ſpoones, and cuppes, whereof ſome were of gold, & ſome of ſiluer:

20 The chiefe captayne toke alſo the two pyllers, the lauer, the twelue braſen bullockes that ſtoode vnder the ſeate which king Solomon made in the houſe of the Lorde: and all the veſſels contained ſo much mettal, that it might not be weighed. 3. Reg.

21 For euery pyller was eighteene cubits D high, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubites, and foure fyngers thicke, and rounde.

22 Nowe vppon the rope were braſen knops, and euery knoppe was fiue cubites high, and vpon the knoppes were hoopes, and pomegranates rounde about of cleane braſſe,

23 After this manner were both the pillers faſhioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundred ninetie and fiue, which hanged vpon the hoopes rounde about.

24 The chiefe captaine alſo toke Saraiah ỳ high prieſt, and Sophoniah that was chiefe next him, & the three keepers of the doore:

25 He toke out of the citie a chamberlayne whiche was captaine of the ſouldiers, and ſeuen men that were the kings ſeruauntes, which were founde in the citie: and Sopher a captayne that dyd muſter the men of warre, with threeſcore men of the countrey that were taken in the citie.

26 Theſe Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine toke, and caried them to the king of Babylon vnto Reblath:

27 And the king of Babylon cauſed them to bee put to death at Reblath, in the lande of Hemath: and thus Juda was led away captiue out of his owne lande.

28 This is the ſumme of the people whom E Nabuchodonoſor ledde away captiue: in the ſeuenth yeere of his raigne he caryed away of the Iewes three thouſand twentie & three,

29 In the eighteenth yeere Nabuchodonoſor caryed away from Ieruſalem eight hundred thirtie and two perſons:

30 In the three and twentie yeere of Nabuchodonoſor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captain toke away ſeuen hundred fourtie & fiue Iewes priſoners. The whole ſum of the priſoners, is foure thouſand, and fiue hundred.

31 In the ſeuen and thirtieth yeere after that Iehoakim the king of Juda was caryed away, in the fiue & twentith day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach kyng of Babylon (the ſame yere that he raigned) gaue Iehoakim the king of Juda his pardon, and let him out of priſon,

32 And ſpake louingly to him, and ſet his throne aboue the thrones of the other kyngs that that were with hym in Babylon.

33 He chaunged also the clothes of his prison, yea and did eate with hym all his life long.
34 And he had a continual liuing giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certaine thing allowed him, all the dayes of his lyfe, vntill he dyed.

The Lamentations of the prophete Ieremie.

¶ The first Chapter.

It happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophete sate weeping, and sorowfully bewayled Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull hart, sayde,

1 ALas) howe sytteth the Citie so desolate, that sometyme was full of people? Howe is she become lyke a widowe whiche was greate among nations? How is she brought vnder tribute that ruled landes?
2 She weepeth sore in the night, so that the teares runne downe hir cheekes: for among all hir louers, there is none that giueth hir any comfort, yea hir next friends transgresse against hir, and are become hir enimies.
3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: she dwelleth among the heathen, she fyndeth no rest, all they that persecuted hir, toke hir in straighte places (where she could not escape.)
4 The streetes of Sion mourne, bycause no mã commeth no more to the solemne feasts: all hir gates are desolate, hir priestes make lamentation, hir maidens are carefull, and she hir selfe is in great heauinesse.
5 Hir enimies haue bin rulers ouer hir, and hir enimies haue prospered, bycause the Lord hath chastened hir for hir great wickednesse: hir chyldren are ledde away captiue before their enimies.
6 All the beautie of the daughter of Sion is away, hir princes are become lyke Hartes that fynde no pasture, they are driuen away before their enimie, so that they haue no more power.
7 Nowe Hierusalem remembred in the time of hir miserie and bare estate, all hir ioy and pleasure that she hath had in times past, seeing hir people is brought downe vnder the power of their enimies, and there is no man for to help hir: hir enimies stande lokyng at hir, and laugh hir sabboth dayes to scorne.
8 Hierusalem hath sinned greeuously, therefore is she come in decay: all they that had hir in honour, despise hir, for they haue seene hir fylthynesse, yea she sigheth and "is ashamed of hir selfe.
9 Hir skirtes are defiled, she remembred not hir last ende, therefore is hir fall so wonderfull, and there is no man to comfort hir: O Lord, consyder my trouble, for mine enimie hath the vpper hande.
10 The enimie hath put his hande to all the precious things that she had, yea euen before hir eyes came the heathen in and out of the Sanctuarie, whome thou (neuertheles) hast forbidden to come within thy congregation.
11 All hir people seeke their bread with heauinesse, and loke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth he for meate to saue his life: Consyder, O Lord, and see how vile I am become.
12 Haue ye no regarde all ye that goe forby, beholde and see if there be any sorowe lyke vnto mine, wherewith the Lorde hath troubled me in the day of his fearefull wrath.
13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fyre into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: he hathe layde a net for my feete, and throwen me wyde open, he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.
14 The (a) yoke of my transgressions is bounde fast to his hande, they are wrapped (or writhen) and come vp about my necke: hee hathe caused my strength to fayle, the Lorde hathe delinered me into those handes whereout I can not quit my selfe.
15 The Lorde hath destroyed all the myghtie men that were in me, he hath proclaymed an appoynted tyme to slaughter all my best menne: the Lord hath troden downe the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine-presse.

"or, and is turned backwarde.

Dani.9.a. 18 The Lorde is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenaunce vnto anger, O take

Treno.2.c. 20 Conſider (O Lord) how I am troubled,

The.ij.Chapter.

A 1 (Las) how hathe the Lorde darkened the Treu.3.b. daughter of Sion in his wrath? Is for the honour of Iſraell, he hathe caſt it downe from heauen vnto the earthe, and he remembred not his owne (a) footeſtoole when he was angry?
2 The Lorde hath caſt out all the habitations of Jacob without any fauour, all the ſtrong places of the daughter of Juda hathe he broken in his wrathe, and throwen them downe to the ground, hir kingdome and hir princes hath he prophaned.
3 In the wrath of his indignation he hathe broken all the (b) horne of Iſraell, he hathe withdrawe his right hand from the enimie, yea a flambe of fyre is kyndled in Jacob, and hath conſumed vp all round about.
4 He hathe bent his bowe like an enimie, he hath faſtened his right hande as an aduerſarie, and euery thing that was pleaſaunte to ſee, he hathe ſlayne: he hath powred out hys wrath lyke a fyre, into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.
5 The Lord is become like as it were an enimie, he hathe deuoured Iſrael, and all hys palaces, yea all his ſtrong holdes hath he deſtroyed, and fylled the daughter of Juda with much ſorowe and heauineſſe.
6 His tabernacle as a garden hathe he deſtroyed, his ſolemne meetings hath he put downe: Jer.
the Lord hath brought it to paſſe, that the hygh ſolemne feaſtes and ſabbothes in Sion are cleane forgotten: in hys heauie diſpleaſure hathe he deſpiſed the king and prieſtes.
7 The Lorde hath forſaken his owne aulter, B and hath abhorred his owne ſanctuarie, and hathe giuen the walles of their towres into the hands of the enimie: their enimies made a noyſe in the houſe of the Lorde, as it had bin in a ſolemne feaſt day.
8 The Lorde thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, he ſtreatched out his line, and drew not in his hande tyll he had deſtroyed them: therefore mourne the turrettes, and the broken walles fall downe together.
9 Hir gates are ſunke downe to the grounde, Jer.
hir barres are broken and ſmitten in ſunder, the king and princes are caried away to the Gentiles: they haue neyther lawe nor prophetes, nor yet any viſion from the Lorde.
10 The ſenatours of the daughter Sion ſit vpon the grounde in ſilence, they haue ſtrawed aſhes vppon theyr heads, and gyrded them ſelues with ſackcloth: the maydens of Hieruſalem hang downe their heads to the grounde.
11 Myne eyes begin to fayle me through Treu weeping, my body is diſquieted, my liuer is powred vppon the earthe, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, ſeeing the children and babes dyd ſowne in the ſtreetes of the citie.
12 Euen when they ſpake to their mothers,
Where is meate and drinke? for whyle they ſo ſayde, they fell downe in the ſtreetes of the citie, like as they had bin wounded: and ſome dyed in their mothers boſome.
13 What ſhal I ſay vnto thee, O thou daughter Hieruſalem? to whome ſhall I lyken thee? to whome ſhall I compare thee, O Jer.5.

15 All they that goe by thee, clap their hands at thee, hissing and wagging their heads vpon the daughter Hierusalem, (and say) Is this the citie that men call so fayre, wherein the whole land reioyceth?

16 All thine enimies gape vpon thee, whispering and grinding their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that we loked for is come, we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lorde hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to doe, and performed that he had deuised long ago: he hathe destroyed and not spared, he hath caused thyne aduersarie to triumph ouer thee, & set vp the horne of thyne enimie.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O thou citie of the daughter Sion: let thy teares runne downe lyke a ryuer daye and nyght; rest not, and let not the apple of thyne eye leaue off.

19 Stande vp, and make thy prayer in the first watche of the nyght, poure oute thyne heart lyke water before the Lorde: lifte vp thyne handes for the lyues of thy young children that die of hunger in the streetes.

D 20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women then eate their owne fruite, euen children of a span long? shall the Priests and prophets be slayne in the sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 Young and olde lye through the streetes vpon the grounde, my maydens and young men are slayne with the sworde, whom thou in the day of thy wrathfull indignation hast put to death, yea euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 My neighbours that are round about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped, neyther was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enimie destroyed.

The iij. Chapter.

1 I Am the man that through the rod of his wrath haue experience of miserie.

2 He droue me forthe and ledde me, yea into darknesse, but not into light.

3 Against me is he turned, he turneth his hand dayly against me.

4 My flesche and my skinne hathe he made olde and my bones hath he bruised.

5 He hathe builded rounde about me, and closed me in with gal and trauayle.

6 He hath set me in darknesse, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hathe so hedged me in, that I can not B get out, and hathe layde heauie linkes vpon me.

8 Though I crie and call pitifully, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 He hathe stopped vp my wayes with foure squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 He layeth wayte for me like a beare, and as a Lion in a hole.

11 He hath marred my wayes, and broke me in peeces, he hathe layd me wast altogether.

12 He hathe bent his bowe, and made me as it were a marke to shoote at.

13 The arrowes of his quiuer hath he shot, euen vnto my reynes.

14 I am laughed to scorne of all my people, Iere. 20. b. they make songes vpon me all the day long. C

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, and giuen me wormewood to drinke.

16 He hath smitten my teeth in peeces with stones, and rolled me in the dust.

17 He hath put my soule out of rest, I forget all good things.

18 I thought in my selfe, I am vndone, there is no hope for me in the Lorde.

19 O remember yet my miseries, my trouble, the wormewood, and the gall.

20 Yea thou shalte remember them, for my soule melteth away in me.

21 Whyle I consyder these things in my hart, I get a hope agayne. D

22 (Namely) it is of the Lordes mercies that we are not vtterly consumed, for truely his pitifull compassion hath not ceassed.

23 New mercies shall the Lorde shewe vpon thee early in the day springing (O Lorde) great is thy faythfulnesse.

24 The Lord is my portion, sayth my soule, Psal. 16. a. therefore will I hope in him.

25 O how good is the Lorde vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him.

26 The good man with stilnesse and patience, tarieth for the health of the Lorde.

27 O howe good is it for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth vp?

28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth him still, because he hath taken (the Lordes yoke) vppon him.

29 He layeth his face vpon the earth, if there happen to be any hope.

30 He offereth his cheeke to the smiter, he will E be content with reproches:

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he punishe, yet according to 1. Reg. 3. b. the multitude of his mercies he repenteth to grace agayne.

33 For he doth not plague willingly, and afflict the children of men,

34 To

34 To treade al the prisoners of the earth vnder his feete.
35 To moue the iudgemente of man before the most highest.
36 To condemne a man in his cause: the Lord hath not pleasure in suche things.
37 What is he then that sayth, There should some thyng bee done without the Lordes commaundement?
38 Out of the mouth of ỹ most highest goeth not euill and good?
39 Wherefore then murmureth the lyuing man? let him murmure at his owne sinne.
Iob.31.d. Psal.14.a. 40 Let vs loke well vppon our wayes, and remember our selues, and turne againe to the Lorde.
F 41 Let vs lift our hearts with our hands vnto the Lorde that is in heauen.
42 We haue bin dissemblers, and haue offended, wilt thou therfore not be intreated?
43 Thou hast couered vs in thy wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slayne vs without any fauour.
Eccle.35.d. 44 Thou hast hidde thy selfe in a cloude, that our prayer should not goe through.
45 Thou hast made vs outcastes, and to bee despised among the people.
46 All our enimies gape vpon vs.
47 Feare and pit is come vpon vs, yea deceite and destruction.
Treno.1.d. 48 Whole riuers of water gush out of mine eyes for the hurt of my people.
49 Myne eyes runne, and cannot ceasse, for there is no rest:
50 O Lorde, when wilte thou loke downe from heauen, and consyder?
51 Myne eyes breaketh mine hart, bycause of all the daughters of my citie.
G 52 Mine enimies hunted me out sharply like a birde, yea and that without a cause.
53 They haue put downe my life into a pit, and they haue cast stones vpon me.
54 They haue powred water vpon my head: then thought I, now am I vndone.
55 I called vpon thy name, O Lorde, out of the deepe pit.
56 Thou hast heard my voyce, and hast not turned away thine eyes from my sygbing and crying.
57 Thou hast enclined thy selfe vnto mee when I called vppon thee, and hast sayde, Feare not.
58 Thou (O Lorde) hast mayntayned the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my lyfe.
59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, take thou my cause vpon thee.
60 Thou hast well considered how they goe about to doe me harme, and that all theyr counsels are against me.
61 Thou hast heard their despitefull wordes, O Lorde, yea and all the imaginations against me:
62 The lyppes of myne enimies, and theyr deuises that they take against me all the day long.
63 Thou seest also their sitting downe, and theyr rising vp, they make their songes of nothing but of me.
64 Reward them, O Lord, according to the workes of their handes.
65 Giue them an obstinate heart, with thy curse.
66 Persecute them, O Lorde, with thine indignation, and roote them out from vnder the heauen.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1 HOw is the golde become so dimme? how is the most fyne golde so sore chaunged? and the stones of the sanctuary thus scattered in the corner of euery streete?
2 The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and clothed with the most precious golde: howe are they nowe become like the earthen vessels, which be made with the potters handes?
3 The dragons giue their yong ones sucke with bare breastes: but the daughter of my people is cruell, like the Estriches in the wildernesse.
4 The tongues of the sucking childe cleaue to the rofe of their mouthes for very thyrst: the yong children aske bread, but there is no man that giueth it them.
5 They that were wont to fare delicately, perishe in the streetes: they that afore were brought vp in purple, make now moche of doung.
6 The sinne of the daughter of my people is become greater than the (a) wickednesse of Sodome, that suddainly was destroyed, and not taken with handes.
7 Her "ablegners were whyter than the snowe or mylke, their colour was fresh, red as Coral, their beautie like the Saphire.
8 But nowe their faces be very blacke, in so much that thou shouldest not know them in the streetes: their skinne cleaueth to theyr bones, it is withered and become like a dry stocke.
9 They that be slayne with the swoorde, are happier than such as dye of hunger, and perish away, famishing for the fruites of the fielde.
10 The women (which of nature are pitifull) haue sodden their owne children with theyr hands, handes, that they might bee their meate in the miserable destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lorde hathe perfourmed his heauie wrath, he hathe powred out the furiousnesse of his displeasure: he hathe kindled a fyre in Syon, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12 Neyther the kynges of the earth, nor all the inhabitours of the worlde, would haue beleued, that the enimie and aduersarie should haue come in at the gates of ỹ citie of Hierusalem:

13 Which neuertheless is come to passe, for the sinne of hir prophetes, and for the wickednesse of hir priestes, that haue shed innocentes bloud within hir.

14 Is blind men went they, stumbling in the streetes, and stained them selues with bloud, insomuch that the heathen would in no wise touch their garments.

15 But they cried vnto them, Flee ye polluted, away, get you hence, touch not: for they are vncleane, and be remoued, yea they haue layde among the heathen, They shall no more dwell in this citie.

16 The countenance of the Lord hath banished them, and shall neuer looke more vppon them: for they them selues neyther regarded the priestes, nor pitied their elders.

17 Wherefore yet our eyes fayled vs, whyles we looked for our vayne helpe, seeing we tarried vpon a people that could do vs no good.

18 They lay so sharpe wayte for vs, that we can not goe safe vppon the streetes, for oure ende is come, our dayes are fulfilled, our ende is here.

19 Our persecuters are swifter than the Eagles of the ayre: they followed vpon vs ouer the mountaynes, and layde wayte for vs in the wildernesse.

20 The very breath(a) of our mouth, euen the annoynted of the Lord him selfe was taken in their net, of whome we saye, Vnder hys shadowe we shall be preserued among the heathen.

21 Ioy thou, O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the lande of Huz, be glad and reioyce, for the cup shall come vnto thee also, thou shalte be dronken, and discouer thy nakednesse.

22 Thy sinnes are well punished, O thou daughter Sion, he shall not suffer thee to be caried away: but thy wickednesse, O daughter Edom shall he visite, and wyll discouer thy sinnes.

The.v. Chapter.

The Prayer of Ieremie.

1 CAll to remembraunce, (O Lorde) that we haue suffered, consider and see our confusion. A

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, and our houses to the aliantes.

3 We are become carefull and fatherlesse, and our mothers are as the widdowes.

4 We are fayne to drinke oure owne water for money, and our owne wood muste we buye for money.

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution, we are weerie, and haue no rest.

6 (Aforetime) we yeelded our selues to the Egyptians, (and now) to the Assyrians, only that we might haue bread ynough.

7 Our fathers (whiche now are gone) haue synned, and we muste beare theyr wickednesse. B Iere. 31. c. Eze. 18. a.

8 Seruauntes haue the rule of vs, and no man deliuereth vs out of their handes.

9 We muste get our liuing with the peril of our liues, because of the drouth of the wildernesse.

10 Our skinne is as it had bin made blacke in an ouen, for very sore hunger.

11 The wiues are ranished in Sion, and the maydens in the cities of Iuda.

12 The princes are hanged vp with the hande of the enimies, they haue not spared the olde sage men.

13 They haue taken yong men to grinde, and the boyes fayntes vnder the burdēs of wood.

14 The elders syt no more vnder the gates, and the yong men vse no more playing of musicke. C

15 The ioy of our hart is gone, our melodious meeting is turned into mourning.

16 The garlande of our head is fallen: alas that euer we sinned so sore.

17 Therefore our hart is full of heauinesse, and our eyes dimme. Iere. 31. c.

18 Because of the hyll of Sion that is destroyed: insomuche that the foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lorde, that remaynest for euer and thy seate world without ende:

20 Wherefore wilt thou still forget vs, and forsake vs so long?

21 O Lord, turne thou vs vnto thee, and so shall we bee turned, renue our dayes as in olde times:

22 But thou hast banished vs vtterly, and hast bin displeased at vs.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The time wherein Ezechiel prophesied, and in what place. 3. His kinrede. 5. The vision of the foure beastes. 16. The fashion and worke of the wheeles. 26. The vision of the Throne.

1 IT came to passe in the (a) thirtieth yeere in ỳ fourth (moneth) in the fifth daye of the moneth, that (I beeyng in the middes of the captiuitie, by the riuer Chebar) ỳ heauens were opened, and I sawe visions of God:

a. After the Iubilee, in which yere, the boke of the lawe was founde, which was the xviii. yeere of Iosias, so that xv. yeeres after this boke was found, Iechoniah was ledde awaye captiue with Ezechiell (and many of the people) who the fyfth yere after sawe these visions. Ezech. 3. d. and 37. a

2 In the fifth (day) of the moneth, which was the fyfth yeere of king Ioakins captiuitie,

3 The worde of the Lord came to Ezechiell the priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Chaldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the (b) hand of the Lord was vpon him.

b. That is, the spirite of prophecie.

4 And I loked, and behold a (c) stormie wind came out of the north, a great cloude, and a fyre folding it selfe (in the cloude) and a brightnesse round about it, and forth of the middes thereof as the colour of Amber out of the middes of the fyre.

c. By this diuersitie of wordes, he signifieth the fearefull iudgemẽts of God, & the greate afflictions that shuld come vpon Ierusalem.

5 And out of the middes thereof, the likenesse of foure (d) beastes (appeared) and this was their fourme, they had the likenesse of a man.

d. Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glorie of god, as Eze. 3. d

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one of them had foure wings.

7 Their feete were straight feete, and the sole of theyr feete lyke the sole of Calues feete, and they glistered as the appearance of brasse burnished.

8 From vnder their wings vpon all the foure corners they had mens handes: and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were ioyned one to another: when they wente they loked not backe, but each one went straight forwarde.

10 But (touching) the similitude of their faces, they foure had the (e) face of a man, and the face of a Lion on the ryghte syde, and they foure had the face of an Ox on the lefte syde, they foure also had the face of an Egle.

e. Euery Cherub had foure faces, the face of a man and of a Lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an Eagle on the left side.

11 Thus were their faces, and their winges were spread out aboue, so that two winges of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two winges couered euery one of their bodies.

12 Euery one wente straighte forwarde: (f) whyther as the spirite led them, thyther they went, and returned not in their going.

f. Whither their mind was gon.

13 And the fashion of the beastes, theyr appearance was lyke coales of fyre, burning lyke the appearance of cressettes, it ranne among the beastes, and the fyre gaue a glister, and out of the fyre there went lightning.

14 And the beastes ranne, and returned lyke lightning. ¶

15 And when I had considered the beastes, beholde a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beastes, to euery of the foure before his face.

16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles was lyke the colour of (g) Tharsis, and they foure had one fashion, and theyr fashion and their worke (was) as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

g. The precious stone of a gold colour to be Thus.

17 When they wente, they went vpon theyr foure sides: they returned not backe whe they went.

18 They had (h) ringes, and heigth, and were fearefull to beholde: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

h. The compasse of wheele some of straines.

19 When the beastes went, the wheeles went also by them: and when the beasts were lyft vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whyther so euer the spirite (was) to goe, they went, and thyther (was) the spirit to goe, and the wheeles were lift vp before them: for the spirite of the beasts were in the wheeles.

21 When the beastes wente, they went, and when they stoode, they stoode, and when they were lifted vp from the earthe, the wheeles were lifted vp before them, for the spirite of the beastes was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts was lyke the colour of Christall, wonderfull, spread ouer their heads aboue.

i. He meaneth two wynges of euery one the one wynge, which couered their bodies, and their neather wynges to couer their bodies.

23 And vnder the firmamente their wings were stretched forth one towardes another, euery one had two couering them, and (k) euery one had two couering them, (euen) their bodies.

24 And

24 And when they wente, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of greate waters, as it had bin the voyce of the almightie, the voyce of speache, as the noyse of an host: when they stod, they let downe theyr wings.

25 And there was a noyse from aboue ỹ firmament that was ouer their heads: when they stode, they let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne lyke a Saphire stone, and vppon the similitude of the throne by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber (and) as the similitude of fire round about within, from the appearance of his loynes vpwarde: and from the appearance of hys loynes downewarde, I sawe as the likenesse of fyre, and brightnesse round about it.

28 As the lykenesse of a bowe that is in a cloude in a raynie day, so was the appearāce of the brightnesse round about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of God, and when I sawe it, I (k) fell vpon my face, and hearkened vnto the voyce of one (l) that spake.

The .ij. Chapter.

The prophete is sent to call the people from their errour.

1 And then sayde he vnto me, Stande vp vpon thy feete (O thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee.

2 And the spirite entred into me, when he had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israell, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against me, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued themselues against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are children of a "hard face, and styffe hart, I doe sende thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God.

5 And whether they will heare or refuse (for they are a rebellious house) yet they maye knowe that there hath bin a prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man feare them not, neyther be afrayde of their wordes, for "byers and thornes are with thee, and thou dwelst among Scorpions: feare not theyr wordes, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speake my words vnto the, whether they will heare or refuse, for they are rebellious.

8 Therefore, thou sonne of man, obey thou all things that I say vnto thee, and be not thou rebellious like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and (a) eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked, behold a hande was sent vnto me, and loe, in it was a roule of a booke,

10 And he opened it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, (b) lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

a. That is, printe in thy memorie, or receyue in thine heart all my wordes, as Ezech. 3. b.

b. That is, Gods iudgements against the wicked.

The .iij. Chapter.

1. The prophete beyng fed with the word of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the spirite, is sente vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17. The office of true preachers.

1 AFter this sayde he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, eate whatsoeuer thou fyndest, eate this roule, and goe thy way, and speake vnto the house of Israell. A

2 So I opened my mouth, and he fedde me with this roule,

3 And he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thy belly shall eate, and thy bowelles shalte thou fyll with this roule that I giue thee. Then dyd I eate, and it was in my mouth sweeter than hony. Psal. 19. b. and. 119.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, goe, get thee vnto the house of Israell, and declare my wordes vnto them.

5 For not to a people of "profounde lippes, and hard language art thou sente, but vnto the house of Israell: "Straunge speache.

6 Not to many nations which haue profound lippes, and hard languages, whose wordes thou vnderstandest not: otherwise if I had sent thee vnto them, they woulde haue hearkened vnto thee.

7 But the house of Israell will not hearken vnto thee, for they will not hearken vnto me: for all the house of Israell haue stiffe foreheads, and stubborne hartes. B

8 Beholde, therefore I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an Adamant, harder than the flint stone haue I made thy forehead: thou shalte not feare them, nor be abashed at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He sayd moreouer vnto me, Thou sonne of man, all my wordes that I shall speake vnto thee, receiue in thine hart, and hearken with thine eares.

11 And goe, get thee to the captiuitie, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto vnto them, and thalte say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, whether they wil heare, or leaue.

12 With that the spirite toke me vp, and I heard behind me a voyce of a great rushing, (to wit,) Blessed bee the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 (I hearde) also the noyse of the winges of the beastes ioyning one with another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noyse of great rushing.

C 14 Nowe when the spirite lift me vp, and toke me away, I wente in bitternesse and furie of my spirite: but the hand of the Lord vpon me was strong.

15 Then I came to the captiues in Thelabib, that dwelte by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remayned there seuen dayes, astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen dayes were expired, the Lord sayd vnto me,

17 Thou sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israell: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me. Ezec. 33. b.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye, and thou giuest not hym warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and so to liue: then shall the same vngodly man dye in his owne vnrighteousnesse, but his bloud will I require of thine hande.

19 Neuertheless, if thou giue warning vnto the wicked, and he yet turne not from hys vngodlynesse, and from his wicked way: he shall die in his owne wickednesse, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Nowe if a righteous man goe from hys righteousnesse, and do the thing that is euil, I will lay a stumbling blocke before hym: and he shall die, bycause thou hast not gyuen him warning, dye shal he in his owne sinne, so that his righteousnes which he hath done, shall not be thought vpon: but his bloud wil I require at thine hande.

D 21 Neuertheless, if thou exhortest that ryghtous that he sinne not, and so the righteous do not sinne: then shall he liue, bycause he hath receyued thy warning, and thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And there came the hande of the Lord vpon me, and he sayde vnto me, Stande vp, and goe into the fielde, that I maye there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forthe into the fielde, beholde, the (a) glorie of the Lorde stode there, like the glorie whiche I sawe by the riuer Chebar, then fell I downe vpon my face.

a. Meaning the vision of the Cherubims, and the wheles

24 And the spirite came into me, whiche set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and sayde vnto me, Goe thy way, and shut thy selfe in thine house.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, they haue prepared bandes against thee, and they wyll binde thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

26 And I will make thy tong (b) cleaue to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalte bee dumbe, and not be as a reprouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalte saye vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueth off, let hym leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified. 9. The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israell. 16. A hunger is prophecied to come in the captiuitie.

1 Thou sonne of man, take thee a tile stone, and lay it before thee, and purtray vpon it the citie Hierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and builde a forte against it, and cast a mount against it, set the campe also against it, and lay engins of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron panne, and set it betwixt thee and the citie, in steede of an iron wall, then set thy face towarde it, to besiege it, and make an assault against it: this shall be a token vnto the house of Israel.

4 But thou shalte sleepe vpon thy left syde, and lay the sinne (a) of the house of Israel vpon it, (according) to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpō it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layde vppon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes (euen) three hundred and ninetie "dayes, so shalte thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israell.

6 When thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lye downe agayne, and sleepe vpon thy (b) right syde, and beare the sinnes of the house of Iuda: forty dayes haue I appointed thee, (c) a day for a yeere (euen) a day for a yeere.

7 Therefore, set nowe thy face towarde the siege of Hierusalem, & discouer thine arme, that thou mayest prophecie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay chaynes vpon thee, that thou shalte not turne thee from one syde to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

9 Wherefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes beanes, linkels, millok, and lytches, and put these together in a vessell, & make thee loaues of bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes that thou must lye vpon thy syde, that thou mayest haue bread to eate for three hundred and ninetie dayes.

10 And thy meate that thou eatest shall haue a certayne wayght appointed (namely) twen-tie sicles euery day: and from time to tyme shalt thou eate thereof.
11 Thou shalt drinke also a certayne measure of water (namely) the syxth (part) of an Hin, from time to time shalt thou drinke.
12 Barley cakes shalte thou eate, and them shalte thou bake in (d) mans doung before their eyes.
13 And with that, sayd the Lord, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defyled bread, among the Gentiles whyther I wyll cast them.
¶ 14 Then sayd I, Oh Lord God, Beholde, my soule was yet neuer stayned, for fro my youth vp vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkase, or of that which was slaine of wilde beastes, neyther came there euer any vncleane flesh in my mouth.
15 Whereunto he aunswered me, Loe, I will graunte thee (e) cowe calfes in steede of mans doung, and thou shalt make thy bread with them.
16 And he sayde vnto me, Behold thou sonne of man, I will breake the (f) staffe of bread in Hierusalem, and they shal eate their bread with wayght and with care, and their water in measure and astonishement shall they drinke,
17 That they may cause a lacke of bread and water, and be astonyed one at another, and be consumed in their iniquitie.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The signe of the heares, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 6. The causes of the anger of God toward the people.

1 ¶ Thou sonne of man, take thee then a sharpe knife (namely) a barbers rasour, take that to thee, and cause it to (a) passe vpon thy head and vpon thy beard: then take thee waight scales, and diuide (the heare.)
2 Thou shalt burne with fyre the third parte in the middest of the (b) citie when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other thirde part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will drawe out a sword after them.
3 Thou shalte also take thereof a fewe in number, and bind them in thy lappe.
4 Of them yet shalt thou take, and cast them into the middest of the fyre, and burne them in the fyre: thereof shall a fyre come forth into all the house of Israell.
5 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde GOD,
This same is Hierusalem, whiche I set in the middest of nations and countries rounde about hir.
6 But she hathe chaunged my iudgementes into wickednesse more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are rounde about hir: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and not walked in them.
7 Therefore, thus saith the Lorde God, For your (c) multiplying more than the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and bycause ye haue not walked in my lawes, neyther haue ye kept my ordinances, no ye haue not done according to the iudgementes of the nations that are round about you:
8 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde GOD,
Behold, I will also come againste thee, I my selfe I say, for in the middest of thee wil
I execute iudgemente in the syghte of the Heathen.
9 And I will handle thee of such a fashion as I neuer did before, and as I will neuer do from that time forth, and that bycause of all thine abhominations.
10 For in thee the fathers shall be fayne to eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes theyr owne fathers, I will execute iudgemente in thee, and the whole remnaunt of thee will I scatter into all the windes.
11 Wherefore, as truely as I liue sayeth the Lorde God, seeing thou haste defyled my sanctuarie with all manner of abhominations, and with all shamefull offences:
12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shall not spare thee, neyther will I haue any pitie.
13 One third part within thee shall dye of the pestilence, and be consumed of hunger, another third part shall be slayne downe round about thee with the sworde, the other thirde part that remayneth, will I scatter abroade towarde all the windes, and drawe out a sword after them.
14 Thus will I perfourme mine indignation, and make my wrathe to settle vpon them, and I will be (d) comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger againste them, they shall knowe that I am the Lord, whiche with a feruente ielousie haue spo-

a. He ſpeaketh to all the places where the Iſraelites accuſtomed to commit theyr idolatries, threatning the deſtructiō.

9 And they that eſcape of you, ſhal thinke vpon me among the Heathen where they ſhall be in captiuitie, becauſe I haue bin broken with their whoriſh hart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes that haue gone a whoring after their idolles: and they ſhall be abhorred before their owne eyes, for the euils which they haue committed in all theyr abhominations.

12 Who ſo is farre off ſhall die of the peſtilence, hee that is nigh at hande ſhall periſhe with the ſword, and the other that are beſieged ſhall dye of hunger: Thus will I ſatisfie my wrathfull diſpleaſure vpon them.

13 And ſo ſhall ye know that I am the Lord, when their ſlayne men ſhall be among theyr idolles rounde about their aulters, vpon euery high hill, and tops of mountaynes, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, (euen) in the places where they did offer ſweete ſauour to all their idols.

2. The ende of all the land of Iſraell ſhall ſuddaynely come. 20. The cauſe of the deſtruction thereof. 23. The prophet is commaunded to ſhew the ſumme of the euils that are at hande.

I 1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 And thou ſonne of man, thus ſaith the Lord God, An ende is come vnto the land of Iſrael: yea verily the ende commeth vpon the foure corners of the lande.

3 Now ſhall the ende come vpon thee: for I will ſende my wrath vpon thee, and will puniſh thee according to thy wayes, and reward thee after all thine abhominations.

4 Myne eye ſhall not ſpare thee, neyther will I haue pitie, but rewarde thee according

ding to thy wayes, and declare thine abhominations: then shall ye knowe that I am the Lorde.

5 Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, one euill shall come after another:

6 The ende is here, the ende (I say) is come, it watched for thee: behold, it is come already.

7 The (a) morning is come vnto thee that dwellest in the land, the time is at hand, the daye of trouble is hard by, and not the (b) sounding agayne of the mountaynes.

8 Nowe I will shortly powre out my sore displeasure ouer thee, and fulfill my wrathe vpon thee: I will iudge thee after thy wayes, and recōpence thee all thyne abhominatiōs.

9 Myne eye shall not spare, neyther will I haue pitie, but rewarde thee after thy wayes, and thyne abhominations shall be in ỹ midst of thee: and yee shall knowe that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Beholde the daye, beholde, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rodde (c) flourisheth, pride hath budded.

11 Cruelitie is waxen to a rodde of wickednesse, none of them shall remayne, none of their riches, "not one of their sorte, and no lamentation shall be made for them.

12 The time commeth, the day draweth nigh: who so buyeth, let him not reioyce, he that selleth, let him not be sory: for why? wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 So that the seller shall not come agayne to the thing that he solde, although their life be (d) yet with the liuing: for when the prophecie was preached vnto all the people, none returned, no man shall (e) strengthen him selfe in the iniquitie of this life.

14 (f) They haue blowen the trumpet, and made all ready, but none goeth to the battayle: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

15 The sword shall be without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the field, shall be slayne with the sworde, and he that is in the citie, shall be deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape and shall be in the mountaynes lyke ỹ doues of the valleys, all they shal mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be let downe, and al knees shall be weake as the water.

18 They shal gyrd thē selues with sackcloth, feare shall couer them, shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

19 Their syluer shall they cast forthe in the streetes, and their golde shall be despised: yea their syluer and gold shall not be able to deliuer them in ỹ day of the wrath of ỹ Lord, they shall not satisfie their soules, neyther fill their bellies therewith, bycause (g) it was a stumbling blocke of their iniquitie.

20 He had also set the beautie of his (h) ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abhominations and filthynesse in it, therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 Moreouer, I will giue it into the handes of strangers to be spoyled, and to the wicked of the earthe for to be robbed, and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turne from them, my secret place shall be defyled: for burglers shall goe into it, and pollute it.

23 Make a chayne: for the lande is full of the (i) iudgement of bloud, and the citie is ful of extortion.

24 Wherefore, I wil bring the most wicked of the Heathen to take their houses in possession, I will make the pompe of the mightie to cease, and their (k) sanctuaries shall be defyled.

25 When destruction is come, they shall seeke peace, but they shall haue none.

26 One mischiefe shall follow another, and one rumour shall come after another: then shall they seeke a vision in vayne at the prophet, the law shall perish from the priest, and counsayle from the auncients.

27 The king shall mourne, the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the land shall be troubled: I will do vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements will I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lorde.

2. An apperance of the similitude of GOD. 3. Ezechiel is brought to Hierusalem in the spirite. 6. The Lorde sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israell, and chiefly of the priestes.

1 AND it was in the (a) syxth yeere, in the syxth (moneth) in the fyfth (day) of the moneth, I sate in my house, and the elders of Iuda sate before me, and the hand of ỹ Lord God fell there vpon me.

2 Then I behelde, and loe, there was a likenesse as the appearance of fyre: from the appearance of his loynes downeward, fyre: and from his loynes vpwarde, as the appearance of brightnesse, lyke the colour of amber.

3 And he stretched out the likenesse of an hande, and toke me by an hearie locke of my head, and the spirite lift me vp betwixte

5 And he ſayd vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now towarde the North: then lift I vp mine eyes toward the North, and behold, northward, at the gate of the (e) aulter, this image of emulation (was) in the entrie.

6 And he ſayde furthermore vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, ſeeſt thou what theſe do? ſeeſt thou the great abhominations that the houſe of Iſrael commit in this place, to driue me from my ſanctuarie? but turne thee aboute, and thou ſhalte ſee yet greater abhominations.

7 And with that brought he me to the courte gate, and when I loked, behold, there was a hole in the wall.

8 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, digge now in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And he ſayde vnto me, Goe thy way in, and loke what wicked abhominations they do here.

10 So I wente in, and ſawe, and beholde, there were all manner of creeping beaſts, and (f) abhominable beaſtes, and all the idols of the houſe of Iſraell, paynted vppon the wall round about.

11 There ſtood alſo before the images, three ſcore and ten menne of the auncientes of the houſe of Iſraell, and in the middeſt of them ſtood Iaazaniah the ſon of Saphan, with euery manne his cenſer in his hande, and the ſmoke of the incenſe aſcended as a cloude.

12 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, haſt thou ſeene what the auncientes of the houſe of Iſrael do ſecretly, euery one in the (g) chamber of his imagerie? for they ſaye, The Lord ſeeth vs not, the Lord hath forſaken the earth.

13 And he ſayd vnto me, Turne thee yet agayne, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abhominations that they do.

14 And with that, he brought me to the doore of the gate of the Lordes houſe, towarde the North, and behold, there ſate women mourning for (h) Thammuz.

15 Then ſayde he vnto me, Haſte thou ſeene this thou ſonne of man? turne thee yet about, and thou ſhalte ſee greater abhominations than theſe are.

16 And ſo he brought me into the inwarde court of the Lordes houſe, and behold, at the doore of the Lordes houſe, betwixt the porche and the aulter, there were about twentie and fyue men, that turned their backes vpon the temple of the Lord, and their faces towarde the Eaſt, and theſe worſhipped the ſunne Eaſtward.

17 And he ſayd vnto me, Haſt thou ſeene this thou ſonne of man? Thinketh the houſe of Iuda that it is but a trifle to do theſe abhominations, which they do here? for they haue filled the lande full of wickednes, and haue returned to prouoke me to anger, and lo, (i) they are putting the braunches to their noſes.

18 Therefore wyll I alſo doe ſomethyng in my wrathfull diſpleaſure, ſo that mine eye ſhall not ſpare them, neyther will I haue pitie: yea and though they crye in mine eares with a loude voyce, yet will I not heare them.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. The deſtruction of the citie. 4. They that ſhall be ſaued are marked. 8. A complaynte of the prophete for the deſtruction of the people.

1 HE cried alſo with a loude voyce in mine eares, ſaying, Draw neare ye (a) viſitations of the citie, euery man with a deſtroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, there came three (b) hye men, out of the ſtreete of the vpper gate towarde the North, and euery man a ſlaughter weapon in his hande: There was one amongſt them that had on him linnen rayment, and a writers (c) inckhorne by his ſide: theſe wente in, and ſtoode beſyde the braſen aulter.

3 And the glory of the Lorde of Iſrael was gone from the Cherub whereupon it was, to the doore of the houſe: and he called to ỹ man that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and the writers inckhorne by his ſide,

4 And the Lord ſayd vnto him, Goe through the citie, euen through Hieruſalem, and ſet a marke vppon the foreheads of them that mourne, and are ſorie for all the abhominations that be done therein.

5 And to ỹ other he ſayd, that I might heare, Goe yee after him through the citie, and ſmite, let youre eye ſpare none, neyther haue ye any pitie:

6 Kill and deſtroy both olde men and young maydens, children, and women: but as for al thoſe that haue the marke vpon them, ſee that ye touch them not, and begin at my ſanctuarie. Then they began at the auncient men which were before the houſe.

7 And he sayd vnto them, Defyle ye the temple, fyll the courtes with the slayne, then goe your way forth. So they went out, and slue downe through the citie.

8 Nowe when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Ah Lorde GOD, wilt thou then destroy all the residue of Israell, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then sayd he vnto me, The wickednesse of the house of Israell and Juda is exceeding great: so that the land is full of bloud, and the citie full of reuolting (from God) for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earthe, and the Lord seeth it not.

10 Is touching me also, myne eye shall not spare them, neyther will I haue pitie: but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man that had the linnen rayment vppon him, and the writers inckhorne by his side, reported the matter, and sayd, As thou hast commaunded me, so haue I done.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. 8. A rehearsal of the vision of the wheeles, of the beastes, and of the Cherubims.

1 AND as I loked, behold, in the firmament that was aboue the head of the (a) Cherubims, as it were a Saphire stone (made) lyke the similitude of a throne, was ouer them.

2 Then spake he to him that had the linnen rayment vpon him, and sayd, Creepe in betweene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thyne hande full of hote coales out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he crept in, that I myght see.

3 (Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 And the glory of the Lord remoued from the Cherubims, and came vppon the doore of the house: so that the temple was full of cloudes, and the court was full of the shine of the Lords glory.

5 For the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the fore court, like as it had bin the voyce of the almightie God when he speaketh.)

6 Nowe when he had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fyre from the middest of the wheeles which were vnder the Cherubims: he went, and stood beside the wheeles.

7 Then one Cherub reached forth his hande from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fyre that was betweene the Cherubims, and toke thereof, and gaue it into the handes of hym that had on the linnen rayment: which toke it, and went out.

8 And vnder the winges of the Cherubims, there appeared the likenesse of a mans hande.

9 I loked also, and behold, four wheeles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another by another Cherub, and the wheeles were to loke vpon after the fashion of the pretious stone Tharsis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were all foure of one fashion, as if one wheele had bin in another. Ezech.1.c.

11 When they went forth, they went vppon their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the (head of the) fyrste loked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

12 And their whole bodies, their backes, their handes, and winges, yea and the wheeles also, were full of eyes round about the foure wheeles.

13 And to the wheeles, he cryed to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Euery one of them had foure faces, so that the face of the fyrst was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the second the face of a man, and of the third the face of a Lion, and of the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: This is the beast that I saw at ỹ water of Chebar. Ezech.1.a.

16 Nowe when the Cherubims wente, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp frō the earthe, the same wheeles also turned not from besides them.

17 Shortly, when they stoode, these stood also, and when they were lifted vp, the wheeles lift vp them selues also with them: for the (b) spirite of the beast was in the wheeles.

18 Then the glory of the Lorde departed frō aboue the doore of the temple, and remayned vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flackered with their wings, and lift them selues vp frō the earth, so that I sawe when they went, and the wheeles besides them, and they stood at the doore of the East gate of ỹ house of the Lord, so the glory of the God of Israell was vpon them on high.

20 This is the (c) beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israell, by the riuer of Chebar, and I perceyued that it was the Cherubims, b. There was one consent betweene the Cherubims & the wheeles.

c. That is, the whole body of the. iiii. beasts or Cherubims.

D 21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one four wings, and vnder their wings, the likenesse of mens hands.

22 Touching the similitude of their countenaunces, they were the very same countenaunces which I sawe at the riuer Chebar, and the selfe same appearances: euery one in his going, went straight forwarde.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. VVho they were that seduced the people of Israell. 5. Against these he prophecieth, shewing them howe they shall be dispersed abroade. 19. The renewing of the hart commeth of God. 21. He threatneth them that leane vnto their owne counsayles.

A 1 MOreouer, ỹ spirit lift me vp, & brought me vnto the east gate of the Lordes house, which lieth eastward: and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fiue and twentie men, among whome I sawe Iaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pheltiah the son of Banaiahu, the rulers of the people.

2 Then sayde he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, these menne imagine mischiefe, and a wicked counsayle take they in this citie,

2. Pet. 3. a. a. We shal not be pulled out of Hierusalē, till the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be sodde.

3 Saying, It is not neare, let vs buyld houses: this (Hierusalem) is the (a) cauldron, and we be the flesshe.

4 Therefore shalte thou prophecie against them: yea prophecie, O sonne of man.

5 And with that fell the spirite of the Lorde vpon me, and sayde vnto me, Speake, thus sayth the Lord: On this maner haue ye spoken (O ye house of Israell) and I knowe the imaginations of your harts.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and fylled the streetes full of the slayne:

B 7 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, The slayne men that ye haue layde on the ground in the citie, are the (b) flesshe, and this citie is the cauldron: but I will bring you out of it.

b. Contrary to their vayne confidence he sheweth in what sense this citie was the cauldron, that is, bicause of the dead bodyes that haue bin murdered therein, and so lie as flesshe in the cauldron.

8 Ye feared the swoorde, and I will bring a swoord ouer you, sayth the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the middest thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of strangers, and wyll execute iudgementes among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the swoorde, in the borders of (c) Israell will I iudge you, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

c. That is, in Riblath. 4. Reg. 24. a.

11 This citie shall not be your cauldron, neyther shall yee be the flesshe therein: but in the borders of Israel wil I punish you,

12 That ye may knowe that I am the Lord, in whose commaundementes yee haue not walked, nor kept my lawes: but haue done after the customes of the Heathen that lye round about you.

13 Nowe when I prophecied, (d) Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Ah Lorde God, wilte thou then vtterly destroy all the remnaunte in Israel?

14 And so the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me on this manner,

15 Thou sonne of man, thy brethren (euen) thy brethren, the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israell, wholly (are they) vnto whome the inhabitauntes of Hierusalem haue sayde, (e) Withdrawe yee farre from the Lorde, for the Land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore (tel them,) thus sayth the Lord God, Although I sende them farre off among the Gentiles, and scatter them among the nations, yet will I be to them as a little (f) sanctuarie, in the landes where they shall come.

17 Tell them also, thus sayth the Lord God, I will gather you agayne out of the nations, and bring you from the countries where ye be scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel agayne.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all their idols, and all their abhominations from thence.

Ier. Ezec.

19 And I will giue them one hart, and I wil put a newe spirite within their bowels: that stonie hart wil I take out of their body, and giue them a fleshy hart, 20 That they may walke in my commaundements, and keepe mine ordinances, and do the, that they may be my people, and I their God.

21 But to the hart of their idolles, and their abhominations, their hart goeth, their wayes will I bring vpon their owne heads, sayeth the Lord God. D

22 After this did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

23 So the glorie of the Lorde went vp from the middest of the citie, and stood vppon the mount of the citie towarde the East. Ezech.

24 And the spirite toke me vp, and brought me againe to Chaldea, to the captiuitie, in a vision by the spirite of God: then the vision that I had seene went vp from me.

25 So I spake vnto the (g) captiues all the woordes of the Lorde whiche he had shewed me.

The.xij. Chapter.

4 The parable of the captiuitie. 10. The expoſition of the parable, by which the taking of king Zedekiah is ſignified. 18. Another parable whereby the diſtreſſe of hunger and thirſt is ſignified.

1 The woꝛde of the Loꝛde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, thou dwelleſt in the middeſt of a rebellious houſe, whiche haue eyes to ſee, and yet ſee not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: foꝛ they are a rebellious houſe.

3 Therefoꝛe (O thou ſonne of man) "pꝛepare thee inſtruments to flit with, and remoue on the day tyme, that they may ſee, yea (euen) in theyr ſyghte thoꝛu goe from thy place to another place, if peraduenture they will conſider that they be a rebellious houſe.

4 Thou ſhalt bꝛing foꝛth thine inſtruments, as ſtuffe to flit with by the day time in their ſyghte, and thou thy ſelfe ſhalte goe foꝛth alſo at euening befoꝛe their eyes, as they that goe foꝛth to flit.

5 Digge thꝛough the wall in their ſyght, and carie out thereby.

6 In their ſyghte ſhalt thou beare vpon thy ſhoulders, and carie it foꝛth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou ſee not the earth, foꝛ I haue made thee a (a) ſhewe token vnto the houſe of Iſraell.

7 And I did ſo as I was commaunded, I bꝛought foꝛth my ſtuffe by day, as the ſtuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the euening I digged thꝛough the wall with my hands, and bꝛought it foꝛth in the darke, and bare it vppon my ſhoulder in theyr ſyght.

8 And in the moꝛning came the woꝛde of the Loꝛd vnto me, ſaying, 9 Thou ſonne of man, hathe not the houſe of Iſraell, the rebellious houſe, ſayd vnto thee, (b) What doeſt thou?

10 Then tell thē, Thus ſayth the Loꝛd God, This "burden toucheth the pꝛince at Hieruſalem, and all the houſe of Iſraell that dwell among them.

11 Tell them, I am your ſhew token, like as I haue done, ſo ſhall it be done vnto them, they ſhall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The pꝛince that is among them ſhal loade his ſhoulders in the darke, and get him away, they ſhall bꝛeake downe the wall to carie thꝛough by it: he ſhall couer his face, that hee ſee not the grounde with hys eyes.

14 My net will I (c) ſpꝛead out vpon hym, and he ſhall be caught in my "net, and I will bꝛing him to Babylon in the lande of the Chaldees, which he ſhall not ſee, and yet ſhall he die there.

14 As foꝛ all his helpers, and all his bandes that be about him, I will ſcatter them toward all the windes, and dꝛawe out a ſwoꝛd after them.

15 So when I haue ſcattered them among the heathen, and ſtrawed them in the landes, they ſhall know that I am the Loꝛde.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the ſwoꝛde, hunger, and peſtilence, to tell all theyr abhominations among the heathen where they come, that they may knowe how that I am the Loꝛde.

17 Moꝛeouer, the woꝛde of the Loꝛde came vnto me, ſaying, 18 Thou ſonne of man, with a feareful trembling ſhalt thou eate thy bꝛead, with vnquietneſſe and ſoꝛowe ſhalte thou dꝛinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the lande ſpeake thou: Thus ſaith the Loꝛd God to them that dwell in Hieruſalem, and to the land of Iſraell, They ſhall eate their bꝛead with ſoꝛowe, and dꝛinke their water with deſolation: yea the lande with the fulneſſe therof ſhall be layde waſte, foꝛ the wickednеſſe of al them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that nowe be well inhabited, ſhal be voide, and the land deſolate, that ye may know that I am the Loꝛd.

21 Yet came the woꝛde of the Loꝛd vnto me agayne, ſaying.

22 Thou ſonne of man, what maner of pꝛouerbe is that which ye vſe in the land of Iſrael, ſaying, (d) The dayes are ſlacke in comming, and all viſions fayle?

23 Tell them therefoꝛe, thus ſayth the Loꝛde God, I will make that pꝛouerbe to ceaſſe, and they ſhall no moꝛe vſe it as a pꝛouerbe in Iſraell: but ſay vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery viſion.

24 There ſhall no viſion be any moꝛe in vayne, neyther any flattering diuination within the houſe of Iſraell:

25 Foꝛ I the Loꝛde ſpeake it, & what ſo euer I ſhall ſpeake, it ſhall be perfourmed, and not be ſlacke in comming any moꝛe, yea euen in your dayes O rebellious houſe, wyll I ſpeake the thing, and bꝛing it to paſſe, ſaith the Loꝛd God.

26 And the woꝛde of the Loꝛd came vnto me, ſaying,

1. The worde of the Lorde againſt falſe prophetes, which teach the people the counſels of theyr owne hartes.

A 1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying, Iere.23.c.

3 Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Wo be vnto thoſe folyſh prophets that folow their owne ſpirite, and haue ſeene nothing.

5 For ye haue not ſtand vp in the gappes, nor made a hedge for the houſe of Iſrael, to ſtand in the battayle in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue ſeene vanitie, and lying diuination, ſaying, The Lorde ſayeth it, and the Lorde hathe not ſent them, and they haue made me hope that they would confirme the worde.

B 7 Haue ye not ſeene vayne viſions, and ſpoken falſe propheſies, when ye ſay, The Lorde hath ſpoken it, whereas I neuer ſayd it?

8 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde GOD, Bycauſe ye haue ſpoken vanitie, and haue ſeene lyes: therefore beholde, I am agaynſte you, ſayth the Lord God:

9 Mine handes ſhall come vpon the prophets that ſee vanities, and diuine lyes: they ſhall not be in the counſell of my people, nor written in the booke of the houſe of Iſrael, neyther ſhall they come in the lande of Iſrael, that ye may knowe how that I am ỹ Lord God:

12 And lo, when the wall is fallen, ſhall it not then be ſayde vnto you, Where is nowe your morter that ye dawbed it withall?

13 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will cauſe a ſtormie winde to breake out in my wrathfull diſpleaſure, ſo that in myne anger there ſhall come a mightie ſhowre of rayne, and hayleſtones in my wrath to deſtroy it.

14 As for the wall that ye haue dawbed with vntempered morter, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the ground, ſo that the foundation thereof ſhall be diſcouered, and it ſhall fall: yea and ye your ſelues ſhall periſh in the middes thereof, and yee ſhall know that I am the Lorde. C

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. The Lord denyeth his word to the people for their sinnes sake. 9. The despisers of the word doth the Lorde sometime deceyue by false prophetes. 22. A comfort of the thē that fled vnto Babylon.

1 Then resorted vnto me certain of the elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.
2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying.
3 Thou sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idolles in their harts, and put the stumbling blocke of iniquitie before their face: shoulde I then answere them at their requell:
4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, thus sayth the Lorde God, euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idolles in his harte, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophete: vnto that manne will I the Lord my selfe giue answere whē he commeth, according to the (a) multitude of his idolles:
5 That the house of Israel may be snared in their (b) own harts, bycause they be cleane gone from me, al of them through their Idolles.
6 Wherefore, tell the house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and (c) cause to returne fro your idolles, & turne your faces from all your abhominations.
7 For euery man, whether he be of the house of Israel, or a straunger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idolles in his harte, and putteth the stumbling blocke of hys wickednesse before his face, and commeth to a prophete for to aske counsel at me thorowe him: vnto that man will I the Lord giue answere by myne owne selfe.
8 I wil set my face against that man, & will make him to be an example for other, yea & a cōmon byword, and will rote him out of my people, that ye may knowe how that I am the Lord.
9 And if that prophete be deceiued when hee telleth a thing, then I the Lorde my selfe haue deceiued that prophete, and wil stretch out my hande vpon him, to destroy him out of my people of Israel:
10 And they shall be punished for their wickednesse, according to the sinne of him that asketh, shall the sinne of the prophet be:
11 That the house of Israel be led no more from me through errour, and be no more defiled in all their transgressions: but that they may be my people, and I their God, saith the Lord God.
12 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

The.xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fyre, so sayth he that Ierusalem shall be brent.

1 The woꝛd of the Lord came vnto mee, ſaying.
2 Thou ſonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree, moꝛe than of the wilde vine ſtocke among other trees of the foꝛreſt?
3 Do men take wood of it to make any woꝛke withal? oꝛ will men take a pynne of it to hang any veſſel thereon?
4 Beholde it is caſt in the fyꝛe to be bꝛent, the fire cõſumeth both ẏ endes of it, the myddes of it is bꝛent: is it meete thẽ foꝛ any woꝛke?
5 Seeing then that it was meete foꝛ no woꝛke being whole, much leſſe may there any thing be made of it when the fire hath conſumed and bꝛent it.
6 And therefoꝛe thus ſayth the Lorde God, As the vine tree (that is) among the trees of the foꝛreſt, which I haue giuen to the fire to be conſumed: ſo will I giue the inhabitauntes of Ieruſalem.
7 And I will ſet my face againſt them, they ſhal goe out from the fyꝛe, and yet the (a) fyꝛe ſhal conſume them: then ſhall ye know that I am the Lorde, when I ſet my face againſt them,
8 And when I make the lande waſte, bycauſe they haue ſo ſoꝛe offended, ſaith ẏ lord God.

1 AGayne, the woꝛde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,
2 Thou ſonne of man, ſhew Ieruſalem their abhominations.
3 And ſay, Thus ſayth the Lorde God vnto Ieruſalem, Thy habitation and kynred is of the lande of (a) Chanaan, thy father was an Amoꝛite, thy mother an Hittite.
4 In the day of thy bꝛyth (b) whẽ ẏ wall bozne, the ſtring of thy nauel was not cut of, ẏ waſt not bathed in water to make thee cleane, ẏ waſt not ſalted w̃ ſalt, noꝛ ſwadled in clouts
5 No eye pitied thee to do any of theſe things foꝛ thee foꝛ to haue compaſſion vpõ thee: but ẏ waſt vtterly caſt out vpon the fielde in contempt of thy perſõ in ẏ day of thy bꝛyth.
6 Then came I by thee, & ſawe thee defiled, in thine own bloud & I ſayd vnto thee when ẏ waſt in thy bloud, Liue: (euen) whẽ ẏ waſt in thy bloud, I ſayde vnto thee, Liue.
7 I cauſed thee to multiplie as the budde of the fielde thou art growen vp, and waren great, thou haſt gotten a maruelous pleaſant beautie, thy bꝛeaſtes are faſhioned, thy heare is goodly growen, whereas thou waſt naked and bare.
8 Now when I went by thee, & loked vpon thee, beholde, thy time was come (euen) the time to woo thee: then ſpꝛeade I my clothes ouer thee: to couer thy (c) diſhoneſtie, yea I made an othe vnto thee, & contracted my ſelfe with thee (ſaith the Lord God) and ſo thou becameſt myne owne.
9 Then waſhed I thee with water, and purged thy bloud from thee, and I annoynted thee with oyle.
10 I clothed thee w̃ bꝛoydꝛed woꝛk, and ſhod thee w̃ badgers ſkin, & I girded thee about w̃ fine linnen, and couered thee with ſylke.
11 I decked thee with coſtly apparel, I put bꝛaceletes vpon thy handes, a chayne about thy necke:
12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and eareringes vpon thyne eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thyne heade.
13 Thus waſt thou deckt with gold and ſyluer, and thy rayment was of fyne lynnen, and of ſilke, and of bꝛoydꝛed woꝛke: thou didſt eate fine floure, honie, and oyle, maruellous beautifull waſt thou, and thou dyddeſt luckily pꝛoſper into a kingdome.
14 And thy name was ſpꝛeade among the heathen foꝛ thy beautie: foꝛ it was perfect thꝛough thy beautie which I put vpon thee, ſayth the Lord God.
15 But thou haſt put thy confidence in thyne owne beautie, and played the harlot bycauſe of thy renowme, and haſt (d) powꝛed out thy foꝛnications, with euery one that went by, thou waſt his.
16 Thou dydſt take thy garments, and deckt thy high places with (e) diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, (f) they come not and it ſhall not be.
17 The goodly iewels which I gaue thee of myne owne golde and ſiluer, haſt thou taken and made thee mens images therof, and commytted whoꝛedome with them.
18 Thy bꝛoydꝛed garmentes haſt thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incenſe haſt thou ſet before them.
19 My meate whiche I gaue thee, as fyne floure, oyle, and honie, to feede thee withall, that haſt thou ſet before them foꝛ a ſwete ſauour: & thus it was, ſayth the Lord God.
20 Thou haſt taken thyne owne ſonnes and daughters whom thou haſt begotten vnto me, & theſe haſt thou offered vp vnto them to be (g) deuoured: is this but a ſmal whoꝛedome of thyne?

22 And yet in all thyne abhominations and whoredomes, thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, howe naked and bare thou wast at that tyme, and wast defiled in thine owne blood.

23 After al these thy wickednesses (wo, wo vnto thee, sayth the Lorde God,)

24 Thou hast built vnto thee an high place, & hast made thee an high place in euery street.

25 Thou hast builte thine high place at euery "head of the way, thou hast made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that came by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast cõmitted fornication with the (h) Egyptians, thy neighbours which were great in flesh, & thus hast thou increased thy whoredome to anger me.

27 Behold, I did stretche out my hande ouer thee, and did minishe thy sloare of foode, and deliuered thee ouer into the wylles of them that hate thee (euen) the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thyne abhominable wayes.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyians, bycause thou wast insatiable: yea thou hast (I say) with them played the harlot, and yet hadst thou not ynough.

29 Thus hast thou furthermore multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Chanaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith

30 How weake is thyne hart, sayth the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these workes of a presumptuous whorishe woman?

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, and makest thy hygh places in euery streete: thou hast not bin as another whore that holdeth scorne of a rewarde:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in steede of hir husbande.

33 Gifts are giue to al other whores: but thou giuest rewardes vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them to come vnto thee on euery syde for thy fornication.

34 It is come to passe with thee in thy whoredomes contrary to the vse of other women, yea there hath no such fornication bin committed after thee: seeing that thou giuest gifts vnto other, and no reward is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Therefore heare the worde of the Lord, O thou harlot.

36 Thus saith the Lorde God, Bycause thou hast (i) powred out thy brasse, and discouered thy filthinesse through thy fornicatiõs with thy louers, and with all the idolles of thyne abhominations, and in the blood of thy children whom thou hast giuen them:

37 Beholde therefore, I will gather together all thy (k) louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, yea & al thẽ whom ỹ hast loued, and euery one that ỹ hatest: I will (I say) gather them together rounde about against thee, and will discouer thy shame before thẽ, that they may see al thy filthinesse.

38 Moreouer, (l) I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murderer, and recompence thee thyne owne blood in wrath and gelousie.

39 I wil giue thee ouer into their hands, and they shall destroy thy high place, and breake downe thy high places, they shal strippe thee also out of thy clothes: thy fayre iewels shall they take from thee, and so leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea they shall bring a company vpon thee, which shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swordes.

41 They shall burne vp thy houses with fire, and punishe thee in the sight of many women: thus wil I make thee cease from playing the harlot, so that thou shalt giue out no more rewardes.

42 So will I make my wrath towarde thee to rest, & my ielousie shall departe from thee, and I wil cease, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou remembrest not the dayes of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things: beholde therefore, I will bring thine owne wayes vpon thy heade, sayth the Lord God, so that (m) thou shalt not commit (any more) mischiefe vpon al thine abhominations.

44 Beholde, all they that vse common prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe also against thee, saying, Suche a (n) mother, suche a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off hir husband and hir children: yea ỹ art the sister of thy (o) sisters, which forsoke their husbandes and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 Thyne eldest sister is Samaria, shee and hir (p) daughters that dwel vpon thy lefte hande: but thy yonger sister that dwelleth on thy right hand is Sodoma & hir daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways nor done after their abhominations, as a litle and little: but in all thy wayes thou hast bin more corrupt than they.

48 As truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, Sodoma thy sister with hir daughters, haue not done as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde, the sinnes of thy sister Sodoma were 50 But they were haughtie, and committed abomination before me, therfore I toke thē away as I sawe good.

51 Neither hath (r) Samaria done halfe of thy sinnes, yea thou hast exceeded them in thyne abhominations, and hast (s) iustified thy systers in all thine abhominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which diddest condemne thy sister, beare thyne owne shame: for thyne owne offences that thou hast cōmitted more abhominable than they did, whiche in deede are more righteous than thou art, be thou (I say) ashamed, and beare the shamefull rebuke, seeyng that thou hast iustifyed thy systers.

53 Therefore I will bring agayne their captiuitie, the captiuitie of Sodome and hir daughters, and ỹ captiuitie of Samaria and hir daughters, and the captiuitie of thy captiuities among (t) them,

The parable of the two Eagles.

1 THe word of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, put forth a parable, & speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lorde God, There came a great (a) Eagle, wyth great wyngs, yea with a mightie long body, and full of feathers of diuers colours, vpon the mounte of Libanus, & toke the highest branche of a Cedar tree,

4 And brake off the top of his twigges, and caried it into the lande of (b) marchantes, & set it in a citie of marchantes.

5 He toke also of the (c) seede of the land and planted it in a fruiteful grounde, he brought it vnto greate waters, and set it in an open trenche.

6 Then dyd it growe, and was a (d) spreading vine, but (e) lowe of stature, whose branches towarde "it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: thus there came of it a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buddes.

7 But there was another (f) Eagle, a great one, which had great winges, and many feathers: and beholde, the rootes of this vine turned towardes it, and spread out hir branches towardes it, that she might water it by the trenches of hir plantation.

8 It was planted vppon a good soyle beside great waters, so that it should haue brought out branches, and borne fruite, and haue bin a goodly vine.

9 Speake thou therefore, thus saith the Lorde God, Shall this vine prosper? shall (g) hee not pul vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to dye? all the leaues of hir bud shal wither without great power, or many people to plucke it vp by the rootes therof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: shall it prosper therefore? shal it not be dryed vp and wythered? when the (h) east winde shal touch it, it shal wyther in the trenches where it grew.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me saying:

12 Speake nowe to the rebellious houle, Knowe ye not what these things (do signifie?) Tel them, beholde, the king of Babylon is is come to Hierusalem, and hath taken the (i) king therof, and the princes therof, and hath led them with him to Babylon.

17 He toke of the kings seede, and made a couenaunte with him, and toke an othe of hym, the princes of the lande toke he with him also.

14 That the kingdome myght be holden in subiection, and not lift vp it selfe, but keepe the couenant, and stande to it.

15 But he rebelled agaynst hym, and sent his Embassadours into Egypt, that he might haue horses & much people: Should he prosper? that he escape that doth such thinges? or that he breake the couenaunt, and escape free?

16 Is truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, he shall die at Babylon in the place where the King dwelleth that made hym King, whose othe he hathe despised, and whose couenant he hath broken.

17 Neyther shal Pharao with his great hoste and multitude of people, maynteyne him in the war, when they haue caste vp mountes, and buylt a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing he hathe despised the othe, and broken the couenaunt (where as he yet gaue his (k) hand therupon) & done all these things he shall not escape.

19 Therfore, thus sayeth the Lord God, As truly as I liue, I wil bring myne oth, that he hath despised, and my couenaunt that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon hym, and he shal be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, and enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespalle whiche hee hath committed agaynst me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with all his host, they shall be slayne with the sword, and the residue shall bee scattered towardes all the windes: and ye shall knowe that I the Lorde haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayth the Lorde God, I will also take off the toppe of this highe Cedar, and will sette it, and cut off the top of the tender plante therof, and will plante it vpon an high hill, and a greate.

23 (Namely) vpon the high hill of Israel wil I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and gyue fruite, and be an excellent Cedar: and vnder it shall remayne all byrdes, and euery foule shall remayne vnder the shadow of the braunches therof.

24 And all the trees of the fielde shall knowe that I the Lorde haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the lowe tree, that I haue dryed vp the greene tree, and made the dry tree to flourishe (euen) I the Lord that spake it, haue also brought it to passe.

The.xviij. Chapter.

4. He sheweth that euery man shall beare his owne sinne. 21. To him that amendeth, is saluation promised. 24. Death is prophesied to the righteous whiche turneth backe from the right way.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 What meane ye by this common prouerb, that yee vse in the lande of Israell, saying: The (a) fathers haue eaten soure grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, ye shal vse this byworde no more in Israell.

4 Beholde, all soules are myne: lyke as the soule of the fathers is myne, so is the soule of the sonne myne also: the soule that sinneth, shall dye it selfe.

5 But if a man be iust, and do that whiche is lawfull and right.

6 He hath not (b) eaten vppon the hilles, nee hath not lyfte his eyes to the idolles of the house of Israell, neyther hathe defyled hys neyghbours wife, neither hath come neere a (c) woman remoued:

7 Neyther hathe oppressed any man, but hath restored to the debter his pledge: hee that hath not spoyled any by violence, hath giuen his bread to the hungrye, and hathe clothed the naked.

8 And hathe not giuen forthe vppon vsurie, neyther taken anye increase, hee hath withdrawen his hande from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgemente betweene man and man:

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and kept my iudgementes to deale truely: this is a righteous man, he shall surely lyue, sayeth the Lord God.

10 If he now get a sonne that is a robber, a shedder of blud, & do any one of these things.

11 Though he do not all these things, but eyther hath eaten vpon the hilles, or defiled his neighbours wyfe:

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needye, or spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lifte vp his eyes vnto the Idols, or hath committed abhominstion, 13 Or hath giuen forth vppon vsurie, or hath taken increase: shall this man lyue? he shall not lyue: seeing he hathe done all these abhominations, he shall die the death, his blud shall be vpon him.

14 Nowe if this man get a sonne also, that seeth all his fathers sinnes which he hath done and feareth, neyther doth suche lyke.

1 THou alſo take vp a lamentation for the (a) prynces of Iſrael,

I

2 And ſay, wherefore lay thy mother, that Lionelle, among the Lions? ſhe nourythed hir yong ones among the Lions whelpes.

3 One of hir whelpes ſhe brought vp, and it became a Lion, it learned to catche the pray, and to deuour folke.

4 The (b) heathen heard of him, and caught him in their ſnare, and brought him in hookes vnto the lande of Egypt.

5 Now when ſhe ſawe that ſhe had wayted, and hir hope was loſt, ſhe toke another (c) of hir whelpes, and made a Lion of him,

6 Whiche went among the Lions, and became a fierce Lion, learned to catche the pray and to deuour folke:

7 He deſtroyed their palaces, and made their cities waſt, in ſo much that the whole lande and euery thing therein, were vtterly deſolate through the voyce of his roating.

8 Then ſet the (d) heathen together on euery ſyde of the countreyes againſt him, layde their nettes for him, and took him in their pit.

9 So they put him in priſon in chaynes, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they put him in holdes, that his voyce ſhould no more be heard vpon the mountaynes of Iſrael.

19 Is for thy (c) mother, she is lyke a vyne in thy bloud, plãted by the waters: she brought forth fruyte, and braunches by the abundant waters.

20 And she had strong roddes for the scepters of them that beare rule, and hyr stature was exalted on highe among the braunches, and she appeared in hyr heigth with the multitude of hyr braunches.

21 But she was pluckt vp in wrath, caste out vpon the ground, the east winde dryed vp hir fruyte (hyr braunches) were broken off, and withered, as for the roddes of hir strength, the fire consumed them.

22 And now she is planted in the wildernesse, in a drie and thirstie grounde.

23 And there is a fyre gone out of the (f) rod of hyr braunches, it hath devoured hyr fruyte, so that she hath no strong rodde for a scepter to rule: This is a lamentation, and shal be for a lamentation.

The.xx. Chapter.

1 The Lorde denieth that he will aunsweare them when they pray, for the offence of vnkindnesse whiche he here obiecteth. 33. He promiseth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46. By the forrest that shoulde be burnt, is signified the burning of Hierusalẽ.

1 IN the (a) seuenth yeare, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certayne of the elders of Israell came for to aske counsayle at the Lorde, and sate downe before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto the elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Are ye come to enquire of me? As truely as I liue, I wil not be (b) sought of you, sayth the Lorde God.

4 Wilt thou not iudge them sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge (them:) cause thẽ to vnderstand the abominations of theyr fathers,

5 And tell them, Thus saith the Lorde God, In the day when I chose Israel, and (c) lyft vp myne hand vpon the seede of the house of Iacob, and was knowen vnto them in the lande of Egypt, yea when I lift vp myne hande ouer them, and sayde, I am the Lorde your God:

6 Euen in the daye that I lifte vp myne hande vnto them, to bryng them out of the lande of Egipt, into a lande that I had prouided for them, whiche floweth with mylke and hony, and is pleasaunt among all other landes:

7 Then sayde I vnto them, Cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idols of Egypt: for I am the Lorde your God.

8 But they rebelled agaynst me, and would not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither dyd they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I sayde I woulde powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplisshe my wrath vpon them, yea euen in the middest of the lande of Egypt.

9 And I wrought for my names sake, that it should not be polluted before the Heathen among whom they were, to whom I was manifestly knowen, in brynging them forth of the lande of Egypt.

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the lande of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse:

11 I gaue them my statutes, and shewed thẽ my iudgements: whiche who so dothe, shall lyue in them. Rom.10.a. Galat.3.b.

12 I gaue them also my Sabboth dayes, to be a token betwirt me and them, and therby to know that I am the Lorde, which halow them. Leuit.18.a. Exod.20.b.

13 And yet the house of Israell rebelled against me in the wildernesse, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue caste away my iudgements, whiche who so dothe, shall liue in them, and my Sabboth dayes haue they greatly polluted: then I sayd, I would powre out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wildernesse. Num.14.d.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled before ỹ Heathen, in whose sight I brought them out. C

15 Yet neuertheless I lift vp my hande vnto them in the wildernesse, that I woulde not bryng them into the lande whiche I gaue them, that floweth with milke and hony, and is a pleasure of all landes:

16 And that because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabbothes: for theyr harte was gone after their idols.

17 Neuertheless, myne eye spared them, so that I would not destroy them, nor consume them in the wildernesse.

18 Moreouer, I sayd vnto their sonnes in the wildernesse, Walke not in the statutes of your (d) fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idols.

19 I am the Lorde your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgemẽts, and do them.

20 Halowe my Sabbothes, for they are a token betwirt me & you: that ye may knowe, how that I am the Lorde your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled agaynst me also, they walked not in my statutes, tutes, they kept not my iudgementes to fulfyl them, which he that doth, shal liue in thē, they prophaned my Sabboth dayes: and I sayde, I would powre out myne indignation ouer them, and accomplishe my wrath vpon them in the wildernesse.

22 Neuertheleſſe, I withdrewe my hande, & wrought for my names sake, lest it shoulde be defyled in the sight of the Heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lyft vp my hande to them also in the wildernesse, that I woulde scatter them among the Heathen, and strawe them among the nations:

24 Bycause they had not kept my iudgemēts, but cast asyde my statutes, and broken my Sabbothes, and their eyes were after theyr fathers idoles.

e. Bycause they woulde not obey my lawse, I gaue them vp to themselues, that they shuld obey their own fantasyes, as verse. 39. Rom. 1. d.

25 Wherefore, (e) I gaue them all statutes that were not good, and iudgementes wherin they should not liue.

26 And I defyled them in their owne giftes, in that they (f) caused all that openeth the wombe to passe, that I might destroy them, that they might knowe howe that I am the Lord.

f. Causing their first borne to passe through the fire in sacrifice to Moloch.

27 Therfore, speake vnto the house of Israel, thou sonne of man, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Yet in this also your fathers haue blasphemed me, and greuously transgressed against me:

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the whiche I lifted vp my hande to giue it vnto them, when they saw euery high hil, and al thicke trees, they offered there their sacrifices & there they presented their offering of (g) anger, ther also they made their sweete sauours, and poured out their wine offrings.

g. Such offering as prouoke God to anger.

29 And I sayde vnto them, What is that high place whereunto ye resorte? & the name of it is called (h) Bamah vnto this day.

h. Which signifieth an high place, declaring that they vaūted thē selues of their idolatrie, and were not ashamed therof, though god had commaunded expresly that they should haue no aulter lifted vp on high by staires Exod. 20. d.

30 Wherefore speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not defyled in the ways of your fathers, and commit ye not whoredome after their abhominations?

31 For when ye offer your giftes, and make your sonnes to passe through the fyre, you are polluted with all your idols vnto this day: shall I aunswere you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lorde God, I will not be sought of you.

32 And (that which) commeth into your minde, shal not be at al, which you say, We will be as the Gentiles, as the kynredes of countreys, to serue wood and stone.

33 As truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, I my selfe will rule you with a mightie hande, with a stretched out arme, and wyth indignation powred out ouer you.

34 And I wil bring you from the people and gather you out of the countreys wherein ye are scattered, with a mightie hande, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the (i) wildernesse of the people, and there I (k) will be iudged with you face to face.

i. Ther mē nati k. I and cal my 36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wildernesse of Egypt: so will I pleade with you also, sayth the Lord God.

37 I will cause you to passe vnder the rodde, and I will bring you into the bonde of the couenant.

38 And I wil "purge out of you the rebels, and them that transgresse against me, & bring them out of the lande of their habitation: as for the lande of Israel they shall not come in it, that you may knowe howe that I am the Lorde. "or 39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus sayth the Lorde God, Goe you and serue euery man his idols, seeing that ye obey not me: & pollute no more my holy name with your giftes and your idols.

40 For vpon my holy hyl, euen vpon the high hyl of Israel, sayth ẏ Lord God, shall all ẏ house of Israel, and all that is in the lande worship me: and in the same place will I fauour them, and there will I require your heaue offerings, and the fyrstlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your swete sauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you togither out of the landes wherein ye haue bin scattered, that I may be halowed in you before the Heathen.

42 And ye shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the lande of Israel, into the lande for the which I lift vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers.

43 There shall ye cal to remembraunce your owne wayes, and all your workes wherein ye haue bin defiled, and ye shall be cut off in your (l) owne sight, for all your wickednesse that ye haue done. l. co sha you ire

44 And ye shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I deale with you for my names sake and not after your wicked wayes, nor according to your corrupt workes, O ye house Israel, sayth the Lord God.

45 Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying, 46 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of Themanah, & drop thy word) toward the (m) South, and prophecie toward the forrest of the South fielde.

47 And say to the forrest of ẏ South, Heare, the the worde of the Lord, thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will kindle a fire in thee, that shal consume al the (n) greene trees, with al the drye: the continuall flambe shal not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North shalbe burnt therein.

48 And al flesh shal see that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it shal not be quenched.

49 Then sayde I, Ah Lorde God, they say of me, Doth not he speake (o) parables?

The.xxi. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the sworde, that is to say, destruction, to the citie of Hierusalem. 25. He sheweth the fall of king Zedekiah. 28. He is comaunded to prophecie the destruction of the childrē of Ammon. 30. After the slaughter of other, at the last the Lord threatneth death vnto Nabuchodonosor himselfe.

1 The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde Hierusalem, and (a) drop (thy worde) toward the holy places, and prophecie agaynst the lande of Israel.

3 Say to the lande of Israell, thus sayth the lord, Behold I am against thee, & wil draw my sworde out of the sheath, and cut of from thee both the (b) righteous and the wicked.

4 Seyng then that I will cut of from thee both the righteous and the wicked: therefore shal my sword goe out of his sheath against al flesh from the (c) South to the North,

5 That al flesh may know how that I the Lorde haue drawen my sworde out of the sheath, and it shal not be put in agayne.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou sonne of man, yea, (euē) with the (d) breaking of thy loynes, mourne bitterly in their presence.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherfore mournest thou? Then tel them, For the (e) tidings that commeth all hartes shal melt, al handes shal be letten downe, all stomackes shall faynt, and al knees shal (f) goe as water: beholde it cōmeth, and shal be brought to passe, sayth the Lorde God.

8 Agayne, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, prophecie and speake, thus sayth the Lorde God, Speake, The sworde, the sword is sharpened, and wel furbished.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great slaughter, and furbished that it may glitter: Shall we then make mirth? It contemneth the (g) rodde of my sonne (as) (h) all other trees.

11 He hath gyuen it to be furbished, to holde it in the hand: this sworde is sharpened, and furbished, to gyue it into the hande of the (i) slayer.

i. To wit, vnto the armie of the Chaldeas. Jere. 51.c.

12 Crye and houle sonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people (it commeth) vpon all the princes of Israell: the terrours of the sworde shal be vpon my people, smyte therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Because it is a trial: and what if (k) it contemne the rodde? It shal be no more, sayth the Lorde.

k. Meanyng the sworde of the king of Babylō, which shal not spare the sceptre of Iuda.

14 Prophecie thou sonne of man, & smite thy (l) handes together, & let the sworde be doubled thrise, (euen) the sworde of the greate slaughter, entring into their priuie chābers,

C

l. That is, encourage the sworde.

15 To make them faynt at the hartes, and to multiply their falles, in al their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the sworde: Ah it is made bright, and dressed for the slaughter.

16 Set thee (m) one way or other, eyther vpon the right hande, or vpon the left, whither soeuer thy face turneth.

m. He speaketh vnto the sword, giuing it libertie to range at his pleasure.

17 I will smyte my handes together also, and make my wrathfull indignation to rest: euen I the Lorde haue sayde it.

18 The worde of the Lord came yet vnto me agayne, saying,

19 Thou sonne of man, appoynt thee two (n) waies, that the sworde of the king of Babylon may come: Bothe these wayes shall goe out of one lande, and chose thee a place, at the head of the citie wayes chose it.

n. Where the way diuideth and leadeth to many cities.

20 Appoint a way, that the sworde may come towarde Rabbath of the Ammonites, and towarde (o) Iuda in the defenced Hierusalem.

o. The tribe of Iuda that kept thēselues chiefly in Hierusalem.

21 For the kyng of Babylon stode at the (p) partyng of the wayes, at the head of the two wayes, consultyng by diuination, he made his arrowes bright, consulted with images, and lokt in the liuer.

p. To know whether he should go against the Ammonites, or them of Hierusalem.

22 At his right hande was the soothsaying for Hierusalem, to appoynt captaynes, to open (their) mouth to the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with the alarum, to set battlerāmes against the gates, to cast a bulwarke, (and) to buylde a fort.

q. Because there was a leaguebetwene thē Iewes and the Babilonias they of Hierusalem shall think nothing lesse than that this thing shal come to passe.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their sight, for the (q) othes made vnto them: but (r) he wyll call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they may be taken.

r. That is, Nabuchodonosor wil remember the rebellio of Zedekiah. & so come vpō thē.

24 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in discoueryng your transgressions, so that in all your workes your sinnes might appeare, because ye are come to remembraunce, ye shal be taken by hande.

25 O thou shameful wicked (s) prince of Israel, whose day is come, euen when wicked-

26 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will take away the (t) Diademe, & put off the crowne: this ſhal be no more the ſame, I will exalt the humble, and abaſe him that is hygh.

27 Ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen, ouerthrowen wil I put (v) it, and it ſhall not be, vntill he come to whom the iudgement belongeth, and to whom I haue giuen it.

28 And thou, O ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, Thus ſayth the Lorde God to the chyldre of Ammon, and to their blaſphemie, ſpeake thou: The ſword, the ſworde is drawē forth already to ſlaughter, and furbiſhed to conſume, bycauſe of the glitteryng:

29 Whiles they ſee vnto thee (x) vanitie, & deuine a lie vnto thee, to put thee with ẏ neckes of the wicked ẏ be ſlayne, whoſe day is come when their iniquitie ſhall haue an ende.

30 Shoulde I cauſe it to returne into his ſheath? In the place where thou waſte created, in the lande of thine habitation wyll I iudge thee:

31 And I wyll powre myne indignation vpon thee, and will blowe vpon thee in the fire of my wrathe, and deliuer thee into the handes of deſperate people, whiche are ſkilfull to deſtroy.

32 Thou ſhalt feede the fire, & thy bloud ſhall be ſhed in the lande: thou ſhalt be put out of remembraunce, for I the Lord haue ſpoken it.

t. Some referre this to the prieſts attire, for Iehozedek the prieſt went into captiuitie with the kyng.

v. That is, the ſtate of the kingdome and prieſthood ſhal euer more and more decay, til Chriſte come vnto whom of right both belong.

x. Though the Iewes and Ammonites would not beleue that thou, to wit, the ſworde ſhouldeſt come vpō them, and ſayd that the prophete which threatned, ſpake lyes: yet thou ſhalt as ſurely come as though thou were already vpon their neckes.

The. xxij. Chapter.

3. The worde of the Lorde againſt Hieruſalem for manſlaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers and mothers, and other wickedneſſes. 25. Of the wicked doctrine of the falſe prophetes and prieſtes, and of their vnſatiable couetouſneſſe. 27. The tyrannie of rulers. 29. The wickedneſſe of the people.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, and ſayde,

2 Thou ſonne of mā, wilt thou not (a) iudge, wilt thou not iudge this blouddy citie? wilt thou not ſhew hyr al hyr abominations?

3 And tell them, thus ſayth the Lorde God, The citie ſheddeth bloud in ẏ middeſt of it, that hyr (b) tyme may come, and maketh idols (c) agaynſt hyr ſelfe, to defile hyr ſelfe.

4 Thou haſte made thy ſelfe gyltie in the bloud that thou haſt ſhed, and defiled thee in the idols whiche thou haſt made: thou haſte cauſed thy dayes to drawe nighe, and made the tyme of thy yeares to come: therfore wil I make thee a reproche among the Heathen, and to be a mockyng in all landes.

5 Whether they be nigh, or farre from thee, they ſhall laugh thee to ſcorne, thou that haſt gotten thee ſo foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Iſrael, euery one in thee (was ready) to his power to ſhed bloud.

7 In thee haue they deſpiſed father and mother, in thee haue they oppreſſed the ſtranger, in thee haue they vexed the widdowe and the fatherleſſe.

8 Thou haſte deſpiſed my holy things, and defiled my Sabbothes.

9 "Tale tellers are there in thee to ſhedde bloud, in thee are ſuche as eate vpon the hils, and in thee they commit abomination.

10 In thee they diſcouer their fathers ſhame, in thee they haue humbled hyr that was ſet apart for pollution.

11 Euery man hath dealt ſhamefully with his neyghbours wyfe, and abominably defiled his "daughter in law, in thee hath euery man forced his owne ſiſter, euen his fathers daughter.

12 Yea gyftes haue bene receyued in thee to ſhedde bloud, thou haſt taken vſurie and encreaſe, thou haſte oppreſſed thy neyghbours by extortion, and forgotten me, ſayth the Lorde God.

13 Beholde, I haue (d) ſmitten my handes vpō thy couetouſneſſe that thou haſt vſed, & vpon the bloud whiche hath bene ſhed in thee.

14 Is thy harte able to endure? or may thy handes be ſtrengthened in the dayes that I ſhal haue to do with thee? Euen I the Lord that ſpeake it, wyll bryng it alſo to paſſe.

15 I wyll ſcatter thee among the Heathen, & ſtrawe thee about in the landes, and wil cauſe thy filthyneſſe to (e) ceaſſe out of thee.

16 Yea and thou ſhalt be thyne (f) owne inheritaunce in the ſight of the Heathen, that thou mayeſt know that I am the Lorde.

17 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

18 Thou ſonne of man, the houſe of Iſrael is vnto me as droſſe: all they are braſſe, tinne, iron, and leade in the middeſt of the furnace, euen droſſe of ſiluer are they.

19 Therfore, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Forasmuch as ye all are turned into droſſe, therfore beholde, I will bryng you together vnto Hieruſalem.

20 Lyke as they gather ſiluer, braſſe, iron, tinne, & lead into the middeſt of the furnace, and the fire is blowen there vnder to melt them: euen ſo will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and let you remaine (there) and cauſe you to (g) melt.

21 I will bryng you together, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you ſhal be molten in the middeſt thereof.

22 Lyke as the ſyluer is molten in the furnace,

b. That is, the time of hir deſtruction.

c. To hir owne vndoyng.

nace, so shall ye also be molten therein, that ye may know howe that I the Lorde haue poured my wrath vpon you.

21 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

22 Thou sonne of man, tell hir, Thou art an vncleane lande, which is not (h) rayned vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a (i) conspiracie of hir prophetes in the middest thereof: as a roaring Lyon, rauening his praye, they deuoure soules, they haue taken the riche and precious thynges, they haue made hir many widdowes in the middest therof.

26 Hir Priestes haue broken my lawe, and defiled my holy thinges, they put no difference betweene the holye and vnholy, neyther discerne they betweene the cleane and vncleane: they turne their eyes from my Sabothes, and I am defyled among them.

27 Thy rulers in thee are like Wolues rauening the praye, to sheade bloud, and destroye soules, for their owne couetous lucre.

28 As for hir (k) prophetes, they daube wyth vntempered morter, they see vanities, & diuine lies vnto them, saying, The Lord sayeth so: where as the Lorde hath not spoken.

29 The people in the lande vseth wicked extortion and robberie, they vexe the poore and needye, and oppresse the straunger agaynst ryghte.

30 And I sought among them for a manne that woulde (l) make vp the hedge, and set himselfe in the gap before mee in the landes behalfe, that I should not destroye it: but I coulde fynde none.

31 Therfore haue I poured out my cruel displeasure vpon them, and consumed them in the fyre of my wrath: their owne ways wil I recompence vpon their heades, sayeth the Lord God.

The.xxiij.Chapter.

4. Of the fornication, that is to say, of the idolatrie of Samaria and Hierusalem, vnder the name of Aholah & Aholibah. 11. In cõparison of Samaria, he sheweth that the fornication of Hierusalem is the filthier. 22. The destruction of Hierusalem is prophecied. 36. The adulterie of both the whoores is found out. 47. Their destruction.

1 The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

2 Thou sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of (a) one mother:

3 And they committed fornication in (b) Egypt, they played the harlots in their youth: there were their breastes pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginitie.

4 The (c) names of them (were) Aholah the elder, and Aholibah hir sister, and they were myne, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus (were) their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

5 Aholah played the harlot (d) when she was myne, and she was set on fyre with hir louers the Assyrians hir neighbours

6 Whiche were clothed wyth blewe silke, (both) captayns & princes, they were al pleasant yong men, and horsemen ryding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed hir whoredome with them: (beeing) all chosen men of Assur, and with all, on whome she doted, and defiled hir selfe with all their idolles.

8 Neyther lefte she the fornication that shee vsed with the Egyptians: for in hir youthe they (e) laye with hir, they bruised the brestes of hir maydenhead, and poured their whoredome vpon hir.

9 Wherefore I deliuered hir into the handes of hir louers, (euen) into the handes of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered hir shame, toke hir sonnes and daughters, and slewe hir with the swoorde, an euill name had she among women: for (f) they hadde executed iudgement vpon hir.

11 Hir sister Aholibah saw this, and destroyed hir selfe with inordinate loue more than she, and with hir fornications, more than hir syster with hir fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians captaynes and princes hir neyghbors, clothed with all maner of gorgeous apparel, horsmen riding vpon horses, being al pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, and they toke bothe one way.

14 But she encreased still in whoredome: for when she sawe (g) men paynted vppon the wall, the images of the Chaldees paynted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon theyr loynes, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads, looking all lyke Princes, after the manner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the lande where they were borne.

16 As sone as she sawe them, she burnte in loue vpon them, and sente messengers vnto them into the lande of the Chaldees.

17 Now when the Babylonians came vnto hir in the bed of loue, they defiled hir with their whoredome: and so was she polluted with them, & hir lust was abated frõ them.

18 And she discouered hir whoredome, & disclosed hir shame: then my heart forsoke hir, lyke as my hart was gone frõ hir sister also.

D 21 Thus thou haſte called to remembꝛaunce the filthineſſe of thy youth, when thy teates were bꝛuiſed by the Egyptians, foꝛ the pappes of thy youth.

22 Theꝛefoꝛe O Aholibah, thus ſayeth the Lord GOD, I will ꝛayſe vp thy louers agaynſt thee, from whome thy heart is departed, and gather them together agaynſte thee on euery ſyde, 23 (Namely) the Babylonians, and all the Chaldees, rulers, welthy and mightie men, with all the Aſſyꝛians, all pleaſaunt young men, captaynes, and pꝛinces, all valyaunt and renoumed, riding vpon hoꝛſes.

24 They ſhall come vpon thee with charets, wagons, and wheeles, and greate multitude of people, with buckler, ſhield, and helmet, they ſhall beſet thee on euery ſyde "or, I will leaue the punishment vnto them. I will giue iudgement befoꝛe them, yea they themſelues ſhall iudge thee accoꝛdyng to their owne iudgement.

25 I will laye myne indignation vpon thee, ſo that they ſhal deale cruelly with thee: they ſhall cutte off thy noſe and thyne eaꝛes, and thy remnant ſhall fall by the ſwoꝛde, they ſhall caꝛie awaye thy ſonnes and daughteꝛs, and the reſidue ſhal be deuoured by the fyꝛe.

26 They ſhall ſtꝛippe thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faiꝛe iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednelle to ceaſſe from thee, and thy foꝛnication out of the land of Egypt: ſo that thou ſhalt turne thyne eyes no moꝛe after them, and call thy mynde no moꝛe vpon Egypt.

E 28 Foꝛ thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, I wil deliuer thee into the hands of the whom thou hateſt, yea euen into the handes of them from whom thyne hart is departed.

29 And they ſhall deale hatefully with thee, and take awaye all thy (h) labour, and leaue thee naked and bare, and the ſhame of thy foꝛnications (i) ſhall be diſcouered, both thy wickednelle and thy whoꝛedome.

h. All the treaſures & riches whiche thou haſt gotten by labour.

i. Al the world ſhall ſee thy ſhamful forſaking of God to ſeruc idolls.

30 I will do theſe things vnto thee, bicauſe thou haſt gone a whoꝛing after the Heathen, & bicauſe thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou haſt walked in the way of thy ſiſter, theꝛfoꝛe will I giue hir cup in thyne hande.

32 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Thou ſhalte dꝛynke of thy ſyſters cup, deepe and large, thou ſhalt be laughed to ſcoꝛne, and had in deriſion, bicauſe it conteyneth muche.

33 Thou ſhalt be filled with (k) dꝛunkenneſſe and ſoꝛowe (euen) with the cup of deſtruction and deſolation, with the cup of thy ſyſter Samaria.

k. Meaning that the calamities ſhoꝛtly to fall vpon Samaria, ſhuld be ſo gꝛeat, that they ſhuld make them as they were dꝛunken, and ſo feele them leſſe.

34 Thou ſhalt dꝛinke it, and ſucke it out, and thou ſhalt bꝛeake the ſheaꝛdes theꝛeof, and teaꝛe thyne owne bꝛeaſtes: foꝛ I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lorde God.

35 Theꝛefoꝛe thus ſayth the Lord God, Foꝛaſmuch as thou haſte foꝛgotten me, and caſt me aſyde behynde thy backe, ſo beaꝛe notoꝛ thyne owne wickednelle and whoꝛedome.

36 The Lord ſayd moꝛeouer vnto me, Thou ſon of man, wilt thou not iudge Ahola and Aholiba? ſhewe them theyꝛ abhominatiõs:

37 (Namely) that they haue bꝛoken their wedlocke, and blond is in their handes: & with their idolles haue they committed aduulterie, and haue alſo cauſed theyꝛ ſonnes whome they bare vnto mee, to paſſe (by the fyre) to be their (l) meate.

l. The ſacrifices then ꝛeaded.

38 Ye and this haue they done vnto me alſo, they haue defyled my ſanctuarie in the ſame day, and haue pꝛophaned my Sabothes.

39 Foꝛ when they had ſlayne their chyldꝛen foꝛ their idols, they came the ſame daye vnto my ſanctuarie to defile it: and loe thus haue they done in my houſe.

40 And howe muche moꝛe (is it) that they ſente foꝛ men to come from (m) faꝛre, vnto whome a meſſanger was ſente, and lo they came? foꝛ whome thou diddeſt waſhe thy ſelfe, and paynted thyne eyes, and deckedſt thee with oꝛnamentes.

m. Into ſtꝛange countꝛeys.

41 Thou ſatteſt vpon a ſtately bed, and a (n) table ſpꝛead befoꝛe it, whereupon thou haſte ſet myne incenſe and myne oyle, n. Meaning that they ſhuld haue ſeꝛued me, but they ſeꝛued their idols.

42 And a noyſe of a merie companie at "it and with the men, beſyde the multitude of the people, were bꝛought men of Saba out of the deſart, which gaue them bꝛaceletes vpon their handes, and beautifull cꝛownes vpon their heades.

43 And I ſayde vnto hir that was woꝛne in hir adulteries, Nowe ſhall hir foꝛnications come to an ende, and ſhe alſo.

44 And they went in to hir as they go vnto a cõmen harlot: euen ſo wente they (I ſay) to Aholah and Aholibah, thoſe wicked women.

45 And the ꝛighteous men, they ſhal iudge them after the maner of harlottes, and after the maner of murderers: foꝛ they are harlottes, and blond is in their handes.

46 Wheꝛfoꝛe, thus ſaith the Lord God, I will G bꝛing a gꝛeat multitude of people vpon the, and giue them to be ſcattered and ſpoyled:

47 And the multitude ſhall ſtone them with ſtones, and cutte them downe wyth theyꝛ ſwoꝛds, they ſhal ſlay their ſons & daughteꝛs and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednesse to ceasse out of the lande, that all (o) women may be taught, not to do after your wickednesse.

49 And so they shall lay your wickednesse vpō your owne selues, and the sinnes of your idols shal ye beare: and ye shal know that I am the Lorde God.

The. xxiiij. Chapter.

1 He proueth the firyng of Hierusalem by a parable of a seethyng pot. 16. The parable of Ezechiels wyfe beyng dead, whiche he after expoundeth.

1 AND the (a) nienth yeare, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the (b) moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 O thou sonne of man, write the name of this day, yea euen of this present day: for the kyng of Babylon set himselfe agaynst Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 Shewe the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, thus sayth the Lord God, Prepare a (c) pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

4 Gather the (d) peeces thereof into it, euery good peece, the thigh, and the shoulder, and fil it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and a heape of (e) bones vnder it: let it boyle wel, and let the bones thereof seeth well therein.

6 With that sayde the Lorde God on this maner, Wo vnto the bloudy citie, to the pot whose (f) scumme is therin, & whose scumme is not gone out of it: bryng it out (g) peece by peece, let no (h) lot fall vpon it.

7 For hyr bloud is yet in it, vpon a hygh (i) dye stone hath she powred it: & not vpon the ground, that it might be couered with dust:

8 That it might cause wrath to aryse, & take vengeaunce: I haue set hir bloud vpō a high dyle rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore, thus sayth the Lorde God, O wo be vnto the bloudthirstie citie, for whom euen I my selfe will make a great fire,

10 And set much wood, and (k) kindle the fire, and seeth the flesshe, and spice the pot, so that the very bones shal be brent.

11 Moreouer, I wil set the pot emptie vpō the coales, so that the brasse therof may be hote & burnt, & the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scumme of it shal be consumed.

12 She hath wered hyr selfe with labour, yet hyr great scumme is not gone off hyr, in the fire hyr scumme (must be consumed.)

13 In thy filthynesse is wickednesse: bicause I (l) would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not be purged any more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lorde haue spoken it: yea it is come thereto already that I wil do it, I wil not goe backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but accordyng to thy wayes and imaginations, shal they (m) iudge thee, sayth the Lorde God.

15 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, beholde, I wyll take away from thee the (n) pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neyther shall thy teares runne downe.

17 Mourne in silence, make no (o) mourning of the dead, binde the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lippes, & (p) eate no mans bread.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morneyng, and at euen my wyfe died: then vpon the next morow I did as I was commaunded.

19 And the people sayde vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth towarde vs, that thou doest so?

20 I aunswered them, The worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israell, thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will (q) pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glorie of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, & your hartes delight: and your sonnes, and daughters, whom ye haue left, shall fall through the sworde.

22 Lyke as I haue done, so shall ye do also: ye shal not couer your lippes, ye shal eate no mans bread.

23 And your tyre (shal be) vpon your heades, and your shoes vpon your feete: ye shal neyther mourne nor weepe, but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shewtoken, accordyng to all that he hath done, ye shall do: when it commeth, then ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde God.

25 Also thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take frō them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of theyr eyes, and the (r) lyfting vp of their soules, theyr sonnes, and their daughters, 26 In that day shal come one that is escaped, vnto thee, (and bring it) to the (s) hearyng of (thyne) eares.

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, that thou mayest speak, and be no more dumbe: yea thou shalte be their shewtoken, that they may know howe that I am the Lorde.

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. The worde of the Lorde vpon the ſonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hieruſalem. 8. Agaynſt Moab and Seir, againſt Idumea, agaynſt the Philiſtines.

A 1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face towarde the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,

3 And ſay vnto the Ammonites: heare the worde of the Lord God, thus ſayth the Lord God, For ſomuch as thou ſaydeſt (a) Haha ouer my ſanctuarie, bycauſe it was polluted, and ouer the lande of Iſraell, bycauſe it was deſolate, and ouer the houſe of Juda, bycauſe they went into captiuitie:

a. Bycauſe ye reioyced when the enimie deſtroyed my citie and temple.

4 Beholde therefore, I wyll deliuer thee to the people of the (b) Eaſt that they may haue thee in poſſeſſion: theſe ſhall ſettle their (c) palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee, they ſhall eate thy fruyte, and drynke vp thy mylke.

b. That is, to the Babiloniãs

c. They ſhall chaſe thee away, and take thy gorgeous houſes to dwel in.

5 As for (d) Rabbath, I wil make of it a ſtable for cãmels, & of the Ammonites a ſheepefolde: & ye ſhal know that I am the Lorde.

d. Called alſo Philadelphia, which was the chiefe citie of th Ammonites & full of conduites as, 2. Reg. 12. d.

6 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, Inſomuch as thou haſt clapped with thyne handes, and ſtamped with thy feete, yea and reioyced ouer the lande of Iſraell with al thy "deſpite in hart:

"or, tickling of hart.

B 7 Behold therfore, I wil ſtretch out my hãd ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be ſpoyled of the heathen, and rote thee out from among the people, & cauſe thee to periſh out of the lands: yea I wyll make thee to be deſtroyed, that thou mayeſt know that I am the Lorde.

8 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, For ſomuche as Moab and Seir, do ſay, Behold, the houſe of Juda is lyke as all Gentiles be:

9 Therfore beholde, I wyll open the ſide of Moab from the cities, from his cities (I ſay) of his frontiers, the pleaſures of the countrey, (as namely) Bethieſimoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathaim:

c. Vnderſtand out of the next verſe, I wil open, &c.

10 (c) Unto the children of the Eaſt, againſt ỹ Ammonites, and wil giue it into poſſeſſion, ſo that the Ammonites ſhall no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.

11 And I will execute iudgements vppon Moab, and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lorde.

12 Thus ſayth the Lorde God: For that Edom hath done in auengyng reuengement vpon the houſe of Juda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himſelf vpon them:

13 Therfore, thus ſayth the Lord God, I will reache out my hande vpon Edom, & deſtroy man and beaſt out of it, I will make it deſolate from Theman, and Dedanah ſhall fall by the ſworde.

14 And I will execute my reuengement vpõ Edom by the hande of my people Iſraell, they ſhal do in Edõ according to my wrath and indignation, ſo that they ſhal know my vengeaunce, ſayth the Lorde God.

15 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, for that the Philiſtines did in vengeaunce, (namely) in auengyng reuengement, with a deſpiteful hart to deſtroy it for the olde enmitie:

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will ſtretch out my hande ouer the Philiſtines, & deſtroy ỹ (f) Cerethites, & cauſe all the remnaunt of the ſea coaſt to periſhe:

17 A great vengeaunce wil I take vpo them, with puniſhmentes of my wrath, that thy may knowe that I am the Lorde, when I ſhall lay my vengeaunce vpon them.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that Tyrus ſhal be ouerthrowen, bycauſe it reioyced at the deſtruction of Hieruſalem. 15. The wondring and aſtoniſhment of the marchaunts for the deſolation of Tyrus.

1 AND it came to paſſe in the (a) eleuenth yeare, the firſte day of the moneth, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying, a. Ezech. 24. 1. the 12. of Ieconias. 2. of Zedechias. b. This ſignifieth al.

2 Thou ſonne of man, bycauſe that Tyre hath ſpoken vpon Hieruſalem, Ha ha, the gates of the people is broken, (b) it is turned vnto me, for nowe that ſhe is deſtroyed, I ſhal be (c) filled:

3 Therefore, thus ſayth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Tyre, I wyll vpon thee, I will rayſe vp many nations againſt thee, like as when the ſea aryſeth with his waues.

4 They ſhal breake the walles of Tyre, and caſt downe hyr towres, I wyll ſcrape hyr duſt from hyr, and make hyr a dyre rocke.

5 She ſhal be for a ſpreadyng of nets in the ſea, for I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lord God, and ſhe ſhalbe for a ſpoyle to the nations.

6 (d) Hyr daughters that are in the field ſhal be ſlayne with the ſworde, that they may know how that I am the Lorde.

7 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will bryng vpon Tyrus, Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon from the North, a kyng of kings, with horſes, charrettes, horſemen, with a multitude, and mych people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the field ſhal be ſlay with the ſworde: but againſt thee he ſhal make bulwarkes, and caſt a mount againſt thee, and lift vp his ſpeare againſt thee.

9 He ſhall ſet engyns of warre before hym againſt against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, they shal be so many: thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsmen, wheeles, and chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hoofes of his horses shal he treade down al thy streetes, he shall slay the people with the sword, and the pillers of thy strength shall fall downe to the grounde.

12 They shall rob thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandise, thy walles shall they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy stones, thy tymber, and dusse shall they cast into the middest of the water.

13 Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to ceasse, and the noyse of thy harpes shal no more be heard.

14 I will bring thee into a drye rocke, thou shalt be for a spreading of nettes, thou shalt neuer be buylt agayne: for euen I the Lorde haue spoken it, sayth the Lorde God.

15 Thus hath the Lord God spoken concerning Tyre: Shall not the Iles tremble at the noyse of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they shall be slayn & murdered in the middes of thee?

16 All princes of the (c) sea shall come downe from their throones, they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broidred garmentes, yea with tremblyng shall they bee clothed, they shall sitte vppon the grounde, they shall be astonished at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 They shall mourne for thee, and say vnto thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited of the (f) seas, the renoumed Citie, which was strong in the sea, she and hir inhabitantes, which caused their feare to be on all that haunted therein?

18 Now shall the inhabiters of the Iles bee astonished in the daye of thy fall: yea the Iles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus sayth the Lorde God, When I make thee a desolate Citie as other cities bee that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpon thee, that great waters may couer thee:

20 Then will I cast thee downe vnto them that descende into the pitte, vnto a people of (g) olde tyme, and set thee in a lande that is beneath, lyke the olde ruines, with them whiche goe downe to the graue, so that no man shall dwell more in thee: but I will reserue honour for the (h) land of the liuing.

21 I will make thee terrours, and thou shalte be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou not be founde for euermore, sayth the Lorde God.

The.xxvij.Chapter.

1. The prophete is moued to bewayle the desolation of Tyrus. 12. Hee setteth oute the prayse of Tyrus for the hauntyng of marchantes thereto.

1 The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying:

2 O thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentable complaynt vpon Tyre, I

3 And say vnto Tyre that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the marte of the people for many Iles, thus sayeth the Lorde God, O Tyre, thou hast said, I am of perfect beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the middes of the seas, thy buylders haue made perfect thy beautie.

5 They haue made all thy (shippe) bordes of fyrre trees of (a) Shenir, frō Libanus haue they take Cedar trees to make thee masses. a. This mountaine was called Hermon, but the Amorites called it Shenir. Deut. 3. b.

6 And the Okes of Basan to make thee ores, they haue made thy benches of Iuorie, gotten in Assyria, brought out of the Iles of (b) Chittim.

7 Fyne linnen with broydred worke out of Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy sayle: blewe silke and purple oute of the Iles of Elishah was thy couering. b. Whiche is take for Grece and Italie.

8 The inhabitoures of Sydon and Aruad were thy maryners, and thy wyse men, O Tyre, that were in thee, were thy shipmasters.

9 The ancient and wise men of Gebal were in thee, thy (c) stoppers of chinkes: all ships of the sea with their shipmen were in thee, to occupie thy marchandise. c. or, Calkers, meaning that they buylt the walles of the citie, which is here ment by the ship. And of these were the buylders of Solomons temple. 3. Reg. 5. c.

10 The Perses, Lydians, and Phutens were in thyne armies, thy men of warre: these hanged vp their shieldes and helmettes in thee, these set forth thyne honour.

11 They of Aruad were with thyne host rounde about thy walles, and the (d) Pygmenians were thy watchemen vpon thy towres: these hanged vp their quiuers rounde aboute thy walles, they made thy beautie perfect. d. Gammadims of Capadocia, whiche were called Pygmeis and dwarfes, bycause that out of thy high towres they semed little.

12 They of Tharsis (were) thy marchauntes for the multitude of all ryches, in syluer, iron, tinne, and lead, whiche they brought to thy fayres.

13 Iauan, Tubal, and Mesech were thy marchantes concerning the (e) lyues of men, and they brought vessels of brasse for thy marchandise. e. By sellyng bondmen, seruants, & slaues

14 They of the house of Thogarma brought vnto thee at the tyme of thy marte, horses, coursers, and mules. C

15 They of Dedan were thy marchauntes, and many Iles the marchandyse of thy handes, and broughte thee (f) hornes, teethe, and (g) Hebenus, for preſentes.

16 They of Aram (were) thy marchantes for the multitude of thy worke, and occupied in thy faires with Emeraulds, purple, broydred worke, fyne linnen, Coral, and pearle.

17 Juda, and the lande of Iſraell occupyed with thee, and broughte vnto thy markettes wheate of (h) Minnith and Pannag, honye, oyle, and triacle.

18 Damaſcus alſo vſed marchandyſe wyth thee, in the wyne of Helbon, and whyte woll: becauſe thyne occupying was ſo greate, and thy wares ſo manie.

19 Dan, Jauan, and Meuzel, haue broughte vnto thy markets wrought iron, Caſſia and Calamus were among thy marchandiſe.

20 They of Dedan were thy marchantes in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia & al the princes of Cedar haue occupied with thee, in weathers, rammes, and goates: in theſe were they thy marchantes.

22 The marchauntes of Seba and Rema, haue occupied alſo with thee, in all chief ſpices, in all precious ſtones and gold, whiche they brought vnto thy markets.

23 Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the merchants of Seba Aſſyria, and Chelmad, were doers with thee:

24 Theſe were thy marchaunts in all ſortes (of things) in rayment of blew ſilke, and of broydred worke, and in coffers for the riche apparel, whiche were truſſed with coardes, and Cedar bord among thy marchandiſe.

25 The ſhippes of Tharſis were the chiefe of thyne occupying: thus thou waſt replenyſhed, and in great worſhip, euen in the middes of the ſea.

26 Thy rowers haue brought thee into great waters, the (i) eaſt wynde hath broken thee in the middes of the ſea.

27 Thy riches, and thy faires, thy marchandiſe, thy mariners and ſhipmaiſters, thy Calkers, and the occupiers of thy marchandyſe, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, and all thy multitude that is in the middes of thee, ſhall fall in the middes of the ſea, in the day of thy fall.

28 The (k) ſuburbes ſhall ſhake at the loude crye of thy ſhipmen.

29 All that handle the oze, mariners, and all ſhipmaiſters of the ſea, ſhall come downe from their ſhips, and ſtande vpon the lande.

30 And they ſhal cauſe their voice to be heard againſt thee, and ſhall crye bitterly, and ſhal caſt duſt vpon theyr heades, and wallow in the aſhes.

31 They ſhal (l) make themſelues bald for thee, and gird them with ſackcloth, and they ſhal weepe for thee, with ſorowfull hearte, and bitter mourning.

32 And they ſhall take vp a lamentation for thee in their mourning, and lament ouer thee, (what citie) is lyke Tyrus ſo deſtroyed in the middes of the ſea?

33 When thy wares went forth of the ſeas, thou filledſt many people: the kings of the earth haſt thou made riche, thorow the multitude of thy riches and marchandiſe.

34 When thou ſhalt be broken by the ſeas in the depthes of the waters, thy marchandiſe and all thy multitude that was in the middes of thee, ſhall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the Iſles ſhal be aſtonied at thee, and all their kings ſhall be ſore afrayd, and troubled in their countenance.

1. The word of God againſt the king of Tyrus for his pride. 12. Ezechiel the prophete is moued to bewaile the king of Tyrus. 20. The worde of the Lorde againſt Sydon. 25. The Lorde promiſeth that he will gather together the children of Iſraell.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying:

2 Thou ſonne of man, tel the prince of Tyre, thus ſayth the Lord God, Becauſe thou haſt a proude hearte, and haſte ſayde, I am (a) a God, I ſit in the ſeate of God, in the mids of the ſea: whereas thou art but a man, and not God (b) though thou ſet thyne heart as the heart of God.

3 Beholde, thou thynkeſt thy ſelfe wyſer thã (c) Daniell, that there is no ſecretes hidde from thee.

4 With thy wiſedome and thine vnderſtanding thou haſt gotte thee great wealthines, and gathered treaſure of ſiluer and golde.

5 With thy great wiſedome and occupying haſt thou encreaſed thy power, and becauſe of thy great riches, thy heart is proude.

6 Therfore thus ſayth the Lorde God, Forſomuche as thou haſte ſet thyne hearte as the heart of God.

7 Behold, I will bring ſtrangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations, theſe ſhall drawe out their ſwordes vppon the beautie of them be ſlayne in the middes of the ſea.

8 They ſhall caſte thee downe to the pit, ſo that thou ſhalt dye the death of them that be ſlayne in the middes of the ſea.

9 Wilt thou ſaye then before them that ſlaye thee, I am a God? where as thou art but a man man, and not God, in the hands of them that slay thee.

10 Dye shalte thou the death of the (d) vncircumcised in the hands of the straungers: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyre, and tell him, thus saith the Lorde God, Thou sealest vp the time, (e) full of wisedom, & perfect beautie.

13 Thou hast bin in the pleasaunte garden of God, thou art deckt with all maner of precious stones, with Ruby, Topas, Diamond, Thurkis, Onix, Jasper, Saphir, Emeraide, Carbuncle, and golde: the workmanship of thy tymbrels and of thy pypes (that be) in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an (f) annoynted Cherub, that coūreth, and I haue (g) set thee (in this dignitie) thou wast vppon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the (h) stones of fyre.

15 From the time of thy creation thou hast bin perfect in thy wayes, till wickednesse was found in thee.

16 By ý multitude of thy marchandise they haue filled the myddes of thee with cruelte, and thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the (i) mount of God, and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub from the middes of the stones of fire.

17 Thy hart was proude in thy beautie, and through thy brightnesse, thou hast destroyed thy wisedome: I will cast thee downe to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy (k) sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrighteous occupying: I will bring a fyre from the middes of thee to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpō the earth, in the sight of all them that loke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bin acquainted with thee among the heathen, shall be abashed at thee: thou hast bin a terrour, and neuer shalte thou be any more.

20 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophesie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Behold O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will be glorified in thee: that it may be knowen how that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in hir, and shal be sanctified in hir.

23 For I will send pestilence and bloudshedding into hir streetes, and the slayne shall fall in the middes of hir, by the sword, (comming) vpon hir on euery side: and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

24 They shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israell, nor a greeuous thorne of all that are round about them and despise them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus sayth the Lord God, When I gather the household of Israell together againe from the nations among whome they be scattered, then shall I be sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Jacob.

26 They shall dwel with confidence therein, builde houses, and plante vineyardes: yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despise them rounde about: and then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God.

The.xxix. Chapter.

1. He prophesieth against Pharao, and of the desolation of Egypt, with the sparkling abroade of the Egyptians. 13. The Lord promiseth that he will restore Egypt againe after fortie yeeres. 20. Egypt is the reward of king Nabuchodonosor for the labour which he tooke against Tyrus.

1 IN the (a) tenth yeere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face agaynste Pharao the king of Egypt, prophesie against him, and against the whole land of Egypt.

3 Speake and tell him, thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, O Pharao thou king of Egypt, I will vpon thee thou great (b) Dragon that lieth in the middes of his riuers, thou that sayest, The riuer is mine, I haue made it for my selfe.

4 I will put (c) hookes in thy chawes, and hang the fysshe in thy riuers vpon thy skales: after that will I drawe thee out of thy riuers, yea and all the fisshe of thy riuers shall hang vpon thy skales.

5 I will leaue thee in the wildernesse (both) thee and all the fysh of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open fielde: thou shalte not be brought together, nor gathered: I haue giuen thee for meate to the beastes of the field, and to the foules of the ayre,

8 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, I wil bring a ſworde vpon thee, and deſtroy out of thee both man and beaſt.

9 Yea the land of Egypt ſhal be deſolate and waſte, and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lord, bycauſe he ſayd, The riuer is mine, I my ſelfe haue made it.

The. xxx. Chapter.

The deſtruction of Egypt, and of hir cities is bewayled.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie, and ſpeake, Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Howle, wo worth this day.

3 For the day is neare, the day of the Lorde is at hand, the darke day, the time of the nations ſhall be.

4 And the ſworde ſhall come vpon Egypt, and feare ſhall be in Ethiopia, when the ſlayne ſhal fall in Egypt: and they ſhal take away hir multitude, and hir foundations ſhall be broken downe.

5 Yea Ethiopia, Libya, and Lidya, all theyr common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate vnto them, ſhall fall with them through the ſworde.

6 Thus ſayth the Lord, The mayntayners of the land of Egypt ſhall fall, the pride of hir power ſhal come downe: euen from ẏ towre of (a) Seueneh ſhall they fall downe in it with the ſworde, ſayth the Lord God.

a. Whi a ſtron of Egy Exek. B

7 Among other deſolate countries they ſhall be made deſolate, among other waſte cities they ſhall be waſted.

8 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I haue ſet a fyre in Egypt, and when all hir helpers ſhall be deſtroyed.

9 In that daye ſhall meſſengers goe forthe from me in ſhippes, to make the careleſſe Mozians afrayde, and feare ſhall come vpon them, accozding to the day of Egipt: for loe it commeth.

10 Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, I will cauſe the multitude of Egypt to ceaſſe by ẏ hand of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon.

11 He, and his people with him, the terrible nations ſhall be brought to deſtroy the land: they ſhall drawe out theyr ſwordes vpon

Egypt,

Egypt, and fill the land full of slayne men.
12 I will make theyr riuers drie, and sell the land into the handes of wicked people: the lande and all that is therein I will destroy through the hande of strangers: euen I the Lord haue sayd it.
13 Thus sayth the Lord God, I will destroy the idolles, and bring the images of (b) Noph to an ende: there shall no more be a prince of Egypt, and a fearefulnesse will I send into the Egyptians lande.
14 Is for Pathros, I will make it desolate, and kindle a fire in (c) Zoan, and I wyl execute iudgements in (d) No.
15 And I will powre my wrathful indignation vpon Sin the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy the multitude of No.
16 And I will kindle a fire in Egypt, Sin shall be in great trauaile, No shall be rooted out, and Noph shall haue dayly sorowe.
17 The yong men of "Auen, & of 'Phibeseth, shall fall by the sword, and these (cities) shall go into captiuitie.
18 At Thaphnehes the day shall be (e) darke, when I breake there the barres of Egypt, and when the pompe of her power shal ceasse in her: a cloude shal couer her, and her daughters shall goe into captiuitie.
19 Thus will I execute my iudgementes in Egypt, and they shal know how that I am the Lorde.
20 And in the (f) eleuenth yeere, vppon the seuenth day of the firste moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
21 Thou sonne of man, I haue (g) broken the arme of Pharao king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, to put a roller to binde it, to make it strong to holde the sworde.
22 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I will vpon Pharao king of Egypt, and breake his arme that was strong, but is broken: and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hande.
23 Is for the Egyptians, I will scatter them among the nations, and strawe them in the landes about.
24 Agayne, I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babylon, & giue him my sword in his hande: but I will breake Pharaos armes, and he shall grone the groninges of a deadly wounded man before him:
25 Yea I wyll strengthen the king of Babylons armes, and ỹ armes of Pharao shall fall downe: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shal (h) giue my sword into the hande of the king of Babylon, that he may stretche it out vpon the land of Egypt.
26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and straw them in the landes about: and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

The.xxxi. Chapter.

1. A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharao with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10. He propheseth a lyke destruction to them both.

1 MOreouer, in the (a) eleuenth yeere, the first day of the thirde moneth, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, and to al his people: Whom art thou (b) lyke in thy greatnesse?
3 Beholde, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with fayre braunches, and with thicke shadowing boughes of a high stature, and hys top was among thicke boughes.
4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with hir riuers running rounde about his plantes, and sente out hir (c) little riuers vnto all the trees of the fielde.
5 Therefore was he hygher than all the trees of the fielde, and his boughes were multiplied, and his braunches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, whiche the deepe sent out.
6 All foules of the ayre made their nestes, in his braunches, vnder his boughes did all the beastes of the fielde bring forth their yong, and vnder his shadowe dwelte all mightie nations.
7 Beautifull was he in his greatnesse, and in the length of his braunches: for his rote stoode beside great waters.
8 No Cedar tree mighte (d) hide him in the garden of God, there was no fyrre trees lyke his braunches, the chestnut trees were not like the boughes of him: all the trees in the garden of God, might not be compared vnto him in his beautie.
9 I made him fayre with the multitude of hys braunches: in somuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had enuie at him.
10 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, For somuch as he hath lift vp him selfe so hygh, and hathe shot vp hys toppe among the thicke boughes, and his hart is lift vp in hys heighth:
11 I haue therefore deliuered hym into the hands of the (e) mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, (for) in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.
12 And straungers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and haue left him: vpon the mountaynes and vppon all valleyes

The. xxxij. Chapter.

2. The Prophete is commaunded to bewayle Pharao the king of Egypt. 12. He propheſieth that deſtruction ſhall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

℣ 1 IN the (a) twelfth yeere, the fyrſt day of the twelfth moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, a. Which was the fyrſt yeere of the generall captiuitie vnder Zedekiah. b. Thus the ſcriptures cōpare tyrants to cruell and huge beaſtes, which deuour all that be weaker than they, and ſuch as they may ouercome.

2 Thou ſonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and ſay vnto him, Thou art (b) like a Lion of the heathen, and as a whale fyſh in the ſea: thou draweſt out thy riuers, thou (c) troubleſt the waters with thy feete, and ſtampeſt in theyr ryuers.

c. Thou diſquieteſt the world with warre.

3 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will ſpread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, theſe ſhall make thee come vp into my net.

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the lande, and caſt thee vpon the open fielde, and I wyll cauſe all the foules of the ayre to remayne vpon thee, and fill all the beaſtes of the fielde with thee.

5 Thy fleſh will I lay vpon the hylles, and fyll the valleyes with thy (d) highneſſe.

6 I will (e) water thine outflowing lande with thy bloud, euen to the mountaynes, and the riuers ſhall be full of thee.

7 When thou art (f) put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his ſtarres dimme: I will ſpread a cloude ouer the ſunne, and the moone ſhall not giue hir light.

8 All the lights of heauen wil I make darke for thee, and bring (g) darkeneſſe vppon thy land, ſayth the Lord God.

9 I will ſtirre vp to anger the harts of many people, when I bring thy deſtruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreyes which thou knoweſt not.

10 Yea I will make many people amaſed at thee, and their kings ſhall be aſtoniſhed with feare for thee, when I ſhall make my ſworde to glitter againſt their faces: and they ſhall be afrayde at euery moment, euery man for his owne lyfe in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus ſayth the Lord God, The kyng of Babylons ſworde ſhall come vpon thee:

12 With the ſwordes of the mightie will I ſmite downe thy multitude: they all ſhall be terrible nations, and they ſhall deſtroy the (h) pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhall be conſumed.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſtes thereof, from the great waters ſydes, neyther ſhall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the houes of beaſtes trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters (i) deepe, and cauſe their riuers to runne lyke (k) oyle, ſayth the Lord God, 15 When I make the lande of Egypt deſolate, and when the countrey with all that is therein, ſhal be layd waſt, and when I ſmite all them whiche dwell in it, then ſhall they know that I am the Lorde.

16 This is the mourning when they ſhall lamente hir, the daughters of the nations ſhall lament hir, they ſhall make the lamentation ouer Egypt & ouer al the people therof, ſayth the Lorde God.

17 In the twelfth yeere, the fifteenth daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, ſaying,

18 Then

18 Thou sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and (l) cast them downe, euen them and the daughters of the famous nations, vnto the neather partes of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

19 Whome doest thou passe in (m) beautie? goe downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised.

20 Among those that be slayne with the swoorde shall they lye: to the swoord is (n) she already deliuered, drawe hir downe, and all hir multitude.

21 The (o) mightie worthies shall speake to hir out of the hel, and to hir helpers: they are gone downe, and lye vncircumcised wyth them that be slayne with the swoord:

22 Assur is there also, with all his company, and their graues rounde about him, whyche were slayne, and fell all with the swoorde:

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are rounde about hys graue, (to wit) all the slayne and fallen by the swoord, which cause a feare (to be) in the land of the liuing.

24 There is (p) Elam also, with all his people round about his graue: whiche all beyng slayne and fallen with the swoorde, are gone downe vncircumcised vnder the earth, which neuertheless sometime brought feare into the land of the (q) liuing: they beare theyr owne shame, with the other that be gone downe to the graue.

25 They haue made his bed in the middest of the slayne, with all hys multitude, theyr graues are rounde about him: all these vncircumcised, slayne by the swoorde, although they caused theyr feare in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne theyr shame with them that goe downe to the pitte, they are layde in the midst of them that are slayne.

26 There is (r) Meshech also and Tubal, and their people, and theyr graues rounde about him: these all vncircumcised were slayn with the swoorde, bycause aforetime they made the land of the liuing afrayde.

27 They shall not lye with the (s) valiaunte, (which are) fallē of the vncircumcised, which are gone down to the graue with their weapons of warre, and haue layd theyr swoordes vnder their heads: but their iniquitie shall be vppon theyr bones, bycause the terrour of theyr myghtie (was) in the lande of the liuing.

28 Yea among the vncircumcised shalte thou be destroyed, and sleepe with them that perished through the swoord.

29 There is Edom, with hir kings and princes also, which with their strength are layde by them that were slayne with the swoorde: yea among the vncircumcised shall they sleepe, and with them which are gone down into the pit.

30 Moreouer, there be all the princes of the (t) north, with all the Sidonians whiche are gone downe with the slayne: with theyr feare and strength they are come to confusion, and lye there vncircumcised among those that be slaine with the swoord, and beare their owne shame with them that goe downe to the pit.

31 Pharao shal see them, and be (v) comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharao and all hys armie (shall be) slayne with the swoord, sayeth the Lord God.

32 For I haue giuen my feare (x) in the lande of the liuing: but Pharao and all his people shall be layd among the vncircumcised, and among thē that be slayne with ẏ swoord, sayth the Lord God.

l. That is, the kings of Babylon.

v. Like as the wicked reioice when they see others partakers of their miseries.

x. I wil make the Egyptians afrayde of me, as they haue caused other to feare them.

The .xxxiij. Chapter.

3. He setteth out the office of the gouernours & ministers. 14. He strengthneth them that despayre, & boldneth them with the promise of mercy. 30. The word of the Lord against the remnant of the people, against the mockers of the wordes of the prophete.

1 AGayne the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake to ẏ children of thy people, and tell them, When I sende a swoord vpon a land, if the people of the lande take a man of their costes, and set him to be their (a) watchman:

3 Yf when he seeth the swoorde come vpon the land, he shall blow the trumpet and warne the people:

4 Then he that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not be warned, and the swoorde come and take him away, his bloud shall be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, therefore his bloud be vpon him: but he that receyueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Agayne, if the watchman see the swoorde come, and blowe not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the swoorde come then, and take any man from among them: the same shall be (b) taken away in his owne sinne, but his bloud will I require at the watchmans hande.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israell: therefore thou shalte heare the worde at

a. He sheweth that the people ought continually to haue gouernours and teacher, which may haue care ouer them, and to warne them euer of the dangers which are at hande.

b. Signifying that the wicked shall not escape punishment, though the watchmen be negligent: but if the watchmē blow the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shal deserue double punishment. Chapt. 3. 6.

at (c) my mouth, and thou ſhalt warne them from me.

c. Which teacheth that he that receyueth not his charge and watche-word at the Lords mouth, is a ſpye, and not a true watchman.

8 If I ſaye vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou ſhalte ſurely die, and thou ſpeakeſt not to admoniſhe the wicked of his way: that wicked man ſhall die in his owne ſinne, but his bloud will I require at thy hande.

9 Neuertheleſſe, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and he yet will not be turned from his way: then ſhall he die in his iniquitie, but thou haſte deliuered thy ſoule.

10 Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſraell, yea ſay thus, If our offences and ſinnes lye vpon vs, and we be conſumed in them, (d) how ſhould we then lyue?

d. Thus the wicked when they heare of Gods iudgemẽts for their ſinnes, diſpaire of his mercies, and murmure. Ezec. 18. c.

11 Tell them, as truely as I liue, ſayeth the Lord God, I haue no pleaſure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue: Turne you, turne you from youre wicked wayes, for why will ye die, O yee of the houſe of Iſraell?

Ezec. 18. c.

12 Therefore, thou ſonne of man, tell the children of thy people, The righteouſneſſe of the righteous, ſhall not ſaue him in the day of his iniquitie: agayne, The wickednеſſe of the wicked, ſhall not ouerthrowe him for it, in the daye that he returneth from his wickedneſſe: neyther ſhall the righteous liue for (e) it, in the day that he ſinneth.

e. Namely, his righteouſneſſe.

13 If I ſay vnto the righteous, He ſhall ſurely lyue, and ſo he truſt to his owne ryghteouſneſſe, and do ſinne: then ſhall his righteouſneſſe be no more thought vppon, but in his wickednеſſe that he hathe done, in it he ſhall die.

14 Agayne, if I ſay vnto the wicked, Thou ſhalte ſurely dye: and ſo he turne from his ſinnes, and (f) do the thing that is lawful and righte,

f. Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocriſie, which pretend to forſake wickedneſſe, and yet declare not theſelues ſuch by theyr fruites: that is, in obeying Gods cõmandements, and by godly life.

15 Inſomuch that the ſame wicked man gyueth the pledge agayne, reſtoreth that he had taken away by robberie, walketh in ỹ commaundements of life, and doth none iniquitie: then ſhall he ſurely lyue, and not dye.

16 None of the ſinnes that he hathe committed ſhall be mentioned vnto hym: for in ſo much as he doth now the thing that is lawfull and right, he ſhall liue, 17 And yet the children of thy people ſay, The way of the Lorde is not equall: but theyr owne way is rather vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteouſneſſe, and dothe the thing that is wicked, he ſhall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednеſſe, doing the thing that is lawfull and right, he ſhall liue therefore.

20 Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lorde is not equall, O ye houſe of Iſraell, I will iudge euery one of you after his wayes.

21 In the twelfth yeere, the fifth day of the tenth month of our (g) captiuitie, one which was eſcaped out of Hieruſalem, came vnto me and ſayd, The citie is ſmitten.

22 Nowe the (h) hande of the Lorde had bene vpon me the euening afore this man which was eſcaped came vnto me, and had (i) opened my mouth vntill the morning that he came to me: yea, my mouth was opened, ſo that I was no more dumbe.

23 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, and ſayde.

24 Thou ſonne of man, theſe that dwell in the waſted land of Iſraell, talke and ſay, (k) Abraham was but one man, and he had the land in poſſeſſion: nowe are we many, and the land is giuen vs to poſſeſſe alſo.

25 And therefore tell them, Thus ſayeth the Lord God: In the bloud haue ye eaten, your eyes haue ye lift vp to idolles, and haue ſhed bloud: ſhall yee then haue the land in poſſeſſion?

26 Ye (l) leane vpon your ſwordes, yee worke abhominations, euery one defileth his neighbours wife: and ſhall yee then poſſeſſe the lande:

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lord GOD, As truely as I liue, they that are in the deſolate places ſhall fall by the ſword, and him that is vppon the fielde, will I giue vnto the beaſtes to be deuoured: and they that be in the ſtrong holdes and dennes, ſhall die of the peſtilence.

28 For I will make the land ſo deſolate and waſte, that the pompe of hir ſtrength ſhall ceaſſe: the mountaynes of Iſraell ſhall be ſo waſte, that no man ſhall trauayle thereby.

29 Then ſhall they knowe that I am the Lord, when I make the lande deſolate and waſte, becauſe of all theyr abhominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou ſonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the waters, and in the dores of their houſes, and ſpeake one to another, euery one to his brother, ſaying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what word is gone forth from the Lorde:

31 They come vnto thee as the people vſeth to come, and my people ſit before thee, & heare thy words but they do not therafter: for in their mouthes they make a (m) ieſt of them, and their hart goeth after their couetouſneſſe.

32 And

such zeale and affection, that we ſhould not onely delight to heare it preached, but alſo in all poyntes obey it: else the word to our owne condemnation, and make of the as though they were ieſtes to ſerue mens fantaſies.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them as a (n) iesting song of one that hath a pleasant voyce, and can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but do them not.

33 When this commeth to passe (loe, it commeth:) then shall they know that there hathe bin a prophet among them.

The .xxxiiij. Chapter.

Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christe, and seeke theyr owne gayne. 7. The Lorde sayeth that he wyll visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 18. He reproueth the malice of certayne of the flocke. 23. He promiseth the true shepheard Christ, and with him peace.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophesie against the shepheardes of Israell, prophecie and speake vnto them, thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto the shepheardes, Wo be vnto the (a) shepeardes of Israell that feede them selues: shoulde not the shepheards feede ỹ flockes?

3 Ye eate vp the (b) fat, ye cloth you with the woll, the best fedde do ye slay: but the flocke do ye not feede.

4 The (c) weake haue ye not strengthned, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue yee not bound together, the driuen away haue ye not brought againe, the lost haue yee not sought: but with force and crueltie haue yee ruled them.

5 They are scattered without a shephearde, yea all the beastes of the fielde (d) deuoure them, and they goe astray.

6 My sheepe go wandring vpon all mountaynes, and vppon euery hygh hill, yea my flocke is scattered thzough all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth (after them.)

7 Therefore, O ye shepheards, heare the word of the Lorde.

8 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lorde God, forsomuch as my sheepe are robbed, and deuoured of all the wilde beastes of the fielde, hauing no shephearde, and seeing that my shepheardes seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede them selues, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore, heare the word of the Lord, O ye shepheardes,

10 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will vpon the shepheardes, and require my sheepe from their handes, and make them ceasse from feeding of the sheepe, yea the shepheardes shall feede them selues no more: for I will (e) deliuer my sheepe out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

11 For thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I (euen) I will looke to my sheepe my selfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shephearde when he hathe bin among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroade: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue bin scattered, in the (f) cloudie and darke day.

13 I will bring them out from the people, and gather them togeather out of the lands, I wil bring them into their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaynes of Israell, by the riuers, and in all the places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures, and vpon the high mountaynes of Israell shall theyr foldes be: there shall they lie in a good folde, and in a fat pasture shal they feed, euen vpon the mountaynes of Israell.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: suche as are driuen away, will I bring againe: suche as be broken, will I bind vp: such as be weake, will I make strong: such as be fat & strong, those will I rote out, and feede them wyth (g) iudgement.

17 And as for you, O my sheepe, sayeth the Lord GOD, I will iudge betweene cattayle and cattaile, betweene the Rammes and the Goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten vp the good (h) pasture, and to treade downe the residue of your pasture with your feete also? to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feete?

19 Thus my sheepe must be fayne to eate the thing that ye haue troden downe with your feete, and to drinke it that ye with your feete haue defyled.

20 Therefore, thus sayth the Lorde GOD vnto them, Beholde, I (euen) I will iudge betweene the fatte cattayle, and the leane cattayle.

21 Forsomuch as with syde and shoulder yee haue shoued, and with your hornes haue pushed all the weake, till ye haue scattered them abroade.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shall no more be spoyled, yea I wyll iudge betweene cattayle and cattayle.

23 I will set vp ouer them a shepheardе, and he shall feede them, euen my seruaunt (i) Dauid, he shall feede them, and he shall bee their shepheardе.

24 And I the Lord wyll be theyr God, and my

The.xxxv. Chapter.

The deſtruction that ſhall come on the mount Seir, that is, on the Idumeans, bycauſe they troubled the people of the Lorde.

I 1 MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward the mount (a) Seir, propheſie againſt it, Eſay.34.a.

a. Where the Idumeans dwelt.

3 And ſay vnto it, thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, O thou mount Seir, I will vpon thee, I will reache out my hande ouer thee, yea waſte and deſolate will I make thee,

4 Thy cities will I lay waſte, & thou ſhalte lye voyde, that thou mayeſt know how that I am the Lord,

5 Forſomuch as thou beareſt an old enmitie, and haſte put the children of Iſrael to flight by the force of the ſword, in the time of their calamitie, (when their) iniquitie had an end:

6 Therefore, as truely as I liue, ſayeth the Lorde God, I wil prepare thee vnto bloud, yea bloud ſhall folow vpon thee, except thou (b) hate bloud, euen bloud ſhall perſecute thee.

b. Except thou repent thy former cruelte.

7 Thus will I make the mount Seir deſolate and waſt, and cut out from it him that paſſeth out, and him that returneth. B

8 His mountaynes wyll I fyll with hys ſlayne men, thy hylles, valleyes, and all thy riuers, the ſlayne with the ſword ſhall fall in them.

9 I will make thee a perpetuall wildernesſe, ſo that thy cities ſhall not (c) returne: that ye may know that I am the Lord. c. To the ſame eſtate. d. Not tilled, 13 Thus with youre mouthes ye haue made your boaſtes againſt me, yea and multiplyed youre wordes againſte me, whyche I haue heard.

14 Thus ſaith the Lorde God, To the ioy of all the world will I make thee waſt.

15 And lyke as thou waſt glad bycauſe the heritage of the houſe of Iſraell was deſtroyed, euen ſo will I doe vnto thee: thou ſhalte be deſtroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, wholly, and they ſhal know that I am the Lorde. C

The.xxxvi. Chapter.

2. He promiſeth to deliuer Iſraell from the Gentiles. 22. The benefites done vnto the Iewes, are to bee aſcribed to the mercy of God, not vnto their deſeruings. 26. God reneweth our harts, that we may walke in hys commaundementes.

I 1 THou ſonne of man, propheſie vnto the mountaynes of Iſraell, and ſpeake, Heare the worde of the Lorde, O ye mountaynes of Iſraell. Eze.

2 Thus ſayth the Lord God: Bycauſe your (a) enimie hathe ſayde vpon you haha, the (b) high places of the worlde are nowe become ours in poſſeſſion: a. The Idumeans b. The hyls of Iſ

3 Propheſie therefore, and ſpeake, thus ſayeth the Lorde God, For bycauſe that they haue made you deſolate, and ſwalowed you vp on euery ſide, that ye might be a poſſeſſion vnto vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and yee are taken vp in the (c) lippes and tongs of men, and to the reproch of the people:

4 Therefore, heare the worde of the Lorde God, O ye Mountaynes of Israell, thus sayth the Lord God to the mountaynes and hilles, to the riuers and valleyes, to the wast and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken which are spoyled and had in derision on euery syde, among the residue of the heathen:

5 Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde GOD, Surely in the fyre of my gelousie haue I spoken againste the residue of the Gentiles, and againste all Edom, whiche haue (d) appointed my land for their possession, whiche also reioyced from their whole hart with a despitefull stomacke, to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaynes and hylles, to the riuers and dales, thus sayth the Lord God: Beholde, thys haue I spoken in my gelousie, and terrible wrath, bycause ye haue borne the (e) shame of the heathen:

7 Therefore, thus sayeth the Lorde God, I haue (f) lift vp my hand, surely the heathen that are about you shall beare their shame.

8 But you, O mountaynes of Israel, ye shal (g) shote out your braunches, & bring forth your fruite to my people of Israell: for they are at hand to come.

9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you will I turne my face, that they may be tilled and sowen.

10 I will multiply men vpon you, (euen) all the house of Israell wholly, the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shall be repayred agayne.

11 And I will multiply vpon you man and beast, which shall encrease and bring fruite: and I will cause you to dwell after youre old estate, and be better (h) vnto you than at the beginning: and ye shall know that I am the Lorde.

12 Yea I will cause men to walke vpon (i) you, (euen) my people Israell, and they shal possesse (k) thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalte no more hencefoorth depriue them of (men.)

13 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Forsomuch as they say vnto you, Thou art an (l) eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:

14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neyther destroy thy people any more, sayeth the Lord God.

15 Neyther will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the Heathen any more: neyther shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, nor cause thy folk to fall any more, sayth the Lord God.

16 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpon their owne ground, they defyled them selues with their owne wayes and imaginations: so that in my syght, their way was like the vncleannes of a remoued woman.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrathfull displeasure vpon them, bycause of the bloud that they had shedde in the lande, and bycause of their idolles wherewith they had defyled it:

19 I scattered them also among the heathen, so that they wer strawed about in the lands: according to their ways, and after their own inuentions, so did I iudge them.

20 And when they entred vnto the Heathen whyther they wente, they polluted my holy name, when they sayd of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land. Esay.52.a. Rom.25.d.

21 Then spared I my holy (m) name, whyche the house of Israell had dishonored among the Gentiles where they came.

22 Therefore, tell the house of Israell, thus sayth the Lorde God: I (n) do not thys for your sakes, O house of Israell, but for my holy names sake, whiche ye dishonoured among the heathen, where ye came.

23 Therefore I will halow my great name againe, whiche among the Gentiles is polluted, for ye youre selues haue dishonoured it among them: and the Gentiles shal know that I am the Lorde, sayeth the Lord God, when I shall bee sanctified in you before your eyes.

24 As for you, I will take you from among the Heathen, and gather you together out of all countries, and bring you agayne into your owne lande.

25 Then will I sprinckle cleane (o) water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea from all youre vncleannesse, and from all youre idolles shall I cleuse you.

26 A newe hart also will I giue you, and a new spirite wyll I put into you: as for that stony hart I will take it out of your flesshe, and giue you a fleshy hart. Ieremy.23.g.

27 I will giue my spirit among you, and cause you to walk in my commaundements, and ye shall keepe my iudgementes, and do them.

28 And so ye shall dwell in the lande that I gaue to your fathers: and yee shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I wil deliuer you from all your vncleannesse, I will call for the (p) corne, and wyll encrease it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 I will multiply the fruites of the trees,

m. And therefore would not suffer my name to be had in contempt, as the Heathē would haue reproched me, if I had suffered my church to perish.

n. This excludeth from men al dignitie and meane to deserue any thīg by, seeing that God referreth the whole to him selfe, and that only for the glory of his holy name

p. Vnder the abundance of temporal benefites he concludeth the spirituall graces.

and the encreaſe of the fielde: ſo that ye ſhall receyue no more reproch of hũger amõg the Heathen.

31 Then ſhall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and youre imaginations whiche were not good: ſo that ye ſhall be(q) itkſome in your owne eyes for your ſinnes and abhominations.

q. Ye ſhal come to true repentance, & think yourſelues vnworthy to be of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude againſt him.

32 But I will not doe this for youre ſakes, ſayth the Lorde God, be ye ſure of it: therefore, O ye houſe of Iſraell, be aſhamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreouer, thus ſayth the Lord GOD, What time as I ſhall cleanſe you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited agayne, and the places that be decayed ſhall be repayred.

34 The deſolate lande ſhall be tilled agayne, whiche afore time lay waſt in the ſight of all them that went by.

F 35 And they ſhall ſay, This waſt lande was lyke the garden of Eden: and theſe waſt and deſolate and ruinous cities (were) ſtrong (and) inhabited.

36 Then the reſidue of the Heathen that lye rounde about you, ſhall knowe that I the Lorde, (r) repayre that was broken downe, & plant agayne that, that was made waſte: euen I the Lorde haue ſpoken it, and will do it in deede.

r. He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the ſoyle or fertylitie of the earth, that any countrey is rich and abũdaunt but only to Gods mercies, as hys plagues & curſes declare when he maketh it barren.

37 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, I will yet for this be ſought of the houſe of Iſraell, to doe it for them, I wil multiply them as a flocke of men, 38 Like as the holy flocke, and the flocke of Hieruſalem are in the high ſolemne feaſtes, ſo ſhall alſo the waſted cities be fylled with flockes of men: and they ſhall know that I am the Lorde.

The.xxxvij. Chapter.

12. He propheciеth the bringing agayne of the people being in captiuitie. 16. He ſheweth the viſion of the ten tribes with the two.

A 1 THe hand of the Lord was vpon me, and caried me out in the ſpirit of the Lorde, and ſet me downe in the middeſt of a plaine field that was full of(a) bones.

a. By this viſion, he prophecieth that the people of Iſraell ſhall be deliuered, whome he cõpares to bones of dead men: for as drye bones ſeeme without all hope of life againe, ſo the Iſraelites thought they ſhould neuer returne into their countrey, as appeareth by their words in the eleuenth verſe, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, &c.

2 And he ledde me rounde about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open field, and loe, (they were) very drie.

3 Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, thinkeſt thou theſe bones may lyue againe? I anſwered, O Lorde God, thou knoweſt.

4 And he ſayde vnto me, Prophecie thou vpon theſe bones, and ſpeake vnto them: Ye drie bones heare the word of the Lorde,

5 Thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD vnto theſe bones, Beholde, I will cauſe breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you ſinowes, and make fleſhe growe vpon you, and couer you ouer with ſkinne, and ſo giue you breath, that ye maye liue, and know that I am the Lorde.

7 So I prophecied as I was commaunded: and as I was propheceying, ther was a noiſe, and loe a greate motion, ſo that the bones came neare together bone to his bone.

8 Nowe when I had loked, beholde, they had ſinowes, and fleſh grew vpon them, and aboue they were couered with ſkin: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then ſayd he vnto me, Thou ſonne of mã, prophecie thou towarde the winde, prophecie and ſpeake to the winde, thus ſayth the Lord God: Come, O thou ayre from the foure (b) windes, and blow vpon theſe ſlain, that they may liue.

b. He

10 So I prophecied as he had commaunded me: then came the breath into them, and they receyued life, and ſtode vp vpon their feete, a maruelous great armie.

11 Moreouer, he ſayd vnto me, Thou ſonne of man, theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſraell: Behold, they ſay, Our bones are dryed vp, our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore propheſie thou, and ſpeake vnto them, thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD, Behold, I will open your graues, O my people, and cauſe you to come vp out of your ſepulchres, and bring you into the land of Iſraell againe.

13 So ſhall yee knowe that I am the Lorde, when I open youre graues, O my people, and bring you(c) out of your ſepulchres.

c. The 14 My ſpirit alſo will I put in you, and ye ſhall lyue, I will ſet you againe in youre owne lande: and ye ſhall knowe that I the Lorde haue ſayde it, and fulfilled it indeede, ſayth the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

16 Thou ſonne of man, take one ſticke, and write vpon it, Vnto Iuda, and to the chyldren of Iſraell hys companions. Then take another ſticke, and write vpon it, Vnto Ioſeph the ſticke of Ephraim, and to al the houſhold of Iſraell his companions.

17 And (d) ioine thee them one to another into one ſticke: and they ſhall be as one in thy hande.

d. Which

18 Nowe if the children of thy people ſpeake vnto thee, ſaying, Wilt thou not ſhewe vs what thou meaneſt by theſe?

19 Then

19 Then giue them this aunswer, thus sayth the Lorde God: Beholde, I wyll take (c) the stocke of Joseph, whiche is in the hande of Ephraim, and of the tribes of Israell hys felowes, and will put them with him (euen) with the stocke of Juda, and make them one stocke, and they shall be one in my hande.

20 And the stickes whereupon thou writest, shalte thou haue in thy hande, that they may see.

21 And thou shalt say vnto them, thus sayth the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the children of Israell from among the Heathen, vnto whome they be gone, and wyll gather them together on euery side, and bring them againe into their owne lande.

22 Yea, I will make one people of them in the land vpon the mountaynes of Israel, and one king shall be king to them all: they shall no more be two peoples, neyther be diuided from hencefoorth into two kingdomes.

23 They shall also defile them selues no more with their idolles and abhominations, and all their wicked doings: I wyll saue them out of all theyr dwelling places wherein they haue sinned, and will so clense them, that they shal be my people, and I wil be theyr God.

24 Dauid my seruaunt shall be theyr kyng, and they all shall haue one shephearde only: they shall walke in my iudgements, and my commaundements shall they keepe, and fulfyll them.

25 They shall dwell in the land that I gaue vnto Jacob my seruante, whereas your fathers also haue dwelt, yea (euen) in the same land shall they, their children, and theyr childers children dwell for euermore: and my seruant Dauid shall be their prince for euer.

26 Moreouer, I will make a bonde of peace with them, whiche shall be vnto them an euerlasting couenaunt: I will settle them also, and multiply them, my sanctuarie will I set among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle shall be with them: yea I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 Thus the Heathen also shall knowe that I the Lorde do sanctifie Israell, when my sanctuarie shall bee among them for euermore.

The.xxxviij. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall come with an appoynted host into the land of promise. 12. Theyr intent. 17. He rehearseth that the comming of Gog was before prophecied of the Prophetes. 21. The destruction of him.

1 AND the word of ỹ Lord came vnto me, A saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face towarde (a) Gog, the lande of Magog, whiche is the chiefe prince at Mesech and Tubal: prophecie against him,

3 And say, thus sayth ỹ Lord God, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Mesech, and Tubal, behold I will vpon thee:

4 And I wil turne thee backe, and put hookes in thy chawes, I will bring thee forth, and all thine host, both horse and horsemen, al armed with all sortes of armour, a great multitude with speares and shieldes, all handling swordes.

6 (c) Gomer and all his hostes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters, and all his hosts, yea and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, set thy selfe in aray with all thy people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After many days thou shalt be visited: and in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bin turned (and tost) with the sword, and gathered together againe out of many people vpon the mountaynes of Israell, which haue bene always (subiect) to waste: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalte ascende and come vp like a storme, as a cloude to couer the lande shalte thou be, thou with all thyne hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lorde GOD, At the same tyme shall thynges come vnto thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke (d) euill thoughtes,

11 And say, I wyll go to the lande of (e) vnwalled villages, I wyll goe to them that be at rest, whiche dwell safely, all dwelling without walles, they haue neyther barres nor gates:

12 To spoyle the pray and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are (now) inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together from among the Heathen, whyche haue gotten cattell and goodes, and dwell in the middest of the lande.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, and the marchauntes of Tharsis, with all their Lions, say vnto thee, (f) Art thou come to spoyle a pray? hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take away syluer and golde, to carie away cattell and good, and to haue a great pray?

e. Meaning Israell, which had now bin destroyed, and was not yet built againe, declaring here by also the simplicitie of the godly, who seeke not so much to fortifie them selues by outwarde force, as to depend on the prouidence and goodnesse of God.

f. One enimie shall enuie another, bicause euery one shal thinke to haue the spoyle of the people of God.

14 Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, thou ſhalt prophecie and ſay vnto Gog, thus ſayth the Lord God, In that day when my people Iſraell (g) dwelleth ſafe, ſhalte thou not know it?

15 And thou ſhalt come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horſes (euen) a great multitude, and a mightie armie.

16 Yea thou ſhalte come vppon my people of Iſraell, as a cloude to couer the lande: this ſhall come to paſſe in the (h) latter days, and I will bring thee vp into my lande, that the Heathen may know me, when I ſhall be (i) ſanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus ſayeth the Lorde GOD, Art not thou he of whome I haue ſpoken in olde time (k) by the handes of my ſeruauntes the prophetes of Iſraell, whiche prophecied in thoſe dayes and yeeres, that I ſhould bring thee vpon them?

18 At the ſame time, when Gog commeth vp into the land of Iſraell, ſayth the Lord God, ſhall mine indignation riſe in my wrath:

19 For in my ielouſie, and fyre of my wrathe haue I ſpoke it, ſurely at that time there ſhal be a great ſhaking in the land of Iſraell.

20 The very fyſſhes in the Sea, the fowles in the ayre, the beaſtes of the fielde, and all that moue and creepe vpon the earthe, and all the men that are vpon the earth, ſhal tremble at my preſence: the hylles alſo ſhall be turned vpſyde downe, the (l) ſtayres ſhall fall, and all walles ſhall fall downe to the grounde.

21 I will call for a ſwoord vpon (m) him in al my mountaynes, ſayth the Lorde GOD: ſo that euery mans ſwoorde ſhall be vpon another.

22 With peſtilence and bloud will I pleade againſt him: ſtormie rayne, and bayleſtones, fyre and brimſtone will I cauſe to rayn vpon him, and all his hoſtes, yea and vpon all that great people that is with him.

23 Thus wyll I be magnifyed, ſanctifyed, and known in the eyes of many nations: and they ſhall know that I am the Lorde.

m. Againſt the people of Gog and Magog. Chap. 36. c. and. 27. d.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1. He ſheweth the deſtruction of Gog and Magog. 11. The graue of Gog, and hys hoſt. 17. He prophecieth that Gog and hys company ſhall be deuoured of byrdes and beaſts. 23. Wherefore the houſe of Iſraell is waſted. 25. Their bringing agayne from captiuitie is promiſed.

1 THerefore, O thou ſonne of man, prophecie againſte Gog, and ſpeake, thus ſayth the Lord God, Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince at Meſech and Tubal, I wyll vpon thee.

2 And I will turne thee about, and I wyll (a) prouoke thee forwarde, and cauſe thee to come vp from the North partes, and bryng thee vp to the mountaynes of Iſraell.

3 As for thy bowe, I will ſmite it out of thy left hand, and cauſe thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou with all thine hoſt, and all the people that is with thee, ſhal fall vpon ỳ mountaynes of Iſraell: then will I giue thee vnto the (b) flockes of byrdes (euen) to all feathered foules, and beaſtes of the fielde, to be deuoured.

5 Thou ſhalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue ſpoken it, ſayth the Lord God.

6 Into Magog, and among thoſe that dyt ſo carelеſſe in the (c) Iles, will I ſend a fyre, & they ſhall know that I am the Lord.

7 I will make alſo the name of my holyneſſe to be knowen among my people of Iſraell; and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the very Heathen alſo ſhall know that I am the Lord, the holy one of Iſraell.

8 Behold it is (d) come, and it is done, ſayth the Lord GOD: this is the day whereof I haue ſpoken.

9 They that dwell in the cities of Iſraell, ſhall goe forth, and (e) ſet fyre vpon the weapons; and burne them, ſhields and ſpeares, bowes & arrowes, hand ſtaues and ſwoordes, and they ſhall burne them with fyre ſeuen yeeres.

10 So that they ſhal els bring no wood from the feld, neyther hewe downe any out of the wood: for with weapons ſhall they make their fyre, they ſhall robbe thoſe that robbed them, and ſpoyle thoſe that ſpoyled thẽ, ſayth the Lord God.

11 At the ſame time will I giue vnto Gog, a place to be buried in Iſraell, euen the valley where through men goe toward ỳ Eaſt ſea: thoſe that trauaile thereby, ſhall (f) ſtop their noſes, there ſhall Gog, and all his multitude be buried, and it ſhall be called the valley of the multitude of Gog.

12 Seuen monethes long ſhall the houſe of Iſraell be burying of them, that they maye clenſe the land.

13 Yea all the people of the lande ſhall burie them, and they ſhall haue a name when I ſhall be glorified, ſayth the Lord God.

14 They ſhall chooſe out men to goe continually through the land, to (g) burie, as they paſſe through, thoſe that remayne vppon the ground, to clenſe it: after the ende of ſeuen monethes.

moneths, shall they make their search.

15 And the trauaylers that passe thorough the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set vp a token by it, til the dead buryers haue buried it also in the valley of the multitude of Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shall bee called (b) Hamonah: thus shall they make the land cleane.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth ẏ Lord God, Speake vnto the byrdes, and all feathered foules, yea and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble you together, and come, gather you round about to my (i) sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, (euen) a great sacrifice vpon the mountaynes of Israell, that ye may eate flesh, and drinke bloud.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the bloud of the princes of the land, of the Rammes, of ẏ Weathers, of ẏ Goates, and of the Bullockes, that be all fedde at Basan.

19 Ye shall eate the fatte your belly full, and drinke blond till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Ye shall fyll you at my table with horses, and horsemen, with the valiant and men of warre, sayth the Lord God.

21 I will set my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my iudgemente that I haue executed, and my hande which I haue layd vpon them.

22 And the house of Israell shall knowe that I am the Lorde their God, from that daye, and so forwarde.

23 And the Heathen shall know, that wheras the house of Israell was led into captiuitie, it was for their (k) wickednesse sake, bycause they offended me: for the which cause I hyd my face from them, and delinered them into the hands of their enimies, that they might all be slayne with the sworde.

24 According to their vncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therfore, thus saith the Lord God: Now will I bring agayne the captiues of Jacob, and haue mercy vpon the whole house of Israel, and be ielous for my holy names sake.

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed againste me when they dwelt safely in their lande, and no man to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them agayne from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enimies lands, and am sanctified in them in the syght of many nations:

28 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God, whiche caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne lande, and not left one of them any more there.

29 After that will I hide my face no more from them, but wyll powre out my spirit vpō the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

The. xl. Chapter.

The restoring of the cities, and of the temple that was to come, is shewed vnto the prophete.

1 IN the fyue and twentie yeere of oure captiuitie, in the (a) beginning of ẏ yere, the tenth day of the moneth, that is, the fourtenth yeere after the citie was smitten, the selfe same day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither:

2 Euen into the land of Israell brought hee me in the visions of God, and set me downe vppon a marueylous hygh mountayne, whereupon there was as it had bin the building of a citie toward the South.

3 Thyther he caried me, and behold ther was a (b) man, whose similitude was like brasse, which had a twisted line of flaxe in his hand, and a cane to measure with: and he stode in the dore.

4 And that man sayde vnto me, Thou sonne of manne, marke well with thine (c) eyes, hearken to with thine eares, and fasten it in thy hart, what soeuer I shall shewe thee: for to the intent that they might be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israell thereof.

5 Behold, there was a wall on the (d) outside of the house, round about: the cane to measure with that he had in his hande, was sire cubites long: by the (e) cubite, and a hande breadth: so he measured ẏ breadth of ẏ building with one cane, and the height with one cane.

6 Then came he to the gate which loketh toward the East, and went vp the stayres therof, and measured the post of ẏ gate one cane broade, and the other post of ẏ gate one cane broade.

7 And (euery) chamber was one cane long, and one cane broad, and betweene the chambers were fyue cubites: and the post of the gate by the porch of ẏ gate within, was one cane.

8 He measured also ẏ porch of the gate within with one cane.

9 Then measured he the porche of the gate

10 And the chambers of the gate Eaſtwarde, were thꝛee on this ſide, and thꝛee on that ſide: they thꝛee were of one meaſure, and the pentiſes had one meaſure on this ſide, and one meaſure on that ſide.

11 After this he meaſured the bꝛeadth of the entꝛie of the gate ten cubites, and the heyght of the gate thirtiene cubites.

12 The ſpace alſo befoꝛe the chaumbers was one cubite (on thys ſyde) and the ſpace one cubite on that ſide: and the chaumbers ſyxe cubites on this ſyde, and ſyxe cubites on that ſyde.

13 He meaſured the gate from the roꝛe of a chamber to hys owne roꝛe the bꝛeadth of fiue and twentie cubites: doꝛe againſt doꝛe.

C 14 He made" frontes alſo of thꝛeeſcoꝛe cubites, (euen) vnto the front of the court round about the gate.

" or, pentiſes.

15 And from the foꝛefront of the entꝛie of the gate, vnto the foꝛefront of the gate within (were) fyftie cubites.

16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chaumbers, and in the frontes within the gate rounde about, and ſo in the arches: and the windowes (went) rounde aboute within, and vpon the frontes were Paulme trees. G

17 Then bꝛought he me into the outwarde court, where as were chambeers, and a pauement made foꝛ the court round about: thirty chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement (was) by the ſyde of the gates, ouer againſt the length of the gates: and the pauement (was) beneath.

19 Then he meaſured the bꝛeadth, from the foꝛefront of the lower gate without, vnto the foꝛefront of the court within, a hundꝛeth cubites Eaſtward and Noꝛthward.

20 And the gate in the outward court, that loked toward the Noꝛth, meaſured he after the length and bꝛeadth thereof.

D 21 And the chambers thereof (were) thꝛee on this ſide, and thꝛee on that ſide: and the fronts thereof, and the arches therꝛof, were after the meaſure of the (f) firſt gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the bꝛeadth fyue and twentie cubites.

f. That is, the Eaſt gate, as appeareth in the next verſe.

22 And their windowes and their arches with their paulme trees (were) after the meaſure of ẏ gate that loketh toward the Eaſt: and the going vp vnto it (had) ſeuen ſteppes, and the arches thereof (were) befoꝛe them.

23 And the gate of the inner court (ſtoode) ouer againſt the gate toward the Noꝛth, and toward the Eaſt, and he meaſured from gate to gate a hundꝛed cubites.

24 After that he bꝛought me toward the South, where there ſtode a gate toward the South, and he meaſured the fronts therof, and the arches thereof, accoꝛding to thoſe meaſures.

25 And (there were) windowes in it, and in the arches thereof rounde about like theſe windowes: the length (was) fiftie cubites, and the bꝛeadth fyue and twentie cubites.

26 And (there were) ſeuen ſteppes at the going vp to it, and the arches thereof befoꝛe thē: and it had Paulme trees, one on thys ſyde, and another on that ſide, vppon the fronte thereof.

27 And (there was) a gate in the inner courte toward the South, and he meaſured from gate to gate toward the South, a hundꝛed cubites.

28 So he bꝛought me into the inner courte C thoꝛough the South gate, and he meaſured ẏ South gate accoꝛding to thoſe meaſures.

29 And the chaumbers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, accoꝛding to theſe meaſures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof round about, fyftie Cubites long, and fyue and twentie Cubites bꝛoade.

30 And the arches rounde about (were) fyue and twentie cubites long, and fyue cubites bꝛoade.

31 And the arches thereof (were) toward the vtter courte, and Paulme trees vppon the frontes thereof, and the going vp to it (had) eyght ſteppes.

32 He bꝛought me alſo into the inmoſt courte toward the Eaſt, and meaſured the gate accoꝛding to thoſe meaſures.

33 And the chaumbers thereof, and frontes thereof, and the arches thereof (were) accoꝛding to theſe meaſures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof roũd about: it (was) fyftie cubites long, and fyue and twentie cubites bꝛoade.

34 And the arches thereof (were) toward the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the fronts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going vp to it had eyght ſteppes.

35 And he bꝛought me to the Noꝛth gate, f & meaſured it accoꝛding to thoſe meaſures.

36 The chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, and (there were) windowes therein rounde about, and the length (was) fyftie cubites, and the bꝛeadth fyue and twentie cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof (were) toward the vtter courte, and paulme trees (were) vppon the frontes thereof on this ſide, and on that ſyde, and the going vp to it had tyght steppes,

48 And a chamber, and the entrie thereof (was) vnder the fronts of the gates: there they washed the (g) burnt offerings.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slue the burnt offering, & the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side without the steppes at the entrie of the North gate (stoode) two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate (were) two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure on that side, by the syde of the gate (euen) eyghte tables, whereupon they slue (theyr sacrifices.)

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a Cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broade, and one cubite high, whereuppon were layde the instrumentes wherewith they slue the burnte offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were hookes one hande breadth (long) fastned round about, and vpon the tables was the offering flesh.

44 And without the inner gate (were) the chambers of the syngers in the inwarde court, whiche was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was towarde the South: and one was at the syde of the East gate, hauing the prospect towarde the North.

45 And he sayde vnto me, Thys chaumber, whose prospect is towarde the South, (is) for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chaumber whose prospect is towarde the North (is) for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the aulter: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, whiche of the sonnes of Leui come neare to the Lorde, to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, whiche had in length a hundred cubites, and a hundred in breadth, (euen) foure square: and the aulter stode before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the (h) house, and measured the porche fyue Cubites on this side, and fyue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on thys syde, and three cubites on that side.

49 The (i) length of the porche was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men vp to it: by the fronts also were pillers, one on this side, and another on that side.

The.xli. Chapter.

1. The disposition and deuice of building agayne the temple, and of the other thinges thereto belonging.

1 AFter this he brought me to the temple, and measured the frontes sixe cubites broade on the one side, and sixe cubites broade on the other syde (which was) the breadth of the tabernacle. A

2 The breadth of the doze was ten cubites, and the sides of the doze (were) fyue cubites on the one side, and fyue cubites on the other side, and he measured the length (a) thereof foztie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

a. Of the temple, from thys dore to the most holy place.

3 Then went he in, and measured the fronte of the dooze two cubites: but the dooze it selfe was syxe cubites, and the breadth on the other syde of the dooze was seuen cubites.

4 He measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the temple. And he sayd vnto me, Thys is the most holy (place.)

5 He measured also the wall of the house sixe Cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

6 And the chambers were, chamber vppon chamber, three and thirtie in ozder: and they entred the wall whiche was of the house for the chambers round about, that they myghte be fastned, and not be fastned in the wall of the house.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still vpward to the chambers: for the staire of ỹ house was mounting still vpward round about the house, therefore the house was larger vpward: so they wente vp from the lowest (chamber) to the hyghest by the middest. B

8 And I saw the house high rounde aboute: the foundations of the chaumbers (were) a full cane of syxe Cubites (b) vp to the armeholes.

b. That is, great, and of the largest sise.

9 The thicknesse of the wall whiche was for the chamber without (was) fyue cubites, and that whiche remayned, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betwene the chambers was the wideneste of twentie cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

11 And the dozes of the chambers were toward the " place that remayned, one dooze toward the North, and another towarde the South: and the breadth of the place that remayned, was fyue cubites round about.

" or, voyde space.

12 Nowe the buylding that was before the ſeparate place at the ende toward the weſte (was) ſeuentie cubites broade: and the wall of the building was fyue cubites thicke rounde about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house, whyche was a hundred cubites long, and the ſeparate place, and the building with the walles, wer a hundred cubites long also.

C 14 The breadth also of the forefront of the house, and of the ſeparate place towarde the east, was a hundred cubites.

15 And he measured the lēgth of the building ouer againſte the ſeparate place, whiche was behinde it, and the chambers on the one ſide, and on the other ſide a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the courte.

16 The dore poſtes, and the narrowe windowes, and the chambers rounde about, on three ſides ouer againſt the dore, ſeeled with wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes: and the windowes themſelues were ſeeled.

17 And from aboue the dore vnto the house within and without, and vpon euery wall round about within and without (tooke he) meaſure.

c That is, Cherubims and Palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

18 And it was made with (c) Cherubims and Palme trees, ſo that a Palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euery Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the Palme tree on the one ſide, and the face of a Lion towarde the Palme tree on the other ſide: (thus) was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the grounde vnto aboue the dore were Cherubims and Palme trees made: and (thus was) the wall of the temple.

D 21 The poſtes of the temple were foure ſquared, and the faſhion of the ſanctuarie was (d) appearance like appearance.

d. That is, the dore poſts or cheekes of the ſanctuarie, wer lyke the doore cheekes of the temple.

22 The aulter of wood was three Cubites hygh, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles thereof, were of wood. And he ſayd vnto me, This is the table that ſhall be before the Lorde.

23 The temple and the holyeſt of all had eyther of them two dores.

e. That is, two eaues, one on the one ſide, and the other on the other ſide, of eyther of the dores.

24 And the dores had two (e) dores (a peece, (euen) two folding dores, two for the one dore, and two dores for the other.

25 And vpon the dores of the temple, there were made Cherubims and Palme trees, lyke as was made vpon the walles: and thicke beames vpon the forefront of ẏ porche without.

26 And (there were) narrowe windowes and Palme trees on the one ſide and on the other ſyde, by the ſides of the porche, and vppon the ſydes of the house, and thicke beames.

The. xlij. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the temple for the prieſtes, and the holy things.

1 THen led he me into the vtter courte by the way towarde the northe, and he brought me into the chamber that (was) ouer againſte the ſeparate place, whiche (was) before the building toward the North. A

2 Before the length of a hundred Cubites (was) the North dore: and the breadth (was) fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer againſt the twentie cubites, which were for the inner court, and ouer againſte the pauement, which was for the vtter court (was) chamber agaynſte chamber three (orders.)

4 And before the chambers, there was a walking place of tenne cubites wide inwarde, the way of one cubite: and their dores toward the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alway narower: for thoſe chambers (ſeemed) to eate vp theſe (to wit) the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillers as the pillers of the courtes: therefore were they ſmaller than the neathermoſt and the midolemoſt (to reckon) from the grounde.

7 And ẏ wall that was without ouer againſt the chaumbers, towarde the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, ẏ length therof was fiftie Cubites. B

8 For the length of the chaumbers that were in the vtter court was fiftie Cubites: and loe, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder theſe chambers (was) the entrie from the eaſt, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court:

10 In the thickneſſe of the wall of the court toward the eaſt before the ſeparate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them, after the appearance of the chambers which were towarde the North, as their length, ſo was their breadth: and al their entries (were) according to their faſhion, and according to their dores.

12 And according to the dores of the chaumbers that were towarde the South, (was) a dore in the head of the way, (euen) the way waye directly before the wall towarde the east, as one entreth.

12 Then sayde he vnto mee, The chaumbers towarde the northe, and the chaumbers towarde the south, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priestes that (a) approche vnto the Lord muste eate the moste holie thyngs, and there muste they lay the moste holy things, and the meate offering and sinne offering, and trespasse offering: for it is a holy place.

13 When the Priestes come therein, they shal not goe oute of the holy place into the vtter courte, but there they shall lay vp their garmentes wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shall put on (b) other garmentes, and so shall approche to those which are for the people.

14 Now when he hadde finished the measuring of the house within, he led me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and he measured it rounde aboute.

15 He measured the easte syde with the measuring cane fyue hundred canes, (euen) with the measuring cane rounde about.

17 And he measured the northe syde fiue hundred canes (euen) with the measuring cane rounde about.

18 The south syde also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned aboute (also) to the weste syde, and measured fyue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So he measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round aboute, fyue hundred canes long, and fyue hundred brode, to make a separation betweene the (c) sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

The.xliij. Chapter.

1. He seeth the glorie of God goyng into the temple, from whence it had before departed. 7. Hee mencioneth the idolatrie of the children of Israell for the whiche they were consumed and brought to nought. 10. He is commaunded to call them agayne to repentaunce.

1 SO he brought me to the gate (euen) the gate that turneth towarde the east.

2 And beholde, then came the glorie of the God of Israell from out of the easte, whose voyce was lyke a greate noyse of waters, and the earth was lightned with his glorie.

3 And according to the appearance of the vision whiche I sawe (euen) according to the vision whiche I sawe (a) when I came to destroye the citie: and the visions were like the visions whiche I sawe by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

4 And the (b) glorie of the Lorde came into the house, by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.

b. Whiche was departed before. Chapt. 10. 2. & 11. c.

5 So a winde toke mee vp, and brought me into the innermore courte, and beholde, the house was full of the glorie of the Lord.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stoode a man by me:

7 And hee sayde vnto me, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seate, and the place of my fotesteps, whereas I will dwel among the children of Israell for euermore: so that the house of Israell shall no more defile my holy name, neyther they, nor their kinges throughe their whoredome, and throughe the dead bodies of their (c) kinges (in) their high places.

c. He alludeth to Ammon & Manasses, who were buried in their gardens neere the temple, and ther had erected vp monuments to their idols.

8 Albeit they haue set their thresholds by my thresholdes, and their postes by my postes, and a wall betwixte me and them, yet haue they defiled my holie name with their abhominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrathe.

9 But nowe lette them put awaye their whoredome, and the dead bodyes of their kings out of my sight, and I will dwell among them for euermore.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, shewe thou the house of Israell this house, that they may be ashamed of their wickednesse, and measure themselues an example therat.

11 And if they be ashamed of all their workes, then shewe them the forme of the house and paterne therof, the going out, the comming in, all the manner thereof, yea all the ordinaunces therof, the figures, and all the lawes thereof, and write it in their sighte, that they may kepe the whole fashion therof and all the ordinaunces therof, and do them.

12 This is the (d) lawe of the house: Vpon the top of the mounte shall all the limites thereof bee, rounde aboute the moste holye place: loe, this is the lawe of the house.

d Or description.

13 And these are the measures of the aultar in cubites: the cubite is a cubite and a hande breadth, the bottome (shall be) a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the border therof, by the edge thereof rounde about, was one spanne, and thys (shall be) the heyghthe of the aultar.

14 And from the bottom vpon the grounde, vnto the lower peece (shall be) two cubites, and the breadth one cubite: and from the little peece to the great peece (shall be) foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The aultar was foure cubites hygh, and from the aultar vpward stoode foure hornes.

16 And the aultar was twelue cubites long, and twelue cubites broade, ſquare in the foure corners thereof.

17 The frame of the aultar (ſhal be) foureteene cubites long, and foureteene brode in the foure ſquare corners therof, and the border aboute it ſhall be halfe a cubite, and the bottome thereof (ſhal be) a cubite about, and the ſteppes therof (ſhal be) turned towarde the eaſt.

18 And hee ſayde vnto mee, Thou ſonne of man, thus ſayeth the Lord God, Theſe are the ordinaunces of the aultar, in the daye when it is made, to offer burnte offerings therupon, and to ſprinkle bloud therupon.

19 And thou ſhalt giue to the Prieſtes, to the Leuites that be of the ſeede of Sadoc, and approche vnto mee, ſayth the Lorde God, to miniſter vnto mee, a young bullocke for a ſinne offering.

20 And thou ſhalte take of the bloud therof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe it, and purge it.

D 21 Thou ſhalte take the bullocke alſo of the ſinne offeryng, and burne him in the appointed place without the ſanctuarie.

22 The ſeconde daye, take a Goate bucke without blemiſhe for a ſynne offeryng, to cleanſe the aulter withall, lyke as it was cleanſed with the bullocke.

23 Nowe when thou haſte made an ende of cleanſing it, then offer a yong bullock without blemiſhe, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemiſhe alſo.

24 Offer them before the Lorde, and let the Prieſtes caſt ſalte therupon, and giue them ſo vnto the Lorde for a burnt offering.

25 Seuen dayes ſhalt thou prepare euery day a goate bucke for ſinne, a yong bullock and a ramme of the flocke, bothe without blemiſhe ſhall they prepare.

26 Seuen dayes ſhal they reconcile and cleanſe the aulter, and (c) fill the place therof.

c. Or, conſecrate it.

27 When theſe dayes are expired, then vpon the eight daye, and ſo forth the prieſts ſhall make youre burnt offerings, and peace offerings vpon the aultar: ſo I will accept you, ſayth the Lord God.

The.xliiij. Chapter.

1. He ſheweth what doore of the Temple is ſhutte. 6. He is commanded to vpbrayd the people with their offence. 9. VVho are to be admitted to the ſeruice of the tẽple, & who to be refuſed. 15. He ſheweth what Prieſtes hee woulde haue admitted into the holye place, and alſo their office

2 Then ſayd the Lorde vnto me, This gate ſhall be ſtill (a) ſhut, and not opened, neyther ſhall any man goe through it: for the Lorde God of Iſraell hathe entred by it, and it ſhall be ſhut.

a. Mat. 28. from whom but the Chriſt.

3 It is for the prince, the prince himſelfe ſhall ſit in it, to eate bread before the Lord: he ſhal enter by the way of the porche of that gate, and ſhall goe out by the waye of the ſame.

4 Then brought he mee towarde the northe gate before the houſe: and as I loked, behold, the glorie of the Lorde filled the houſe of the Lorde, and I fell vpon my face.

5 So the Lord ſpake vnto me, O thou ſonne of man, ſet thyne hearte, and beholde wyth thyne eies, & heare with thine eares all that I ſay vnto thee concerning all the ordinances of the houſe of the Lorde, and all the lawes therof, and marke well the entring in of the houſe, w̃ euery going forth of the ſanctuarie.

6 And thou ſhalt ſay to the rebellious (euen) to the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſayth the Lord God, O houſe of Iſraell, ye haue ynoughe of all your abhominations.

7 Seyng ye haue brought into my ſanctuarie (b) ſtrangers hauing vncircumciſed hearts, & vncircumciſed fleſhe, to be in my ſanctuarie, to pollute my houſe, when ye offer my bread fat, and bloud, and they haue broken my couenant, becauſe of all your abhominations:

8 And ye haue not kepte the (c) ordinances of my holie thinges, and ye haue ſet keepers to keepe my ſanctuarie (d) for you.

c. Ye offred accordyng my law. d. In my place.

9 Therfore thus ſayeth the Lord God, Of all the ſtrangers that dwell among the children of Iſraell, no ſtraunger vncircumciſed in heart, nor vncircumciſed in fleſhe, ſhall enter into my ſanctuarie.

10 But the Leuites that wente backe from me when Iſraell went aſtray, which ſtrayed from me after their idols, (e) ſhall beare their iniquitie:

e. The Leuites had ſome idolatrie put them digreſſion, cauſe receiued the prieſthode, they of the Antichriſt ſeruice, ſeruice as to wayte to keepe doores.

11 And they ſhall be miniſters in my ſanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the houſe, and miniſter in the houſe: they ſhal ſlay the burnt offrings, and the ſacrifice for the people, and they ſhal ſtand before them to ſerue them.

12 Becauſe they ſerued before their idols, and cauſed the houſe of Iſraell to fall into iniquitie: therfore haue I lifte vp my hand againſt them, ſayth the Lord God, and they ſhall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they ſhall not come neare vnto me to do the office of a prieſt vnto mee, neither ſhal they come neare vnto anye of myne holye things in the moſt holy place: but they ſhal beare heare theyr owne shame and abominations which they haue done.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the house for all the seruice thereof, and for al that shal be done therein.

15 But the priestes, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that (f) kepte the charge of my sanctuary, when the chyldren of Israell strayed from me, shal come to me to do me seruice, to stande before me, and to offer me the fat and the blond, sayth the Lorde God.

16 They shal goe into my sanctuarie, and approche vnto my table to do me seruice, and they shal keepe my charge.

17 Now when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shal put on linnen clothes, so that no woollen come vpon thē while they do seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonnets vpō theyr heades, and linnen "breeches vppon their loynes: they shall not gyrde them selues in the "sweate.

19 And when they goe forth into the vtter court (euen) to the vtter court of the people, they shal put of the clothes wherin they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the sanctuarie, and put on other apparell, and they shal not sanctifie the people with theyr clothes.

20 They shall not (g) shaue theyr heades, nor suffer theyr heare to growe long, but poule theyr heades only.

21 All the priestes that goe into the innoost court, shal drynke no wine.

22 They shall mary no wydowe, neyther one that is put from hyr husband, but a mayde of the seede of the house of Israel, or a widowe that hath had a priest before.

23 They shall shewe my people the difference betweene the holy & vnholy, & cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stande to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shall they keepe in al my solemne feastes, and halow my sabbothes.

25 They shall come at no dead person to defile them selues: but with father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had yet no husband, (h) may they be defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shal be reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when he goeth into the sanctuarie, vnto the inner courte, to minister in the sanctuarie, he shal bryng his sinne offeryng, sayth the Lorde.

28 There shal be to them an inheritance, (euen) I theyr inheritance: but possession shall ye gyue them none in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 The meate offeryng, sinne offeryng, and trespasse offeryng shall they eate: and euery dedicate thyng in Israel shalbe theyrs.

30 And al the first of all the first borne, and euery oblation, (euen) al of euery sorte of your oblations shal be the priests: ye shal also giue vnto the priestes the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessyng to reste in thyne house. Exod. 13. a. Num. 5. c.

31 But the priestes shall eate nothyng that is dead (by it selfe) or torne of foule or of beast. Exod. 22. c. Leuit. 22. b.

The. xlv. Chapter.

1. Out of all the lande of promyse are there separated foure portions, of whiche the first is giuen to the priestes and to the temple, the second to the Leuites, the thirde to the citie, the fourth to the prince. 10. Of iust weightes and measures. 13. Of the first fruites.

1 WHen ye diuide the lād by the lot for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation to the Lorde, a holy (a) portion of the lande, twentie and fiue thousande canes long, and ten thousande broade: this shal be holy in al the borders thereof rounde about. A

a. Of al the lande of Israel, the Lord requireth onely this portiō, for the temple, & for the priestes, for the citie, & for the prince.

2 Of this parte there shall belong vnto the sanctuary fiue hundred cubites (in length) with fiue hundred (in breadth) square, rounde about: and fiftie cubites rounde about for the suburbes.

3 And of this measure shalte thou measure, (namely) of the length of twentie and fiue thousande, and the breadth of ten thousande: and in it shal be the sanctuarie, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portiō of the land shal parteyne vnto the priestes whiche do seruice in the sanctuarie, which come neare to serue the Lord: and it shall be vnto them a place for theyr houses, and a holy place for the sanctuarie.

5 And in the twentie and fyue thousande length, and ten thousande breadth, shall the Leuites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Ye shall giue also vnto the citie a possessiō of fiue thousande canes broade, and twentie and fiue thousand long, ouer agaynst the oblation of the holy portion, that shal be for the whole house of Israell.

7 And (a portion shal be) for the prince on this side and on that side, of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, (euen) before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie, frō the west corner westwarde, and from the east corner eastward: and the length shal be B

8 In this lande ſhall be his poſſeſſion in Iſraell: and my princes ſhall no more oppreſſe my people, and (the reſt) of the land ſhal they giue to the houſe of Iſrael accordyng to their tribes.

b. The prophete ſheweth that the heads muſt be firſt reformed, afore any good order can be eſtabliſhed among the people.

9 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, (b) Let it ſuffiſe you, O ye princes of Iſraell: leaue off crueltie and oppreſſion, and execute iudgement and iuſtice: take away your exactions from my people, ſayth the Lorde God.

c. Ephah and Bath were both of one quantitie, for the Ephah cõteyned in drie things, that as the Bath did in liquide. Leuit. 5. b. Exod. 30. c. Leuit. 27. d. Num. 3. g.

10 Ye ſhall haue a true Ballance, a true (c) Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath ſhal be alyke: one Bath ſhall conteyne the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth parte of an Homer: the equalitie therof ſhal be after the Homer.

d. That is, threeſcore Sicles make a weight called Maneh: for he ioyneth theſe three partes to a Maneh.

12 The Sicle maketh twentie Gerahs: and twentie Sicles, and (d) twentie and fiue, and fiftiene Sicles make a Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye ſhall offer: the ſixth parte of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheate, and the ſixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concernyng the ordinaunces of the oyle, (euen) of the Bath of oyle, (yea ſhal offer) the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor: tenne Bathes (ſhal be) a Homer, becauſe tenne Bathes (fyl) a Homer.

15 And one lambe from two hundred ſheepe out of the fat paſtures of Iſrael, for a meate offryng, burnt offryng, and peace offryng, to reconcile them, ſayth the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande ſhall giue this oblation for the prynce in Iſrael.

17 Agayne, it ſhal be the princes part to offer burnt offerings, meate offerings, and wyne offerings, in the holy dayes, new moones, ſabbothes, and in all the high feaſtes of the houſe of Iſrael: he ſhal prepare the ſinne offeryng, meate offering, burnt offeryng, and peace offeryng, to reconcile the houſe of Iſrael.

e. Which was Niſan, conteyneyng part of March, & part of Aprili.

18 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, The firſt day of the firſt (e) moneth, thou ſhalt take a yong bullocke without blemiſhe, and cleanſe the ſanctuarie.

19 So the prieſt ſhall take of the bloud of the ſinne offeryng, and put it vpon the poſtes of the houſe, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the aulter, and vpon the poſtes of the gate of the inner courte.

20 And thus ſhalt thou do alſo the ſeuẽth day of the moneth, for ſuche as haue ſinned of ignorance, or beyng deceyued, to reconcile the houſe withal.

D 21 Upon the fourtienth day of the firſte moneth, ye ſhall haue the Paſſouer, a feaſt of ſeuen dayes, and yet ſhall eate vnleauened bread. Exod. 12. c. Leuit. 23. Deut. 16.

22 Upon the ſame day ſhall the prynce prepare for him ſelfe, and all the people of the lande, a bullocke for a ſinne offeryng.

23 And in the ſeuen dayes of the feaſt, he ſhall make a burnt offeryng to the Lorde, (euen) of ſeuen bullockes, and ſeuen rammes without blemiſhe dayly, for ſeuen dayes, and a her goate dayly for a ſinne offeryng.

24 And he ſhall prepare a meate offeryng of an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ramme, and a (f) Hin of oyle for an Ephah. f. Read Exod.

25 In the ſeuenth (moneth) in the fiftienth day of the moneth, on the feaſt, he ſhall do accordyng vnto theſe for ſeuen dayes: accordyng to the ſinne offeryng, accordyng to the burnt offeryng, and accordyng to the meate offeryng, and according to the oyle.

The. xlvi. Chapter.

1. The ſacrifice of the Sabbothes, and of the newe Moones. 8. Through whiche doores they muſt goe in, or come out of the temple.

1 THus ſayth the Lorde God, The gate of the inner courte towarde the Eaſt, ſhal be ſhut the ſixe worckyng dayes: but in the ſabboth and in the day of the newe moone it ſhal be opened.

2 And the prynce ſhall enter by the way of the porche of the gate without, and ſhal ſtand by the poſte of the gate: and the prieſts ſhall make his burnt offeryng, and his peace offerings, and he ſhall worſhip at the threſholde of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate ſhall not be ſhut tyll the euenyng.

3 On the ſame manner ſhall the people of the lande alſo do theyr worſhyp before the Lord at the dore of this gate, vpon the Sabbothes, and new Moones.

4 The burnt offeryng that the prynce ſhall bryng vnto the Lorde vppon the Sabboth, ſhall be ſixe lambes without blemiſhe, and a ramme without blemiſhe.

5 And the meate offeryng ſhal be an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offeryng for the lambes a (a) gift of his hande, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah. a. The much as he will.

6 In the day of the newe moneth (it ſhall be) a young bullocke without blemyſhe, and ſixe lambes, and a ramme alſo without blemiſhe.

7 With the bullocke he ſhall gyue an Ephah, and with the ramme an Ephah alſo for a meate offeryng: but to the lambes (b) accordyng as his hande ſhall take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah. b. According to his ability.

8 And when the prynce ſhall enter, he ſhall goe go in by the way of the porche of that gate: he shall go forth by the way therof.

9 But when the people of the land come before the Lorde in the yeare solemne feaste, as many as come in by the north gate to do worshippe, shall go out agayne at the south gate, and they that come in at the southe gate, shall goe forth agayne at the northe gate: there shall none returne by the gate where hee came in, but shall go right forth over on the other side.

10 And the prince, hee shall go in the middest of them when they go in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Upon the solemne and high feaste dayes, this shall be the meate offering: an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambes the gyft of his hande, and a Hin of Oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the Prince shall make a free burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lorde: one then shall open hym the gate that turneth towarde the east, and hee shal make his burnt offerings, and his peace offerings as he dyd on the sabboth daye: after hee shall go forth, and when hee is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a burnt offering vnto ỹ Lorde of a lãbe of one yeere without blemishe, thou shalt do it every morning.

14 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an Ephah, & the third parte of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with the fyne flowre: this meate offering shalbe continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lorde.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, the meate offering, and oyle every morning, for a continuall burnt offering.

16 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord God, If ỹ prince gyue a gyfte vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance therof shalbe his sonnes, their possession shalbe by inheritance.

17 But if he gyue a gyft of his inheritance to one of his seruantes, then it shalbe his to the (c) yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shall be theirs.

18 The prince also (d) shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them from their possession: but to his sonnes shal hee giue his owne possession, that my people be not scattered abrode euery man from his possession.

19 And he brought mee through the entrance at the side of the gate, to the holy chambers of the priestes, whiche stode towarde the north, and beholde there was a place vppon the west syde of them.

20 Then sayde he vnto me, This is the place where the priestes shal seeth the trespasse and sinne offerings, & bake the meate offerings: that they neede not beare them into the outwarde court, and to (e) sanctifie the people.

e. To cause the people to thik it is lawful for them to eate them, and so fal into a vaine opinion of holinesse and sanctification.

21 So hee brought mee into the vtter courte, and caused mee to go by the foure corners of the court: and beholde, in euery corner of the court, there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the courte there were courts ioyned of fourtie cubites long, and thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall rounde aboute them (euen) about those foure: and vnder the walls there were " kitchins made round about.

" rannges.

24 Then sayde hee vnto mee, These are the cookes houses, where the ministers of the house shal boyle the sacrifice of the people.

2. The vision of the waters that came out of the temple. 13. The coastes of the lande of promise, and the diuision thereof by tribes.

1 AFterwarde he brought mee agayne vnto the dore of the house, and beholde, there gushed out (a) waters from vnder the threshoulde of the house eastwarde: for the forefront of the house stode toward the east: and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right syde of the house, which lyeth to the aulter southwarde.

a. Wherby are ment the spirituall graces that should be giuen to the Churche vnder the kingdome of Christe, as, Ioha.4.c.

2 Then ledde he mee out to the north gate, & ledde mee about by the waye without vnto the vtter gate, by the way that turneth eastwarde: and beholde, there issued forth waters from the right side.

3 Nowe when the man that had the lyne in his hande went forth eastwarde, he measured a thousande cubites, & then he brought mee through the waters, the waters were to the ancles.

4 So hee measured yet a thousande, and brought mee through the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousande, and brought mee through, the waters (were) to the loynes.

5 After this he measured a thousande againe, then was it suche a (b) ryuer that I myght not wade through it, the waters was risen, and the waters dyd flowe as a ryuer that myght not be waded ouer.

d. Signifying that the graces of God should neuer decrease but euer abounde in his Churche.

6 And he sayde vnto mee, Hastle thou seene this, O thou sonne of man? and with that he brought mee, and caused mee to returne to the ryuer bancke agayne.

7 Nowe when I returned, beholde, at the banke of the ryuer were verie many trees(c) on the one ſyde, and on the other.

8 Then ſayde hee vnto mee, Theſe waters flowe out towarde the eaſt countreye, and runne downe into the plaine, and come into the (d) ſea: whiche when it commeth into the ſea, the(e) waters ſhall be wholſome.

9 Yea, all that lyue and moue, whereunto this riuer commeth, ſhall lyue, and there ſhall be a verie great multitude of fyſh, becauſe theſe waters ſhal come thither, for they ſhall be wholſome: and euerye thyng ſhall lyue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this ryuer ſhall the (f) fyſhers ſtande, from En gaddi, vnto (g) En Eglaim, and there ſpread out their nettes: for their fyſhe ſhall bee accordyng to their kyndes, as the fyſhe of the (h) mayne ſea, exceeding many.

11 But the (i) mariſhes therof, and the pittes thereof, ſhall not be made wholſome, they ſhall be made ſalte pittes.

12 By this ryuer vpon the bankes thereof on this ſide and on that ſyde, ſhall growe all trees for meate, whoſe leaues ſhall not fade, neyther ſhall the fruite thereof fall, but ſhal bring forth new fruit accordyng to his monethes, for the waters thereof runne out of the ſanctuarie: and the fruite therof ſhall be for meate, and the leaues thereof for "medicine.

13 Thus ſayth the Lorde God, Let thys bee the border wherby ye ſhall inherite the land, accordyng to the twelue tribes of Iſraell, Joſeph ſhall haue two portions.

14 And ye ſhall inherite it one as wel as another, concernyng the whiche I lyfte vp my hande to giue it vnto your fathers: and this lande ſhall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 This is the border of the(k) lande vpon the north ſyde, from the mayn ſea toward Hethlon, as men goe to Zedada.

16 (Namely) Hamath, Berotha, Sabarim, whiche are betweene the borders of Damaſcus, and betweene the borders of Hamath, Hazar, Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coaſts of Hauran.

17 Thus the borders from the ſea forth ſhalbee Hazar Enan, the border of Damaſcus, and the north northwarde, and the borders of Hamath, this is the north parte.

18 The eaſt ſyde ſhall ye meaſure from Hauran and Damaſcus, from Galead and the lande of Iſraell by Jordane, and from the border vnto the Eaſte ſea: and this is the eaſt parte.

19 The ſouth ſyde ſhall be towarde Teman, from Thamar to the waters of ſtrife in Cades, and the ryuer to the mayn ſea: and that is the ſouth parte towarde Teman.

20 The weſt parte alſo ſhall be the great ſea, from the borders tyll a man come ouer againſt Hamath: this is the weſt part.

21 This lande ſhall ye part among you, according to the tribes of Iſraell, 22 And diuide it by lot to be an heritage for you, and for the ſtrangers that dwell among you, and beget children among you: for ye ſhall take them among the children of Iſraell like as though they were of your owne countreye, and they ſhall haue (l) heritage with you among the children of Iſraell.

23 And in what tribe the ſtranger dwelleth, in the ſame tribe ſhall ye giue him his heritage, ſayth the Lorde God.

3 Vppon the borders of Aſer, from the Eaſt parte vnto the weſte, ſhall Nephthali haue his portion.

5 Upon the borders of Manaſſes, from the eaſt ſide vnto the weſt, ſhall Ephraim haue his portion.

C
Gen. 12. b. Deu. 34. a.
k. By the land of promiſe, he ſignifieth the ſpiritual land, whereof this was a figure.

the holy oblation: towarde the nozth fiue and twentie thousande (long) and towarde the west ten thousand bzode, towarde the east ten thousand bzode also, & towarde the south fiue and twentie thousande long, and the sanctuarie of the Lozde shall be in the middest thereof.

11 This sanctified portion shal be the priestes that are of the children of Sadoc, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray in the erroure of the chyldzen of Israell, lyke as the Leuites went astray.

12 Therfore this oblation of the lande that is offered, shal be theyrs, as a thyng most holy, harde vpon the bozders of the Leuites.

13 And ouer agaynst the bozder of the priests, shal the Leuites haue fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand bzoade: all the length shall be fiue and twentie thousande, and the breadth ten thousande.

14 Of this portion they shal sell nothing, noz make any permutation thereof, noz alienate the fiuste fruytes of the lande: foz it is holy vnto the Lozde.

15 And the fiue thousande that are left in the bzadth ouer agaynst the fiue and twentie thousande, shal be a pzophane place foz the citie, foz bousing, and foz suburbes: and the citie shal be in the middest thereof.

16 And these shal be the measures thereof: the nozth part fiue hundzed and foure thousande, and the south (b) parte fiue hundzed and foure thousand, and the east part fiue hundzed and foure thousande, and the west part fiue hundzed and foure thousande.

17 The suburbes of the citie shal haue toward the nozth two hundzed and fiftie, toward the south two hundzed and fiftie, towarde the east twos hundzed and fiftie, toward the west also two hundzed and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer agaynst the oblation of the holy portion, shall be tenne thousande towarde the east, and ten thousand toward the west: and it shal be ouer agaynst the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be foz theyr meate that serue the citie.

19 And they that serue the citie, they shal serue it out of al the trybes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be fiue and twentie thousande, (c) with fiue and twentie thousande: yee shall offer this oblation foure square, foz the sanctuarie, and foz the possession of the citie.

21 And the residue shall be foz the pzynce, on the one side, & on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the citie, ouer against the fiue and twentie thousande, of the oblation towarde the east bozder: and westwarde, ouer against the fiue & twentie thousand towarde the west bozder, ouer agaynst shal be the portion foz the pzynce: this shall be the holy oblation, and the house of the sanctuarie shall be in the middest thereof.

22 Moreouer, from the possession of the Leuites, and the cities possession, that whiche is in the middest shall be the pzynces, betwixte the bozder of (d) Juda, & the bozder of Beniamin shal be the pzynces.

23 Nowe of the other trybes, from the east part vnto the west, shall Beniamin haue his portion.

24 Upon the bozders of Beniamin, from the east side vnto the west, shal Simeon haue his portion.

25 Upon the bozders of Simeon, from the east side vnto the west, shal Issachar haue his portion.

26 Upon the bozders of Issachar, from the east side vnto the west, shall Zabulon haue his portion.

27 Upon the bozders of Zabulon, from the east part vnto the west, shall Gad haue his portion.

28 Upon the bozders of Gad at the South side towarde Temanah, the bozder shall be from Thamar, vnto the waters of strife to Cades, and to the ryuer (that runneth) into the mayne sea.

29 This is the lande whiche ye shall diuide by lot foz an inheritaunce vnto the tribes of Israell, and these be theyr portions, sayth the Lozde God.

30 These be the bondes of the citie, vpon the Nozth part fiue hundzed and foure thousand measures.

31 The gates of the citie shal haue the names of the trybes of Israell, three gates of the Nozth side: one gate of Ruben, another of Juda, the thirde of Leui.

32 Upon the East side fiue hundzed and foure thousande measures, with three gates, the one of Joseph, another of Beniamin, the thyrde of Dan.

33 Uppon the South side fiue hundzed and foure thousande measures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Issachar, the thirde of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the West side fiue hundzed and fiue thousande measures, with theyr three gates also: the one of Gad, another of Aser, the thyrde of Nephthali.

35 Thus shall it haue eyghtene thousande measures round aboute: and the name of the citie from that time fowth, shal be, The Lozd is there.

d. So that Iuda was on the north side of the princes & Leuites porcions, and Beniamin on the south side.

The ende of the Prophete Ezechiel

¶ The booke of the prophete Daniell.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The prophete sheweth the captiuitie of Iehoachim king of Iuda. 4. Of the children that were in captiuitie, the kyng commaundeth to chooſe whiche of them ſhoulde be taught the learnyng and language of the Chaldeans. 5. They are allowed the kyngs feedyng. 8. Daniel abſteyneth from the meate of the king of Babylon.

a. Reade, 4.Reg.24.a. Iere.25.a.

A 1 N the (a) thyrde yeare of the raygne of Iehoachim kyng of Iuda, came Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylō vnto Hieruſalē, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lorde deliuered Iehoachim the kyng of Iuda into his hande, with parte of the veſſels of the houſe of God, whiche he caried away into the lande of (b) Sennar to the houſe of his God, and he brought the veſſels into his goddes treaſurie.

b. Whiche was a plaine by Babylon, where was the temple of the great God, and is here taken for Babylon.

3 And the kyng ſpake vnto Aſphenaz the (c) chiefe chāberlayne, that he ſhould bring him certayne of the chyldren of Iſraell, of the kings ſeede, and of the princes,

c. Or maiſter of the Eunuches.

4 Syngaldes without any blemiſhe, but well fauoured, ſtudious in all wyſedome, ſkilfull for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and ſuche as haue liuelineſſe in them, that they (d) may ſtande in the kings palace: and whom they might teache the learnyng, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

d. Aſwel to ſerue at the table, as in other offices.

5 Unto theſe the kyng appoynted a dayly prouiſion euery day, of a portiō of the kings meate, and of the wyne whiche he dranke, ſo to nouriſhe them three yeares, that afterward they might ſtande before the kyng.

6 Among theſe nowe were certayne of the chyldren of Iuda: (namely) Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias.

B 7 Unto theſe the chiefe chamberlayne gaue (e) other names, and called Daniel, Baltaſar: Ananias, Sidrach: Miſael, Miſach: and Azarias, Abdnego.

e. Rather by-cauſe they would declare their power, as ſuperiors, to change the names of thē they ouercam, or els for hatred of their Hebrue names.

8 But Daniel purpoſed in his harte, that he would not defile himſelfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he requyred the chiefe chamberlayne that he might not defile hym ſelfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour & tender loue with the chiefe chamberlayne.)

10 And the chiefe chamberlayne ſayde vnto Daniel, I am afrayde of my lorde the kyng, whiche hath appoynted you your meate and your drynke: wherefore ſhoulde he ſee your faces worſe lykyng than the ſyngaldes of your age, and ſo ye ſhall make me indanger my head vnto the kyng.

11 Then Daniel ſayde vnto Melaſſar, whom the chiefe chamberlaine had ſet ouer Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but tenne dayes with thy ſeruants, and let vs haue pulſe to eate, and water to drynke.

13 Then let our countenances be loked vpon before thee, and the countenaunces of the chyldren that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou ſeeſt, deale with thy ſeruantes.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, & proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten dayes, their countenaunces appeared fayrer & (f) fatter in fleſhe than al the chyldrens which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

f. Or lyker.

16 Thus Melaſſar toke away the portion of their meate, and the wyne that they ſhoulde drynke, and gaue them pulſe.

17 As for theſe foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderſtandyng in (g) all learnyng and wiſedome: alſo he gaue Daniell vnderſtanding of al (h) viſions and dreames.

g. Hebrue knowledge.

18 Now when the (i) tyme was expired, that the kyng had appoynted to bring them in, the chiefe chamberlayne brought them before Nabuchodonoſor.

i. Of three yeares.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were founde none ſuche as Daniel, Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias: therefore ſtode they before the kyng.

20 In all matters of wyſedome and vnderſtandyng that the kyng enquired of them, he founde them tenne tymes better than all the wyſe men and ſothſayers that were in al his realme.

21 And Daniel abode ſtill vnto the (k) firſte yeare of kyng Cyrus.

k. Of his reigne.

The booke

The. ij. Chapter.

1 The dreame of Nabuchodonosor. 2. Hee calleth vnto him soothsayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof. 10. They answere, they can not shewe it. 13. The king commaundeth all the wyse menne of Babylon to be slaine. 16. Daniel requireth tyme to solute the question. 19. The Lorde openeth the mysterie vnto Daniell. 24. Daniel is broughte to the king, and sheweth hym his dreame, and the interpretation thereof. 44. Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christe.

1 IN the (a) seconde yeare of the raigne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreame, wherethrough his spirite was troubled, and his sleepe brake from him.

2 Then the King commaunded to call the wyse men, and soothsayers, and sorcerers, and the (b) Chaldees, for to shewe the kyng his dreame: So they came, and stode before the king.

3 And the kyng sayd vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirite was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Vpon this the Chaldees aunswearedthe king in the (c) Syrians speache, O king, god saue thy lyfe for euer: Shewe thy seruantes the dreame, and we shall shewe the interpretation.

5 The king answered, and sayd to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone fro me: If ye wil not make mee vnderstande the dreame with the interpretation therof, ye shall be drawne in peeces, and your houses made a iakes.

6 But if ye tell me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, yee shall receyue of mee guiftes, rewardes, and great honour, therefore shewe me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered agayne, and sayde, The kyng must shewe his seruauntes the dreame, and so shall wee declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the kyng answeared, saying, I perceyue of a trueth that ye woulde (d) redeeme the tyme, for so muche as ye see the thing is gone fro me.

9 Therfore if ye will not tell me the dreame, this is your onely purpose, ye haue prepared lying and corrupte wordes to speake before me, till the tyme be chaunged: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may knowe that yee can declare me the interpretation therof.

10 Vpon this, the Chaldees gaue answere before the king, and sayde, There is no man vpon earth that can tell the thyng whiche the king speaketh of, yea there is neither king prince, nor lord, that euer asked suche things at a wyse man, soothsayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requireth, neyther is there any that can certifie the king therof, except the goddes, whose dwelling is not with flesche.

12 For the whiche cause the king was wrothe with greate indignation, and commaunded to destroy all the wyse men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, and the wise mē were slain: they sought also to slay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniell stayed the counsell and decree with Arioch the captaine of the kyngs gard, who was gone forth to put to death the wyse men of Babylon. ℭ

15 He answered, and sayde vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastly from the kyng? Then Arioch tolde Daniel the matter.

16 Vpon this went Daniell, and desired the king that he woulde giue him leysure, and that he woulde shewe the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the thing to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias his companions:

18 That they should beseeche the God of heauen for grace in this secrete, that Daniel and his felowes, with other such as were wise in Babylon, perished not.

19 Then was the secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by nyght: then Daniel praysed the God of heauen.

20 Daniel also answered, & sayde, The name of God be praysed for euer and euer: for wisdome and strength are his. Psal. 113. a.

21 He chaungeth the times and seasons, he taketh away kings, he setteth vp kings: he gyueth wisedome to the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstande. ℑ

22 Hee reuealeth the deepe and secrete things, he knoweth ẏ thing that lyeth in darkenesse, for the lyght dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee, and prayse thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast gyuen mee wisedome and strength, and hast shewed mee nowe the thyng that wee desired of thee: for thou hast declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Vpon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whome the king had ordeyned to destroy the wise men at Babylon: he went & sayd thus vnto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babylon, but bring mee before the kyng, and I shall shewe the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the kyng in all the haste, and sayde thus vnto him, I haue founde a man among the children of Juda, that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then anſwered the king, and ſayde vnto Daniel, whoſe name was Baltaſſar:
Art thou able to ſhewe me the dreame whiche I haue ſeene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniell aunſwered in the preſence of the king, and ſayde: As for thys ſecrete for the which the king maketh inquiſition, there can neyther the men of vnderſtanding, nor ſothſayers, nor the wyſe men, nor readers of deſtinies, declare it vnto the king:

E ſmyteth the king with a certain feare & reuerence of God, that hee might be the more apt to re ceiue the high myſteries that ſhould be reuealed.

28 But there is a (e) God in heauen that reueraleth ſecretes, and ſheweth the king Nabuchodonoſor, what is for to come in the later dayes. Thy dreame, and that which thou haſt ſeene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, when thou waſt in thy bed, thou-ghtes came into thy mynde what ſhoulde come hereafter: ſo hee that is the opener of myſteries, telleth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me, this ſecrete is not ſhewed mee for any wyſedome that I haue more than any other lyuing: but onely that I might ſhewe the king the interpretation, and that thou myghteſt know the thoughtes of thine owne heart.

f. By this is vnderſtanded the worlde.

31 Thou king ſaweſt, and behold, ther (was) a great image: this greate (f) image, whoſe brightneſſe was excellent, ſtode before thee, and the fourme therof was terrible.

g. By gold, ſiluer, braſſe, and iron, are ment
the Chaldean, Perſian, Macedonian, & Ro-
mane kingdome, whiche ſhould ſucceſſiuely rule the world til chriſt (which is here called the ſtone) come him ſelfe and deſtroye the laſt.

32 This images (g) heade was of fine golde, his breaſt and armes of ſiluer, his belly and his thighes of braſſe.

33 His legges were of iron, his feet were part of iron, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldeſt it till a ſtone was cutte without hands, which ſmote the image vp-on his feete that were of iron and claye, and brake them to peeces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the braſſe, the ſiluer, and gold, broken altogyther, and became lyke the chaffe of ſommer floures, and the wynde caried them awaye, that no place was founde for them: and the ſtone that ſmote the image, became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and nowe will we ſhewe before the king what it meaneth.

37 O king, thou art a king of kyngs: for the God of Heauen hathe giuen vnto thee a kingdome, power, ſtrength, and glorie.

38 And in all places whereſoeuer the children of men dwell, the beaſtes of the fielde, & the foules of the ayre, hathe hee giuen into thy hande, and hath made thee ruler in them al:
thou art this (h) head of golde.

The.iij. Chapter.

1 The kyng setteth vp a golden image, whiche he commaundeth to be worshypped. 8. Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego are accused, bycause they despised the kings commaundement. 13. They are brought vnto the king, and commaunded to woorshyp the image. 16. They refuse to doo it, and are put into a burnyng ouen. 25. By beleefe in God they are deliuered from the fire. 28. Nabuchodonosor confesseth the power of God, after the sight of the miracle.

1 Nabuchodonosor the kyng made an image of golde, whiche was thyrtescore cubites hygh, and sixe cubites thicke: he set it vp in the playne of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng sente forth, to gather together the Dukes, Lozds, and nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies, and sheriffes, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the (a) dedication of the image whiche Nabuchodonosor the kyng (b) had set vp.

3 So the Dukes, Lozdes, and Nobles, the iudges, and officers, deputies, and sherifes, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered them together vnto the dedicatyng of the image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng had set vp, and they stode before the image which Nabuchodonosor had set vp.

4 Then an herolde cryed aloude: To you it is commaunded, O (c) people, nations, and langnages,

5 That when ye heare the noyse of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimer, and all maner of instruments of musicke, ye fall downe and worshyp that golden image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng hath set vp.

6 Who so then falleth not downe, and worshippeth, shall euen the same houre be cast into the middes of a hote fyrie furnace.

7 Therefore, when all the folke heard the noyse of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, and all instruments of musicke, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe, and worshypped the golden image that Nabuchodonosor the kyng had set vp.

8 Nowe were there certayne men of the Chaldees that went euen then, and (d) cryed out an accusation of the Jewes.

9 They spake, and sayde vnto kyng Nabuchodonosor, O kyng, lyue for euer.

10 Thou, O kyng, haste made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe, and worshyp the golden image:

11 And who so then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he shoulde be caste into the middes of an hote fyrie furnace.

12 Nowe are there certayne Jewes, whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, (namely) (e) Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: these men, O kyng, regarded not thy commaundement: yea they will not serue thy goddes, nor worshyp the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonosor in his anger and wrathe commaunded, that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego should be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and sayde, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, & Abednego, wyl not you serue my goddes, nor worshyp the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Nowe therefore be ready when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpette, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimers, and all instruments of musicke, to fall downe, and worshyp the image whiche I haue made: for if ye worshyp it not, ye shal be cast immediatly into the myddes of a hote fyrie furnace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of my handes?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answeared the kyng, and sayde, O Nabuchodonosor, we are not (f) carefull to aunsweare thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whom we serue, is (g) able to deliuer vs from the hote firie furnace: and he wyll deliuer vs out of thy hande, O kyng:

18 And though he wyll not, yet shalt thou knowe, O kyng, that we wyll not serue thy gods, nor worshyp the golden image whiche thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenaunce of hys face chaunged vppon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commaunded, that they should heate the furnace, one seuen tymes more than it was wont to be heate.

20 And he charged the moste valiant men of warre that were in hys armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, & to cast them into the hote fyrie furnace.

21 So these menne were bounde in theyr coates, hosen, head attyre, with theyr other garments, and caste into the middes of the hote fyrie furnace

e. It seemeth that they named not Daniel, bicause he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue better occasion to accuse Daniel after: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malitious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destructiō of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude. C f. They shuld haue done injurie to God, if they shoulde haue doubted in this holy cause, & therfore they say that they are resolued to die for gods cause.

g. They groūd on two poynts: first on the power and prouidence of God euer thē: secondly on theyr cause, whiche was Gods glory, & the testifying of his true religion with theyr bloud, & so make open confessiō that they wil not so much as outwardly cōsent to idolatrie. D

22 Therefore, becauſe the kyngs commaundement was ſtrayte, and the furnace was exceedyng hote, the men that put in Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, the flambe of the fire deſtroyed them.

23 And theſe three men Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, fell downe in the middes of the hote fyrie furnace bounde.

24 Then Nabuchodonoſor the kyng was aſtonyed, and roſe vp in all haſt: he ſpake vnto hys counſell, and ſayde, Dyd not we caſte three men bound into the myddes of the fire? They aunſweared and ſayde vnto the kyng, It is true, O kyng.

25 He aunſweared and ſayde, Loe, I ſee foure menne lowſe, walkyng in the middes of the fyre, and they haue no hurte: and the fourme of the fourth is lyke the (h) ſonne of God.

h. That is, an angel of God, as verſe. 28.

26 Upon this went Nabuchodonoſor vnto the mouthe of the hote fyrie furnace, he ſpake alſo, and ſayde, O Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ye ſeruants of the hygh God, goe forth, and come hither. And ſo Sidrach, Miſach, & Abednego came forth of the middes of the fyre.

27 Then the dukes, lordes, and nobles, and the kyngs counſell, came together to ſee theſe men, vpon whom the fyre had no maner of power in theyr bodyes: in ſo muche that the very heare of theyr head was not burnt, and theyr clothes vnchaunged, yea there was no ſmell of fyre felt vpon them.

Ⓔ 28 Then ſpake Nabuchodonoſor, and ſayde, Bleſſed be the God of Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, which hath ſent his angel, and deliuered his ſeruants that put theyr truſte in hym, and haue altered the kyngs commaundement, and ieoparded theyr bodyes, rather than they would ſerue or worſhip any God, except theyr owne God onely.

29 Therfore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, and language, whiche ſpeake any blaſphemie agaynſt the GOD of Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ſhall be drawen in peeces, and their houſes ſhal be made a iakes: becauſe there is no God that can delyuer after this ſort.

30 So the kyng promoted Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The. iiij. Chapter.

4. Nabuchodonoſor dreameth agayne. 8. Daniel interpreteth it. 29. Nabuchodonoſor is put out of his realme, and eateth with beaſts. 34. He confeſſeth the power of God, and is reſtored vnto his kyngdome.

1 NAbuchodonoſor kyng, vnto all people, nations, & languages, that dwel vpon the (a) whole earth, peace be multiplyed among you. a. Ioſ. 2. dominion vers.

2 I thought it good to ſhewe the ſignes, and marueylous workes that the hygh God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O how great are his ſignes, & how mightie are his wonders? hys kyngdome is an (b) euerlaſtyng kingdome, and his dominiō is from generation to generation. b. dan.

4 I Nabuchodonoſor beyng at reſte in my houſe, and floriſhyng in my palace,

5 Sawe (c) a dreame, whiche made me afrayde, and the thoughts vppon my bedde, with the viſions of my head troubled me. c. Gen. 40. 41. dan. 2. 7.

6 Therfore made I a decree, that they ſhould bryng all the wyſe men of Babylon before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wyſe men, the ſothſayers, the Chaldeans, and wyſardes, to whom I tolde the dreame: but they could not ſhewe me the interpretation thereof.

8 Tyll at the laſte Daniel came before me (whoſe name was Baltaſſar, accordyng to the name of my God) which hath the ſpirite of the holy gods in hym, and before hym I tolde the dreame, ſaying, 9 O Baltaſſar, thou prynce of wyſe men, for ſomuch as I know that thou haſt the ſpirite of the holy gods, & no ſecrete troubleth thee: tel me therfore the viſions of my dreame that I haue ſeene, and the interpretation therof.

10 Thus were the viſions of my head vpon my bedde: And beholde, I ſawe a tree in the middes of the earth, and the heyght therof was great,

11 A great tree and ſtrong, and the heyght therof reached vnto the heauen, and the ſight therof to the endes of all the earth.

12 The leaues therof were faire, and the fruite therof muche, and in it was meate for all: the beaſtes of the fielde had ſhadowes vnder it, and the foules of the ayre dwelt in the bowes therof: all fleſhe fedde of it.

13 I ſawe in the viſions of my head vpon my bed, and beholde a (d) watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen, d. Or, an angel. Gen.

14 And cryed myghtyly, ſaying thus, Hewe downe the tree, breake off hys braunches, ſhake off his leaues, and ſcatter his fruyte abroade: that the beaſtes may get them away from vnder hym, and the foules from his branches. C.

15 Neuertheleſſe, leaue the ſtumpe of hys rootes ſtyll in the earth, and with a bande of iron and braſſe (bynde it) among the graſſe of the field, and let it be wet with the dewe of of heauen, and lette his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the fielde.

16 Let his hart be (e)changed from mans(nature)and let a beasts heart be giue vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

17 This sentence (is) according to the (f) decree of the watchers, & the request according to the word of the holy ones: because liuing men should knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whome it lyketh him, and setteth vp ouer it the baiest among men.

18 This is the dreame that I king Nabuchodonosor haue seene: therefore thou, O Baltassar, declare the interpretation therof, forsomuche as all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shew me what it meaneth: but thou canst doe it, for the spirite of the holie Gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, beide his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughtes (g) troubled him: So the king spake and sayde, O Baltassar, let neyther the dreame, nor the interpretation therof trouble thee. Baltassar aunswered, saying, O my Lorde, thys dreame bee to them that hate thee, and the interpretation therof to thyne aduersaries.

20 As for the tree that thou sawest, whiche was greate and myghtie, whose heigth reached vnto the heauen, and the syght thereof through all the worlde,

21 Whose leaues were fayre, and the fruite therof muche, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beastes of the fielde had their habitation, and vpon whose braunches the foules of the ayre did sit:

22 It is thou, O king, whiche art great and myghtie, for thy greatnesse increaseth, and reacheth vnto the heauen, so doth thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

23 But whereas the king saw a watcher, and a holie one that came downe from heauen, and sayde, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes therof in the earthe, and wyth a bande of yron and brasse, bynde it among the grasse of the fielde, and lette it bee weat wyth the deawe of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the fielde, till (h) seuen tymes passe ouer him.

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea it is the very decree of him that is highest of all, and it toucheth my lorde the king.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall bee with the beastes of the fielde: with grasse shalt thou be feddе like (i)Oxen, thou must be weat with the deawe of the heauen, yea seuen tymes shall passe ouer thee, till thou (k) know that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

26 Moreouer, where as it was sayde, that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should be left still: it betokeneth that thy kingdome shall remayne whole vnto thee, after thou haste learned to knowe that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsil be acceptable vnto thee, and (l) breake off thy sinnes by righteousnesse, and thyne iniquities by mercie towarde the poore: loe, let there be a healing of thyne errour.

28 All these thyngs touche the kyng Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after (m) twelue monethes, the kyng walked in the palace of the kyngdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake and sayde, Is not this greate Babylon that I haue buylte for the house of the kingdome by the myght of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie.

31 Whyle these wordes were yet in the kinges mouth, there fell a voyce from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee bee it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee.

32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens companie, thy dwellyng shall be with the beastes of the fielde: so that thou shalte eate grasse like oxen, & seuen tymes shal passe ouer thee, vntil thou knowest that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that he was cast out of mennes companie, and did eat grasse lyke Oxen, and his bodie was weat with the deaw of heauen, til his heares were growne as Eagles (feathers) and his nayles lyke byrdes clawes.

34 When this (n) tyme was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and myne vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thanks vnto the highest, I magnified, and praysed him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kyngdome is from one generation to an other.

35 And all they that dwell vpon the earth, are to be reputed as nothyng, and according to his will he worketh in the armie of heauen, among the inhabitours of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, What doest thou?

36 At the same time was myne vnderstanding giuen mee againe, and I was (restored) to the honour of my kingdome, my glorie, k. Daniel sheweth the cause why God thus punished him.

l. Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes: and where thou haste cruelly oppressed many poore, be now mercifull vnto them in righteousnes: so shall the errours of thy former life be redressed.

m. After that Daniel had declared this vision, & this his pride declared in the next verse, sheweth that it is not in mans power to conuert to God, except his spirit moue him, seing that these terrible threatnings could not moue him to repent.

n. That is, the seuen times or yeres mentioned in the verses. 16. and 23. and. 25.

and my beautie was reſtored vnto me, and my counſellours and (o) Princes ſought vnto mee, and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdome, and my glorie was augmented towarde mee.

o. By whom it ſemeth he was put from his kingdome before.

37 Nowe therefore, I (p) Nabuchodonoſor, praiſe, and extoll and magnifie the king of heauen, whoſe workes are all truth, and his wayes iudgement, and thoſe that walke in pride he is able to abaſe.

p. He doth not onely prayſe god for his deliuerance, but alſo confeſſeth his fault, that God only may haue the glorie, and man the ſhame, and that he may be exalted and mā caſt downe.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Balthaſar king of Babylon, abuſing the veſſels of the temple, ſeeth an hande writing in the wall. 8. The ſoothſayers called of the king, can not expounde the writing. 13. Daniel is called, which readeth it, and interpreteth it alſo. 30. Balthaſar being ſlayne, Darius ſucceedeth in his roome.

1 KIng (a) Balthaſar made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his princes, and drank wine (b) before the thouſande.

a. Daniel reciteth this hiſtorie of king Balthaſar Euil-Merodachs ſonne, to ſhewe Gods iudgements againſte the wicked, for the deliuerāce of his churche, and howe the prophecie of Ieremie was true, that they ſhoulde be deliuered after ſeuentie yeares.

b. That is, not alone, as commonly he was wont, but in a ſolemne banket, whervnto he receiued al his nobles to accōpany him.

2 And Balthaſar, when he hadde taſted the wine, commaunded to bring hym the golden and ſyluer veſſelles, whiche his (c) father Nabuchodonoſor hadde broughte from the temple in Hieruſalem, that the kyng, and his princes, and his wyues, and his concubines might drinke therin.

c. Meaning his grandfather.

3 So were brought the golden veſſelles that they hadde taken out of the Temple of the Lords houſe at Hieruſalem: and the king, and his Princes, his wyues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and prayſed the gods of gold, ſiluer, braſſe, iron, wood, and ſtone.

5 In the verye ſame houre there appeared fyngers of a mannes hande, writyng right ouer (d) againſt the candelſticke, vpon the plaſter of the wall of the kinges Palace, and the king ſawe the knuckles of the hande that wrote.

d. That it might the better be ſeene.

6 Then chaunged the king his countenance, and his thoughtes troubled him, ſo that the ioynts of his loynes were looſed, and his (e) knees ſmote one againſt the other.

e. So he that before contemned God, was moued by this ſight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgementes.

7 Wherefore the king cryed mightily, that they ſhould bring the ſoothſayers, Chaldeis, and wyſardes: The King ſpake alſo to the wyſe men of Babylon, and ſayde, Whoſo can reade this writing, and ſhewe me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of gold about his necke, and ſhall bee the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

8 Vpon this came all the kinges wyſe men, but they coulde neyther reade the writyng, nor ſhewe the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthaſar greately troubled, and his countenance was chaunged in him, and his princes were aſtonyed.

10 Now the (f) queene by reaſon of the talke of the king and his Princes, came into the banket houſe, and the queene ſpake, and ſayd, O king lyue for euer, let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, and let not thy countenaunce be chaunged.

f. That thinke moſte

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, that hath the ſpirite of the holy Goddes within him: and in the dayes of thy father, lyght, and vnderſtandyng, and wyſedome, lyke the wyſedome of the goddes, was found in him, whome the king Nabuchodonoſor thy father, the kyng (I ſay) thy father, made chiefe of the (g) wyſe men, ſoothſayers, Chaldeans, and wyſardes:

g. Read 4. h. declare

12 Becauſe that ſuche an abundaunt ſpirite, knowledge, & vnderſtanding, to expounde dreames, to open ſecretes, and to declare harde doubtes, was found in him, yea euen in Daniel, whome the king named Baltaſſar: let Daniel be called, and he ſhall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: ſo the king ſpake vnto Daniell, and ſayde, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iuda, whome my father the king brought out of Iurie?

14 I haue hearde of thee, that thou haſte the ſpirite of the holie goddes, and that lyghte and vnderſtanding, and excellent wiſedome is founde in thee.

15 Now haue ther bin brought before me wiſe men, and ſoothſayers to reade this writing, and to ſhewe mee the interpretation therof: but they coulde not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then hearde I of thee that thou couldeſt ſhewe interpretations, and diſſolue doubts: nowe if thou canſt reade this writing, and ſhewe me the meaning thereof, thou ſhalte be clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of golde aboute thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel aunſwered, and ſayde before the kyng, Let for thy rewardes kepe them to thyſelfe, and giue thy gyfts to an other: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and ſhewe him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the moſt high God gaue vnto (h) Nabuchodonoſor thy father, a kingdome, and maieſtie, and honour, and glorie.

19 And for the maieſtie that he gaue hym, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before hym: he ſlue whome he would, he ſmote whom it pleaſed hym: againe, whome he would he ſette vp, and whome whom he lyst he put downe.

20 But bycause his hart was lofte, and hys minde strengthened in pryde, he was deposed from his kyngly throne, and they toke hys glory from hym.

21 He was dryuen out from the sonnes of men, hys harte was made lyke the beastes, and his dwellyng was with the wylde Asses, they fed hym with grasse lyke Oxen, and his body was wet with the deawe of the heauen, till he knewe that the moste hyghe God bare rule ouer the kyngdome of men, and that he appoynteth ouer it whom so euer he pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O Balthasar, hast not submitted thine hart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast lifte vp thy selfe agaynst the Lorde of heauen, so that the vessels of hys house were brought before thee, that thou and thy prynces, with thy wiues and concubines, might drynke wyne therout: and thou hast prayed the goddes of syluer and golde, of brasse and iron, of wood and stone, whiche neyther see, heare, nor vnderstande: As for the God in whose hande consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified hym.

24 (i) Then was the knockles of the hande sent from hym, and hath written this wryting.

25 And this is the wryting that he hath written: MENE, (k) MENE, THECEL, VPHRASIN.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thyng is this: MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, Thou art wayed in the balance, and art founde wantyng.

28 PHERES, Thy kyngdome is diuided, and gyuen to the Medes, and Perses.

29 Then commaunded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chayne of golde aboute his necke, and made a proclamation concernyng him, that he shoulde be the thyrde ruler in the kyngdome.

30 The very same night was Balthasar the kyng of the Chaldees slayne.

31 And (l) Darius of the Medes toke the kyngdome, being threescore and two yeeres of age.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes. 5. The imagination of an acte against Daniel. 7. The proclamation of the acte whereof Daniel is accused vnto the kyng as a transgressour. 16. He is put into a denne of Lions by the commmaundement of the kyng. 23. He is deliuered by fayth in God. 24. Daniels accusers are put vnto the Lions to be torne asunder. 26. Darius by the proclamation of a decree, magnified the God of Daniel.

1 IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome an hundred and twentie gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome. A

2 Aboue these he set three prynces, of whome Daniel was one, that the gouernours might gyue accomptes vnto them, and the kyng should haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue ỹ princes & gouernours, for the spirite of God was plenteous in him: so that the kyng was minded to set hym ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore, the rulers and gouernours (a) sought an occasion agaynst Daniel concernyng the kyngdome, but they coulde finde none occasion nor faulte: for he was so faithfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in hym.

a. Thus the wicked cannot abyde the graces of God in others, but seeke by al occasions to deface thē, therefore agaynst such assaultes there is no better remedie than to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience. B

5 Then said these mē, We shal find none occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him cōcerning the lawe of his God.

6 Upon this went the princes and lords together vnto the kyng, and sayde this vnto him, Kyng Darius, lyue for euer.

7 All the rulers of thy kyngdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellers & dukes, haue consulted together to make a decree for the kyng, and to establishe a statute, That who so desireth any petition eyther of any God or man within these thyrtie dayes, except of thee, O kyng, he shall be cast into the Lions denne.

b. Bicause he would not by his scilence shew that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes toward Hierusalem whē he praied, both to stirre vp himselfe with the remēbrance of gods promises to his people, when they should pray towarde that temple: & also that others might see, that he woulde neuer consent in hart nor deede for these fewe dayes, to any thyng cōtrarie to Gods glory.

8 Nowe, O kyng, confirme the decree, and seale the wryting, that it be not changed accordyng to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore, kyng Darius sealed the wryting and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderstode that he had sealed the wryting, he went into his house, and the (b) wyndowes of his chamber towarde Hierusalem stode open, there kneeled he downe vpon his knees three tymes a day, he made his petition, and prayed hys God, as he dyd aforetyme.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel makyng his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the kyng, and spake before hym concernyng hys commaundement, saying, O kyng, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes, who so requyreth his petition of any God or man, but onely of thy ſelfe, O king, he ſhall be caſt into the denne of Lions? The kyng anſweared, and ſayde, Yea, it is true, accordyng to the lawe of the Medes and Perſes that altereth not.

12 Then anſwearyd they, and ſayde vnto the kyng, This Daniel, whiche is of the chyldren of the captiuitie of Juda, O kyng, regardeth neyther thee, nor thy decree that thou haſte ſealed: but maketh his petition three tymes a day.

13 ℭ When the kyng heard theſe wordes, hee was ſoare diſpleaſed with hymſelfe, and ſet his hart on Daniel to deliuer him, and he labboured till the ſunne went downe, to delyuer hym.

15 Then theſe men aſſembled vnto the kyng, and ſayde vnto hym, Knowe this, O kyng, that the lawe of the Medes and Perſes (is,) that the commaundement and ſtatute whiche the kyng maketh, may not be (c) altered.

c. Thus the wicked maintayne ill lawes by conſtancie & auctoritie, whiche is ofte tymes, eyther lightneſſe, or ſtubburnneſſe, whē as the innocents thereby periſhe: and therfore gouernours ought neyther to feare nor be aſhamed to breake ſuch.

16 Then the kyng commaunded, and they brought Daniel, and they caſte hym into the Lions denne. Nowe the kyng ſpake vnto Daniell, and ſayde, Thy God whom thou alway ſerueſt, euen hee wyll delyuer thee.

17 And there was brought a ſtone, and layde vppon the mouthe of the denne, this the kyng ſealed with his owne ryng, and with the ſignet of his prynces, that the purpoſe concernyng Daniel ſhould not be changed.

18 So the kyng went into his palace, and remayned faſtyng, neyther was there any inſtruments of muſicke brought in before him, and his ſleepe went from hym.

19 But betymes in the morning at the breake of the day, the kyng aroſe, and went in all haſte vnto the denne of the Lions.

20 Nowe as he came nygh vnto the denne, he cryed with a pitteous voyce vnto Daniell, yea the kyng ſpake, and ſayde vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou ſeruaunt of the lyuyng God, is not thy God, whome thou ſerueſt alway, able to deliuer thee from the Lions?

d. Myne vprightneſſe in this thyng wherein I was charged, was approued of God.

21 Then Daniel ſayd vnto the king, O king, lyue for euer:

22 My God hath ſente hys Angell, whiche hath ſhutte the Lyons mouthes, ſo that they nyght not hurte mee, for myne (d) vngyltineſſe is founde out before hym: and as for thee, O kyng, I neuer (e) offended thee.

e. For he dyd diſobey the kings wicked cōmandemēt, to obey God, and ſo did no iniurie to the kyng, who ought to commaūd nothing whereby God ſhould be diſhonoured.

23 Then was the kyng exceedyng gladde for hym, and commaunded to take Daniel out of the denne: ſo Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurte was founde vpon hym, for he (f) put his truſte in his God.

f. By

24 And as for thoſe men whiche had accuſed Daniel, the kyng commaunded to bryng them, and to (g) caſte them into the Lions denne, them, theyr children, and theyr wyues: ſo the Lions had the maſterie of them, and brake all their bones aſunder, or euer they came at the grounde of the denne.

25 After this, wrote kyng Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwelt in al landes, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commaundement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare & ſtande in awe of Daniels God: for he is the liuing God whiche abideth euer, his kingdome ſhal not faple, and his power is euerlaſtyng.

27 It is he that delyuereth and ſaueth, he doth wonders, and marueylous workes in heauen, and in earth, he hath preſerued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the raygne of Darius, and in the raygne of Cyrus of Perſia.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. A viſion of foure beaſts is ſhewed vnto Daniel. 4. The viſion is interpreted of foure kingdomes of the worlde. 27. Of the euerlaſtyng kyugdome of Chriſt.

1 IN the firſt yeare of Balthaſar kyng of Babylon, ſawe Daniel a Dreame, and there were viſions in his head vpon his bed, whiche (a) dreame he wrote, and declared the ſumme of the matter,

2 Daniel ſpake, and ſayde, I ſawe in my viſion by night, & beholde, the foure (b) windes of heauen ſtroue vpon the great ſea,

3 And foure great beaſtes came vp from the ſea, one diuers from another.

4 The firſt was as a (c) Lion, and had Eagles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt from hym, and he lyfted vp from the earth, and ſet vpon his feete like a man, and there was gyuen him a mans hart.

5 Behold another beaſt, (whiche was) the ſeconde, was like a (d) Beare, and ſtode vpon the one ſide: betwixt his teeth in his mouth he had three ribbes, & it was ſayde vnto him thus, Ariſe, eate vp muche fleſhe.

6 Then I loked, and beholde, there was an

The beaſts are kingdomes, or Monarchies: By the Lion, the kingdome of is vnderſtanded, which ſpeedily vanquiſhed the nations but after his wings were pluckte, and his kingdome taken returned to the condition of a man, and no Lion. d. Monarchie of the Perſians and Medes.

an other like vnto a (e) Leoparde, this had wings as a foule, euen (f) foure vppon the backe: this beast had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in a vision by nyght, and beholde, the fourth beaste was grimme and horrible, and marueylous strong: (g) it had great iron teeth, it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete, it was vnlike the other beastes that were before it, for it had (g) ten hornes.

8 As I consydered the hornes, beholde, there came vp emong them another little horne, before whome there were three of the fyrste hornes pluckt away: and beholde, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set vp, and the (h) auncient of dayes did syt: whose garment was white as snowe, and the heares of his head lyke the pure wool: his throne was like the fierie flambe, and his (i) wheeles as burning fyre.

10 There issued forth a fyerie streame, and went out from before him: a thousand thousands ministred vnto him, and ten thousande thousandes stode before him: the iudgement was set, and the (k) bookes opened.

11 Then take I heede therevnto, because of the voyce of the prowde wordes whiche the horne spake: I beheld til the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and giuen to be brit in the fyre.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had their dominion taken away, but their lyues were prolonged for a certaine tyme and season.

13 I sawe in visions by nighte, and beholde there came (l) one in the cloudes of heauen, like the sonne of man: which went vnto the auncient of dayes, before whom they brought him.

14 And he gaue hym dominion and honour, and a kingdome, that al people, nations, and languages shoulde serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirite in the middest of my body, and the visions of my head made me afrayde.

16 I gate me vnto (m) one of them that stod by, and asked him the trueth concerning all these thynges: so he tolde mee, and made me vnderstande the interpretation of these thynges.

17 These great beastes whiche are foure, are foure kynges whiche shall aryse out of the earth:

18 But the (n) hygh saintes shall receyue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

n. That is, gods elect people, which shal haue a kingdome and church to continue in for euer.

19 After this, I required to knowe the truth concerning the fourth beast, whiche was so vnlike the other beastes, & so horrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nayles of brasse, which deuoured, and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feete:

20 (I desyred) also (to knowe the trueth) as touching the ten hornes that he had vpon hys head, and this other whiche came vp afterward, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and loked with a grimmer visage than his (o) felowes.

o. That is, the three other empires.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battaile against the saints, yea and preuayled against them.

22 Untill the auncient of dayes came, that the iudgemente was giuen to the high saintes, and till the time came that the saints had the kingdome in possession.

23 He gaue me this answeare: That fourth beast, shall be the fourth kingdome vppon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuour, treade downe, and destroy al other landes.

24 The ten hornes, are ten kynges that shal arise out of that kingdome: after whome there shall stande vp another, which shall be vnlyke to the fyrste, and he shall subdue three kynges:

25 And he shall speake wordes against the hyghest of all, hee shall destroy the high saintes, and thynke that he may chaunge times and lawes: they shall be giuen into hys hand vntill a tyme, and tymes, and the diuiding of a tyme.

26 But the iudgement shal sit, and they shal take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shall be giuen to the (p) people of high saintes, whose kyngdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all powers shall serue and obey it.

p. That is, to the Church.

28 Hitherto the end of the wordes: I Daniel had many cogitations (which) troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but the wordes I kept still in mine hart.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. A vision of a strife betweene a ramme and a hee goate. 20. The vnderstanding of the vision is, of the battayle betweene the king of Persia, and the king of the Grecians.

VIII 1 IN the third yeere of the raygne of king Balthaſar, there appeared a viſion vnto me (euen) vnto mee Daniel, (a) after that which I had ſeene in the beginning.

2 I ſaw in a viſion (and when I ſawe it, I was in the palace of Suſis, whiche is in the prouince of (b) Elam) and in the viſion me thought I was by the riuer of Ulai.

3 Then I loked vp and ſawe, and beholde, there ſtode before the riuer a (c) ramme which had two hornes: and theſe two hornes were high, but (d) one was higher than the other, and the higheſt came vp laſt.

4 I ſaw that this ramme puſhed wyth hys hornes againſt the weſt, againſte the north, and againſt the ſouth: ſo that no (e) beaſtes might ſtande before him, nor defende them from his power, but he did as him lyſted, and became great.

5 And as I conſydered, behold there came a hee (f) goate from the weſt, ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and hys goate had a (g) horne appeared betwixt hys eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, (whome I had ſeene ſtandyng by the riuer) and ranne fiercely vpon hym with his might.

7 And I ſawe hym drawe nygh vnto the ramme, being very fierce vpon him, yea he (h) ſmote the ramme, and brake his two hornes, neyther hadde the ramme ſo muche ſtrength as to ſtande before him: but he caſt him downe to the ground, trode him vnder his feete, and there was none able to deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therfore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the ſtrongeſt, his great (i) horne was broken: then grew there other (k) foure notable ones in the ſteede of it, toward the foure windes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little (l) horne, whiche waxed very great towarde the (m) ſouth, toward the (n) eaſt, and toward the (o) pleaſant lande.

10 (p) It grewe vp vnto the hoſt of heauen, wherof it did caſt ſome down to the grou̇nd, and of the ſtarres alſo, and trode them vnder foote.

11 Yea it grewe vp againſte the (q) prince of the hoſt, from whom the (r) dayly (ſacrifice) was taken away, and the places of his ſanctuarie caſt downe.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the dayly (ſacrifice) for the iniquitie, and it ſhall (s) caſt downe the trueth to the ground: and thus ſhall it do, and proſper.

13 Upon this, I heard one of the ſaintes ſpeaking, and one of the (t) ſaintes ſpake vnto (v) Palmoni, ſaying, Howe long ſhall the viſion of the dayly (ſacrifice) and of the iniquitie of deſolation (endure) to giue both the ſanctuarie and the power to be troden vnder foote:

14 And he anſweared me, Vnto the (x) euening and the morning two thouſande and three hundred: then ſhall the ſanctuarie bee cleanſed.

15 Now when I Daniel had ſeene thys viſion, and ſought for the vnderſtanding of it: beholde there ſtode before me (y) like the ſimilitude of a man.

16 And I hearde a mans voyce (z) betweene Ulai, whiche cryed, and ſayde, O Gabriel (aa) make this manne vnderſtande the viſion.

17 So he came, and ſtode by me: but I was afrayd at his comming, and fell down vpon my face: Then ſayd he vnto me, Vnderſtande O thou ſonne of man: for at the (bb) time of the ende this viſion (ſhalbe.)

18 Now as he was ſpeaking vnto me, I fell in a ſlumber vpon my face to the ground: but he touched mee, and ſet me vp in my place.

19 And he ſayde, Beholde, I will ſhewe thee what ſhall be in the laſt wrathe: for in the time appoynted, it ſhall be fulfilled.

20 The ramme whiche thou ſaweſt hauyng two hornes, is the king of the Medes and Perſes.

21 And the goate is the king of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eyes, that is the firſt king.

22 But whereas it brake, and four other roſe vp in the ſteede: (it ſignifyeth,) that out of this people ſhall ſtande vp four kingdomes, but not ſo mightie as it.

23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the wicked are come to the full, a king of a (cc) fierce countenance, and vnderſtandyng hard ſentences, ſhall ſtand vp.

24 His power ſhall be mightie, but not in (dd) hys ſtrength, and he ſhall deſtroy wonderfully, he ſhall proſper and practiſe, and deſtroy the (ee) mightie, and the holy people.

25 And through his policie alſo he ſhal cauſe craft to proſper in his hands, he ſhall extoll hym ſelfe in his hart, and in proſperitie her ſhall deſtroy many, and many one ſhall be put to deathe in hys wealthyneſſe: he ſhall ſtand vp againſte the (ff) prince of princes, but

The buildyng agayne of Hierusalem vnder Nehemias. 26. The death of Christ.

1 IN the firste yeere of Darius the sonne of (a) Thaluerus, whiche was of the sede of the Medes, and was made king ouer the (b) realme of the Chaldees.
2 Euen in the fyrste yeere of his raigne, I Daniel vnderstode by (c) bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the prophet, that he would accomplishe seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.
3 And I turned my face vnto the Lorde God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes.
4 I prayed vnto the Lorde my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lord God, great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant and mercy with them that loue "him, and keepe his commaundements:
5 We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.
6 We woulde not obey thy seruauntes the prophets, ỳ spake in thy name to our kinges and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the lande.
7 O Lorde, rygh̃teousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs open shame, as is come to passe this daye vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, yea vnto al Israll, whether they bee farre or nigh thoroughout all the landes whyther thou hast driuen them, bycause of their offences that they haue done against thee.
8 O Lord, vnto vs, to our kings, and princes, to oure forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.
9 Vnto the Lord our God perteyneth compassion and forgiuenesse, though we haue rebelled against him.
10 And we haue not obeyed the (d) voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which he layd before vs, by the hand of his seruants the prophetes.
11 Yea all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy lawe, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce: wherefore the (e) curse and othe that is written in the lawe of Moses the seruaunt of God, against whome we haue offended, is powred vpon vs.
12 And he hath confirmed his wordes, whyche he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, lyke as it is now come to passe in Hierusalem.
13 Yea, all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vppon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our god, that we might turne agayne from our wickednesse, and vnderstand thy truth.
14 Therefore hath the Lorde watched vppon the plague, and brought it vppon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes whyche he doth: for we would not hearken vnto his voyce.
15 And nowe, O Lorde our God, thou that with a myghtie hande hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt to get thy selfe a name, which remayneth thys day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.
16 O Lorde, according to all thy (f) rygh̃teousnesse, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy citie of Hierusalem, thy holy hyll: for bycause of our sinnes, & for the wickednesse of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproche to all them that are about vs.
17 Now therefore, O our God, heare ỳ prayer of thy seruaunt, and his intercession: Cast thy face (g) shyne ouer thy sanctuarie that lyeth waste, for the (h) Lords sake.
18 O my God, encline thine eare, and heare, open thyne eyes, beholde how we be desolated, yea, and the citie also which is called after thy name: for we doe not presente oure prayers before thee in our owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.
19 O Lord heare, O forgiue Lord, O Lorde (k) consyder and doe it, deferre not for thyne owne sake, O my God, bycause thy name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.
20 As I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine owne sinnes, and the sinnes of my people Israell, presenting so myne intercession before the Lorde my God,

God, for the holy hyll of my God:

21 Yea, whyle I was yet ſpeaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whom I had ſeene afore in the viſion) came fleeing, and touched me, about the time of the euening oblation:

22 And he enfourmed me, and talked with me, and ſayd, O Daniel, I am now come forthe to giue thee knowledge and vnderſtanding.

23 At the beginning of thy ſupplications, the commaundemente came forthe, and I am come to ſhewe thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderſtand the matter, and conſyder the viſion.

24 (l) Seuentie weekes are determined ouer thy people, and ouer thy holy citie, to finiſhe the wickednesse, and to ſeale vp the ſynnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bring in euerlaſting righteouſneſſe, to ſeale vp the viſion and prophetie, and to annoynt the moſt holy.

25 Know therefore, and vnderſtand that (m) from the goyng forthe of the commaundemente, to bring agayne the (people,) and to builde Hieruſalem vnto Meſſiah the prince, there ſhall be ſeauen (n) weekes, and three-score, and two weekes, and the ſtreete ſhal be built agayne, and the wall, (euen) in the (o) ſtraiteneſſe of tyme.

26 After theſe (p) three-score and two weekes, ſhall Meſſiah be ſlayne, and (q) not for hym ſelfe: and the people of the (r) prince that ſhall come, ſhall deſtroy the citie and the ſanctuarie, and the end thereof ſhal be with a floodde, and vnto the ende of the battayle, it ſhall be deſtroyed by deſolations.

27 He ſhall (s) confirme the couenaunt wyth many for one weeke, and in the middeſt of the weeke, he ſhall cauſe the ſacrifice and the oblation to (t) ceaſſe, and for the (v) ouerſpreadyng of the abhominations, hee ſhall make it deſolate, (euen) vntill the conſummation determined, ſhall be powred vppon the deſolate.

The.x. Chapter.

1. There appeareth vnto Daniel a mã clothed in lynnen, 11. which ſheweth him wherefore he was ſent.

1 IN the (a) third yeere of Cyrus king of Perſia, there was ſhewed vnto Daniel, otherwiſe called Baltaſſar, a matter, yea, a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he vnderſtood the matter, and perceyued what the viſion was.

2 At the ſame time, I Daniel mourned for the ſpace of three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleaſant bread, as for fleſhe and wine, ther came none within my mouth: no, I dyd not once annoynte my ſelfe, till the whole three weekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Vpon the four and twentieth daye of the firſt moneth, I was by the ſyde of the great ryuer, (euen) Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and loked: and behold a man clothed in linnen, whoſe loynes were girded vp with fyne golde of Vphaz.

6 His body was like the Thurkis ſtone, hys face to loke vpon was lightning, hys eyes as lampes of fyre, his armes and feete were like in colour to pullifhed braſſe, and the voyce of his wordes, was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone ſawe this viſion, for the men that were with me, ſawe not the viſion: but a great fearefulneſſe fell vpon them, ſo that they fledde away, and hidde themſelues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and ſawe thys great viſion, and there remayned no ſtrength in me: for my colour was turned in me into corruption, and I reteyned no ſtrength.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of hys wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I fell aſtonied vpon my face, and my face towarde the earth.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, which ſet me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the paulms of my handes.

11 And hee ſayde vnto me, O Daniel, thou welbeloued man, take good heede to y words that I ſay vnto thee, and ſtand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now ſent. And when he had ſayde theſe wordes vnto me, I ſtode vp trembling.

12 Then ſayde he vnto me, feare not Daniel, for ſynce the firſt day that thou diddeſt set thyne hart to vnderſtande, and to chaſten thy ſelfe before thy God, thy wordes were herde, and I am come for thy wordes.

I. He alludeth to Ieremies propheſi, wher by he declared there ſhoulde be ſeuentie yeeres of the Iewes captiuitie, for the execution of gods iudgement: but now Gods mercie ſhould ſeuen folde exceede his iudgement, in giuing them ſeuentie times ſeuen yeeres of a happyer ſtate, though not altogether voyde of affliction: which amounteth to foure hundred and ninetie yeeres, euen to the commyng of Chriſt, and ſo the it ſhuld continue for euer.

That is, by Chriſtes ſacrifice vpon the croſſe, all ceremonies of the law were fulfilled, full remiſſion of ſinnes purchaſed, ſo that there remayned no more oblation or offering for ſinnes, as Hebr. x. c. v. Meaning, that Hieruſalem and the ſanctuarie ſhoulde vtterly be deſtroyed for their rebellion againſt God. Or, ſome read, that the plagues ſhall be ſo great, that they ſhall all be aſtonied at them.

13 But the (b) prince of the kingdome of Perſia withſtode me one and twentie dayes: but loe, Michael one of the chiefe princes came to helpe mee, and I remayned there by the kings of Perſia.

14 And I am come to ſhewe thee what ſhall come vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it wyl be long yet or ẏ viſion be fulfilled.

15 Nowe when he had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto mee, I caſt downe my head to the grounde.

16 And beholde, there touched my lippes one very like vnto a man: then opened I my mouth, and ſpake, and ſayde vnto him that ſtode before me, O my Lorde, by the viſion my ioyntes are turned out of (theyr) place, & I haue reteyned no ſtrength.

17 For how can the ſeruant of thys my Lord talke with my Lord (beyng) ſuch a one? And as for me, ſtraightway there remayned no ſtrength in mee, neyther is there breath lefte in me.

18 Then there came agayne, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, and hee ſtrengthened me.

19 And ſayd, O man, greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be ſtrong, and of good courage. So when he had ſpoken vnto me, I was ſtrengthened, and ſayde, Speake on my Lord, for thou haſt ſtrengthened me.

20 Thus ſayd he, Knoweſt thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? Now will I returne to fyght with the prince of the Perſes: as ſone as I goe forthe, loe, the (c) prince of Greke land ſhall come.

21 Neuertheleſſe, I will ſhewe thee that, that is noted in the ſcripture of trueth: and ther is none that helpeth me in theſe thinges, but (d) Michael your prince.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. A propheſie of the kyngs of Perſia. 3. Of the kingdome of Greece. 5. Of the kingdome of Egypt, and of the bond thereof. 15. Of the battayle with the kingdome of Syria.

1 AND in the fyrſt yeere of Darius of Media, (a) I ſtode to comforte him, and to ſtrengthen him.

2 And now will I ſhew thee the truth: Beholde, there ſhall ſtande vp yet (b) three kings in Perſia, but the fourth ſhall be farre rycher than they all: and by his ſtrength, and by hys riches, hee ſhall ſtyrre vp (c) all againſte the realme of Greke land.

3 Then ſhall there ariſe yet a (d) mightie king, that ſhall rule with greate dominion, and do what him liſt.

4 And when he ſhall ſtand vp, his kingdome ſhall be (e) broken, and ſhall be diuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not toward his poſteritie, nor according to hys dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome ſhal be pluckt vp, euē for others beſides theſe.

5 And the (f) king of the ſouth ſhal be mightie, and (g) (one) of his princes, and he ſhall preuayle againſt him, and beare rule: his dominion ſhall be a great dominion.

6 And in the ende of yeeres they ſhall be ioyned together, and the kinges (h) daughter of the ſouth, ſhall come to the king of ẏ north, for to make an agreement, but he ſhall not reteyne the power of the (i) arme, neyther ſhall he continue, nor his arme: but he ſhall be deliuered (to death) & they that brought hir, and he that begate hir, and he that comforted hir in theſe times.

7 But out of the budde of hir (k) rootes ſhall one ſtande vp in his ſteede, whiche ſhall (l) come with an armie, and ſhall enter into the fortreſſe of the king of the north, and do with them (as he lyſt,) and ſhall preuayle.

8 And ſhall alſo cary captiues into Egypt, they Goddes, with their moulten images, with their precious veſſelles of ſyluer and of golde, and he ſhall continue more yeeres thā the king of the north.

9 So the king of the ſouth ſhall come into his kingdome, and ſhall returne into hys owne lande.

10 Wherefore his ſonnes ſhall be ſtirred vp, (m) and ſhall gather togeather a mightie greate hoſt of people, and (n) one ſhall come and ouerflow, & paſſe through: then ſhall he turne again, & be (o) ſtirred vp at his fortreſſe.

11 Then the king of the ſouth ſhall be angry, and ſhall come forth to fyght with hym, (euen) with the king of the north, for he ſhal ſet forth a great multitude, and the multitude ſhall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude ſhall be proude, and their harts ſhall be lifted vp, for he ſhall caſt downe thouſandes, but he ſhall not ſtil preuayle.

13 For the (p) king of the north ſhall returne and ſhall ſet forth a greater multitude than afore, and ſhall come forthe (after certaine yeres) with a mightie arme, & great richeſſe.

14 And at the ſame time there (q) ſhall many ſtand vp againſt the king of the ſouth, ſo that the (r) ſeditious children of thy people alſo ſhall exalt themſelues to eſtabliſh the viſion, but they ſhall fall.

15 So the king of the north ſhall come and caſt vp a mount, and take the ſtrong cities: and the (s) armes of the ſouth ſhall not reſiſt, neyther his choſen people, neyther ſhall there be any ſtrength to withſtand.

16 And when hee commeth, hee ſhall handle him as he liſt, and no mã ſhall ſtand againſt him: he ſhall ſtande in the pleaſant (t) lande, which by his hand ſhall be conſumed.

17 Agayne, he ſhall ſet his face to enter wyth the power of his whole kingdome, and hys confederates with him, thus ſhall he do: and he ſhall giue him the (v) daughter of women to deſtroy hir: but ſhe ſhall not ſtand (on hys ſyde,) neyther before him.

18 After this, ſhall he turne his face vnto the (x) Iſles, and ſhall take many: but a (y) prince ſhall cauſe his ſhame to lyght vpon him, beſyde that, hee ſhall cauſe his owne ſhame to turne vpon hym ſelfe:

19 For he ſhall turne his face toward the forts of his owne lande, but he ſhall be (z) ouerthrowen, and fall, and be no more founde.

20 Then ſhall (aa) ſtand vp in his place a raiſer of taxes (in) the glory of the kingdome, and after a few dayes he ſhall be deſtroyed, neyther in wrath nor in battayle.

21 In his ſtede there ſhal ſtand vp a (bb) vile perſon, to whome they ſhall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but he ſhall come in peaceably, and obteyne the kingdome wyth flatteries.

24 He ſhall enter into the quiet and plentiful prouince, and he ſhall do that whiche (ff) his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he ſhall diuide among them the pray, and the ſpoyle, and the ſubſtance, yea, and hee ſhall forecaſt his deuiſes againſte the ſtrong holds, (euen) for a time.

25 Alſo his power and hart ſhall be ſtyrre vp with a greate armie againſte the king of the ſouth, the king of the ſouth ſhal be moued vnto battayle with a greate and a mightie hoſt alſo: neuertheleſſe, he (gg) ſhall not ſtande, for they ſhall forecaſt deuiſes againſt hym.

26 Yea, (hh) they that feede of the portion of his meate, ſhall deſtroy him, and his armie ſhall (ii) ouerflowe and many ſhall fall, and be ſlayne.

27 Theſe two kynges hartes ſhall be to doe (kk) miſchiefe, and they ſhall talke of deceit at one table, but it ſhall not proſper, for yet the end ſhall be at the time appoynted.

28 Then ſhall he goe home againe into hys lande with (ll) greate ſubſtance, and ſet hys hart againſt the holy couenant, ſo ſhal he do, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appoynted hee ſhall come againe, and goe toward the ſouth: but the laſt ſhall not be as the fyrſt.

30 For the ſhips of (mm) Chittim ſhall come againſt him, therefore he ſhal be ſorie, and returne, and fret againſt the holy couenant: ſo ſhall he do, he ſhall (euen) returne and haue intelligence with them (nn) that forſake the holy couenant.

31 And (oo) armes ſhall ſtande on his parte, and they ſhall pollute the ſanctuarie of (pp) ſtrength, and ſhall take away the dayly (ſacrifice) and they ſhall ſet vp the abhominable deſolation.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. The tyme wherein Oſea prophecied. 2. The idolatrie of the people. 10. The calling of the Gentiles. 11. Chriſt is the head of all people.

A 4. Reg. 15. 16. and 17.

THe worde of the Lorde came vnto Oſea, the ſon of Beeri, in the dayes of Oſea, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezekias, kinges of Juda, and in the tyme of Jeroboam the ſonne of Joas king of Iſraell.

2 When the Lorde ſpake fyrſte vnto Oſea, he ſayde vnto him, Goe, take vnto thee a wyfe of (a) fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great fornication (departyng) from the Lord.

3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Diblaim: whiche conceyued and bare him a ſonne.

4 And the Lorde ſayde vnto him, Call hys name Jezrahel: for I will ſhortly auenge the bloud of Jezrahel vppon the houſe of Jehu, and will bring the kingdome of the houſe of Iſraell to an ende.

5 And in that daye will I alſo breake the bow of Iſraell, in the valley of Jezrahel.

6 And ſhee conceyued agayne, and bare a daughter: and (the Lorde) ſaid vnto him, Cal hir name Lohuhamah (that is, not obteyning mercy) for I will no more haue pitie vppon the houſe of Iſraell, but I will vtterly take them away.

B 7 Yet I will haue mercy vppon the houſe of Juda, and will ſaue them, euen thorough the Lorde their God: and will not ſaue them by bowe, ſworde, battell, horſes, or horſemen.

8 Now when ſhe had wained Lohuhamah, ſhe conceyued againe, and bare a ſonne.

9 Then ſayd he, Cal his name Loammi (that is, not my people:) for ye are not my people, therefore I will not be your (God.)

10 Yet the number of the children of Iſraell, ſhall be as the ſand of the ſea, which can neyther be meaſured nor tolde: and in the place where it was ſayd vnto them, Ye are not my people: it ſhall be ſaide vnto them, ye are the children of the liuing God.

11 Then ſhall the chyldren of Juda, and the children of Iſraell be gathered together, and appoynt them ſelues one head, and they ſhall come vp out of the lande: for greate ſhall be the day of Jezrahel.

3 Leſt I ſtrip hir naked, and ſet hir euen as ſhe came into the worlde, and make hir as a wildernes, and as drie land, and ſlay hir for thirſt.

4 And I will haue no pitie vpon hir children: for they be the children of fornication:

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and ſhe that bare them is come to confuſion: for ſhee ſayde, I will goe after my louers that gyue me my bread, and my water, my wool and flare, my oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore beholde, I will ſtoppe thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that ſhe ſhal not fynde hir paths.

8 And she did not knowe that I gaue hir corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplyed hir syluer and golde, which they bestowed on Baal.

9 Therefore I will returne, and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wyne in the season thereof, and set agayne my wool and my flaxe (whych I gaue hir) to couer hir shame.

10 And now wil I discouer hir shame (euen) in the syghte of hir louers, and no man shall deliuer hir out of my handes.

11 Moreouer I will take away all hir mirth, hir holy dayes, hir newe moones, hir Sabbothes, and all hir solemne feastes.

12 I will destroy hir vineyards and fygge trees, whereof she sayde, These are my rewardes that my louers haue giuen mee, I will make them as a wood, and wild beastes shall eate them vp.

13 I will visite vppon hir the dayes of Baal, wherein she burned incense to him, and decked hir selfe with earerings and iewels, she folowed hir louers, and forgate me, sayth the Lorde.

14 Wherefore beholde, I will allure hir, and bring hir into the wildernesse, and speake friendly vnto hir.

15 From thence will I giue hir hir vineyards agayne, yea and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shall syng there as in the dayes of hir youth, and as in the day whē she came out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day (sayth the Lord) thou shalt call me, O my husband, and shalt call me no more Baal.

17 For I wil take away those names of Baal from hir mouth, yea she shall neuer remember their names any more.

18 Then will I make a couenaunt for them, with the beastes of the fielde, with the foules of the ayre, and with euery thyng that creepeth vpon the earth: Is for bowe, sword, and battayle, I will destroy out of the lande, and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marrie thee vnto myne owne selfe for euer, yea euen to my selfe will I marrie thee in ryghteousnesse, in iudgement, in louing kindnesse and mercie.

20 In faythfulnesse also wil I marie thee vnto my selfe, and thou shalt knowe the Lorde.

21 At the same time will I shewe my selfe gratious vnto the heauens, sayeth the Lorde, and the heauens shall help the earth:

22 And the earth shall help the corne, wyne, and oyle: and they shall help Jezrahel.

23 And I will sowe hir for my selfe in the earth, and will haue mercy vpon hir that had not obteyned mercie: And to them whiche were not my people, I will say, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God. 1. Pet. 2. b. Rom. 9. c.

12 I haue written to them the greate thyngs of my law, (but) they are counted as a ſtrãge thing.

13 They ſacrifice fleſh for the ſacrifice of mine offerings, and eate it, (but) the Lorde hath no pleaſure in it: now will he remember theyr iniquitie, and viſite theyr ſinnes, they ſhal returne into Egypt.

℃ 14 For Iſrael hath forgotten hym that made him, and hath builded fayre palaces, and Iuda hathe encreaſed ſtrong cities: but I wyll ſend a fyre into theyr cities, and it ſhall conſume their palaces.

The. ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Iſrael.

Ī 1 DO not thou triumph, O Iſraell, make no boaſting ouer ioyous thynges, as do the Heathen: for thou haſt committed adulterie againſt thy God, whoſe rewards haſte thou ioued more than all the corne flowrs.

2 The corne flowre, and the wine preſſe ſhall not feede them: and the newe wyne ſhal faile them.

Ezech. 4. c. 3 They ſhal not dwell in the Lordes lande, but Ephraim ſhall turne agayne into Egypt, and eate vncleane thyngs among the Aſſyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lorde, neyther ſhall theyr ſlayne offerings be pleaſant vnto him, they ſhall be vnto them as the bread of mourners, all they that eate ſhall be defyled: for theyr bread (a) for their ſoules ſhall not come into the houſe of the Lorde.

a. The ſacrifice whiche they offered for their ſinnes

5 What will ye do then in the ſolemne day, and in the feaſt day of the Lorde?

6 For beholde, they are gone away for deſtruction, (but) Egypt ſhall gather them, and Memphis ſhall burie them: the nettles ſhall poſſeſſe the pleaſaunt (places) of theyr ſiluer, thornes ſhall be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of viſitation are come, the dayes ℬ of recompence are come: and then ſhall Iſraell know that they were deceyued by a fooliſh, mad, and franticke prophet: for the multitude of thyne iniquitie (God) ſhall multiply enimies againſt thee.

11 Ephraim their glory ſhall flee away lyke a birde: for birth, for wombe, and conception.

12 And though they bring vp children, yet I wil deſtroy them before they be men: Yea woe ſhall come to them when I depart from the. Gen.

13 Ephraim (as me thinke) is planted in a pleaſant place, lyke as is Tyrus: but nowe muſt ſhe bring hir owne children forthe to the manſlayer.

14 O Lorde, giue them: what ſhalte thou ℂ giue them? Giue them an vnfruitfull wombe, and drie breaſtes.

15 All their wickednelle is done at Gilgal, Iud. there do I abhorre them: for the vngratiouſnelle of their owne inuentions I will dryue them out of my houſe, I will loue them no more, for all their princes are vnfaythfull.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their rote is dried vp, ſo ỹ they ſhal bring no more fruite: yea and though they bring forth any, yet wil I ſlay euen the beſt beloued of their body.

17 My God ſhall caſt them away, for they haue not bin obediente vnto hym, therefor ſhall they wander among the Heathen.

¶ The booke of the prophete Ioel.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynst the Iewes. 2. He exhorteth the people to prayer and fastyng, for the miserie that was at hand.

1 THe word of ỹ lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye thys, you elders, & hearken w̄ youre eares, all you that dwell in this lande: was there euer suche a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thing tell youre children, and lette your children (shewe it) to their children, and their children to (their) posteritie afterwarde.

4 That whiche the caterpiller hathe left, the grashopper hath eaten, & what the grashopper left, hath the (a) canker worme eaten, and what the canker worme left, the locust hathe deuoured.

5 Awake ye drunkardes, and weepe, howle all ye wine bybbers, for lacke of newe wine: for it is cleane taken away frō your mouth.

6 For a nation is come vp vppon my lande, myghtie and without number: hys teeth are as the teeth of a Lion, and he hath the iawes of a great Lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, and barked my figge tree, he hathe pilled it, and cast it from him, and hath left boughes thereof white.

8 Lament as a virgin girded with sackcloth, for the husband of hir youth.

9 The meate offering and drinke offeryng is cut off from the house of the Lorde, the priestes (I meane) the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the new wine is dried vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Be ye ashamed, O yee husbandmen, howle O ye wine dressers, for the wheate and for ỹ barly: for ỹ harnest of ỹ fielde is perished.

12 The wine is dryed vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomegranate tree, & the paulme, and the apple tree, (euen) all the trees of the fielde are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Girde your selues, & lament, O ye priests, howle ye out, ye ministers of the aulter, come and lye all nyght in sackcloth, ye seruauntes of my GOD: for the meate and drynke offeringes are taken away from the house of your God.

14 Proclayme a fast, call a congregation, gather the elders togeather, (with) all the inhabitants of the lande, vnto the house of the Lord your God, and crye vnto the Lord.

15 Alas for thys day, for the day of the Lorde is at hand, euen as a destruction from the almightie, shall it come.

16 Is not the meate cut off before our eyes, (yea,) myrth and ioy from the house of oure God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their cloddes, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.

18 O howe cattayle mourne? the heardes of beaſts are in woful caſe for lacke of paſture, and the flockes of sheepe are deſtroyed?

19 Unto thee, O Lorde, will I crie, for feare hath deſtroyed the fruitefull places of the deſart, and the flambe hathe burnt vp all the trees of the fielde.

20 The beaſtes alſo of the field crye out vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dried vp, and fire hath deuoured vp the fruitefull places of the deſart.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. He prophecieth of the comming and cruelties of their enimies. 13. An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18. The loue of God toward his people.

1 BLow vp a trumpet in Sion, & showte in my holy hill, let all the inhabitantes of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lorde is come, for it is nigh at hande.

2 A darke and glomie day, a cloudy & blacke day: as the morning is ſpread ouer the mountaynes, (so is this) populous and ſtrong people, lyke it there was none from the beginning, nor ſhall be hereafter for euermore.

3 Before him is a deuouring fyre, and behinde him a burning flambe: the land is as a pleaſant garden before him, and behind hym a waſt deſart, yea and nothing ſhall eſcape hym.

4 The ſhewe of him is as the ſhewe of horſes, and lyke horſemen, ſo ſhall they runne.

5 Like the noyſe of charrettes vpon ẏ toppes of the mountaynes they ſhall skip, like the noyſe of a flaming fyre deuouring the ſtubble, (and) as a ſtrong people prepared to battayle.

6 Before his face ſhall the people tremble, the countenance of all folkes ſhall ware (blacke) as a pot.

7 They ſhall runne like ſtrong men, and climbe the walles like men of warre: and euery one ſhal march on in his way, and they ſhall not linger in their paths.

8 No man ſhall thruſt another, but euery one ſhall walke in his path: and if they ſhall fall on the ſword, they ſhall not be wounded.

9 They ſhall run to and fro in the citie, they ſhall run vp and downe vpon the wall, they ſhall climbe into the houſes, they ſhall enter in at the windowes like a theefe.

10 The earth ſhall quake before him, the heauens ſhall tremble, the ſunne and the mone ſhall be darke, and the ſtarres ſhal withdraw their ſhining.

11 And the Lord ſhall giue his voyce before his hoſt, for his campe is exceeding great, for he is mightie that executeth his commaundement: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 But now ſayth the Lord, Turne you vnto me with all your harts, with faſting, with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And rent your hartes, and not your garments, and turne you vnto the Lorde your God, for he is gratious and mercifull, ſlowe to anger, and of great gentleneſſe, and he will repent him of the euill.

14 Who knoweth whether the Lorde will returne, and take compaſſion, and wil leaue behind him a bleſſing, (euen) meate offering, and drinke offering, vnto the Lorde your God?

15 Blow vp a trumpet in Sion, proclayme a faſt, call an aſſemblie, ſanctify the congregation:

16 Gather ẏ people, gather the elders, aſſemble the children and ſucking babes: lette the bridegrome come forth of his chamber, and the bride out of hir cloſet.

17 Let the prieſts, the Lords miniſters, weepe betwixt the porche and the aulter, and let the ſay, Spare thy people, O Lord, and giue not ouer thyne heritage to reproche, that the heathen ſhould rule ouer them: Wherfore ſhuld they ſay amongſt the heathen, Where is their God?

18 And (then) the Lorde will be ielous ouer his land, and will ſpare his people.

19 Yea, the Lorde will anſweare, and ſay to his people, Behold, I will ſende you corne, and wine, and oyle, and will ſatisfye you therewith, and will not giue you ouer any more to be a reproche among the heathen.

20 And I will remoue farre off from you the northren (armie,) and I will driue hym into a land barren and deſolate, with his face towards the eaſt ſea, and his hynder partes towards the vttermoſt ſea: and his ſtinch ſhall ariſe, and his corruption ſhal aſcend, becauſe he hath exalted him ſelfe to do this.

21 Feare not, O thou lande, be glad and reioyce: for the Lord will do great thinges.

22 Be not afrayde, ye beaſtes of the fielde, for the fruitefull places of the deſart are greene: for the tree beares hir fruite, the figge tree & the vine yeeld their ſtrength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for he hath giuen you moderate (a) raine, and he will ſende downe for you the raine (euen) the firſt rayn, and the latter raine, in the firſt (moneth.)

24 And the barnes ſhall be filled with corne, and the preſſes ſhall ouerflowe with wyne and oyle.

25 And I wil reſtore to you the yeeres which the graſſhopper, the canker worme, the locuſt, and and the caterpiller haue deuoured, my great armie whiche I sent among you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie, and be satisfied, and shall prayse the name of the Lorde your God, whiche hath dealt wonderously with you, and my people shall not be ashamed any more.

27 And you shall knowe that I am in the middle of Israel, and (that) I am the Lorde your God, and none but I: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 And it shall come to passe after this, I will powre out my spirite vpon all flesshe, & your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, your olde men shall dreame dreames, your young men shall see visions.

29 Yea in those dayes, vpon the seruants, and vpon the handmaydens will I powre out my spirite.

30 And I will shewe wonders in heauen, and in earth, bloud, and fire, and pillers of smoke.

31 The sunne shall be turned into darknesse, and the mone into bloud, before that great and terrible day of the Lorde come.

32 But whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shal be saued: for there shal be deliuerance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalē, as the Lorde hath promised, and (also) in the remnant whom the Lorde shall call.

The.iij. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God, agaynst the enimies of his people.

1 FOr beholde, in those dayes, and in that tyme, when I shall bryng agayne the captiuitie of Juda and Hierusalem,

2 I will also gather all the Gentiles, & cause them to come into the valley of (a) Iehosaphat, and I wyll pleade with them there for my people and heritage Israel, whiche they haue scattered amongst the nations, and haue parted my lande.

3 And they haue cast lots for my people, and changed the boy for an (b) harlot, and sold the gyrle for wine, that they might drynke.

4 And what haue you to do with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the coastes of Palestine? wyll ye render me recompence? and if you recompence me, I shall swiftly (and) spredily returne your recompence vpon your owne heads.

5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my gold, my pleasant and pretious things, and haue caryed them into your temples.

6 You haue solde also the children of Juda, and the chyldren of Hierusalem, to the Grecians, that you myght sende them farre from theyr owne country.

7 Behold, I wil rayse them out of that place whyther you haue sold them, and wil returne your recompence vpon your owne heads. B

8 And I wyll sell your sonnes and your daughters, into the hands of the chyldren of Juda, and they shall sell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

9 Publishe this thing among the Gentiles, proclaime war, wake vp the mightie men, let all the men of warre drawe neare, & come vp.

10 Breake your plough shares into swordes, and your sithes into speares, let the weake say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all you heathen, and gather your selues together round about, there shal the Lord cast downe thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen stryre, and come vp to the valley of Iehosaphat: for there wyll I sit to iudge al nations rounde about.

13 Put in your sithes, for the harueſt is rype: come ye (and) nether, for the (c) wynepresse is full, (yea) the prestes ouerflowe: for their wickednesse is multiplied. c. When the measure of wickednesse is ful, then destruction is at hande. C

14 O people, people (come) into the valley of final iudgement: for the day of the Lorde is at hand, in the valley of finall iudgement.

15 The sunne and the mone shal be darkned, and the starres shal withdrawe their light.

16 The Lord also shal roze out of Sion, and out of Hierusalem shall he giue hys voyce, the heauens and the earth shall shake: but the Lorde will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the chyldren of Israel.

17 So shall you knowe that I am the Lorde your God, dwelling in Sion my holy mountaine, then shal Hierusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers passe through here any more.

18 And in that day, shal the mountaynes drop downe sweete wine, and the hylles shal flow with milke, and all the ryuers of Juda shall runne with water, and a fountayne shal come out of the house of the Lorde, and shal water the valley of Sittim.

19 Egypt shal be waste, and Edom shal be a desolate wildernesse: for the iniuries (done) to the chyldren of Juda: bycause they haue shed innocent bloud in theyr lande.

20 But Juda shall dwell for euermore, and Hierusalem from generation to generation.

21 I wil also cleanse the bloud of them (that) I haue not cleansed, and the Lorde dwelleth in Sion.

The ende of the propheſie of Ioel.

¶ The booke of the prophete Amos.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The condition and state of Amos, and the tyme of his prophesie. 3. The woorde of the Lorde against Damascus, the Philistines, Tyrus, Idumea, and Ammon.

1 The woordes of Amos, who was among ỳ shepheards at Thecua, whiche he sawe vpon Israel, in the daies of Osia kyng of Juda, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas kyng of Israel, two yeeres before the earthquake.

2 And he sayde, The Lorde shal rore out of Sion, and vtter his voyce frō Hierusalem: and the "dwellyng places of the shepheardes shall "mourne, and the top of Charmel shal wither.

3 Thus sayth ỳ Lord, For (a) three "wickednesses of Damascus, and for foure, I wyll not "spare hyr: bycause they haue threshed Gilead with iron flayles.

4 But I wyll sende a fyre into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Benhadad.

5 I wyll breake also the barres of Damascus, and "rote out the inhabiters from the "playne of Auen, and hym that holdeth the scepter out of the house of "Eden, and the people of Syria shal goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, sayth the Lorde.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of "Izza, & for foure, I wyl not spare hyr: bycause they caryed "away prysoners into captiuitie, to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therfore wyll I send a fyre vpō the walles of "Izza, which shall deuour hyr palaces.

8 And I will cut off the inhabiter from Asdod, and hym that holdeth scepter from Ascalon, and turne my hande to "Ecron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perysh, sayth the Lorde God.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three "wyckednesses of Tyre, and for foure, I will not spare hyr: bycause they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the (b) brotherly couenant.

10 Therefore wyll I sende a fyre vpon the wall of Tyre, and it shall consume the palaces thereof.

11 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure, I wyll not spare hym: bycause he pursued hys brother with the swoorde, and did "caste off all pitie, and "in his anger spoyled hym continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

12 Therfore I wil send a fyre into Theman, which shal deuour the palaces of Bozra.

13 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of the chyldren of Ammon, & for foure, I wyl not spare them: bicause they (c) haue rypt vp the women with chylde of Gilead, that they might enlarge theyr borders.

14 Therfore wil I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbah, that shal cōsume hir palaces with a great crye in the day of battayle, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And theyr king shal goe into captiuitie, he, and his princes together, sayth the Lorde.

The. ij. Chapter.

He prophesieth against Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

1 Thus sayth the Lord, For three wickednesses of Moab, & for foure, I will not "spare him: bycause he burnt the bones of the kyng of Edom into (a) lyme.

2 Therefore I wyl sende a fyre into Moab, which shall consume the palaces of Carioth, & Moab shal dye with tumulte, with showtyng, and with the sounde of the trumpet.

3 And I wyll cutte off the iudge out of the middes thereof, and wyl slay all the princes thereof with hym, sayth the Lorde,

4 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wyckednesses of Juda, & for foure, I wyll not spare hym: bycause they haue cast away the law of the Lorde, and haue not kept his ordinances, and theyr lyes caused them to erre, after the whiche theyr fathers walked.

5 Therefore wyll I sende a fyre into Juda, which shal cōsume the palaces of Hierusalē.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wyckednesses of Israel, & for foure, I will not spare him: bycause they solde the ryghteous for syluer, and the powre for a payre of shoes.

7 They "gape for breath ouer the head of the powre in the dusse of the earth, and peruert the way of the "meeke: a man and hys father will goe in to one "mayde, to dishonour my holy name.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose heigth was like the heigth of the Cedar trees, and he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruite frō aboue, and his rote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the lande of Egypt, and led you forty yeres through the wyldernesse, to possesse the lande of the Amorites.

11 And I raysed vp of youre sonnes for prophetes, and of your yong men for "Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye chyldren of Israell, sayth the Lorde?

12 But yee gaue the Nazarites wyne to drynke, and commaunded the prophets, saying, Prophesie not.

13 Behold, I am pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

14 Therefore the "flight shal not perishe from the swifte, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neyther shal the mighty saue his lyfe.

15 Nor he that handleth the bowe shal stand, nor hee that is swyfte of foote shall escape, neyther shall hee that rydeth the horsse, saue his lyfe.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, sayth the Lorde.

The.iij. Chapter.

He reprouеth the house of Israell of ingratitude, foreshewyng Gods most iust punishement for the same.

1 HEare this word that the Lord pronoūceth against you, O chyldren of Israel (euen) against the whole familie, which I brought vp from the lande of Egypt, saying,

2 You only haue I knowen of all the families of the earth, therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together, excepte they bee agreed?

4 Wyll a Lion roare in the forrest when he hath no pray? Or will a Lions whelpe crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a byrd fall in a snare vppon the earth, where no Fowler is? Or wyll he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet bee blowen in the citie, and the people be not afrayde? Or shal there bee (a) euyll in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it.

7 "Surely the Lorde God will do nothing, but he reueleth his secrete vnto his seruantes the Prophets. "or, for.

8 The Lion hath roared, who will not be afrayde? The Lorde God hath spoken, who "can but prophesie? "or, Who will not prophesy.

9 Proclayme in the palaces at Asdod, and in the palaces in the lande of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vppon the mountaynes of Samaria, and beholde the great tumultes in the middes thereof: and the oppressed in the middes thereof:

10 For they knowe not to doe ryghte, sayeth the Lorde, they store vp "violence and robberie in their palaces. "or, iniurie.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, An aduersarie (shall come) euen rounde aboute the countrey, and shall bryng downe thy strengthe from thee, and thy Palaces shall be spoyled.

12 Thus sayth the Lorde, As the shepheарde taketh out of the mouth of the Lyon two legges or a peece of an eare: so shall the chyldren of Israell bee taken oute, that dwell in Samaria, in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus, (as in) a couche.

13 Heare and testifie in the house of Jacob, sayth the Lorde God, the God of hostes.

14 That in the daye that I shall visite the "transgressions of Israell vpon him, I will also visite the aultars of Bethel, and the hornes of the aultar shall bee "broken off, and fall to the grounde. "or, wickednesse. "or, cut off.

15 And I will smyte the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of Iuorie shall perishe, and the greate houses shall be consumed, sayth the Lord.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. Vnder the name of fat kyne of Basan, he inueyeth against the gouernoures of Samaria, and foreshewеth their punishment. 4. Hee laugheth to scorne their idolatrie. 8. He sheweth that notwithstanding they had bin plagued with hunger, drought, blasting, caterpillers, pestilence, and warre, yet were they not turned vnto God.

1 HEare this word, ye kyne of Basan, that are in the mountayn of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, and destroye the needye, whiche saye to their (a) maysters, Bryng, and let vs drinke.

2 The Lorde God hathe sworne by his holinesse, that loe, the days shal come vpon you, that he will take you away with (b) thornes, and your posteritie with fishehookes.

3 And yee shall goe out at the breaches, euery (kowe) forewarde: and ye shall "cast your selues ſelues out of the pallace, ſayth the Lorde.

4 Come to Bethel, and "tranſgreſſe: to Gilgal, and multiplie tranſgreſſion: and bring your ſacrifices in the morning, and your tythes after three yeres,

5 And offer a thankeſgeuyng of leauen, publiſhe and proclayme the free offeryngs: for this lyketh you, O yee chyldren of Iſraell, ſayth the Lorde God.

6 Therfore haue I giuen you (c) cleanneſſe of teeth in all youre cities, and ſcarceneſſe of bread in all your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

7 And alſo I haue withholden the rayn from you, when there were yet three monethes to the harueſt, and I cauſed it to rayne vpon one citie, and haue not cauſed it to rayn vpon an other citie: one peece was rayned vpon, and the peece whereupon it rayned not, withered.

8 So two (or) three cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not ſatisfyed, yet haue ye not returned vnto mee, ſayth the Lorde.

9 I haue ſmitten you with blaſting and mildeawe, your great gardens, and your vineyards, and your figgetrees, and your Oliue trees, did the "Palmer worme deuoure: yet haue yee not returned vnto mee, ſayeth the Lorde.

10 Peſtilence haue I ſente among you, after the manner of Egypt: your yong men haue I ſlayne with the ſworde, and haue taken awaye your horſſes, and I haue made the ſtinke of youre tentes to come euen vp into your noſthyrilles: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

11 I haue ouerthrowen "you, as God ouerthrew Sodoma & Gomorra, and ye were as a fyrebrand pluckte out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto me ſaith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus wil I do vnto thee O Iſrael, (and) bicauſe I will doe this vnto thee, (d) prepare to meete thy God, O Iſrael.

13 For lo, he that fourmeth the mountaynes, and createth the wynde, and declareth vnto man what is his thoughte, whiche maketh the "morning darkneſſe, and walketh vpon ẏ high places of the earth, the Lord God of hoſtes is his name.

The. v. Chapter.

1. The Prophete lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4. He calleth to repentaunce. 8. He deſcribeth the power of God. 14. He exhorteth to good workes. 16. He deſcribeth the heauie day of the Lorde. 21. And reiecteth their feaſt dayes and ſacrifices.

1 HEare ye this worde which I lifte vp vpon you (euen) a lamentation "of the houſe of Iſraell.

2 The virgin Iſraell is fallen, and ſhall no more ryſe, ſhe is left vpon hir land, and there is none to rayſe hir vp.

3 For thus ſayeth the Lorde God, The citie which went out by a thouſande, ſhall leaue an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, ſhal leaue ten, to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 For thus ſayth the Lorde vnto the houſe of Iſraell, Seeke ye me, and ye ſhall liue.

5 But ſeeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beerſeba: for Gilgal ſhall goe into captiuitie, and Bethel ſhall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lorde, and ye ſhall lyue, leaſt he breake out lyke a fyre in the houſe of Joſeph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to Wormewode and forſake righteouſneſſe in the earth.

8 Hee maketh the ſeuen ſtarres and Orion, and he turneth (a) the ſhadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as nyght: hee calleth the waters of the ſea, and poureth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

9 He ſtrengtheneth the deſtroyer againſt the mighty, and the deſtroyer ſhall "come againſt the fortreſſe.

10 They hate hym that rebuketh (b) in the gate, and they abhorre hym that ſpeaketh vprightly.

11 Forasmuche then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye (c) take from him burdens of wheate: ye haue buylt houſes of hewen ſtone, but ye ſhall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleaſant vineyardes, but ye ſhall not drinke wyne of them.

12 For I knowe youre manyfolde "tranſgreſſions, and youre myghtie ſynnes: they afflict the iuſt, they take rewardes, and they oppreſſe the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the wyſe ſhall keepe ſcilence in that tyme: for it is an euill tyme.

14 Seeke good and not euil, that ye may liue: and ſo the Lord God of hoſtes ſhall be with you, as you haue ſpoken.

15 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and eſtabliſhe iudgement in the gate: it maye bee, that the Lorde God of hoſtes will be mercyfull vnto the remnant of Joſeph.

16 Therfore the Lorde GOD of hoſtes, the Lord ſayth thus, Mournyng ſhall be in all ſtreetes, and they ſhall ſaye in all the bigge wayes, Alas, alas: and they ſhal cal the husbandman to lamentation, and ſuche as can mourne, "to mourning.

17 And in al the vines shal be lamentation: for I wil passe through thee, sayth the lord.
18 Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lord, what haue ye to do with it? the day of the Lorde is darkenesse, and not light.
19 As if a man dyd flee from a Lion, and a Beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hande vnto the wal, and a serpent byte him.
20 Shal not the day of the Lorde be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse, and no "light in it.
21 I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not (d) smel in your solēne assemblies.
22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings, and meate offerings, I wyll not accepte them, neyther wyl I regarde the peace offeryng of your fatte beasts.
23 Take thou away frō me the multitude of thy songs, for I will not heare the melodie of thy violes.
24 And "let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie ryuer.
25 Haue ye offred vnto me sacrifices, and offerynge in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?
26 But ye haue borne (e) Siccuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, whiche ye made to your selues.
27 Therefore wyll I cause you to goe into captiuitie beyonde Damascus, sayth the Lorde, whose name is the God of hostes.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. He prophesieth against the princes of Israel lyuyng in pleasures. 8. The Lorde sweareth that he will bring to passe the things that are purposed agaynst Israel.

1 WO to them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, whiche were famous at the beginnyng of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.
2 Goe you vnto Chalneh, and see, and from thence goe you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of ỹ Philistines: be (a) they better than (b) these kingdomes? or the border of ỹ lande greater than your border?
3 Ye that put farre away the euill day, and "approche to the seate of iniquitie.
4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, and stretch themselues vpon theyr couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.
5 They sing to the sounde of the viole, they inuent to themselues instruments of musicke, lyke Dauid.
6 They drinke wine in bowles, & annoynt themselues with chiefe ointments: but no man is sory for the affliction of Ioseph.
7 Therefore nowe shall they goe captiue with the firste that goe captiue, and "the sorow of them that stretched themselues, is at hande.
8 The Lorde God hath sworne by himselfe, sayth the Lorde God of hostes, I abhorre the "excellencie of Jacob, and hate his palaces, therefore wyll I deliuer vp the citie, with al that is therein.
9 And if there remayne tenne menne in one house, they shal die.
10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne hym, to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall say vnto him that is by the (c) sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shal he say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lorde.
11 For beholde, the Lorde commaundeth, and he wil smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.
12 Shal horses runne vpon the (d) rocke? Or will one plowe there with oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into "gall, and the fruyte of righteousnesse into wormewood.
13 Ye reioyce in a thyng of nought, yee say, Haue not we gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?
14 But behold, I wyl raise vp agaynst you a nation, O house of Israel, sayth the Lorde God of hostes, and they shal afflict you from the entryng of (e) Hemath, vnto the ryuer of the wildernesse.

The. vij. Chapter.

1. God sheweth certaine visiōs, wherby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10. The false accusation of Amazia the priest. 17. His prophesie agaynst Amazia, and of the captiuitie of the people.

1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, & beholde, he fourmed grashoppers in the beginning of the shwtyng vp of the latter growth, and loe, it was in the latter growth, after the (a) kings mowyng.
2 And when they had made an ende of eatyng the grasse of the lande, then I sayde, O Lorde God spare I beseeche thee: who shall rayse vp Jacob? for he is smal.
3 So the Lorde (b) repented for this: it shal not be, sayth the Lorde.
4 Thus also hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and beholde, the Lorde God called to iudgement by fyre, and it deuoured the great deepe, and dyd eate vp "a part.
5 Then sayde I, O Lord God, ceasse I beseeche seche thee: who shall rayse vp Jacob? for he is small.

6 So the Lorde repented for this, this also shall not be, sayth the Lorde God.

B 7 Thus agayne he shewed me, and beholde, the Lorde stoode vpon a wall (made) by line, (c) with a line in his hande.

c. Signifying that this should be the laste measuryng of the people, and that he woulde deferre his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lord sayde vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayde, A line. Then saide the Lorde, Beholde, I will set a line in the myddes of my people Israel, and wil passe by them no more.

9 And the hygh places of Isaac shal be desolate, and the "temples of Israel shal be destroyed, and I will ryse agaynst the house of Jeroboam with the swoorde.

"or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel, sent to Jeroboam kyng of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired agaynst thee in the middes of the house of Israel, the lande is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos sayth, Jeroboam shall dye by the swoorde, and Israel shall be led away captiue out of theyr owne lande.

12 Also Amazia sayde to Amos, O thou the seear, Goe, flee thou away into the lande of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and prophesie there.

13 But prophesie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings chappel, and it is the kings court.

C 14 Then answeared Amos, and sayde to Amazia, I was no prophete, neyther was I a prophets sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lorde toke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lorde sayde vnto me, Goe, prophesie vnto my people Israel.

16 Nowe therefore, heare thou the woorde of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophesie not agaynst Israel, and speake nothing agaynst the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Thy wife shal be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes & thy daughters shall fall by the swoorde, & thy lande shal be diuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shal surely goe into captiuitie, forth of his lande.

The.viij. Chapter.

1. By a vision of a basket of sommer fruyte, the ende of the kyngdome of Israel is shewed. 4. He speaketh agaynst the oppressours of the poore. 11. And prophesieth of the famine of the worde of God.

a. Which signified the ripenesse of theyr sinnes, and the readinesse of Gods iudgement.

1 Thus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me: & behold, a basket of sommer fruite.

2 And he sayde, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayde, A basket of (a) sommer fruite. Then sayde the Lorde vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I wyll passe by them no more.

3 And the songs of the temple shal be howlings in that day, sayth the Lorde God: many dead bodies shal be in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O yee that swallowe vp the poore, that ye may make the needy of the land to fayle,

5 Saying, When will the newe moneth be gone, that we may sell corne? and the sabboth, that we may set forth wheate, and make the (b) Epha small, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weightes by deceyt?

b. Which is the measure of three bushels.

6 That we may buye the poore for siluer, and the needie for shoes, yea, and sell the refuse of the wheate?

7 The Lorde hath swoorne by the excellencie of Jacob, surely I will neuer forget any of theyr workes.

8 Shall not the lande tremble for this, and euery one mourne that dwelleth therin? And it shal ryse vp wholly as a floudde, & it shal be cast out and (c) drowned, as by the floudde of Egypt.

c. Or, be driuen.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lorde God, I wyll euen cause the (d) sunne to goe downe at noone, and I wyll darken the earth in the cleare day.

d. Meaning, that he would take away the light of the Gospell.

10 And I wil turne your feasts into mourning, and al your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loynes, and baldnesse vpon euery head, and I wyll make it as the mourning of an only sonne, and the ende therof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lorde God, that I wyll sende a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor thirste for water, but of hearyng the woorde of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north, euen vnto the east, shall they runne to and fro to seeke the woorde of the Lorde, and shall not finde it.

e. Because they had not receiued the Gospell.

13 In that day shal the fayre virgins, and the yong men perysh for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the (e) sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the (f) manner of Beersheba liueth, euen they shal fal, and neuer ryse vp agayne.

f. Or, vow.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Threatnings agaynst the temple. 5. The subuersion of the people. 11. The restoring of the Churche is promised.

1 I saw the Lord standyng vpon the aulter, and he sayde, Smite the lintel of the dowre, that the postes may shake, & "cut them in peces

a. Which was a token of fiercenesse.

in peces, euen the (b) heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the swoꝛd: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee awaye, & he that escapeth of the, shall not be deliuered.

2 Thoughe they digge into (c) hell, thence shall my hande take them: thoughe they climbe vp to heauen, thence will I bꝛyng them downe.

3 And thoughe they hyde themselues in the toppe of Charmell, I wyl searche, and take them out thence: and though they be hidde from my syghte in the bottome of the sea, thence will I commaunde (d) the serpente, and he shall byte them.

4 And thoughe they goe into captiuitie before their enimies, thence will I cõmaunde the swoꝛde, and it shall slaye them: and I will set mine eyes vpon them foꝛ euill, and not foꝛ good.

5 And the Loꝛde God of hostes shall touche the lande, and it shall melte awaye: and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall ryse whole lyke a flood, and shall be dꝛowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buyldeth his "spheres in the heauen, and hath layde the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out vppon the open earth, the Loꝛde is his name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians (e) vnto me, O chyldren of Israell sayeth the Lord? Haue not I bꝛought vp Israell out of the lande of Egypt? and the Philistines from Cappadocia? and the Syrians from Cyrene?

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Loꝛde God are vpon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroye it cleane out of the earth: neuertheleſſe, I will not vtterly destroy the house of Jacob, sayth the Loꝛde.

9 Foꝛ loe, I will commaunde, and I will syfte the house of Israell among al nations, lyke as coꝛne is sifted in a siue: yet shall not the (f) least stone fall vpon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall dye by the swoꝛde, which say, The euill shal not come, noꝛ hasten foꝛ vs.

11 In that daye will I rayse vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and close vp the bꝛeaches thereof, and I wyll rayse vp his ruines, and I will buylde it, as in the dayes of olde:

12 That they maye possesse the remnaunt of Edom, and of all the Heathen, "bycause my name is called vpon them, sayeth the Loꝛde that doth this.

13 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Loꝛde, that the plowman shal (g) touch the mower, and the treader of grapes hym that soweth seede, and the mountaynes shall (h) dꝛoppe sweete wine, and all the hilles shall melt.

14 And I wyll bꝛing agayne the captiuitie of my people of Israell, and they shal buyld the wast cities, and inhabite them: and they shall plante vineyardes, and dꝛinke the wine therof: they shall also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I will plante them vpon their lande, and they shall no moꝛe be pulled vp agayne, out of their lande which I haue giuen them, sayth the Loꝛde God.

f. Meanyng that none of his should peꝛishe in his wrath.

g. Signifyng that there shal be great plentie of al things that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another should folow, and euery one in course. Leuit. 26.

h. He meaneth that the plenty of Gods giftes shal not be cõmon & vsuall, but aboue all hope, yea and aboue the order of nature, as though the hilles should melt, and flow with wine and mylke.

¶ The booke of the Prophet Abdias.

Agaynst Edom, and the truſt that they had in richeſſe.

1 THe vision of Abdi, thus sayth the Loꝛde God agaynste Edom. We haue heaꝛde a rumoꝛ from the Loꝛde, and an Imbassadour is sente among the Heathen: aryse, and let vs ryse vp agaynst hir to battayle.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee small among the heathen, thou art vtterly despised.

3 The pryde of thyne heaꝛte hathe deceyued thee, thou that dwellest in the clyfters of the rockes, whose habitation (is) hyghe, that sayeth in his heaꝛte, Who shall bꝛyng mee downe to the grounde?

4 Yea though thou exalt thy selfe as the Egle, and make thy neste among the starres, thence will I bꝛyng thee downe sayeth the Loꝛde.

5 Came theeues to thee, oꝛ robbers by night? howe waste thou bꝛoughte to scilence? would they not haue stollen tyll they had ynoughe? If the Grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leaue (some) grapes?

6 Howe are the things of Esau soughte vp, (and) his treasures searched?

7 All the men of thy confederacie haue dꝛyuen thee to the boꝛders, the men that were at peace at peace with thee haue deceyued thee, and preuayled agaynſt thee (they that eate) thy bread haue layde a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderſtanding in hym.

8 Shall not I in that day ſayth the lord, euen deſtroy the wyſe men out of Edom, and vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau?

9 And thy ſtrong men, O Theman, ſhal be afrayde: becauſe euery one of the mount of Eſau ſhall be cut off by ſlaughter.

10 For thy cruelitie agaynſte thy brother Jacob, ſhame ſhall couer thee, and thou ſhalte be cut off for euer.

11 When thou ſtoodeſt on the other ſyde, in the daye that the ſtraungers caried away his ſubſtance, and ſtrangers entred into his gates, and caſt lottes vppon Hieruſalem, euen thou waſt as one of them.

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the daye of thy brother, in the daye that he was made a ſtranger, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Juda in the daye of their deſtruction, thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction.

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into the gate of my people, in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their deſtruction, nor haue layde handes on their ſubſtance in the day of their deſtruction:

14 Neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue ſtande in the croſſewayes to cut off them that ſhoulde eſcape, neyther ſhouldeſt thou haue ſhut vp the remnant therof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lorde is neare vpon all the heathen: as thou haſt done, it ſhalbe done to thee, thy rewarde ſhall returne vpon thine heade.

16 For as ye haue (a) dronke vppon myne holy mountayne, ſo ſhall all the heathen drinke continually: yea they ſhall drink and ſwallowe vp, and they ſhall be as though they (b) had not bin.

17 But vpon mount Sion ſhall be deliuerance, and it ſhall be holy, and the houſe of Jacob ſhall poſſeſſe their poſſeſſions.

18 And the houſe of Jacob ſhall be a fyre, and the houſe of Joſeph a flambe, and the houſe of Eſau as ſtubble, and they ſhall kindle in them, and deuoure them, and there ſhall be no remnaunt of the houſe of Eſau: for the Lorde hath ſpoken it.

19 And they ſhal poſſeſſe the ſouth ſyde of the mount of Eſau, and the plaine of the Philiſtines, and they ſhall poſſeſſe the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fieldes of Samaria, and Beinamin (ſhal haue) Eilead.

20 And the captiuitie of this hoſte of the children of Iſrael, whiche were among the Chanaanites (ſhal poſſeſſe) vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Hieruſalem, whiche is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſſe the cities of the Southe.

21 And they that ſhall (c) ſaue, ſhall come vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Eſau and the kingdome ſhall be the Lordes.

¶ The booke of the Prophete Ionas.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

3. Ionas fled when he was ſent to preache. 4. A tempeſt aryſeth, and he is caſt into the ſea for his diſobedience.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto (a) Jonas the ſonne of Amitai, ſaying,

2 Aryſe, & goe to (b) Minine, that greate citie and crye agaynſt it: for their wickedneſſe is come vp before me.

3 And Jonas roſe vp to flee into Tharſis from the preſence of the Lorde, and wente downe to (c) Joppa, and founde a ſhip goeing to (d) Tharſis: ſo he payd his fare, and wente downe into it, that he might goe with them vnto Tharſis, from the (e) preſence of the Lorde.

4 But the Lorde ſent out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a mightie tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip was in danger of ſplitting in ſunder.

5 Then the mariners were afrayd, and cryed euery man vnto his God, and caſt the wares that were in the ſhip into the ſea, to lyghten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the ſydes of the ſhippe, and he lay downe ſleeping.

6 And

a. He propheſied vnder Ieroboam the ſecõd. 2. Re. 14 b. It was the greateſt citie of the Aſſyrians, ſituate by the riuer Lycus, as Strabo writeth, hauing in number a hundred & fifty toures. c. It is a hauen town in which Peter lodged. Actes. 10.

6 And the shyp mayster came to hym, and sayde, What meanest thou sleeper? Up, and call vpon thy God, if so be that God wyll thinke vnto vs, that we perishe not.

7 And they sayde euery one to his felowe, come let vs cast (c) lottes: that we may know for whose cause this euyll is on vs. And they cast lottes: and the lot fel on Ionas.

8 Then sayde they vnto hym, Tell vs, for whose cause is this euyll come vppon vs? what is thyne occupation? whence camest thou? what countrey man art thou, and of what nation?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drie lande.

10 Then were the men exceedyngly afrayde, and sayde vnto hym, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe that he fledde from the presence of the Lorde, bycause he had told them.)

11 And they sayd vnto him, What shal we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? for the sea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he sayde vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shal be calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Nevertheless, the men assayed with rowing to bryng the shyp to land, but they could not, bycause the sea wrought, and was troublous agaynst them.

14 Wherefore, they cryed vnto the Lorde, and sayde, We beseeche thee, O Lord, we beseeche thee, let not vs perish for this mans lyfe, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lorde, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they toke vp Ionas, and cast hym into the sea, and the sea left ragyng.

16 And the men feared the Lorde exceedyngly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lorde, and made (g) vowes.

17 And the Lorde prepared a greate fysshe to swalow vp Ionas: & Ionas was in the belly of the fysshe three dayes and three nightes.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Ionas is in the fishes belly. 3. His prayer. 11. He is deliuered.

1 AND Ionas prayed vnto the Lorde hys God out of the (a) fishes belly,

2 And sayde, In affliction I cried vnto the Lorde, and he heard me: out of the belly of hel cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 Thou hadst cast me downe into the deepe, into the middest of the sea, and the flouddes compassed me about: all thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.

4 And I sayde, I am caste away out of thy sight, yet wyll I loke agayne toward thyne holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the deapth closed me on euery side, and the weedes were wrapt about my head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaynes, the earth with hyr barres was aboute me for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my lyfe from corruption, O Lorde my God.

7 When my soule faynted within me, I remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that hold vpon (b) lying vanitie, forsake his mercy.

9 But I wyll sacrifice vnto thee, with the voyce of thankesgeuyng, and will pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lorde.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto the fysshe, and it cast out Ionas vpon the (c) drye lande.

b. Al that is lying vanitie that a man inuenteth of him self to trust in.

c. Iosephus in the nienth booke of antiquities sayth, he was cast out on the shore of the sea Euxinū, whiche is not farre frō Asia.

The. iij. Chapter.

2. Ionas is sent agayne to Niniue. 5. The repentance of the kyng of Niniue.

1 AND the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ionas the second tyme, saying,

2 Aryse, and goe to Niniue that great citie, and preache agaynst it the preachyng whiche I speake vnto thee.

3 So Ionas arose, and went to Niniue, according to the worde of the Lord. (Niniue was a greate citie and (a) excellent, of three dayes iourney.)

4 And Ionas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and sayde, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shal be destroyed.

5 And the men of Niniue beleeued God, & proclaymed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.

6 And word came vnto the king of Niniue: whiche arose from his throne, and put off hys robe, and couered himselfe with sackclothe, and sate downe in ashes.

7 And he caused a crier to crye, & say through the citie, by the counsell of the kyng and his nobles, Let neyther man nor beast, bullocke nor sheepe, taste aught at all, neyther feede, nor drynke water.

8 And let both man and beaste put on sackcloth, and crie mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euyll way, and frō the wickednesse that is in hys handes.

9 Who can tel whether God wil turne, and be moued with (b) repentāce, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perishe not?

a. In the Hebrue it is a great citie to God: but soth, Hebrues call great & excellent things. So the hyl of God, the Cedar of God, for a great hyl and hygh Cedar.

b. God is sayd to repent whē he doth those things that mē do repenting.

c. Of the euil, that is, of the plague whiche is euil to our ſelue, although not in his own nature.

10 And God ſaw their workes, that they turned from theyr euill wayes, and he repented of the (c) euill that he ſayde he would do vnto them, and did it not.

The.iiij. Chapter.

The great goodneſſe of God towarde his creatures.

1 ¶ AND this diſpleaſed Jonas greatly, and he was (a) angrie (within himſelfe.)

a. Bycauſe hereby he ſhould be take as a falſe prophete, & ſo the name of God, which he preached, ſhould be blaſphemed.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and ſayde, I pray thee, O Lorde, was not this my ſaying when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I haſted to flee into Tharſis: For I knewe that thou art a gratious God, and mercyful, long ſuffering, and of great kindneſſe, and repenteſt thee of euyll.

3 And now, O Lord, take I beſeche thee my lyfe from me: for it is better for me to dye, than to lyue.

4 Then ſayde the Lorde, Doeſt thou well to be angrie?

5 And Jonas went out of the citie, and ſate him downe on the Eaſt ſide therof, and there made hym a bowthe, and ſate vnder it in the ſhadowe, till he might ſee what ſhoulde be done in the citie.

6 And the Lorde God prepared a gourde, and made it ſpryng vp ouer Jonas, that it might be a ſhadowe ouer hys head, to deliuer hym from his griefe: So Jonas was exceedyng glad of the gourde.

7 But God prepared a worme, when the morowyng roſe the next day, whiche ſmote the gourde, that it withered.

8 And when the ſunne roſe, God prepared a feruent Eaſt wynde, and the ſunne beate vpon the head of Jonas that he fainted: and wyſhed vnto hys ſoule, that he myght dye, and ſayde, It is better for me to dye, than to lyue.

9 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Jonas: Doeſt thou well to be ſo angry within thy ſelfe for the gourde? And he ſayde, I do well to be angry euen vnto death.

10 Then ſayde the Lorde, Thou haſt had compaſſion on the gourde, about the whiche thou beſtowedſt no labour, neyther madeſt it growe, whiche came vp in a night, and periſhed in a nyght:

11 And ſhall not I ſpare Nineue that greate citie, in the whiche are more than ſixſcore thouſande perſons that knowe not theyr ryghthande and theyr left, and alſo muche cattayle?

¶ The firſt Chapter.

Of the deſtruction of Samaria bycauſe of their idolatrie.

1 THE worde of the Lorde came vnto Micheas the Morathite, in the dayes of Jotham, Ahas, and Hezekiah, kings of Juda, whiche he ſawe concernyng Samaria and Hieruſalem.

4.Reg.15.a
2.Par.27.a.
3.Reg.16.a.
4.Reg.18.a

2 Heare all ye people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is, yea let the Lord God himſelf be witneſſe againſt you, (euen) the Lorde from his holy temple.

3 For beholde, the Lorde ſhall come out of his holy place, and come downe, and treade vpon the high things of the earth.

4 The mountaynes ſhall melt vnder hym, and the valleys ſhall cleaue aſunder, lyke as waxe (melteth) before the fire, and as the waters runne downewarde.

5 And all this ſhal be for the wickedneſſe of Jacob, and the ſinnes of the houſe of Iſrael: but what is the wickedneſſe of Jacob? is not (a) Samaria? Whiche are the hygh places of Juda? Is not Hieruſalem?

a. Iſrael and Iuda were cities of two diuers kingdomes, the one of the ten tribes, the other of two.

6 Therefore, wyll I make Samaria an heape of the fielde (meete) for the plantyng of a vineyarde: hyr ſtones wyll I tumble downe into the valley, and diſcouer hyr foundations.

7 All hyr images ſhal be broken downe, and al hyr garments ſhal be brent in the fyre: yea al hir idols wil I deſtroy: for they are gathered out of the hyre of an (b) harlot, and into an harlots hyre ſhal they be turned againe.

b. Idolatrie is ſpiritual whoredome.

8 Wherefore I will mourne and make lamentation, mentation, bare and naked will I goe: I will moorne lyke the Dragons, and take sorowe as the Estriches.

9 For their wounde is past remedie, it is come into Juda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem alreadie.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neyther weepe ye: for the house of Aphra roll thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at Saphir get thee hence naked with shame: he that dwelleth at (e) Zaanan, shall not come forthe in the mourning of Bethezell: (the enimie) shall receyue of you for his (d) standing.

12 For the inhabitaunters of Maroth wayled for good, but the plague shall come from the Lorde, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.

13 O thou (e) inhabitant of Lachis, bynd the charet to the swiftest (f) beaste, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israell were founde in thee.

14 Therefore shalte thou bryng presentes to (g) Morasheth Gath: the houses of Achzib, (shall be) as a lye to the kings of Israell.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Marsa, I shall bryng a possessioner vpon thee, he shall come to Adullam, the glorie of Israell.

16 Make thee balde, (h) and shaue thee, because of thy tender chyldren: make thee cleane balde as an Egle, for they shall be caryed away captiue from thee.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Threatninges against the sinnefull people. 6. They woulde teache the Prophetes too preache.

1 WO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, & worke wickednesse vppon their beds: when the morning is light, they practise it, because their hande hath power.

2 And they covet fieldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a manne and his house (euen) man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, against this householde haue I deuised a plague, wherefrom ye shall not plucke your neckes: ye shall no more go so proudly, for it will be a perillous tyme.

4 In that day shall this parable bee vsed, and a mourning shall be made ouer you on this maner: We be vtterly desolate, the portio of my people is translated: how will he part vnto vs the land that he hath taken from vs?

5 Therefore there shal be no man to diuide thee by portion in the cõgregation of the Lord.

6 Ye shall not (a) prophecie (say they) to them that prophecie: (b) they shall not prophecie to them, neyther shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirite of the Lorde shortened? are these his workes? are not my wordes good vnto him that walketh vpright?

8 But he that was yesterdaye my people, is risen vp on the other syde (as) against an enimie: they spoyle the beautifull garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye shutte out from their pleasaunte houses, and taken awaye myne excellente gyftes from their childzen.

10 Vp, get you hence, for here shall yee haue no rest: because (the land) is defiled, it shall destroy (you) with vtter destruction.

11 If a man (i) walke in the spirite, and woldlye falsly, (saying) I will prophecie to thee of (d) wine and strong drynke: that were a prophete for this people.

12 I will surely gather thee wholly, O Jacob, (e) I will surely gather the remnant of Israell, I will put them together as the (f) sheepe of Bozra, as the flocke in the middest of their folde, they shall make great noyse by reason of the (multitude of) men.

13 The (g) breaker shall come vp before them, they shall breake oute, and passe by the gate, and goe out by it: and their kyng (h) shal go before them: and the Lorde shall be vppon their (i) heades.

The. iij. Chapter.

Against the tyrannie of false prophetes.

1 AND I sayd, heare I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, should not ye knowe iudgement?

2 (But) they hate the good, and loue the euill, they plucke off their skinnes from them, and their flesche from their bones.

3 And they eate also the flesche of my people, and flaye off their skinne from them: and they breake their bones, and choppe them in peeces as for the potte, and as flesche within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they crye vnto the Lorde, but he will not heare them: he will euen hyde his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus sayth the Lord concerning the Prophetes that deceyue my people, (a) and byte them with their teeth, and crye peace: but if a mãn put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

The. iiij. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles, and conuersion of the Iewes.

A 1 BVt in the (a) latter dayes it will come to passe, that the hil of the Lords house shall be prepared in the toppe of the mountaynes, and shall be sette vp hygher than any mountaynes or hilles, and people shall preasse vnto it.

a. Whē Christ shall come.

2 Yea, the multitude of the Gentiles shall hast them thyther, saying, Come, let vs go vp to the hill of the Lorde, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he shall teache vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes: for the lawe shall come oute of Sion, and the worde of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shal iudge many people, and rebuke mightye nations of farre countreys: so that of their swordes they shall make ploughshares, and sythes of their speares: one people shal not lift vp a sword against another, yea they shall no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man shall sitte vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his fyg tree, and no man shall make them afrayde: for the mouthe of the Lorde of hostes hath spoken it.

5 Therfore all people will walke euery man in the name of his God: & we will walk in ỹ name of our Lord God for euer and euer.

6 At the same tyme sayth the Lorde, will I gather vp the lame and the outcast, and suche as I haue chastened,

7 And will giue a remnaunt vnto the lame, and make of the outcaste a myghtie people: B and the Lorde himselfe shall bee their kyng vpon the mount Sion, from this tyme forth for euermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of the flocke, thou strong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the lordeshyp and kingdome to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou crye and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counsellours perished, that thou art so payned as a woman in hir trauayle?

10 And now, O thou daughter Sion, sorow & lamente as a woman in hir trauayle: for now must thou get thee out of the citie, and dwell vpon the playne field: yea vnto Babylon shalt thou go, (but) there shalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lord shall redeeme thee from the hande of thyne enimies.

11 Nowe also there bee manie people gathered together agaynste thee, saying, Syon shall be condemned, and our eye shall looke vpon Syon.

12 But they knowe not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderstande not his counsell: for he shal gather them together as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and threasshe out the corne: for I will make thy horne iron, & thy houes brasse, that thou mayst breake in peeces manie people: their goodes shalte thou consecrate vnto the Lorde, and their substaunce vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

3 Therefore will I giue them vp for a season, vntill the tyme that thee whiche shall beare, haue borne: then shall the remnant of his brethren bee conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shall stande fast, and giue foode in the strengthe of the Lorde, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lorde hys GOD: and when

when they be conuerted, he shal be magnified vnto the farthest partes of the worlde.

5 And he shal be our peace: when the Assyrians shall come into our lande, when he shall treade in our palaces, then shall we rayse against hym seuen shepheardes, & eight principal men.

6 These shall subdue the land of Assur with the sworde, & the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: Thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assyrian, when he commeth within our lande, and setteth hys foote within our borders.

B 7 And the remnant of Jacob shal be among the multitude of people, as the deawe of the Lorde, & as the droppes vpon the grasse, that tarieth for no man, and wayteth on no body.

8 Yea the residue of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lion among the beasts of the wood, and as the Lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe: whiche when he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in peeces, and there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thyne hande shal be lift vp vpon thyne enimies, and al thyne aduersaries shal perish.

10 And it shal come to passe in that day, sayth the Lorde, that I wil take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy charrets.

11 I will breake downe the cities of thy land, and ouerthrowe all thy strong holdes.

12 Ill witchcraftes wyll I rote out of thyne hand there shall no mo soothsayings be within thee.

13 Thine idols and thine images will I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thy self vnto the workes of thine owne handes.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation vpon the Heathen, such as they haue not hearde.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel beyng vnkinde. 8. What maner of sacrifices do please God.

1 HEarken ye nowe what the Lorde sayth, Arise thou, and contende with the mountaynes, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare, O ye mountaines the Lords quarrell, and ye mightie fundations of the earth: for the Lorde hath a quarrel against his people, and wyll pleade with Israel.

3 O my people what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee? giue mee answeare.

4 For I brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, and deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee.

5 Remember, O my people, what Balach the kyng of Moab had diuised against thee, and what answeare that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue hym, from Sethim vnto Galgal, that ye may know the righteousnesse of the Lorde.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lorde, and bowe mee selfe to the hygh God? Shall I come before hym with burnt offerynges, and with calues of a yeare olde?

7 Hath the Lorde a pleasure in many thousands of Rammes, or innumerable streames of oyle? shal I giue my first borne for mine offences, and the fruyte of my body for the sinne of my soule? B

8 He hath shewed thee, O mā, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: (namely) to do iustly, to loue mercy, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shall be saued, considereth thy name: hearken what is your rodde, and heare hym that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure which is abominable?

11 Should I iustifie the false balances, and the bagge of deceitfull weightes?

12 For the riche men therof are ful of cruelties, & the inhabitants therof haue spoken lyes, and haue deceytfull tongues in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I wyll take in hande to punishe thee, and to make thee desolate, bycause of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough: C yea, thou shalt bryng thy selfe downe in the middes of thee, thou shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, wil I deliuer to the sworde.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out Olines, but oyle shalte thou not haue to annoynt thy selfe withall: thou shalt treade out sweete must, but shalt drynke no wine.

16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, & all the customes of the house of Ahab, ye walke in theyr counsels: therefore will I make thee waste, & cause thy inhabiters to be hissed at, & ye shal beare the reproche of my people.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. A complaint of the litle number of the righteous. 5. Against the truth ought wee not to holde with our greatest friendes. 14. The prosperitie of the Churche.

A 1 WO is me, I am become as one that goeth a gleanyng in the harueſt: there are no mo grapes to eate, yet woulde I fayne with all my hart haue of the beſt fruyte.

Rom.3.d. 2 There is not a godly vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men: they al lie in wayte for bloud, and euery man huntеth hys brother to death.

a. Both the prince & iudges for gayne peruert iuſtice: and ſo the mightie & the riche eſcape vnpuniſhed, though they commit greeuous crymes.

3 Yet they lay they dw well, when they dw euill: the prince(a) aſketh, and the iudge(iudgeth) for a reward, therefore the great man ſpeaketh out of the corruption of hys ſoule, and ſo they wrap it vp.

4 The beſt of them is as brier, and the moſte righteous of them is (ſharper) than a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen, (and) of thy viſitation cōmeth: then ſhal be their cōfuſiō.

Ieiem.9.a. 5 Let no man beleeue his friende, nor put his confidence in hys brother: keepe the dwre of thy mouth from hyr that lieth in thy boſome.

Deut.13.b. and 33.b. Pſalm.37.b. and.54.b. 6 For the ſonne diſhonoureth hys father, the daughter ryſeth agaynſte hyr mother, the daughter in law againſt hyr mother in law: and a mans foes are euen they of his owne houſholde.

B 7 Neuertheleſſe, I wyll looke vp vnto the Lorde, I will patiently abyde God my ſauiour: my God ſhal heare me.

Prou.17.a. 8 O thou enimie of myne, reioyce not at my fall, for I ſhall ryſe agayne: and though I ſit in darkeneſſe, yet the Lorde is my light.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lorde, for I haue offended him, till he ſtte in iudgement vpon my cauſe, and ſee that I haue right: then will he bryng me forth to the light, and I ſhall ſee hys righteouſneſſe.

10 She that is mine enimie, ſhall looke vpon it, and be confounded, whiche nowe ſayth, 4.Reg.19.a Where is the Lorde thy God? myne eyes ſhall beholde hir, when ſhe ſhal be troden downe as the myre in the ſtreetes.

11 This is the day that thy walles ſhall be buylte, this day ſhall dryue farre away the (b) decree. Iſay.

12 And at that tyme ſhall they come vnto thee from Aſſur, from the ſtrong cities, and from the ſtrong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one ſea to the other, and frō mountayne to mountayne.

13 Notwithſtandyng, the lande muſt be waſted, bycauſe of them that dwell therein, and for the fruytes of theyr owne imaginations.

14 Therefore feede thy people with thy rod, C the flocke of thyne heritage which dwell deſolate in the wood, that they may be fed vpon the (c) mount of Carmel, Baſan, and Gilead as aforetyme. c. The people returne into the coaſts of Iſrael, euery of whom they ſpake before.

15 Marueylous thyngs wyll I ſhewe ther, lyke as when thou cameſt out of the lande of Egypt. Exod. Iob.

16 This ſhall the Heathen ſee, and be aſhamed for all theyr power: ſo that they ſhall lay their hande vpon theyr mouth, and ſtoppe their eares.

17 They ſhall licke the duſte lyke a Serpent, Ge. and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in theyr holes: they ſhal be afrayde of the lord our God, and they ſhall feare thee.

18 Who is luche a God as thou, that pardoneſt wickedneſſe, and forgiueſt the offences of the remnant of thine heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for euer: for hys delight is to haue compaſſion.

19 He ſhal turne agayne, and be mercyfull to Iere. vs, he ſhal put downe our wickednеſſes, and caſt al our ſinnes into the bottome of the ſea.

20 Thou wilt performe to Jacob thy truth, and thy mercy to Abraham, lyke as thou haſt ſworne vnto our fathers in olde tyme.

The ende of the propheſie of Micheas.

¶ The booke of the Prophete Nahum.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

Of the deſtruction of the Aſſyrians, and of the deliuerance of Iſrael.

a. The Niniuites were ſpared, bycauſe they repented at the preachyng of Ionas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickedneſſe, therefore God threatneth the by this prophet.

1 THe burden of(a) Niniue: The booke of the viſion of Nahum the Elkoſhite.

2 God is ielous, and the Lord auengeth, the lord auengeth & hath wrath in ſtore: the Lorde auengeth vpon them that trouble hym, and he remembreth his enimies.

3 The Lorde is ſlowe to anger, and (alſo) of great power, and in no caſe wyll not acquite (the wicked,) the Lordes dealyng is with blutteryng tempeſt and whirle winde, and the cloudes are the duſt of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the ſea, and dryeth it vp, all the the ryuers also he maketh drie: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spring also of Libanon is destroyed.

5 The mountaynes quake at his power, and the hilles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the worlde and all that dwelleth therin.

6 Who can stand before his wrath? Or who can ryse vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea, y rockes cleaue in peces at his myghte.

7 The Lord is gracious, a strong hold in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood he will destroy his place, and will pursue his enimies with darknesse.

9 What imagine ye against the Lorde? He makes an vtter destruction: yee shall not bee troubled twice.

10 For whiles the thornes cleaue together, and whiles they banquet out their feastes, they are deuoured vp as very drie stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thoughte euil against the Lorde, suche as gaue wicked counsell.

12 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Though ye be in concord, and also many, yet so shall ye be cut downe, and passe: and (though) I haue afflicted thee (O Hierusalem,) yet will I trouble thee no more.

13 And now I will breake off his yoke from (vpon) thee, and I will breake thy bonds in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath giuen a commaundement touching thee, that there shall bee no more offspring of thy name: from the house of thy God I will cut off carued and molten image, I will make (it) thy graue, for thou art vile.

15 Behold vpon the mountaynes the feete of him that bringeth good tidings, that preacheth peace: Keepe thy feastiual dayes O Iuda, pay thy vowes: for the wicked (tyrant) shall hereafter passe no more thorow thee, he is vtterly cut off.

The.ij. Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans, against the Assyrians.

1 The destroyer is come vp before thy face, keepe thy fort, see to thy way, strengthen (thy) loynes, increase (thy) strength mightily:

2 For the Lord restoreth againe the glorious estate of Iacob, as (also) the glorious estate of Israell: for spoylers haue spoyled them, and haue wasted their branches.

3 The shield of his valiant souldiers (is) dyed red, his captaynes of warre are clad with scarlet: the charret is (compassed) with flaming torches in the day of his expedition, and the fyrre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charrets shall rage in the streets, they shall make a terrible noyse in y brode ways, to looke too like (flaming) crescets shyning as lightning.

5 Hee shall remember his notable souldiers, they shal stumble in going, they shall hasten to the wall, the couering fence is prepared.

6 The riuer gates are opened, and the palace dissolued.

7 Huzab is brought forthe captiue, made to ascende (into the charrettes,) his handmaydens also leading (one another,) as in y voice of doues, knocking vpon their breastes.

8 Yea, many a day Niniue was as a pod ful of water, yet (now) they flee: Stand ye, stand ye, and no man loketh backe.

9 Take youre spoyle of syluer, take youre spoyle of golde, for there is no ende of rychesse: treasure passing all treasure.

10 Sacking, rifling, raysyng, a dissolued hart, and collision of knees, sorow in al loines also, & the faces of them as blacke as a potte.

11 Where is the abiding place of Lions, and the feeding plotte of Lios whelps (become,) whither the yong and olde Lion had theyr resort? there dwelt the Lion, and there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The Lion made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, and strangled for his she Lios, and hath filled his dennes with pray, and hys abyding places with spoyle.

13 Beholde me against thee, sayth the Lord of hostes, and I will burne in smoke hir charrettes, and the sword shall deuour thy Lios, I will rote out also from the earth thy spoyling and the voyce of thy messengers shal be heard no more.

The iij. Chapter.

Of the fall of Niniue. 8. No power can escape the hand of God.

1 Giue Blouddie citie, stuffed thorowout with falshood, with extreme dealing, nor wil be brought from spoyling.

2 The noyse of the whippe, the noyse of the ratling of wheeles, the praunsyng of horses, and the iumping of charrettes.

3 The horseman lifting vp both the glistering blade of the sword, and also the shinyng speare, many wounded, many corpses and no end of carkasses, they shall stumble at deade bodies.

4 Because of the manyfolde fornication of y beautifull harlot, full of charmes, that selles nations by the meanes of hir whoredome, and the people through hir charmings:

5 Loe, I against thee, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, and will turne vp thy skirtes ouer thy face, and will shewe the Gentiles thy fylth, and kingdomes thy shame.

6 And will cast vpon thee abhominable filth, and will bring thee downe, and will make thee as vile as dung.

B 7 And it shall come to passe, that all that shall beholde thee, shal flee from thee, and shal say, Niniuie is destroyed, and who is greeued therewith? from whence shall I seeke out comforters for thee?

8 Wilt thou count thy selfe better than Alexandria the greate, that was scituate amongst the riuers, compassed round about with waters, whose fortresse was the sea, (and had) hir wall from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt (were thy) strength, and there was none ende (of ayde) Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithstanding, thou passed away, thee went into captiuitie, hir children also were dashed in peeces in the top of all the streetes: for hir honorable men they cast lottes, and al hir great states they chayned in fetters.

11 And thou (also) shalt be dronken (with trouble,) thou shalt be hidde: "thou also shalt seeke after strength against thyne enimie.

12 All thy strong aydes (are as) figge trees with the fyrste ripe figges: if they be shyred, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Beholde, thy men (are as barren) women in the middest of thee, the gates of thy lande shall be set wide open to thyne enimies, fyre hath deuoured thy barres.

14 Drawe thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortes, goe into the clay, treade the morter, make strong the brickyl.

15 There the fyre shall deuoure thee, the sword shall cut thee off, shall deuoure thee as the locust, though (thou) be multiplyed as the locust, though thou be as many as the Grashopper.

16 Thou hast encreased thy marchantes as the starres of heauen, the locust spoyleth, & fleeth away.

17 Thy princes are as Grashoppers, and thy rulers as greate locustes, they swarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne ariseth, and they flee, and the place where they were, is not knowen.

18 Thy shepheardes, O kyng of Assur, slumber, thy noble men shall dwell (in deathe,) thy people is scattered vpon the mountaynes, and there is none to gather them together.

"or, moreouer

19 Thy wound (shall) not be healed, thy plage is great, al that heare of thee, clap their handes: for to whome hath not thy euil dealing passed continually?

The ende of the Prophesie of Nahum.

¶ The booke of the Prophet Habacuc.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. A complaynt against the wicked that persecute the iust. 6. He sheweth that the Chaldeans are raysed vp of the Lord for the chastisement of the Iewes, and describeth their armie. 12. He comforteth the faythfull, declaring that God will also destroy the Babylonians, bycause they shall abuse theyr victorie, and become proud and insolent, attributing the prayse thereof to their idols.

1 THE (a) burden whiche Habacuc the prophete dyd see.

a. That is, the great calamitie whiche he prophesied to come on Iuda, as a most greeuous burden, which they were not able to beare.

2 O Lorde, how long shall I crye, and thou wilt not heare? (euen) crie out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not help?

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquitie, & cause me to behold sorow? for spoyling and violence are before me, and ther are that rayse vp strife and contention.

4 Therefore the law is "dissolued, and iudgemente dothe neuer goe forthe: for the wicked dothe compasse about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgment proceedeth.

"or, weakened

5 Behold among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and marueyle: For I will worke a worke in your dayes, yee will not beleeue it, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I rayse vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which "shall goe vpon the breadth of the lande, to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

"or, walke

7 They are terrible & fearful: (b) their iudgemēt and their dignitie shal proceede of themselues.

8 Theyr horses also are swifter than the Leopards, & are more fierce than the Wolues in ye euening, & their horsemen shal come frō far: they shal flee as the Eagle hasting to meate.

9 They

9 They come all to ſpoyle: before theyr faces ſhall be an (e) eaſt winde, and they ſhall gather the captiuitie as the ſande.

10 And they ſhall mocke the kynges, and the princes ſhall be a ſcorne vnto them: they ſhal deride euery ſtrong holde, for they ſhall gather (d) duſt, and take it.

11 Then ſhall they "take a courage, and tranſgreſſe, and do wickedly, (imputing) this their power vnto their God.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lorde my God, my holy one? we ſhall not die, O Lord, thou haſt ordeyned them for iudgement. & O God, thou haſt eſtabliſhed them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canſt not ſee euil, thou canſt not behold wickednesse: wherfor (then) dorſt thou looke vppon the tranſgreſſours, and holdeſt thy tongue when the wicked deuoureth the mā that is more righteous than he?

14 And maketh men as the (e) fyſh of the ſea, and as the creeping things that haue no ruler ouer them.

15 They take vp all with the angle, they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne: wherof they reioyce, and are glad.

16 Therefore they ſacrifice vnto theyr (f) net, and burne incenſe vnto their yarne: bycauſe by them their portiō is fatte, and their meate "plenteous.

17 Shall they therfore "ſtretche out their net, and not ſpare continually to ſlay the (g) nations?

The.ij. Chapter.

A viſion againſt pryde, couetouſneſſe, drunkenneſſe, and idolatrie.

1 I Will ſtand vpon my watche, and ſet me vppon the towre, and will looke and ſee what he will ſay vnto me, and what I ſhall anſweare to "him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lorde aunſwered me, and ſayde, Write the viſion, and make it playne vppon tables, that he may run, that (a) readeth it.

3 For the viſion is yet for an appoynted time, but at the laſt it ſhall ſpeake, and not lye: though it tarrie, wayte: for it ſhall ſurely come, and ſhall not ſtay.

4 Beholde, (b) he that "lifteth vp him ſelfe his mind is not vpryghte in him: but the iuſt ſhall liue by his faith.

5 Yea, in deede (c) the proude man (is as) he that tranſgreſſeth by wine, therefore ſhall he "not endure, bycauſe he hath enlarged his deſyre as the hel, and is as death, and can not be ſatiſfyed, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not all theſe take vp a parable againſt him? and a "taunting prouerbe againſt him, and ſay, Wo, he that encreaſeth that whych is not his? (d) how long? and he that ladeth him ſelfe with thycke clay?

7 Shal (e) they not ryſe vp ſuddenly that ſhal byte thee? and awake that ſhal ſturre thee, and thou ſhalt be "their pray?

8 Bycauſe thou haſt ſpoyled many nations, all the remnaunt of the people ſhall ſpoyle thee, bycauſe of mens bloud, and for the wrong (done) in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 "Wo, he that coueteth an euill couetouſneſſe to his houſe, that he may ſet his neſt on high, to eſcape from the power of "euill.

10 Thou "haſt conſulted ſhame to thine own houſe, by deſtroying many people, and haſte ſinned againſt thine owne ſoule:

11 For the ſtone ſhall crie out of the wall, and ẏ beame out of the timber ſhal aunſweare it.

12 (f) Wo vnto him that buildeth a towne with bloud, and "erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Beholde, is it not of the Lord of hoſtes that the people ſhall labour in "the very (g) fyre? the people ſhall euen weerie them ſelues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth ſhall be (h) fylled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters couer the ſea.

15 Wo vnto him that giueth his neyghbour drinke, thou powreſt thy "heate, and makeſt (him) drunken alſo, that thou mayeſt ſee their priuities.

16 Thou art fylled with ſhame for glorie, drinke thou alſo, "and be made naked: the cup of the Lords right hande ſhall be turned vnto thee, and ſhamefull ſpuyng ſhall be for thy glory.

17 For the crueltie of (i) Libanus ſhall couer thee: ſo ſhall the ſpoyle of the beaſtes "whyche he made afrayde, bycauſe of mens bloud, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lyes, though he that made it, truſt therein when he maketh dumbe idols.

19 Wo vnto him that ſayth to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe ſtone, Ryſe vp, "it will teach (thee:) beholde, it is layde ouer with golde and ſyluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keepe ſcilence before him.

1 A Prayer of Habacuc the prophet for (a) the ignorances.

2 O Lorde, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afrayde: O Lorde reuiue thy (b) worke in the middes of the yeeres, in the middes of the yeeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercy.

3 God commeth from (c) Theman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. his glory couereth the heauens, and the earthe is full of his prayse.

4 And (his) brightnesse was as the lighte: (d) he had hornes (commyng) out of his handes, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went forth before his feete.

6 He stode and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerlasting mountaynes were broken, and the auncient hylles dyd bowe, hys wayes are euerlasting.

7 For iniquitie I sawe the tentes of Chusan, (and) the (e) curtaynes of the land of Madian did tremble.

8 Was the Lorde angry against the (f) ryuers? Or was thine anger against ỳ floods? Or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ride (g) vpon thy horses? thy charrets (brought) saluation.

9 Thy (h) bowe was manifestly reuealed, and the (i) othes of the tribes (were) a sure word Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earthe with riuers.

10 The mountaynes sawe thee, and they trembled, the streame of the water (k) passed by, the deepe made a noyse, and lyft vp his hands on hygh.

11 The Sunne (and) Mone stode still in (their) habitation (l) at the lyghte of thine arrowes they went, (and) at the bryght shining of thy speares.

12 Thou m trodest downe the lande in anger, (and) diddest thresh ỳ heathē in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, (euen) for saluation with thine (m) annoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discouered the foundations vnto the (n) necke Selah.

14 Thou diddest (o) strike throughe with hys owne staues the heads of his villages, they came out as a whirlewind to scatter me: their reioycing was, as to deuoure the poore secretely.

15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thine horses, vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I (p) heard, my belly trembled, my lyppes shoke at the voyce, rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in (q) the day of trouble: for when he (r) commeth vp vnto the people, he shall destroy them.

17 For the fygge tree shall not florish, neyther shall fruite be in the vines: the labour of the Olyue shall fayle, and the fieldes shall yelde no meate: the sheepe shall be cut off from the folde, & there shal be no bullocke in ỳ stalles.

18 But I will reioyce in the Lorde, I will ioy (s) in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lord God is my strength, he will make my feete like Hindes (feete,) and he will make me to walke vpon my hygh places. (t)
